Good Trade

Dale Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, Junction City, looked a little sad when his father sold two calves. But the Evans returned from a G&G area sale with eight baby pigs and a happier Dale.

Lowest Annual Parity Figure Since 1937

Prices received by farmers rose 1% in the month ended Dec. 15, but the increase wasn't enough to benefit the 1967 parity ratio. In line with earlier indications, the parity figure hit 74, down from the 1966 ratio of 80 and the lowest yearly average since 1937, when the Agriculture Department began keeping monthly parity statistics.

For December alone the parity ratio figure, which is followed closely as a sign of how well farmers are doing in comparison with the rest of the economy, continued at 73, unchanged from a month earlier. A year earlier it stood at 76.

The parity ratio expresses the relationship between farm revenue and farm costs as compared with their relationship during the 1910-14 base period, a particularly good period in American agriculture, when parity was considered to be 100. Theoretically, farmers in December had 73% of the buying power they had in 1910-14.

The "adjusted parity ratio," which the department began issuing earlier this year to reflect direct Government payments to farmers, stood at 79 as of mid-December, up from 78 a month earlier. The result was a 12-month average adjusted ratio of 79. However, this would have been the lowest level since 1933 if such an adjusted ratio had been figured that farm back, the department said.

Deere & Co., having just settled a 34-day strike, reports a net income for the year ended October 31 of $57.6 million, off sales of $1.08 billion. Gross sales were up 2% but net income was off 20%. Earnings were $3.90 a share compared to $5.46 a share in 1966.

Deere, IHC Profits Down

Both John Deere and International Harvester have reported decreased profits in 1967.

IH had a small decline in sales, ending with $2.58 billion, earning a $98 million profit, off 15 per cent from 1966. The International profit amounted to $3.31 a share.

Deere reached a new contract agreement with the United Auto Workers union, in a pact similar to the one negotiated in the automobile industry. Contracts are up with both International and Allis Chalmers, but both companies have yet to reach agreement with UAW altho there has been no closedown.

Deere said it had greater losses overseas than in 1966 but did not detail them. Reportedly a devaluation of currency in Argentina and heavy startup expenses in West Germany were heavy losers for Deere.

Quiet Change At State ASCS Post

There was a quiet change in the chairmanship of the state ASCS committee last week.

One western Kansas Democrat replaced another. The homes of the two are only 25 miles apart, both are wheat farmers, and both have been associated with the political career of J. Floyd Breeding, one-time congressman from southwest Kansas.

The new state ASCS chairman is Lawrence Brennan, Dodge City. He replaced Gib Egbert of Ingalls, Gray County, on January 1.

Brennan at one time was Breeding's administrative assistant. Egbert was Fifth District Democrat chairman at the time of Breeding's first successful race in 1958.

Egbert gave no reason for quitting the post. "I'm just stepping out and that's it," he said.

Egbert had been state chairman for seven years. He said the biggest change during this period is that the county ASCS committees "are more active in the administration of farm programs" than they were when he first took the post.

Egbert, who farms 3000 acres and has a cattle herd of 125, says he doesn't see how present grain prices can be helped in the year ahead, adding, "I just hope we can hang onto what farm programs we now have."

Brennan was appointed to the Kansas Wheat Commission after the last session of the legislature revised the Wheat Commission setup to provide for "bi-partisan" operation. He was promptly elected vice chairman of the commission.

"My first thought when approached about the new position, was to see if it met with Gib's approval," Brennan said.

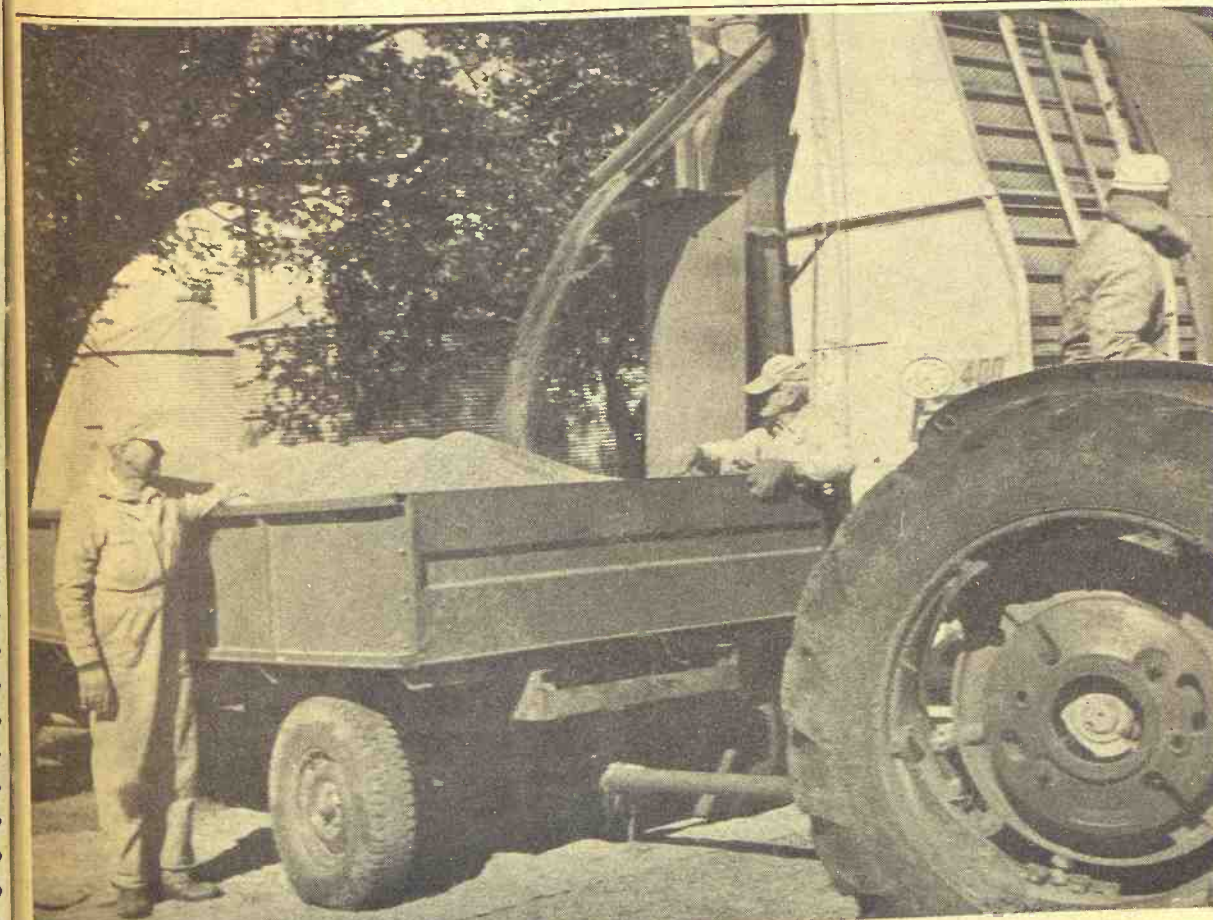

"My second concern was to find out if this appointment would interfere with my position on the Wheat Commission, since I think we have finally gotten it lined out to help the farmers.

"I found out that Gib wanted to resign, I presume because of his health, and I also learned that I could stay on the Wheat Commission and hold this job, so I accepted this new chance to be of service," Brennan explained.

Wendell Beecraft will remain on as administrator of the state ASCS offices in Manhattan. Beecraft, veteran agriculture department employee, became administrator under U.S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson.

"I assume that there will be no immediate changes in the Manhattan offices," Brennan said.

Brennan said he had "no idea" how or why he was picked for the top state post. He said he was first approached about the job in November.

Back In Drying Weather

A late fall photo taken on the Henry Hagen farm south of Clifton, where Don Woellhof and Doug Woellhof were drying milo for Hagen, an uncle. The Hagen farm is irrigated.

Cold Work Day

Ronald Mead, Centralia, found work more than a little cold last week with an inch of snow on the ground and temperatures little above zero. Mead was filling an automatic feeder on the Ben Holthaus farm west of Seneca.

Rock Springs 4-H Ranch Now On Full-Year, 12 Month Schedule

JUNCTION CITY — Camping is no longer only a summer delight for Kansans. They enjoy it throughout the year at Rock Springs Ranch, state 4-H center.

Heated cottages and a modern dining hall make it possible for both 4-H and non-4-H organizations to have weekend retreats, leader training conferences, or family reunions during the winter months.

The 348-acre educational facility, located south of Junction City, has grown from a dairy farm, canvas tents, and an open-air dining hall to a million dollar enterprise consisting of four modern heated cottages, a modern dining hall, an auditorium, chapel, health center, craft center, horse stables, archery and rifle ranges, a lighted ball diamond, a lake for boating, and a swimming pool.

About 60 percent of the future center is now in existence, according to Merle Eyestone, Rock Springs Ranch director.

Finances for new facilities come entirely from contributions while maintenance, food service and labor are financed from registration fees. Rock Springs Ranch is a project of the Kansas 4-H Foundation and approximately 50 percent of the 17,000 campers are associated with 4-H groups, Eyestone said.

The original ranchhouse, with a water wheel propelled by the Rock Springs Ranch 'spring' is still in use as the office building, and as housing for summer employees. The water wheel is used on special occasions as a source of power to make homemade ice cream.

The staff at Rock Springs consists of five full-time employees and expands to 35 during summer months, consisting largely of college and high school students. Staff members instruct campers in crafts, archery, riflery, swimming, boating and horseback riding and play the campers a ball game during the camping period. "Our present operation will go 260 days, and we'll serve about 130,000 meals this year," Eyestone said.

Future improvements include an administration building including offices, snack bar, library, gymnasium and auditorium. Four new heated cottages are planned to expand winter capacity to 350 people.

CAN MORE MONEY HELP YOU FARM BETTER?

Don't say Yes too quickly!

Almost everybody thinks that more money is the solution to every problem. But this is not necessarily true... especially in farming, and especially if you are borrowing the money.

When you borrow money for your farming enterprise, you should work with a lender who understands your special problems... who can point out pitfalls you may have overlooked... who can help you plan maximum profit from the money you borrow.

And that's where PCA comes in. PCA managers and fieldmen have farm backgrounds, plus a thorough training in farm credit. They can help you put your plans on paper so that you can tell exactly where you're going... and your chances of getting there.

You'll find PCA's special understanding takes a lot of the gamble out of farming.

Co-ops Scan Sunkist Decision

Co-op officials are reading the fine print in a recent decision by the Supreme Court in a private anti-trust case brought against the Sunkist citrus co-op by Case-Swayne Co.

The Court ruled that farm co-operatives must limit their membership to farmers to be exempt from anti-trust laws.

The decision went against Sunkist whose lawyers argued they were exempt from Sherman Anti-Trust Act under the Capper-Volstead Act, which exempts from anti-trust law farm marketing co-ops formed by persons engaged in the production of agricultural products.

Since Sunkist membership includes some fruit-packing houses, the Supreme Court said Sunkist was not entitled to anti-trust immunity. Case-Swayne had argued the Sunkist system was a conspiracy in restraint of trade and thus violated the Sherman Act.

Co-op officials are uncertain of the implications of the decision, but it may mean that co-ops may be vulnerable if their membership is not limited strictly to producers.

Defer Funds For Nebraska Meat Research Center

The Agriculture Department said $3,450,000 worth of construction of facilities at its big meat animal research center at Clay Center, Nebr., has been deferred under the Johnson administration's move to cut back on federal spending.

Funds were appropriated by Congress last year for that amount of construction to be contracted for in the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

Officials said a decision has been made to defer entering a contract for these facilities until some time in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The total cost of the facilities at the center, located in a former military land unit, has been set at in excess of 7 million dollars.

So far, less than $500,000 has been spent, largely on development of plans for the center.

Another Cut On Passenger Rails

The Union Pacific Railroad has proposed that it discontinue operation of the "Portland Rose" passenger train effective Feb. 19.

The train operates between Kansas City and Portland, Ore. The "City of St. Louis and the Kansas City-Ellis, Kan. local will not be discontinued.

The "Portland Rose" was involved in an accident about four weeks ago with a west-bound freight train near Wamego.

Milepost In Cholera Control

For the first time since records have been kept, the nation's most important hog state has gone an entire month without an outbreak of hog cholera.

Iowa, with 25 per cent of the country's hogs, went through the month of November without reporting a single confirmed hog cholera outbreak.

Last July, hog cholera was not diagnosed in Illinois — No. 2 state. This was only the second month in over 100 years that hog cholera was not known in that state. Illinois accounts for almost 15 per cent of U.S. pork production. Both states are in Phase III (stamping out phase). Iowa entered this phase this past July and Illinois in July, 1966.

Throughout the entire nation, however, more outbreaks have been reported in 1967 than in 1966. There have been 717 confirmed outbreaks during the first 10 months of 1967.

SUMNER AGAIN LEADING STATE WHEAT PRODUCER

Sumner county for the eighth time in 10 years, has been Kansas' leading wheat producer, harvesting 6.48 million bushels in 1967. Reno ranked second and Barton third. McPherson, Thomas, Pratt, Rawlins, Stafford, Rice, and Cheyenne followed in the top 10.

Halt In Farm Index Slide

Prices received by Kansas farmers at mid-December were slightly above the previous month but well below last year, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The all-farm products price index was 219 percent of the 1910-14 base period, compared with 214 percent at mid-November and 244 percent a year ago. Moderate price increases were noted for cows, steers and heifers and eggs while corn, wheat, sorghum grain, calves and milk increased only slightly.

A sharp price decline was noted for chickens while the prices of hogs and lambs were only slightly weaker.

Crop Prices

The crop price index was 159 percent of the 1910-14 base period at mid-December, up 3 points from November but 36 points below last year.

Wheat at $1.34 per bushel was 3 cents above November but 31 cents below December 1966.

Corn averaged $1.04 per bushel compared with $1.02 last month and $1.30 last year.

Oats at 75 cents per bushel were 1 cent above November but 3 cents below a year earlier. Barley averaged 98 cents per bushel compared with 99 cents last month and $1.04 last year.

Sorghum grain brought $1.66 per cwt., up from $1.63 a month earlier but well below $1.82 per cwt. last year.

Soybeans at $2.40 per bushel were 1 cent above a month earlier but 34 cents below December 1966.

Livestock Prices

The livestock and livestock products price index at mid-December was 287 compared with 280 in November and 300 a year ago. The meat animal price index was 332 percent of the 1910-14 base period at mid-December compared to 323 last month and 339 last year.

Hogs at $16.10 per cwt. were 40 cents below November and $2.60 below December 1966.

Beef cattle brought $21.30 per cwt. compared to $22.50 per cwt.

last month and $21.20 per cwt. last year.

Steers and heifers at $22.80 per cwt. were 60 cents above last month but 20 cents below a year earlier. Calves averaged $25.50 per cwt., up 50 cents from last month and 80 cents above December last year.

The dairy products price index was 314 percent of the 1910-14 base period in December compared with 312 percent last month and 306 percent last year.

REA Loans To Two Kansas Co-ops

Federal loans have been approved for two Kansas electric co-ops, at Altamont and Scott City.

The larger loan from the Rural Electrification Administration goes to the Wheatland Electric Cooperative at Scott City which will use $1.84 million, principally for 93 miles of new line to serve 500 new customers. Wheatland will then have 8476 customers over 2560 miles of line in 13 counties in Kansas and Kiowa County, Colorado.

The loan to Twin Valley Electric Cooperative at Altamont is for $131,000 to finance eight miles of distribution line to serve 74 new customers.

Pinch On Custom Slaughter Firms

CLAFLIN — Frank Buehler, Claflin food merchant and custom slaughterer, Thursday took issue with the new federal law's meat-inspection act, declaring Kansas must pass a state act immediately.

Buehler is president-elect of the Kansas Frozen Food Locker and Provisioners Association.

The federal law which exempts custom slaughtering operations from continuous inspection, but prohibits them from selling any meat for human consumption, "would break every custom slaughterer in Kansas," Buehler said.

The KFFLPA is advocating adoption of a state law at state expense.

"We believe, as the federal government said, that this is a law for all the people — and we believe all the people should pay for it," Buehler said.

"But custom slaughterers in Kansas all sell meat, too. Many of them buy meat from federally inspected plants and sell it to their customers.

"Now, this law would make it impossible for an man to operate a custom-slaughtering business and a meat business together.

"Under the federal law, we would have to have continuous inspection. We couldn't stand that kind of cost.

"We must have a state law that is equal to the federal law, but will allow the custom slaughterers to stay in business. None of us in Kansas are big enough so that we can exist on slaughtering business only without selling any meat, too," he added.

'But We Don't Call This Cold In Quebec'

When the temperature slipped to zero and below in the G&G area last week, one could get some small comfort from a news item from the Soviet Union.

In parts of Siberia the thermometer slipped to 60 degrees below zero last week, and The Ministry of Trade sadly admitted there was a shortage of gloves. On order were 120 million pairs of gloves, but only 48 million were delivered.

How can we explain all this to timber cutters and school-boys?" asked the Communist party newspaper Pravda.

OUR DAILY BREAD

— by G&G Area Cooks

Mrs. William Woelk, Alta Vista, Winner Of Prize

Mrs. William Woelk of Alta Vista is the prize winner this week. Her recipe follows:

APPLE NUT CAKE

Peel and slice for 4 cups apples. It is desirable for apples to turn brown before being added to cake.

Cream: 1 cup oil with 2 cups sugar. Add and cream 4 eggs and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Add alternately 3 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder with  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup milk OR apple juice.

Mix and have handy: 5 tablespoons sugar and 2 tablespoons cinnamon. Pour one half the batter into greased and floured angel food cake pan. Sprinkle half the browned apples over batter. Sprinkle with half of the sugar-cinnamon mixture. Sprinkle with  $\frac{1}{3}$  cup finely chopped nuts. Add rest of cake batter, rest of sugar-cinnamon mixture,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup nuts. Bake  $1\frac{1}{2}$  hours at 350 degrees or until done.

Miss Beverly Evans of R3, Manhattan, sent the following recipe:

PUMPKIN BREAD

3 cups sugar
1 cup salad oil
4 eggs
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{2}{3}$  cup water
2 cups cooked canned pumpkin
 $3\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour
3 teaspoons soda
1 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Combine all ingredients and mix. Divide batter into three greased loaf pans or use three greased, 1-pound coffee (tall ones) tins a little over half full (not quite  $\frac{2}{3}$  full). Bake at 350 degrees for one hour or until done.

This recipe was sent by Mrs.

Elsie Gabrielson of Onaga:

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM CAKE

2 cups gingersnap crumbs
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup melted butter or margarine
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  pints vanilla ice cream
1 cup pumpkin
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon nutmeg
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon ginger
whipped cream

Remove ice cream from freezer to soften. Blend melted butter into gingersnap crumbs. Press crumb mixture into a  $4\frac{1}{2}$  cup ring mold covering sides and bottom. Combine pumpkin, sugar and spices. Mix with ice cream and pour into mold. Place in freezer for at least three hours. May be stored 3-4 weeks. Remove 20 minutes before serving for ease in cutting. Unmold and decorate with whipped cream.

Swedish Meatballs Make Memorable Party Dish

Here's the recipe of a truly superb party main dish, Swedish Meatballs. It's a buffet supper special, owing its distinctive good taste to the rich-tasting, convenient, powdered cream. Assemble the casserole early in the day, then bake it just in time for party serving.

SWEDISH MEATBALLS

3 pounds ground beef
 $2\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons salt
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup non-dairy creamer
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup flour

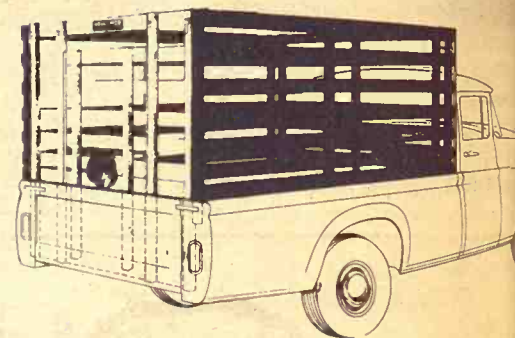

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter
6 tablespoons flour
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups non-dairy creamer

$1\frac{1}{2}$  cups boiling water
2 beef bouillon cubes, crumbled
1 teaspoon meat extract paste
Mix ground beef with 2 teaspoons of the salt, 1 teaspoon of the pepper, Worcestershire and thyme. Gently shape mixture into approximately 48 meatballs. Roll balls in mixture of  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup non-dairy creamer,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup flour and remaining  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt. Heat butter in a large skillet. Sauté meatballs until browned on all sides. Remove skillet from heat and transfer meatballs to a 2-quart casserole. Remove all but 3 tablespoons drippings from skillet. Blend in 6 tablespoons flour with wire whip. Cook and stir 1 minute. Add  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups creamer, then boiling water all at once and beat with wire whip to blend. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add bouillon cubes, meat extract and remaining  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon pepper. Simmer, uncovered, 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour sauce over meatballs. Cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes, or until meatballs are tender. Serves eight.

injury and even death in the home.

Annually in the United States some 6000 persons are killed by fires and burns in the home. More than 1000 of these are children under five years of age. About one third of the children are alone at the time.

The Council on Family Health suggests some ways of preventing accidents caused by heat and flames in the home.

Never leave little children alone at home, no matter what the urgency.

Never leave small children alone in a room with a heater going, a burning fireplace, or lighted candles. Children are fascinated by flames.

When you have finished ironing, place the hot iron where it can't be touched by little children. Coil the cord nearby, out of reach of little hands.

Clothes of fire resistant materials help provide some protection, but care should be exercised wherever heat is used in the home. Some clothing materials are so highly flammable they can burn to ashes in an instant. Other materials melt and burn into the body.

Heaters should have protective covers and be located where family members can't brush against them. Fireplaces should be screened and the entire family should keep a safe distance from the hearth.

Burning candles should be snuffed out before everyone leaves a room.

Keep cigarette lighters and matches out of reach of youngsters. Many a parent has been surprised to discover a child under five is strong and skillful enough to flick a lighter or strike a match.

It takes only an instant for a fire to start. The presence of a responsible adult in the home can be the best guard against children playing with fire.

New Protection For Children's Teeth

Phosphate compounds are likely to be the next chemical to enter the battle to reduce tooth decay among children, says Dr. Samuel Dreizen, physician-dentist of Houston, Texas.

In tests in which phosphates were added to breakfast cereals or other foods, or used in chewing gum, researchers reported reductions of up to 30 percent in new decay among school-age children, he says.

Gelatin Drink May Restore Nail Beauty

Despite the old proverb, beauty is more than skin deep. Beauty begins from deep inside — with health. It is good health that brings rosininess to the complexion, gleam to the hair and a springy step to the walk. Even beautiful nails start from within.

Strong, smooth nails are essential for beautiful hands. If yours are brittle, rippled and break easily, instant gelatin drink may help restore their beauty. The drink is refreshing and the new improved version of the gelatin drink dissolves completely; the gelatin stays dissolved even when chilled.

The drinks come in handy serving envelopes, 14 to a box and each envelope contains one day's supply, a full ¼-ounce unflavored gelatin for nail care.

They're a supplementary protein beverage with vitamin C added.

The fact that unflavored gelatin helps problem nails in seven out of ten cases is confirmed by five different medical studies.

Once you start your nail care program, stick with it daily for three to four months, the time it takes to grow new nails — stronger, longer and lovelier.

And once your nails begin to improve, protect them. Refrain from using the nails as tools. When you dial the phone, use a dial implement or the top of a pen. Don't open bobby pins with them; use the pads of the fingers for this.

Rubber gloves are a must for household chores; use them not only for dishes but for washing out lingerie as well.

Set aside one night a week for a manicure but check nails daily to make sure of no chipped polish.

Lovely hands are a major asset and beautiful hands end with beautiful, well-groomed nails.

End Party With Midnite Soup Snack

Serving soup and crackers at the end of an evening party is a sound idea.

To prepare Midnight Marvelous Soup in a large saucepan stir 1 can of cream of mushroom soup until smooth. Blend in 1 can each of cream of celery and tomato soups and 3 soup cans of water. Heat, stirring now and then. Serves nine.

Longer Wear From Cleaning Utensils

To get more wear out of your brooms and mops, keep them off the floor by hanging them up. To do this, drill a hole in the top of the handle and insert in it a metal shower-curtain ring. It may then be hung on a nail or wall hook.

To Wash Plastic Mesh

To wash the type of plastic mesh found on childrens' playpens and cribs, work with a sudsy sponge or cloth in one hand as you hold a dry cloth on the other side of the mesh. Then wipe with a damp cloth in each hand to rinse both sides at once.

New G&G Area Auctioneer

A new auctioneer in the G&G area is Dwight Long of Hope, Dickinson County. Long, 24, operates a livestock and grain farming operation near Elmo and Hope. He is a recent graduate of the Reisch American School of Auctioneering at Mason City, Iowa.

SMALLEST FOREIGN AID APPROPRIATION YET

The foreign aid bill signed by President Johnson provides for the smallest appropriation since the program began 20 years ago. The $2.29 billion Congress provided is to operate the program for the 12-month period ending next June 30. The bill includes restrictions on the use of U.S. aid funds by underdeveloped nations for the acquisition of modern weapons. It also includes funds for the Peace Corps and for the Export-Import Bank.

Manhattan Commission Co., Inc. Sale Every Thursday

2 1/4 MILES EAST OF MANHATTAN ON US 24

The sale last week was a large one. We had several large consignments of cattle. The market was steady with the strong market that we had a week ago. Compare the prices that we get for cattle at our auction with any other market and you will find that we are selling cattle as high or higher than most other places.

How Devaluation Could Help

by Jack Richards
Extension Economist
Kansas State University

England's devaluation of the pound may have little effect on U.S. farm exports and prices in the short run and may actually benefit our farm sector in time.

Our fifth best dollar market for farm exports, England was followed in its devaluation by about 20 other nations on dependencies, mostly with close English trade ties.

England, Bermuda, Guyana, Ireland, Israel, Jamaica and Spain devaluated their currency by 14.3 percent. Ceylon devaluated by 20 percent, New Zealand by 19.5 percent, Denmark by 7.9 percent, and Hong Kong by 5.7 percent.

These 11 nations took a little more than 10 percent of all U.S. exports in 1966, but about 15 percent of our farm exports. They accounted for about 17 percent of dollar sales for U.S. farm exports.

Tobacco was the leading U.S. export to England in 1966. Corn was No. 1 export to all 11 nations, followed by tobacco and soybeans.

How much will U.S. sales to these countries be reduced by the devaluation? The answer depends on several factors:

- How much prices will increase for foreign buyers.
- Response in purchases by foreign consumers due to price increases.
- Alternative markets for U.S. farm products.
- Devaluation by our competitors, giving their products more favorable prices in world markets.

Consumers generally do not cut their food purchases drastically due to small increases in price. The same is true for purchases of tobacco and similar commodities.

Farm products from nations that devaluated now cost less than before. However, major agricultural product exporting nations that devaluated now cost less than before. However, major agricultural product exporting nations — Australia, Canada and Argentina — did not devalue their currency.

The final effect on U.S. exports will depend on the ability of other nations to capitalize on this advantage by increasing sales. This may require increased production that may make their products most costly. Availability of alternative markets may also prevent more than minor price changes.

Farmers may benefit if they use products imported from nations that devaluated. In the short run, however, the net effect of devaluation will be negative.

In the long run, the market for U.S. farm products may improve if devaluation succeeds in stimulating economic growth and demand by these countries.

Success or failure of devaluation to accomplish its purpose of providing the means for fundamental economic adjustment in the economies of these nations will be the important question in the long run for U.S. agriculture.

GARNETT TO TRY ROAD RACES AGAIN

GARNETT — Sports car racing will return here next July. The Lake Garnett Racing Association has voted to hold a national sports car race here July 27-28. Major races were held in this town of 3000 but riots in 1963 and 1964 that forced local authorities to turn to fire hoses and police dogs brought cancellation of the event.

USDA Seeks More Poultry Inspection Power

USDA apparently wants to extend its poultry inspection powers as high as those in the new meat inspection act.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said three Democratic members of Congress have agreed to expand poultry inspection laws.

About 87 per cent of all fowl slaughtered are already under federal inspection laws. About one billion pounds of chicken, turkeys, geese and other fowl, however, are produced in-state plants not under federal inspection. These plants may be subject to state inspection, but 32 states have no poultry inspection.

Denver Likes Its Auction Switch

Officials of the Denver Union Stock Yard Co. say the switch of their terminal market to selling completely by auction 18 months ago is working out quite well altho receipts have not shown dramatic gains.

The switch of the Denver yard from private treaty selling to auction in July 1966 was a drastic change for a terminal market, altho several of the so-called river markets have turned partly to auction methods in recent years as their receipts have been greatly reduced, and local auction barns took over a larger share of livestock selling.

Besides switching to auction, the Denver market consolidated the various commission firms which operated there into one corporate commission firm.

Most of the commission men went along with the incorporation, altho one firm moved to the old Armour yards and started operations as a private treaty stockyard. Others continued to office at the exchange building but operate only as country buying and selling organizations. One other firm moved its sale yard to Burlington, Colo.

Altho Denver is considered a terminal market, it has not been a major one. The market sold about 270,000 cattle in 1967, considerably less than the Dodge City, Kans., and Norfolk, Nebr., auction barns move. Interior barns in Kansas like ones at Salina and Emporia move half as many cattle as does Denver, altho they hold only one or two sales per week.

At the time the Denver market made its switch, they opened new physical facilities. There are few accommodations any better. The seating is comfortable for about 500; lighting and acoustics are good. Marketers agree that the system for handling, selling, and paying for cattle is well organized.

A vacuum tube system installed between the auction block of the sale ring, the scales, and the office works so fast that "we can have a man's check ready for him about as quickly as he can leave the sale ring and walk the 60 yards to the office," a company official, Vince Dwyer, says.

Revise Theory On Age Of Farm Operators

Farmers average about the same age as self-employed persons in other countries, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A report by USDA's Economic Research Service compares median ages of farm operators and hired farm workers with their counterparts in the general economy.

It briefly discusses ages and educational attainments of farm operators and their ages by types of farms, with supporting data from the 1960 population census and the 1949, 1954, 1959 and 1964 censuses of agriculture.

Contrary to some beliefs, farmers generally are no older than other comparable groups of businessmen and workers.

Although the farm population does differ from others in the economy in the share of older and younger workers — proportions of workers under 25 and over 65 are somewhat higher in farming — the median ages of farm operators and other self-employed workers in the economy are about the same.

The average age of operators of larger farms is somewhat below the national median age of other self-employed workers, and the average age of operators on smaller farms is somewhat above the national median, the report notes.

In other words, farmers in the expanding sector of agriculture — those with $10,000 or more in sales annually — tend to be somewhat younger than their counterparts in nonfarm occupations.

And these farmers today account for more than four-fifths of total farm output.

From 1959 through 1964 the average age of farmers in the expanding sector of agriculture practically did not change. It was about 46 for both years.

In the contracting sector of agriculture — farms with less than $10,000 worth of sales — average ages of operators are higher. The age level of operators on part retirement farms was 71 in both 1959 and 1964.

Bank Failure Touches Auction

A second fraud charge against Ray Oltjen, former Cedar Vale banker and Flint Hills cattleman, alleges that funds from the Cedar Vale Bank were used to buy the Winfield Livestock Auction.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation made the allegation, seeking to claim the livestock barn as a part of the bank. The FDIC is receiver for the bank. Another receiver, William Oliver, was appointed to the L&O Cattle Co., in which Ray Oltjen was a partner. Oliver had sought to convey the Winfield property to the L&O Estate.

The FDIC alleged funds used by Oltjen in the purchase of the Winfield Livestock Auction were funds of the Cedar Vale Bank that were advanced to "fictitious persons and from their account transferred to the Winfield Livestock Auction accounts."

You are the world's toughest customer

First to serve the farmer

You should be. You've probably got the world's toughest job.

Because farming is a one-man job. The final decisions are all yours. Tough decisions about some things you can control—and some you can't. Weather. Crops. Livestock. Costs. Prices.

And equipment.

This is always your toughest decision. No matter how well you farm, how much better could you be? No wonder you consider so carefully—and judge so critically.

And that's our toughest decision, too. No matter how good our product, how much better could it be? That's why we listen to you. And make sure that your ideas show up in our equipment.

We can never be satisfied with good enough. You won't let us. No matter what we think of our products and our services—you've got the final vote.

That's why we are determined to earn your belief that IH serves you best.

Set Kansas City Rally For LBJ Farm Programs

Farm groups endorsing Johnson administration farm policies plan a midwest rally at Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8 to urge greater farm participation in Agriculture Department grain control programs.

The meeting will be hosted by the Missouri Farmers Association. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and other federal officials plan to attend.

Other participants expected include officials of the National Grange, the National Farmers Union and the National Farmers Organization.

These farm groups, like Freeman, say a very high level of farmer participation in this year's wheat and feed grain programs will be essential if growers want any significant improvement in prices and income from these grains.

Under these voluntary programs price supports and government payments are offered those growers who plant within federal allotments for wheat and who hold more land out of production of corn and sorghum this year than last.

Record crops of wheat and corn last year contributed to a sharp decline in grain prices and a lower income to growers.

The department will conduct a sign-up campaign Feb. 5-March 15 to get growers to take part in the production-reduction programs.

Jan. 15 Is Estimate Time For Farmers

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their gross income last year from farming should file a declaration of estimated federal income tax on or before Jan. 15.

Harry Schribner, district director of the Internal Revenue Service in Kansas, said Form 1040-ES should be used.

Schribner said the estimate was not necessary if farmers file the 1967 form 1040 and pay in full any tax due by Feb. 15, 1968.

Study A 'New' Wheat Mosaic

RUSSELL — A new strain of wheat mosaic may be threatening Russell County wheat.

Claude King, Kansas State University plant pathologist, reporting on streak mosaic found in the 1967 crop, said that it is possible that this is a new severe outbreak, or that perhaps it is a new or unknown virus.

But he didn't expect much trouble with this streak mosaic, because of late planting date last fall.

Streak occurred severely in 1967 in some fields in Ellsworth and Barton Counties, as well as in Russell County. Scout wheat was determined to be the most susceptible of any to the new virus.

It was last spring that King found severe damage in Russell County after he had been called in by Del Jepson, county agricultural extension agent. Scout variety was the most severely affected. Triumph, Bison and Kaw also had some damage.

A few varieties of wheat in the K-State greenhouse were inoculated with the strain found in Russell County last year, and three other strains of streak virus collected in the last year. The Russell strain cut the size of the plants in all varieties to 25 per cent of the other strains.

SHOULDER HARNESSES TO COST ABOUT $25

It's going to cost a car-buyer $20 to $30 to cover the expense of front-seat shoulder harnesses which became required by federal law January 1. General Motors said the harnesses, previously optional but now required as standard equipment in new cars, cost $22 in most models but $25 in the Buick Electra and Riviera and Oldsmobile 98 and $30 in the Cadillac. Chrysler said it was adding $25 on all models and American added $23.20. Ford was expected to add similar amounts to its new car prices.

TWO-COUNTY ABA MEETING AT ABILENE

ABILENE — The annual meeting of the Dickinson-Geary Artificial Breeding Association will be held here Friday, January 12. The meeting is at Sterl Hall, starting at 1:15 p.m.

'Programs Miss Small Farmer'

CHANUTE — Farm programs are missing major targets in helping small farms, operators in a nine-county area of South-east Kansas said last week at a Department of Agriculture meeting here.

The farm operators said the greatest problem was the most-price squeeze. They said attempting to beat the squeeze by increasing production, would lead to overproduction and lower prices.

They also discussed taxes as factors in farm operating costs, and revisions of equitable property taxes to standards of production or earnings, instead of arbitrarily fixed valuations.

Farm programs work to the advantage of the big operator, the speakers said. They said farmers should be limited on the amount of land-crop payments they received. Provisions of some programs conflict with provisions of others. Yet the programs are financed with tax money, which contributes to the tax burden.

The operators said some land

January 9, 1968

should be kept out of use to prevent overproduction, but this should be done on an operator acreage percentage basis. Farmers should be free to decide for themselves what they produce, allowing them more flexibility in adjusting to supply and demand, the operators said.

About 45 farmers attended the meeting.

WHEAT TO VIETNAM AT ONE-FIFTH PRICE

The United States has signed an agreement to sell South Vietnam 132 million pounds of wheat flour this year for what amounts to one-fifth the normal price.

The Agriculture Department said South Vietnam would pay $4.8 million for the flour with its own currency, but 80 per cent of the money would be returned to the government as "a grant for common defense."

CLAY YOUNG FARMERS ELECT ART BENSON

Don Suttor, Longford, was named vice-president; Carroll Adams, Clay Center, was elected secretary, and Gary Case, Idana, was named treasurer.

44-INCH RAIN YEAR IN MARION COUNTY

MARION — Rain-short 1966 was followed by a 44-inch surplus in 1967 in Marion County, with the federal weather observer here recording 44.44 inches of moisture for the year. Rainfall in 1966 was only 19.42, and in 1965, 34.91. Average rainfall for Marion County is 30 inches.

NEW... biggest feedmaker built!

Gehl leads again. Big, new 115-bu. Mix-All combines "biggest-of-all" capacity plus Gehl's commercial-quality grind and mix ability. One demonstration will prove the 115MX can help you manage more livestock. Here's why:

- Exclusive hay feeder smoothly feeds bale slices to the mill.
- 115-bu. mixing tank, plus new 21-in. mill increase feedmaking capacity 40%.
- 66 thin cutting hammers — more per sq. ft. of screen area than other mills.
- Grinds high-moisture corn and delivers directly to the silo.
- 10-foot, high pivot (46") auger unloads feed where you need it.

These and many other features put the giant 115MX way ahead of competition. More farmers — 30,000 of them — own Mix-Alls than any other make.

Make us Prove it with a Demonstration!

Remove 'Wild Spenders,' Says FU'S Phil Doyle

BELOIT — The National Farmers Union of Kansas has announced it will call a series of meetings to protest tax rates on farm lands and private homes.

Philip Doyle of Beloit, president of the group's Mitchell County chapter and a former Republican state senator, said he will head a drive to "remove the wild and reckless spenders from the legislature."

A Farmers Union spokesman said voting records of legislators will be examined at the meetings, and lawmakers will be invited to defend their actions.

The main objective is the new Kansas property reassessment law which has raised taxes on farmlands, the group official said, and action against incumbent legislators will be on a bipartisan basis.

"Our land and homes are almost being confiscated by exorbitant and senseless taxes," said Doyle. "It's time the people let the legislators know we've had enough."

Doyle said Kansans are "sick and tired of being misrepresented to by members of the legislature who talk economy to the home folks, then vote tax increases to please every pressure group that comes on the scene."

He said state government is "tied to the horse and buggy age," with too much power held by "bureaus and commissions that serve no one and account to no one."

Set Dates For Feed Workshops

A dozen workshops for Kansas' feed industry people were announced by Extension specialists at Kansas State University.

"The workshops will give feed mill workers and managers specialized training in grain processing, safety, and other operations of feed manufacturing," James Balding, Extension formula feeds specialist, said.

The evening dinner meetings will feature methods and practices for steam processing of grains, control of grain contamination, and other up-to-date information on mill operations.

Location and dates for the workshops are

Garden City .....	February 6
Pratt .....	February 8
Hays .....	February 13
Colby .....	February 15
Concordia .....	February 20
Brookville .....	February 22
Hutchinson .....	February 27
Wichita .....	February 29
Seneca .....	March 5
Topeka .....	March 7
Emporia .....	March 12
Pittsburg .....	March 14

Held annually for feed industry personnel, objectives of the workshops are to provide new information for local feed processors who serve livestock and poultry producers in Kansas, Balding said. Men representing nearly 150 such firms attended last year. Dr. Robert Wilcox and Balding will conduct the sessions.

Kansas feed mill operators may obtain advance registration information from Formula Feeds Extension, Department of Grain Science and Industry, Kansas State University, Manhattan, 66502.

POSTAL INCREASE

FIRST CLASS FROM
5c to 6c

POST CARDS FROM
4c to 5c

AIRMAIL FROM
8c to 10c

BULK MAIL FROM
27c to 36c

A PIECE . . .

Remember the penny post card? Starting this week it costs five cents.

All classes of mail are included in the postal hike in effect January 7.

Despite some early postal department publicity that local offices would have plenty of the new denominations of stamps, several G&G area postmasters agreed supplies were short and hardy, and that there would be some confusion because of it. Some stamp-vending machines may not be changed over for 60 to 90 days, some of the postmasters feared.

LETTERS—

'Farm Bureau Is Worse'

Enclosed find a clipping dealing with another farm organization. I thought you might want to butcher it like you did the Grange in the Dec. 5 Grass & Grain. This article has more truth about the dealings of the Farm Bureau than any other writing I have seen about it. There are plain facts about this organization. I know because I am on the county planning board and I am not proud of it.

Albert Townsend
GARDEN CITY
The clipped article highly antagonistic to the Farm Bureau was from the December issue of the United Rubber Worker, monthly news publication of that labor union. Reader Townsend is apparently being held captive in Garden City.

Review Of Mail Hikes

The rate for mailing a letter has now been raised to six cents. Wasn't it only a couple of years ago that it was raised from four? Was there ever a time when first-class mail in the U.S. cost only one cent?

MANHATTAN
Postage on a first-class letter of one ounce or less became six cents as of this week. If you're over 45, you probably remember when it cost only two cents. The rate was raised to three cents in 1932 and it remained there thru years of depression, war and inflation until 1958 when it was raised to four. In 1963 it was raised to five.
A first-class letter cost three cents from 1917 until 1919, when the price was reduced again to two cents. That's just to remind readers that there was once a time when the price of things was reduced rather than raised.

Of course there has been one-cent mail, because "penny post-cards" were first-class mail. But otherwise one must go back to 1794-99 to find a one-cent rate for letters. It was exactly that. Just a letter, one page, with no envelope. And the one-cent rate applied only to "local mail." The recipient had to pick it up at the postoffice.

Dirt Contractors Convention At Hutch Next Week

Kansas conservation contractors will hold their annual convention at Hutchinson Monday and Tuesday, January 15 and 16, Fred Bergsrud, Extension agricultural engineer at Kansas State University and secretary of the organization, announced.

Contractors will hear about opportunities for training in heavy equipment operation and diesel mechanics at an area vocational-technical school during the morning program. Radio communications is a topic for discussion in the opening session.

Business meeting and legislative work will get the main attention of the organization the first afternoon. Agency reports from Kansas Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service fill the Tuesday morning program as the contractors center on agricultural topics.

Commercial fish raising, business management, and safety are included for discussion the final afternoon. Awards and a variety show featuring the Longbranch "Miss Kitty" Show for the Tuesday evening banquet from Dodge City are scheduled.

Sees More Bulls In Feedlots

AMES, Iowa — "Someday, the slaughter of young feedlot bulls instead of steers will be commonplace in the United States," said Dr. Roger Hunsley, Iowa State University animal science instructor, at the 49th annual Cattle Feeders Day here this fall.

Dr. Hunsley presented research results from Iowa State experiments involving 314 beef calves over a four-year period to determine the effects of various levels of stilbestrol implants and two methods of creep feeding on the pre-weaning performance of bull and steer calves and to determine the effects of age and sex on growth rate, feed efficiency, carcass characteristics, and meat quality of male cattle.

Calves were implanted and started on creep feed treatments at two and one half to three and one half months and weaned at seven to eight months of age. The carryover effects of pre-weaning treatments on subsequent feedlot performance and carcass quality were studied. Separate groups of bulls and steers were also studied and compared as to rate of gain, feed efficiency and carcass characteristics.

Not much difference was found in rate of gain or feed efficiency of bulls and steers up to weaning. Various levels of stilbestrol implantation had little pre-weaning effect.

Creep-fed calves, receiving either free-choice creep or limited creep, gained much faster during the two-week adjustment period than did non-creep calves. The creep-fed calves also gained much faster during the two-week adjustment period after weaning.

Creep feeding beef calves proved profitable each year the experiments were conducted. However, limited creep feeding produced a more consistent weight increase than the free choice method, and at about half the cost. This may be because limited creep stimulated appetite and prepared the calves for the feeding troughs, Dr. Hunsley said.

During the post-weaning phase, bulls gained more rapidly in the feedlot than steers, were more efficient in feed conversion and produced leaner, more muscular carcasses. Steers, however, graded higher, had higher marbling scores, more backfat, were slightly higher in tenderness, and returned more total dollars on both a liveweight or chilled carcass basis. The profit advantage in favor of the steers was due to packer price discrimination unfavorable to the bulls.

High stilbestrol implants significantly increased performance and carcass quality of the bulls. Some of the Iowa State test animals were implanted with 96 mg. of the drug (48 mg. pre-weaning and 48 mg. post-weaning). When sold on a grade and yield basis, bulls implanted at the 96 mg. stilbestrol level made more profit than either steers, or the low-level stilbestrol implanted bulls. Standard implant level for steers is 12 or 24 mg.

Extend Again Loans On Old Grain

The Agriculture Department has announced it will extend for another year price support loans made to growers on 62 million bushels of wheat and 23 million bushels of soybeans.

The grains include wheat grown in 1964, 1965 and 1966 and soybeans grown in 1966 and stored under support loans offered by the department.

Farmers taking advantage of this extension offer through the 1968-69 storage payments at rates to be announced later.

Area Phone Firm Adds New Link

MARYSVILLE — The Blue Valley Telephone Co., which gives phone service to seven C&G area towns, will add 270 phones when it takes over the Beattie Mutual Telephone Co.

M. H. Framme, manager, said it might take 1½ years to get the Beattie exchange fully cut into the Blue Valley dial system.

Blue Valley operates in Axtell, Centralia, Home City, Oketo, Summerfield, Vermillion and Wheaton.

In September Beattie Mutual voted by a margin of only one-half share to sell to Blue Valley.

Proposed Watershed Might Be U.S.' Largest

A 107-page petition has been filed with the Kansas Secretary of State, seeking the creation of a 1,567,240-acre watershed district in the Pawnee River Valley of central and western Kansas. Sponsors of the proposal said it would be the largest watershed district in Kansas and possibly the largest in the United States.

The petition was filed by Wayne Shriwise of Jetmore, chairman of a steering committee elected in 1965 to plan the watershed; Gene Humbert of Ness City, secretary of the group; and Van Smith of Jetmore, an attorney for the group. The petition is subject to the approval of the secretary of state and the chief engineer of the Division of Water Resources. If the petition is approved, the steering committee would elect a board of directors. Then each county would hold an election to decide whether to join the district.

The district would touch parts of Lane, Finney, Hodgeman, Gray, Ford, Ness, Rush, Edwards and Pawnee counties. It would be located just to the south of the Wet Walnut District.

Ag Convention At Topeka This Week

"The Impact of World Money Problems" will be the subject of a talk by Raymond J. Doll, Vice-President and Senior Economist, Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, at the 1968 Kansas Agricultural Convention in Topeka January 10-12. Doll will discuss world money problems as they relate to Kansans and to farmers. He will be on the program Thursday afternoon, January 11.

Other Thursday speakers will be George T. Chandler, president, First National Bank, Pratt; Dr. Floyd W. Smith, Director, Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station; and Mrs. Barton Neubauer, Administrative Assistant, Kansas Water Resources Board. A panel of newsmen will participate in the Thursday program with their subject, "Telling the Story For Agriculture." George L. Smith, editor, KANSAS FARMER, will be moderator.

Friday's program will include talks by Pat Sauble, Cedar Point, Rancher and poultryman, and Henry B. Jameson, publisher, ABILENE REFLECTOR-CHRONICLE, and president, Kansas State Chamber of Commerce. A program by staff members of the State Department of Agriculture and a business meeting will conclude the Friday session.

Registration for the three-day 97th annual farm meeting will begin Wednesday afternoon, January 10, at 1 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. The annual convention dinner program Wednesday evening includes talks by Governor Robert Docking, and Hubert A. (Baldy) White, Atlanta, Georgia. Entertainment will be provided by The Rivermen of Atchison, a men's singing group.

Robert Teagarden, La Cygne, president of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture, will preside at all convention sessions.

Some Far-Out Thinking On Farming In Future

KANSAS CITY — Experts from farm implement firms listened with interest last week while about 80 college students outlined an agricultural future that included crops on the moon, hogs who never see mud and tractors on rails.

Student design teams from Auburn University, Kansas University, the Philadelphia College of Art and the University of Illinois took part in the third annual program sponsored by Armco Steel Corp.

Industry officials observed student solutions to future agriculture problems and questioned them on their suggestions. An Auburn team proposed using the moon as a vast farm to support hungry space travelers.

One Philadelphia student suggested a belt that feeds its wearer by osmosis — in addition to performing the mundane task of holding up his pants.

Other designs included schemes to:

- Coat seeds with fertilizers.
- Harvest and package fruit and vegetables simultaneously.
- Raise hogs in an automated, fully controlled confinement system.

• Operate unmanned tractors on rails, handling a 40-foot section of land at a sweep.

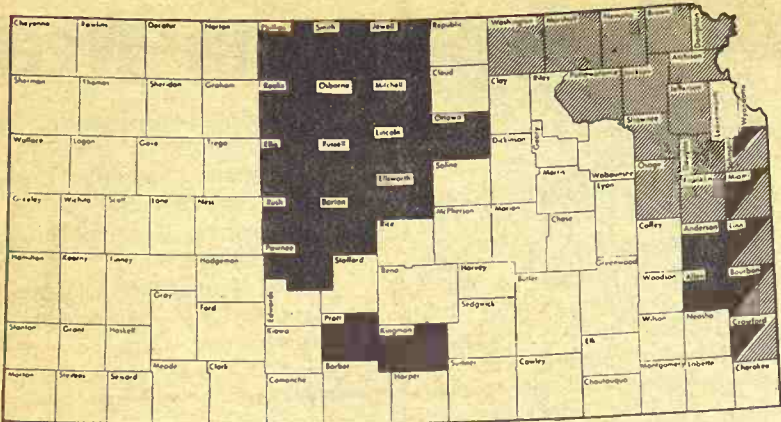

Previous seminars dealt with problems of the future in transportation and housing.

More Crop Insurance Coverage

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation says it is extending its crop coverage in 1968 by including 23 new counties in the grain sorghum program and increasing corn and sorghum guarantees in 36 counties.

In black the map shows the 23 counties which will have grain sorghum coverage for the first time from FCIC. Most of them are in the north central area, but the list also includes seven new counties in the east and southeast.

The diagonal-lined counties are ones which will have increased guarantees on corn coverage. There are 18 counties on this list, mostly in the northeast area but also extending down the Missouri border. Guarantees on corn will increase an average of 59% in these counties.

In 36 counties sorghum coverage will also be increased, but most of the guarantee gains are modest, averaging but 5%.

The federal program, which private insurance companies often say competes with them, does cover risks not generally assumed by private companies, insuring up to certain limits the costs of production lost due to drought, freeze, excessive heat or moisture, flood, insects, disease, or any other natural cause.

FCIC payments in Kansas in 1967 totalled $5.7 million, most of it to wheat farmers. There were no major losses in corn, grain sorghum or soybeans in 1967.

Counties where 1967 insured loss payments totaled more than $100,000 included Butler, Reno, Marion, Lincoln, Dickinson, Ellis, Finney, Greeley, Harper, Harvey, Kearney, McPherson, Rush, Sedgwick, Stanton, Sumner and Thomas.

Payments in excess of $50,000 were made in Barton, Cloud, Ford, Grant, Hamilton, Hodgeman, Kingman, Lyon, Mitchell, Ness, Rooks, Russell, Saline, Sherman and Wichita counties.

Counties where payments exceeded $25,000 were Barber, Clark, Ellsworth, Haskell, Logan, Morris, Osborne, Ottawa, Pawnee, Rice, Sheridan, Smith and Wallace.

The Camp Forsyth area at Fort Riley will become the location of a correctional institution for rehabilitating soldiers convicted of military offenses.

Details of the program have not been fully announced, but it will not be a security-type facility. It will require a permanent military party and additional civilian employees.

Some additional construction will be required at Camp Forsyth, which is in the center of the military post along K-18.

HOGS START AT 11:00 A.M.
CATTLE AT 1:00 P.M.

Due to the severe weather, many of our consigned cattle were unable to get to the sale last Saturday. There was an active sale on the receipts we had, but there were not enough cattle to establish a market.

Prices were steady to higher on: FEEDERS 700-850 lbs. $23.00 to $24.10; CALVES 400-500 lbs. $27.50 to $29.00; COWS, choice $16.00 to $17.25. Light weights $15.00 to $16.00.

There was an exceptionally good hog market, even with the blizzard weather, and they sold on a steady to higher market. NOTE: We now have a fourth packer buyer attending regularly, so more reason than ever to bring your swine to Junction City.

The hog market ran as follows: 200-240 lb. butchers $17.75 to $18.00. One bunch weighing 285 lbs. brought $17.80. There were quite a few pigs selling by the head, the feeder type running $16.50 to $18.00; and small pigs $13.00 to $15.00 per head.

We are expecting a heavy run of cattle and hogs for the sale this coming Saturday. Following are a few early consignments: 84 Angus and whiteface steers 400-450 lbs., good native long-haired animals from one consignor. 30 head whiteface feeder heifers, 600 lbs., one consignor. 40 head 70-80 lb. high quality shoats.

They'll Study How To Keep Stored Wheat From Cracking

Higher quality grains for export and better grain harvesting and handling equipment are two possible benefits of a study underway at Kansas State University, Manhattan, to learn more about what causes damaged or cracked kernels of wheat.

Johnny Kau

Says:

The specialist can tell you how but only you can plant wheat correctly.

The study is a cooperative effort between KSU and the Agricultural Research Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. ARS agricultural engineer H. H. Converse and Dr. D. S. Chung, a chemical engineer, are studying environmental changes and the physical harvesting and handling procedures which grains undergo.

Although still in the preliminary phases of the investigation, the researchers have reached a couple of conclusions: Some grain varieties are more susceptible to cracking than others.

Some internal cracking is due to stresses as a result of moisture and temperature gradients within the kernel. The researchers found cracking in some hand-harvested grain never touched by mechanical equipment. They also found internal cracking much worse with some wheat last summer than the previous harvest — apparently because of prolonged wet weather and delayed harvesting conditions.

In tests to measure how much pressure kernels can tolerate before cracking, Converse and Chung have learned that grain moisture content and temperature, as well as physical properties, are important.

The K-State research was initiated after a foreign government preferred Canadian wheat over U.S. wheat because of quality differences — mostly damaged or cracked kernels. While the KSU researchers have been working primarily with wheat, the same problem exists with exported corn, soybeans and other grains.

Ultimate goal of the K-State research will be to find ways to reduce kernel damage and resulting loss of market quality.

Many Area Winners At Arizona Show

Kansans showing livestock at the Arizona National Livestock Show at Phoenix won numerous awards during the weeklong event last week.

Among some of the Kansas winners:

McCurry Brothers, Sedgwick Green Garden Angus, Lorraine Caldwell and Wagner Angus, Harlan

Shamrock Farms, Manhattan Renee Wassenberg, Baileyville Mike Ebert, St. George

Janice Post, Wamego The Register of Merit show attracted more than 1850 cattle

Finis For Portland Rose

The Portland Rose, a passenger train standby in the G&G area for many years, will be discontinued February 19 by the Union Pacific, pending approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Some protests will be filed thru the Kansas Corporation Commission, but past experience suggests that loss of the rail service can only be delayed, but not permanently averted.

The Portland Rose has carried traffic — passenger and mail — from Kansas City to Oregon. Mail contracts were cancelled by the U.S. Postal Department late in 1967. In the G&G area the Portland Rose served Lawrence, Topeka, St. Marys, Wamego, Manhattan, Ft. Riley, Junction City, Abilene, Salina, Ellsworth, Wilson, Russell and Hays, on west.

Only two Union Pacific services will remain in the area after the Portland Rose expires. The City of St. Louis moves from St. Louis to the west coast and there is a local train that moves from Kansas City to Ellis.

entries from 24 states and Canada.

McCurry Brothers and Silver Gates of Burrton showed the grand champion Angus bull. Caldwell and Wagner Farms showed the reserve champion in the same category.

Caldwell and Wagner had the junior champion Angus bull with their entry "Bardoliermere CW7."

Mike Ebert of St. George had first place in the junior yearling steer class of the junior Shorthorn steers division.

Janice Post of Wamego had first place in the junior yearling steer class of the junior Angus steer division.

The Arizona show is the fifth largest show of its kind in the nation.

PENNEYS QUIT STORE IN HERINGTON

The J. C. Penney Co. is pulling out of another rural community. The Penney store in Herington will close this month, apparently as part of a general company policy to quit marginal stores and build in larger trade centers and shopping areas. Penneys had had a store in Herington since 1922.

LIVESTOCK COMMISSION COMPANY

St. Marys, Kans.

CERTIFIED

We sold 1,318 cattle, and 310 hogs the first week of the new year. Our hog top was $17.60. The cattle market looked steady on all classes and a broad demand for the butcher cows and bulls. Our bull top Thursday was $22.40. If you have any cattle to sell contact us here at the Farmers & Ranchers. Here are some sales made last week:
