

Industry Plugging June As 'Dairy Month'

June is the month for brides, roses, beautiful weather, lush green pastures, and June Dairy Month. It is the time that milk supplies are abundant. It is the month the dairy industry nationally and in Kansas is joined by related businesses and organizations to honor the men and women of the dairy industry and the fine family of foods they produce.

The Kansas program for 1967 is under the direction of Dr. Charles L. Norton, Head, Department of Dairy and Poultry

State Grade A Output On Rise

The number of dairy farmers in Kansas is decreasing, but sales of Grade A milk produced in the state are higher than ever before, according to a new Kansas State university Extension service publication.

Authored by Roger H. Wilkowske, dairy marketing economist, the publication examines the changing market for Grade A milk between 1962 and 1965.

Grade A milk is the number one dairy product in Kansas in volume, value, and economic contribution, says Wilkowske. Kansas dairy farmers marketed 991 million pounds of Grade A milk in 1965, up 71 million pounds from 1962. Cash receipts from the farm sale of Grade A milk were $44 million in 1965, up $5 million in four years.

Most other trends in Grade A milk production were up during the period. But the number of dairy farmers decreased from 4,600 in 1962 to 2,509 in 1965.

Offsetting the drop in numbers, however, has been an increase in marketings per farm. Producers sold an average of almost 395,000 pounds per farm in 1965, an increase of 29 per cent during the 4-year period.

Income per dairy farm increased at an even faster rate. Average cash receipts per producer rose from $12,951 in 1962 to $17,693 in 1965 — an increase of 37 per cent.

Kansas is a net exporter of Grade A milk. The publication notes these trends:

Sales of bulk milk for Class I use by Kansas cooperatives to out-of-state markets — up 38 million pounds.

Sales of Class I fluid products in other states by Kansas handlers — up 18 million pounds.

Producer sales direct to out-of-state handlers — up 13 million pounds.

The increase in out-of-state sales resulted in an increase in net out shipments from 100 million pounds in 1962 to 134 million pounds in 1965.

Science, Kansas State University, who was elected State June Dairy Month Chairman by dairy industry members. He has appointed county June Dairy Month Chairmen in most counties of the state. The American Dairy Association of Kansas with headquarters in Topeka serves as the spearheading organization for June Dairy Month in Kansas.

In a number of counties special dairy days will be held to bring attention to the importance of the dairy industry to the community. County and district dairy princes contests will be sponsored during June to select finalists for the state dairy princess contest.

A Speaker's Bureau composed of industry members has been organized to supply speakers to civic club meetings during June. Newspapers and radio and television stations will give special coverage to June Dairy Month activities. Special June Dairy Month advertisements will be run by the American Dairy Association in various advertising media. Milk and milk products will be featured by dairy plants and distributors. Food retailers will place special emphasis on dairy food sales.

Adding glamour and charm to this year's celebration will be Miss Patty Edmonds, reigning Kansas Dairy Princess. She will travel thousands of miles over the state speaking up for milk and milk products and crowning county and district dairy princesses.

For several years the June Dairy Month campaign has been the largest single food promotion taking place in the nation each year.

Dairy Princess Contest Finals In September

The Kansas Dairy Princess Contest sponsored by the American Dairy Association of Kansas will be in Hutchinson September 15-16.

The 10 finalists will be the 10 district dairy princess contest winners. The new princess will be crowned on the stage at the Kansas State Fair Saturday evening, September 16.

Awards will include a $300 scholarship, wardrobe, and the opportunity to represent the ADA of Kansas for which salary and expenses will be paid.

Is Your Cow 'The Purtiest?'

A contest to select Kansas' "Purtiest" cow has been announced as part of the June Dairy Month activities by Dr. Charles L. Norton, State Dairy Month chairman. The contest is open to any person residing in the state of Kansas.

The "purtiest" cow will be judged on the basis of her beauty. She may be adorned with ornaments. The animal entered may be of any age or dairy breed.

To enter the contest, take a picture of only the head of your "purtiest" cow and send it with your name, address, and age to State June Dairy Month Headquarters, American Dairy Association of Kansas, 2044 Fillmore, Topeka, Kans. 66604. A black and white glossy picture, 3x5 inch size, is desired but any size will be acceptable. Clarity of the photograph will be considered in judging.

A committee of judges will select a first, second, and third place winner from the pictures submitted. A portable AM-FM radio will be awarded each winner.

The contest will close June 20. Entries postmarked after that date will not be eligible. Entries become the property of the American Dairy association of Kansas.

Riley Co. Plans July Program For Soil Testing

MANHATTAN — Riley County is organizing a major soil-testing program, and an organization has been formed to support the program which will be carried out July 10-15.

County fertilizer dealers have organized and elected Warren Howland of Farmland Industries as chairman and Ernest Lindquist of Manhattan Milling Co. as treasurer. Soil samples can be left with these men.

Dealers present at an organization meeting represented CK Processing, Farmers Cooperative, Farmland Industries, Manhattan Milling, Flint Hills Feed & Grain, and Farmers Union Co-op of Clay Center.

13-hp Heinz Tractor

A working tractor with almost 57 varieties of parts were used in the tractor assembled by Wilbur Erichsen, above, with his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Erichsen, Route 2 Manhattan.

The tractor is powered by a 13-horsepower 2-cylinder air-cooled Wisconsin engine, a dual transmission system using a 1932 V8 Ford and a 4-speed Chevrolet transmission. The rear end is from a Ford Model A 1½ ton truck; the front end was modeled from a Chevrolet car front end. Various other parts were used to complete the tractor. Wilbur is married and wife Deborah will complete vet school at Kansas State University next year. The family farms about 900 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Erichsen are planning a trip to Alaska with Mrs. Erichsen's brother, Art Cederberg, and Mrs. Cederberg of Manhattan.

The tractor, incidentally, is not just a toy, but a working tractor. Wilbur uses the machine to haul feed and to plow short fields.

Yearly Land Cost Rise At 8%

Despite concern over farmers' income lagging behind costs of production, the land they till continues to rise in price, and no one seems to think the spiral will end.

There are fewer farms and families to operate them, and even the acreage of land itself is shrinking, down almost 60 million acres nationally in the past decade.

Farmers, caught between mounting costs and static prices bid fiercely for additional land to increase their volume.

Ten years ago there were 192,000 farms in Missouri, and 119,000 in Kansas. Now there are 154,000 and 97,000, respectively. A decade ago the average Kansas farm was 424 acres; today it is 513. Missouri farms have expanded from 130 acres to 215.

"The reason is simple," said Ross Zimmerman of Sterling, Kans., a farmer stockman who now is selling real estate.

"When I was a kid of 14, we bought a tractor for 1,400 bushels of wheat. The same tractor today will cost at least 6,000 bushels. We all live better but at the same time we have to pay more to do it. In this area of southcentral Kansas we used to make a living off a half section 320 acres, but now we have to have 1,200 to 1,500 acres."

Prices for land have risen steadily at about 8 per cent a year. Competition for it is rough, real estate men say. Frequently, a farmer will pay a premium price for property close to his farm, knowing that the tract itself won't return the price paid. But, added to other holdings, it will provide a more efficient farm unit.

Land value in Kansas has risen from an average of $84 an acre 10 years ago to $132 and in Missouri from $85 to $162.

Ray Dell, vice president and senior economist for the Federal Reserve Bank at Kansas City said all the evidence points to a continued climb in land prices.

"With present-day technology it is more efficient to operate somewhat larger farms," Dell said. "We still have a number of small farmers who, when a piece of property comes up for sale, price it on the basis of what it would be worth to him in relation to what he already has."

July Farm Show Set For Downs

DOWNNS — An industrial show, emphasizing farm equipment, will be held here July 20-21-22.

Larry Parker, manager of the Solomon Valley Industrial Show, said it was held for the first time last year in connection with the 87th annual city celebration, and the show increased the size of crowds from previous years.

The Downs show covers north central Kansas and south central Nebraska.

BARN LOST TO LIGHTNING FIRE

AURORA — A barn burned and 500 bales of hay were destroyed in a fire started by lightning on the Alphonse Breault farm near this Cloud county town last week.

Why It Pays To Supplement Pasture With Good Formula Dairy Feeds

Grass alone cannot give your cows all the food values they need for sustained high production.

When you are feeding cows bred to be top milk producers, the need for proteins, minerals, vitamins and unidentified factors in the ration is very important. This need is even greater in late summer and early fall when pasture may be close-cropped and dry.

CO-OP Nutritionists know that dairy farmers must have proper feed to get maximum results at lowest possible costs. That's why CO-OP Dairy Feeds are Profit Checked for results. CO-OP Dairy Feeds are formulated to give a ration that will best supplement the shortcomings of the dairymen's forage program and will produce 100 lbs. of milk at the lowest feed costs.

• CO-OP Dairy Feed-12 is a high TDN, well-fortified dairy ration that contains essential vitamins and minerals. It is recommended to be fed with excellent, high protein pasture or with liberal amounts of high quality all-legume hay.

• CO-OP Dairy Feed-14 should be fed to producing cows, dry and freshening cows, heifer or bulls on very good pasture or very good quality legume hay.

• CO-OP Dairy Feed-16 is a well-fortified, well-balanced ration that is preferred by thousands of dairymen who demand an efficient dairy feed for a variety of feeding conditions.

• CO-OP Dairy Concentrate-32 can be fed on top of the grain to dairy cows or may be mixed with farm grains to produce a well-balanced and fortified ration.

• CO-OP Dairy Concentrate-50 is designed for mixing with farm grains to produce an efficient, high production ration.

Come in and let us show you the CO-OP Dairy Feed best suited for your dairy herd.

We say: "Pressure Control on MF Tractors gives more traction by cutting wheel slip as much as 50%."

(Hard to believe?)

Massey-Ferguson 180 with Pressure Control

Make us prove it.

Pressure Control is Massey-Ferguson's exclusive traction control system for working pull-type implements. It transfers thousands of pounds of extra traction weight to the tractor's drive wheels — instantly, at the touch of a lever.

This reduces wheel slippage by as much as 50%. Provides lots more traction when you need it.

Gives the MF 180 the pull of tractors with 10 more horsepower.

Gives as much traction as tractors with auxiliary 4-wheel drive, at much lower cost.

Hard to swallow? Your MF Dealer has PROOF: certified by the country's foremost independent testing company, based on the tests of MF Pressure Control tractors against leading competitive makes.

And ask your MF Dealer to show what Pressure Control can do for you on your farm.

Right.

Wright is a tiny village east of Dodge City, and near it Willis and Nellie Grumbein operate the Jack & Mule Farm. According to the Draft Horse Journal, it is the nation's biggest mule farm.

Mules have been good to the Grumbeins over the years. Grumbein has been in the mule business for 37 years, and for the last three or four years he has had a net income of $25,000 to $30,000 from it, according to a recent article in the Wall Street Journal.

The Grumbeins specialize in breeding so-called monster mules, which sometimes are more than 16 hands high. That's as big as a horse, and a couple of hands higher than average run-of-the-mill mules.

Like all mules, the Grumbein mules are smart, stubborn, and anything but picky when it comes to eating. "These critters will eat anything in sight, including wooden fences," says Grumbein.

Mules, barren animals that result from mating a mule donkey — often called a jack — to a horse, are good for a lot of things, mule fanciers say.

For one thing, they "are a lot more trustworthy than horses," claims Grumbein. He says mules are used on Grand Canyon tours because "horses start to get tired and start to cut corners and wind up by falling." Mules are "sensible," he adds. "They won't do anything that will end up hurting them."

Mules, which live to be 25 to 35 years old and work until the day they die, are used in national parks, movies, hunting and fishing camps, on tobacco farms and sugar plantations, by armies to carry ammunition and at West Point football games. (Buckshot, the current West Point mascot, is a product of the Grumbein.)

The market is erratic. In 1965, the Grumbeins sold 220 mules abroad; last year they sold 8. Last year they sold 92 in the U. S.; this year they hope to sell 190.

The whole business is plagued with an image problem, Grumbein says. "A lot of traders are crooked as a barrel of snakes."

An amateur mule buyer can be easily suckered. It's hard, for instance, to tell if a mule is blind in one eye. And a canny trader can pass off a worn-out, 20-year old mule as a 3-year old youngster simply by burning out the centers of the animals' teeth with acid, thereby eliminating telltale stains.

Grumbein says that "20 years ago people were telling me the mule business was dead, but they were all wrong."

It's just now getting started, he claims, especially in the foreign markets.

He concedes that a mule's stubborn streak is sometimes troublesome, but he says that mule owners should be glad they don't own donkeys. "Those critters will just sit down and there's no amount of beating that will make them move," he says.

A mule did bite off one of Mr. Grumbein's thumbs once, but he says that really wasn't the mule's fault. "I got a little careless," he admits.

The mules generally cost $300 — plus shipping. If you plan to fly your mule out, Grumbein recommends you bring along 14 heavy tarpaulins to hang between the back of the mule and the side of the airplane. Otherwise, says Grumbein, your animal might kick a hole in the plane.

As for judging a mule's intentions, Grumbein advises: "When those ears go down, watch out." But he quickly adds, "A mule won't kick you unless you need it."

205 Self Propelled COMBINE

Whether you're talking price, capacity or efficiency, the new 205 is one machine that really invites comparison.

When it comes to platforms, the 205 offers deep-dredge design that cuts cutterbar loss to the bone and eliminates the need for an expensive cutterbar extension for sorghums and soybeans.

Compare corn heads. The 205 offers both 2-row wide and 3-row narrow heads that are field-proven to be the most efficient in the business.

Take horsepower, and you have a big 61 horsepower 6 cylinder 221 cubic inch engine.

Match separators with the 205's wide 42-inch threshing, separating, and cleaning.

Compare straw-racks with IH fin-and-wire rotary design that avoids plugging in even the wettest corn... that in all crops and conditions permits faster ground speeds without losing the crop.

Compare the total separating area of 4441.5 square inches, and cleaning area of 3411 square inches.

Check the 205's big 60-bushel grain tank capacity... and the dual tanks that provide increased traction in soft going—unmatched stability on slopes. Yes, there's a lot to talk about in the new 205. And there's the kind of power, capacity, and efficiency that any farmer has a right to expect in a moderately-priced family-sized machine.

The new 205 was designed to outrank all other machines in its price range. The specifications say so—performance in the field will prove that specifications don't lie.

Wilson Harvest Festival Dates Are July 10-11

WILSON — Flying straw and the chug of a steam engine will fill the air as the community gathers for an old-fashioned threshing bee.

The bee, planned for the afternoons of July 10 and 11, will be a part of the annual Harvest Festival here sponsored by the Wilson Chamber of Commerce and Kansas Czech, Inc.

The threshing bee will be at the Frank Sibrava farm at the northern edge of Wilson.

It is a volunteer project, explained Gerald Klema, general chairman of the bee.

"It's just a sort of get-together where the men can work together and the women can talk," he said.

Threshing is hard, time-consuming work, and since the bee serves as both a sort of living museum display and a social gathering, the work done is not as important as it would have been 30 years ago, he said.

"One year we threshed about 40 acres of wheat, but this year we're only planning on about 10 acres," he said.

On display around the threshing machine will be antique equipment used in earlier days by farmers in the area.

The threshing will be conducted much as it was early in the century.

Crews of men will bind the wheat, others will haul it to the threshing machine with teams and wagons.

He said a crew of about a dozen men would be needed to operate the machinery, bind wheat and work hauling and pitching bundles.

The crew will use a steam engine owned by Rudy Sejkora of Chapman to power the threshing machine. Klema said Wilson hopes eventually to buy an old steam engine and perhaps open a museum to display old farm implements.

"The threshing machine we're using this year hasn't been used for six years, but it's a good machine even though we'll have to give it a good working over before it's ready," Klema said.

"In the past we've had several thousand visitors drift in to see the bee," he said.

An admission fee will be charged to defray the expenses of the bee this year, Klema said.

Frontier Facts

A PRODUCT OF FRONTIER RESEARCH

FRONTIER HIDAN 35 Hybrid Sorghum-Sudan-grass is REALLY DIFFERENT! Livestock really go for Hidan 35. It is unexcelled for pasture or grazing, for greenchop, bundle feed and even makes good silage.

Hidan 35 has the sweetest, juiciest stalk of any Hybrid sorghum-sudangrass or sudangrass hybrid on the market. Its palatability is unexcelled. Leaves are more numerous, and stalks smaller in diameter than any present variety. Its seeds are smaller and it takes less seed per acre when planting. It has a bred-in fungicide making it possible to plant earlier, as it is resistant to cool soils. It is one of the earliest in maturity, starts quick and vigorously. Highly resistant to leaf diseases.

For pasture it has two of the most important features. It is very low in HCN (prussic acid), as proven in several tests. And it has exceptionally high protein.

In Wisconsin sheep were turned out on several varieties of sorghum-sudangrass hybrids. The sheep got on Hidan 35, and would go to nothing else, eating Hidan 35 to the ground.

In western Kansas Fred Casterline put 400 head of 550 pound steers on 130 acres of Hidan 35 June 20th, when the Hidan was about 12 inches high. He took these steers off at an average of 747 pounds Nov. 8th. He reports they were in top condition, no bloat or diarrhea, hair was in excellent condition, and they RECEIVED NO SUPPLEMENT. He had a small acreage of another variety, but had to put up an electric fence to keep them from going back to the Hidan 35.

Mr. Casterline recommends cattle weight be in the 450 to 550 lb. class when put on Hidan, that they be turned on early when Hidan is 12 to 15 in. high, and that enough cattle be kept on the Hidan to prevent it getting over 20 to 25 in. high, otherwise it grows so fast it gets ahead of them. Best feed value of Hidan is in the grass stage, for pasture purposes. He uses half his acreage and when pastured down to about 6 inches, moves them to around 15 in. before turning them back.

Late May Rains Brightens State

With most of the G&G area showing rather large deficits of rainfall in the past year and a half, the region received welcome rains in late May that made the month the best May since 1961 for adequate moisture. The Weather Bureau said the month was also the coolest May since 1961, altho there were several 100-degree readings before the general rains late in the month.

Most parts of the G&G area accumulated five inches or more of rain in May.

MASSEY - FERGUSON CLAIM:

With Pressure Control you can do a discing job in 8 hours that ordinarily takes 9.

Field test certifies that many of the competitive tractors tested would require more than 9 hours to complete the amount of discing comparable Massey-Ferguson tractors with Pressure Control could accomplish in 8 hours.

The MF 1100 tractor with PC disced from 15% to 29.8% faster than three competitive tractors.

Pressure Control tractors increased discing rates up to 32.4% when compared with 11 different competitive tractors. Depending on the amount of turning required, usually about a 15% increase in discing speed will save at least one out of 9 working hours.

Not only did Massey-Ferguson's 1100 Western model outperform a competitive 4-wheel drive model but the MF tractor had 21.4% less wheel slippage.

Condition your heifers with Purina D & F Chow

Your heifers are six months or older, they've been growing fast, and you hope that they'll freshen at 22 or 24 months, drop a healthy calf and produce 15,000 lbs. of milk during their first lactation.

Pretty steep order? Sure. But with a well-bred heifer in top condition, it can be done. That's where Purina D & F Chow comes in.

D & F Chow (full name, Dry & Freshening) contains vitamins A and D plus essential minerals. And it has the right amount of protein (12½% in the Complete, 16% in the Supplement). In all, it has a nutritional balance that is effective in helping the heifer maintain a rate of growth that will bring her up to her bred-in capacity of productivity.

Stop in and see us today. Let us show you why Purina D & F Chow should be in your heifer growing program.

What Will Next Wheat Allotment Acreage Be?

A serious dispute appears to be shaping up within the Johnson administration over the size of next year's national acreage allotment for American wheat farmers.

The Agriculture Department is leaning strongly toward a reduction to about 59.3 million acres from this year's 68 million acres.

But policymakers at the Agency for International Development (AID), who favor a bountiful supply of grain for overseas food aid needs, are arguing for some way to keep allowable acreage high without hurting the farmers.

Traditionally, farmers favor the privilege of planting and harvesting a lot of acreage. At present, many are even concerned about the prices they will get.

These farmers fear producing too large a crop will drive prices down and start the market back on the grim road to pluses. Hence there is widespread support for the 9-million-acre cutback from this year's level, the highest in 14 years.

The administration, which must settle the issue in the next few weeks, is naturally concerned that farmers don't get more upset about low prices than they are already — especially since effects of the acreage decision will show up during an election year.

One proposal AID officials are mulling involves combining unchanged wheat acreage next year with a firm government commitment to buy all wheat produced on acres not idled.

Big Landowner Raymond Adams Is Dead

One of the state's largest landowners, Raymond E. Adams Sr. of Maple Hill, died last week. He was 65 and had been ill with a heart ailment.

Adams operated the Adams Cattle Co. at Maple Hill, in Wabunsee county, a business which had been built up to 67,000 acres of cattle grazing land. He operated the cattle business with his sons Raymond E. Adams Jr. and David S. Adams.

A longtime leader in the Kansas Livestock industry, Adams was a director in the Kansas City Stockyards Co. and was active in the Kansas Livestock Association.

Raymond Adams Sr.

He was currently a director of the First National Bank in Topeka and had served as state representative for the 44th district in 1960.

Adams began his business the year after his father, H. G. Adams Sr., died. His father left 85,000 acres of ranchland to his seven children.

Over the years Raymond Adams Sr. brought out all his brothers and sisters except for the land H. G. Adams Jr. owns in southwest Kansas.

In the spring of 1964, the Adams Cattle Co. made one of the state's largest cattle shipments by rail. There were 2800 head of cattle, purchased from the Waggoner Ranch in Texas, shipped to Maple Hill.

No Major Effect In State Army Guard Units

The Defense Department's realignment of National Guard Units in all states will result in the reduction of the Kansas National Guard from 68 units with a strength of 10,000 men.

The reduction is expected to have little impact on Kansas, said Brig. Gen. Philip Smyth, assistant adjutant general in Kansas.

No guard units will be reduced until after summer training is completed this year. Gen. Smyth estimated the changes would be made between September 1 and January 1, 1968.

He said all the changes must be made simultaneously.

Under the reorganization plan, the Kansas Army Guard loses ordnance and quartermaster units, but receives additional infantry battalions to add to the 69th Infantry Brigade and additional Army division units.

of fragrant freshness. But before you take that walk, be sure that your wedding attendants are in fragrance harmony with you. No bride wants to be upstaged by an overpowering perfume on someone else in the procession. One way to coordinate scents would be to present each bridesmaid with a gift flacon of delicate perfume as a thank-you memento for serving in the bridal party. Be certain your traincase is packed with cosmetic and fragrance accessories. Today practically every form of fragrance comes in unbreakable, travel-safe containers. There's spray bath powder, deodorant, cologne, even perfumed hair spray, all in matching essence. Now that you're ready to climb aboard that honeymoon

Carrot Curls

Use a swivel-blade vegetable parer to have paper-thin, long, wide pieces of carrot to add to a tossed salad. If you wish, you can roll up each carrot piece, secure with a toothpick and soak in ice water. When the toothpicks are removed, there will be carrot "curls" to add to the salad. The carrot slices can be tossed in the salad and the "curls" put on top for color.

Mrs. Wayne Winkel Of Glen Elder Is Winner

The winner is Mrs. Wayne Winkel, RR, Glen Elder. She writes, "We enjoy Grass & Grain and find something of interest for both of us in each issue."

SEA DREAM SALAD

1 package (3-ounce) lime gelatin
1½ cups hot water
1 cup grated cucumber
¾ teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add remaining ingredients (sieve, if desired). Turn into a large mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Excellent served with meat, or fill centers of molds with salmon salad or cottage cheese. Garnish with mayonnaise and cucumber slices; sprinkle with paprika. Good summer dish.

Mrs. Walter Erichsen, R 2, Junction City: "Please enter this for Moss Cake which is good to use the yolks of eggs after baking an Angel Food Cake. I enjoy your recipe column very much."

MOSS CAKE

13 egg yolks beaten stiff with 1 cup sugar (beat until lemon-colored). Sift together ½ teaspoon ground cloves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ cup flour. Add to first mixture and beat well. Add ¼ teaspoon lemon extract and ½ cup nuts. Fold in 3 egg whites which have been beaten stiff. Bake in ungreased tube pan 35-40 minutes at 375 degrees F. Then invert pan and let stand until cool. Remove cake from pan as an Angel Food Cake.

Mrs. Ronald Zvolanek, R 2, Ellsworth: "I enjoy the Woman's Page very much. I have tried many of the recipes."

ANGEL FOOD

CHOCOLATE DESSERT
1 package German chocolate, melted
¼ cup powdered sugar
1 package Dream Whip or whipped cream
4 eggs, separated
1 angel food loaf cake

Beat egg yolks and add melted chocolate. Set aside. Whip cream or Dream Whip and add powdered sugar. Set aside. Beat egg whites into the egg yolks and chocolate mixture. Crumble one half of loaf cake in the bottom of a 9x13-inch pan. Pour half the chocolate mixture on top of the cake. Crumble remaining cake and pour the rest of chocolate mixture over the top. Do not stir. Let stand in refrigerator until cool or set.

Mrs. Charles E. Graham, 503 Hockaday, Council Grove: "I always look forward to the Grass & Grain every week to clip the new recipes from 'Our Daily Bread.'"

SOPAPILLA RECIPE

Ingredients: Flour, pure lard, baking powder, salt, water.
Directions: 1½ teaspoon baking powder to each cup of flour, ½ level tablespoon of lard to each cup of flour, ¼ teaspoon salt to each cup of flour, enough luke-warm water to knead. Knead stiff not soft. Roll out thin, cut and deep fry in 400 degree heat.

"This is a delicious hot bread and especially good with Spanish or Mexican dishes."

Mrs. Lloyd Diederich, Barnes: "Enclosed you will find recipe for Powdered Sugar Angel Food which I think is quite unusual so would like to enter in contest."

POWDERED SUGAR ANGEL FOOD

Turn oven to 425 degrees. Put cake pan in oven while mixing cake.
1½ cups egg whites
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cream tartar

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg whites with salt and cream tartar. Fold in white sugar, two tablespoons at a time. Sift powdered sugar and cake flour together. Fold in egg whites, add flavoring. Take hot pan from oven and pour in mixture. Bake 23 minutes.

Mrs. Lola Cerveny, Ada: "This is an old-fashioned German Cheese Cake that is awfully good. I have never sent in a recipe before. Hope you can use this."

GERMAN CHEESE CAKE

1½ cups of fine Zwieback or cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter
3 tablespoons sugar
Blend together and press in bottom of 9x13-inch pan.

FILLING

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 pound Philadelphia cream cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg yolks
1 cup cream ("I use half & half")

4 beaten egg whites
Blend sugar, flour, salt and cream cheese (which has been softened). Add vanilla. Stir in egg yolks and mix well. Add cream and blend well then fold in beaten egg whites. Pour this over top of cracker crumbs. Bake in 325-degree oven for 1 to 1½ hours. Turn fire off in oven and let set in oven for 1 hour more. "We like this real well."

Mrs. Kenneth Shank, R 2, Abilene: "This recipe makes a

DELICATE WHITE CAKE

½ cup shortening
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup water
4 stiffly beaten egg whites
1 teaspoon baking powder
Thoroughly cream shortening and sugar; add vanilla. Sift flour sifted with salt and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Add to sugar mixture, beating after each addition. Fold in whites, beaten with remaining 2 teaspoons baking powder. Bake in two wax paper lined 9x13 layer cake pans in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 minutes. Frosting suggestion is for Minute Frosting.

tively English. Actually, it is Indian in origin. Also Far Eastern, is the Aladdin's lamp fashioned and finished in old Dore bronze. The English added decorative refinements to Aladdin's lamp and called it an Adam urn. A step further with American flair is made by mounting it upon a distressed fruitwood pedestal to contrast with rustic wood used on the chair and octagonal table. The lamp operates on a three-way switch for reading, conversational or mood lighting. It comes with a dark or light shade to balance with English accent settings.

British had a way of doing the best of many elements within their far-flung Empire with the result the finished product emerged with a slightly altered, but distinctly English accent. Wonder that this scheme should appeal so much to the largest of the Colonies. Call it Eclectic Mix or Casual Suburban American homes today decorated around this self-system of free translation. result is English heightened American flair for independent expression. One thread skillfully ties the whole thing together. It may be as strong as a color or pattern repeated several times throughout a room. It can be as subtle as the warm balance of rich woods and mellowed brass on a lamp that brightens an otherwise dim corner. In the setting above strong pattern repeat is provided by matching print on Tudor Manor chair and draperies. Call it paisley or crewel, but this print that is usually executed in tone-on-tone colorings, we recognize as distinctive.

What's A "Square"?

When the roofer refers to a "square" of roofing, you may not know what he means. A square is the amount of roofing needed to cover adequately 100 square feet of roof.

Thus, heavyweight asphalt shingles — which weigh 290 or more pounds per square — protect each 100 square feet of roof area with that amount of weight. Their extra heaviness provides a longer-lasting, more effective shield against all kinds of weather.

Doctors Say "Walk"

Walking is recommended by medical authorities as an excellent exercise to improve muscle tone, help keep your weight down and give you a general feeling of well-being.

Spicy Pastry

Spice the pastry when you are making an ice cream pie. Use 1½ teaspoons of cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon allspice and ¼ cup of sugar to a full package of pastry mix.

Don't Wring Taffeta

Never squeeze or wring taffeta when laundering. This makes crease marks in the fabric. Pat off excess moisture with a turkish towel and press at once to restore crispness.

Up Goes The Price Of Smokes

Three more major cigarette manufacturers have raised their prices to wholesalers.

The latest boosts follow the increases instituted by the American Tobacco Company and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, the industry's leaders.

Brown & Williamson Tobacco company, Liggett & Myers Tobacco company and P. Lorillard company raised the wholesale prices of most of their cigarette brands by 25 cents a thousand. In addition, Brown & Williamson and Lorillard increased the prices of their 100 mm brands, or extra large, by 75 cents per thousand.

Philip Morris, Inc., the other major manufacturer, which has not yet announced its plans concerning the price boost, said it was still "studying the situation."

The increases are expected to add a cent a pack to the retail price of cigarettes and at least 10 cents to the per carton cost.

Trade Forecaster Sees State Crop At 206 Million

The Kansas wheat harvest will be about five million bushels higher than the May 1 estimate by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, a Chicago expert believes.

Conrad Leslie, reporting for Lamson Bros. & Co., Chicago Board of Trade, predicted a harvest of 206,644,000. The May estimate by the USDA Livestock and Crop Reporting Service was 201,206,000 bushels.

Other private reporting services also have varied around the 200-million to 206-million bushel production market for Kansas wheat this year.

Leslie estimated total U.S. winter wheat production at 1,187,114,000 bushels, with spring wheat likely to be 238,879,000 bushels.

Both figures are substantially higher than the 1966 production and are indicative of a record harvest for wheat in the United States of some 1.5 billion bushels — or 300 million bushels above the record set in 1958 with 1.47 billion bushels of wheat produced.

Implement Sales Down In First Quarter Of Year

Machinery expenditures by farmers are being curtailed, especially in the Midwest, in spite of the near-record farm income last year and planned expansion in this year's crop acreage.

In a recent Agricultural Letter, the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank took note of the statistics which show that retail sales of farm tractors in March dropped about 16 percent from the comparable year-ago month. During the entire first quarter, they were down about 2 percent.

In the Seventh Federal Reserve District states (which account for about one-fourth of total tractor sales in the nation), farm tractor sales have shown an even larger decline.

The sharpest drop occurred in the three Corn Belt states. During the first quarter, tractor sales to farmers dropped 22 percent in Illinois, and in Indiana and Iowa sales were down 18 and 15 percent, respectively.

In March, declines of more than 25 percent were recorded in each of these states. Tractor sales in Michigan were down only slightly while in Wisconsin sales were well above a year ago.

Several factors have probably contributed to this turnaround in outlays for machinery. Most important was the decline in farm prices and incomes late last year and earlier this year.

How Fiscal Policy Affects Farmer

By Orlan H. Buller
Kansas State University

Most farmers worried little about interest rates, availability of money, or income taxes 20 years ago. But they are taking a keen interest in our nation's monetary and fiscal policies these days.

Here's why. Credit has become a mighty important tool in today's agriculture. And taxes are taking a bigger bite out of the farmer's paycheck than ever before.

What are monetary and fiscal policies? How do they affect the farmer?

Basically, they are tools designed to regulate the growth or behavior of the nation's economy. Monetary policies are those affecting the interest rates and the availability of credit. Fiscal policies deal with income tax rates and government expenditures.

When the government wishes to curb inflationary pressures, it acts to reduce demand for goods and services by consumers and businessmen. This is monetary policy in action. It may take the form of an increase in the interest rate, or a tightening of money. The results are the same: higher costs which produce a cutback in investment.

A raise in interest rates may have a significant effect on the cost of farm mortgages, which frequently run up to 20 or 30 years. Suppose you purchase land for $200 an acre at 5 per cent interest. You pay off the mortgage in 20 years in annual $10 per acre payments. After 20 years, you've actually paid $205 an acre — $200 at the original price, plus $105 for interest.

Now assume the same situation, but figure the interest at 6 per cent. The per acre cost has increased $21 — $200 for the original price, but now the interest amounts to $126 per acre. It totals out to $326 an acre.

In this example, increasing the interest rate 1 per cent boosted the per acre cost almost 7 per cent.

The effect of raising or lowering the interest rate becomes more important as the length of the loan increases. Suppose you borrow $200 at 6 per cent for 3 months to purchase feeder steers. The interest charge would be $3. If the interest rate was 7 per cent, the charge would be $3.50. Increasing in interest rate becomes less significant because the loan is for a relatively short period.

Fiscal policies generally do not affect farmers as much as businessmen or salaried professionals. Changes in tax credit or depreciation allowance, however, would be more important to farmers than a change in tax rate.

Changes in government expenditures or income tax rates may affect demand for farm products by consumers. A higher tax rate would reduce the consumer's disposable income and consequently his buying power for food. This could influence the prices farmers receive for their products.

Herbicides May Limit Feeding

Herbicides may limit the use of crops for livestock feed. Read and follow these limitations given on the label of the chemicals. Dr. Erick B. Nilson, Extension herbicide specialist at Kansas State University, says.

"Do not cut immature plants for silage. Do not graze treated areas or feed forage to livestock," are the limitations for "Ramrod," a pre-emergent suggested for weed control in corn, or in soybeans grown for seed crop.

Amihen and Trifluralin (Treflan) are suggested for weed control in soybeans and the limitation placed on use of the plants is "Do not graze treated areas or use treated plants for food or forage." "Do not graze or feed forage from treated fields to livestock," is an additional restriction when Trifluralin is used, Nilson says.

"Do not graze treated areas or feed forage from treated land to livestock within 60 days after application," is the limitation placed on sorghum plants when Atrazine is used for weed control.

If 2,4-D is used for control of weeds in pastures, do not graze dairy animals on treated areas within 7 days. There are no limitations for beef cattle on 2,4-D treated pastures, Nilson explains.

If a seedling alfalfa field is treated for weed control with dalapon or 4 (2,4-DB), there is a restriction with respect to livestock feed. Dalapon-treated alfalfa should not be fed as forage to dairy cows or to animals being furnished for slaughter. Alfalfa should not be cut for hay within 30 days of treatment if dalapon is applied.

Drop Federal Coyote Plan

The program of federal hunters to eradicate coyotes in Kansas has been terminated and the state will handle its own control of predatory animals, Gov. Robert Docking's office announced last week.

Paul Pendergast, administrative assistant to the governor, said the Department of Interior accepted the state's request that the program be dropped.

The use of federal hunters created a furor last winter when it was learned that former Gov. William H. Avery had signed an agreement with the Department of Interior that would have permitted federal authorities to come into the state to eradicate undesired animals and birds and use whatever methods they thought most effective.

Avery had entered into the agreement at the request of livestock and cattle interests without a public hearing.

Farmers and wildlife experts objected strongly, contending that the practice could be dangerous to other animals and that a limited number of coyotes is beneficial in keeping a balance of nature by leveling off the rabbit and rodent population.

The agreement carried the provision that either the state or federal government could cancel the program on six months notice. Governor Docking indicated the state desired to cancel shortly after he took office.

William T. Krummes, regional director of the bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife under the Department of Interior, reported the agency was honoring the state's request.

Pendergast said the state will resume its own coyote control program, which had operated for many years through the extension service at Kansas State University.

Fewest Cotton Acres In Century

The agriculture department says this year's cotton acreage is expected to drop to about 10 million acres, the smallest in nearly 100 years.

The first official report on plantings will be issued July 10. The latest forecast of the plantings was based in part on farmer sign-up under the department's cotton program. The program offers payments to those who divert at least 35 per cent of their cotton allotment. Field reports on early plantings, fertilizer, seed purchases and related information also were a basis for the forecast.

Marriage A Rock In Struble Family

The Strubles were the marrying kind, no doubt about that.
The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Struble, who lived in Ottawa and Saline counties, has compiled an amazing record of matrimonial durability, probably unmatched in the G&G area.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Dan
Struble of Salina celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, becoming the fifth of seven children to reach such an anniversary.

The parents, the late Mr. &
Mrs. F. R. Struble, marked their 65th wedding date back in 1939.

Daughter Eva (Mrs. Harry Lash) celebrated her 50th wedding date in 1943. Daughter Ad-da (Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brownell) reached the mark in 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Corlis Struble celebrated their golden anniversary in 1959, and another daughter Madge (Mrs. Sheridan Boss) celebrated in 1954.

The oldest Struble, Mrs. J. A.
Staufer, who will soon be 88, missed her golden day by only a few months. Her husband died in 1948, five months before the anniversary.

The seventh child, Mrs. Tom Norton Sr. and Mr. Norton of Salina, have only five years to go. They celebrated their 45th anniversary last month.

The reason GRASS & GRAIN has

of its classified advertising and sales section than any newsweekly in the state is that Grass & Grain has advertising for readers to read. Last year Grass & Grain ran 25,084 inches (314 pages) of classified ads and sales. This year volume is running 24% over last year.

Sell Land, Livestock, Implements, Cars & Trucks, Furniture, Feed & Seed, Antiques, Services. Find a Good Buy. The Way to Tell the Most — for the least cost — is thru G&G Classified.

Better Than Last Year

A better crop than last year was predicted by Sheldon Coffman, who farms west of Salina. He figured harvest would start around June 20, altho recent wet, cool weather may alter that prediction.

Wants To Bypass 104% Limit

MANHATTAN — The board of education here has announced plans to apply for authority to increase its budget and expenditures over that permitted under the 104 per cent foundation program.

The board of Unified School District No. 383 is seeking permission to go over the limit by $73,345.50 over an 18-month period.

The maximum budget allowed for the district under the present school foundation finance act is $2,479,909.

U.S. Crop Forecast Goes Up Too

The Agriculture Department last week forecast this year's wheat crop at 1,550,386,000 bushels, 18 percent more than last year.

Such a crop compares with the previous record high of 1,457,000,000 bushels in 1958. It compares also with last year's production of 1,311,000,000 bushels, the 1961-65 average of 1,214,000,000 and with this year's May forecast of 1,515,000,000 bushels.

The government had sought a sharp increase in production this year.

The indicated acreage for harvest, the yield per acre and production included:

Winter Wheat — Missouri 1,682,000 acres, 34 bushels per acre and 57,188,000 bushels; Kansas 10,876,000; 21 and 228, 396,000.

The report put the winter wheat crop at 1,237,102,000 bushels and the spring crop at 313,284,000 bushels.

Last year's winter wheat harvest was 1,056,821,000 and the 1961-65 average was 969,971,000 bushels.

The record wheat crop forecast, farm observers say, adds weight to those who predict a cut in acreage allotment for the 1968 harvest.

The USDA estimate of 228,

396,000 bushels as Kansas's production is believed by some to be optimistic. A recent estimate made by the Kansas Wheat Improvement Association ranged from 180 million bushels to 220 million bushels.

The Kansas crop, now ripening, suffered from drouth and also sustained considerable damage from late freezes.

Most observers, however, say it is difficult to predict what the crop will be because of variance within regions and even within neighborhoods. Exports of the 1967 crop of subsequent crops is expected to be heavy. Reserve of American wheat, in all positions, is about 440 million bushels. Most of this is in Private hands, Secretary said, and he believes the reserve should be larger, perhaps 600 million bushels.

will be because of weather within regions and neighborhoods. The June 1 forecast for the Kansas wheat crop is 228 million bushels, an improvement over the 1967 crop of 217 million bushels, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. If realized, the production would be up 14 percent above last year's production and two per cent above the 1961-65 average, the service reported. The prospective yield was placed at 21 bushels per harvested acre, somewhat above the 1966 yield but otherwise the lowest since 1959. Rains in early May and additional moisture in eastern and northern areas during the month were beneficial to the crop. Freezes on May 1 and 2, however, caused considerable damage to wheat in northern and western areas of the state. Cool weather during much of May and rains late in the month provided excellent conditions for filling of the heads. Spring planting made good progress last month. This spring's freezes hurt the crop in many sections of the state and have caused varying degrees of damage. In many moderately damaged fields second growth of wheat has come out, providing additional yield, but harvest will be slowed due to the slower ripening heads. Lack of moisture held the wheat crop back considerably and caused substantial damage, particularly in Southcentral and Southwestern Kansas. Some damage from insects was reported last month in Western and Southeastern Kansas.

Death took the life last week of Spencer Tracy, for over three decades a leading movie actor. At left, he was teamed with Shirley Temple in the 1934 movie, "Now I'll Tell." At right, he appears as the Maine jurist in "Judgment at Nuremberg," for which he received one of eight Oscar nominations for best actor. Twice Tracy won the highest Hollywood honor, for a role as a Portuguese fisherman in "Captains Courageous" in 1937, and for his portrayal of Father Flanagan in "Boys Town" in 1938.

Lamb Shipment

One of several county or area sheep and wool associations in the G&G area is the Lincoln County organization which has been shipping lambs cooperatively since 1956. Here Emerson Cline is shown with one of the loads ready for market.

County Agent Ed Baker says 36,084 sheep have been shipped by the Lincoln association in its 11 years and he figures after costs are paid local sheepgrowers still net about a 20-cent per head premium by shipping cooperatively.

A recent shipment May 8, of 1161 head, was one of the largest ever to come from the Lincoln County group, and spring lambs to the St. Joseph market brought $29.50 cwt., highest price paid for spring lambs since August 1952.

WICHITA'S OFFICIAL COUNT AROUND 280,000

Population of the state's largest city, Wichita, will be officially around 280,000, according to assessor figures from Sedgwick County. The county population will be 345,323. The 1967 figure for Wichita is up more than 11,000, which officials thought reflected an improved method of enumeration over the 1966 operation.

Populations of other Sedgwick County towns: Andale 511, Bentley 235, Cheney 1264, Clearwater 1304, Colwich 900, Derby 7582, Eastborough 1002, Garden Plaine 677, Goddard 754, Haysville 6498, Kechi 236, Maize 757, Mt. Hope 659, Mulvane 2029, Valley Center 2270, Viola 190.

House Moves Farm Bill Thru

The House passed a $4,770,000,000 Agriculture department appropriation bill last week after beating moves to limit subsidy payments to individuals and curtail departmental employment.

The 357-38 vote sent the measure to the Senate after the House rejected a Republican-backed motion to cut 1968 departmental spending by 5 per cent except in the popular school lunch and school milk programs. The motion by Rep. William E. Minshall (R-O.) lost by a 22-175 roll call vote.

Included in the bill is $243,700, for the school lunch program and 104 million for the milk program. These programs provide free or cutrate food and milk for school children.

The biggest scrap was over an amendment by Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) to put a ceiling of $25,000 on payments to individual or corporate farm operators for cooperating in various department programs such as land conservation and price support activities. The amendment lost by standing vote of 136 to 47.

Findley said some payments under the sugar program have run as high as 1 million dollars to individuals. He claimed his proposal would help small family farm operators by leaving more money for them, a claim disputed by opponents who said it would result in chaos in agriculture.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) floor manager of the bill, told the House much of the money paid to domestic sugar producers is returned in the form of processing taxes.

Chairman W. R. Poage (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee, said Findley's amendment would drive large farm operators out of government control programs and force them to produce for commodities. Small producers, Poage claimed, would suffer in a surplus market because prices would fall.

A last-minute attempt to hold down on department employment was led by Rep. Donald W. Riegle, Jr., (R-Mich.), and lost by standing vote of 113 to 62. Riegle said his amendment would save at least $15,000,000 by giving the department only 9% new employees instead of the 762 provided in the bill. The bill's total, while 251

POSITIVE FACE FLY CONTROL

WITH THIS

New TOX-O-WIK Combination FACE FLY FIGHTER and MINERAL FEEDER

Every time cattle use the mineral feeder they automatically apply Face Fly Insecticide as they raise the canvas weather shield with its wick applicator around the bottom. You get economical, safe and complete protection.

A wick enclosed in a tube feeds insecticide to the applicator from a tank holding a 1 month supply of Tox-O-Wik Face Fly Insecticide. The tank is inside the 36" diameter heavy duty steel cone above the canvas hood. Positive flow is assured without wasting. There are no valves, pumps or jets to clog. A circular steel rod just above the applicator keeps the wick round.

Hood cone and flexible thick water-proof canvas keep mineral dry from rain or snow. Sturdy—cattle can't upset it. This new addition to the famous Tox-O-Wik line rids your cattle of face flies.

Cattle eat better—gain more. Find out now about this low cost unit.

Kansas Plants Say 'Cheese'

Without a great deal of fanfare Kansas has become an important producer of cheese. There are 16 plants in the state, most of them in the G&G area, and they had a production of 19.3 million pounds of cheese in 1966.

Most of them produce bulk cheddar, which is sold to other companies for remanufacture into a variety of cheese products. In the picture above, chunks of cheddar are turned by an employee at the cheese plant at Wamego in order to reduce moisture content. At right, Carl Brase of the cheese production department at the Wamego plant readies some cheddar for shipment.

from the G&G Area

under different conditions. The conditions of this trial were:

1) 350-pound weaning calves were placed on full feed and slaughtered periodically from 0-224 days.

2) Bone, muscle, fat and organ weights and quality data were obtained as measures of skeletal development and grade to determine the optimum market time.

Results:

1) The optimum slaughter time for this group of animals would have been after 196 days on feed at a liveweight 785 pounds. Muscle growth had passed its maximum rate and the carcasses graded choice.

2) Animals of different genetic background, feeding, management, and rate of maturity would be expected to react differently.

The feeding and management of these cattle was different than the majority of our feeders, in that lightweight feeders were pushed from the beginning which apparently caused them to develop and mature early. The animals matured at too light a weight for us to recommend this system as an industry practice. We have in the past and currently promoted cattle and carcasses that have some size and scale that are helpful for all segments of the livestock and meat industry.

To further illustrate, in the previous year's report we tested animals under a different system, in which 24 paternal half-sib Angus steers were weaned, summer grazed, wintered, summer grazed, and full fed 140 days.

Results: these animals weighed 1175 pounds off test, graded choice and had the same proportion of lean, fat and bone as the full fed group. For this system, this was the optimum slaughter time and they weighed 390 pounds more than the animal full fed 196 days.

Now, what we are saying is that not only thru genetics but thru feeding and management we can alter the maturity and composition of animals. If we push young calves hard early, the optimum slaughter weight and age will be different than if they are handled under a lower plane of nutrition prior to full feeding.

As A Hog Does About Sunday

With all the constant publicity, much of it uninformed, about water pollution from feedlots, I thought Grass & Grain readers might be interested in this letter from Russ Anderson of the Anderson Feedlots at Emporia to the Hutchinson News in response to a recent News story about the subject:

We've been operating a feedlot for 27 years. We do not dump manure in gullies where it washes into the river. We put it on cropland and plow it under. Governor Docking's representative, Dr. Hardner, is a theologian and has as much information about pollution as the average hog does about Sunday. A retraction is in order.

Wrong Impression Of Feeder Article

I regard to an article in Grass & Grain May 18, "How is Best in the Feedlot?" "785 pounds," I believe should clarify the interpretation of the results of the test. Actually no industry recommendations were made in this article, and the results were stated as well as the fact that different results would be obtained

Due to the heavy rains, cattle receipts were light last Saturday, but the run of hogs despite heavy rains continued very large. We sold about as many as last week, when approximately 1500 head went through the ring.

Hog prices again were strong, matching the terminal market, as the partial listing below will show. Our hog buyers can use all you bring to these Saturday sales, so keep them coming. We certainly are getting top dollar for all classes of swine.

CATTLE: There were few steer and heifer calves, not enough to make a market. One lot of feeder steers weighing 785 lbs. went to a Nebraska stockman @ $26.40. Gild butcher cows brought $16.75 to $18.00; cutters $15.00 to $16.50. Stocker calves weighing 400-550 lbs. went @ $28.50 to $30.50; heifers $24.00 to $25.00. A few cows with calves sold from $200.00 to $234.00.

Following is a sampling of the swine market:

 Case dealers in the Grass & Grain area are pushing a drive on the Case 300 forage harvester.

The reason: buyers of this model will get a 6-ton wagon gear free when they purchase any of the 300 line equipment.

An ad in Grass & Grain erroneously indicated that the bonus would be given for any Case forage harvesting equipment.

Start Staking A 4-Lane Road North Of Salina

SALINA — Highway department crews have started to stake out the route for the first stretch of an improved federal highway north of Salina.

The stretch will run only 10 miles and it is expected to be begun by early 1970, with construction to start in early 1968, the first link in a 4-lane road north from here.

This is a most critical stretch of Kansas highway from the viewpoint of need," said Bob district highway commissioner. "Use of Interstate 70 has increased traffic on US81 tremendously.

The accident rate, for example, is 16 1/2 times higher than average for 10 miles of Kansas highway.

While the new road, in effect, will be an extension of Interstate 35W and will conform to interstate standards in construction and access control, it will not be part of the Interstate system.

The new route is not part of present Interstate plan and could be added to it only by act of Congress. Federal funds finance 90 percent of interstate routes, but the new road will be financed on a 50-50 basis between state and federal funds.

The new roadway in general will run about 1 1/2 miles west of present US81.

Eventually the freeway will cross the northern part of Kansas and link with US36 along the state's northern border.

The 10-mile stretch being staked out starts at the junction of I35W and I70 west of Salina and will run to K18. Right-of-way acquisition will begin within 90 days.

Kent said the relocation of 81 rather than rebuilding along its present route was dictated by economics.

The route will involve three bridges and interchanges at two county roads, K-18 and completion of the interchange at the I35W and I70 junction.

SHORTHORN JUNIOR FIELD DAY SET FOR MCPHERSON

The Kansas Shorthorn Association will have its annual Junior Field Day on Saturday, July 22, at the McPherson County Fairgrounds, McPherson. A total of $1345 will be awarded in cash and gift certificates. Association secretary Milton Nagely says he expects 150 head of Shorthorns to be entered.

Sale Every Thursday

Hogs 11:30 a.m.
 Cattle 1 p.m.

We had a large run of hogs and a light run of cattle at our sale Thursday. Stocker and feeder cattle were from $1.00 to $2.00 higher; cows were 50¢ higher. There is great interest in stocker and feeder cattle, so if you have any to sell, now is a good time to do so. We continue to have a good run of baby calves and today they brought from $30.00 to $64.00 a head.

The extreme top on butcher hogs was $22.50 with the bulk going for $22.30. Feeder and weaning pigs remain in strong demand and the market was steady to 50¢ a head higher.

In the past years we have closed the barn for two weeks during the harvest and we will do so again this year. These two weeks probably will be the last week in June and the first week in July. Watch this ad for definite dates when we will be closed and get your butcher hogs in before then.
