Arnold Lindquist works on a corner post, bulwark of a strong fence.

Dewayne and Ernest work on a post to keep it from pulling out.

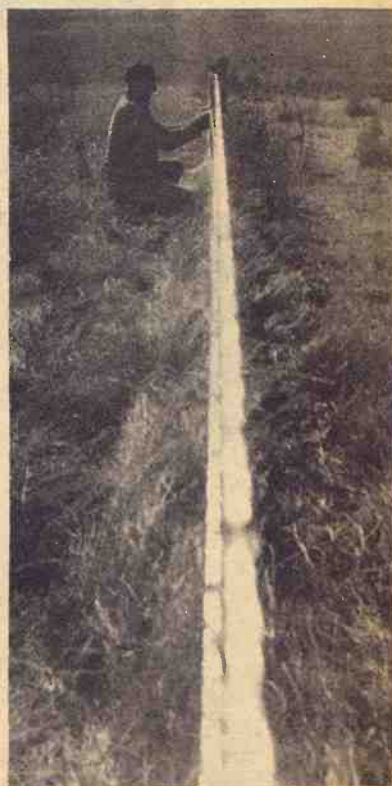

Stringing a fence across the upper end of a pond can be a wet and cold job. Dewayne (left) hands the new wire to his brother Arnold.

GRASS & GRAIN

Flare from sun off bright wire causes this illusion. The fence was being erected on the Joe Clemence ranch southeast of Junction City.

To a farmer, a good fence may mean the difference between a profit and a loss. Two Marshall County brothers started in business two years ago to help farmers build better fences.

Arnold & Dewayne Lindquist started in their home town of Waterville and two years later have worked all over the G&G area. Over 50 miles of fence have been stretched by the A & D Lindquist Fence Company.

Arnold says they have worked in weather from 10° up to 108°. Ponds, rocks and boomeranging barbed wire are a few of the hardships in building fences.

Dewayne says they consider themselves professionals and work to do a professional job.

Others working with the company are Ernest Lindquist, father of the owners, Charles Hirt Jr., and Ronnie Lockhart.

Charles Hirt Jr. draws the wire tight.

'Move Back To Countryside'

Hubert H. Humphrey, vice-president, who grew up in one of the nation's least-populated areas, has proposed that the government offer incentives for people to move out of the crowded cities and back to the wide open countryside.

He proposed a new cities act to do for America what the Homestead act did in helping settle Western areas of the country in the 1800s.

Two Other Suggestions

Speaking at a symposium sponsored by six members of President Johnson's cabinet, Humphrey also called for consideration of two other possible means of revitalizing rural America:

- A federal bank to help finance state and local development corporations; and
- A computerized nationwide employment service to inform workers all over the country of employment opportunities in newly developed areas.

Addressing a symposium that focused to a large extent on the problems of poverty, congestion and unrest in the big cities, Humphrey said:

"I travel back and forth across this country and there's one thing that impresses me — it's the emptiness; the vast beautiful areas."

The vice-president, now from Minnesota, grew up in South Dakota.

Gives Only an Outline

Humphrey did not go into specifics on what kind of incentives he envisaged with the new cities proposal.

But it was learned that the administration is in the advanced stages of preparing a legislative proposal under which state development corporations would give low-interest loans for development of new communities.

Administration officials generally look favorably on a bill along those lines proposed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff (D-Conn.), it was learned. But they are not satisfied with its financial formula.

Quirk Allows Bow Hunter On Land Uninvited

Atty. Gen. Robert Londerholm says there is nothing in the law or in rules and regulations of the Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission to prohibit bow and arrow hunting without the permission of a landowner.

Londerholm issued an opinion at the request of Sen. Joe Warren, D-Maple City.

Warren asked if there is any statute or regulation to apply to persons hunting deer with bow and arrow without permission of the landowner.

Londerholm cited a statute that makes it unlawful to enter the premises of another person "and fish, trap or hunt with dog or gun, thereon, or loiter thereon, or wound, kill or take thereon any fish, wild bird, game bird, game or fur bearing animals, or domestic fowl or animals, without the permission of the owner or person in lawful possession thereof having been first obtained."

Londerholm said the legislature by including the words "with dog or gun" precluded application of the penal statute to hunting by other means. He added that a bow and arrow deer season apparently was not considered at the time this statute was enacted.

The attorney general said that a person could be charged with loitering under the statute. But he said proof of a purpose for being on the land, such as hunting deer, would defeat a charge of loitering as that term is commonly defined.

Bargaining Plan From FU's Doyle

HANOVER — Phillip Doyle, Beloit farmer and former state legislator, has presented a plan for farm bargaining at Hanover.

The plan has the informal endorsement of the Farmers Union of Kansas. Doyle is a member of the Farmers Union legislative steering committee.

The plan would provide a framework for crop-by-crop bargaining with buyers and processors.

Doyle spoke at an area farm meeting sponsored by the Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, the Catholic Youth, and Hanover Chamber of Commerce.

He called upon Congress to pass a comprehensive farm bill comparable to the Wagner act for labor which would enable farmers to manage production and marketing.

He explained his farm bargaining proposal as providing a referendum among producers and for the election of a national bargaining committee.

"Whenever the price of a farm commodity, such as wheat or corn, falls to less than a fair price, the committee would have authority to determine a minimum fair price," Doyle said.

"The committee would also have authority to penalize producers who sold below the fair price level."

Doyle said the secretary of agriculture would meet with producers and marketers when they were unable to arrive at fair prices.

"The secretary would continue the supply management program after conducting a vote of the producers."

Doyle said: "There is no bargaining table for the greatest industry on earth — farming, and even if one did exist, there is no legislation in the world that would permit farmers to sit down and bargain with the big food distributing monopolies for fair prices."

"This program is not a substitute or a replacement for existing programs, but rather a specific bargaining program."

"The program will be presented in detail at the Kansas Farmers Union convention at Salina Dec. 16."

Doyle said the plan was similar to what the NFO was trying to do but would be based upon legislation.

"I've been thinking about this plan for several years," Doyle added.

New Fee On Trailers, Cabs

Owners of mobile homes, travel trailers, and pickup coaches must have them registered with the Kansas Motor Vehicle Department after January 1. A new law requires a permit whether the units are used on the highways or not and no longer exempts units weighing 2000 pounds or less.

For highway use the fee is $10 annually for travel trailers and $15 for mobile homes. For non-highway registration the fee is $5 annually. Pickup coaches have a one-time $5 fee.

Penalties of $5 per month for non-registration may be applied. Registration forms can be found in County Treasurers' offices.

OUR DAILY BREAD

— by G&G Area Cooks

Mrs. Herbert Besthorn, Claflin, Winner Of Weekly Prize

Prize winner, Mrs. Herbert Besthorn, Claflin: "Here is a recipe which is an especially good traveler and a good keeper. It does not melt easily and does not 'weep'."

ORANGE-APRICOT RING

2 1-pound cans (4 cups) apricot halves
2 3-ounce packages orange gelatin
Dash Salt
1 6-ounce can frozen orange juice concentrate 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 7-ounce package lemon-lime carbonated beverage
Drain apricots, reserving 1½ cups syrup. (Add water to make 1½ cups liquid, if necessary). Puree apricots in blender to make 2 cups puree. Combine reserved syrup, gelatin and salt; heat to boiling, stirring to dissolve gelatin. Remove from heat. Add apricot puree, orange concentrate and lemon juice; stir to melt concentrate. Slowly pour carbonated beverage down side of pan, mixing with up and down motion. Pour into 6-cup ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce; fill center with lettuce and orange segments. Arrange orange segments and frosted grapes around mold. Pass mayonnaise which has been folded into an equal amount of whipping cream, whipped. This salad is good plain without the mayonnaise. It is especially good served with ham and turkey.

Mrs. John C. Patterson, Hadam: "I hope you all enjoy this recipe as much as I have enjoyed so many recipes published in Grass & Grain."

JELLIED STUFFED EGGS

Cut 8 hard-cooked eggs in halves; remove and mash yolks. Mix in:
¾ teaspoon mustard
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles

¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon butter, melted
Roughly refill egg white cases. Chill. Dissolve a package of lemon or lime gelatin in 1½ cups boiling water. Pour the thickness of 1½ inches in shallow pan rinsed out with cold water. Chill until partly set. Press stuffed eggs into gelatin mixture. Chill. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce. Pass salad dressing.

Mrs. Hugh Kelly, R 1, Topeka, sent the next recipe:
CHERRY-BANANA BREAD

1 cup sugar
½ cup salad oil
2 eggs
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
½ cup finely chopped raw apples, pared
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries
1 cup chopped walnuts
Combine sugar, oil and eggs in a large bowl; beat thoroughly with electric mixer. Add sifted dry ingredients, alternately with milk in thirds, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold fruit and nuts into batter. Line a greased loaf pan (9x5x3 inches) with waxed paper and grease again. Turn batter into pan. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour and 10 min. utes. Makes one loaf.

Mrs. George Bina, Lincolnville: "At Christmastime we all like fruitcake of some kind, so I am sending you one called White Mystery Fruitcake."

WHITE MYSTERY FRUITCAKE

Bake a large white cake mix (angel food is the best) following package directions. Cool. Crumble into very large bowl or pan. Add the following fruit to crumbled cake:

1 cup each: candied pineapple, lemon peel, orange peel, citron, cut up
1 cup whole red candied cherries
1½ cups white seedless raisins
1 cup coconut, cut up
4½ cups blanched almonds, cut
Make Fluffy White Frosting mix, following package directions.

WE BURN MANY hard maple ricks at Jack Daniel's. That's because it takes a lot of charcoal the way we smooth out our whiskey.

The old-time way we gentle our whiskey calls for seeping every drop down through 10 feet of charcoal in a Charcoal Mellowing vat. Just to fill one vat takes the charcoal from almost three ricks of hard maple burned in the open air. So, you can see why our rickyard can get pretty full. And, you can be sure it'll never be empty. After a sip of Jack Daniel's, we think, you'll be glad of that.

Perfect Gift For Each Knitter On Your List

The perfect gift for every knitter on your list — beginner or expert — is the Needle-Master instant knitting needles kit. This beautiful white-and-gold patterned fitted vinyl case contains all the component parts necessary to make circular and flexible straight knitting needles in 42 different combinations of sizes and lengths — plus a variety of flexible stitch holders. All of the necessary parts — including nine pairs of aluminum needle points in sizes 6 through 15, five flexible vinyl cables, joiners and end buttons — fit neatly into special snap-in grooves in the compact case for storage or carrying. To make any desired size and length needle, points are simply screwed on to the appropri ate cable. The complete kit, available at yard shops and in art needlework departments of better stores, is about $15. A sister kit, Needle-Master, Jr., makes the smaller needles, sizes 2 through 5, and sells for about $10.

A-Line Dress Is The New Favorite Maternity Design

It's when you're going to have a baby that you observe how many other women are, too. Another discovery is how young and gay, and how like your regular clothes, today's maternity fashions happen to be. On purpose, that is. The neat and moderately A-line dress is the new favorite among maternity designs. And regardless of how it's detailed, it catches you looking up — as the designer intended. One of the freshest versions has fall's high and loose draw-through waistline and a cowled collar.

The newest A-line maternity coatdress has this season's smart little stand-up neckline. Other first choices in maternity departments include flaring jumpers with their own blouses. Interesting fabrics in soft two-toned colors — hound's tooth checks, plaids, basket-weave textures and stripes — are as much in evidence in maternity clothes as elsewhere. Like everyone having a baby, you expect a little pampering ... and want to deserve it by looking your best.

To Mend Holes

To repair a hole where a button has been torn off, cut a patch of heavy material a little larger than the hole. Then slip the patch between the garment and the facing and baste around the outside edge of the patch to hold it in place. Using the sewing machine, stitch in circles and crisscross on the right side over the patch until you have a good firm foundation. Sew the button on again.

Ceramic Tile Good Material For Kitchens

Ceramic tile is one of the best materials available to remodel the kitchen area. If you're thinking of remodeling, you might want to go all the way and cover the ceiling with tile.

Dutch Doors Kept Out Animals

Prior to 1490 when closed stoves began to heat homes, Europeans used open-hearth fireplaces to keep the home-fires burning. Dutch doors were essential so that the closed bottom kept out farm animals and the open top could let out the excessive heat and fire smoke.

To Remove Pencil Marks From Wool

To remove lead pencil marks from woolen material, try sponging them with half and half solution of denatured alcohol and water. This does not harm the fabric but removes the marks.

Coconut Angel Divinity Is A Good Traveler

When going off to visit friends or relatives take along a homemade treat. This Angel Divinity is the perfect answer. Especially festive because it's rolled in the new moist cookie coconut and topped with a bit of maraschino cherry. The coconut adds a delightful accent flavor and also keeps the candy from sticking during transit.

COCONUT ANGEL DIVINITY

½ cup light corn syrup
2½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
2 egg whites
1½ teaspoons vanilla
Few drops peppermint flavoring (optional)
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup cookie coconut
Red and green maraschino cherries, cut in pieces

Combine corn syrup, sugar, salt and water in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a hard ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 262 degrees). While syrup is cooking, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Then, when temperature is reached, pour syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly. Beat until mixture begins to appear dull and holds its shape. Add vanilla, peppermint favoring and nuts. Drop from tip of teaspoon into coconut on wax paper to shape candy into a ball and to coat with coconut. Decorate with cherries. Makes about several dozen.

Don't Rush Baby

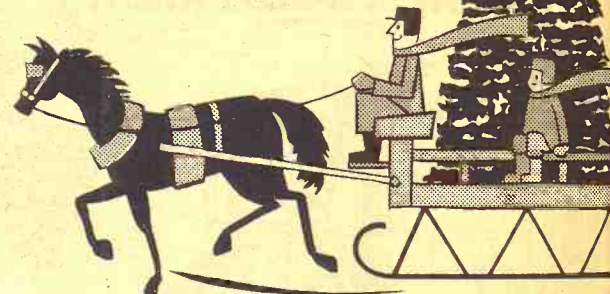

Never rush baby when he is just learning to feed himself. It takes time for the youngster to learn to maneuver the spoonful so that it goes in the direction that it belongs.

Give Table Festive Air

Your family dinner table will take on a holiday appearance if you make a felt, velvet or damask foot-wide runner to go down the center of your white tablecloth. Use material of green, red, gold or a color to match the family china and simply hem the edges or sew on decorative braid.

Hort Society Now Organized In 10 Groups

MANHATTAN — Three special interest groups within the Kansas Horticulture Society selected new officers at their meeting in Topeka last week, reports Dr. James Grieg, secretary-treasurer of the group.

Gerald Blood, Wichita, is the new president of the Kansas Fruit Growers. Jack Reese, Topeka, is vice president, and Dr. Frank D. Morrison, Kansas State University, Manhattan, is secretary-treasurer. George Nicholson, Wichita, remains as the director on the Horticulture Society board of directors.

The Vegetable Growers picked Herb Lee, Bonner Springs, as their president; Leonard Meier, Topeka, as vice president, and Dr. Grieg, KSU, Manhattan, as secretary-treasurer. The group also selected six KVGa board members on a sectional basis.

These include Clarence Bush, Topeka; Charles Von Hoeut, Kansas City; Richard Britt, Manhattan; Bill Stoughton, Hutchinson; Jim Fort, Hugoton; and Fred Smith, Kismet. Earl Shell, Topeka, is the Horticulture Society director.

Officers for the Sweet Potato Growers were re-elected for another year. These include U. S. Peterson, St. John, president; John Britt, Manhattan, vice president; and Dr. Joe Dickerson, KSU, Manhattan, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. John Britt is representative to Horticulture Society.

A reorganization of the Kansas State Horticulture Society last year brought 10 horticulture-oriented organizations into the same group so they could work together for the mutual benefit of horticulture in Kansas, Dr. Grieg indicates.

The member groups are the Association of Kansas Landscape Architects, Central Plains Turf Grass Foundation, Kansas

Arborists Association, Kansas Associated Garden Clubs, Kansas Association of Nurserymen, Kansas Fruit Growers Association, Kansas Nut Growers Association, Kansas State Florists Association, Kansas Sweet Potato Growers Association, and the Kansas Vegetable Growers Association.

Schneider Bulls Average $572

STOCKTON — The Schneider Hereford sale grossed $35,555, with 51 bulls averaging $572 and 26 females $226.

Top bulls were all sons of the senior herd sire, Battle Intense 457, who is a son of Battle Intense 354, out of a Silver Prince cow.

A March 1966 bull was the top seller, going for $1285 to Titus & Stout, Cottonwood Falls. Robert Quanz of Glade was a buyer of another bull at $1075. Volume bull buyers were Phil Arnold, Ashland; Mel Harper, Sitka; and J. T. Moyer, Kimbell, Nebr.

In the female sale, $300 was paid for two cows, one to Joe Lowenmeyr, Logan, and the other to J. T. Moyer. Moyer and Baughman ranches were the volume female purchasers.

George Morse was auctioneer.

Price Bulls
Average $393

EMPORIA — The Price Angus Ranch sale here grossed $21,010, with 29 bulls averaging $393 and 42 females $230.

The top selling bull brought $535, selling to Darrell Chance, Topeka. Rolph Chance of Topeka paid $525 for another bull.

Top-selling female was a cow and calf combination that totaled $455. Montgomery Brothers, Burlington, bought the cow, which was in calf, for $235 and her heifer calf went to Elmer Johnson, Caldwell, at $220.

Phil Ljungdahl managed the sale, and Ray Sims was auctioneer.

'Resnick Affair Helped Us', Says Farm Bureau

An officer of the American Farm Bureau federation has said the group's membership increased by nearly 50,000 families in 1967 and he said the gain was helped by what he termed the "Resnick affair."

Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer, spoke to about 5000 farmers from 49 states and Puerto Rico who are meeting for the A. F. B. F.'s annual convention.

Fleming said the organization's enrollment totaled 1,753,532 families — an increase of 49,624 families for the nation's largest farm organization.

Fleming said Rep. Joseph Resnick (D-N. Y.) helped increase the membership by his attack on the Farm Bureau during congressional hearings.

Resnick questioned the purposes and resources of the farm federation and also asked the Internal Revenue service to study the Farm Bureau's financial records.

Fleming sold convention delegates the IRC "has examined the financial records of the American Farm Bureau federation through 1965 and has given it a clean bill of health."

Neosho Dairy Merger OKs

ERIE — Members of the Neosho Valley cooperative Creamery Assn. have voted 506 to 40 in favor of a merger with the Producers Creamery Co. of Springfield, Mo., also a cooperative.

Neosho Valley has operated in 15 Southeast Kansas and Southwest Missouri counties.

Operations will continue unchanged, with Neosho Valley a division of Producers.

Hogs Destroyed in Nebraska Cholera Plan

LINCOLN, Nebr. — More than $20,000 worth of hogs have had to be destroyed since Nebraska entered Phase III of the National Hog Cholera Eradication Program Oct. 20, according to E. Crosby Howe, University of Nebraska veterinarian. Part of the reason for the outbreaks on two farms near Scottsbluff and one near Hemphill was poor management, he said.

There were 1,319 animals in the three herds. Of these, 897 could be salvaged through slaughter and 422 were destroyed.

The state will pay $10,026 of the $20,052 indemnity cost, Dr. S. H. Flora, State Veterinarian, said.

In each case the outbreak occurred following the addition of small numbers of newly purchased pigs to a herd on the farm, Howe said.

The fact that the disease occurred in newly purchased pigs points up the need to maintain newly purchased pigs or breeding swine in complete isolation from any other hogs on the premises, he pointed out.

Hunters Seek Understanding With Farmers

The board of Kansas Wildlife Federation has offered to work with any farmer organization interested in farmer-sportsman relations.

"We seek the co-operation of the Farmers Union, Kansas Grange, Farm Bureau and other interested groups to solve the problem of the minority of sportsmen who break the rules," Gil Myers of Dodge City, federation president, said.

Other spokesmen pointed out that the federation was responsible for the landowner liability law which protects a farmer from suits by hunters having accidents on his property.

The federation also advocates a hunter safety law and has passed out thousands of bumper stickers that read "Ask before you enter," and "Reconsider before you litter."

The board's next meeting will be January 27 in Junction City.

Armour Emporia Plant Sells For $1 1/4 Million

EMPORIA — The Armour

& Co. packing plant here, which was closed without advance notice September 29, has been sold to Iowa Beef Packers, Dennison, Mo., for $1,250,000.

The sale was the largest industrial property transfer recorded by the Lyon County register of deeds. Revenue stamps affixed to the deed indicated the sale price.

Iowa Beef Packers have not announced their future plans for the Emporia plant, which was built in 1963 at a cost of 2 million dollars.

Armour's closing of the facility affected 90 employees. The company said the action was taken because of "unsatisfactory beef profit performance."

The Armour plant at West Point, Nebr., also was closed September 29 and the company announced the closing of plants in Omaha, Lubbock, Tex., and Denver, for next February.

W. Ross Thatcher, premier of Saskatchewan, Canada, says. Thatcher said most Canadian officials were relieved when Communist China and the Soviet Union offered to buy several hundred million bushels of wheat.

"A decade ago," he said, "we used to sell wheat to countries such as India, Pakistan, Indonesia and others.

"But recently the United States has been supplying these countries through give-away programs and soft currency deals. In other words, the U.S. has taken over by these methods many of Canada's traditional markets."

Canada uses only one fourth of its wheat crop domestically.

The premier said Canada boycotts the sale of strategic materials to Communist countries but must sell its wheat and other grains as a matter of economic survival.

"We cannot see how, in helping to feed some of the starving people of Asia, we are in any way hurting the United States or anyone else," he said. "Certainly we are helping ourselves."

Manhattan Commission Co., Inc. Sale Every Thursday

Our sale last Thursday was irregular with light cattle and calves selling at steady to stronger while feeder cattle and fleshy cattle were lower. Of course the fat cattle were lower at all terminal markets for the past week and it certainly made a difference in the price of the feeder cattle. Note Kansas Numbers At NFO Convention

At the recent NFO convention at Louisville, there were signs that the youngest major farm organization may be expanding rapidly in Kansas.

Of the 12,000 delegates to the National Farmers Organization convention, about 500 were from Kansas. Sixty counties were represented, while there were only 55 counties represented at the state convention at Wichita just the month before.

NFO membership requirements are such that there must be at least 10 members for each delegate representative to the national convention.

As might be expected, the NFO talked about more holding actions, which would start within the next six weeks with grain, and progress thru dairy produce and meats until prices are shown to gain.

Observers thought the action at the Louisville convention was less emotional, more mature, than previously.

Perhaps with good reason.

Farm Hall Not Hiring

BONNER SPRINGS — The Agricultural Hall of Fame apparently will not consider hiring a new curator to replace Elmo Mahoney.

D. W. Hininger, executive vice president of the center, said the center, at present, has enough help. This summer more help might be hired, he said.

Mahoney resigned Nov. 14 in a huff over reported efforts to make him go on the road at what he felt was a cut in salary.

Here's Recommendations On Livestock Tax Values

A group of livestock men representing Kansas Farm Bureau and the Kansas Livestock Association met with members of the State Property Valuation Department last month to recommend a proposed 1968 schedule of assessment values for livestock.

Joint chairmen for the group were John Blythe, assistant legislative director, Kansas Farm Bureau, who is also chairman of the KLA state tax committee, and Bob Hudelson, assistant secretary of the Kansas Livestock Association.

Representing dairy interests were Fred Williams, Hutchinson and Jim Coleman, Arlington.

Cattle and swine producers were represented by Arnold Classen, Potwin; Elmer Schneider, Gridley; Dick Pringle, Yates Center; Andy Olson, Council Grove and Glen Birk, Gridley.

Members of the State Property Valuation Department participating in the meeting were Ronald Dwyer, head of the department; Louis Carter, department attorney, and Burris Surber, who is in charge of personal property assessments.

A spokesman for the KFB-KLA group reports that "in view of the market value of livestock and the depressed status of farm income, it was recommended that 1966 values be used for many classifications rather than retain or increase values used in 1967." No recommendations were made on valuation changes for horses, mules, sheep, goats and poultry.

Listed below are the recommended changes. The 1967 values are shown in parentheses followed by the group recommendation for valuation in 1968.

CATTLE, rough fed — one year old and under two years, 500 to 750 pounds, average, heifers ($30) $25. Steers, average ($40) $35. Steers, two years old and over, 700 to 950 pounds, average ($55) $45.

CATTLE, half or full fed — one year old and under two years, 600 to 1000 pounds, average, heifers ($45) $40. Steers, average ($55) $50. Steers, two years old and over, 800 to 1200 pounds, average ($65) $65.

CATTLE, registered — one year old and under two years, males (30% value, $70 minimum) same for 1968. Females, average ($60) $55. Two years old and over, males (30% value,

Farm Bureau Lines Up Against Federal Plan On Bargaining

CHICAGO — The Johnson administration plans to make collective bargaining, to give farmers the power to raise food prices, a major political issue in the rural areas in next year's presidential election campaign.

That prediction came from Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He said the administration supports the idea of collective bargaining for agriculture and asserted the farm bureau would oppose any plan that would make it compulsory or put it under government supervision.

Shuman, a cattle raiser and grain farmer of Sullivan, Ill., appeared at a news conference as his organization opened its 49th annual meeting here. More than 5,000 Farm Bureau leaders, representing 49 states and Puerto Rico, attended the meeting.

Recently in Louisville, Ky., Vice President Humphrey told the National Farmer's Organization, a rival group, that the administration supports its efforts to give farmers collective bargaining power. Several times in recent months, Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, has referred to bargaining for agriculture as "an idea whose time has come."

Shuman said the Farm Bureau also favors bargaining to gain better prices for farmers but on a strictly voluntary basis. By this he said he meant farmers should be free to join a bargaining association if they wish to, or free to market their products on their own, and he pointed out that his organization already had begun to set up such associations.

The Farm Bureau, he said, will oppose any attempt by the government to establish marketing boards with authority to dictate how much farmers should produce and what prices they should receive.

"All the government marketing boards I ever heard of always included representatives of labor and consumers," he said. "Farmers won't do as well with that kind of marketing as they would if they were free to negotiate under the protection of the anti-trust laws.

"We are not in favor of giving farmers the power to shut off supplies of food. We are opposed to compulsory bargaining in labor unions and are also opposed to it in agriculture."

Shuman, an outspoken foe of administration farm policies, said that for once he could agree with Freeman, who said recently that no one in the Department of Agriculture could have forecast that farmers would have produced the record crops they did this year. As a result of big supplies, prices have plummeted and there is widespread discontent among farmers.

Yet, Shuman pointed out, the Agriculture secretary has the authority to raise or lower planting allotments and set price supports and subsidies for major crops. He said he believes that this authority should be taken away from the secretary who would then no longer be in a position to make the mistake he did this year in urging larger grain plantings.

Baughman Goes $28,000 For Half Interest In Bull

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The American Polled Hereford Association's annual championship bull sale was held at the Ohio state fairgrounds.

Thirty bulls were sold for $128,625, an average price a bull of $4,287.

Highlight of the sale was a $28,000 one-half interest sale of a bull owned jointly by Penn State University and Sam Sells of Moultrie, Ga.

The bull, P.S. Triple Mixer 101, was sold to Baughman Ranches, Inc., of Paradise, Ks. The one-half interest means the bull will belong to Baughman Ranches, Inc., for half the year and to both Penn State and Sells for the remainder of the year.

The association also sold 35 cows for $47,630, an average of $1,361 per lot.

Cooled Cow Barns On Way?

Can air conditioning be on its way into the nation's dairy barns? Research shows that cool cows give a lot more milk in warm weather than those subjected to the heat.

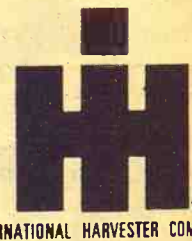

Results of this research were reported by the Agriculture Department's Research Service. Tests conducted in cooperation with the University of Missouri showed that cows gave 15 to 20 per cent more milk when their heads and necks were held in enclosures cooled to 60 degrees than when they were housed in an 85-degree barn.

Previous research had shown that a cool pleasant environment has a beneficial effect on milk production.

The new studies show it is necessary only to cool the cow's head and neck. So it is possible to air-condition only small enclosures within the barn to get the benefits of increased milk output.

No Mountain Lion For Liberal—They Have A Bear

Every farm area seems to have its mountain lion stories every year or so, but the folks around Liberal in far southwest Kansas are going that story one better.

They've got a bear scaring their cattle. Stampeding them, the story goes.

One cattleman, Frank Stefan,

Kansas Ripe For More Liquor?

Is Kansas ripe for liquor by the drink?

A Chicago public relations firm which specializes in public issue campaigns reported to a group of Kansas Hotel and Motel Association officials at Wichita last week that Kansas was a "grey area" regarding liquor by the drink but that a push to get the question on the ballot in 1968 and a $150,000 drive to win the referendum would likely get a favorable vote.

The Chicago firm, Bozell & Jacobs, got $12,000 for a survey regarding acceptance of liquor by the drink by the Kansas electorate.

said that he had 105 cattle stampede in broad daylight, trampling a 350-pound calf, exhausting one to death, and losing 19 others.

Seward County deputy sheriff Jim Wood said he saw tracks — bear tracks — indicating a 74-inch stride of the animal which frightened the cattle.

CHARGE EMBEZZLEMENT OF OVER $1 MILLION

Indictments were filed last week charging 33 counts of embezzlement against a Flint Hills banker. Charged with embezzling over $1 million is Ray Oltjen, president of a defunct bank at Cedarvale, and Thayne Oltjen, who was vice president of the bank. Ray Oltjen was reported to have invested heavily in a livestock operation in North Dakota.

Cotton Growers OK Program

Farmers have voted in a mail referendum to continue federal marketing quotas on cotton next year under a program designed to prevent overproduction.

Results of the referendum were announced by the Agriculture Department as 263,399 for, 12,931 against the controls. This was a favorable majority of 95.3 per cent, or in excess of the necessary two-thirds of those voting.

The government's 1968 cotton program will encourage a crop of around 13.5 million bales, compared with this year's production of 7,618,000 bales, the smallest since 1895, and 14,935,000 for the 1961-65 average. This year's crop also was grown and sold under marketing quotas.

In an effort to unload surpluses, the department offered substantial payment to growers for underplanting their 1966 and 1967 crop allotments. This reduction in plantings, coupled with adverse weather, contributed to the year's small crop.

DELAY AGAIN ON TOPEKA UHF CHANNEL

A new UHF television station, KSTB, which was to start telecasting this week, will not begin operations as scheduled. Construction delay at a microwave facility near Oskaloosa has postponed the opening, originally scheduled for early November. The station, to operate at channel 27 ultra high frequency, will be an NBC affiliate.

Trial Balloon From Renderers

Two Bucks To Remove Dead Animal?

Would farmers pay a couple of bucks to have a dead cow removed from the premises?

Renderers don't like much to talk about it, but they are wishing someone would float a trial balloon for them. Admittedly they are afraid the balloon will float like a lead one.

The problem, simply, is the same one farmers have. The renderer's market for his product has gone to pot. His expenses haven't gone down, but his income has. He thinks he might get some of his income back if he could put on a charge for picking up dead animals.

Less Cancer In The Country

Something about urban life makes death from lung cancer more common in the city than the country, but it's not smog, a team of California health scientists reports.

The conclusion was based on results of a nine-year study of almost 70,000 Californians.

"Although smog is known to have serious adverse health effects, it is not a causative factor in lung cancer," state Health Director Leslie Breslow told a news conference.

Breslow reported the results of a study launched in 1958 to find out if California's smog may be a factor in the higher rate of lung cancer deaths in cities than in rural regions.

Although Los Angeles has the state's worst smog, the lung cancer death rate reported in the study was lower there than in San Diego or San Francisco.

mals.

Renderers say there is some precedent for a charge at the farm, but they admit that the reception for it in other areas where it has been applied has been "mixed."

And none of the processors wants the onus of having started the charge.

"I sure don't want it to sound as if I'm ramrodding this," says T. C. Flanagan of Midwest Rendering at Belleville. "But there's no question that processors are getting a lot less for fat, protein and hides than they were a year ago, and that they have talked about an on-the-farm charge."

Flanagan is vice president for Kansas of the National Renderers Association. He points out what has happened to the market for his business' product.

"We're only getting about half what we received for fat a year ago. And it's the same for hides," says Flanagan. "The protein market is off about 40 percent."

Basically the processor has three items to sell from a dead animal. Part of the by-product is fat. Most processors sell fat to feed companies to mix in with feed. Flanagan remembers the price of a year ago at about 8c a pound. Perhaps it was a cent lower. The current price is more like 5c a pound.

Processors generally sell hides to brokers who in turn move them to tanneries. Top grade hides, more likely to be found at locker plants from butchered animals, brought 14c a pound a year ago, Flanagan remembers, but he says 7c is closer to the current price.

Protein — mixed meat and bone meal which is used to mix into feed supplements — brings around $130 a ton to renderers who have steady, large amounts available. The price gets under $100 for smaller, less regular tonnages.

This price is about 40% off from 1966 prices, says Flanagan. Soybean protein is competitive with meat scraps and bone meal, and the market fluctuates for protein, depending on the size of bean crops and other use demands for it.

Flanagan admits that he has heard that the number of farm pickups has been cut by 20% when charges have been instituted. Records of charges in other areas are vague. Flanagan says he has heard that Indiana and Illinois have had on-farm charges.

Other G&G area processors mentioned that there was a $2 charge common in Nebraska, altho a check indicates the charge is not uniformly charged all over the state.

By law, a dead animal must either be burned or removed within 48 hours, says Flanagan. "A farmer can't dispose of a critter for a couple of bucks' worth of his own time," he says.

What the processors are hesitant about is whether farmers will spend the two bucks to have it removed. That's why the trial balloon is flying. Most of the dead animal removal in the G&G area is taken care of by Midwest Rendering, Belleville; Beverly Packing, Salina; National Byproducts, Wichita; Hill Packing, Topeka; Standard Rendering, Kansas City, and Terminal Warehouses, St. Joseph.

From Fish To Pork Output

Newfoundland, best known for its fish, is becoming something of a piggery by direction of Premier Joseph Smallwood.

His government is making it easy for anyone willing to meet the province's need for 130,000 marketable hogs a year. People can borrow money to buy baby pigs. They repay when the swine are delivered to the government-run slaughterhouse.

They also can get 10-year loans for erection or improvement of farm buildings used for hog production.

About 1000 pigs are born every month at a swine-breeding station which started with 50 sows brought from Ontario.

Hayden taught or was an administrator at Talmage 1925-33, Lincoln 1933-35, Beverly 1935-40, and Lincoln again 1940-1960. Since 1960 he has been with the State Department of Education.

Dole has set a senior citizens conference at Salina December 9, with persons aged 60 or over in an 8-county area invited. The counties are Saline, Ottawa, Cloud, Republic, Jewell, Mitchell, Lincoln and Ellsworth.

Named to the advisory group were Mrs. O. E. Lawrence, Ash-erville; Sid Arbuthnot, Belle-ville; Roy Yost, Bennington; Leo Forsberg, Concordia; W. N. Sutor Herefords Gross $66,890

ZURICH — The Earl and Dar-rel Sutor Hereford sale grossed $66,890 with 210 lots figuring $319.

Whisman Brothers, Palco, took the top bull at $690. Wil-kinson Herefords, McDonald, went $590 for another. Garrett & Garrett, WaKeeney, were vol-ume buyers.

The top female offering brought $510, the cow going for $290 to Ken Johnson of Phillips-burg, and her March bull calf for $220 to Wood Truan, Gor-ham.

Some of the volume female buyers were Chrysler Cattle Co., Natoma; Jim Greif, Tip-ton; Bill and Bernard Legleiter, Hays; 4E Ranch, Inman; and John Hilger, Plainville.

Gene Watson and Fred Sher-l-ock were auctioneers.

41 Years A Soils Specialist

BURLINGTON — It was Gene Cleavinger day in South-east Kansas and nearly 200 of his friends gathered for a din-ner meeting at the Coffey County courthouse basement here in his honor after 41 years in extension work with Kansas State university.

E. A. (Gene) Cleavinger is retiring after more than four decades of doctoring sick soils and making them produce greater yields.

It would be impossible to guess the value in dollars and cents value of Cleavinger's work in improving the farm economy of Southeast Kansas, said Bryce Orr, county agent.

Cleavinger was graduated from Kansas State College, Manhattan, in 1925 and after training as assistant county agent at Olathe in Johnson County, he came to Burlington and served as county agent un-til 1931. Then he was appointed crops and soils specialist with the extension service at the uni-versity.

In his years as county agent in Burlington, John Glass moved to Coffey County from the university and instructed farm-ers in surveying and laying out farm terraces.

The first terrace in Kansas was built on the Chester Smith farm south of Waverly and was constructed with plows. Later road graders were used and now this is a job for big earth moving tractors.

His co-workers tell that when women's club work was added to extension responsibility, Clea-vinger arrived in time to revive a member who had stood too long having a dress form fitted. She fainted.

He stayed clear of this work except for running errands and appointed his office secretary as women's club supervisor.

"Gene is an effective teach-er," said Dr. Harold E. Jones, director of the Kansas extension service. "He likes people and has long been a popular specialist with farmers at county ex-tension schools and field days."

"Gene's work is well known throughout Kansas," comment-ed Frank Bierberly, extension agronomy section leader and co-worker more than 20 years. "His program in promoting use of lime, legume production, proper fertilizer use and good soil management, has been of ines-timable value. He has the ability to present difficult material on crops and soils in an easy to understand manner."

The National Limestone Insti-tute named Cleavinger the recipient of its distinguished ser-vice award to the nation's agri-culture in 1964. Also in that year the Fertilizer and Chemi-cal Institute gave him its first Distinguished Service award.

Cleavinger has written many extension crops and soil publica-tions. A native Kansan, he grew up in Leavenworth County.

For several years, Cleavinger had an annual fishing party at his cabin on the Kaw river near Manhattan for friends and fel-low workers.

About 150 persons attended the event. The Cleavingers were presented a camera and two round-the-world tickets as mementos of appreciation.

Reminder Of Limits On Young Farm Workers

Farm owners and operators are reminded that Jan. 1 is the effective date of a new regulation by the U.S. Department of Labor prohibiting employment of children under 16 years of age in hazardous agricultural occupations.

Walter S. Gick, field office supervisor for the USDA, said children under 16 years of age are exempt when working for parents or a person in place of the parent on a family-owned or operated farm. Exception also is made for the employment of vocational agriculture student-learners.

The regulation is in effect during an "interim determination" period until Jan. 1, 1970. The interim or trial period is for in-depth studying of agricultural occupations hazardous for minors under 16 years of age, Gick said.

Among the hazardous farm occupations listed are handling or applying of anhydrous ammonia, arsenic herbicides, phosphate pesticides, fungicides, handling of explosives, serving as a flagman for aircraft.

Kvasnicka Realty

Celebrates twenty years in the real estate business, the first sale having been made December 15, 1947.

This agency has handled an average of over one million dollars in real estate transactions for each of the past six years, representing 272 separate transactions.

Approximate 700 transactions have been made in the past twenty years with at least 250 of these on the Contract basis.

In twenty years no Contract buyer has ever defaulted on a single annual payment of principal or interest.

This agency takes special pride in the fact that it has been able to make repeated transactions for the same individual, 27 for one party, 17 for another, 14 for another and from 3 to 7 for several customers.

An active volume of sales generates additional listings which in turn gives prospective buyers a larger selection to choose from.

Thank you, thank you, our many friends, for contributing to the success of this agency.

Deer Hunter

One of the successful hunters at the start of the deer season was Bill Knox of St. George. He bagged this 9-pointer last week in a pasture between Wanego and St. George. "My wife and I both saw it and shot it," Bill said. "I got it right between the eyes." It field dressed to 165 pounds.

Kansas Total Tax Load Reaches $844 Per Capita

The legislative council's research department says federal, state and total taxes cost every Kansan $844.17 in fiscal 1967.

Taxes imposed by the three levels of government totaled $1,888,411,000 for the period. This total represents an increase over fiscal 1961 of $532,120,745.

The federal tax was 61.3 per cent of the total amount for fiscal 1967 with collections of $1.15 billion or $517.65 per capita. State tax collections were $358.4 million. This was 19 per cent of the total of $160.22 per capita. And local taxes were $372 million or 19.7 per cent of the total. Local collections amount to $166.30 per capita.

The percentage of federal taxation increases slightly from 60.6 per cent in 1961 to the 1967 level of 61.3 per cent.

During the same period, state taxes were up from 17.2 per cent to 19 percent and local taxation dropped from 22.2 per cent to 19.7 per cent.

The increase in the percentage of state tax receipts was due in large part to tax increases enacted in 1964 and 1965, the department said.

Of the state tax collections in fiscal 1967, $148.2 million or 41 per cent were distributed as state aid and shared taxes to local units of government.

Local units ultimately received $520.2 million or 71 per cent of the combined state and local taxes.

State aid in fiscal 1967 was about $70 million greater than in fiscal 1965, primarily because of the enactment of the school foundation finance plan. There also was a substantial increase in public welfare payments resulting from expansion of welfare programs.

Of total state aid from taxes in fiscal 1967, the department said, local schools received $98.5 million or 66 per cent, including their share of the $12.5 million property tax reduction allocation.

This table, prepared by the department, shows combined state and local tax collections by category for fiscal 1967:

TAXES	AMOUNT IN THOUSANDS	PERCENT OF TOTAL

MOHAIR SALES HELP U.S. GOAT RAISERS

Looking for a new source of farm income? Goat raisers in the U.S. are having a current boom, selling mohair, with exports up 29 percent in the past year. Prices, however, are down. The current price is 37c a pound compared to 43c last year. As recently as 1959 the price was over $1. The U.S. supply comes mostly from Texas.

Salmon Losing Fight With Dams

Sought by commercial fishermen and sportsmen, thinned by the perils of nature as it makes its compulsive journey upstream from the ocean back to the Pacific Northwest waters in which it was spawned, the salmon is finding it more and more difficult to live in the streams of that part of the U.S.

In the past 32 years, 24 dams have been built on the Columbia and Snake rivers, two of the prime sources of Pacific salmon, closing off half of the water in the Columbia system to the fish.

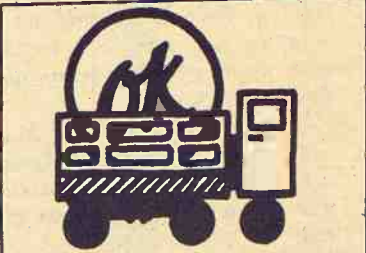

The odds against a newly hatched salmon making it to the ocean are great. At least eight per cent are killed at each dam going thru the electric generators. Some of them go thru nine dams.

While many of the dams have fish ladders, which allow the salmon to leap the height of the dams a few feet at a time, many of them still do not make it. More than a third of the salmon which climb McNary dam never make it to the next dam. The largest dam in the system, Grand Coulee, does not have fish ladders, closing off all the upper Columbia into Canada and western Montana.

More and more salmon are being produced artificially in hatcheries. Once thought to be common on the Atlantic coast also, salmon are being restocked experimentally in the Susquehanna river in Pennsylvania. A program to stock salmon in rivers flowing into Lake Michigan, a fresh water lake, is apparently succeeding.

K-State Starts Move Of Vet Medicine Complex

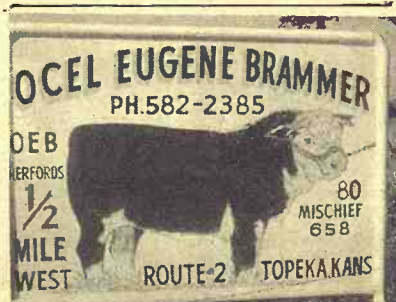

Kansas State University will move its veterinary medicine college to a new 80-acre site north of the present area, in a 10 to 12-year project which is to start in 1968. A $14 million rebuilding program will begin with appropriations from the 1968 legislature.

K-State has asked for $1.2 million to start the program off, and the budget department has trimmed this to $1.09 million.

If the legislature grants the appropriation, matching funds will be sought from the National Institutes of Health. President James McCain said if plans for the first building can be complete by March, he believes K-State will fulfill all NIH requirements.

It's been a while since a Kansas cattle breeder has won as many national honors in one year as the John M. Lewis & Sons ranch of Larned has this year. Grange Outlives Detractors

So the Grange is on its last legs, is it? Well, I wonder. The Grange has had its ups and downs, but it has always pulled through the slump and gone on. True, its Hell-Roaring of the '80's and '90's are almost forgotten. The Grange Party, which grew out of the Granger movement, is remembered by only a few old-timers. But the Grange is still in the fight.

undertakings, and the profits in the merchandising business were not nearly as large as they had supposed, and they had no governmental subsidy. But the Grange stores changed the entire pattern of merchandising in America. The mail order and chain store systems grew directly from the Grange Supply Houses.

The Grange has been closer to the present administration than some other organizations, because this administration has adopted the "two price system," a policy that the Grange had long advocated to give the farmers some sort of compensation for the advantages given to industry by the tariffs on foreign merchandise. This "tariff in reverse" has not been an unmixed success, but neither have any of the other attempted aids to Agriculture.

In Kansas today, the Grange is operating a Mutual Insurance business that has for 78 years been giving protection at such low rates that one of the big problems today is what to do about the "insurance members" who join the Order purely to get the advantages of the lower rates, and then take no other part in the activities of the organization.

Yes, the Grange is a Social Organization. We admit it. In fact, we brag about it. It is the only organization of its kind in America; possibly in the entire world. We even have a Junior Grange for the children, so that the whole family can have a part in the organizational activities. And it just may be that that is part of the reason why the Grange is still going strong after 100 years while more than 100 other "national farmer's organizations" have sprouted up, lived for a few years, died out and been forgotten, since the Grange was founded.

Yes, the Grange has moved to town, to a considerable extent. So have most of the farmers. Today, the owners of more than half of all the farm land in Kansas are living in town, but that does not necessarily mean that they have lost contact with commercial farming.

And one thing more. The Grange has never — and I mean NEVER — received any subsidy, either direct or indirect, from the government, either state, county or federal. Which is something that neither of the other two leading farmers organizations can honestly say. Win or lose, the Grange has stood on its own feet and fought its own battles.

Why Farmers' Dander Up

A shattered mailbox is an example of why some hunters are becoming increasingly unpopular to farmers. This rural mailbox east of Liberal was ruined by two close-range blasts from a shotgun. Mail in the box at the time was shredded. Such cases are turned over to postal inspectors for investigation.

Next Bull Test Sale February 16

FREDONIA — The next test-bull sale at the Fredonia feed test lot has been set for Feb. 16. Jack Linn, Wilson County extension agent says.

And the next four-month test period for bulls will begin in June with approximately 125 bulls expected, Wilson said.

Bulls at the last sale here averaged $493, with 33 bulls sold for a total of $16,180.

Highest selling bull belonged to Cecil Phillips, Valley Falls, Kans., going for $900. The bull registered a daily gain average of 3.21 pounds while on the 145-day test, and a weight-per-day-of-age of 2.53 pounds.

A bull belonging to Clarence Jenkins, Haviland, Kans., sold for $780. It had a daily gain of 3.86 pounds and a weight-per-day-of-age of 2.48 pounds.

A Charolais bull showing the highest gain on test of 4.11 pounds per day, and weight-per-day-of-age of 2.37 pounds, sold for $750. It was owned by K-I Ranch, Garden Plain.

Hog Vaccine Out In Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY — Use of hog cholera vaccines will be prohibited in Missouri after March 15, Dr. George Stiles, state veterinarian, has announced.

The only exceptions will be on swine moving into states that still require vaccination, he said.

Of 25 cases of hog cholera confirmed in Missouri during the three months ending September 30, 23 resulted from misuse of vaccines, the veterinarian said.
