BOARD OF REGENTS

SINCE July 1, 1925, management of institutions of higher education in Kansas has been in the hands of a State Board of Regents. Members of the board are appointed by the governor of the state for terms of four years each.

Appointments have been made to represent all congressional districts although this procedure is not necessarily statutory. One member has been selected from the state at large. W. Y. Morgan was chairman of the board from the time of its founding until 1930, when new appointments were made. The members do not receive a salary but their expenses are paid when on school business.

The board with new members appointed in 1930 is as follows: C. M. Harger, B. C. Culp, Fred M. Harris, W. E. Ireland, Drew McLaughlin, C. B. Merriam, C. W. Spencer, Oscar Stauffer, and C. C. Wilson. C. M. Harger, of Abilene, is now chairman. He was reappointed at the expiration of his term in 1930.

Kansas University at Lawrence; Kansas State College, Manhattan; Bell Memorial Hospital, Kansas City; Fort Hays Kansas State College, Hays; the state teachers' colleges at Emporia, and Pittsburg; and the experiment stations at Colby, Fort Hays, Garden City, and Tribune are all under the control of the board.

The State Board of Regents was established with the primary idea of taking the administration of the state schools out of politics and conducting them as a unit of higher education to give the fullest service possible and to avoid too great overlapping of curricula. To achieve this, the board has maintained a close contact with the work of the schools, and has sought to bring their activities into a harmonious and effective relation to complete educational accomplishment.

DR. F. D. FARRELL

THE PRESIDENT

KANSAS STATE college is one of the oldest and one of the most effective participants in a great national educational program. The program was launched on July 2, 1862, when Abraham Lincoln signed the Morrill Act providing for the establishment of land-grant colleges. The program is based on a social and educational philosophy that is distinctively American. That philosophy is absolutely opposed to educational and social teachings and practices that had prevailed for thousands of years.

It holds that all useful work is respectable and honorable; that useful workers both deserve and need education—technological education to promote industrial efficiency and liberal education to help them live happily.

The Morrill Act definitely requires the land-grant colleges to place major emphasis upon technological education. It also requires them to provide liberalizing supplementary training in the arts and the humanities. It specifically requires them "to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes."

VICE-PRESIDENT

DR. J. T. WILLARD

FIFTY-TWO years ago the college owned 255 acres of land; 1,420 are held now. There were nine small stone buildings in 1879. Twenty-two substantial stone buildings have been added, besides two wings of the stadium, a serum plant, three groups of glass houses, a dozen or more important wooden buildings and many minor ones.

The total value of the land, buildings and equipment of the college June 30, 1880, was $86,008.76; June 30, 1930, it was $5,391,629.50.

In 1879-'80, there were twelve members of the faculty; in 1929-'30, those giving all or part time to instruction and research at the college numbered 460. In 1879-'80 276 students were enrolled; in 1929-'30 the number was 3,987.

Fifty years ago only one curriculum was offered to men and, with some modifications, women studied the same. At that time the president personally wrote the assignment of each student; now 154 assigner-advisors are used, assisted by nine deans and assistant deans and many others.

REGISTRATIONS

1890-1891	593
1900-1901	1,321
1910-1911	2,407
1920-1921	3,395

IN looking up the beginnings of the office which is now known as the office of the registrar, it is found that until the year 1881-1882 the records were kept by the president of the college with the help of an assistant.

In 1881-1882 Mr. Ira D. Graham, an instructor in telegraphy and commercial subjects, was made secretary of the college, which position he held, in addition to his teaching, to August 31, 1898. Mr. William H. Phipps became secretary February 20, 1899, but served only the remainder of the college year, when the secretaryship was assumed by Miss Lorena E. Clemons, who remained in office until August 31, 1909. Miss Margaret Anna Butterfield then succeeded her as secretary of the college and served in that capacity until 1913.

Until 1911, the academic records and financial records of the college were kept under one supervision, but in 1911, with the appointment of Mr. J. C. Christenson as financial secretary, the work was divided, Miss Butterfield remaining secretary in charge of academic records until 1913. At that time the position of registrar was established and the appointment of the present incumbent as the first registrar became effective September 1, 1913.

DR. A. A. HOLTZ

DEAN OF MEN

IMMEDIATELY after discharge from the United States army in August, 1919, Dr. A. A. Holtz came to Manhattan as secretary of the college Y. M. C. A., with offices in the old "Y" building at 11th and Fremont. The following spring his offices were transferred to their present location in Anderson and he was given the title of "Advisor to Men and Secretary of the Y. M. C. A." For eleven years "Doc" has been serving in the above capacity with constantly increasing duties.

"Doc's" office conducts a Room Bureau, Employment Bureau, and is the headquarters for the "Y." "Doc" wants to be considered a friend to whom students can go with any of their problems. He values opportunities for personal interviews and conferences and is ready to serve in any capacity.

MARY P. VAN ZILE

DEAN OF WOMEN

AT Kansas State College previous to 1918, the work of the dean of women was voluntarily assumed by different members of the faculty or was left undone. In 1918, upon recommendation of the president of the college, the department of dean of women was established and a dean was appointed. Her task was to create in the student mind an attitude of understanding and interest. She was urged to make her department a useful and comprehensive factor in the student life of the college. Throughout intervening years the department has had an ever enlarging scope of interests and responsibilities.

The position of the dean of women is based on the ideal for students of the highest physical, intellectual, social, moral and spiritual development. Her objective is, through co-operation with various campus and community agencies, to contribute to the realization of this ideal. The problems of living conditions, of health, of student employment, of extra-curricular activities, or vocational guidance, of social and religious life, are but different aspects of this objective and are her special concern.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE earliest known concerted action of K. S. A. C. alumni occurred in 1874. At that time they presented a gift to Ex-President Joseph Denison, under whose administration they all had been graduated. To the class of '79 goes the credit for the first permanent organization.

This organization planned a reunion with an alumni address and banquet for commencement, 1881. These alumni reunions at commencement time were continued each year until 1884, when, because of an annual deficit on the banquet, it was voted to hold the reunions every three years. Triennial reunions and addresses prevailed until 1908, when the alumni association was of such strength that it was felt the annual reunions and banquets could be resumed.

By 1908, well organized local alumni clubs or associations were functioning in Washington, D. C., Kansas City, and Chicago.

The K. S. A. C. Alumni Association received its charter from the state of Kansas November 27, 1917. The association was reorganized as a non-profit, educational corporation for the following purposes: "To assist the Kansas State Agricultural College in carrying on and extending its educational work; to aid worthy students in obtaining an education at the college; and to promote acquaintance among the graduates of the college."

The association now has about 2,000 members, and a loan fund for K. S. A. C. students of more than $30,000. Hundreds of students come to K. S. A. C. because of confidence in our alumni.

STUDENT GOVERNING ASSOCIATION

STUDENT government has become firmly established in the ideals of college students all over the United States. Only a few years ago it was considered an experiment which might or might not last.

Upon payment of the five-dollar activity fee at the beginning of each semester, every student becomes a member of the association and is entitled to a vote in that body. Officers of the Student Council are elected at the first meeting of the Council following the annual election in April of each school year.

The fact that President Farrell and members of the Faculty Council on Student Affairs have voiced their approval of the business-like methods used by the Council and the fact that the Council has the confidence and good will of the student body as a whole, has made student government a permanent institution at Kansas State.

The 1930-'31 Student Council, executive committee of the Student Governing Association, is composed of James Bonfield, Frank Condell, Juanita Walker, W. G. Nicholson, James Yeager, Sam Alsop and A. R. Hraba.

SUMMER SCHOOL

DEAN EDWIN L. HOLTON

THE Summer School was organized in 1911. The chief administrative officer was the Director of the Summer School, a title which, in 1918, was changed to Dean of the Summer School. This change gave the Summer School the same rank as other divisions of the college, with a seat in the Council of Deans, and a separate budget. Beginning with the summer of 1927, formal commencement exercises have been held at the end of the summer session.

Opening the day after the second semester of the regular term ends, Summer School is in session nine weeks, or one-half a semester. A short four weeks' term is held during the nine weeks' session. This short period was organized for teachers of vocational agriculture. All courses in this session are of graduate rank.

Organized primarily for teachers in Kansas schools, the Summer School enrollment since the beginning has averaged about sixty per cent teachers and forty per cent regular college students. About twenty-five per cent of the enrollment is made up of graduate students. There were fifty M.S. degrees granted at the close of the Summer School in 1930.

In 1911, the enrollment in the Summer School was 94. This increased the next year to 282 and has been growing steadily since. Last summer, 995 persons registered for work in the session. The largest enrollment for any year since the organization was 1,120 in 1924.

DEAN H. UMBERGER

EXTENSION

SOME interesting facts were disclosed as to the effectiveness of leaders through a survey made in Kansas recently by the United States Department of Agriculture. This survey showed that of nearly two hundred outstanding community leaders, each devoted a total of more than nineteen days every year to community projects. Most of them gave this time wholly from an expressed desire to do something for others.

These leaders devoted more than half of this time to the preparation of subject matter which they gave to others through twenty-five different kinds of service in their communities. These services included activities such as outlining programs and projects; preparing and presenting subject matter; conducting demonstrations; arranging for, advertising, and holding meetings; making reports; and assisting in the completion of community organizations.

This clearly indicates why society is interested in superior training and how the benefits which are to be derived may be available not alone to the individual directly receiving the training, but how the community may profit as well.

RADIO

RADIO STATION KSAC was established December 1, 1924. Since that time this messenger of education has been constantly serving Kansas people.

The divisions of agriculture, home economics, engineering, general science, veterinary medicine, and extension have all contributed to the vast amount of scientific information presented in popular terms that the citizens of Kansas might benefit from the educational programs conducted by their college.

The programs as first broadcast were in the form of Radio Extension courses. These were recognized as the first concerted efforts on the part of any educational institution to disseminate a systematic course of instruction by radio. For two years these credit courses were made available.

In 1926, special music appreciation programs were inaugurated. 4-H club broadcasts became popular, as well as the more recently scheduled Home Study Service educational hour. Today, a turn of the dial to the college radio station will bring to the listener music appreciation, health classes, farm and home programs, athletic events, debates, one-act plays, and the "college of the air."

During April, 1931, the station was remodeled, a new antenna and new broadcasting apparatus were installed in the station and the studio was improved.

GENERAL SCIENCE

The first time the college catalogue makes any mention of divisions is in 1909-'10. At this time the office of the dean of the Division of General Science was in Denison Hall, erected in 1902. Since 1918, the office has been in Anderson, constructed from 1879 to 1885.

RODNEY W. BABCOCK

C. M. CORRELL

GENERAL SCIENCE

THE Division of General Science was founded in 1909 during the administration of President H. J. Waters. Dr. J. T. Willard was the first dean, and continued in that capacity until July 1, 1930, when he was succeeded by Rodney W. Babcock, present head of the division. Prof. C. M. Correll, of the department of history and government, is assistant dean, and Miss Alice M. Melton, assistant to the Dean. Mrs. W. J. Burtis is the lady whose smile first greets one on entering the office. She, too, assists with the dean's work.

The various curricula offered in this division are all distinctly vocational in their aim, except that of general science itself, which is the present day representative of the original single curriculum offered by the college from 1879 to 1897. The general science curriculum resembles to a greater extent the work offered by liberal arts colleges than do the other curricula of the college.

MISS MELTON

MRS. BURTIS

GENERAL SCIENCE

A course in printing was established here in 1873 and has been taught continuously since that year. This is the longest period during which printing has been offered in any American college. The curriculum in industrial journalism has been presented here since 1911.

Music has always been taught to a greater or lesser extent at the college. The first catalog issued in 1864 contains the following statement: "Instrumental music is taught; also vocal. The institution is furnished with a fine pianoforte and a melodeon." The department has, of course, greatly expanded since that time. A four-year curriculum leading to a bachelor of music degree was first offered in 1920.

Industrial chemistry made its appearance as a separate curriculum in 1920, starting with an enrollment of thirteen students. This year, there are forty-two students in this course. The curriculum in rural commerce, under the supervision of the head of the department of economics and sociology, was established in 1921-'22. Effective September 1, 1929, rural commerce was changed to a straight commerce course. Physical education for both men and women specializing in this field was made a separate curriculum in 1925-'26.

Figures in the last decennial report of the dean of this division show that of the increasing number of students enrolled in the college in the last ten years, a large part have been found in the division of general science.

Helen Sloan, journalist and poet, and Dr. King of the chemistry department. Below are the boys who weren't vaccinated soon enough—small pox got 'em. "C 26"—more chemistry. Dr. Nabours with his pet grasshoppers, and Dr. Kammeyer, protector of Commerce students, is on the right.

ENGINEERING

Mechanic Arts were first taught at K. S. A. C. in Mechanics Hall, built in 1875. The engineering school spread through several additions to this building and finally required a new home, provided in the east wing of Engineering Hall in 1909. The main wing was completed in 1920.

ASSISTANT DEAN M. A. DURLAND

ENGINEERING

ALTHOUGH the Division of Engineering under that name dates back only to 1917, engineering has been one of the fundamental branches of instruction of this college since it was established.

In 1866, only three years after the founding of K. S. A. C., the position of Professor of Mechanics and Civil Engineering was created and since that time it has been in continuous existence under various changes of name. At the same time a curriculum in Mechanic Arts and Civil Engineering was offered but owing to lack of demand and probably lack of teachers and equipment it appears not to have developed.

The first curriculum in engineering that ever really operated was introduced in 1897-'98, and attracted about eighty students. The following year this was divided into mechanical engineering and electrical engineering. Other curricula have been offered as need appeared; architecture in 1904, civil engineering in 1907, agricultural engineering in 1913, flour-mill engineering in 1916, chemical engineering and landscape architecture in 1924, and architectural engineering in 1925.

The enrollment of collegiate students has increased from the eighty in 1897-'98 to 1,081 in 1929-'30. At the same time the value of equipment available for engineering instruction has been increased from less than $20,000 to more than $200,000. The teaching staff which, in 1897-'98, consisted of two professors, two shop foremen, and three assistants, now includes thirty-seven professors, eighteen instructors, and seven assistants.

The total number of bachelor's degrees conferred in engineering is 1,445, of which more than one-half have been granted in the past eight years. Graduate work in the division is also rapidly increasing, nine master's degrees having been conferred the past year.

Engineers received practical experience when the "S" was laid alongside of the "K" in the spring of '30. Specialization was rampant. Crews mixed cement. Other groups taxied rocks to a new resting place in the "S." "Muddy" Rhoades (above) managed the "KS" construction.

Prominent engineers are Regier, Rinard, Fones, Mohney and Rohrdanz (above). Freshman engineers complain when the time comes for them to give the "KS" a bath, but smile while doing it. The first glider built on the "Hill" was a success; it flew! Camp life must have its consolation or, why the smiles? Surveyors in action.

ENGINEERS' OPEN HOUSE

ENGINEERS' OPEN HOUSE became an annual institution at Kansas State in 1920, when, at the request of the Farm and Home Week Committee, the Engineers made up displays for exhibition which depicted the work done by each of the departments in the Engineering Division. The program has been enlarged each year until today it is a major event in the school year. It now includes a general chapel, a special dance, and a night display.

DR. C. O. SWANSON

THE milling department at Kansas State is better equipped for teaching the use of the latest and best milling equipment than any other school in this part of the country.

In addition to small experimental mills, there is a complete and modern flour mill with a daily capacity of sixty barrels. A great deal of the equipment has been donated by some of the manufacturers of milling machinery. This makes possible a more complete outlay than could have been obtained otherwise.

Dr. C. O. Swanson, who is very well known in milling circles for his research work, is responsible to a large extent for the development of this important and practical course at Kansas State.

LIGHT

A 3x3 grid of nine black and white portrait photographs of young men. Each man is wearing a dark suit jacket, a white collared shirt, and a patterned tie. The portraits are arranged in three rows and three columns. The men have various hairstyles and expressions, ranging from serious to slightly smiling. The background of each portrait is a mottled, light-colored studio backdrop.

APPROXIMATELY one thousand students, or the entire enrollment in the Division of Engineering, are members of the Kansas State Engineering Association. An executive council, made up of representatives from all departments in the division, is the governing body of the association. It is the purpose of the organization to foster all activities in the Engineering Division and to create among engineers a better spirit. The publication of The Kansas State Engineer, the annual cleaning of the "KS" every fall by the freshmen, the presentation of the Engineers' open house are among the activities sponsored by this group.

SIGMA TAU

EPSILON chapter of Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, was organized in 1912 to promote the broad principles of scholarship, practicality, and sociability among students and alumni in engineering. Sigma Tau sponsored the construction of the "S" on Mount Prospect; it also sponsors the engineering library. Each year three medals are given by Sigma Tau to the sophomore engineers ranking highest in scholarship during their freshman year.

AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Hall, now Education Hall, was erected in 1900 for the Farm Department. Agriculture was first organized as a division in 1910. In 1912, the division was moved from Agricultural Hall to the newly erected east wing of Waters' Hall. The west wing of Waters' Hall was completed in 1923.

DEAN L. E. CALL

ASSISTANT DEAN HUGH DURHAM

AGRICULTURE

IN 1873, a "farmer's course," forerunner of what is now the division of agriculture, was established. About 1897, the "farmer's course" was changed to the agricultural course and as a result the graduates in agriculture are numbered from 1900.

The birth of the division of agriculture might well be considered as 1910, at which time it was first known as a division, with Prof. E. H. Webster as dean.

AGRICULTURE

At that time the division was housed in what is now Education Hall, where it remained until the year 1912, when it was moved to the east wing of Water's Hall.

In 1910, the division consisted of agronomy, animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, horticulture, and veterinary medicine. Since that time the department of poultry husbandry and the department of agricultural economics have been added and the department of veterinary medicine has become a separate division.

The west wing of Water's Hall was completed in 1923, and the departments of dairying, poultry, and agricultural economics were moved into it.

Under the direction of Dean L. E. Call and the able assistance of Assistant Dean Durham, the division is at present progressing rapidly.

"Ag" Features

"Ag" Fair, "Ag" Barnwarmer and the Little American Royal are vivid highlights that come from the Division of Agriculture each year. The snapshots above record these events. Pushball was a major event at the Fair, when the engineers met the challenge of the "Ags" to engage in a rough and tumble contest.

"Ag" Features

In the upper right corner is another "snap" taken at the "Ag" Barnwarmer. Below this are some action scenes from the pushball battle. Further down the page floats pass through Aggieville in the "Ag" Fair parade. The ferris wheel above ran throughout the fair, but the Ford on the right came to grief shortly after it made its debut.

AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION

ALL students in the Division of Agriculture are members of the Agricultural Association. To promote co-operation among the departments in the division, and to stimulate student interest in the division, is the purpose of the organization.

Ag Fair, Ag Barnwarmer, and The Kansas Agricultural Student are sponsored by the association. It also awards medals to members of the intercollegiate judging teams.

An outstanding social event of the fall semester for the Division of Agriculture is "Ag" Barnwarmer. For students enrolled in this division, this is their own exclusive party, and woe upon any outsider who attempts to "horn" in.

The fourth annual barnwarmer was held in Nichols Gymnasium, Friday, October 10. Miss Maxine Blankenship was crowned queen of this year's barnwarmer by Assistant Dean Hugh Durham.

The tenth annual "Ag" Fair was held from noon until midnight on the north campus Saturday, May 3, 1930. The fair was opened at eleven-thirty o'clock with a parade through Aggieville and downtown Manhattan. Eleven well-decorated departmental floats were features of this year's parade.

The main attraction during the afternoon was the pushball contest between the "Ags" and the engineers. A hard-fought and exciting battle ended in a tie, 1 to 1. In the girls' riding contest, Lucia Kirkwood took first place.

The educational exhibit at the 1930 fair was the largest ever presented. The agronomy department received the cup given to the department with the best display.

"Ag" Fair gives students in the Division of Agriculture an annual co-operative venture. It brings many of them together on a social basis and, at the same time, makes it necessary for them to accept a heavy responsibility.

MEN'S MEATS JUDGING TEAM

THE men's meats judging team, coached by Prof. D. L. Mackintosh, represented the college in two contests; one, the intercollegiate judging contest held at the American Royal Stock Show, at Kansas City; the other, the International Livestock Show at Chicago.

Kansas State placed second at Kansas City, and was high team in judging beef and lamb. Nicholson was high individual in judging pork, and Brookover was high man in judging beef.

WOMEN'S MEATS JUDGING TEAM

THE women's meats judging team won second place in this year's competition at the National Live Stock and Meat Show at the American Royal in Kansas City. Esther Toburen was high point individual scorer over all entries in the contest.

The purpose of such competition is: 1. To arouse the interest of the purchasers of meat in order to secure their co-operation in demanding and choosing the best; 2. To establish a criterion by which teams from this college can be compared with those from other schools.

HOME ECONOMICS

The first building in the United States constructed for the exclusive use of domestic science and art was erected at K. S. A. C. in 1897. This building, Kedzie Hall, was used by the department until 1908, when Calvin Hall, the present home of the Division of Home Economics, was finished.

DEAN MARGARET M. JUSTIN

IN 1873, when Home Economics was first introduced at the Kansas State Agricultural College as "The Woman's Course in Domestic Economy," the curriculum was planned along three major lines: "Practice," including Domestic Economy, Industrial Drawing, Shop and House Practice; "Knowledge Used," including Arithmetic, Botany, Physics, Chemistry, Hygiene, and practical English; "Aids," including Language and History. These were expected to give the student "all the knowledge, deftness and efficiency in that greatest and purest of womanly arts, the art of making a home."

HOME ECONOMICS

From Kansas homes to college, and back to Kansas homes, constituted life's tale for most of the students enrolled then.

In 1931, Home Economics at the Kansas State college closes its 58th year. The Home Economics subject matter in Art, Child Welfare and Euthenics, Clothing and Textiles, Food Economics and Nutrition, Home Economics Education, Household Economics and Institutional Economics forms an array that would seem confusing to the student of Domestic Economy of other years.

The various curricula are planned to prepare the students for professional activity as homemakers, Home Economics instructors, dietitians, tea room and cafeteria managers, social service workers, home demonstration agents, nurses, workers in commercial lines and in all fields related to the home. Colleges and universities from coast to coast have graduates from the division on staff and their contribution to teaching and research in the various lines of their main interest is noteworthy.

But still. . . . from Kansas homes to college and thence to homes in Kansas, in other states, or even beyond the confines of our country constitutes life's tale for most of the students enrolled.

Mrs. Jane Barnes, secretary to Dean Justin, and Lyla Roepke look up for a few minutes. Who gets the shovel, the "bundle" on the right or the one on the left (center, outside square). The Home Economics building from the west. "Down he comes on his 'tummy'!" (above.)

Dean Margaret Justin in commencement attire. The "Hill" as seen from the northeast, "high, high up in the air." Members of the younger generation have a great time below the windows of Kedzie, much to the annoyance of students in that building. Children are noisy, you know.

VETERINARY MEDICINE

The old Armory, first building erected on the present campus, was built in 1873. The Veterinary Medicine faculty had offices in this building from 1905 until 1908, when Veterinary Hall was finished. It was organized as a division in 1920.

VETERINARY MEDICINE

DEAN R. R. DYKSTRA

IN the college catalogue for 1905, an interesting statement is made which indicates the beginning of courses leading to a degree in Veterinary Medicine. The statement is as follows: "The increased value of live stock in Kansas has created a demand in the last few years for first class veterinarians far above the supply." The courses were so arranged as to insure graduation of veterinarians thoroughly qualified in every respect.

The courses extended over four years. At the completion of the four-year course, the person received a diploma, with the professional degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine which would entitle him to professional recognition in the United States. The college years were divided into three terms, fall, winter, and spring, and the courses so arranged as to give the student a very thorough knowledge of veterinary medicine along with subjects not directly pertaining to veterinary medicine.

VETERINARY MEDICINE

In 1919-'20, beginning July 1, 1919, what had for years been the Department of Veterinary Medicine in the Division of Agriculture, became the Division of Veterinary Medicine with its own officers and instructors.

The Ninth Annual Conference of Veterinarians, held at the Kansas State Agricultural College, October 16 and 17, 1929, was one of the greatest ever called. Outstanding contributors were Dr. C. H. Case, of Akron, Ohio, and Dr. E. A. Benbrook, of Iowa State College at Ames.

Besides practicing on animals brought in as patients by people living near Manhattan, and even some sent here from farther away, the "Vets" carry on a number of experiments and examinations in collaboration with the departments of animal husbandry and dairying in the Division of Agriculture at the college.

"Vet" Features

Almost any day, over at "Vet" hospital (top picture). The "Doc" in the old days went out on a call with one-horse power. Today, forty horse power is at his command. Helen Richt, one of three girls, enrolled in Veterinary Medicine. Advanced R. O. T. C. members disporting themselves at Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

"Vet" Features

Dr. Frick, Dr. Frank, and Dr. Mott while giving the coyotes the "air" consent to pose for a picture. Each person, in the group below the top picture, is mothering a small animal. Animals have been matched to individuals, so, scrutinize closely. The other three pictures were taken at the summer camp at Fort Snelling.

Quentin Brewer and Harold Hofmann furnished the pen used by Governor Woodring in signing the new measure. They are the possessors of the duplicate house bill reproduced on this page.

Facsimile of House Bill No. 496 that culminated the contest between the Kansas State Teachers' College at Hays to gain the title "Kansas State" and the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan to hold that title. The re-naming of the two colleges assures the use of "Kansas State" or Kansas State College as a designation for us here at Manhattan.

FEATURES

THE road to knowledge becomes crowded when Kansas State students return to the hill in September (upper square). They aren't bread lines (in the left and lower squares), merely earnest under-classmen waiting impatiently for entrance into the Nichols gymnasium, where papa's bank roll diminishes and classes are assigned. Standing on Ahearn field, Mike, Aggie mentor, and Frank Myers smile confidently over the prospects of a successful football season—but that's before the awakening (square at right). The military band, in civilian attire, gets in formation for the first practice (upper left circle). Upper classmen have a big time as they prepare to watch the R. O. T. C. pass in review (middle square). The symbolic "K S," pride and joy of the engineers, looms up in the sunlight against the dark background of Mount Prospect (lower circle). Leslie Shaw, one of the Royal Purple photographers, looks at the birdie (in the lower left hand square). Classes pass (large circle).

FRATERNITY and sorority members chat while they wait outside the auditorium for rushees who are taking intelligence examinations (upper square). Students are standing in line waiting for the doors of Nichols gymnasium, where registration is taking place, to open (upper circle and lower square). A few of the fellows out for football agree to have their pictures taken (middle upper square). Fraternities compete for points in intramural soccer games which are held on the baseball diamond (middle square). Freshmen hurriedly leave the warm auditorium after having their mentality tested (middle right square). Dear old Anderson hall, with its vine-covered stones, is a beautiful sight to homesick students coming back in September (big circle). Students walk in and out of the shaded north door of the administration building (small lower circle). A flag bearer attentively holds the R. O. T. C. banner as the student soldiers march on the parade grounds (lower right hand square). Note the plus sixties!

MORTAR Board entertains in recreation center with a box supper to which all co-eds were invited (upper square). The Kansas State band forms the letters of the university between the half of the Wildcat-Jayhawk game (small square to right). The cheer leaders turn acrobats for the amusement of the rooters at the Homecoming game (small left hand circle), and in the lower square, lead the thundering thousands in yells. Student cadets operate the cannon (middle circle) which salutes Vice-President Charles Curtis and Governor Clyde M. Reed, who attended the annual classic. The present Governor, Harry E. Woodring, and Frank "Chief" Haucke, candidates for the gubernatorial office at the time, were also members of Prexy's party. The auditorium is packed with students at the pep rally held the night before the great football classic. The Wampus Cats get together at the game (right square). Members of the women's riding class, with their steeds and instructor, meet in the city park (middle left square).

THE boys from down the Kaw come to town and the Wampus Cats proceed to greet them (square on left). Alex Nigro's team kicks off while the crowds in the stadium stand and cheer as the cheer leaders do their stuff. The Kansas elevens get down to business (in the right hand square). But it took more than the 14-0 defeat to dampen Kansas State spirits as noted in the lower square where Murt Makins insists it's the hour and not the company as he and others celebrate after the Wareham brawl . . . and what a brawl! Political parties make themselves seen and heard. The Dynamite party, organizers unknown, works out a platform and gets publicity but no votes. In the lower circle, state political contenders invade Manhattan with their portable loudspeaker. In the small square, forgetful freshmen, minus caps, get reminded.

LYLE DOWNEY is confronted with a problem for next year. Imagine the band trying to form the letters K S C A A S! Kansas State co-eds show Kentucky Derby talent as on their mounts they canter about the city park (upper left circle). Gordon Blair prefers his corduroys to the customary Wampus Cat ducks even at football games (middle square). The two captains shake hands—and then the battle begins (middle circle). Scabbard and Blade candidates perform antics for the amusement of students at noon (lower left square). Taken at a 'varsity (bottom right). The collegiate band members hie themselves to the station and get ready to strike up a tune as the train comes in bearing the United States Marine Band (below).

SIGMA PHI EPSILON wins the trophy for the best decorated fraternity house (top circle) at homecoming. Sigma Alpha Epsilon (above) and Phi Sigma Kappa (right) received honorable mention. "Doc" Mathews (middle circle), and the Ford that did A. T. O. Cosmopolitan Club puts on its annual Cosmo Ditties on February 21. The center square is a scene from one of the stunts. Some Hawaiian students from K. U., and two Indians from Haskell assisted the local entertainers of the Cosmopolitan Club. The money derived from the Cosmo Ditties goes to a needy individual or group. The student loan fund this year was given the gate receipts. "Muddy Rhoades," (right circle), business manager for the 1932 Royal Purple, looks "spic and span." Wait 'til you see him next year. These yearbooks sure tear 'em down.

AND here's another page of snap-shots taken during the walk-out on December 3, after the Kansas Aggies trimmed the Cornhuskers. Every student car on the streets was loaded to capacity. Students rode the running boards and bumpers. Traffic was blockaded. The Uptown Palace, Aggie Rexall, and Ted and Dad's were jammed with thirsty students craving excitement. Two boys (lower circle) sat on the corner stone at Anderson and Manhattan avenues playing a victrola. Even the puppet had a good time. The band made plenty of noise but little music. It was a great day, even though the deans and some of the faculty members did frown upon it. In the big circle, is Prexy Farrell with George (A. E.) Russell, Irish poet and philosopher, who spoke to the student body December 18. A. E. was in such a hurry to make his train, he almost sidled out of the picture.

KANSAS STATE scored a victory over Nebraska for the first time in history. To the walk-out students staged the following week, this page is enthusiastically dedicated. On the memorable morning, campus entrances were guarded and as students started on the hill they were told of the hastily made plans. A parade to town was the first event of the day. An improvised band, preceded by an old Ford filled with cheer leaders, with the student body trailing behind, marched to town where Ray Spence and Dick McCord, cheer leaders, took charge. "Hank" Cronkite and other athletes standing on a car at Fourth and Poyntz made modest speeches. The parade then broke up. Students attended the free show at the Varsity. In the afternoon a crowd turned out for the all-school matinee dance at the Wareham. The girl in the lower circle, ringing the school bell in vain, is little "Spud" Morgan.

THE stadium and parking lot as it looks to the birdies when a football game is in progress. The boys with their boomers boom out a boom. One way of giving a fellow the air (extreme left circle), Bachri about to take off. Students heed the call of the siren and watch the flames lap up a shed in Aggieville. (below). A friendly atmosphere prevails as spring is introduced on the campus (center circle). Van Zile hall co-eds look longingly out upon the great world which for them holds no disillusion if their smiles are indicative (lower left). Members of the late Alpha Sigma Psi, local fraternity, hold installation services when they go Tau Kappa Epsilon (extreme lower left). Alex Nigro and Elden Auker aren't gentlemen of leisure, and they aren't smoking in bed. This picture was taken while the boys were putting on a bout with the "flu."

VAN ZILE hall entertains at the dormitory with its annual fall party (upper circle). Capt. Taylor Branson, director of the United States Marine band smiles into the camera (upper right square), and is seen at the west entrance of the auditorium telling Prof. William Lindquist and Lyle Downey what he thinks of Kansas State (middle right square). Members of the band gather back of the auditorium following the afternoon concert on November 4 (lower circle). The United States Marine Band as it detrained at the Union Pacific station (middle square). A prospective member of Mortar and Ball plays the jester (middle circle). The K-Aggies and Missouri meet in their annual gridiron clash (left middle square). The Kansas State band under the leadership of Carl Ossman, drum major, forms the letters of the nearby state university for the approval of "dads" on whose day the game was played.

FAMILIAR spots to most students, but perhaps rather hard to recognize in daylight. Sunset Park, a new acquisition by the city of Manhattan for a residents' playground, is but an old stamping ground for students. Throughout the school year, but especially in the springtime, collegians hike out to Sunset to get away from the cares and worries of student life. On the Wildcat, or among the hills in Sunset Park, the moon has a greater luster, a deeper color, more significance. Hikes are quite the thing at Kansas State. Over hill (below) and down dale until you arrive at the picnic grounds, gives zest to weekends at Manhattan. The "K S" to the east of town (lower circle) looms up against its ideal background.

FOR a contrast in weather conditions, the school year 1930-'31 was full of surprises. Warm, balmy days over an extended period would finally give way to blustering, cold winds with a promise of snow, a promise realized only twice. Winter would be with us two or three days, but at the end of that time back would come our southern breezes, and into the thin air would vanish our cold. The pictures above, and to the side, have caught the likeness of "Old Two-faced Winter." The gentlemen (top right square) looking this way opened his mouth at the wrong time—just as the camera clicked. The snow-man (far right circle) bears a striking likeness (stretch your imagination) to George Washington, that is, the historically renowned George, and not the one you may be thinking of.

THE mob congregates between classes at the entrance to "Rec" center. Tax Fockele (extreme left upper circle,) is for once submerged in the background. "Chief" Hawkenberry, the Aggieville cop, rests a minute before going on down the street. Ernestine Day and Ted Shawn, dancers extraordinary, as they look in civilian attire (middle circle). Doc Holtz leads his followers a merry old chase on a hike over the hills near Wildcat (middle right square). Kansas State students sprint from class to class (upper left). But they stroll coming out of Anderson on their way to chapel or to Aggieville for the morning coke. A bunch of the fellows revert to type, and disregard climatic conditions for the sake of having a good picture to send home-folks. Everybody turns out for a Saturday night varsity (bottom rectangle).

THE party was formal, the music good, and you either selected or accepted the person you went with—so, if you didn't have a good time, whose fault was it? Vera Smith wins an Austin (one of those bantam threats) and the title of queen in a theater contest (extreme left circle). Where prairie grass once grew wild (below), scrapers and plows cause disruption. Excavation for the new Chi Omega house at Laramie and Denison. The trophy to be awarded the best represented division in class section in the 1931 Royal Purple (bottom left). Chi Omega wins first place with an art revue at Aggie Pop held December 5 and 6, in the auditorium (bottom circle). C. T. Brady is the young man peering out from the base of the picture. Professor J. O. Faulkner (middle square) in a characteristic pose, along with some Alpha Theta Chis. No one seems to know whether the girls posed on the fire escape are just getting in or just coming out.

BIT AND BRIDLE CLUB (top circle), organized last fall by girls interested in horsemanship. Assistant Dean Hugh Durham (top right square) crowns Maxine Blankenship, queen of "Ag" Barn-warmer, at that annual social event for students enrolled in agriculture. A new way to drink milk (square above) was demonstrated by initiates into Scabbard and Blade. Alpha Delta Pi (extreme right circle) believes in giving their pledges practical experience in that most neglected art, house-keeping. On November 21 and 22, the Manhattan Theater presented "Subway Express" (right). Professor H. W. Davis (the individual in the center of the picture supported by two members of the cast) impersonating the dearest of dead men, kept the audience on the edge of their seats throughout the performance. The cast for "Subway Express" was excellent.

LOOKING west along Moro street (left) after the excitement over the fire in a cleaning establishment had died down and the crowd was breaking up. A scene in Sunset Park (left circle). Beta Phi Alphas as they appeared in their presentation for Ag Orpheum (left middle square). To the right of them, Del Price and Stewart engage in a little game of "stealing casino." Whenever a fellow puts on white trousers, leaves his shirt unbuttoned at the neck and then starts out with a tennis racket, the women just can't resist him (middle circle). Lucky boy! Even the instructors on the "hill" go in for dancing. Pick them out in the picture taken at the Mu Phi Epsilon party (lower left square). Kappas riding the king's horses through Ag Orpheum (bottom circle). Sign of spring! Baseball warm-ups (bottom square).

BASEBALL has a big turn-out for every home game (upper circle). Corsaut seems to be thinking it over. Chief Del Teas, better known as "Teas," is a figure in Aggieville. He and his police dog, "Lady" (top square), can generally be seen at any hour prowling along Moro street. Frivol, given on April 1, had a big turnout. Three groups of entertainers appear across the middle of the page. Bridge pajamas (above) show the style trend for the coming season. To the right is a picture of the milling throng at Frivol. The "stags" are taking the party rather seriously. Couples are either different or indifferent.

SCARAB

Founded in 1914, Scarab, senior men's political society, established three aims.

1. To encourage a wider acquaintance among the members of the class.
2. To uphold and promote all things pertaining to the welfare of the class and Kansas State college.
3. To create unity and good fellowship among the leaders of the class.

Membership is open to fraternity men who are seniors in the college. Nominees are made by each fraternity from its own members and Scarab members of one year elect from these nominees the membership for the year to follow.

Usually, the men elected to Scarab have been members of Pax during the year preceding their election. Each member house in Scarab is allowed one new representative each year.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

COMPOSED of the director of athletics and six members of the college faculty, the Athletic Council at the college has direct control over all phases of athletics. All matters of major importance are considered by the athletic board, which includes questions of finance and development of the system, hiring of coaches, approving of schedules for all games and contests, approval of coach's recommendations for letter and sweater awards. The board also acts on questions of eligibility of players. Dr. H. H. King, who is chairman of the board, is also the school's representative to the Big Six conference faculty council and has an important position on this governing board which has one representative from each member school. Members of the council are Dr. H. H. King, chairman, head of the department of chemistry; M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics; F. D. Farrell, president; Dr. E. L. Holton, head of the department of education; Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy; Prof. G. A. Dean, head of the department of entomology, and Dean R. A. Seaton.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

FOR more than a quarter of a century, Athletic Director M. F. Ahearn has been actively connected with athletics at Kansas State college. In the fall of 1905, "Mike" took up coaching duties here. He was athletic director, football coach, basketball coach, and baseball coach. He held down these numerous jobs along with a half-time teaching position in the Department of Horticulture. In 1911, he was made a professor in pomology and landscape gardening in the Horticulture Department and for the time being ceased to be athletic director. However, for the next nine years he was on the athletic council, most of the time as chairman of the board and faculty representative. In 1920, he took up his present duties as director of athletics. Since 1922, he has represented the Missouri Valley section as a member of the national football rules committee. Director Ahearn is one of the best known athletic heads in the middlewest, and the school should feel it an honor to have such a man at the head of its athletics.

FOOTBALL

IN each of his three years of coaching at Kansas State, Alvin N. "Bo" McMillin has bettered his previous year's record and developed a stronger and more successful team. During the past year, the team was the second most successful in the conference, considering non-conference games, and finished third in conference play. "Bo" has won a host of friends since coming to coach the Wildcats, and his tricky style of football has won the team many friends. Loved alike by his "boys" and the student body, the Aggie mentor is one of the greatest friends to all. The former All-American from Centre College, of Kentucky, will undoubtedly make a bigger name for Kansas State in the future.

Below are pictured the three prominent members of the Aggie coaching staff in their working togs. On the left is Frank P. Root, assistant coach. He has been assistant coach of football and basketball since 1923, and is a former Aggie star previous to the world war. In the center is Head Coach McMillin looking over his prospects. On the right is O. W. "Oss" Maddox, a protege of "Bo" McMillin at Geneva College, who was brought here as line coach. Maddox, who was a powerful college lineman, did much to develop the little Aggie line during the past year.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS

A GREAT athlete and a great personality led the Kansas State gridiron team in its successful 1930 season. There was not a better captain in the Big Six conference than Alex Nigro. He was a capable, born, and energetic leader who possessed not only brains but ability. This back-field ace ran, passed, and received passes for several Aggie victories, and his fighting spirit was always a help. The Kansas City athlete was named on nearly every all-conference team and captained many. This three-sport man, and star in every one, will be greatly missed in the future.

The hero of the Kansas Aggies' first victory over Nebraska was named to lead the 1931 edition of the Wildcats. Henry O. "Hank" Cronkite, who towers six feet five inches into the air, and tips the scales at 200 pounds, should make a valuable leader. "Hank" was one of the outstanding linemen of the conference, playing either end or tackle, and using his height along with his speed to be a defensive light. The big lad from Belle Plaine won recognition on nearly every Big Six all-conference team and his ability was recognized throughout the Mid-west.

Kansas State 14—Washburn 0

DISCLOSING little to visiting Big Six scouts, who sat in the press box chewing their finger nails and pencils and taking down the four plays which were used throughout the game, Coach Bo McMillin's Wildcats opened the season with a none-too-impressive victory over the Washburn Ichabods, undefeated champions of the Central conference. Knowing that information getters from several schools were seeking plays, the Aggie mentor allowed his players to use few. After a sordid exhibition of football in the first half, in which the Ichabods out-distanced and out-first-downed the Aggies, a comeback in the second half put the game on ice. Soon after the third quarter opened, Price Swartz, that ever-plugging back of three seasons, stumbled through left tackle on a cut-back play and sprinted fifty-two yards for a touchdown. The Aggies gained the extra point on a Washburn off-side penalty. It was not long until McMillin, Sanders, and Swartz had worked the ball far up the field, and Swartz bucked through for six more points. Bob Lang was sent into the game and converted the kick into an extra point. The afternoon's scoring then ceased, for the Aggies started playing defensive football. Reserves spent the rest of the afternoon trying to stop the runs of Edwinson, Ichabod half-back. The victory was far from impressive.

THOSE who were a half minute late to the annual Wildcat-Jayhawk frolic of 1930 missed the whole show. They might as well have given their two-and-fifty to unemployment relief or to support the old maids' orphans' home. For it was in the first thirty seconds when, behind perfect interference which mowed down eleven Kansas Aggie football players like eleven stalks of wheat before a mowing machine, Jim Bausch, of football and insurance fame, galloped ninety-some-odd yards for a touchdown on the kick-off. He then kicked the goal for the seventh point. So with 59:30 to go, the Aggies had spotted the conference champions seven points and set out to beat them. The game was not all Bausch and K. U. however, for the Aggies did show some form, especially on the defence. Outweighed from ten to twenty pounds to the man, little Wildcat forwards held back many Jayhawk thrusts. The Aggie backfield, however, functioned as rhythmically as a peg-legged man on ice skates. Bausch scored another touchdown on a nice run and kicked for extra point. The Aggies threatened—but threats don't win ball games. The biggest and best team won. Coach Hargiss had a smooth-functioning, powerful team, worthy to be Big Six Champions. And some of the Kansas State boys learned lots of football that day—but it was from watching the Jayhawks.

KEEPING up its good work which it unexpectedly turned out in the Kansas game, the Kansas State line held up against the many threats of the Sooners, but with the backfield again failing to function as "per Hoyle" the second conference defeat of the season was marked up at Norman, where the Wildcats were downed seven to nothing. In a game in which the high wind proved to be a handicap to both elevens, there was little excitement other than Buster Mills' 50-yard run through the entire Wildcat aggregation for a touchdown in the first period. It was spectacular and thrilling to all, but not too pleasing to the Kansas State supporters. And it was the same Bus Mills who kicked the extra point. But you can't lay that onto him, for the six points would have been enough. Many times the Aggies would function well until the ball was in the shadow of the goal posts (the sun was low, making shadows extend some 30 yards at times) where fumbles or incomplete passes would prevent further gains. Once a pass was intercepted. Mills' long kicks helped the Oklahomans a great deal. Jim Yeager and Henry Cronkite played outstanding games in the line, while the backfield had no stars. The Aggies completed six of ten passes, but all were for but short gains.

IN one of these games which makes a man say "Oh, Hell," even though he had his best girl along, the Kansas Aggies crashed into the win column at the expense of Missouri by a score of 20 to 13. Everything from a man catching a pass while standing on one hand to a fellow stumbling over a blade of grass when he had a clear field ahead for a winning touchdown, took place. Showing superiority except in the aerial route, the Aggies were easily the best team, but breaks seemed to favor the Missourians almost enough for them to score a victory. Alex Nigro got away for a nice run and a touchdown, but was called back; but Ray McMillin made one for sure, and it counted. Auken's kick was good. Missouri came back with a touchdown when Captain McGirl "stole" the ball from Glen Harsh's arms and ran across the goal line. Another touchdown came in an aerial attack and short line plays, which put Missouri ahead at the half 13 to 7. With Captain Nigro as the spark plug of the attack, the Aggies opened up in the second half to score two touchdowns. Swartz made both of the touchdowns. A long pass from McMillin to Cronkite paved the way for one, while a 64-yard march on straight football scored the other. The game ended 20 to 13 and a relief to the the small crowd that sat, wondered, and worried throughout the entire struggle.

WE certainly had a nice trip," said one of the grid warriors as he stepped off the train following the 2,500-mile excursion and sight-seeing trip over the Blue Ridge mountains. The boys told of their good time in Chicago, of what a nice country it was back East, how nice the train ride was, and finally, after being reminded that they went back to play football, admitted they were edged out 23 to 7. This game's alibis: too long a ride, injuries, high altitude, the team was off, and last but not least, too much Bartug and Doyle and West Virginia. The Aggies started out with good intentions by getting the ball and putting it over the West Virginia goal line before they lost it. Swartz was the man who made the touchdown, going over from the four-yard line. Although Auker's kick was wild, West Virginia was off-side and the try counted. But then the Bartug and Doyle parade started. They scored only three touchdowns, but they did play havoc with the Aggie line, ends and secondary. After running the score up to 21, the West Virginians caught Auker behind the goal line trying to punt, and flopped him for two points. But the boys had a nice trip and deserved it, for after all, a "K" sweater is not a great deal for a football season, considering that professionals get about a hundred per game.

DISPLAYING perfect football for the first period, and then sitting back and taking things easy for the remaining three quarters, the McMillin men overpowered Iowa State on the Ames field 13 to 0 for their second conference victory. The attack was vicious, and the line and backfield functioned together for the first time all season. The boys intercepted passes, stopped end runs and line plays, and worked as a team on both defence and offence. The generalship of Captain Nigro in the first period and the stalwart ball lugging of Elden Auker, Nigro, Lud Fiser, and Price Swartz brought the two counters. The first came soon when Captain Nigro flipped a short pass to Auker, who raced 40 yards to score. It was not long until another counter came, when Fiser ran an end, Nigro went off tackle, and then Auker passed to Fiser over the goal line. Price Swartz averaged ten yards each time he had hold of the ball, and Auker's average wasn't far short of that. He returned punts for long distances and skirted ends at will. The line play of Yeager, Cronkite, Norton, and Daniels, coupled by defensive work supreme from George Wiggins and Price Swartz held the Cyclone attack at bay. Grefe's passes failed to work when the Aggie backs intercepted or knocked them down.

FINISHING a brilliant three years of football play before the home crowd, Captain Alex Nigro ran rough shod over Centre college, scoring three touchdowns and, with Glen Harsh adding another, the Wildcats netted a total of 27 points, as the boys from the Blue Grass Country of Kentucky were unable to score. From the little Kentucky school, which was brought to fame by none other than Bo McMillin and his mates many years ago, came a band of clean, fighting football players, with a different brand of daring play than had been seen here before. They threatened—indeed they did, but it was still that revived football team that came to itself against Iowa State that they were meeting. Always alert, the Aggies were playing a great defensive game. In Grabuck, the Praying Colonels had an able ground gainer. But with Cronkite, Yeager, Hraba, Zeckser, Swartz, and Wiggins always after him, his gains were checked far short of the goal line. But most of the show was the play of Glen Harsh and Captain Nigro. Although a second team started, the first string soon went into the fray, which brought about an immediate touchdown by the Aggie captain. More followed, and between two of them, Harsh scored. It was a great close this Nigro made for his last home game. Passing, running, and bucking, the Aggie leader was supreme. But the boys from the school which the Aggie mentor helped bring to fame showed skill, lacking only weight and reserve power.

Kansas State 10—Nebraska 9

THE Wildcats, volume 1930, must have been the best ever— or at least the best since 1911. For never before had a Kansas State team defeated Nebraska. There was once a tie—back in 1925, but through all the fourteen games in nineteen years, total points amassed by Wildcat teams were thirty. But that's history. It was an inspired and hopeful band of smaller, but more plucky, warriors turned the trick. The Aggies got the ball and ripped through to the 5-yard line, where a fumble was lost to Nebraska. Later in the first period, the Aggies got the ball again and drove toward the goal. On the fourth down, Auker, from a difficult angle, placed a field goal between the posts for a three point lead, which the Aggies held throughout the first half. But in the third period, Nebraska came back with a whirling attack, with Paul making a touchdown and Frahm adding the extra point. The Aggies started passing. Passes failed. Another failed—no, Cronkite leaped into the air and got it. He is gone, stretching those long legs like a stenographer does her small salary. It was good for 71 yards and a touchdown. Wiggins, despite an injured knee, added the extra point. Score, Wildcats, 10; Nebraska, 7. The Aggies later were backed to the goal line. Auker went into the game limping on a bad leg. He scored a safety for Nebraska, giving them two points, and then kicked out of danger. It was strategy, no doubt, and won the football game. The first ever to be won from the Huskers by an Aggie team.

FOOTBALL SQUAD '31

THE 1930 Kansas State football squad shown above was one of the strongest in several years. Coach McMillin was ably assisted by a good group of assistant and freshman coaches in training the hard-working group of Wildcats.

The four gentlemen below are those who coached the more than 100 yearlings in the fundamentals of football and through a victory over the highly-touted Kansas freshmen. Carl "Swede" Anderson was head freshman coach and got his training from Coach Bo McMillin at Geneva. It was his first year here. Dr. A. A. Holtz has aided in coaching of freshmen for a number of years and his efforts have always been greatly appreciated by the staff. Dr. H. H. Haymaker also found time from his teaching duties to aid in training the freshmen. Himself a former Aggie quarterback, he did much to develop backfield stars. Owen "Chili" Cochrane had charge of the "B" varsity, or that group ineligible for either varsity or freshman competition. This squad furnished opposition to the varsity in scrimmages.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

THE most outstanding freshman football team since 1926 was developed by Coach Carl "Swede" Anderson and his assistants last fall. The team scored a 10 to 0 victory over the Kansas freshmen who, the week before, trounced Missouri by a big margin. The Aggies scored two safeties in the first half and Ralph Graham went 45 yards for a touchdown in the second half. The Kansas State freshmen were the only ones in the conference to go undefeated in Big Six competition. The Aggies lost to a more experienced Creighton freshman team, composed to a large extent, of ineligible varsity men. The score was 37 to 6, although at the first half it stood 6 to 6. B. C. Forbes recovered a fumble for the Aggie counter. Numerals were awarded to: Ralph Graham, T. B. Bushby, B. C. Forbes, P. H. Nelson, W. M. Peck, C. S. Skinner, L. W. Soukup, J. H. Hensley, W. J. BASKETBALL COACH

C. W. CORSAUT

COACH CHARLEY CORSAUT'S Kansas State basketball team chalked up another good record in the 1930-'31 season with twelve victories and six defeats. In conference play the Aggies won five and lost five to finish in a tie for third place in one of the closest races the conference has ever seen. Many years of coaching at Kansas State has brought Corsaut's teams to be known as a fast breaking, always fighting crowd. The Aggie mentor has never resorted to the stalling game which has been used by many coaches, but believes the crowd wants the action of the fast breaking play. Although he has never produced a championship team, Corsaut has developed some good teams with little material since coming here several years ago. Kansas was the only team in the conference which the Aggies were unable to defeat and outside the conference the Wildcats defeated Oklahoma Aggies, co-champions of the Missouri Valley, Washington University, St. Louis University, Washburn and Colorado College.

BASKETBALL CAPTAINS

FINISHING a brilliant football career, Alex Nigro, that ever-starring athlete that brought Kansas State so many victories in so many sports, entered into basketball and throughout a successful season was the spark plug of the Aggie offensive and defensive. Nigro was playing his third year at forward. He was one of the few athletes to ever captain both football and basketball, and if anyone knows of any more like him—send them to Kansas State and we will let them captain as many sports as they care to.

In Elden Auker, Coach Corsaut had a guard that could always be depended upon for a "heads-up" game, both on defense and offense. Auker, another three-sport star, won recognition throughout the conference as a great guard and should make a capable leader for Coach Corsaut's 1932 basketball team. Auker is not only blessed with ability to play basketball, but is a leader, and his mates will recognize that his knowledge of the game and of play is usually the best. Auker has a great place to fill—that of Alex Nigro, but there is no other who can come so close to filling it.

THE Aggies were off to a good start, annexing five straight non-conference victories. Washington University, at St. Louis, was the first to fall and it was by a score of 35 to 22. Alex Nigro, captain, was unable to start the game because of an injured shoulder, but went into the game to score 12 points shooting with one hand. Henry Cronkite and Elden Auker were also outstanding. The following night the Aggies won another, upsetting St. Louis University by a one-point margin of 16 to 15 in a defensive game. Captain Nigro again led the scorers. The Wildcats came from behind to beat Washburn by a 34 to 28 score at Topeka. The game was wild and furious and all of the Aggies scored about evenly. Paul Fairbank, before a home town crowd, played an exceptional game. Going to Colorado during the Christmas vacation, the Wildcats annexed two more victories by scores of 39 to 35 and 37 to 32. Nigro led the Aggies in the first game and in the second Henry Cronkite was high point scorer. The Aggies opened the Big Six play with a one-point victory over Missouri. Finding it hard to get going and the offense working slow, Wildcat players had a hard time conquering the Tigers, but Andy Skradski hit effectively to bring the point total high enough for a victory. Cronkite made the winning basket with a tip-in just before the game ended.

THE first reversal for the Kansas State hoopmen came when Dr. F. C. Allen brought his Jayhawks here and went home with a 37 to 29 victory. Tom Bishop rang up seven field goals and, although the Aggies offered a great battle, they were unable to penetrate the Jayhawk defense for enough points. Nigro played a great game at forward, getting 12 points and Elden Auker turned in a real defensive game. It was a different looking team that faced the Sooners here and with Cronkite hitting from all angles along with Nigro, Auker, and Skradski, the Wildcats won in a romp, 35 to 15. Oklahoma looked easy for the Kansas State team which used a fast moving offense. With Jack Roadcap unable to miss the basket, Iowa State gave the Wildcats the second upset of the season by a count of 46 to 31. It was just too much Roadcap, for the little forward scored 18 points, hitting from all angles and with either hand. Nebraska defeated the Wildcats 37 to 31 in a hair-raising conflict with Fisher and Hokuf dealing more damage than Nigro, Skradski, and Auker could make up for in the way of points. The Aggies led several times, but weakened at the last. With three Aggie regulars, Captain Nigro, Auker, and Skradski, left behind because of illness, the "scrubs" beat Iowa State 38 to 24 with Brockway making a greater portion of the points. Cronkite also turned out a good game.

IN the second conflict with Kansas University, the Aggies were lost and the Jayhawks piled up a 40 to 26 point victory. The Jayhawks were reported to be playing the best game of the season and the defense was exceedingly tight. In a tight playing game in which the Aggies made but one field goal in the second half, St. Louis University got revenge in a 26 to 15 victory on the Aggie court. The Wildcats cracked in the last half after holding a narrow lead in the first period. In much of a farce game, the Wildcats defeated Missouri 21 to 14 in a game which was hot to the last. With three minutes to go, one point separated the teams and the Aggies played a stall game for the last couple of minutes and slipped in three baskets. Every Aggie player scored from the field and no player scored more than twice. Revenge for the Husker defeat early in the season came when the Wildcats were victorious by a 32 to 30 score at Lincoln, winning in the final minutes of play. Captain Nigro and Elden Auker were the shining lights but Ralph Vohs, substitute forward, flipped in the winning counter just before the game ended. Closing the season, the Aggies went to Oklahoma and dropped one to the Sooners when Nigro hurt an ankle and Vohs dislocated a knee before the game started. Oklahoma won 43 to 39 and Cronkite led the Aggie scoring. The Aggies closed the season defeating the Oklahoma Aggies, by a count of 42 to 25, with Dalton and Auker scoring high.

BASEBALL COACH

CHARLES CORSAUT

CHARLES CORSAUT, the Aggies' duo-coach, developed his second championship baseball team in three years in the season of 1930, when his squad tied with the Sooners, of Oklahoma, with nine victories and three defeats in conference play. In 1928, Corsaut's squad won the last Missouri Valley title and in 1929, finished second place in the first year of the Big Six. The mentor's 1930 nine won 13, lost 3, and tied one, for one of the best records in a number of years. Blessed with four outstanding pitchers, three of whom had two years of experience behind them, the Aggie mentor had reliable mound staff. One of the most apparent virtues of the team was the pep and spirit, which pulled many lost games into the won column by late rallies. Powerful hitting and smart baseball brought in many victories. Baseball has become a favorite sport at Kansas State, partly because Corsaut's teams always show class and usually win.

W. A. FORSBERG

BASEBALL CAPTAINS

LED by L. M. Nash, that ever-talking, sure-fielding, and hard-hitting third baseman, the 1930 co-championship Aggies proved superiority over most teams. Captain Nash was a sure fielder, having held down the hot corner with a minimum of errors for three seasons, and was also dangerous at the bat, especially in pinches.

Wallace Forsberg, an infielder, will lead the 1931 Wildcats, being elected to succeed W. H. Meissinger, catcher, who was declared ineligible last fall. Forsberg's ability to "look 'em over" placed him in the lead-off position in the batting order, and although not a hard hitter, is rather sure in tight places. He plays either first or second base.

Results of games played in 1930: Aggies 3, St. Mary's 1; Aggies 9, Baker 4; Aggies 6, Oklahoma 6 (11 innings); Aggies 1, Oklahoma 4; Aggies 1, St. Mary's 0; Aggies 10, Kansas 1; Aggies 6, Kirksville Teachers 1; Aggies 16, Missouri 1; Aggies 10, Missouri 9; Aggies 6, Iowa State 1; Aggies 16, Iowa State 1; Aggies 9, Oklahoma 7; Aggies 7, Oklahoma 9; Aggies 3, Nebraska 1; Aggies 5, Nebraska 9; Aggies 8, Kansas 2; and Aggies 8, Kansas 3.

THE Kansas State baseball team opened the 1930 season with a 3-to-1 victory over the strong St. Mary's Knights on the opponents diamond. With "Hank" Barre and "Lefty" Doyle pitching effectively and Captain Loyal Nash and "Mickey" Evans slapping the ball consistently, the Aggies conquered Burns, of the Knights, and won the first game of the season. With "Hoxie" Freeman pitching five innings of hitless baseball, the Aggies found Baker University easy in the first home game and won, 9 to 4. He was relieved by Auker in the sixth inning, and faulty fielding, aided with a few hits, allowed Baker to score. Meissinger and Nash headed the Aggie hitters. Eleven innings of baseball at Norman, with the Aggies and Sooners pitted against each other, ended in a 6-to-6 tie. The game was a pitcher's battle between Barre and Doyle, of the Aggies, and Tom Churchill, of the Sooners. First, the Aggies would get ahead and then it would be the Sooners and darkness caused the game to be called. Inability of the hitters to hit the curve ball pitching of Price, of Oklahoma, caused the Aggies their first defeat of the season in the second game of the Oklahoma series, which they dropped 4 to 1. Freeman and Doyle pitched well for Kansas State, but Aggie hitters had their off day or Price had his good day, and ball games are not won without hits.

IN the fastest game of the year, Elden Auker held St. Mary's to one hit as the Aggies touched Burns for five to win a 1-to-0 game here on the Aggie diamond. The game lasted but one hour and twenty minutes and was featured by air-tight fielding and effective pitching. With Meissinger and Evans hitting home runs off Thomson of Kansas, the Wildcats found the Jayhawks easy and won 10 to 1 in the opening game against the Kansas rivals. Thompson left the mound in the second inning and the Aggies continued to pound Ransom. Rain prevented the second game. The Kirksville, Mo., Teachers came to Manhattan with a strong and undefeated baseball team and left the city with a strong but defeated club. Lefty Doyle kept the Kirksville batters in the palm of his hand while Kansas State batters got to Langkop for many hits. The score was 6 to 1. In much of a farce baseball game, the hard-slugging Aggies hit their stride and pounded four Missouri pitchers for 20 hits to win 16 to 1. Hoxie Freeman pitched well for the Aggies, allowing but few hits. Prentup, Peterson, and Nigro led the Wildcat attack. In one of those ninth-inning rallies, the Wildcats upset Missouri in the second game of the series 10 to 9, with a two-run rally in the last inning. Barre pitched steady ball in early innings and hit a home run in the fourth. In the ninth inning, Nigro hit another home run which tied the score and more hits put the winning run across.

AT Ames, the Aggies showed ability to win away from home as well as on the local diamond, and with Auker pitching sterling ball and the Wildcats getting to Gustafson, ace of the Cyclone staff, for several blows. Several sparkling plays aided Auker in tight moments. The score was 6 to 1. The second game with the Cyclones was all for the Aggies as the boys ran up a 16 to 1 score. Doyle held the Cyclone hitters at bay as Captain Nash and Nigro led the Wildcat hitters. Nash got three hits including two home runs and Nigro got a home run and two hits and scored five times. Every Aggie player got a hit. The fielding of the Wildcat infield featured the play with Forsberg, Evans, Nash and Prentup working to perfection. Elden Auker saved the day for the Aggies against Oklahoma by relieving Freeman and holding the Sooners at bay while the Aggies came back to hit Churchill and Lowe enough to win. Bob McCollum, in attempting to field a ball, dislocated his shoulder in the second inning and was out for the remainder of the season. Hit and run plays won for the Aggies in their late rally. The Sooners reversed the count the next day by winning from the Aggies by the score of 9 to 7. Although Nigro hit two home runs, the Aggie pitching faltered and, along with ineffective fielding, allowed too many Oklahoma runs. Barre, Doyle, and Auker pitched for the Aggies. It was the second loss of the season for the Aggies, both to the Sooners.

NIGRO'S seventh inning home run, which brought in a man ahead of him, brought the Wildcats victory in the opener against Nebraska on the home field. Aramatis was pitching for the Huskers and was relieved by Picket. Elden Auker was on the mound throughout for the Aggies. The second game of the series was a wild affair with both teams assaulting opposing pitchers. Freeman gave way to Barre in the second inning following home runs by Witte and Sloan. Sloan was pounded from the mound in the fourth inning and was relieved by Picket who was very effective on the mound. Nigro got his usual home run. In the two closing games of the season, the Aggies were forced to extend themselves to win over the Jayhawks and tie for the conference championship. The first game went to the Wildcats by a count of 8 to 3 with Elden Auker doing mound duty. Rub Thomson again failed to hold up against the Aggie assault of Auker, Meissinger, Evans, Nash, and Fiser, so gave way in early innings. Auker and Meissinger hit home runs and Evans, Nash and Fiser hit for two bases. In the season finale, the Aggies, for the third time during the season, proved superiority over the Jayhawks on the diamond and pounded out an 8-to-3 win. Doyle was on the mound and held up well, while the Aggie hitters touched Ransom almost at will. Flashy fielding aided Doyle, and Nigro came through with three hits.

TRACK

WARD HAYLETT

ALTHOUGH track is still the weakest of major sports at Kansas State, it is gradually on the incline, partly due to the efforts of Coach Ward Haylett, who came here three years ago as head track and two-mile team coach. Haylett has developed some outstanding men and, for the first time in years, brought the Aggies out of last place in a conference meet. His two-mile team finished third in the conference, losing only to Iowa State, which placed first, and Oklahoma, which placed second. Scores of the meets were: Aggies, 31, Kansas 24; Aggies 39, Missouri 16; Aggies 19, Oklahoma 37; Aggies 20, Iowa State 35; Aggies 32, Nebraska 23. With Coach Haylett, below, is the two-mile team, left to right: Captain Lee Toadvine, W. E. Steps, K. L. Backus, Captain-Elect Elmer Black, Wallace Forsberg and M. W. Pearce.

MILTON EHRLICH

TRACK CAPTAINS

FOR a number of years the Kansas Aggie track team has always had a brilliant middle distance and distance runner. Captain H. S. Miller, who ran both the half mile and mile in good time, led the 1930 Wildcat trackmen and was one of the sure point winners in meets. He was one of the best in the Big Six and placed second in the mile in the conference meet at Lincoln. Miller was one of the hardest working trackmen on the squad and kept the name of Kansas State appearing in victories in distance events for the season.

Milton Ehrlich, high jump champion in the Big Six conference, is the first sophomore to be elected captain of an Aggie sport for several years. This lanky sophomore high jumper, who went consistently over 6 feet, was the best point scorer on the Aggie squad and twice during the season set a new college record in the high jump. His best mark of the year was 6 feet, $3\frac{5}{8}$ inches, which now stands as a college record. After finishing second in the Big Six indoor, Ehrlich sprang a surprise and won the outdoor title by defeating Parker Shelby, Oklahoma, the Big Six champion.

THE Kansas Aggie trackmen entered first outdoor competition in 1930 at the Texas Relays at Austin, where Milton Ehrlich broke the college high jump record, winning the event with a leap of 6 feet 3¼ inches. A four-mile relay team, composed of Dutton, Elvon Skeen, Lee Toadvine, and H. S. Miller, placed third. The following day, at the Southern Methodist Relays at Dallas, Milton Ehrlich tied for fourth in the high jump, but leaped 6 feet 2 inches. The relay team placed fourth. Ehrlich was the only winner at the Kansas or Drake Relays, placing third at the Kansas event and tying for second at Drake. The Aggies' first outdoor dual of the season was with Oklahoma, and the Sooners won, 88 to 43. Aggie placers were: Howard Elwell, second in 100 and first in 220; Harry Hinckley, third in 220, and second in low hurdles; C. M. Kopf, second in 440; Miller, second in half, Dutton, second in mile, Toadvine, second in two mile; Henry Cronkite, third in shot and second in discus; Gene Livingston, first, H. R. Williams, second, and Bud Smith, third in javelin; Ehrlich, second in high jump (Shelby jumped 6 feet 47⁄8 inches), O. H. Walker, third in high jump; Major Bliss, third in broad jump; and Willis Jordan and J. C. Carter, tie for third in pole vault.

THE Aggies lost a dual meet to Kansas, 85 to 46. Ehrlich and Bliss both broke college records, Ehrlich high jumping 6 feet 3 $\frac{5}{8}$ inches, and Bliss broad jumping 22 feet 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Aggies placers: Elwell, third in 100 and second in 220; Kopf, third in 440; Black, third in half mile; Miller, first in mile, second in two mile; Dutton, third in mile; Andrick, third high hurdles; Hinckley, first low hurdles; Richardson, second, Livingston, third in javelin; Ehrlich, first; Walker third in high jump; Bliss, first, Elwell, third in broad jump; Jordan, second, Livingston, third in pole vault. Aggie relay team, Coleman, Kopf, Morgan, and Andrick won first. On slow, muddy track at Hastings, the Aggies defeated Hastings Teachers in dual meet, 77 $\frac{2}{3}$ to 58 $\frac{1}{3}$. Aggie placers were: Elwell, first in 100, second in 220; Kopf, second in quarter. Miller, first in half, second in mile; Dutton, third in mile; Toadvine, second in two mile; Wiggins, third in high hurdles; Hinckley, first in low hurdles; Cronkite, first, Torkelson, third in shot; Williams, second, Torkelson, third in discus; Livingston, first, Williams, second, Cronkite, third in javelin; Williams, Walker, and Ehrlich tied for first in high jump; Bliss, first, Elwell, second in high jump; Jordan, first, and Livingston and Carter tied for third in pole vault.

Aggie placers were: Elwell, second in 100 and first in 220; Kopf, third in 440; Miller tied for first in half and won first mile; Dutton, third in mile; Steps, second in two mile; Fornelli, first, Wiggins, second, Andrick, third in high hurdles; Hinckley, first, Andrick, second in low hurdles; Cronkite, first in shot, second in discus; Livingston, first, Richardson, second, Williams, third in discus; Ehrlich, first, Walker, second, and Williams tied for third in high jump. Bliss, second in broad jump; Jordan, first in pole vault, Livingston, Carter, and Haskell man tied for second. "Buster" Charles, national decathlon champion, and Skippergosh were big Haskell point winners. The Wildcats finished last in conference outdoor meet at Lincoln, winning but one first place. Ehrlich's jump of 6 feet 2 inches placed first. Miller was second in mile run and Dutton fifth in same event. Livingston, with throw of 177 feet 4 inches, was fifth in javelin. Jordan tied with two others for third in pole vault at 12 feet $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Mile relay team composed of Morgan, Coleman, Kopf, and Elwell placed fifth.

OPENING the 1931 indoor season at the K. C. A. C. meet, the Aggies made a good showing. Ehrlich won first in high jump; Jordan tied for second in pole vault; Fiser placed fourth in quarter mile; Pearce placed fourth in two-mile and the two-mile relay team was third. In the first dual indoor meet of the year Kansas State won its first dual meet in conference competition for many years, defeating Missouri 65 to 28, taking firsts in all but two events and sweeping all places in high jump, quarter-mile, half-mile and two-mile events. No outstanding marks were made in the meet. Nebraska, indoor champions, smothered the Aggies 66 to 38 in dual indoor meet at Lincoln. The Aggies won only three firsts, Pearce in two-mile, Ehrlich in high jump, and Jordan, who tied for first in pole vault. Nebraska won the Big Six indoor meet and Aggies were crippled, with Captain Ehrlich in quarantine with smallpox along with other entries. Aggies, however, placed fifth ahead of Missouri. Placers were: Forsberg, third in mile run; Hinckley, fourth in low hurdles, and Jordan, who tied for third in pole vault.

GOLF

WINNING six matches and losing but one, the 1930 Kansas Aggie golfers, under the direction of Athletic Director M. F. Ahearn, had another great season. For many years Aggie golf teams went undefeated until two years ago when the first defeat came. Coached by an able golfer, the Aggie team has always conquered most of its foes. The Wildcat golfers opened the season with a 9 to 0 victory over St. Mary's College. Dale Lott and Gene Holmberg both won twosome competition and teamed together, they won foursome play. Lott was medalist with a 73 score for 18 holes, one below Holmberg. Another match with St. Mary's, in which four Aggie representatives played, was a 17 to 1 Aggie victory. Besides Lott and Holmberg, Major Bliss and Don Wiggins also competed. Lott and Holmberg brought in a 5 to 2 victory at Topeka with Lott shooting a 71 for medal score. The match was very close. Against Rockhurst College the Wildcats accounted for an 8 to 1 victory with Lott and Holmberg both shooting fairly low scores on a wet course. By a 12 to 1 score, Holmberg, Bliss, and Lott defeated Washburn in a return match. The only Washburn point came from a tie match. The Aggie's only reversal was by Wichita University, where Holmberg and Lott found tough competition in Matson and Purcius to lose 6 to 2. The Aggies reversed the count however, in a match on the Manhattan course, defeating Wichita, 2 to 1, playing only the foursome because of rain. Holmberg and Matson both shot 74's on a wet course for medal honors.

AGGIE tennis players put in another unsuccessful season during the year of 1930, failing to win a conference match, winning but two of ten matches and tying one. Lack of material has always been the big drawback to tennis at Kansas State. The 1930 team was coached by C. A. Moll. The team opened with a victory over St. Mary's with Captain Kermit Silverwood and Grigg winning both singles and doubles for a 3 to 0 victory. When these two men were left at home in order to try out new players, the Aggies lost to St. Mary's by a 3 to 0 score. Hollingsworth, Dean, Platt, and Worthy represented the Aggies. Oklahoma found the Aggies easy and won by a 6 to 0 score. Silverwood, Grigg, Bredehoft, and Telford all lost singles matches and also doubles. The Aggies and Missouri split even, 3 to 3, in a match at Manhattan, with Captain Silverwood and Bredehoft winning singles matches and Silverwood and Grigg winning a doubles contest. Washburn defeated the Aggies 4 to 2 with Silverwood winning the only singles contest and Dean and Platt triumphing in doubles play. Iowa State scored a 5 to 1 victory with Grigg gaining the only points in a singles win. Silverwood's and Grigg's singles victories were the only points scored against Nebraska in a 4 to 2 defeat. The Aggies triumphed over Washburn 4 to 2 to upset an early defeat. In the final match of the season, the Aggies lost to Kansas, 4 to 2. Silverwood and Grigg won singles matches.

SWIMMING

COMPETITION in 1931 was too much for Kansas State tanksters. In six different meets the team managed to make a total of 179 points to their opponents 322. Kansas State met teams from only three other schools, but matched twice with each of them.

The first meet went to Washburn here, January 31, 42—41. Buckmaster, 100-yard free style, and Rhoades, diving, were the only individual firsts for Kansas State. Rhoades, Buckmaster, Boley, and Livingston took the 440-yard relay. At K. U., February 7, the Oread plungers took a 57—27 win. Fockele made the only first for Kansas State when he led the tank in the 200-yard breast stroke.

The Cornhuskers turned fish-men here, February 13, to win every first. Lambertson finished second in the 150-yard back stroke, Buckmaster second in the 220 free style, and we thirded in every other event but the relays to total 18 points, while the men from the north took 66.

With K. U. here February 21, things were almost an echo of the plunge at Lawrence. Fockele again made the only first for Kansas State. The final count was 53—29.

February 29 saw the Ichabods at Washburn win 45—39. We turned in a first in the 440 relay and in diving.

A. P. Baxter swam his way to a first in the 440 free style at Lincoln, March 7, and the other men on the team finished out a total of 25 points against 59 taken by the Husker poolsters.

There were twelve men on the team. They were E. C. Livingston, W. B. Snodgrass, D. E. West, A. Lambertson, C. M. Rhoades, A. J. McCleery, A. P. Baxter, L. E. Boley, A. D. Buckmaster, M. F. Fockele, Frank Prentup, and Hal McCord.

WRESTLING

FOR the first time in the history of wrestling competition, the Kansas Aggies annexed a grappling title during the year of 1930, winning the Big Six with an undefeated record in the conference. Coached by Buel R. Patterson and led by the massive "Duke" Errington, the Aggie grapplers lost but one match throughout the entire season, dropping a non-conference dual with the Oklahoma Aggies, undefeated in dual matches for ten years and national champions for many.

Not only did the Aggies make a good showing in the Middle-West and in the Big Six conference but, barring the Oklahoma Aggies, had the best record in the national collegiate meet held at Brown University, Providence, R. I. Coach Patterson took four men who won one championship, one second place and two third places. Aided by his "Big Four"—Errington, Doyle, Richardson, and Fickel—the mentor had little trouble in winning the Big Six, for previous to the match he could usually count on four victories.

WRESTLING

KANSAS STATE grapplers opened their season with an impressive 17½ to 10½ victory over the Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers college in the local gymnasium. Paul Griffith won by a fall in shortly over a minute, but Kleiss and Tempero lost decisions. Doyle and Richardson both won decisions, and Warner wrestled to a draw. After Knorr had lost a decision, Captain Errington won with an early fall. Against the Oklahoma Aggies the following week, the only Wildcat to win his match was Joe Fickel, wrestling his first match of the year. He defeated Devine, of the champions, by a decision. Bill Doyle, however, wrestled to a draw with Arlie Tomlinson, national champion, in an overtime match. Errington lost by 26 seconds in an overtime match and nearly all the matches were close. Opening against the Oklahoma university team the Aggies scored their first conference victory, winning 16 to 12 by virtue of falls scored by Fickel and Richardson. Errington and Doyle won decisions, but the other four Aggies, Griffith, Barber, Warner, and Chapman lost by decisions. The Wildcats skunked the Huskers at Lincoln by a score of 34 to 0, getting one forfeit, five falls and two decisions. Griffith won a forfeit when his opponent was injured. Fickel, Doyle, Richardson, Warner, and Errington won by decision, and Tempero and Warner by falls.

WRESTLING

THE Aggies' hardest conference match was with Iowa State, where a 17½ to 12½ victory was scored. Griffith, Fickel, Richardson, and Errington won their matches and Doyle wrestled with Thomas to an overtime draw. Griffith and Richardson won decisions while Fickel and Errington scored falls. It was a merry time for the Aggies against the Jayhawks, as only one match went over seven minutes, and that was the only one which the Aggies did not win by fall. Warner won by a decision over Mills. Griffith, Tempero, Fickel, Doyle, Richardson, Chapman, and Errington won by falls. The match was nearly as bad against Missouri, and had it not been for Luck, Missouri 118-pound conference champion, who got a decision over Griffith, the Aggies would have scored another sweep. All were won by falls in a 35 to 3 victory with Fickel and Errington giving the crowd the most thrills. In the national meet, Captain-Elect Billy Doyle won the title in the 145-pound division and John Richardson lost in the finals of the 145-pound class to an Oklahoma Aggie man. He won second place in the meet. Errington and Fickel, eliminated in the semi-finals, won third places in the heavyweight and 125-pound classes respectively. Other Aggie wrestlers went to the national A. A. U. tournament at Kansas City the same week and Warner, Barber, Roberts, and Griffith won titles with Chapman getting a second place.

WOMEN'S "K" FRATERNITY

THE purpose of the Women's "K" Fraternity is to promote good sportsmanship in women's athletics. A "K" sweater is the award given by W. A. A. to the girl who has made 1,200 points. A chevron is given for each additional 200 points, and in place of the fourth chevron, a star is awarded. To earn a sweater, a girl must be proficient in nearly every sport.

GENERAL ORGANIZATIONS

AGGIE KNIGHTS

FORTY-FIVE non-fraternity men, under the leadership of Alton "Tex" Ryon, founded, at Kansas State September 25, 1929, an organization known as the Blackshirts. This group reorganized February 12, the following semester and became the Aggie Knights. Again in March, 1931, the club, membership in which had been open to men only, took another step to reach all non-organized students by throwing membership open to women also. One hundred twenty men and women were present at the first meeting. This came too late to get the women members in the picture or on the roll in this book.

Better co-operation between the independent students at Kansas State and to have better organization in intramural and literary activities on the campus is the purpose of the group. It sponsors activity in all intramural athletics. In the spring of 1930, teams of the Aggie Knights won intramural indoor track, outdoor baseball, and handball singles and doubles.

PHI KAPPA PHI, an honor society, founded at the University of Maine in 1897, dedicated to the unity of democracy of education, with membership open to honor students in all departments of American universities and colleges. The local chapter was established on November 5, 1915.

Since the installation of the local organization in 1915, 852 candidates have been elected and initiated into the Kansas State chapter. There are 141 members on the 1930-'31 roll.

Each year, the local chapter elects not more than ten per cent of the seniors and graduate students who rank highest in scholarship to membership in the organization. Faculty members who have evidenced superior achievement in their profession may also be admitted to membership.

A portrait of a young woman with dark, wavy hair, looking directly at the camera. She is wearing a dark, patterned jacket. The image has a heavy, grainy texture, suggesting it might be a reproduction of a painting or a heavily stylized photograph.

"THE SORCERER"

THE department of music under the direction of Prof. William Lindquist has been for the last few years one of the most active publicly of all departments in the college. Members of the faculty are continually performing for some special occasion. Special music for student assembly and many social functions is furnished by the music faculty and by students majoring in the department.

The salon orchestra plays for a number of functions during the year. The symphony orchestra plays a special concert at least once during the term. The band plays for athletic contests and gives two concerts, one in the fall and the other in the spring. The department gives a number of faculty and student recitals.

The glee clubs and college chorus present one or two oratorios during the year and usually an opera. The opera for this year was abandoned in order to prepare for the possible appearance of the Freiberg Passion players, which, if obtained, would require the assistance of the college chorus in the presentation.

INTER-SOCIETY COUNCIL

THE purpose of the Inter-Society Council is to sponsor and encourage literary activities and to afford a means of establishing closer relationship between the different societies. Some of the activities participated in by all of the literary societies were debate, oratory and play contests. The Franklin Society won the debate; Anna Marie Edwards, of the Franklin Literary Society, won the oratorical contest; and the Hamilton-Ionians won the play contest, the Alpha Betas placing second.

TO create an atmosphere of good Christian fellowship, to arouse an active interest among the men students in things morally high and worthwhile, and to be loyal to our school—that is the aim of the Y. M. C. A. at Kansas State. There has been a Y. M. C. A. group on the hill since the earliest days of the school. The first few years it was only an organization of the students with a student acting as secretary. Sam J. Adams was this student. Willis McLain was engaged as the first salaried secretary in 1902, and was here until 1912. The "Y" has always been strong and influential on the hill and in student life. The present membership is about 600.

The "Y" sponsors "Campus Chest," the only charity drive allowed on the hill during the school year, and Ag Orpheum, sends out Hi-Y Extension teams, Gospel teams, Go-To-College teams, sponsors Student Forum, World Forum, and holds a variety of social entertainments and activities for the students during the term.

ROYAL PURPLE BOARD

FOR the second year, publication of the Royal Purple has been supervised by a Board of Directors. This supervision for 1930-'31 has been in the hands of two faculty members appointed by the president of the college, and three students selected from the student body at large by the Student Council. The faculty members are appointed for an indefinite period of service while the student members are newly appointed every year in March.

The board which served for the year 1930-'31 was the same as for the year before. Professor H. W. Davis, head of the department of English, acted as chairman. Professor E. T. Keith, of the department of journalism and printing, was the other faculty member. Frank Condell, Helen Sloan, and James Yeager were the students on the board.

The new board selected for the 1931-'32 publication has the same faculty members. The new students appointed were: Robert Alexander, Lucile Correll, and Leland Sloan.

THE 1931 ROYAL PURPLE

THE end is here. Days of planning, preparation, and application are over. Gone are those sleepless nights with their attendant worries. We are through with writing persistent letters appealing to you to get that picture taken. We are through with calling for glossies from Brownie. No more is the engraver insistent for copy, and no more will the printer rave and rant over long distance for more pages. All this is passed. The 1931 Royal Purple is in your hands. Only one thing remains—your verdict!

Every yearbook, no matter how well or how poorly planned, is interesting. Pictures intrigue everyone, but those that portray the individual to himself or that depict friends or classmates, carry an added appeal. The difficulty for a staff then, lies not in this phase of publication, but rather in attempting an escape from the set pattern copied so often and followed all too easily in the annual field. We have attempted to make the 1931 Royal Purple different in makeup from any of its predecessors, and at the same time to have it truly represent the college as it is today.

A divisional arrangement of class section and of activities pertinent to a division has been adhered to as closely as possible. General

Science leads off in this divisional arrangement due to the fact that it is the largest division in enrollment, and because it is the only division in which all students throughout the college find themselves at some time or other taking a required or group of required subjects before they graduate. The remaining divisions, like General Science, have been arranged in the order of the number of students enrolled in them.

1931 will go down in economic history as a major depression year. In planning the 1931 Royal Purple the staff had two avenues open to it at the beginning of the school year. In order to cut expenses, pages could have been eliminated until the book would have approached an album in makeup, or, a whole-hearted attempt could be made to produce a 1931 Royal Purple of the same caliber as its predecessors. After much discussion, the latter course was decided upon. Financing such a project has been a most difficult problem, and a constant worry.

The end is here. All that we await is your verdict. We hope it will be favorable.

ETERNAL TRIANGLE

is in evidence as we see petite Helen Louise Swan sneaking up behind George Boone, local aristocrat, and Mildred Beard, beautiful and fragile blonde of the younger set. "But I do have pretty legs," Miss Swan is quoted as saying. Judge for yourself.

WOMAN, THE MYSTERY

or so thinks Sam Alsop, S. G. A. member in a moment of weakness. Being of an analytical mind, he determines to get to the reason of things, and here he is reading "Woman, Her Sex and Love Life." He said rather disappointedly when questioned, "Aw, I didn't learn much."

CAUGHT IN A CHARACTERISTIC POSE

Bob Parker, bold, bad man of 1221 Thurston, is about ready to put someone on the spot. He has applied in Hollywood but since the business depression has hit the "westies," he is out of luck. There's dirty work ahead for "Moustache Bob."

SPIRITUAL SEANCES

hold no terrors for Eli Daman. He has recently taken up spiritualism, finding it much more satisfying than the army. "I want to get in practice in talking with persons far removed from me, because long distance calls to Canada will be terribly expensive." Daman combines the spiritual with the practical in a marvelous way. Here he is in spirit, but his body is elsewhere.

ARCH RACKETEERS

are taking candy away from a child. Despite all attempts for justice, these tough guys have slipped through the hands of the S. G. A. and welfare boards unscathed. "We want to make K. S. C. safe for racketeers," they said. So have started a campaign with the children, so that they may grow up with the right ideas. Quentin is quoted as saying, "Start 'em out young."

HAL HEATH

Junior Heath, alias "Playboy Hal T.", notorious ingenue gin guzzler and alleged "brains" of many flaming youth rum orgies, was found early this morning stashed in the gutter at 928 Leavenworth, caught with the goods.

When questioned as to the meaning of his position, "Handsome Hal" only smiled and explained in guttural noises that he was merely saving parking space for a friend. When asked about the bottles in his hip pocket, the playboy vehemently insisted that he had met with foul play.

"Someone has framed me!" he screamed. "Someone just wanted to get me caught!"

Hal T. was arraigned in court this afternoon but it is doubtful that charges will be of a serious nature as Junior's witnesses believe that Hal T. was only out muckraking again.

Jack Going, famous Topeka, Kansas, gigolo, dubbed the "Devil with the Women" by the lonesome co-eds whom he serves, today signified his intention to resign from his position as gigolo at Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas.

Because of Going's southern accent and his stupendous power to sweep women off their feet with his "come-hither" look, the gigolo was very popular in his work as escort to those unfortunate young ladies who do not rate dates and the news of his resignation comes as a great shock to his huge clientele.

There has been a great deal of speculation as to the reasons for Going's retirement. It has been rumored that the "Devil" intends to marry a cough drop heiress and settle down in the old home town; but the real reason, perhaps, was stated by Going in a personal interview this morning.

"It's getting awful," he confessed. "I'm breaking too many hearts. When those women look at me and say, 'Those eyes, those lips' and then ask me to be theirs—I tell you I can't stand it," he screamed. "I can't lead them on! After all I'm just a gigolo."

When asked what profession he intended to enter next, Going said he was undecided. He hinted that because of his many and varied experiences in his last profession, he has had opportunities from numerous individuals to be employed as squealer.

TRIPPING THE LIGHT FANTASTIC

"We thought we were drinking tan-lac," Mary Clark and Irene Poague were quoted when questioned about their actions

one day. They were tripping merrily about the lawn riding a broom and a mop—pictures of unregulated play. "We thought we were little children again."

These two leaders of Manhattan society were heart-broken at their disgrace. It was not tan-lac, but lan-tac, a very powerful and intoxicating beverage that has been recently imported by Al Capone, that they had drunk.

Their sentence has not yet been determined, but probably they will be forced to repeat their impromptu dance at the May fete.

Don Wiggins, well-known social butterfly and prom-trotter, has been sued by all of his fair admirers for alienation of affections. It seems that he really went for a beautiful, husky-voiced crooner who was imported from Kansas City to vocalize for one of the parties. Since that night, he has been unable to recognize any of his "once-weres", and hence has left a string of bleeding hearts. Incidentally, he has filed a counter suit for bankruptcy—so someone will be left holding the sack.

Frank Byrne, stool-pigeon frequenter of the Palace, has been arraigned before the local police court charged with being out for no good.

Byrne, it is alleged, is a notorious intriguer of young college girls who spends all of his time in the drug store watching with hawk-like tenacity for beautiful young girls upon whom to force his presence.

Court charges are rather vague, it is reported, because, although local authorities have suspected Byrne for some time and are quite sure that he is the man who is annoying the girls, nothing definite can be "gotten on" the "pigeon" because of the secrecy with which he works.

CHARGES WIFE BEATING

Cruelty, in its extremest form, was the charge brought in court by Mildred Purcell against her now estranged husband, Alex Barneck. With tears raining from her expressive eyes, and her hands, clenched with anger, the fair coed related the awful details of one time that was indicative of the tragedy.

"I was unsuspectingly standing near the car when, with a horrible shriek and a sardonic leer, Alex seized a fence post and beat me. At first I was too scared to holler, but finally I managed to yell, 'Stop, you fool, you'll break that stick.' And he said, 'Shut up, for cat's sake, this post was guaranteed for ten year's hard service, and by Jove! It's only nine years old and, if it busts, I'll have my money back.'"

"So he beat me some more," she continued. "He still wore the sardonic leer."

At this, the crowd rose as one person and shouted, "Lynch him! Lynch him!" The police began to throw tear gas bombs and soon the whole room was a mass of weeping people. Tears rolled down everyone's face as they formed in a huddle formation and sang "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

The judge pounded the table and shouted "Order! Order!" And again the crowd as a whole yelled, "Cherry coke!"

The plaintiff at this time began to jump up and down to try to get the attention back to her fair self again. Whereupon, the crowd started playfully to toss pineapples. The defendant here arose and shouted, "God save the King!" The crowd then rushed out to find the king, leaving Mildred and Alex alone in the court room.

"Let's forget it," said Alex, and to prove he was right, knocked her out. As she came to, she murmured, "My cave man!" And Alex knew that the case would now be dismissed.

YOUTH CONQUERS NEW WORLDS

Robert "Dingbat" Spilman, Jr., love baron residing at 1611 Laramie, is the principal figure in a palpitating and poignant love drama, the result of a whirlwind Lenten courtship with a girl from the big town.

"I tell you that girl had been around. She taught me things," the amorous swain has confided.

New worlds have opened up for Spilman since that affair, and he now finds great pleasure in conversing with his friends as to the intrigues and subtleties of amorous adventures. It is rumored that "Dingbat" intends to preserve his wealth of information in a book entitled, "Why Women Go Mad Over Me," to be released sometime during the summer.

GIRL SLUGS MANY

Swinging a mighty bat and tossing a wicked ball, Eva Brownell has added another name to the list of those she has slugged. It was a gory game but "Browney" remained unconcerned and a smile played about her lips as another batter was knocked out.

"This is the jillionth," she said as she nonchalantly drew out her knife and added another notch to her favorite bat. The game goes on.

Swede Salisbury, alias "Little Boy Salisbury," was caught in the act yesterday. Slinging a buffalo down on the counter at the Aggie Rexall, he started a thorough search of the apple basket. Critically he weighed and sized each one and then cruelly put all but one aside. It was the last apple in the pile. "I always get my apple," he is quoted as saying. Which accounts for his peaches and cream complexion.

At the official recognition chapel, Don Fulton, alias "Hay-hay Fulton," was signally honored by being presented with a pair of white duck trousers, a blazer, purple and white cap, and a ukelele. The gifts were the donations of local sorority girls who have had dates with the youth.

Other boys receiving donations from the girls in appreciation of their exceptionally willing services were:

Jim Richards, Buster Brown collar and Lord Fauntleroy jacket.

Bus Boyd, swaddling clothes.

Cecil Miller, a snappy pair of didys.

Frank Prentup, greased nickle-plated boomerang.

"FRANKIE AND JOHNNIE" REENACTED

That age old ballad of "Frankie and Johnnie" has been repeated. Poor, beautiful Frances Jack thought she had found her man. She dared all, defied all for him. And Johnnie? He loved her, yes. But his love was a transient fleeting thing. Often he left her for some alluring blonde, or enticing brunette. Always he returned. However, yesterday "Frankie" grew tired of it all. Each time her man came back, she forgave, but could not quite forget. So, when all was quiet, late last night, she waited until her erring lover returned, and then with no words or tears, she drew forth a pearl handled revolver and shot him on his reappearance.

"I didn't aim to do it!" she cried when questioned. "I loved him so, and trusted him for a long time. But I couldn't stand it any longer." Here the lovely and mournful Frances brought forth a dainty, lacy handkerchief, and demurely blew her nose. Her long-lashed blue eyes were dim with tears. Unconsciously, she quoted that famous song when she said, "He was my man but he done me wrong!"

Joan Lytle, famous blackmail and swindle artist, has been "put on the spot," foiled at last by the man whose lover she has pretended to be for the past year.

"I've found her out at last," Towner screamed as he put an end to his dizzy red-head sweetheart. Towner "got" the girl just as she was escaping through the back door of her dwelling house, 505 Denison, to hold tryst with Les "Legs" Beard, veteran rival of Towner's, who showed up again in Manhattan just as he was believed scared out for good.

"You're going for a nice long ride," Towner had told the girl before he ended their romance. "The kind you've been trying to send me on. My pals were right. I should have gotten on to you sooner."

"The kid should have hung on to me," Towner has told his pals, "It was me who dragged her around. She's a dead 'un now. Won't no one see her mug in public again."

Gangland is astir over the killing because it was generally believed that the play-girl was too smart for her pal. Death rites for the girl victim will be held by the Cellar gang, which the girl deserted during her courtship with Towner, but who heroically re-claimed her for its own at the tragic death.

Since The Year 1921—

Since 1921 (seems a long way back, doesn't it?) we've been down here at 118 North Fourth street, making ice cream and keeping in touch with Kansas State doings. We've seen The Hill change a lot in those years; have seen the stadium and the beautiful library spring up, have seen the campus beautified, have seen crop after crop of students come and go. And, in all that time, we've striven mightily to accomplish one thing: to keep Chappell's Ice Cream apace, to keep it modern, to keep it the best in its field. We believe we've succeeded.

about the campus with his lordly air, no one would realize that several years ago he was but assistant to the assistant to the assistant (this goes on indefinitely) to the chef of that famous eating house, the Citz-Rarlton.

Starting at the foot as a boot black, he has risen now to head racketeer of the school. However, he reverts to his profession as chef three times a day, since he has acquired a wife.

Girl bandit and arch go-get'im Dorothea Doty has finally been apprehended after her sensational two-fold robbery. She is accused by those who know of stealing the heart of the debonair man about town who answers to the name of Jay Kimball. Being most daring and hearty (having two by this time, hers and Jay's), she then dauntlessly took his pin. Jay had always thought her on the up and up and, trusting soul, is determined not to prosecute although friends, and foes, too, have repeatedly warned him, that these girls from Cunningham are too cunning for even such a leader of the younger intelligentsia.

If familiarity with the routine of putting out annuals is a requisite for the editorship, Willard Hemker is able to exhibit the best qualifications. He at least has good ideas as to just how much work the secretary should do. He took it upon himself to see that Ethel Eberhart had an intermission every five minutes, by calling her up that often if not more frequently, to see if she was working, or looking for an excuse to quit. As it was, he learned so much about the job, that he has consented to write a book on the subject of secretaries. It will be entitled, "Advice About Secretaries, (by one who knows.)" or "She was just an editor's steno, but oh, what a type she was!"

HARD LABOR AT SUNSET
AVENUE REFORMATORY

After their sensational hold up of the No Sucha Bank and Trust company, these daring girl bandits were sent to the girls' reformatory on Sunset Avenue, where they were sentenced for several years at hard labor. Unrelenting, defiant, here they are seen working on the rock pile. With pick and shovel they are whiling away the long hours of the day.

"We were innocent," they said. "It was not our fault. The hold up was just the result of a friendly dare—and being good sports, we took it. We did not realize the enormity of it."

However, the examples of today's fearless and flaming youth are reaping the bitter wages of their folly. They have appealed their sentence, but are not very hopeful.

WRESTLER TAKES FIRST FALL IN 20 YEARS

Duke Errington, champion heavy-weight wrestler and wealthy heir, has been put to the mat for the first time in his career. Nellie Ball, erstwhile amateur wrestler and clerk of the business office at Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, has succeeded in flinging the professional in a hard-fought series of matches.

Errington has met Ball on several different occasions, expecting an easy win each time, but finding, instead, that the matches ended in a draw. Witnesses at last week's bout report that Ball finally "got" her man with a head-lock and a strangle hold.

Sport fans are surprised at the amateur's victory over the professional. They concede, however, that the match was exceptionally well-fought, close, and exciting. In fact, so complete was the success of Ball that Errington has announced his plans to retire for awhile from his professional life. He has rented a modest bungalow where he intends to go through a period of intensive training to be given him by the amateur who threw him.

As a result of an investigation conducted by members of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, the chapter is planning a series of Sunday night dances to be held at their chapter house.

The investigation included a survey of Sunset Park and various picnic grounds on Sunday night, and a secret questionnaire passed out among fraternity men concerning their Sunday night past times.

BREAKS OLD SIG EP TRADITION

Although he was merely following an old Sigma Phi Epsilon tradition, namely—hanging by his heels from the chandelier and pulling wings off of flies, Maurice Du Mars has been severely jounced by "Nick" Nicholson, official Sig Ep bouncer.

"Nick" took it upon himself to end the famous old custom by booting Du Mars out of the window. Du Mars, when asked for a statement concerning the matter, only said these few words, "Lord, forgive him—I can't."

Here's the story of one who courted and lost—at least he lost. It was this way. Brockway had a girl once, some time ago at the Alpha Delt house. And he let her go, not having the gift of prophecy and hence did not guess that she was going to get a nice, yellow Buick coupe. So she got her another "daddy," a big-hearted Acacia, who had a car of his own.

And said Acacia had been plenty decent to her—they had gone cakin', and steppin' to parties both here and elsewhere. But one night, she broke a date with before-mentioned Acacia, for no reason at all. Her sister was not coming to town, neither had her Aunt Sarah died. She simply had a date with "Brock."

The end to this story is not yet. And now I leave you fair readers to guess whether the damsel with the lemon buggy will choose the gallant Acacia, or the wandering Brockway. And the moral to this story is: He who wanders farthest has the longest way to walk back!

Carl Ossman, haughty major domo of the band, has been thwarted in his suicide leap from the water tower. When questioned as to the motive he broke down and tearfully mumbled—"I asked a girl for a date—and she didn't know who I was. I am crushed—killed—my spirit is jaded. Cruel world—to think that there is someone at Kansas State who doesn't know me!"

It is believed that Ossman will recover.

A KNOWLEDGE which will protect the dumb creation from unnecessary suffering; a knowledge which will check the progress, or promote the eradication of transmissible infectious diseases; a knowledge which will save the State from loss is something to be commended and cherished. A policy involving the use of such knowledge is fundamentally and economically sound. TO KNOWLEDGE

• • • • *F*OUR HUNDRED and eighty-one years ago John Gutenberg invented printing from movable metal types.
To Gutenberg you owe your college education. Without his invention » books, the backbone of university training would be impossible. The profession or business for which you have fitted yourself is a result of the spread of knowledge made possible through printing. The modern structure of society rests squarely on the shoulders of knowledge, the descendant of printing. » » » » » » »
