

Four Farm Groups On Same Platform

LAWRENCE — Representatives of four farm organizations will appear at the same meeting here Wednesday to discuss the role of their groups.

The Lawrence Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the 3:30 p.m. meeting at the Douglas County 4H grounds.

Speakers will be:

- For the Kansas Grange,

Floyd Reynolds of Fulton;
• For the Kansas organization of the National Farmers Union, Dwight Wilson of Topeka;
• For the Kansas Farm Bureau, president Ray Frisbie of McDonald;
• For the NFO, state director Don Evertson of Melvern.

John Vogel, a member of the Kansas House agriculture committee, will be chairman.

year which ended June 30th, 1966, 65 percent of our wheat, 36 percent of our milo, 41 percent of our soybeans, 58 percent of our cattle hides and 37 percent of our tallow was exported. For the fiscal year ending last June 30th, the percentage figures were wheat 56, milo 39, soybeans 37, cattle hides 59 and tallow 40.

Kansas is in the forefront of the states which now benefit from agricultural exports and its people, both farmers and non-farmers, will suffer severely from an economic standpoint if government policies are adopted which would have the effect of curtailing foreign trade.

To be specific, during the 1966 fiscal year, the value of Kansas produced agricultural products which went into export amounted to 392 million dollars, making it the fifth highest state in that regard. Among the more important items in this total were wheat 253 million dollars, flour 20 million, feed 50 million and soybeans 16 million. The remainder consisted of lard, tallow, hides and skins, meats, dairy products and other miscellaneous items. The total amount equals a third of the cash receipts from farm marketing in the state in 1965 and more than a fourth of the considerably larger cash receipts in 1966.

Next week I will point out how the maneuvering and log-rolling now going on in Washington by various special interest groups will, if successful, deal a serious blow to Kansas agriculture and to other important economic interests in the state as well.

DECLINE LEVELING? — The estimated value of byproducts from a 1,000-pound choice steer may be leveling off after a long decline. At $17.46, or $1.75 per cwt., the August figure represented the lowest point reached since January 1965. Estimate for September was $17.75, showing a slight improvement.

Dairy Industry Faces New Threat — 'Filled' Milk

The economically troubled U.S. dairy industry — still feeling the effect of oleomargarine's inroads on its once lucrative butter market — now faces a threat to milk sales from an inexpensive new substitute.

Generally referred to as "filled" or "imitation" milk, the new product is being offered at prices several cents a quart below that of milk.

And like oleomargarine, the new milk uses vegetable fats in place of the more expensive dairy fats.

What to do about it is something the National Milk Producers Federation will debate at its convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 12-16.

Filled milk already is well established in Western states and making its way east. Its rising sales curve comes at a time when many dairymen claim inadequate milk prices are forcing them out of business.

Some dairy leaders want new laws barring sale of the product — just as efforts of this kind were used for years to limit sale of oleomargarine. Dairymen have lost the bulk of their butter market to oleomargarine despite such efforts.

The industry is in a sense contributing to the threat against it because the new product uses a low-cost dairy product — skim milk — along with vegetable fats. Skim milk provides the needed calcium, minerals, and proteins.

There is talk of seeking government action to raise prices of the skim milk to a level which would take away the pre-

Surprise In Corn Carryover

The carryover of old corn this fall was far larger than had been generally expected a year ago. According to the USDA, stocks of old corn on hand October 1 totaled 817 million bushels — nearly twice as much as some market observers expected on the basis of figures available last fall.

The estimated carryover of 817 million bushels of old corn was only 3 percent less than a year before, but it was 60 percent less than the record carryover (2,016 million bushels) on hand 6 years ago.

Of this carryover, 176 million bushels is under resale price support loans and 139 million bushels is held by the CCC. This leaves about 500 million bushels of "free" corn — that is, corn in private hands.

The carryover plus the new crop (estimated at 4,717 million bushels in October) make a total supply of some 5,535 million bushels. This amount is 12 percent more than the supply available a year ago.

It now appears that the disappearance of corn during the last marketing year was 4,127 million bushels. That is 6 percent less than the record disappearance in the previous year, but is in line with the rising trend over the past 6 years.

The disappearance of corn seems likely to be around 4.2 million bushels in this marketing year. Such a rate of use and exports would leave about 1300 million bushels for carryover next fall.

Large amounts of this year's corn crop may be lost in the fields. This loss, plus unforeseen developments, could hold the carryover next fall to 1200 million bushels, or even less.

Sorghum, oats and barley. The carryover of sorghum grain was estimated at 245 million bushels — 37 percent less than a year earlier. In October, the 1967 crop was estimated at 789 million bushels — up 10 percent from last year. Hence, the supply of sorghum grain totals 1,034 million bushels — down 7 percent from a year ago.

On October 1, the stocks of oats totaled 793 million bushels — down 5 percent from last year. Barley stocks were 378 million bushels — off 2 percent.

Total feed grains. The total supply of the four feed grains (corn, sorghum, oats, and barley) amounts to 206 million tons — 7 percent more than a year ago. The use and exports of feed grains is not likely to increase more than 2 or 3 percent, so the carryover stocks are expected to be larger next year.

Wheat. The stocks of wheat on hand as of October 1 were estimated at 1,565 million bushels. This amount is 9 percent more than a year before, but 20 percent less than the 5-year, 1961-65 average.

Apparently, the disappearance of wheat during the July-September quarter was around 415 million bushels — up 2 percent from a year earlier. Perhaps this increase was caused by feeding more wheat to livestock. Export shipments probably were about 190 million bushels — 20 million less than during the same 3 months last year. Exports have been down because production in many other countries has increased since 1965.

ON PURINA CATTLE STARTERS IN 24 HOURS

Your cattle can settle down to a full ration within the first 24 hours in the feedlot with Purina Cattle Starters. Nearly 500,000 did last year.

To finish on time, your cattle must get a good start. The difference a starting ration can make was shown in recent tests comparing Purina Cattle Starters #1 and #2 with stilbestrol to a starter without it. Cattle on Purina Cattle Starters with stilbestrol averaged 33% faster gain on 24% less feed.

If you're convinced the first 2 weeks in the feedlot are critical, try filling "green" cattle with hay and water, then put them on Purina Cattle Starter #1 free choice. A week later switch them to Purina Cattle Starter #2 to wind up a good start.

Stop by your Checkerboard store to talk about a feeding program for your next bunch of cattle.

New Salina PCA Quarters

SALINA — While interior work has not been completed, the staff of Salina Production Credit Assn. has moved into its new building on West Crawford two blocks west of Broadway. Curtis Syring, manager, will announce the date of the formal opening.

Salina PCA had occupied a building on North 9th with FLBA, which gave up the quarters when the district was merged with two associations.

To Remove Gum

To remove chewing gum from a rug, chair or even from a child's hair, rub the area vigorously with a piece of ice. The gum will harden and can be removed easily.

Save some of your prettiest lipstick cases. When the lipstick has all been used, clean the case well with a cleansing tissue and place one such case in each of your handbags to carry bobby pins.

To Poach Egg

To keep the white of an egg intact while poaching, first put a few drops of vinegar in the water then swirl the water into a funnel-like area for the egg.

Parasol Favors For Shower

To make a parasol favor for a bridal shower, gather a 9-inch length of nylon net, around a pipe cleaner. A pastel ball of cotton hidden under the net at the top can hold sachet. Bend the pipe cleaner to form a handle.

Quick Lunch

A quick, easy lunch, consisting of Barbecue Beans with Sausage, carrot slaw, rolls, mixed fruit and glasses of milk will meet with family approval.

To prepare the main dish, cook 1 pound of link sausage.

Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the drippings. Add 2 cans (1 pound each) of barbecue beans. Heat, stirring now and then. The recipe makes four to six servings.

7-dollar-and-cents reasons why GOOCH'S BEST STEER PREMA delivers maximum performance.

Investing in Gooch's Best Steer Prema buys you more than protein. These important extras both nutritional—and service are built into the Gooch Program.

1 Vivo-zyme — the enzymatic additive developed and cattle-proven by Gooch Research. Vivo-zyme available only in Gooch's Best has demonstrated it steps up gains — feed efficiency to return up to $17 for each dollar of cost.

2 GBA-65 — this Gooch "know-how" for combining nutrients provides cattle the digestive aid to improve carcass finish through the Volatile Fatty Acid route.

3 Mono-Phos — the concentrated, highly available, most effective phosphorus for improving both rumen digestion and carcass quality.

4 Stilbestrol — Antibiotics — Guaranteed True Vitamin A — three musts for a feedlot supplement to do a top job of delivering fast, efficient gains.

5 Backed up by protein, vitamin, mineral nutrition cattle-proven through years of practical Gooch Research.

6 Performance proof that Gooch Steer Prema has measured up tops when put to the produce-or-else test by hundreds of farm and commercial feedyard operators.

7 Service Counselors along with Gooch Nutritionists who for no additional cost work hand in hand with cattle feeders applying up-to-date information as well as knowledge gained through years of cattle feeding experience.

In short, Gooch's Best Steer Prema is the complete feedlot supplement package — the one that provides cattle the essentials to feed in more margin plus service second to none.

OUR DAILY BREAD

— by G&G Area Cooks

Manhattanite, Mrs. A. W. Katz, Wins 'Daily Bread' Prize

The contest winner this week is Mrs. A. W. Katz, 2425 Anderson, Manhattan:

SMOTHERED HAM

- 1 thick (¾-inch) slice smoked or ready-cooked ham, center cut
- 2 cups bread crumbs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 24 whole cloves

Heat milk; soak bread in it. Cover ham with this then spread the brown sugar on top to cover. Stick cloves all through top of this dressing. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees, until sugar and bread have browned and formed a nice topping.

Mrs. Harold Fritzson, R 2, Blue Rapids: "This is the time of year we always like Gingerbread. Our four children love it. The recipe page is the first thing I turn to after receiving Grass & Grain."

WESTERN GINGERBREAD

- 1½ cups sugar
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1½ teaspoons ginger
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in 1 cup sour milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups flour

Mix sugar, shortening, egg, molasses and spices and beat well. Then add rest of ingredients and beat again. Put into a well-greased and floured 8x12-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35-40 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean. Serve warm with whipped cream or ice cream.

Mrs. Ted Cherry, Niles: "I took several of these coffee cakes to a Woman's Society convention to be used during morning coffee break. Several ladies asked for the recipe. I thought maybe a good way to pass it on would be through the Grass & Grain. I'm always looking for new ideas there."

COFFEE CAKE

- ½ cup butter or oleo
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup commercial sour cream or buttermilk
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

TOPPING

- ½ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup white sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup chopped nuts

Pour half the batter into a 9x13-inch pan. Sprinkle with half the topping (candied fruit or raisins are good here, too).

Add rest of batter and cover with remaining topping. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Leonard Hammes, R1, Seneca: "Have been wanting to try my luck for a long time by sending in some recipes for the Woman's Page. I have tried some of the recipes that have been in Grass & Grain and have liked them fine."

ICE BOX COOKIES

- Sift together:
- 4 cups flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt

- Cream:
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup brown sugar

Gradually blend in 2 cups white sugar. Beat in 2 eggs and 3 teaspoons vanilla. Stir in 1 cup shredded coconut and 3 tablespoons milk. Add flour mixture gradually. Place dough in bowl with cover. Chill. Bake as needed in 400-degree oven 10 minutes. Drop dough from teaspoon onto ungreased cookie sheet. May be sprinkled with coconut or colored candies. Makes about five dozen cookies.

Helpful G&G area cooks have responded to a reader's request for a Kolache recipe. Two were printed last week and the third appears below. Since the recipes vary slightly, we decided to use all of them and let the lady who requested the recipe take her choice. — ed.)

Mrs. Fred L. Baxa, Sr., R1, Cuba: "I enjoy reading your page and all the recipes very much. I am sending one of my favorite Kolache recipes that I have used for years."

BOHEMIAN KOLACHES

- 2 packages active dry yeast

- 54 drawbar hp, 65 PTO hp (mfr. estimated max.)
- Hydrostatic All-Speed Drive provides any speed from 9 mph in reverse to 20 mph forward
- Gasoline, L.P. Gas, diesel engines
- Easy to drive, gets more work done
- New, accurate, easy-to-read speedometer

- ½ cup warm water (110 degrees)
- 2½ cups milk, scalded
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup shortening, melted
- 7 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 egg yolks

Soften yeast in water. Combine milk, sugar, salt, and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 2 cups of the flour, beat well. Add eggs and yeast; mix well. Add enough of remaining flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn out on lightly floured surface; knead till smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Shape in a ball; place in lightly greased bowl. Cover, let rise in warm place till double, about 1½ hours. Punch down. Let rise again till double, about 45 minutes. Cut off pieces of dough the size of a walnut. Place on greased baking sheets. Let rise 10 to 15 minutes. Press down in center of each bun to form a shallow cup for the filling, so the outer edge would be about ½ inch to the inner edge. Fill with one heaping teaspoon of filling. Return to warm place to finish rising. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes, or till slightly browned. Brush with melted butter and remove to cooling rack. Fillings for Kolaches that can be used are the following: cottage cheese, prune, poppy seed, raisin, apricot, cherry, peach, pineapple, and strawberry.

November 14, 1967

WELL INTO 1968!

This is the first big farm tractor with Hydrostatic All-Speed Drive, the drive that provides any speed from 9 mph in reverse to 20 mph forward ... change on the go, under load or with no load ... with no clutch ... and without touching the throttle.

Push the Speed Ratio (SR) control forward to move forward. The farther you push it, the faster the speed—from zero mph to 20 mph. To stop, just move the SR control back to zero mph and have smooth, safe, controlled stopping. To back up, move the control rearward into reverse ratio and pick any speed, zero to 9 mph in reverse.

That's all there is to it! No clutch to use. You're propelled by smooth IH hydrostatic power! At any speed from "9 below to 20 above."

Think of all the clutching and shifting you won't do with Hydrostatic All-Speed Drive. Think of being able to maintain higher average speeds on every job by choosing the exact speed needed every time ... and changing speed any time, on-the-go. It follows that no matter what the crop or conditions, this Hydrostatic All-Speed Drive provides the ideal speed for getting the most out of both tractor and equipment.

And it's a pleasure to drive. So easy to operate that any driver will get more done—and actually enjoy doing it—with IH Hydrostatic Drive. Farmers who helped us test this tractor say there is just nothing like IH Hydrostatic Drive to speed the work and save wear and tear on the man. Skeptical? A few minutes behind the wheel will make a believer of you.

Purple Plums Give Flavorful Boost To Winter Meals

A flavorful boost to your fall and winter meals is this fruit salad made with canned purple plums. The plums are stuffed with a cream-cheese mixture accented with curry and ginger. Canned pears, marinated in French dressing, complement the color and flavor of plums.

Whether canned purple plums team up with other canned fruits or fresh winter fruits, their delicate flavor blends in to create tasty salads. Try adding canned purple plums to fresh apple salads or fruit gelatins. Or for a different touch, fold pureed plums into a sour cream dressing.

Plum Paradise Salad is a full-course salad that needs only buttered nut bread and a beverage to complete the menu. Create this paradise with plums for your next luncheon.

PLUM PEARADISE SALAD

1 (1-pound, 13 ounce) can or jar purple plums
12 canned pear halves
½ cup French dressing
6 ounces cream cheese
3 tablespoons cream
¼ teaspoon curry powder
1 tablespoon chopped crystallized ginger
2 tablespoons chopped walnuts crisp lettuce
toasted sesame seeds

Drain purple plums and pears. Pour French dressing over pears and chill. Soften cream cheese with cream. Add curry powder, ginger and walnuts. Pit plums and fill with cream cheese mixture. Arrange plums and drained pears on lettuce-lined plates. Sprinkle pears with sesame seeds. Makes six salads.

Reader Appreciates Help Given By G&G Area Cooks

The following letter was received from Mrs. Francis Moser of Hollenberg:

"Thanks a million for the set of nylon utensils I recently won in your Daily Bread contest. They are so very nice, and I'm sure I shall enjoy losing them.

"You might also be interested to know that, in response to my request for a Bohemian Kolache recipe I have already received two. One was from Mrs. Guthrie Manning of Manhattan; the other from Mrs. Ruth McMillan of Manhattan; the other from Mrs. Ruth McMillan of Home. Needless to say, they were very much appreciated. I am looking forward to receiving even more recipes and plan to try out all I receive.

"I think your recipe exchange page renders the G&G area cooks a valuable service by keeping us from getting in a rut with our meals. Thanks again."

Fashion Spotlight Shines On New Sweater-Dresses

The Classic Sweater has pulled a new-classic switch in "wool mark" knitwear.

An energetic new breed of fashion lends added verve and versatility to the ever popular sweater as knitting needles carry pure wool yarn to new lengths in creating the smash-hit sweater dress.

Around-the-clock interpretations of the sweater run from knee-skimming, turtleneck, turned-up, short-sleeve sport-about versions to mini-skirted crochet-styled after-five designs and full-length gowns lightly covered by cardigan-closed evening coats.

Performance is on the upbeat in knitwear of pure virgin wool as emphasized by new technical innovations, including machine-washability. The WB-7 process, developed by the Wool Bureau, is one of several successful techniques used in producing diversified lines of machine-washable, machine-dryable knit apparel. WB-7 is an oxidation process which arrests felting and, in addition to retaining the natural hand of the fiber, in many instances, enhances its softness.

Another consumer-oriented dimension of importance to knitwear is the appearance of the "wool mark" quality label on fashions tested and approved in accordance with strict standards of quality control as "the world's best . . . pure virgin wool." The "wool mark" symbols — awarded by the Wool Bureau as a consumer's assurance that apparel carrying this label is of the finest quality pure wool obtainable — adds strength to the fashion gambit making any week fair game for "Sweater Week."

GEHL ROTARY SHREDDERS

Gehl now offers you two new rotary shredders for weeds, grass and pasture clipping as well as stalk shredding. These Clean-Cut Shredders are available in a 72-inch model which easily handles two rows of stalks and the giant 144-inch unit that cuts a full four rows.

CC-6

The handy 6-ft. Clean-Cut gives you 20% more cutting capacity than the conventional 60-in. shredders. Available in either pull-type or pick-up models, the Gehl is especially useful in controlling the corn borer.

CC-12

One of the many features of the 12-ft. Clean-Cut Shredder is the "V" shield attached to the rear bottom side of the hood. With the "V" in place, you get perfect spreading with your shredding. Without it, you leave an even windrow. A heavy-duty hitch enables you to pull a disc behind the shredder.

Stop in soon. Ask to see the new Gehl Clean-Cut . . . the right move in rotary shredding.

Ready For Christmas

Most G&G area towns set up Christmas decorations right after Thanksgiving, but many stores already have ornaments up. Ready a little early too is the State of Kansas. Here workmen set up a 48-foot Christmas tree at the east entrance of the Statehouse. The white fir tree was bought from the Santa Fe National Forest north of Las Vegas. The tree will be lighted November 23.

What To Do With Immature Sorghum

What is the best way to utilize late, immature grain sorghum? Many Kansas farmers are asking that question this fall.

If most of the grain has turned color, it should be left for grain, suggests a Kansas State University farm management economist.

Hal D. Byarlay points out that this grain will freeze dry and have fair to good feeding value.

If most of the grain is still green, however, silage is your best alternative, he says. Animals that could best utilize this immature milo as pasture would be feeders that are nearly on full feed.

There would still be enough grain in the heads to cause digestive problems and founder cattle that were not used to a liberal grain ration, he explains. Immature grain sorghum silage is not as satisfactory as good forage sorghum silage because of a high water content and low grain content.

However, research at the Hays Experiment Station indicates that the performance of calves fed sorghum silage is directly related to the grain content of the silage.

Silage high in grain also has a high dry matter content. So it is not known which factor, grain or dry matter, contributes more to improved silage feeding value.

Immature but heavily seeded grain sorghum should make fairly good silage this fall if the moisture is allowed to get down to about 67 per cent before the crop is ensiled.

This may mean letting some of the most immature milo stand until it freezes before ensiling. Frozen silage will be better than silage put in too green.

Utah Loses Cholera Status

Utah has lost its status as a "hog cholera free" state. Three recent outbreaks caused the change. Utah had been one of nine states to have the "free" status.

The standards provide that a state can maintain its "free" status as long as it experiences only primary outbreaks — that is, confined to one farm. But if an outbreak occurs and other outbreaks within the state are traced to it, that state loses its "free" status and must go for a least one year without a confirmed outbreak to again qualify as "hog cholera free."

Farm Index 10% Below A Year Ago

Prices received by Kansas farmers at mid-October were a little lower than a month earlier and considerably below those in October last year, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

On October 15, the index of prices received by Kansas farmers was 223 per cent of the 1910-14 base period compared with 226 at mid-September and 246 at mid-October 1966.

Price declines from a month earlier were substantial for sorghum grain, corn, hogs, eggs and turkeys, while beef cattle and soybeans were down slightly.

Small price increases were noted for small grains, hay, seeds, sheep, lambs and milk cows.

The crop index was 160 per cent of the 1910-14 base at mid-October, up 1 point from a month earlier but 27 points below a year earlier.

The wheat price at $1.35 per bushel was 2 cents above September but 24 cents below October last year.

Corn averaged $1.03 per bushel, 7 cents below mid-September and 23 cents below a year ago.

Oat prices averaged 75 cents per bushel, up 2 cents from the previous month but 1 cent below the same date last year.

Barley at 97 cents per bushel was up 1 cent from September but 3 cents below a year ago.

Sorghum grain at $1.65 per cwt. was down 15 cents from September and 11 cents below October 1966.

Soybeans averaged $2.39 per bushel, 5 cents below mid-September and 31 cents below a year earlier.

BIGHAM HEADS POLLED SHORTHORN ASSN.

Leonard Bigham has been elected president of the Kansas Polled Shorthorn Assn. Other officers are Bill Scott, Ransom; Milton Nagely, Abilene; Earl Fieser, Norwich; John Reese, Langdon; and Carol Reynolds, Cuba.

The Livestock and livestock product index at mid-October was 295, down 8 points from September and 17 points below a year ago. The meat animal price index on October 15 was 347 compared with 358 in both September and October 1966.

Hog prices at $17.80 per cwt. were $1.10 below September and 10 cents below a year ago.

Steers and heifers at $23.70 per cwt. were down 60 cents from the previous month but 10 cents above October last year. Calves averaged $25.00 per cwt., unchanged from September but 10 cents above last year.

The dairy products index was 304, up 8 points from September but 3 points below the same date last year.

The preliminary wholesale milk price at $5.10 per cwt., was up 20 cents from September but 5 cents below a year ago. Egg prices average 19.6 cents per dozen, 1.8 cents below September and 11.6 cents below a year ago.

Chicken prices averaged 6.9 cents per pound, .2 cent below last month and .9 cent below last year.

Prices paid by Kansas farmers for protein supplements were mixed from a month earlier while complete feeds were unchanged to lower.

'Soy Fibers No Threat To Pork Chop'

AMES, Iowa — "The genuine pork chop is here to stay and will receive little competition from imitation meats now on the market," said John R. Harvey, associate editor, Successful Farming magazine, Des Moines.

In a speech to the Future for Pork Conference on the Iowa State University campus, Harvey described the use of synthetic products as substitutes for natural foods.

"This is an age of synthetics," Harvey said. "Man is effectively producing artificial leather, milk and even hair."

He said several firms are manufacturing "meatless meats" that closely parallel the real thing in color, texture, cookability and taste.

"I recently conducted research on the no-animal-fat meats and was surprised that even some 'professional tasters' could find no difference between certain samples of real and synthetic meats," he added.

Most artificial meat now on the market is made primarily from spun soybean fiber. Artificial color and taste are added in various quantities depending on the type of meat being imitated.

The synthetic products are used primarily in hot dogs, sausage, sandwich meat, meat loaf and "TV" dinners. Thus far little success has been attained in producing a synthetic beef steak or pork chop.

Harvey pointed out that vegetable fat meats have certain advantages including low fat content, no bone and no skin.

Their primary disadvantage is cost of production. Presently artificial meats are considerably more expensive than real meats.

The speaker explained that producers of these products receive most of their revenue from the 50 million Americans who for various reasons do not eat meat all the time.

Harvey predicted that more soy products would be used as extenders and binders in future sausages and sandwich meats; some restaurants and hospitals looking for quick and easily prepared meals will increase use of "meatless meats"; artificial meat sales to non-meat-eating people will increase; new soy products not resembling meats will evolve; and very few families presently eating meat will switch over to artificial meats.

Farm-City Week

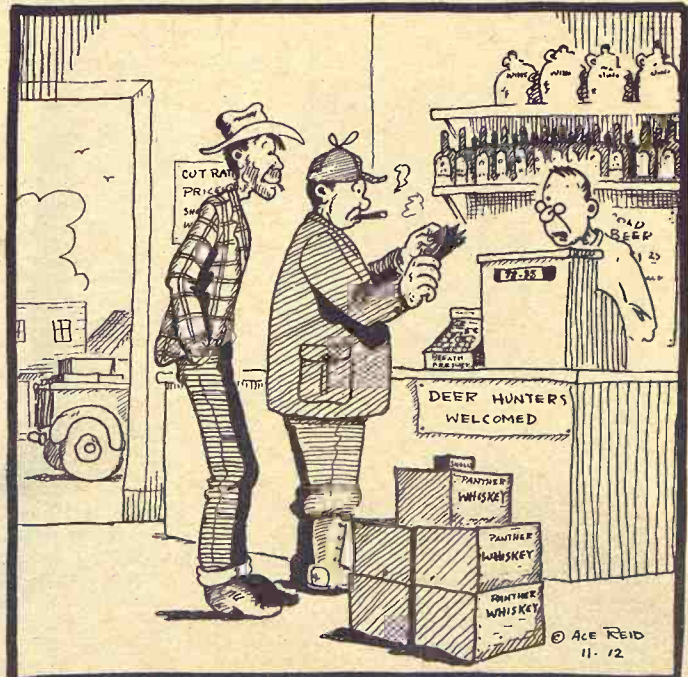

Governor Robert Docking has proclaimed the week of November 17 through November 23 as Farm-City Week in Kansas, and a number of G&G area communities are planning activities in observance of the event.

John Miller of the Topeka Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the Kansas Farm-City Week Committee, says that tours, speeches, panel discussions and a variety of other activities have been planned in numerous Kansas communities.

This will be the thirteenth annual observance of Farm-City Week, which is an international observance aimed at promoting better understanding between farm and city residents. Last year's observance involved the active participation of more than 12,000 communities in the U.S. and Canada.

Salina Horse Sale Tops At $500

SALINA — A Quarter Horse consignment auction here October 20 topped with a $500 bid, a 3-year-old gelding from Duane Walker of Canton selling to Christie Seabee of Salina.

In all, 44 head were sold by auctioneers Roger Johnson and Bob Perry, with the top 10 averaging $376 and the top 25 $259. Johnson said, "There was a good demand for the well bred, well broke horses, with some of the 1967 colts lacking sale condition and selling at what looked like bargain prices. Many of the colts sold right on pasture."

The second top seller, also a 3-year old gelding, consigned by Vern Walker of Abilene, brought $470 from Walter Kohrs of Geneseo.

The top selling mare, a 5-year old with colt at side and bred back to Bar Cliff, sold for $310 to Bernard Ireton of Salina. Duane Walker of Canton was the consignor.

A 9-year old mare consigned by Joe Fairbank of Wichita brought $300 from Slim Smith of Edwardsville.

The top-selling yearling, a bay filly consigned by Mike Henderson of Abilene, brought $255 from W. L. Horner of Larned.

Polled Hereford Sale Tops At $2000

HUTCHINSON — Starting well, the annual Kansas Polled Hereford Association blue ribbon sale finally sagged to an end as buyers and quality bulls became scarce.

Total sales receipts were $15,795 for the 21 bulls and 5 females which were sold after competition in the annual Blue Ribbon show Tuesday morning.

The 21 bulls totalled $14,170, with an average price of $675 per bull.

With a total of $1,625 for the five females, buyers paid an average price of $325.

The highest priced bull sold was the grand champion owned by John Lewis and Sons, Larned, which sold for $2000. It was purchased by Bryan and Judy Morton of Altoona.

The reserve champion bull, also owned and shown by John Lewis and Sons, was auctioned off for $1100 as auctioneer Gene Watson briskly chanted the fast rising bids.

The reserve champion was bought by Robert Ehrlick, Marion.

Bred and consigned by Elton Fischer, Seward, the grand champion female, a summer yearling heifer, was sold to Ernest Schneider, WaKeeney, for $375.

The reserve champion, also owned by Fischer, a half sister to the champion, went under the gavel to William Myers, also of WaKeeney, for $325.

Most of the top sales were made by the Polled Hereford breeders to cattlemen with registered Polled Hereford herds.

As the last few bulls entered the sales ring, only a few buyers remained in the stands.

With prices dipping below $300 and some on down below $200, exhibitors waved the low bids aside and led their bulls back out of the ring, refusing to accept buyers' offers.

Some decent bulls, although not of quality breeding, received bids below slaughter prices.

No Worry Over Farm Debt

The Agriculture Department predicts that the farm debt, now at a record high level, will continue to increase in the years ahead.

The agency says it is not as worried over the rising agricultural indebtedness as are some farm leaders, economists and business leaders.

During 1966, the last full year for which information is available, farm assets increased 5 per cent to a record high of $269.5 billion. But agricultural debts increased 10 per cent to a peak of $45.7 billion.

"In 1966, as in other recent years," a department report says, "it appeared that further growth in total farm debt provided part of the financing needed by farmers to enlarge sizes, efficiencies, and incomes of their farms."

"Purchase of farm units to enlarge existing operations continued to dominate the real estate market; many units were also enlarged by renting additional acreages."

'Poor Conditions' In Uninspected Packing Plants

DES MOINES, Iowa — Improper conditions in at least six plants operated by Swift & Co., the nation's largest meat packing firm, have been reported by U.S. Agriculture Department inspectors, the Des Moines Register and Minneapolis Tribune said Tuesday.

Swift said conditions cited in the 1962 reports no longer exist.

None of the plants operated under federal inspection, the daily newspapers said.

The story said the reports were in surveys made in 1962 and 1967 to determine conditions in some of the 14,000 meat packing plants not under federal inspection.

See 2%-3% Food Price Rise In 1968

Consumers can expect to spend 2% to 3% more for store purchases of food next year, largely because of anticipated higher prices for meats, chickens, eggs and fruits, the Agriculture Department forecasts.

The jump would contrast with the 1% decline that food prices are expected to show for the current year. But it wouldn't match the 5% price spurt registered in 1966. Since 1957, price increases have averaged a bit under 2% annually.

As in past years, the higher prices will benefit farmers only slightly, with most of the gain going for marketing and processing services. "Hourly earnings of marketing firm employees are likely to rise more than output per man-hours, causing an increase in labor costs per unit of products," the department commented. Agriculture economists further note that other marketing expenses from truck tires to packaging also are continuing to rise.

The department calculations are based on the 'market basket of farm foods, defined as farm-originated food products purchased annually per household in 1960 and 1961 by wage-earner and clerical-worker families and single workers living alone."

In the third quarter of 1967, the retail costs of market-basket foods averaged about 2% higher than in the preceding quarter but were down approximately 2 percent from a year earlier. Significantly, third quarter returns to farmers averaged 6% lower than in the 1966 period.

"The spread between retail cost and farm value of the market basket foods probably will average 2% to 3% under in 1968 than in 1967," the department said.

Dismal Thanksgiving For Turkey Growers

By Thanksgiving, consumers will be eating "the cheapest turkey they've ever eaten," promises Dr. L. A. Wilhelm, president of the Chicago based Poultry and Egg National board.

This year's turkey crop will top 125½ million, up more than 10,000 from a year ago. In the first nine months of this year, the turkey slaughter was running 31 percent ahead of a year ago, while consumption was up only 25 percent.

However, in the week ended October 27, federally inspected turkey production was up only 1 per cent from a year earlier and production since January 1 was about 19 percent above a year ago.

Wilhelm said that even though the November and December slaughter would be about the same as a year ago, the stocks of frozen turkeys in cold storage would be at record highs.

A trade paper recently reported storage facilities in many areas of the country were already overflowing with frozen turkeys.

This is because retailers have been so confident that the wholesale turkey prices would go down that they have delayed buying their holiday season supplies.

Many processors have been forced to sharply curtail processing activities because of the shortage of storage facilities, and this has forced turkey producers to hold at a large financial loss birds that are ready for slaughter beyond their normal marketing age.

The consumers are going to have a real bargain and a lot of turkey," Wilhelm said. "Twenty-five to 30 per cent of the producers will go broke." next year they will have to lease their facilities to large packers and feed manufacturers, work for a salary, and for all practical purposes give up their freedom as independent businessmen, he said.

Some pessimists see the days when turkey production will be controlled by less than a dozen major meat packers and feed manufacturers.

Farmers are currently getting 15 to 16 cents a pound for their live turkeys, or about 3 cents a pound less than it costs to prepare the birds for market, Wilhelm said.

A movement is afoot to cut back turkey production, he said. "I expect to see a 30 to 40 per cent cutback in turkey poults (young turkey) placements in December, January and February," he said.

While turkey prices are down,

November 14, 1967

cranberries and about everything else that goes with a holiday dinner will cost more this year, he said. Dairy products, bread products and spices have gone up during the last year.

TRACTOR NEWS:

We have traded for 7 late model John Deere 4020 tractors that will be coming in around the first part of the year. If you want a first class tractor with low hours, check with us later. Some of these have synchro-range, others pwr. shift.

USED COMBINES

We'd like to move these out this month, and will not refuse any reasonable, sincere offer on any of the following:
1962 JD 95 w/ 14' header; have 410 corn head to fit, and will sell single or in combination $495
1958 John Deere 45, 12' $495
1958 John Deere 45, 10' $495
1958 M-H 82 Special 12'; also No. 20 corn head to fit. Will sell with or without corn head; as combination we'll sell real reasonable $495
1956 M-H 80 Special 14', motor just o'hld. This will get your small acreage cut cheap and you'll still have the machine $495
A few good pull types left $495
OTHER MACHINERY
JD 210 corn head for 45 $495
JD 10 corn head for 45 $495
3 Hesston milo crop savers, almost new. Will sell these very reasonable $495

COME OVER & SEE US

We have a very large selection of all kinds of machinery & tools on our lot at east end of town. And we mean to move a lot of these machines fast by pricing everything to sell fast.
We have several used John Deere loaders and 5 different makes of new loaders. We have 2 JD 45 loaders & a 45W.

Competition Keener For Wheat Markets

The Agriculture Department has reported that competition in world wheat markets is stiffening and may force a decline in U.S. commercial exports during the current marketing year.

Commercial exports were 310 million bushels from the 1966 crop supply compared with 293 million the year before.

A wheat situation report pointed to a large world crop this year more evenly distributed than last year. It appears likely that such Communist areas as the Soviet Union and Red China may not need to buy as much this year as last from the western world, the report said.

Hence, major exporting nations will wage keener battles to get other markets, many of which have tended to look to this country for supplies.

"U.S. commercial exports are likely to be below last year's record level, while Food for Freedom exports will be larger than last year's reduced outgo," the report said.

Barring an unexpected decline in exports from the 750 million bushel level — the combined goal for commercial and food for freedom shipments — appears that the farm price of this year's crop may average 10 to 15 percent above the price support loan rate of $1.25 a bushel, the agency said.

Another Area Phone Shakeup

Two independent phone companies which have operated smaller telephone exchanges in the G&G area are consolidating their offices at Sterling.

The operations of the Reno Telephone Association will be moved from Hutchinson to the office of the former Mid-Kansas Telephone Co. at Sterling. Both companies are now part of the Kansas Telephone Corp., which has headquarters at Ottawa and is a wholly-owned affiliate of Continental Telephone Corp. of St. Louis.

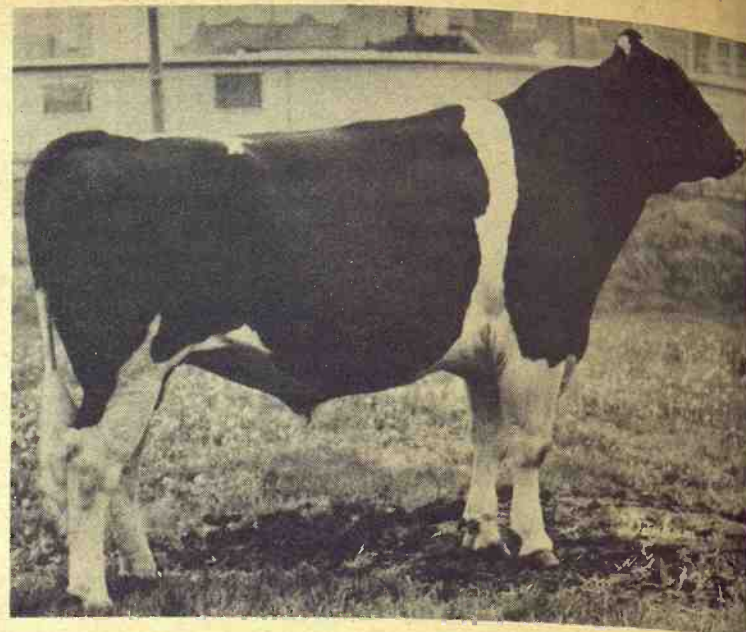

The office will handle much of the business of 18 exchanges in the Sterling-Hutchinson area.

Several exchanges at the eastern end of the G&G area will have their billing moved to more convenient locations. Customers at Harveyville, Americus and Cedar Point will be billed out of Osage City in the future, while Gridley customers will get billings from Toronto.

AUCTION SALE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20

10:00 A.M.

At South front door of Court House, Abilene, Kansas, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash: The northeast Quarter (NE¼) of Section Three (3), Township Twelve (12) South, Range Two (2) East of the 6th P.M., Dickinson County, Kansas, containing 167.09 acres, more or less, Appraised at $32,000

The above farm is commonly known as the Enoch Derrick farm located three miles west and one mile north of the Quality Station at the junction of Highways K15 and K18 and the same is located one mile west of Buckeye in the Buckeye community. Buildings consist of a two and one-half story residence, a barn, a granary and a garage. Good well water supply with electric pump and windmill.

ASCS office lists crop land of 143 acres, pasture of 162 acres and 6 conserving acres. Well seeded waterway with good growth of brome. Wheat allotment for 1968 is 57.3 acres. Possession to buyer on or before January 1, 1968, except that the present tenant, Samuel R. Merkey, shall have the right of entering onto the premises for the purpose of harvesting and threshing the growing wheat in the summer of 1968 which consists of the wheat allotment acres above mentioned. Thereafter full possession to the buyer.

Buyer receives one-third share of the wheat crop harvested in summer of 1968 and is to have full possession and benefits from the farm after January 1, 1968. All taxes, including 1967 taxes, paid in full. An excellent farm located in a good community.

Must bring more than two-thirds of appraised value. Property being sold under District Court order and new abstract complete with opinion for merchantable title delivered with deed to buyer.

To Extend Existing Crop Loans

USDA Move To Bolster Grains

In a move to bolster grain prices the Agriculture Department has announced it will extend existing crop loans on 220 million bushels of 1964, 1965 and 1966 crop corn and other feed grains.

At the same time it announced the signing of an international grains agreement designed to help stabilize world supplies and prices of grains and to share in providing grain to needy countries.

The carryover grains are now stored on farms under government price support loans. Extension of the loans when they fall due next year will tend to keep this grain off the market and thus avoid adverse effects on prices.

Otherwise, they likely would be moved even into markets where there are bountiful supplies and where prices are considerably below a year earlier levels, or into government surplus stocks.

The department also announced that it will sell none of its feed grain stocks during the current marketing year ending next Sept. 30 until at least six million tons of this year's record crop of 176 million tons of feed grains have been stored under support loans and thus insulated from the market.

Even then, none would be sold for less than 115 percent of the government price support loan rate of $1.05 a bushel for corn, plus carrying charges.

In a further move to underpin market prices, the department announced it will allow growers to extend loans on 1967 crop feed grains into 1969. They will be asked to declare their intentions on extending 1967 loans into 1969 when they apply for loans on this year's crop.

The international grains agreement was signed by Undersecretary of Agriculture John A. Schnittker, President

Johnson said he will submit it to the Senate soon for its ratification. It is to take effect next July 1.

The arrangement is an outgrowth of the recent Kennedy round of trade negotiations. The document was drafted at Rome this summer with representatives from 52 grain exporting and importing countries participating.

November 14, 1967

Move To Unite Two State Livestock Jobs

An aide to Gov. Robert Docking last week indicated there may be a move to consolidate the offices of state livestock sanitary commissioner and state brand commissioner.

Paul Pendergast, Docking's executive assistant, raised the possibility during the brand commissioner's budget hearing.

He asked Hade Gupton, brand commissioner, what he thought of the idea. Gupton said he was willing to talk about it.

Both of the agriculture-related offices share space in the state office building.

Docking has been engaged in a running battle with the Kansas Livestock Association over appointment of the brand and livestock sanitation commissioners.

Varied Solutions To Capital Requirements To Start Farming

MANHATTAN — The day is almost here when a young man will need substantial help from his family to get started in farming, says a Kansas State University economist.

The amount of money needed to operate a farm business is increasing. And there's no end to the trend in sight, says Frank Orazem. It's become increasingly difficult for a young man to get started in farming without some help from his family.

Family help is already in evidence in the growing number of father-son partnerships. This type of arrangement is one way a young man can qualify for the credit he needs to stay in farming.

Orazem thinks the problem of obtaining large amounts of capital may also affect the traditional ownership arrangement.

Individuals are already looking for new ways to meet capital needs. For example, some full-time custom operators offer to prepare the seedbed, plant, cultivate, and combine a crop for a fixed sum per acre.

This type of arrangement may well replace tenancy where cash cropping is a major enterprise, says Orazem.

Capital requirements involving inheritance are also becoming a problem for some farm operators. When a farmer dies, the capital moves to the heirs who frequently are not farmers. In some cases, lending institutions provide the credit the new operator needs to pay off the non-farm heirs.

A farm-family corporation may be the answer in other instances. Under this arrangement, the non-farm family members would continue as stockholders, earning dividends on their capital. They might sell their equity later when the sale would present less of a burden to the farm manager.

That price would average about $350 an acre. The purchase was made from Kansas City architect Joseph Radotinsky and his sister. Another 220 acres, from another owner, is also reported under negotiation for purchase.

The new corporation will be in the livestock business under the name of Tontine Inc. The farm is north of Wolcott, in Wyandotte and Leavenworth counties.

The corporation also bought cattle and hogs from Radotinsky, for a reported amount of $35,000. Radotinsky had a commercial cattle herd.

Extension Groups Organize

MANHATTAN — Officers for Kansas Associations of Agricultural Agents, Home Economics Agents and 4-H Club Agents were elected last week during the 53rd annual conference of the Kansas Cooperative Extension association at Kansas State University. Newly elected officers include:

Agricultural Agents association — Merlin Line, Lakin, president; Otis Griggs, Hutchinson, vice-president, and Charles Smith, Winfield, secretary-treasurer. The past-president, Arthur Johnson, Oskaloosa, was named a director, along with Warren Harding, Stockton.

Home Economics Agents association — Beverly Smith, Salina, president; Ann Donsch, Atwood, president-elect; Mary Lee Edwards, Yates Center, and Eleanor Olson, Beloit, vice-presidents; Lois Carlson, Chanute, secretary; Elsie Brandon, Garden City, treasurer, and Elizabeth Woner, Harper, historian. Directors elected included Alice Grieshaber, Medicine Lodge; Emily Robbins, Oakley; Ruby Truax, Wichita; Trella Currie, Concordia, and Juanita Johnson, Pittsburg.

4-H Club Agents association — Ralph Utermohlen, Lawrence, president; Eldon Clawson, Topeka, vice-president; Roland Flory, Newton, secretary-treasurer, and William Fultz, Garden City, reporter.

PICK STATE DELEGATES TO AFBF CONVENTION

Kansas delegates to the national convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Chicago next month will be Ray Frisbie, McDonald; John Junior Armstrong, Muscotah; Frank Howard, Oakley; Glen Ewing, Olathe; Trevor Rees, Emporia; and Larry Panning, Ellinwood.

CLAY COUNTY NAMES NEW FAIR BOARD

CLAY CENTER — Forrest Paddiken of Morganville has been elected president of the Clay County Fair Association. Other members of the board are Wilburn Nelson, Morganville; John Roth, Green; Glenn Romig, Clay Center, and Orville Hughes, Wakefield. Romig is secretary.

GEARY FARM BUREAU NAMES DALLAS LUTTMAN JUNCTION CITY — Dallas Luttmann has been reelected president of the Geary County Farm Bureau. Mrs. Charles Say is vice president.

Beloit Co-op Wants New Name

BELOIT — The largest co-op in the G&G area has decided its name is no longer suitable.

The Mitchell County Farmers Union Cooperative Association is looking for a shorter name that describes a co-op that has branches in several counties.

The membership at its 56 annual meeting voted to correct the matter by sponsoring a contest to select a new name. Entries will be accepted thru January 1, 1968. The prize for the winning entry will be a free family vacation next summer at Co-op Camp, Estes Park, Colo.

KANSAS DELEGATES AT SHORTHORN CONFERENCE

Kansas will have a delegation at the American Shorthorn Association's annual meeting at Chicago this week. Delegates are Milton Nagely, Abilene; Bryce Davidson, Americus; Dorsey Elliott, Sublette; Tomson Brothers, Wakarusa; and Paul Loyd, Newton.

Corporation Buys KC-Area Farm

A new corporation of 10 Kansas City businessmen has bought 720 acres of land near the Missouri river on the Kansas side for a price reported to be in the $250,000 area.

LETTERS—

Too Many Seedy Farmers In G&G

The men folks at our home are faithful readers of Grass & Grain and we often find items of interest in it. We are avid readers of the sale bills.

Now for a little constructive criticism: we are unhappy with the photos you print of farmers. Surely it is not a true picture of the majority of farmers to show them in such seedy outfits. The day for a farmer to be a "hay seed" is long past.

As safety chairman for Cloud County, I would like to see some short safety articles in each issue.

I was glad that you could get this picture as I feel the readers will see the light of Mr. Kilian's letters.

By this I mean those two young boys are what he is working for — a future in agriculture working for themselves and not working for a giant like the Gates Rubber Co., which is going into corporate farming.

As farmers we cannot continue to let the cream of our farm youth be separated from the soil because they do not receive a just wage and are a minority group.

As Kilian has worked hard for NFO, and I believe if we are to have leadership in farm organizations, it will take more like him who are not afraid to speak up.

May Fred's letters continue to be printed in your fine newspaper, and may you farmers who have boys remember we can work together and solve the problem or go it alone and let the problem dissolve us.

Milo Priced Over Corn As Gulf Export

A comparatively rare situation in the price of feed is occurring in the current price of export corn and milo.

For export, corn has been bringing 1.16½ a bushel delivered at the Gulf. On a 100-pound basis, that's $2.08.

At the same time, milo for export in the last few weeks has been traded in a range from $2.17 to $2.21 a hundred pounds for November delivery at the Gulf.

So milo, at the Gulf, has been worth more than corn. Normally milo has a market value some 5 to 10 percent less than corn.

The delayed harvest of milo, with traders having sales made and ships to fill, has pushed up the price of the grain, traders say. Corn, with a large 1967 crop plus an 817 million bushel carryover, becomes more competitive with milo under these conditions. In fact, it looks as if corn will compete with milo when the large broiler areas of the Southeast, Arkansas and California, look for feed.

On a cash basis — not the export market — corn is still higher in this area. Corn has been running around $1.21 to $1.22 in Kansas City (about $2.10 on a hundredweight basis) compared to $1.82 to $1.88 for milo.

Shorthorn Sale Grosses $25,130

HUTCHINSON — The Kansas Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn sale here grossed $25,130 on 63 lots to average $363.

The 42 bulls averaged $445, with 22 females making $292. In the club calf division, 18 steers averaged $186 with 16 heifers making $260.

Tomson Brothers, Wakarusa, dominated the pre-sale show. Their champion was the top seller, going for $900 to Delman Gooderl, Hoyt. Kansas State University had the reserve bull, and it sold to Wall and Marsten, Canton, for $370. A polled bull consigned by Paul Loyd, Newton, brought $890 from C. B. Carson, Wellington.

Tomsons had the top females too. Their reserve champion brought $660 from Sprang Shorthorns, Effingham. Ricky Taliferro of Effingham bought the champion for $550.

Milton Nagely, association secretary, managed the sale. Jake Ulrich and Lee Remy were auctioneers.

Hopes For Federal Help To Young Farmers

COUNCIL GROVE — Formation of a federal agency to help young farmers obtain land is being proposed by a Kansas official to the Farmers Union.

Wilfred Elliott of White City, president of the Morris County Farmers Union, made the suggestion here at a meeting of the group's leaders.

He proposed creation of a federal land transfer agency which would buy land from a retiring farmer or rancher on a voluntary basis.

Elliott said the agency in turn could sell the land to a young farmer as long-term, low-interest credit.

As things stand, Elliott added, it is almost impossible for a young farmer to go into business on his own.

Meeting to discuss what they described as a trend of non-farm corporations taking over agriculture were Farmers Un-

U.S. Sixth In Fish Catch
The world catch of fish increased by 6 per cent last year over 1965, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization has announced.
The total catch was set at 180,000,000 metric tons, compared to 53,300,000 in 1965. This showed an increase of about 70 per cent over 10 years ago, FAO said.
Peru, Japan, Communist China and the Soviet Union accounted for most of the 1966 increase.
Their combined estimated catch of 27,015,200 metric tons represented 47 per cent of the

Record Feed Grain Crop Points To Lower Prices

By Ruth E. Clifton
Kansas State University
Markets for feed grains will be generally favorable during the coming weeks, although prices are expected to be somewhat lower than last year. Big reason for the drop in prices is an alltime record crop, estimated at about 789 million bushels. The Kansas crop, pegged at 153 million bushels, will account for about a fifth of this total.

Livestock numbers are only slightly below the record high numbers of a year ago, and heavier feeding rates are expected. These factors may result in record quantities of grain being fed to livestock. This may help to counter the lower prices.

Demand continues strong from West Coast feeders. More cattle and hogs from the Great Plains are going west instead of east.

Feedlot finishing is a big business. The West Coast is a feed grain deficit area and must ship in grain.

Another factor of importance to Kansas producers is a growing export market for sorghums and other feed grains. U.S. sorghum exports reached nearly 200 million bushels between October 1966 and June 1967. This is up from 185 million bushels in the same period a year earlier.

Japan and India are our largest customers from sorghum grain. These nations imported 71 and 68 million bushels, respectively, during the October-June period.

It all adds up to a growing market for Kansas grain sorghums. As a result, sorghum has become the second most important crop in the state and continues to grow in importance to the state's economy.

No Blast In Farm Bureau Stand

—Careful Words On Government Programs

The Kansas Farm Bureau completed its annual meeting at Wichita last week without its usual sweeping denunciation of government farm programs.

While there appears no doubt that the membership continues to limit government intervention in their business, the organization in its resolutions on national policy carefully worded its stand on government programs to deemphasize the negative.

The resolution finally adopted states: "We do not ask the government for price guarantees, but ask the assurance that government will control or depress the market.

"We recommend that recourse loans be substituted for non-recourse loans in government price support activities as a means of preventing the Commodity Credit corporation from acquiring surplus stocks can be used to control price levels of agricultural commodities.

"We realize the government program probably will not be terminated overnight. So long as there is a government loan program, we ask Congress to pass legislation to prohibit the sale of Commodity Credit stocks of any commodity at less than 125% of the support price, or less than 75% of parity, plus reasonable carrying charges, whichever is the greater."

The resolutions opposed the manner in which the Federal Crop Insurance program competes with private enterprise in low risk areas for crop insurance proposes but "denies participation to needy operators in many high risk farming areas."

A resolution also opposed daylight saving time, but added that if daylight saving time is continued, Kansas should see that the clocks are turned forward only from Decoration day to Labor day.

More state than national issues were covered by the Farm Bureau resolutions.

Some of the stands taken:

Corporation Farming—We will oppose any attempt to repeal the Kansas law regulating farm corporations, and urge that the present law be amended to apply to all crops and livestock. We recognize that technological change has brought about a tremendous substitution of capital for labor in farm production and created problems in farm business financing, intergenerational property transfer, taxation and owner liability for risks of the farm business. We will support amendment to the present law that may enhance the economic position of the family farm corporation.

Taxes for Local Government—We will support an immediate and continuing effort to abandon the general property tax as the major source of revenue for local governmental services, because it has become evident there is no practical way of equalizing the impact of general property taxes on the various segments of our complex modern economy. The ownership of tangible property is no longer a good measure of wealth, of income or ability to pay taxes. Because farmers must have an investment in tangible property many times greater than certain other segments of the economy to produce a comparable income level, general property taxes fall most unfairly on farmers and further aggravate the income disparity between agriculture and other segments of the economy.

Basic Assessment Concepts—We are convinced that there is growing need to develop better income data to be used in the appraisal of farm land for tax purposes. Sales data should continue to be used only when it is clear that the sale price fully reflects the buyer's opinion on the value of a farm for agricultural purposes.

Reappraisal Programs—There is some evidence that reappraisal programs in some instances are not accomplishing equalized assessment for tax purposes as between counties and as between individual taxpayers in some counties. Where inequity has developed the cause may have been over-reliance on sales data which were distorted by considerations other than the earning power of the property in the use to which it is currently dedicated.

Assessment of Farm Improvements—There is need for greater uniformity in the standards to be used to assess farm buildings which are a part of the farming operation and also the farm home. It has been demonstrated in numerous sales that certain buildings may actually detract from, rather than add to the sale price for a tract of farm land.

Personal Property Exemptions—There appears to be a definite trend to exempt personal property from ad valorem taxation. Although we recognize that livestock brought into the state for grazing or for feeding has in the past developed substantial ad valorem tax revenue for local school districts and local units of government, we must also recognize that there is a strong national trend to exempt livestock from ad valorem taxation. If Kansas is to compete with other states, we cannot afford to ignore this trend. For that reason we will support the complete exemption of livestock from ad valorem taxation.

Sales Tax Exemption for Farm Machinery—During the next year we ask that our research department undertake a thorough study of the economic feasibility of exempting farm machinery and parts from the sales tax. We ask that particular emphasis be placed on determining the results of similar exemptions for other segments of the economy and the ultimate impact on the total tax base as well as the trend and experience in other states following such a course of action. In the event any proposal is considered by the Legislature to exempt equipment used in production and manufacturing of any kind from the sales tax, such an exemption should also include agricultural production equipment.

Industrial Revenue Bonds—We ask our research department to make a thorough study of industrial revenue bonds and their effect on local taxes.

State Board of Education—We support legislation to provide for the election of the new state board of education on a nonpartisan basis at the general election in the fall of even-numbered years.

Junior Colleges—We reaffirm our position of a year ago that junior colleges should eventually come under the jurisdiction of the state board of regents.

Compulsory Motor Vehicle Inspection—We oppose legislation which would require compulsory motor vehicle inspection.

Port of Entry System—We will support legislation which will abolish the Kansas ports of entry with the duties and functions now performed by the ports being transferred to appropriate state agencies.

Highway Construction and Financing—We reaffirm our opposition to revenue bonds for financing highway construction. We favor continuation of the present scope of construction financed by present revenue sources. We are opposed to toll roads that use regular highway revenue to guarantee turnpike bonds. We do favor the construction of modern freeways built to interstate standards where traffic warrants and funds permit.

Covers for Loaded Trucks—We see no need to initiate legislation to require covers on all loaded trucks operating on roads and highways in Kansas.

Strip Mining—We will support legislation to require that all strip mining operations should include approved procedures for returning strip-mined land to productive agricultural use comparable to its use prior to mining operations, and that the cost of such procedures should be charged to the mining operation.

Fresh Water Pollution—We call for a re-examination of fresh water pollution from oil field brines. This examination should include a thorough investigation of enforcement procedures under present law.

Cereal Malt Beverages—We oppose the sale of cereal malt beverages on state college campuses.

Parli-Mutuel Betting—We will oppose any change in the Kansas laws which prohibit pari-mutuel betting.

Livestock Sanitary Commissioner—Although there may now be general agreement that some changes be made in the procedure for naming a state livestock sanitary commissioner, we will insist that any new procedure shall provide the opportunity for long tenure in this office, and that tenure shall not be subject to partisan political considerations. We believe the livestock industry should have major responsibility for naming the commissioner.

Liquor by the Drink—We will oppose any effort to repeal the Kansas prohibition against the open saloon or the sale of liquor by the drink.

Problem In Winter Storing Pesticides

With the approach of winter, it's time to properly store your leftover supply of pesticides, says Dr. Erick B. Nilson, Extension pesticide safety specialist at Kansas State University.

Be sure to store them in a safe place so that children, pets, farm animals, and irresponsible people can't get to them, K-State specialist strongly advises. Then lock the storage place. If you don't have a separate storage room, consider building a low-cost wire cage.

Don't store 2, 4-D and similar weed killers close to food, feed, fertilizer, or insecticides. Such pesticides give off fumes and may contaminate other items.

Check for open or broken bags and containers. If you find one, seal the container or discard it, Nilson advises. Also, tighten caps on bottles and cans.

Store pesticides only in the original containers. If the label is gone, dispose of the pesticide. If the label is not completely legible but you can tell what it is, ask your dealer for a new label.

Don't store any pesticide in soft drink bottles, glass jars, or other containers that children might recognize as food or drink containers.

Store liquid pesticides, such as amine 2, 4-D concentrates and Treflan, at temperatures above freezing. If your basement is the only warm area available, use some judgment about what materials to store there and how to store them, Nilson suggests.

Although some herbicides are relatively nontoxic and are not very volatile, others could be a real problem if a container should leak or break. Just a little 2,4-D escaping from a container in the basement might find its way to the living room and damage house plants. A broken jug of Radox in the basement would be mighty unpleasant company.

If basement storage is necessary, use a clean open-top barrel or similar container to hold smaller pesticide containers. Seal the barrel by securing a sheet of plastic over the top. Individual containers of pesticides should also be slipped into plastic bags and tied before storage.

Freezing may break some containers and also cause some pesticides to crystallize or "salt out." Sometimes the frozen material will go back into solution after adequate warming and agitation, but it's best not to let them freeze in the first place.

The used of held-over pesticides that have been frozen and later thawed may in some cases explain the lack of weed or insect control. Most dealers know the effects of freezing and thawing so they provide adequate storage facilities to prevent freezing. They can also tell you what storage precautions to take with each specific material, Nilson points out.

Store wettable powders and granular herbicides in a cool, dry place. The area doesn't need to be heated, but be sure that the containers are sealed and that material doesn't get damp or wet. Also, don't store pesticides on an oily floor.

When you order your pesticides for next year, try to figure your needs closely, Nilson notes. This will prevent the problem of carryover pesticides next year.

ATTENTION: Mr. Cowman —

Here is your opportunity to obtain a good set of well bred cattle in top condition that will continue to produce. These are good big rugged cattle — pasture raised and in pasture condition, ready to go to work.

LIVESTOCK COMMISSION COMPANY

Rezac

St. Marys, Kans.

We had the biggest run last week we have ever had. We sold 6036 head of cattle and 685 hogs. We want to thank each and every consignor who had stock here, whether a small consignment or a large one, they are all appreciated. The hog top was $16.90. The cattle market was very spotted; yearlings weighing 650 to 725 looked steady to 50¢ higher. The steer calves were only steady. The heifer calves were $1 to $2 lower.

We are having a special sale Wednesday, Nov. 15th, selling 65 registered cattle and 275 choice bred heifers for Elmer Johnson.

The following is a sampling of the sales made:
