

LINN COUNTY. Greenbackers Ahead—Election Results—Pleasanton—Its Historic Associations—Thrift, Business, etc.

EDITOR SPIRIT:—Since our last, election has come and gone like a whirlwind, and the usual number of disappointments, surprises, annoyances, jealousies, etc., are on the tapis to form matter for discussion till next fall.

In this letter we propose to give you a short sketch of one of the most important towns in Linn county, Pleasanton, renowned historically, educationally and as a commercial resort.

Pleasanton, as is generally known, derives its name from the notable engagement which took place there the last year of the war between General Pleasanton and General Price, when the latter was caused to halt by Pleasanton, who placed his artillery on the mound which is in the center of the present city, and can be seen by all the surrounding country.

Commercially, Pleasanton is a decided success, the various branches of trade being well represented, and the merchants men of more than ordinary business capacity.

Morally, the city deserves a good word, as there are no saloons, and its inhabitants are thrifty, energetic and consequently prosperous.

Yours till next time.

Kansas as She Will Be. This, from a late number of the Chicago Commercial Advertiser, is well put: "What the tomorrow of Kansas will be it is hard to estimate, but the present rate of immigration continued until 1881 will give close to a million people."

Grain Corners at Wichita. Friday's visit on the grain market developed to us what seemed to be an unpleasant state of affairs among the buyers. The market was a stand-still; buyers off; with the elevators almost all of them full and the streets full.

The effect produced by this state of affairs is a decline in the market from eight to ten cents per bushel, which comes right out of the farmer's pocket, which makes the farmer feel anything but good natured towards the railroad company; while the buyers, a great many of them, lose golden opportunities to make an honest penny occasionally.

No. 2 is selling for 52 cents and No. 3 for 48 cents. Hogs, none in market. Cattle, none in market.

A Good Minister Gone. We are sorry to hear of the death of the Rev. Thomas Moffit, pastor of the M. E. church of this city, who died at Cherryvale on Tuesday.

Mr. Moffit was a man of fine natural ability; a man who was an uncommon natural orator; a man much respected and who will be greatly missed. He suffered much during the summer from sickness, and awoke a warm sympathy among the citizens of the place.

Accidentally Shot. A colored man named Emanuel Ray accidentally shot himself in front of the Windsor hotel on Monday morning about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Ray was about to drive down to work on the railroad between Emporia and Eureka. He reached over the side of the wagon to pick up a gun, hitting it by the barrel. The hammer caught on the wheel, and a heavy load of shot was emptied into his left arm, and wounded himself in the side also.

Time for November. 11th to 15th, ending in clouding, threatening weather, with heavy rains and storms in places according to latitude.

The comparatively warm days will be about the 1st, 7th, 13th, 19th, 25th and 30th. The comparatively colder days will be about the 3d, 9th, 15th, 21st and 27th. Auroras, if any, will be visible the 4th, 10th, 16th, 22d and 27th.

Experience with Yellow Fever. Quite a large crowd assembled at the Methodist church last night to hear Dr. McCulley, who has just returned from Memphis, relate his experience with the yellow fever at that place and vicinity.

During the day the police captured over 150 bottles of whisky; and within the week the mortality was reduced to two per day. The state of Texas has forever disgraced herself by sending doctors and nurses, who, when placed in charge of the Court street (doctors') hospital, used the champagne provided for use on patients, to get drunk on, thereby losing twenty-one out of twenty-five of their professional brethren.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock one of the servants of the Capitol house called the attention of the proprietor, Mr. Whiting, to the fact that Mr. Smith, in room 17, had not yet risen.

Mr. Whiting, knowing that he had for some time been suffering from ague, supposed that he was sleeping late so as to escape having a chill, and told the servant to allow him to sleep until 10 o'clock, and if he did not get up then, to awaken him.

His effects consisted of three of Dr. Pierce's memorandum books and one leather bound pass-book. In one of the books was written the following: "November 5th.—Saw Mr. Hackney but could get no work yet."

In another page of the same book was this: "Mr. H. H. Whiting—Dear Sir:—Please send the books to Mrs. Mollie Smith, Marathon, Clermont county, Ohio."

He had an employee's pass over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, a picture of himself and several other papers of no value.

He came here on the 21st of October and registered at the Capitol house as Eli Smith, Galeburg, Ill. He was sick with the ague when he came, but always seemed happy and never talked despondently. He had from time to time paid the bulk of his board bill, and but a day or two ago had handed the clerk three dollars. Tuesday he talked pleasantly, and when asked by Mr. Whiting how he felt, replied he was feeling splendidly, and that he had a double dose that would knock the chills.

Horticultural Department.

Thoughts About the Future. It is not spring, yet we may now take time by the forelock and ask the question, "What crops shall we raise?"

But we will say also, have some regard for the future. You are growing old; you will not have the strength and courage to buckle down to work year after year for ten years to come as you have done for the ten years past;

Horticultural Hints. Nothing like planting evergreens to enhance the value of land and give a comfortable and home feeling to life upon the farm.

A QUINCE ORCHARD. There is money in it if you will plant the orange variety, and give the proper culture. The quince should have cultivation and special manuring to give the best results.

orchard. The unprofitable gnarly fruit so common among those who have a few quince bushes is due to the slovenly culture, which ought not to be.

FORCING THE STRAWBERRY. It is known among horticulturists that the strawberry may be forced by the process of hot-bed and cold-frame culture; and the process is a very simple thing, and attended with so little expense that it is a matter of surprise that it is not more common among us.

The Wilson's Albany seem to succeed best in this forcing process, though the Russel's Prolific and Jucunda do tolerably well. Many varieties refuse to respond favorably to this treatment.

IN THE COLD-FRAME PROCESS. you would prepare the ground in the spring, and set the plants and grow them during summer, and protect in winter with mulch, as in outdoor culture.

THE CRANBERRY BUSINESS in New Jersey and other states has grown into a great industry. It may not be known generally that, as an ornamental house plant, the cranberry is something to be desired and something that every one who delights in house plants may have.

Culture of Trees at the West. Under the act of congress offering 160 acres of land to any person who would plant 40 acres of it to trees and cultivate them for eight years, about 1,100 had taken up 170,000 acres of land in Minnesota up to January.

For peach, apple and pear trees there is no better plant-food than common ashes scattered over the surface of the soil under the tree.

The Household.

Letter from New Hampshire. DEAR HOUSEHOLD:—How many times do I have the same "guilty feeling" that the mother of the three little boys tells about having, when I take my book or paper and sit down to read or rest when I know of so much that ought to be done, waiting for my tired hands to do; but to me it is a real rest to read the papers or a good story, and I can work all the faster afterwards.

We have been into the woods lately gathering beautiful ferns and leaves and moss; they all add so much in making home look bright and cheerful. We fill our sitting-room with fern-baskets and arrange handsome maple and oak leaves around our pictures and they keep bright and green all winter.

Do any of the readers of "The Household" make rag-carpets? If they do, try a few balls of brown and blue; a few inches brown the same blue makes a pretty stripe. About every family in our town has a new one or making one; some are very handsome.

Somehow I cannot make milk work a bit well in my dishwater. Of course it must be my fault, as most all say they like it; but I had rather have soap. The dishes look much better I think.

"Housekeeper" wishes for a good recipe for cream pies. I send her mine, which we call very nice; it will fill three pies. The upper crust is baked with the under with a sprinkling of flour between and split open while hot and filled; it makes a splendid filling for Washington pie also.

One pint milk set to boil, one cup sugar, two eggs, one cup flour, a pinch of salt; season with lemon, vanilla or rose. Take the flour, eggs and a little of the milk, beat together and add to the milk and sugar after it begins to boil. Fill the pies after it cools.

CORNISH, N. H., Oct. 29, 1878. What to Teach Boys. First—To be true—to be genuine. No education is worth anything that does not include this.

Second—To be pure in thought, language and life—pure in mind and in body. An impure man, young or old, poisoning the society where he moves with smutty stories and impure examples is a moral ulcer, a plague spot, a leper who ought to be treated as were the lepers of old, who were banished from society and compelled to cry "unclean," as a warning to save others from the pestilence.

Third—To be unselfish; to care for the feelings and comforts of others; to be polite; to be generous, noble and manly. This will include a genuine reverence for the aged and things sacred.

Fourth—To be self-reliant and self-helpful, even from childhood; to be industrious always, and self-supporting at the earliest proper age. Teach them that all honest work is honorable, and that an idle, useless life of dependence on others is disgraceful.

When a boy has learned these four things, when he has made these ideas a part of his being, however young he may be, however poor, or however rich, he has learned some of the most important things he ought to know when he becomes a man. With these properly mastered, it will be easy to find all the rest.—Home Arts.

ELY'S AUTOMATIC COW-MILKER.

[PATENT APPLIED FOR.] PERFECTION AT LAST.

THIS IS THE SIMPLEST MILKER IN THE world, made all of PURE SILVER. It is easily kept clean, and has no flexible or rubber tubes to sour and spoil the milk in warm weather; no brass German-silver to vertigrease and poison the membrane and muscles of the cow's teats, and cause them to be sore and callous, as done by the old-fashioned milker.

It is easily applied, every teat flowing. Will milk sore or short teats or long very quick. Fractious cows become gentle by the use of this milker. It is the cheapest, best and only safe and perfect milker.

FROM THE WESTERN DAIRY. G. W. HATCH, Agent—Sir:—We have been using two sets of the Ely Automatic Cow-Milkers in our dairies since August last, and can say truly that we are highly pleased with them and would not be without them.

FROM THE ROSEDALE DAIRY. G. W. HATCH, Agent—Sir:—I cheerfully certify to the success of the Ely Automatic Cow-Milkers, made all of pure silver. I first used them in August last, and have used two sets now sufficiently long in the Rosedale dairy to say that we are well pleased with them in every respect and cheerfully recommend them to the public.

FROM THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ST. DAIRY. G. W. HATCH, Agent—Sir:—I have been using your Ely Cow-Milkers in my dairy on New Hampshire street here for some time, and am pleased to say they work splendidly and are both pleasant to use and give the cow and milkman, and can cheerfully recommend them to the public as they do no harm. Yours, etc., H. A. YEATS.

FROM COUNTY FARM SUPERINTENDENT. MRS. G. W. HATCH—Sir:—I have been using the Ely Automatic Cow-Milkers since September last and cheerfully recommend them to the public. Yours respectfully, W. A. MARSHALL.

Every Farmer a Stock Raiser is convinced that an impure state of blood originates the variety of diseases that afflict a horse, such as Founder, Distemper, Fistula, Pol-Evil, Hile-Bound, Inward Strains, Scraiches, Mange, Kells, Water, Heaves, Loss of Appetite, Inflammation of the Eyes, Swelled Legs, Fatigue from Hard Labor, and Rheumatism (by some called Stiff Complaint), proving fatal to so many valuable Horses.

In all new countries we hear of fatal diseases among Fowls, styled Chicken Cholera, Gapes, Blind eye, Glanders, Megrim or Giddiness, etc. LEIS'S POWDER will eradicate these diseases. In severe attacks, mix a small quantity with corn meal, moistened, and feed twice a day.

Cows require an abundance of nutritious food, not to make them fat, but to keep up a regular secretion of milk. Farmers and dairymen attend the fact that by judicious use of Leis's Condition Powder, a flow of milk is greatly increased, and quality vastly improved.

LEIS'S POWDER is an excellent remedy for Hogs. The farmer will rejoice to know that a prompt and efficient remedy for the various diseases to which these animals are subject, is found in Leis's Condition Powder. For Distemper, Inflammation of the Brain, Coughs, Fevers, Sore Lungs, Measles, Sore Ears, Mange, Hog Cholera, Sore Teats, Kidney Worms, etc., a fifty-cent paper added to a tub of swill and given freely, is a certain preventive. It promotes digestion, purifies the blood, and is therefore the BEST ANTIDOTE for fattening Hogs.
