

SPARE PARTS

A PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES

Spare Parts: A Public Lecture Series will draw upon the collective knowledge of the K-State community to further explore and understand the issues raised in the book.

All events are free and open to the public.

1
NOVEMBER

COMING OUT OF THE SHADOWS: A PANEL DISCUSSION

7 - 8 pm
Justin Hall 163

A panel of students share their experiences and thoughts about being an undocumented student at K-State.

Sponsored by KSBN in partnership with the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), and the Department of American Ethnic Studies.

4
NOVEMBER

A CONVERSATION WITH FREDI LAJVARDI

4-5 pm
McVay Family Town Hall,
Leadership Studies

Fredi Lajvardi is a practicing high school teacher, nationally recognized STEM educator, and subject of the documentary "Underwater Dreams" and "Spare Parts". He will talk about his experience teaching at Carl Hayden Community High School. Join us for a conversation with this inspirational teacher and mentor.

Sponsored by KSBN in partnership with K-State First, the College of Education, K-State Libraries, the University Honors Program, SGA, and the Department of English.

VISIT www.k-state.edu/ksbn for more information!

