Instructions for accessing H. Camp's electronic dissertation:

The .pdf file "HowardCamp.pdf" contains links to external movies that are embedded in the document. In order to properly view these animations, the accompanying file "HowardCamp.zip" should be uncompressed in the same directory as the .pdf file. A subdirectory entitled "movies" will be created, and the animations will then be accessible as embedded movies in the original document.

As long as this subdirectory is present in the same location as the original .pdf file, the dissertation should be viewable as a complete document. Also note that "HowardCamp.pdf" must be viewed using Adobe Reader version 6.0 or later. Earlier versions of Adobe Reader will not display the inline animations correctly.
