ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The writer wishes to express her appreciation to several individuals for their support and guidance in the preparation of this study. Dr. Floyd H. Price, Assistant Professor of Education, served as the major professor and was most helpful with many thoughtful suggestions. Dr. Richard G. Hause, Assistant Professor of Education, and Associate Professor Oscar V. Larmer, Head of the Art Department, served on the writer's committee. Their time and aid are equally appreciated. Grateful acknowledgment also is expressed to Dr. John T. Roscoe, Associate Professor of Education, for his programming the statistics for the computer and his aid in analyzing the print out. Sincere gratitude is extended to the following who served as judges: Mr. Larmer; Dr. Price; Mrs. Virginia Anderson, elementary art teacher at Clay Center; Mr. Bruce Petty, secondary art teacher at Hanover and Linn; Mrs. Rozanne Livengood, Clay Center housewife; and Mrs. Elva Simmitt, Barnes housewife.

A special expression of appreciation is accorded to the author's husband, Arthur; her ten-year old daughter, Jordan; and her five-year old son, Miles. Without their endless understanding and vast cooperation, this work could never have been completed.
