HOG CONCENTRATE

All over the Mid-West, careful feeders have found they get the most gain per dollar feeding their own farm-grown grain custom-mixed with CO-OP Concentrates. See your CO-OP Feed Service Center for the complete CO-OP Custom-Mix Feeding Program. Three representative formulations for hogs are shown below. Other formulations cover other types of hog, and other livestock and poultry.

Editor's Note: The following note is from A. D. Jellison, Junction City, former member of the board of trustees, Kansas 4-H Foundation. Mr. Jellison recently retired as an active member of the board, but has been retained in an advisory capacity.

"We have received so many letters and cards that it is impossible for us to acknowledge receipt of each one. The thoughtfulness of all these fine people is so greatly appreciated. God Bless each of you.

Our friends are our greatest asset. The joy of giving is a reward in itself; the friends made are a wonderful bonus. As a result of our experience, I urge everyone to know the pleasure of helping others.

Contributions, no matter how large or how small, will serve double duty. And probably the greatest satisfaction comes from helping young people through the church, 4-H and other worthwhile programs. I find the Kansas 4-H Foundation is one of the fine ways to help young people, who are also trying to help themselves.

We want to take this opportunity to personally thank the parents and the leaders of these 4-H'ers for the dedicated leadership they are rendering, which means so much to the success of this program."

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jellison

Editor's Note: The following letter was received in the State Club office in May from IFYE delegate Gloria Bartholomew. We would like to share it with you.

Dear Friends of the IFYE Program,

I want to take this means of thanking you for your interest and support of the International Farm Youth Exchange Program. You have indicated an interest in furthering world understanding and I will strive to the best of my ability to further this cause also.

I am now busy preparing slides of Osborne County and Kansas to show my Japanese friends.

My versatile wardrobe of light weight, drip-dry fabrics is also in the finishing stages. Planning for two seasons has posed some problems.

I have been studying American History and Government as well as Japanese customs. You are probably wondering about the language barrier—well, to be right frank, I am too. I visit my Japanese tutor once a week. She also helps me with cultural questions.

A week of orientation begins June 13 in Washington, D. C. and from there to Japan by plane. The exact date I will return to the U.S.A. has not been set yet but it will be by mid-December.

I will be looking forward to sharing my experiences with you upon my return. Until then, I remain your IFYE delegate.

Conservation and Health Camps Attract Large Number of 4-H'ers

More than 350 Kansas 4-H'ers attended the annual State 4-H Club Conservation Camp and the State 4-H Club Health Camp July 6-10 at Rock Springs Ranch.

The two camps are conducted each year by the Extension Service, Kansas State University, in cooperation with Federal Cartridge Corporation, Minneapolis, Minn., and Folger Coffee Co., Kansas City.

Federal Cartridge gives financial assistance to the conservation camp to provide programs, counselors and speakers. Folgers provides more than 150 scholarships to the health camp.

Those attending the conservation camp studied geology, forestry, conservation, water safety, fish management, entomology, the story of wheat to bread, ornithology, and protection of birds.

Health camp delegates had classes in bacteriology and food sanitation, health education, family life, mental health, State Board of Health programs, and alcohol education. The state award winning club in health during the past year, the Saline County Willing Workers, reviewed their program.

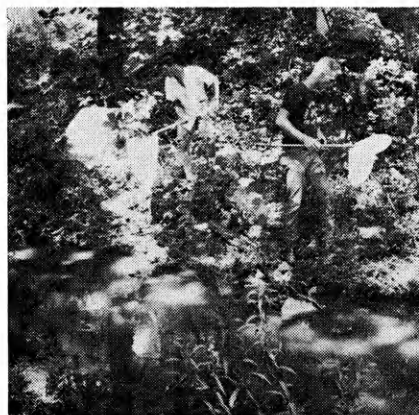

Club members who attended the 1964 events served as coordinating committees to assist with

"Let Us help you with your WOODWORKING PROJECT"

Free Plan Books

4-H Woodworking is for "learning by doing"—making useful projects and at the same time learning construction methods, something about materials, tools, joints, etc. used in construction.

These helpful booklets were developed by mid-western extension engineers and feature practical projects for farm and home.

4-H members are invited to present the coupon, in person, to be presented with their choice of one of these booklets.

The Sutherland Lumber Company is indeed proud to be able to play a small part in the all important 4-H program and particularly in the wood-working division. It has been Sutherland's privilege to provide medals for county winners and sponsor the Kansas winner to the National 4-H Club Congress.

SEND IN YOUR PICTURES

We want pictures taken by Kansas 4-H'ers. Prizes will be given for all pictures used in the Journal.

The picture need not be on 4-H Club work, but pictures with subjects related to 4-H Clubs are preferred. Action pictures are desired.

All pictures should be glossy prints at least five by seven inches in size unless accompanied by the negative.

Photographs should be accompanied by a short statement explaining the picture and including the names of persons shown.

Entrants should designate their choice of the following prizes. A year's subscription to the National 4-H Club News, one roll of color film—sizes 620, 120, 616, 116, 127 or 35 mm only, or a 4-H Club photograph album.

4-H members, parents, leaders, county agents or friends of 4-H may send in pictures.

These Harmony Valley 4-H club members observed 4-H Sunday at Sacred Heart Church. After the services they took a trip to Hiawatha to visit the Davis Memorial and the Brown county lake for a picnic.

Photography project members in Sedgwick county (left) view a few of their finished works. Proper mounting is an important phase in this 4-H project.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Russell Phillips the photography project members of the Sunnydale, Valley Victor and Farley 4-H clubs are gaining a lot of practical and sophisticated knowledge of photography.

Mrs. Phillips has organized the project into a series of meetings designed to teach project members the fundamentals of photography in addition to some of the more refined and sophisticated techniques used by professional photographers.

The project has been geared for completion just prior to the Sedgwick county fair at which time project members will have an opportunity to display their work and talents.

Mrs. Phillips has divided the project members into two groups for instructional purposes. The project has 14 enrolled in the beginners group and 8 enrolled in the advance group.

During the 10 project meetings, held so far this year, the group has had discussion sessions, heard talks and demonstrations, and participated in work sessions on the various phases of the project.

Mrs. Phillips has prepared project books for each member to maintain as a project requirement. The books include a list of the project requirements that each member is to complete, a photography manual, and two pages of pictures taken by the project member.

At each project meeting Mrs. Phillips makes assignments which must be completed by the next project meeting which is held in two weeks.

There is no lagging in the project as Mrs. Phillips devotes extra time with those who are behind in their project work. She will pick them up after school or during their spare time and help them with their requirements.

During each meeting members give demonstrations and talks on the particular phase that the group is studying. Mrs. Phillips has prepared an outline and text that members can study and use in their talks and demonstrations. She also critiques each member's talk or demonstration.

Mrs. Phillips says that she tries to keep the members divided into small groups during the 45-minute meetings so each can better benefit by participation.

An important part of the program, designed by Mrs. Phillips, is the field trips that project members take during the year. This year both groups, beginners and advanced, toured a commercial photo finishing plant, the Wichita Eagle photo lab, and the Wichita University campus. At the newspaper lab the members were shown how to print colored pictures and were given the opportunity to print pictures from an enlarger.

According to Mrs. Phillips the first meeting was devoted to a get acquainted session. "We discussed the project requirements and learned to clean and load a camera," she said.

Talks and demonstrations are an important part of the project. Mark Holmer is giving a demonstration on "How To Develop Film" at one of the project meetings. Mrs. Phillips, project leader, critiques each talk and demonstration, giving helpful pointers and hints.

The highlight of the year for the project members was a trip to Abilene and the Old Abilene Cowtown.

During the second meeting the members took a picture taking field trip and received instructions on taking pictures.

Negatives were discussed and viewed during the third meeting, Mrs. Phillips said.

By the fourth meeting the members were ready to learn how to make contact prints. The club utilizes Mrs. Phillips' house and darkroom for the project meetings.

The fifth meeting was reserved as a work night and the viewing of some slides. Mrs. Phillips says that the more the project members see good, quality pictures, the more they understand what they're working toward and what a quality picture actually is.

The sixth meeting was the field trip through the photo plant and to the Eagle lab.

At the seventh meeting members discussed flash pictures. Both blubs and attachments were subjects studied at the meeting.

Learning to use props and interesting backgrounds can add much to a picture. This project member is using a pretty girl, a few bales of hay and a rabbit for an interesting picture.

The Kodak Company furnished two sound movies for the eighth meeting of the project. It was also parents night.

Flood lighting was the topic for the ninth meeting. A display was arranged on a table and each member took a picture utilizing the techniques discussed.

A discussion and demonstration of home made equipment filled the majority of the time during the tenth meeting. The group also made plans for their next field trip.

The highlight of the project, to date, was the eleventh meeting which was a field trip to Abilene. At Abilene the project members toured the Eisenhower museum and the restored Abilene Cow town. Each member took three rolls of film on the trip.

Mrs. Phillips says that the members enjoy the developing and printing pictures, cropping, and the field trips the most of all the project activities. She said that she has high hopes for their showing in the county fair this month.

Mrs. Phillips (center) includes a session on homemade equipment as one of the project meetings. Here she shows a few of the homemade items which can be used in the project.

Food Project Leaders Train In Pawnee County

Mrs. Elmer Hagerman, County Foods Project Chairman has conducted a series of three meetings for the Foods Leaders in Pawnee County. She did an excellent job of presenting her material and the women accepted her presentation very well.

At the first meeting she presented material that she received at the State Leader Training Meeting at Rock Springs Ranch.

At the second meeting the women had an all day meeting in connection with a workshop. The women that work with the Meal Service phases brought in a loaf of bread already baked to be judged or brought in some dough to make into loaves of bread at the workshop.

The ladies judged all of the loaves of bread at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Rex Phillips demonstrated making a loaf of bread from start to finish and shared with the group her ideas for making bread.

The ladies that work with the younger 4-H members brought in 4 biscuits for the group to judge and a film strip on "Biscuit Making" for the group to review.

Mrs. Keith Mull, River Ramblers 4-H Foods Leader demonstrated making "Brownies." The leaders then judged a group of brownies that had been brought to the meeting.

The third Leader Training Meeting was held the last part of April with seven out of ten clubs in attendance.

Mrs. Hagerman asked Mrs. Rex Phillips to present a demonstration to the group on making Sponge Cakes. She was delighted to do so. She made the cake from start to finish. The group judged it when it cooled. She had won $25.00 on a similar cake a few years ago at an Egg and Poultry Show at Great Bend. The County Meal Service Project Leaders brought in Sponge Cakes that the group judged after the demonstration.

Mrs. Shelton Darnall, Rezol Hustlers Meal Service Project Leader, did a similar demonstration with an Angel Food Cake. The leaders also brought in Angel Food Cakes that the group judged after the demonstration.

4-H Recreation

By Dick Tomkinson

The following report was sent by Steve Jenkins, Richland Rustlers 4-H club, Pratt county. The Rustlers are a top club that understand the importance of recreation.

Steve stresses the talent aspect of their club recreation program, but the club has done much more. Last year a series of news-paper articles about recreation was written by one of the club members, Steve Lunt. Recreation training sessions for club recreation leaders, special parties and good club recreation at meetings have been used to maintain the interest of the members. The Richland Rustlers 4-H club works to make recreation fun.

During the past eight years, the Richland Rustlers 4-H Club of Pratt County has presented eight talent numbers which have been chosen to appear on the State Talent Show at the State Fair or perform at the State Talent Show which is now held in Manhattan one evening during State Round-up.

Recently, recreation has been changed from an activity to a club project in which recreational skill is developed. Richland club members and leaders believe the wholesome use of leisure time is definitely a concern of 4-H club work because 4-H club work is trying to develop the whole person and supplements the home, the church and the school. The Richland Rustlers Club has been a State winner in Recreation the last seven years.

This year, the girls' vocal trio, called the "Rhythmettes," were chosen to appear on the State Talent Show. This trio, consisting of Eileen Leak, Denise Reed, and Teresa Sillin, has sung for many community activities such as bridal showers, businessmen's meetings, Liberal Pan Cake Day, and church services, as well as many 4-H club meetings, and activities. This year, out of approximately 70 entries at the annual Liberal Pan Cake Talent Show, the girls took second place and a $75 cash award prize.

Steve Jenkins played his accordion at the State 4-H Talent Show at Manhattan, in 1964.

In 1961, the "De Feuders," a version of the "Bottle Boys" act, performed at the State 4-H Talent Show at the Kansas State Fair in Hutchinson. The participants were dressed in hillbilly clothes, playing on three sets of beer bottles, a set of bass jugs, a washboard, and a bull fiddle made out of a wash tub and a long board, with a long plastic clothesline suspended between the tub and the top of the board. Two members, while accompanied by this "strange" music, sang the song entitled "The Martins and the Coys."

In 1960, five members from our club called the "Harmonica Rascals" were invited to the State 4-H Talent Show at the Kansas State Fair.

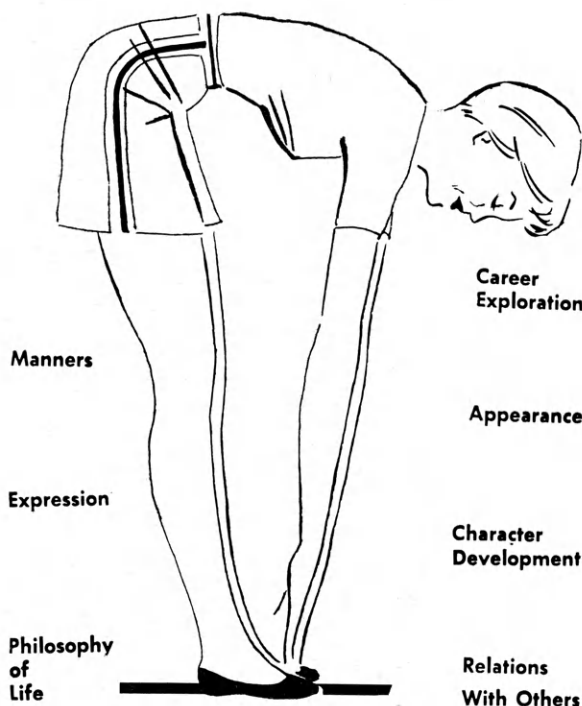

In 1959, "The Singing Spinsters," a girls vocal trio, composed of three girls from our Richland Rustlers Club, participated in the State 4-H Talent Show at the Kansas State Fair.

In 1958, "The Hootin' Tootin' Bottle Boys" made an appearance on the State 4-H Talent Show.

Also in 1958, our club had another number on the State 4-H Talent Show. This consisted of three girls, and this act was a musical reading, called "Sparkin' Peggy Jane."

The PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT

stretches the 4-H program to meet the changing interests and needs of teenage members.

The seven phases of the program are designed to give emphasis to those areas often neglected in the Maturing process.

The people at Southwestern Bell Telephone Company are proud to have a part in this 4-H project by sponsoring awards for outstanding work.

Joyce Line Wins Cartoon Contest

The winner of the 4-H Cartoon Character Contest and the $20 first prize award is Joyce Line of Lakin. The contest was sponsored by the Kansas 4-H Journal and the Kansas Farm Bureau and Affiliated Services.

The 18-year-old 4-H'er entered the contest "just for fun" and to pass a few idle hours. Her prize winning cartoon is pictured on the cover of this month's magazine.

Miss Line is a member of the Sunset 4-H club, Kearney county. She has been active as a junior leader and has served as song leader and club historian. She is also 4-H council representative for the club.

Joyce, who says she has had no formal art instruction or even any inclination to do so, is enrolled in summer school at Kansas State University. She plans to major in physical therapy.

When asked what she would do with the $20 prize money, Joyce replied that she already had it spent.

The other nine place finishers were:

Joe Barani, Manhattan
Lee Buehrle, Atwood
Dave Crockett, Ottawa

Vickie Roberts, Iola
Beverly Stockman, Maple Hill
Kathleen Sweany, Emporia
Dale Switzer, Jr., Formoso
Stephan White, Salina

EDITOR'S NOTE:
From time to time the Journal will run a few of cartoons entered in the contest. These two cartoons are examples of the high quality of some of the entries.

Ideas That Work

Club Holds Reunion

The Wide Awake 4-H Club, Marshall county, oldest club in Marshall county, held a reunion attended by more than 100 4-H members, parents and friends. The reunion began with a potluck dinner and the remainder of the afternoon was spent with a program and playing baseball.

Mrs. Joseph Cooper, who served as an active leader since the club was founded, was honored with the presentation of an autograph book. The book was compiled of pages which had been filled out by girls living all over the United States who had been in 4-H under Mrs. Coopers leadership.

Mrs. Cooper, who recently resigned, also was presented a novelty sewing machine.

A list of current members of the club was read. Potted plants were presented to the following: the former member with the most children, former member who came the farthest, oldest member, oldest leader present, leader for the longest time, oldest leader not present, and one family was recognized for having children in 4-H for 27 consecutive years.

The club displayed booklets, clippings, snapshots, and clothing projects.

4-H'ers Take Boom Out of Aerosol Cans

Boom! an explosion and someone just lost an eye or maybe killed. Why? Because a "bomb" was not disarmed.

Members of the Valley Victors 4-H club, Montgomery county, safety committee have been attending home demonstration unit meetings, Grange meetings, and other 4-H clubs offering suggestions that may save an eye or a life. The subject of their talks and demonstrations is the disarming of aerosol cans.

The first thing to do is to spray all the contents out of the can. Then wrap the container in newspaper and place in a deep freeze or freezing compartment of a refrigerator. Leave overnight.

Next, remove the can and tear a hole in the newspaper. Take the wrapped can outdoors and puncture it with an ice pick. This relieves the pressure and makes the "bomb" harmless.

A can that has not been disarmed when exposed to extreme heat from trash fires or the sun and may explode. An exploding aerosol bomb has been known to wedge pieces of the can in the seat of an automobile parked 100 feet away.

"Counterdose For The Home"

What would you do if someone in your home accidentally took poison? The first minute of action could mean life or death.

To assure the right action is taken the Beverly Booster 4-H club, Saline county, gave a booklet, "Counterdose For The Home" to each home in the Beverly community. Each family was asked to place it near the health center of their home for handy reference. This safety project also will make the community a better place to live.

Club Works To Keep Teens

The Shacoka 4-H Club, Shawnee county, strives to secure and keep older youth interested in the 4-H club program.

Members, who are all 14 years old or older, select a particular area each year to be the center of their club's activities. Each year the club sets a goal which they feel serves to attract members and motivate individuals to participate and achieve in activities. Last year club members worked in the area of citizenship and as part of their program attended the Citizenship Short Course in Washington. Their trip was financed by a "trash and treasure" money-making project. Club members, which number approximately 50, are concentrating on a career program this year.

4-H Sunday Program

The Hustler's 4-H club, Nemaha county, sponsored a program for the St. Benedict community on 4-H Sunday.

With Tom Sudbeck, club president, acting as Master of Ceremonies, the program opened with the audience joining in singing "Our Father."

The 4-H members then sang "Vive La'mour" after which the officers of the club were introduced. Maxine Bergman gave a reading pertaining to 4-H entitled, "A 4-H Fable."

Mr. Ron Henry, a papal volunteer who has spent three years in Brazil, was a guest speaker. He showed slides pertaining to his work in Brazil.

An estimated 175 persons attended the program.

Club Entertains Old Folks

The recreation committee of the Mulvane 4-H Club, Sedgwick county, combined service with business when they danced for a local old age home before going to their project leaders home.

The square dancers prefroled before patients ranging in age up to ninety-five years. The youngsters even persuaded one patient to dance a couple of the easier dances.

Editor's Note: The Kansas 4-H Journal thrives on ideas—those that have been tried successfully by clubs throughout the state and that can be used by other clubs and members. Brief accounts of a community service project, an unusual club meeting, a unique handling of a project are just a few of the topics we can use on the "Ideas" section of the Journal. Send them to the Kansas 4-H Journal, Kansas State University, Manhattan. Copy deadlines are on the first of the preceding month.

After the service project, recreation members met in the home of their leader to plan Activity Nights. Committees were chosen to provide refreshments, games, and dances for the events.

Activity Nights were established by the club to give recreation project members a chance to meet together to play games, dance and make friends. They are held one night each month.

Ideas In Brief

Gove County—The Cloverleaf 4-H club is making and selling doughnuts as a money making project. The club recently sold doughnuts and sandwiches at a machinery sale at Grainfield. They cleared $23.18.

Wanda Jean Deges, Reporter
Saline County—Members of the Willing Workers 4-H club presented a live television show called, "This Is Salina," on KSLN-TV, Salina.

Harvey County—The Kansas Jayhawkers 4-H club earned $11.00 during a recent sale of clean rags.

Susan Hiebert, Reporter
Edwards County—Rita Nutting demonstrated the different ways of scraping out a mixing bowl at a recent meeting of the Wayne Workers 4-H club. You do this, she said, by putting your thumb on the bottom and your fingers on the sides of the bowl. You should have seen the different ways that are incorrect.

Debra Sparke, Reporter
Sedgwick County—The Goodard 4-H club served refreshments and helped out at the Kansas Tree Farm dedication at the Woody Moore Tree Farm near Goddard on Sunday June 27. This program was in cooperation with the State Extension Forestry and Soil Conservation programs. This program enabled club members to perform a community service and learn valuable information about the relationship between tree farming and the 4-H forestry project.

RISE AND FALL OF CIVILIZATIONS ...

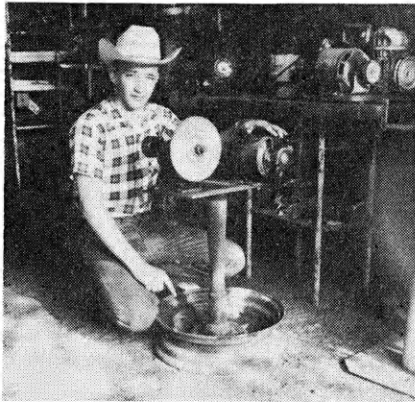

How can democratic methods be used to destroy the substance of liberty? The answer lies in the democracy has been extended beyond its traditional dimensions. The democratic system is continually being pressed to become an instrument for the forcible redistribution of wealth and the expansion of government.

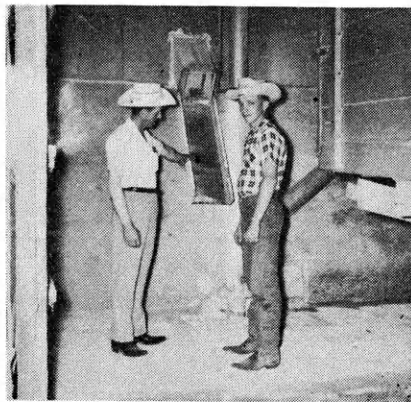

In the Constitution, our founding fathers established not a democracy but a republic, with built-in safeguards against unrestrained mass rule, such as separation of powers, checks and balances and a federation of states. These qualifications and protective restrictions have been progressively eroded by judicial interpretation or swept away by constitutional amendment. Thus the way is left open for all sorts of "welfare" schemes, many of doubtful constitutional or financial legitimacy.

What the Government subsidizes it can also control. As its power increases, our freedom diminishes. Many vigilant persons recognize this peril to their liberties, but in the face of the tremendous voting power of the pressure groups and other recipients of "free" Federal money, the odds are increasingly against them. It is possible for the people to vote themselves into bondage. We shall be fortunate if this doesn't happen to us.—Oscar Ibe, Professor of Political Science, Kent State University.

Kansas Farm Bureau 105 County Farm Bureaus Working Together

Kenneth DeDonder, 18, displays the grinder for sharpening knives and other smaller articles that he made in connection with the 4-H electric project.

This grain elevator that Kenneth is standing in front of is another one of the many application he has found for his knowledge of electricity.

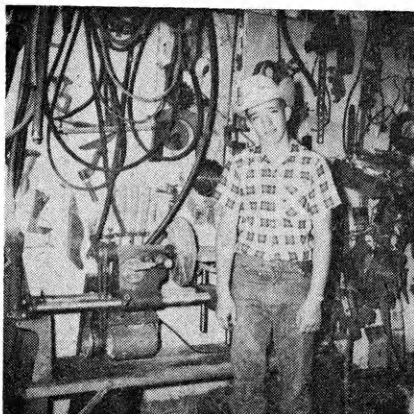

In addition to cooling his pigs, Kenneth has found many other uses for this fan that he made as part of the 4-H electric project.

Versatility of Electricity Demonstrated by 4-H Member

Kenneth DeDonder, Dutch Creek Pals 4-H club, Lyon county, has utilized the knowledge he has gained about electricity from the 4-H electric project to provide a wide variety of electrical conveniences on his parent's farm.

Kenneth, 18, has been a 4-H member for 10 years and has been in the electric project for 6 years. His other projects include crops, tractors, deferred steers, swine, auto, junior leadership, woodwork, heifer, and soil and water conservation.

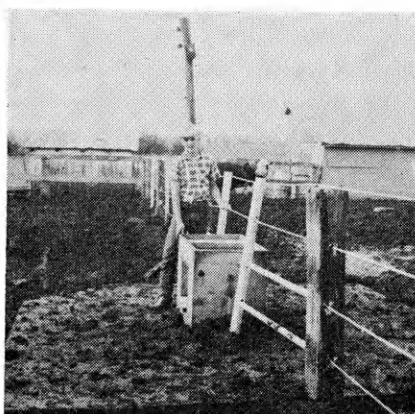

Kenneth is standing in front of some of the electric shop equipment which he uses in the woodworking project. He has discovered that the two projects complement each other.

The Dutch Creek club president assists younger members with electrical problems during the electric project meetings that the club holds monthly. At these meetings attention is turned to more complicated electrical projects such as re-wiring motors, houses and barns.

In addition to the many projects Kenneth has done, he also has helped his father and brother wire a house they recently built.

This electric watering device is one that Kenneth helped wire. It is used to water the family's beef herd.

Kenneth has used this electric heat lamp, that he wired, as part of his sow and litter project.
