An interesting session took place when president Ward called for a membership report. Secretary Lynn was placed in charge of this feature.

Dozens of members responded from the floor with reports of membership work done. Evidence of much en-thusiastic work came to the surface in this 45-minute period. The secre-

This convention of a leading farm organization in a leading agricultural state could not have attracted this wide attention except for the fact that the position of agriculture is universally regarded as having a significant bearing on the entire reconstruction program of this nation. Agriculture occupies the key position in the national recovery program. Therefore, the United States watched to see what this convention would do.

Since this year's convention was in the first district, it followed that the next convention would be in the second. This eliminated a number of contestant cities, but left Hays and Ellis in the running. Both cities are in Ellis county. It was the opinion of some that one of the two cities might have withdrawn had the contest been open to the entire state. Both, however, remained in the contest, and the names of both cities were placed on the regular ballot, in order that only delegates could vote. The result was that Ellis will entertain the next Farmers Union convention in Kansas.

Two Meeting Places Two places of meeting were pro-vided for the convention. Asserting that the President of the United States is seeking to "get away from this rediculous situation of starvation in a land of plenty," Harry L Hopkins, national unemployment re-lief director, called in several Kansas farmers and farm organization room in Kansas City Sunday morning, October 29. His opening statement to the group was, "The President must

Mr. Ward took the position that take up almost all crop and food surplusses and use it in relief, without disturbing market prices as far as velt for our president now and for the farmer is concerned. The surplus, another three years. We have the now a menace to the market, will be eliminated by being fed to the needy, and yet none will go to those who portunity. He stated the corporation is ready to spend $10,000,000 for cattle, and another $10,000,000 through the A.A.A., for supplies for the needy un-employed, and that most of these huge amounts would go to the American farmer. Mr. Hopkins branded as tragic the fact that thousands of Kansas farm families are forced to accept relief. "It's unthinkable that farm families should want for food and to be in danger of losing their homes. We simply can't let such a condition go on," he said. Then he added, "And if you heard or read the President's Sunday night speech, you should know culture." He spoke of the tendency to that he is determined to put a stop

GOVERNOR CALLED SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Asks Legislators to Confine Delibera tions to Emergency Matters, Leaving Other Matters to Next Regular Session

COMMITTEE ON JOB

Farm Organizations Not Yet Opened Office, However; Landon's Message Points Out Definite Measures to Act On

The special session of the Kansas state legislature convened at noon on Monday, October 30. The session has been called by Governor Alf M. Landon for the purpose of consider-ing issues pertaining to state relief, the bond scandal, banking laws and beer legislation.

Governor Landon went before the legislature with his special message on Tuesday, October 31. He urged that the legislature confine itself to emergency matters since "it would be unwise to prolong this session unduly and to consider matters that do not require action before the next regular session of the legislature."

The Committee of Kansas Farm Organizations, which maintained a lobby and office headquarters in To-peka during the last regular session, will be on the job this year in the special session, although as yet no arrangement has been made to maintain a special headquarters office. Just what measures will come up for consideration which will directly af-fect Kansas agriculture are not yet determined. If the convention follows ing its deliberations to matters he names, there will not be as much work for the Committee of farm organizations as existed last winter. However, the farm organizations will be on the job, ready to protect Kansas farmers' interests whenever called upon.

Briefly, the matters which the Governor wants the legislature to consider are summed up as contained in sas Farmers Union accepts parity his message, as follows:

A PART OF YOUR LIVE?
STOCK PROFITS TO SOME ONE ELSE

The only thing new in live stock marketing is the development of a live stock commission firm OWNED AND OPERATED by FARMERS

It's called a COOPERATIVE firm. Through it, farmers market THEIR OWN products through THEIR OWN firm.

The profits are THEIR OWN and they get to keep them. Your live stock is marketed AT COST. It's fine to help others, but right now most farmers feel the need of KEEPING THEIR PROFITS THEMSELVES. Market your next animal, truck load, car load or train load, through YOUR OWN FIRM.

"HIT WHILE IRON HOT"

Only a few days ago, W. H. Reynolds of Conway Springs, sent in a plan based on controlled production rush order for additional application and parity prices. He pointed out that blanks. They were sent to him at once, and now he sends another rush other industries which operate above order, having used all of the last cost of production. Parity prices for shipment. That certainly sounds as those who cooperate will bring this shipment. That certainly sounds as those who cooperate will offer though membership business is picking up down in Sumner county. Business always picks up when such men if agriculture receives parity prices, A woman is scarcely ever beaten in an argument—still it would be scarcely up right to say that in a battle of iness always picks up when such men if agriculture receives parity prices, tongues "she holds her own."

as Mr. Reynolds and his associates in Sumner county get busy.

In his letter asking for more blanks Mr. Reynolds says, "We have got the iron hot here, and the old saying is, Hit while the iron is hot'. Milan Local got 67 members. I was down there who has passed away and has left last night (Thursday, October 25).

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to Rural Rest Local No. 2133 Salina, for the floral offering as we as for the kind sentiment conveyed in the time of our recent suffering

A NATION WATCHED STATE CONVENTION

(continued from page 1) Lambertson, Howard, Praise Program The Thursday program, with the exception of the evening program, was of the time was occupied with reports from the various state-wide Farmers

Union marketing, purchasing and business activities.

Two forceful and well received speeches were delivered in the evening at the University auditorium. Hon. W. P. Lambertson, congressman from the first Kansas district and member of the national Farmers Union board of directors, was the first to speak. Mr. Lambertson told of the work done since the last annual convention, by way of accomplished legislation in Congress. He praised the A.A.A. and lauded the farm organizations for their ability to work together in the accomplishment of a forward-going program. He called on the Kansas farmers not to belittle the NRA and other efforts of the Administration to bring the country back to an even keel. Mr. Lambertson took pride in being among those farm leaders who presented the present Agricultural plan to the President for his approval, which he gave thus making the program his program. tive of the A.A.A., formerly executive ently, and the Stock Yards Compnay secretary of the Colorado Farmers is cooperating with the commission Union and chairman of the executive firms in every way to speed up the ion, followed Mr. Lambertson on the Thursday evening program. Mr. Howard boldly and convincingly defended the A.A.A. and the wheat allotment it will receive more than cost of production.

Mr. Howard appealed to Kansas farmers as well as all Kansas citizens to support the United States government in its endeavor to bring recovery to agriculture as well as to other lines of industry. He declared that the Kansas Farmers Union, through the leadership of Cal Ward, has done more than any other organization to present the true picture of agricultural conditions to Washington. Mr. Howard's address was broadcast over

More Detailed Reports Later

The Friday sessions were held in the Orpheum building. Voting began at 8 o'clock in the morning. Some of the business and marketing activities' reports had been held over for the norning session, after which reports of committees were presented and acted upon.

Election results and the resolutions adopted by the convention as presented by the two main committes, egislative and resolutions commitees, are shown in this issue. More detailed reports on some of the addresses and reports will be published in future issues of the Kansas Union Farmer, after notes on the convention proceedings have been fully transcribed.

LARGEST TRUCKED-IN CATTLE

On October 3rd, 1933, the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission Company at Kansas City received 452 head of cattle and calves which arrived by truck. This is the largest number arriving by truck that the Farmers Union has received in any one day. During the month of September, in spite of the fact that most trucks were engaged in hauling pigs, the Farmers Union received 3406 head of cattle and calves.

The past few months have witnessed a decided increase in receipts in the trucked in cattle division, and a good many large cattle feeders are now using this method of transportation to move carload lots to market. THE SCOPE AND PURPOSE OF THE PRESIDENT'S EMERGENCY

RE-EMPLOYMENT

CAMPAIGN

The President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign may be described briefly as a plan to add from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 persons to the nation's payrolls within the next six weeks or so, through agreements made with the President of the United States by some 5,000,000 concerns or individuals, employing two or more persons each. In order that this number of jobs may be made available, it will be necessary. of course, for employers in many cases to shorten working hours. The plan also provides for certain minimum wage scales which also in many cases will mean added labor costs for the employer. The President's Agreement, however, includes a pledge of cooperation from the consuming public, and it is thus anticipated that the employer, while undertaking a larger expense as the direct result of his agreement with the President, will gain added patronage as the just reward of his public spirited attitude. The fact also is to be borne in mind that where all employers act together to put people back on their payrolls or to raise wages, no employer, as the President himself has pointed out, "will suffer because the relative level of competitive cost will advance by the same amount

It is to be understood that this plan is supplementary to the plan of code adoption by various industrial and trade groups which has for its purpose the elimination of unfair competition, the establishment of more equable rewards for labor, the spread of employment and the control of production. This plan for speeding business recovery, launched under the provisions of the National Recovery Act passed by the last Congress, is rapidly being made effective, and there will be no let-up on the drive to make its adoption widespread.

The President's Emergency Re-employment plan will bridge time and bring the nation out of the depression more rapidly than if the code adoption plan were depended upon exclusively. The President's Agreement also covers many business groups that would not be amenable to any of the code arrangements.

And what is still more important, perhaps, the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign carries certain psychological values that are as priceless as patriotism at this juncture of our economic history. The President himself made this quite clear in his recent radio address to the nation when he said: "On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this nationwide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it-in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society, and of the Nation itself, that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could ever hope to bring about."

Thus we have all the power and potency of mass attack directed along sound lines of organization and system. Here briefly, is an outline of this organized attack on unemployment: In every community, organizations are formed along military lines, which is fitting enough, because the President's Emergency Re-employment campaign is Uncle Sam's war on unemployment and the nation is rallying to the colors just as loyally as though we were actually engaged in a war against a

The local committee is made up of the active heads of the leading business and civic organizations, and includes also the mayor. These committees in the thousands of cities and towns throughout the country were formed following telegrams and letters sent by General Johnson to the presidents of Chambers of Commerce or similar trade bodies in every section of the United States. These local committees elect a general to have charge of the city campaign and a lieutenant general who is a woman. The general selects three colonels, each of whom is to take over a certain part of the campaign work. For example, Colonel No. 1 has charge of the "man-power" or organization department. Under his direction block-to-block canvasses will be made to check up on compliance with the President's Agreement, and to make a survey of the unemployed, as to adaptability by experience as to trades and industries and thus be able more readily to help in the processes of assimilation of labor by expanding industries. Colonel No. 2, briefly, has charge of newspaper publicity and kindred activities; and Colonel No. 3 has the training and direction of public speakers under his charge.

Each of these three colonels has seven or more majors on his staff, and each major has about the same number of captains. Each captain has seven or more field workers. All of the local organizations are, of course, constantly supplied with educational and inspirational material of all kinds from the National Recovery Administration in Washington. Literally tons and tons of printed matter has been shipped to every nook and corner of the country. The N.R.A. emblem, known popularly as the Blue Eagle, is one of the most interesting and vital features of the campaign. All employers who sign the President's Agreement are entitled to display the Blue Eagle with the initials N.R.A. and the words "We Do Our Part." Merchants, manufacturers and all others who have the right to display the insignia by reason of their having complied with the President's Agreement, are permitted to hang it on their walls, or in their windows, or on trucks and cars, and, if they so desire, to stamp it on their products-or merchandise. It is, in fact, the desire of the Recovery Administration that all make liberal use of this badge of patriotism.

Any person in the United States who wishes to cooperate in the President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign and be considered as a member of the N.R.A. may go to the authorized establishment in his locality and sign a statement of cooperation as follows:

"I will cooperate in re-employment by supporting and patronizing employers and workers who are members of N.R.A." Any such signer will then be given and may thereafter use the insignia of consumer membership in N.R.A. Every phase of the progress of this mighty campaign will be flashed in the newspapers of the country and announced constantly over the radio. In this way everyone will be in a position to know just what the campaign is doing from day to day in actually putting people back on the payrolls and adding to the mass purchasing power of the country.

While, as has been stated, it is desired that liberal use of the insignia be made by employer and consumers, it is to be remembered that the official N.R.A. emblem is the property of the United States Government and may not be used or reproduced without authority of the National Recovery Administration.

The lists of all employers who sign the President's Agreement are displayed in local post-offices and it is urged that all employers who have not yet signed the agreement do so immediately and deliver them to their local post-master. With some minor exceptions, the terms of the President's Agreement with employers is, briefly, as follows: Any employer of a factory or mechanical worker or artisan must not pay him less than 40 cents an hour or work him more than 35 hours a week, except that if the employer were paying less than 40 cents for that kind of work on July 15 the employer can pay that rate now, but not less than 30 cents an hour. As to all other employes—those on a weekly rate—the employer will pay not less than $15 a week in a city of over 500,000 population; or $14.50 a week in cities of between 250,000 and 500,000; or $14 a week in cities between 2,500 and 250,000 population; or $12,00 a week in cities of less than 2,500 population, and the employer agrees not to work this class of workers more than 40 hours a week. As to employes who were getting a higher wage, the employer must not reduce their wages because of a reduction in their hours and he should generally keep the usual pay differences as between the lower and the higher paid employes. And after August 31, he must not work children under 16 years of age. There are, of course, some other rules which apply to special cases, but the terms of the agreement as here outlined cover the large bulk of cases.

MARKET LETTER

(continued from page 3) much production prices will be cheap Then why not organize as the Govlong enough to starve out our overproduction. If the farmer accepts that method he can make up his mind to go through at least three, if not five years, more of depression, for it will not he as easy to starve farmers off not be as easy to starve farmers off the farm as formerly for where would he go but into the ranks of the unemployed in the cities. Therefore, in the opinion of this writer it would the set least five years more to remember the set least to take at least five years more to remedy our overproduction situation by "permitting nature," as they say, to take its course.

The would production to it is more neighborly, and it is founded on the GOLDEN RULE and great principle of "Live and let live."

For the first time in the history of the world an attempt is being made to apply brains to the situation.

Practically everyone agrees that our difficulty is caused by overproduction.
