LEST YEARS DIM MEMORIES

Here is your 1948-49 college year at Kansas State College. The gatherings in the Union . . . the maple court victories . . . the annual balls and occasional brawls. Even more we recall efforts in scholarship . . . friendships and memberships . . . organizations and group school activities.

In the 1949 ROYAL PURPLE we have attempted to present a photograhic record of YOUR life in college. May our camera's work be a pleasant and lasting reminder throughout the years to come.

Chapter One

ADMINISTRATION

Editor--FLOYD SAGESER

ONCE again this year, a record number of students jammed classrooms and laboratories at Kansas State College in quest of knowledge. A senior class of 650 students left the ivy walls last spring but their places were more than filled by an influx of freshmen and transfer students.

An all-time enrollment high of 7,435 students enrolled for fall semester classes. But there was a change apparent on the campus. For the first time in three years, veterans of World War II were in the minority. However, they were replaced by younger high school graduates who found their niche in the college picture with surprising rapidity.

Before the start of the spring semester, college officials all over the country were predicting a large drop in second semester enrollments. But at Kansas State this was not true. A record enrollment of 6,945 students answered roll call at the start of the second semester. This was nearly 300 more than were on hand at the start of the spring semester last year.

Kansas State also had its largest number of teaching personnel on the payroll. The budget for the current fiscal year provided for 508 members of the teaching faculty. This provided for a ration of 1 instructor to every 14.5 students. The ration last year was 1 to 20. The administrative machine was also increased and improved.

The college set forth on the largest building program in K-State history. The new small animal laboratory was completed—as were two home management houses. Work was begun on the new $1,775,000 field-house and an addition to the chemical engineering building. Plans also were advanced for a new classroom building, an addition to Engineering Hall, a connecting wing between the two ag buildings and new women's dormitories.

GOVERNORS, SENATORS and multi-starred generals were among the visitors during the year. The Eisenhowers entertained continuously.

FACULTY MEMBERS meet frequently during the year. A record number of teaching-faculty was on the Kansas-State payroll this year.

SPC FORMS CAMPUS ACTIVITY

AN active part in the administration of Kansas State is played by the Student Planning Committee. Far reaching changes in campus life ranging from a system of pre-enrollment to the expansion of the intra-mural program have been proposed by SPC members. Nearly 80 percent have been incorporated in the K-State picture after getting the initial boost from the SPC.

Nearly 100 students and faculty members journeyed to Camp Wood, near Elmdale, for a three-day confab lasting from August 30 through September 1. Campus problems were discussed in committee meetings before being brought up in the general assembly.

SPC MEMBERS ENROLL UPON ARRIVAL AT CAMP WOOD MEETING.

PROGRAM AT CAMP WOOD MEET

Bob Weatherbie headed SPC until this Spring when he was replaced by Joan Beggs.

Organized in 1946, the SPC is a permanent subcommittee of the Student Council. Membership in the group includes 65 percent appointed or elected representatives from College organizations; 20 percent volunteers; and 15 percent named by the Council.

Among the more important Student Planning Committee recommendations that have been adopted are the purchase of a press for a daily Collegian to be published next Fall, appointment of a Dean of Students and organization of a Social and Recreation committee.

DEAN HELEN MOORE and some female members of the SPC group find there is some manual work connected with the annual outing.

DISHES HAVE TO BE WASHED and girls of the SPC contingent willingly pitched in, made it a pleasant task—for those who sat and watched.

HOUSING DIRECTOR Thornton Edwards (right) proved to be adept with the broom when he solved another house problem at the camp.

GOVERNOR FRANK CARLSON long has been a top Kansas State College supporter. The Governor turned the first earth at a fieldhouse ceremony in March 'and was a guest on numerous other occasions.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF REGENTS are: Sitting, Fred M. Harris, Mrs. Elizabeth Haughey, Lester McCoy, Jerry Driscoll, Betty Reed, stenographer. Standing, Hubert Brighton, secretary, Willis N. Kelly, Drew McLaughlin, Grover Poole, Dr. L. B. Spake, and Oscar S. Stauffer. Board members were frequent campus visitors this year—especially at intra-collegiate football and basketball home contests.

KSC NEW BUILDING PROGRAM

THE destiny of Kansas again will be directed by Governor Frank Carlson for a two year period. Governor Carlson was elected to a second term last Fall by a large majority over his Democratic opponent.

One of Kansas State's most loyal supporters, the Governor is a K-State graduate. He received a Farmer's Short Course certificate from the College in June, 1914. His farm experience on his own farm near Concordia proved valuable when he went into politics.

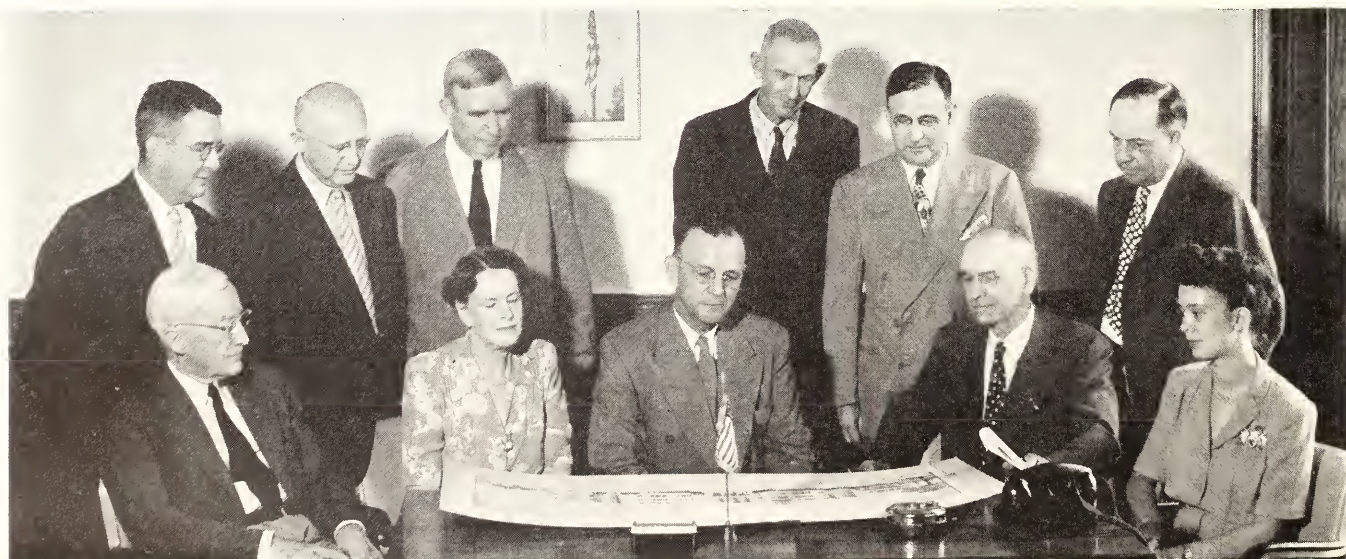

Before stepping into the Governor's chair, the Concordian served as congressman representing the Sixth Congressional District of Kansas.

Regents Set Policy

Nine prominent Kansans are included on the State Board of Regents. The Board acts as the highest authority for the eight state-supported schools in Kansas. Board members are appointed by the Governor for four-year terms. Executive Secretary is Hubert Brighton.

The Regents gave positive, aggressive support to both Kansas State's operational budget and to the "Campus of Tomorrow" building program. They not only approved the financial budget this year but also provided active support to College plans during the legislative session.

A new faculty retirement policy also was inaugurated this year by the Board.

RECEIVES STATE APPROVAL

KANSAS State College gains additional national recognition in the field of education each year through the efforts of its youthful and energetic President, Milton S. Eisenhower. A graduate of Kansas State, President Eisenhower succeeded F. D. Farrell as President in 1944.

Some new innovations adopted at Kansas State since President Eisenhower has been in office include comprehensive courses in the physical, biological, and social sciences, the humanities, an Institute of Citizenship and the first college UNESCO chapter in the nation.

The President helped Kansas State become a leader in the UNESCO field. This year marked the end of President Eisenhower's second two-year term as head of the National Commission for UNESCO.

Backs S.P.C. Program

President Eisenhower is actively interested in student problems. He is a firm believer in student participation in college affairs. He has been a strong supporter of the Student Planning Committee which makes suggestions for College improvements.

Under the President's leadership this year, the College has received legislative approval for the new field-house, an arts and science class building, an addition to the engineering building, a connecting wing between East and West Waters Halls and several other minor buildings.

MILTON S. EISENHOWER is President of Kansas State. He is a nationally-recognized leader in the higher educational field but also has a deep interest in all student-level problems in our own school.

PROBLEMS OF A COLLEGE PRESIDENT are made much lighter by the efforts of efficient secretaries. Two such secretaries are always on hand in President Eisenhower's office. Presidential Secretary Mrs. Grace Lindquist, left, probably knows as much about College affairs as do administrative heads. She is capably assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Lundgren, right. Both have helped in supplying data for the yearbook.

THREE new changes and one addition have been made in the College administrative staff this year. The newest addition to the staff is the Dean of Students. Dr. Maurice D. Woolf was appointed to fill the new post. He also will continue as head of the counseling bureau for the time being. The creation of the new Deanship was one of the original proposals of the Student Planning Committee.

Eric Tebow is the new Director of Admissions. He replaces Dr. S. A. Nock who resigned last Spring. Tebow previously was a member of the Institute of Citizenship staff.

Heading the complicated registry system used for the record enrollments this year was Richard C. Maloney, Registrar. Maloney replaces Miss Eleanor Tibbetts who resigned last summer. Formerly, he was assistant to the Dean of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. B. W. Lafene is now in charge of the Student Health Department. Dr. Lafene was elevated to the headship when Dr. Robert R. Snook resigned to go into private practice.

Next to President Eisenhower, Dean of Administration A. L. Pugsley has the most important position in seeing that K-State continues to run smoothly. He also is Director of the Summer School.

Administrative duties also fall on Presidential Secretary C. O. Price when President Eisenhower is away. Three College presidents have held office during Mr. Price's 29 years on the campus.

Former President F. D. Farrell still actively participates in College affairs. Besides teaching classes in economics, he is doing a study of rural churches in connection with rural community life.

Arnold R. Jones has completed his third year as College Comptroller. His office handles the business affairs of the College.

ALL SCHOOL POLICY AND SERVICES

Housing still remains a serious problem at K-State and it is capably coped with by A. Thornton Edwards, housing director. Through his office, married veterans and their families or single men are provided living quarters.

Kenney L. Ford, as alumni secretary is responsible for keeping close contact with all alumni. He also is in charge of raising funds for the All-Faith Memorial Chapel.

Historian of K-State for the past 12 years has been Dr. Julius T. Willard. He has been in various administrative capacities at the Kansas State College for 70 years.

Dean Helen Moore actively looks after the welfare of all College women, both on and off the campus. She has been at KSC since 1940.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN ADMINISTRATIVE PLANNING

STUDENTS here at Kansas State College have an active voice in College affairs through their elected representatives on the Student Council, executive body of the Student Governing Association, and through the numerous Council sub-committees.

Nine students are elected to seats on the Council each Spring. The number of members on the governing body is determined by College enrollment. Schools, also, are represented according to their enrollment.

Dick Lindblom was president of the Student Council this year. Other officers were: vice-president, Harold Peffly; treasurer, Rodney Keif; recording secretary, Barbara King; and corresponding secretary, Laura Belle Overley.

The Student Planning Committee, a sub-committee of the Student Council, continued to be one of the strongest student forces on the campus. Many of the improvements proposed by the SPC have been accepted by administration officials.

A new Council committee was established this year and another was discontinued. An all-College Social and Recreational Committee was set up to plan and coordinate campus social activities.

The K-State National Student Association, a Council sub-committee, was discontinued because of lack of interest and need here at Kansas State. However, several NSA members continued to work with the Council on the foreign and Negro eating problem in Manhattan.

Student Council-sponsored varsity dances were successfully held this year at the Community House. Proceeds from the varsities made it possible for the Council to sponsor several free all-College parties. One of the free functions was a Christmas party held in Nichols Gym. A free senior farewell varsity also was given.

THROUGH EFFORTS OF STUDENT AND FACULTY COUNCILS

THE Faculty Council on Student Affairs is a representative group of 12 faculty members who meet weekly to decide matters of policy as concerns both faculty and students at Kansas State. Council members are appointed by President Milton S. Eisenhower to represent him in matters of student and faculty government.

Members of the Faculty Council work in cooperation with the Student Council. Problems arising are discussed by both groups and each Council reports its findings and decisions to the other. Neither group can take action without the approval of the other. Both Councils meet periodically for an evening dinner in order to get better acquainted and to work out mutual problems.

Several changes were made in Faculty Council personnel this year. A new second semester head of the group was Dr. Maurice D. Woolf, new Dean of Students. Dean Woolf replaced Dr. Harold Howe, graduate school dean, who is still, however, in the group.

A new addition this fall was Miss Katherine Geyer who replaced Mrs. Gladys B. Gough. Prof. Thomas Avery now is on the Council in place of Prof. Rufus Cox.

The Faculty Council was instrumental in persuading Manhattan restaurant owners that students were complaining about their establishments and that they should be cleaned up.

Council members also have shown their concern about College social facilities. A new committee has been established to work on a long-range social plan for the College.

VARIED SCHOOL COMMITTEES

The hard-working cog wheels in the Kansas State administrative machinery are the various committees that are organized to take care of special problems. Several of the groups are sub-committees of the Student Council. Others are appointed by the Faculty Council on Student Affairs. And some are like Topsy, "jest grewed."

Two new committees were organized this year. They were the Student Union Special Events Committee and the Independent Coordinating Assembly.

A nearly all-masculine organization is the Graduate Council which has Graduate School Dean Harold Howe as chairman. The Council is the policy-determining body for the Graduate School. It determines matters of curriculum, admission to graduate study, candidacy for advanced degrees and other matters pertaining to graduate work at the College.

Members of the Organization Control Board, under the leadership of Housing Director A. Thornton Edwards, decide which student organizations (except fraternities) shall be allowed to function on the campus.

Tony Ceranich is chairman of the Student Union Special Events Committee. The group was organized to plan various parties and events for married students and other students who ordinarily wouldn't participate in organized social affairs at K-State.

The Independent Students' Committee was organized this year to help coordinate activities of independent students—especially those living in unorganized houses. Members serve as faculty representatives on the executive council of the Independent Student Association. Miss Margaret Raffington, member of the Faculty Council, acts as chairman.

ORGANIZATION CONTROL BOARD—Prof. Jo Eloise Williams, Norman Mink, Marilyn Jones, Prof. Paul Young and A. Thornton Edwards. The board decides which organizations shall function at KSC.

GRADUATE COUNCIL—R. F. Morse, F. L. Parrish, R. C. Smith, H. Howe, H. E. Myers, L. M. Roderick, M. C. Moggie, E. E. Edgar. Members not in picture: Florence McKinney, Harold N. Barham.

The all-important Apportionment Board determines just where each dollar of the student activity fund goes. Student publications, athletics, musical organizations, theatrical functions, judging teams and other College groups depend on this committee for their operational funds. Dick Lindblom is chairman.

Formerly known as the Academic Dishonesty Committee, the Academic Honesty Committee, under the direction of Prof. Wilson Tripp, handles cases of students caught cheating during examinations. Work of the committee and publication of its findings and punishments have aided materially in reducing cheating. Only four cheating cases were brought before the committee the first semester this year. There were eight the first semester the committee was organized in 1947.

The Student Union Governing Committee supervises the operation of the temporary Student Union and determines policies of that popular meeting-place. Ward Keller is chairman of the group this year.

Prof. V. D. (Tiny) Foltz heads the Sororities and Fraternities Committee. This committee is in charge of making up rush rules for both fraternities and sororities. It also prepares an annual financial report of greek letter organizations after individual reports have been made by each group.

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE—Prof. Paul Kelly, Miss Dorothy Hamer and Prof. Vernon D. (Tiny) Foltz. Fraternity and sorority functions are governed by this Committee.

APPORTIONMENT BOARD—Dick Lindblom, David Eckleman, Prof. H. H. Haymaker, Prof. H. W. Davis, and Jim Davis. The Board determines what money various College groups will use for operation.

ACADEMIC HONESTY COMMITTEE—John Welch, Joan Beggs, Prof. G. D. Wilcox, Prof. Wilson Tripp, Clark Danner and Prof. Katherine Geyer. The Committee acts on student cases of cheating on exams.

AGRICULTURE SCHOOL AND

THE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE is headed by Dean R. I. Throckmorton. He has been associated with Kansas State for 37 years and has been Dean for the past three years. He is a frequent by-line writer in Country Gentleman magazine and also is an advisory members of the magazine's editorial staff.

FRIENDLY C. W. MULLEN is the other School of Agriculture head. He has been assistant dean of agriculture at KSC for past 12 years.

EAST WATERS houses the departments of agronomy, animal husbandry and milling and dean's offices. It was constructed in 1912.

ENROLLMENT in the School of Agriculture reached an all-time high this year with 1,350 students enrolled in curriculums offered by the seven departments of the School. The previous high was 1,246 in 1948.

This enrollment requires a full time faculty staff of 87 persons and 30 graduate assistants.

Agriculture students at Kansas State College take courses in agronomy, animal husbandry, agricultural economics, dairy husbandry, horticulture, milling and poultry husbandry and agricultural journalism.

The milling department, headed by Dr. J. A. Shellenberger, is the only one of its kind in the world to offer degrees in milling. Students from all over the world come to Kansas to take courses in milling.

FACULTY WIN RECOGNITION

J. A. Hodges has served as acting head of the Department of Agricultural Economics this year. He replaced Prof. George Montgomery who is taking graduate work for his Doctorate.

Several improvements have been made in housing for ag courses. Included are the modernization of the College creamery in West Waters, the mill in East Waters and the installation of a Pilot Baking Plant in West Waters. The agriculture school also will use facilities in the recently constructed Small Animal Research Building.

Fame and recognition is accorded Kansas State each year through accomplishments of judging teams representing the departments of agronomy, animal husbandry, dairy husbandry and poultry husbandry. Students gain invaluable experience by being on judging teams entered in outstanding inter-collegiate judging contests.

Dr. A. D. Weber, animal husbandry department head, gained international recognition last fall by being chosen the first American judge of steers at the Chicago International Livestock show. Dr. Weber also was appointed Assistant Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, effective July 1, 1948.

Dr. H. E. Meyers, agronomy department head, was elected Vice President of the Soil Science Society of America and was elected Fellow and Counsellor of the American Society of Agronomy.

Courses in agriculture have been taught at the College for 86 years. Along with other departments at KSC, the Department of Agriculture was established as a Division by the Board of Regents in 1912. It took the name "School" in 1942.

R. I. Throckmorton has been Dean of the School of Agriculture for the past three years and has been at K-State 37 years. C. W. Mullen has been Assistant Dean of Agriculture for the past 12 years.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS in the School of Agriculture are left to right: F. W. Atkeson, dairy husbandry; J. A. Hodges, (acting), agricultural economics; H. E. Myers, agronomy; L. F. Payne, poultry husbandry; W. F. Pickett, horticulture; J. A. Shellenberger, milling industry; A. D. Weber, animal husbandry.

AG ENROLLMENT TO 1,350

Several scholarships are available for outstanding agriculture students. Included are the Borden Company Fellowship, which provides for two scholarships in dairy husbandry; the Carl Raymond Gray Fund which is provided by the Union Pacific Railroad Company for 4-H Club and Vocational Agriculture winners; the Kroger Company fund which provides scholarships for two freshmen each year and the Sears Roebuck Foundation which provides scholarships for 15 sophomores and one freshman each year.

In addition to state and federal-grant funds for research in the Agricultural Experiment Stations, grants from commercial firms and research foundations during the year totaled $142,655. These funds assisted in financing 47 research projects.

The experiment station, which conducts research work at the College, four branch experiment stations, 12 outlying experiment fields and in practically every county in the state, carries on studies in nearly all fields of agriculture and related industry.

During the year, special emphasis was placed on projects in marketing, development of industrial uses for agricultural products, human and animal nutrition, soil fertility, plant and animal breeding, insect and disease control, animal diseases and weed control.

DAIRY MANUFACTURING STUDENTS mix up a batch of ice-cream as part of their laboratory work. The School of Agriculture has many such modern laboratory facilities in the two agriculture buildings.

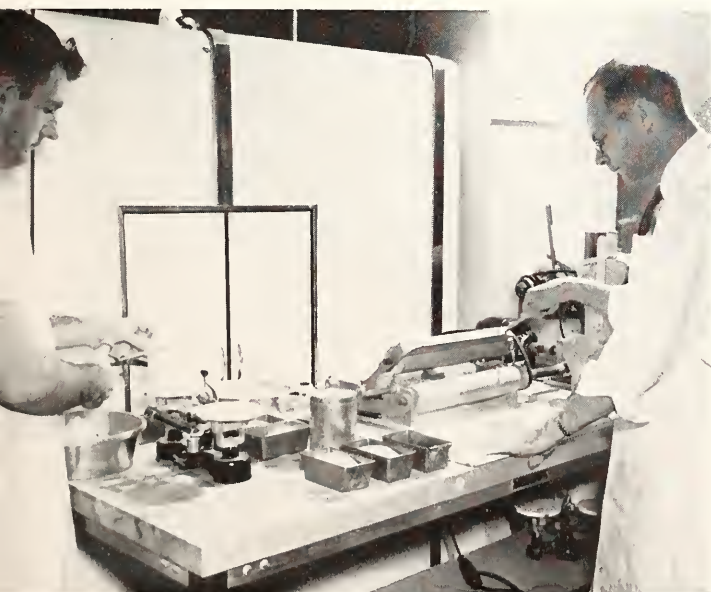

HORSE SHOWING IS A FAVORED PART OF THE LITTLE AMERICAN ROYAL, KANSAS STATE'S ANNUAL LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION.

KSC BOTANY STUDENTS LEARN HOW TO RECOGNIZE ONE OF THE 450 SPECIES OF TREES AND SHRUBS GROWING ON THE CAMPUS.

BREAD SAMPLES made from different varieties of wheat are baked in experiments conducted by the milling department. Kansas State College is the only school that offers a degree in milling industry.

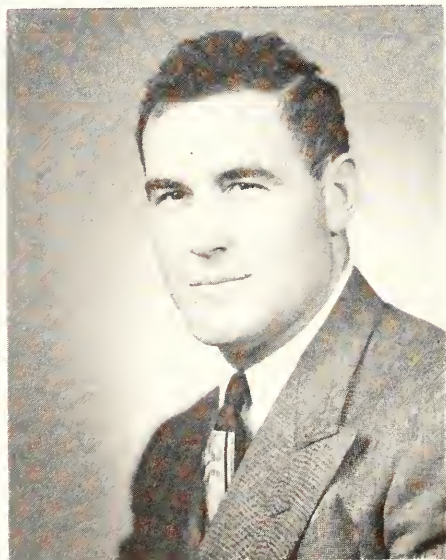

JUDGING STUDENTS gain valuable experience by judging swine owned by the College. Judging teams from the School of Agriculture gain fame for KSC by participating in leading intercollegiate meets.

FRIENDLY RODNEY W. BABCOCK is Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences. Dean Babcock practically is a permanent fixture around Anderson Hall. He has served the College for 18 years. He first was head of the "General Science Division," later expanded into Arts and Science.

CHESTER PETERS, Assistant Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, is the man students in the School see when they have curriculum trouble.

STATELY ANDERSON HALL is headquarters of the School of Arts and Sciences. It also houses main administrative offices and the postoffice.

ARTS AND SCIENCES SCHOOL

THE School of Arts and Sciences bounded back into the enrollment lead this year after being passed last year by the School of Engineering and Architecture. Arts and sciences enrollment was 2,471 the first semester and dropped only to 2,399 the second.

Since Kansas State is a land grant college, it provides curriculums in the sciences and in professional and vocational studies. As a result, it is the main objective of the School of Arts and Sciences to give this basic instruction and cultural training.

Rodney W. Babcock is Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences. A well-known figure in the education world, Dean Babcock is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Xi, Pi Delta Kappa, Gamma Alpha and Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary organizations.

A staff change in Dean Babcock's office saw Orval Ebberts replacing Lowell Henning as assistant March 1. Henning accepted a position with the civilian vocational educational unit attached to the American occupation forces in Berlin, Germany. Ebberts formerly was in the veteran's service office here.

The only new department head in the School of Arts and Sciences this year is Dr. Ralph E. Silker, head of the Department of Chemistry. He replaced the late Dr. H. H. King who reached emeritus standing last year.

Dr. Silker was on the K-State staff in 1941 and later worked with the agricultural experiment station.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS—Top row: D. J. Ameel, zoology; William Baehr, library; H. Leigh Baker, education and psychology; A. B. Cardwell, physics; H. W. Davis, English; P. L. Lashbrook, industrial journalism and printing; Luther Leavengood,

He spent some time with a commercial dehydrating company before coming back to the College last August.

Reorganization programs were begun in three departments of the School of Arts and Sciences this year.

The curriculum in the Department of Industrial Journalism and Printing is being modernized along the lines of recommendations made by an accrediting group representing the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism that visited the department last year.

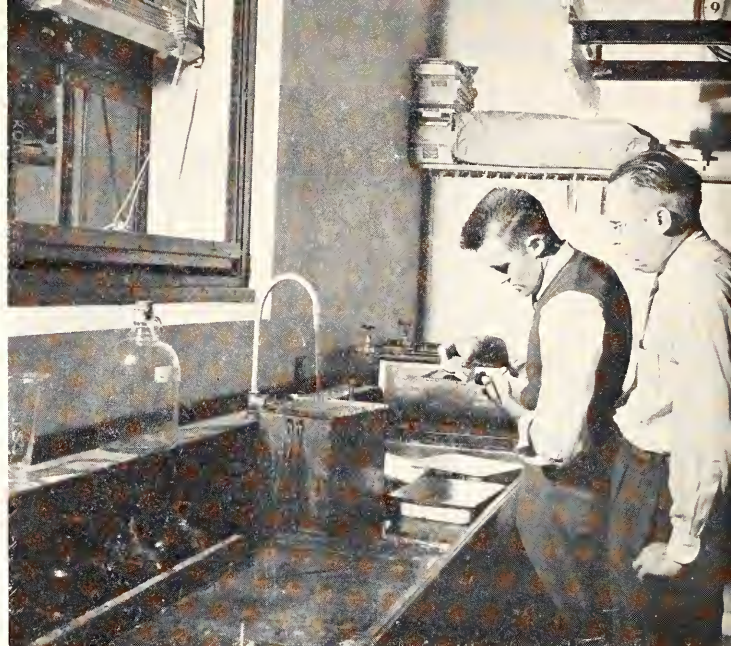

The Department of Chemistry also started reorganization work this year as a result of recommendations made by the American Chemical Society.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS must not only know their p's and q's, but they must learn to know them upside down and backwards.

MODERN DARKROOMS and expert faculty instruction are provided for student shutter-bugs in the basement laboratories of Willard Hall.

A HUFFIN' and A PUFFIN' on the dainty Tuba is a member of the KSC marching band. Music is one of 29 Arts and Science departments.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Applied Music and Music Education are two departments whose curriculums are being revised in the Department of Music. Both are being reorganized along the lines of standards set by the National Association of Schools of Music.

Four Deaths in Year

Four deaths occurred among the arts and sciences faculty during the past year.

Prof. R. R. Price, emeritus head of the Department of History and Government, died December 30, 1948. Professor Price joined the College staff as head of the history department in 1903.

Assistant Prof. Harriet S. Parker, member of the Department of English faculty died February 18, 1949. She first taught at Kansas State in 1924.

Dr. H. H. King, emeritus head of the Department of Chemistry died March 11, 1949. Doctor King joined the chemistry department faculty in 1906 and became head of the department in 1918.

Another arts and sciences faculty member to die this year was Prof. E. T. Keith, Superintendent of the Kansas State College Press and an instructor in the journalism department. Professor Keith first was on the College staff as a print shop employee in 1912. He became an instructor in 1918 and first headed the College press in 1943.

GEOLOGY RECITATION IS WHERE YOU'RE SUPPOSED TO LEARN THOSE MULTI-SYLLABLED NAMES FOR PEBBLES, STONES AND BIG ROCKS.

MELTIN' WITH MILTON are these summer-school literature students. Written Communications classes frequently mix Shakespeare, Sunburn, Poe and Chiggers during spring and summer sessions.

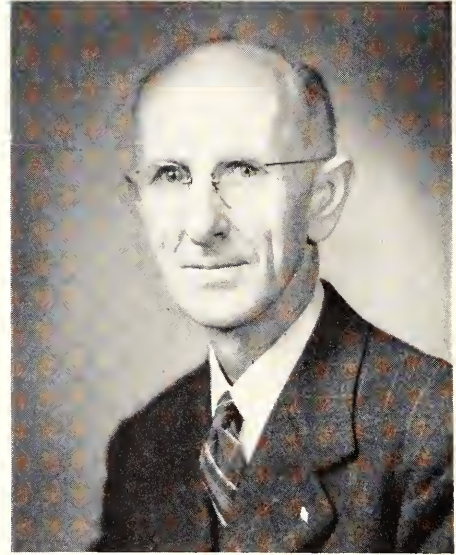

THOUSANDS OF POUNDS of poisoned bait for rodent control are mixed annually in the experimental laboratories of the zoology department. Farmlands throughout Kansas are the proving grounds.

INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

DEAN OF ENGINEERING AND ARCHITECTURE R. A. SEATON has been in his present position since 1920. He joined the K-State faculty in 1904 as a mathematics instructor. Dean Seaton took a month's leave of absence this Spring to go to Washington, D. C., to assist the United States Navy in preparation of a roster of scientific personnel.

M. A. DURLAND has been assistant Dean of the engineering school for 23 years. Dean Durland has been on the K-State faculty since 1919.

IVY-COVERED ENGINEERING HALL IS THE HOME OF MOST OF THE 2,275 ASPIRING ENGINEERS AT KANSAS STATE. IT WAS BUILT IN 1921.

REQUIRES MORE CLASSROOM SPACE FOR ENGINEERS

THE continued high enrollment of 2,275 in the School of Engineering and Architecture this year has prompted several changes in the School's housing facilities.

One of the most important building projects is the building of an addition to the chemical engineering building. Construction started this Spring on the $45,000 addition.

During the past year, a new Soils Mechanics laboratory was built in the old boiler room section of the engineering building. Construction also is underway on a temporary vocational agricultural shop that will have cost $17,500 when completed.

The engineering school also is planning the construction of an auditorium addition adjoining the back of the engineering building.

Three important changes have been made in engineering school faculty this year. Dr. Henry T. Ward is the new head of the Department of Chemical Engineering. He replaced Prof. W. H. Honstead who served as acting head last year. Dr. Ward formerly was head of the chemical engineering department at the University of Arkansas.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS of the School of Engineering and Architecture are: (top row) F. C. Fenton, agricultural engineering; R. F. Gingrich, building and repair; Linn Helander, mechanical engineering; L. S. Hobson, engineering experiment station; R. G. Kloeffer, Earl L. Sitz, formerly an associate professor of electrical engineering at KSC, has returned from a position at the Michigan College of Mines and Technology and has been promoted to a full professorship in the electrical engineering department.

Assistant Prof. Jerzy Roman also has joined the electrical engineering department staff. He is a graduate of the Technical University of Warsaw, Poland. Prior to World War II, he was chief electrical engineer for the Polish Electrical Co. in Warsaw. He escaped Poland just before the Nazi invasion and was chief electrical engineer of the electrical department of Hyderabad, India for a time before coming to K-State.

A citation for "outstanding service in the field of concrete" was received by Prof. C. H. Scholer, head of the applied mechanics department, this year from the Highway Research Board of the National Research Council in Washington, D. C. It was one of the two such citations made by the Board in that field.

The Westinghouse Scholarship was the only one given to engineering students this year. It was held by Oliver P. Steele III.

GIVE VARIED PROGRAM

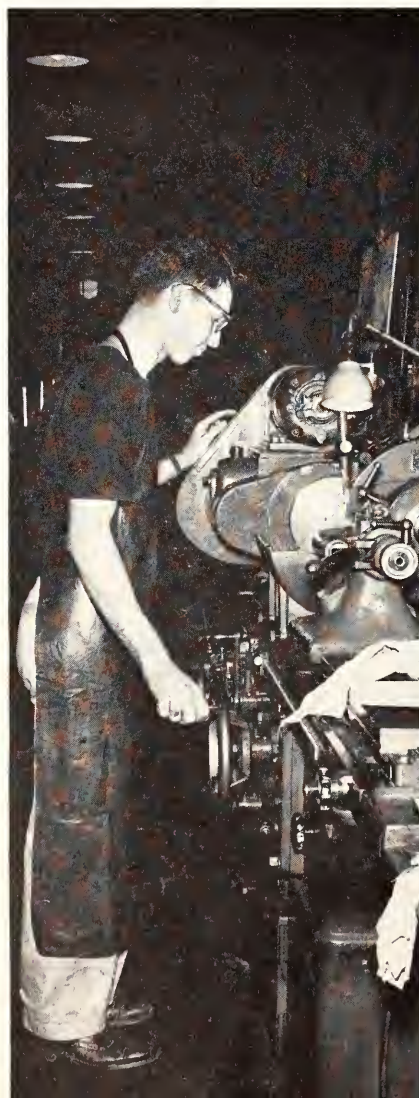

A curriculum in engineering was first offered at Kansas State in 1897. A separate four-year curriculum was begun in electrical and mechanical engineering in 1898. Architecture was added in 1904, civil engineering in 1907; agricultural engineering in 1914; chemical engineering, 1924; architectural engineering, 1925; and industrial arts in 1937.

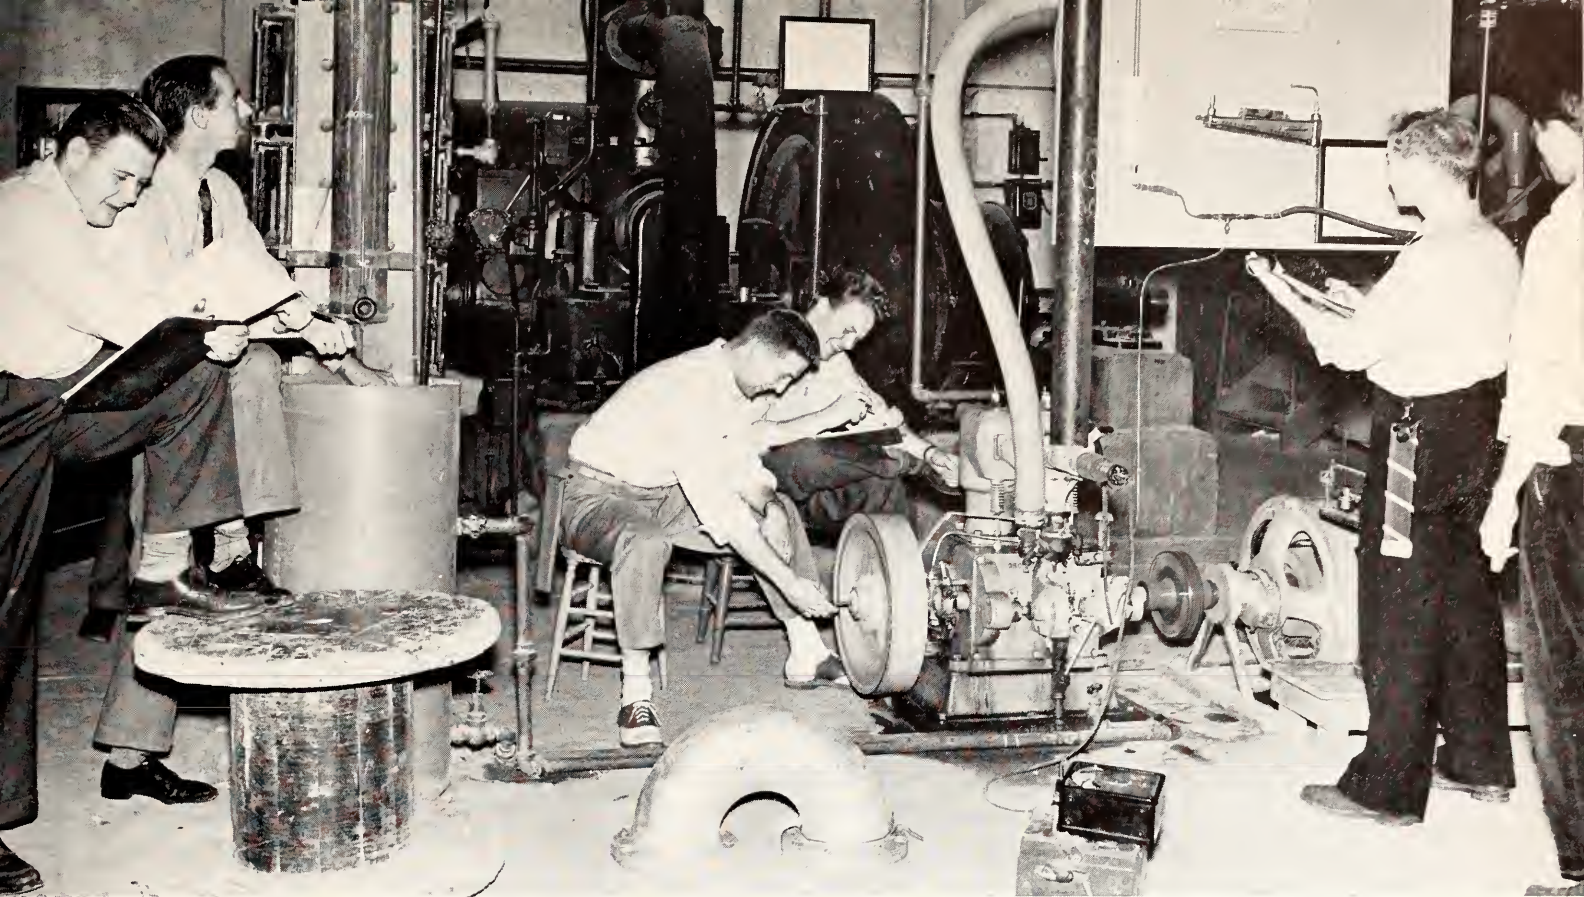

The Mechanic Arts division was first created in 1908. In 1917 it was renamed Division of Engineering. Architecture was added to the title in 1938. It was created a School, along with other Schools in 1942.

Electrical and Mechanical are the two largest engineering departments with enrollments of 472 and 440 respectively. Architecture is third with 242. Civil engineering has 237 students, architectural engineering lists 167; 151 students take industrial arts, chemical engineering has 147 and agricultural engineering is the smallest with 113.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS seem puzzled at the wires and gadgets. Instructors asked later couldn't say what this session was about.

HOME ECONOMICS SCHOOL

DEAN MARGARET JUSTIN heads the School of Home Economics. She is a 1909 graduate of Kansas State. Miss Justin returned as Dean in 1923. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Omicron Nu, Sigma Xi, Iota Sigma Phi and Phi Upsilon Omicron honorary societies.

A highlight of the School of Home Economics year was a recognition banquet for Dean Margaret Justin. The stately white-haired dean has headed the home economics school for 25 years. Some 100 guests attended the banquet and saw a portrait of Dean Justin presented to the College.

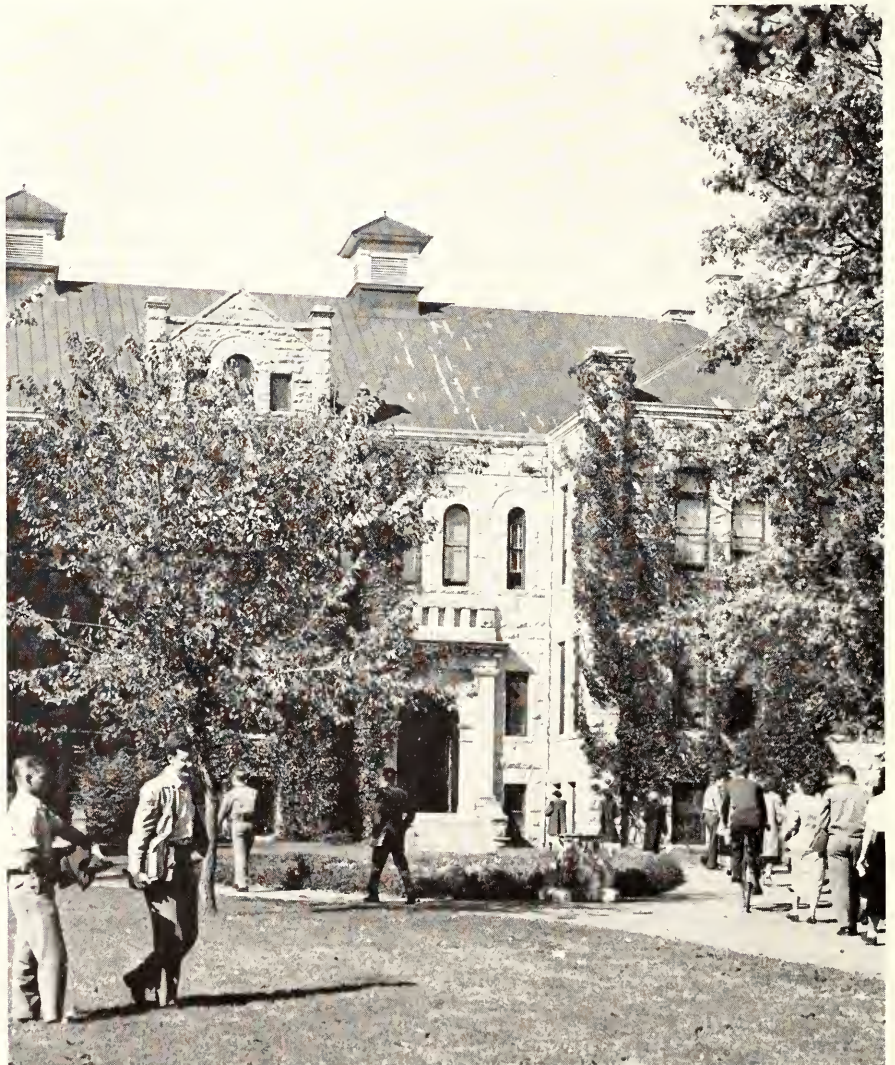

Dean Justin also was selected this year to direct a national workshop on administration management this summer.

The Kansas State College School of Home Economics is one of the leaders in the home economics field in the United States. Six-hundred ninety-four students, four of them men, are enrolled in home economics courses with the Department of Foods and Nutrition having the largest enrollment.

DR. MARTHA KRAMER is assistant home economics dean. She has been at K-State 19 years and has held her present position three years.

CALVIN HALL houses most home economics classes. Statistics show 90 per cent of home ec grads are homemakers within five years.

ADDS PRACTICE HOUSES

One important faculty change saw Dr. Josephine Kramer, head of the household economics department, resigning to take a position at a women's college in Greensborough, N. C. She was replaced by Dr. Florence McKinney.

Thirty-one scholarships were granted to students in home economics this year. Included were those from the Sears Roebuck Foundation, Kroger Company, Daughters of the American Revolution, Carl Raymond Gray, Home Economics Club, the Kansas Congress of Parents and Teachers and Kansas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Research in the School of Home Economics is conducted by the Departments of Foods and Nutrition, Clothing and Textiles and Household Economics.

Some of the fields in which research has been done this year are the cost of living; comparative diet studies; serviceability of textiles; housing and home improvements and nutritional values in the Kansas school lunch program.

Practical work facilities in the School of Home Economics have been expanded with the completion of two new home management houses this year.

One house is a single unit and the other is a duplex. Each unit houses six women and a director. The single unit, Ellen Richards Lodge, was first occupied at the beginning of the fall semester. The double house was filled by class groups beginning the second semester. Features of the new houses are the gay interior decoration, spacious closets, partitioned bathrooms and corner windows.

Courses in home economics now have been offered at Kansas State College for three quarters of a century. At first, one instructor taught classes in sewing, dress making and millinery. Sewing machines were not available until the start of the second semester that year. Home economics now has 59 instructors and 15 graduate or research assistants.

ABOUT MODERN HOMEMAKING

THE first objective emphasized in home economics training is the general education of the student through a sequence of courses required for all. These fundamental courses help the student become a well-adjusted person who has a sound philosophy for personal, family, and community living. They are directed toward helping her develop sane and creative attitudes.

The second major objective of home economics training is to provide effective preparation for the student to enter a profession in home economics.

A curriculum in general home economics is provided for students who wish to follow a broad, non-specialized program. Another curriculum, with provision for specialization allows students with special aptitudes and inclinations to concentrate their work in costume design, interior decoration, child guidance, medical technology, clothing, or household management. Some students specialize in business fields, home demonstration service, or home economics teaching.

Other curricula are offered in dietetics and institutional management, home economics journalism, and nursing. Advanced degrees are offered in nearly every field of home economics at Kansas State.

CRAFTS CLASSES meet on the third floor of Anderson Hall for design, weaving, ceramics, planning house furnishings, and interior decoration.

APPLIED DRESS DESIGN students design and make their own dress patterns. Many hours are spent in the careful fitting of each garment.

VET MEDICINE SCHOOL

DEAN E. E. LEASURE is the new head of the School of Veterinary Medicine. He succeeds Dean R. R. Dykstra who resigned after being head of the School since 1919. Dean Leasure was head of the physiology department before his appointment as Dean last summer.

THE School of Veterinary Medicine is the only school at Kansas State College to have a new dean this year. He is Dean E. E. Leasure, former head of the Department of Physiology.

Dean Leasure succeeds Dr. R. R. Dykstra who resigned last Summer after being head of the School since 1919. Dr. G. K. L. Underbjerg is the new physiology department head.

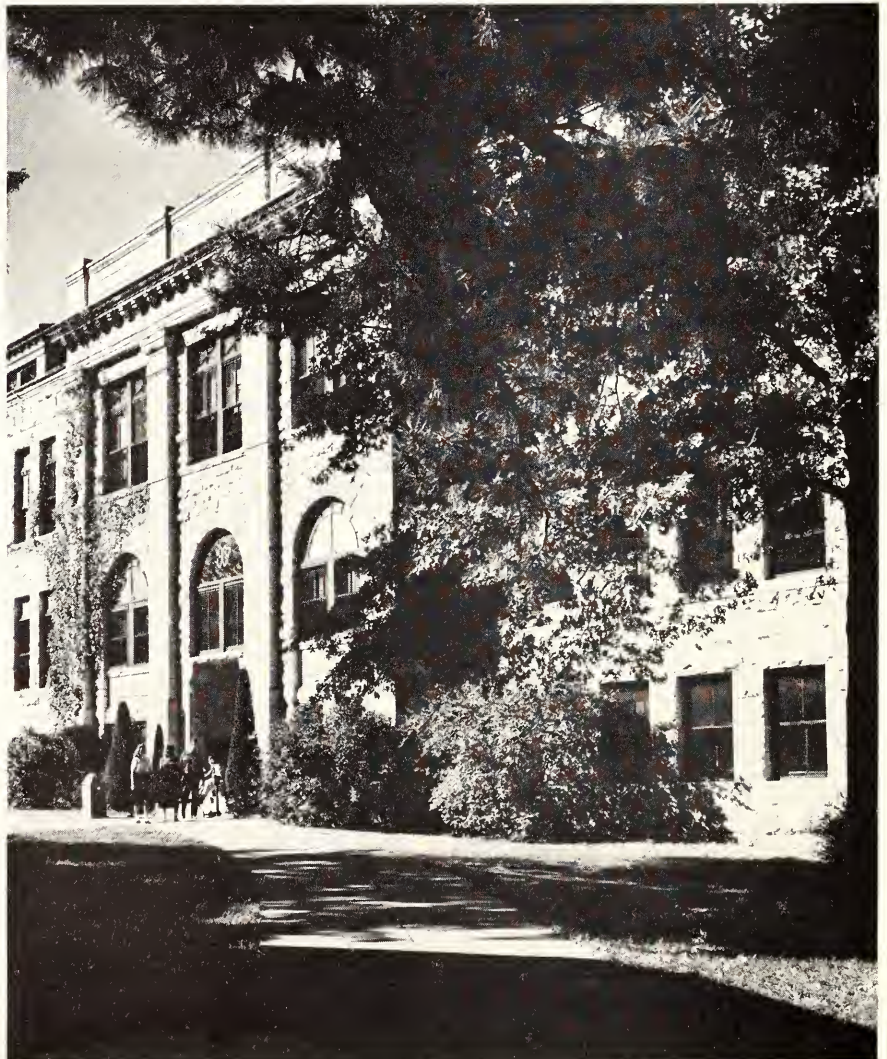

Mrs. Maxine Caley assists Dean Leasure. She has been assistant to veterinary school deans since 1945.

Sixty new Doctors of Veterinary Medicine were graduated from the veterinary medicine school this spring. This was the first vet class to be graduated from the College since May of 1947. No class was graduated last year because the school went back to its pre-war program after operating under a speeded-up wartime schedule.

Two hundred-seventy three students, several of them from foreign countries, are enrolled in veterinary medicine. Enrollment is limited to approximately 200 students by the State Board of Regents. This makes competition extremely keen in this particular field. Only 60 new students will be admitted to the School this fall.

Students enrolling in pre-veterinary medicine courses last Fall found themselves facing a six-year course of study instead of the usual five. Two years of pre-veterinary work are now required instead of one. However, the additional year makes it possible for veterinary students to graduate with two degrees, one a Bachelor of Science and the other a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine.

Add to Staff

Four new faculty members have joined the School of Veterinary Medicine staff this year. They are Professor Underbjerg, the physiology department head; Assistant Prof. C. E. Rehfeld; Instructor J. D. Wheat and Instructor E. A. Rhode, Jr. Resignations were accepted from Dr. R. E. Witter and Dr. G. R. Moore.

A total of 1,118 students have been graduated from the Kansas State veterinary medicine school. A curriculum leading to the degree Doctor of Veterinary Medicine was established at the College in 1905, and the first class received their degrees in 1907.

Several grants and scholarships are received annually. The U. S. Department of Public Health has set up a special Cancer Research Fund for a biological study of tests of malignancy. A commercial project grant from the J. Hyman Company of Denver, Colo. is used for experiments on the toxicity of agricultural insecticides on mammals.

A $300 award is given annually by the Borden Company Foundation to the senior student having the highest grades in the first three years of the professional curriculum in veterinary medicine.

DEPARTMENT HEADS of the veterinary medicine school are: Dr. E. J. Frick, surgery and medicine; Dr. L. M. Roderick, pathology; Dr. W. M. McLeod, anatomy; and Dr. G. K. L. Underbjerg, physiology.

Several important research projects also are being carried out. Among them are Anaplasmosis Investigations in Cattle Virus Disease studies; Research in Parasitic Diseases of Animals and their Treatment; Research in "X" Disease of Cattle; Research in Leukemia of Cattle; Research in Cancer of Animals; Research in Mastitis of Cattle; Research in Brucellosis of Cattle; Research in the Physiology of the Ruminant Stomach; Studies of the Toxicity of Certain Agricultural Insecticides for Animals; and Research in Miscellaneous Animal Diseases as they are presented.

One of the outstanding research projects completed by the veterinary medicine school was the development of modern blackleg vaccines. This project was finished several years ago but every year its results are saving an estimated nine percent of the total calf crop in the Southwest.

EXTENSION SERVES STATE

THROUGH the work of the Division of Extension and the Kansas Extension Service the Kansas State College campus has included the entire state. Extension personnel say that through their division a majority of Kansans become acquainted with work of the college.

Primary objective of the Service is to assist rural people of the state in developing and conducting educational programs in which all may participate. All programs have as their major goals better living conditions and happier, more satisfying lives. These objectives are gained by the close individual contact that the Extension Service keeps with the residents of the rural communities.

Furthermore, the influence of the Extension Service reaches into every community, town and city within the state.

At present, there are 2,694 students taking credit courses under the Home Study Service.

Emphasize Balanced Farming

The Extension Service adopted "balanced farming and family living" as its major educational program in 1949. It emphasized the plan, "A Balanced Farming and Family Living Program can help to provide a good living, security, education, health, recreation and spiritual well being for you and your family."

Contained in this program is a 10-point plan for

ONE of the most cosmopolitan groups at K-State is the Graduate School. Twenty-six students from six foreign countries take graduate work. China leads with 14. Other countries represented are: India, five; Egypt, four; Peru, Panama, and Syria, one each.

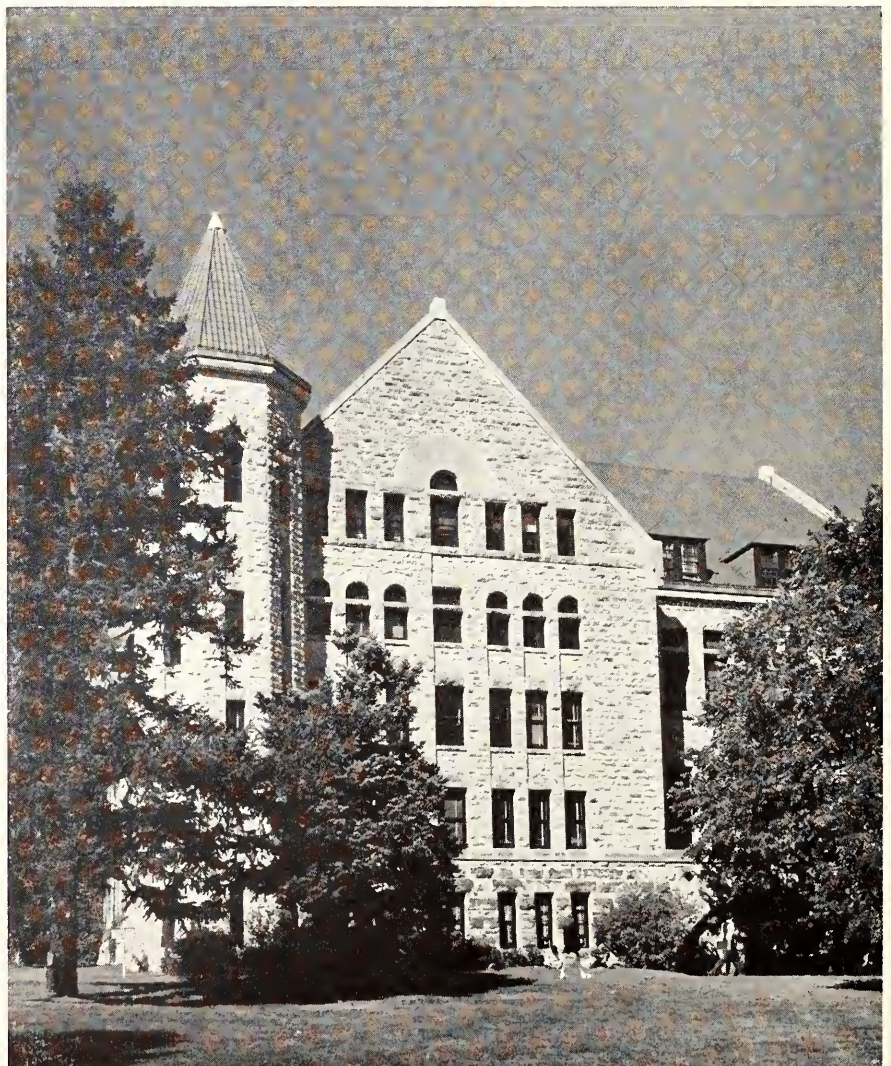

The Graduate School prepares students for positions on college staffs, in high schools and in private industry. Many educational, research, industrial and commercial jobs now require training beyond the Bachelor's degree. The graduate School offers work in 48 departments or major fields to meet this need. The degree, Doctor of Philosophy, is offered in ten fields.

HOUSING ORGANIZATIONS

Editor-- NORVILLE GISH

WITH the start of another busy postwar school year, K-Staters again found themselves facing a difficult housing problem. Temporary barracks on and off the campus were crowded to capacity, rooming houses were full, women's residence halls bulged and sorority and fraternity memberships were the highest in the history of the college.

The number of veterans reached a postwar peak, then began to drop, but hundreds of high school graduates joined the freshman ranks to swell the total registration to an all-time record.

With the return of the bona fide freshmen to replace the married veterans, fraternities, sororities and other organized houses began their return to normalcy.

COLLEGE HOUSING UNITS

Women's housing was the most difficult to handle this year. College officials were forced to turn away many girls seeking to enroll at K-State.

Twelve hundred seventy-eight women managed to squeeze into the various housing facilities on and off the campus. The nine social sororities took care of the largest group with 322 women calling a sorority home. College residence halls took care of another 303 and off-campus organized houses listed 144 coeds as members. One hundred seventeen girls found private homes to their liking while another 69 lived in off-campus unorganized houses. Living at home with their parents were 110 women students. One hundred sixty married women with homes of their own completed the coed enrollment.

Women Are Outnumbered

Although men outnumbered women at K-State more than four to one this year, housing was easier to find for the boys. Twenty-one social fraternities took care of 650 while college housing facilities were utilized by 314 single men and some 431 married veterans.

ARE PACKED TO CAPACITY

Others found room to hang their hats in Manhattan attics, basements and spare rooms.

Organized projects of the various housing groups ranged from intrafraternity sings, Y Orpheum and dazzling formals to the smallest of house parties. There were picnics, costume balls, banquets and many other events to highlight the social activities of independents and Greeks alike.

Rush Weeks Are Features

Sorority rush week, as usual, was a big feature of the year for K-State women. Sorority members put on their best show for the wide-eyed rushees. When the pledging activities had subsided there were smiles of happiness and the inevitable tears of disappointment.

Although fraternity rush week lacked the color and ceremony presented by the sororities, plenty of activity was evident when the men began their drives for membership.

All in all it was a good year inside the ivy walls. College life moved another step away from the jumbled campus scene caused by the war and at the same time a step closer to the old prewar normal.

ORGANIZED HOUSES PROVIDE BALANCED

ARCADIA is in its sixth year as an organized house for independent women at Kansas State. As a member of Amicossembly, Arcadia has become an actively participating group in independent student activities.

The house is located at 1222 Bluemont Street. Housemother and friendly adviser to Arcadia's women is Mrs. Grace Fiel.

Although one of the smaller houses for independent women, Arcadia has members who are active in many extracurricular campus organizations including Orchestis, Frog club, Phems, Purple Pepsters, 4-H and Alpha Delta Theta.

Social activities for the group included a Christmas party in December and a dinner in January for all senior members of the organization.

President of Arcadia this year was Esther Gibson.

Chatterbox was home this year for seven Kansas State coeds. Located at 526 North 14th Street, it has been an organized house for independent women for seven years. Chatterbox housemother is Mrs. Alice Spealman.

In addition to being an active member organization in Amicossembly, Chatterbox has members who were prominent this year in Alpha Delta Theta, Phems and the Kansas State Players.

A special event on the Chatterbox social calendar was a birthday dinner at the Gillet Hotel for Mrs. Spealman. Additional birthday parties were held during the year for each of the members. The annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange was held at the house shortly before Christmas vacation.

President of the group this year was Doris Meine.

STUDY, RECREATION AND SOCIAL LIFE

CLARK'S GABLES is a home away from home for ten Kansas State independent women. The house was organized in 1941 by its present housemother, Mrs. Edith Clark. Margaret Cotton is president.

Clark's Gables women are proud of their extracurricular activities on the campus. Members are prominent in ICA, SPC, YWCA, 4-H, Kansas State Players, UNESCO, Kappa Phi, Pi Epsilon Delta, A Cappella choir, Promusica and Mu Phi Epsilon.

Three of its members earned Phi Kappa Phi recognition for high scholarship this year, and one member, Darlene Thompson, was voted an attendant to the Ag Barnwarmer queen.

Social activities during the school year included an exchange party with the Scotties, a Christmas dinner and gift exchange and a farewell breakfast for seniors and prospective brides.

Coed Court is not only the oldest independent women's organized house on the campus, but it has grown consistantly. Four new members brought the total membership to fourteen women this year.

The house as organized twelve years ago and is a member of Amicossembly. Housemother to its women is Mrs. Pearl Power.

Members of Coed Court are active in such campus organizations as 4-H, Alpha Delta Theta, Kappa Phi, Sigma Eta Chi and various Home Economics clubs.

Social highlights of the year were a Thanksgiving dinner, a Halloween party, a Christmas breakfast and a Christmas dinner.

The house entered a team in women's intramurals volleyball competition this year.

HOLIDAYS PROVIDE NOVEL THEMES

HILLS HEIGHTS, located at 1423 Fairchild, was home for twenty Kansas State coeds this year. Since becoming an organized house for women in 1942, Hills Heights has been supervised by Mrs. W. H. Hills.

A member of Amicossembly, the house has individual members in Kappa Phi and Collegiate 4-H. Outstanding members at Hills Heights is the 1949 Royal Purple beauty queen Joan Parret.

First semester officers were Betty Pressgrove, president; Betty Graham, vice president; and Kathleen Kysar, secretary-treasurer. During the spring semester Mary Cook took the president's gavel while the other house officers remained the same.

Crippen Inn completed its second year as an organized house for independent women in 1949. Located at 1527 Leavenworth, the house was organized under College rules last year by its housemother Mrs. James Crippen.

Crippen Inn kept pace with other houses socially. A semi-formal dinner dance at Christmas was a highlight of the year for the girls and their dates. Picnics in the spring and fall were the other organized social activities of the house.

Officers this year were Marjorie Roepke, president; Margaret Ditch, secretary-treasurer; and Patricia Briscoe, social chairman.

FOR HOUSE PARTIES AND DANCES

LA FIEL was home for twenty-four Kansas State coeds this year. The house was organized in 1941 under the supervision of housemother Mrs. E. E. Rogers.

Located at 1707 Laramie, La Fiel is a member of Amicossembly and has members who are interested in Phi Sigma Chi, YWCA, Frog Club, orchestra, band, Orchesis, Kappa Phi and home economics clubs.

Outstanding members of La Fiel include Laura Belle Overly, member of the Student Council and president of Amicoassembly, and Clarice Cooper, president of the Home Economics Club.

Highlights of the La Fiel social season were the Christmas party and a fall picnic.

Officers for the year were Jean Rostocil, president; Maytha Selby, vice president; and Laverne Tate, secretary-treasurer.

Maison-elle, one of the younger members of the womens' organized house group, was organized in the fall of 1943.

The house is located at 1706 Laramie and is home for thirteen coeds. Housemother is Mrs. Mattie Cassity.

Maison-elle holds membership in Amicossembly and its individual members are active in other groups including Amistad, Chaparajos, Art Club, Purple Pepsters, Phems, UNESCO and the Horticulture club.

Socially the Maison-elle women kept pace with other K-State coeds—picnics, a bowling party, a Christmas party and a dinner for mid-term graduates were included on the social program for the school year.

Officers for the year were Janey Thomas, president; Mildred Sims, vice president; Lavon Crawford, secretary-treasurer; and Marilyn Garrison, social chairman.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN ARE ACTIVE

SCOTTY'S, organized this year, is the newest of houses for independent women. Mrs. Bill Scott is housemother for the eleven girls living at 1016 Vattier.

Members are active in Kansas State Players and National Collegiate Players.

Fall activities opened with a picnic for Scotty's girls and their dates, and they also had a Christmas party and gift exchange. Climax of the year's social functions was a surprise dinner party for graduating seniors.

Mary Frances Weaver served as president for the fall semester. She was assisted by Jean Grauerholz, vice-president, and Margaret Hodler, secretary-treasurer. Spring semester president was Jean Grauerholz. Vice-president was Irene Kippes and secretary-treasurer, Margaret Hodler.

Pal-O-Mie was a leader among the organized houses for independent women this year. Its members were active both scholastically and in extracurricular groups on the campus.

The ten women of Pal-O-Mie were supervised by housemother Mrs. Lillian Fuller.

In October, Pal-O-Mie women were hostesses at a tea for Amicossembly members. Other social activities included a Thanksgiving dinner, a Christmas party, a Christmas breakfast and gift exchange, and a Mother's day breakfast.

Marilyn Moomaw presided at Pal-O-Mie house meetings this year. Secretary was Ruth Johnston and treasurer Laverna Lange. The house has been organized since 1939.

IN MANY EXTRA-CURRICULAR GROUPS

SKYWOOD HALL, located at 1719 Laramie Street, was home for twelve Kansas State coeds this year. The members were supervised by housemother Mrs. Neil Swanson.

As an organized house for independent women, Skywood Hall is a member of Amicossembly and participates in all activities of that organization.

Members of Skywood Hall were active during the school year in such extracurricular groups as 4-H, Amistad, Purple Pepsters, religious organizations, and home economics clubs.

On the social side, Skywood Hall women found time away from studies to hold picnics and house parties during the year.

Officers for the group were Helen Cazier, president; Beverly Briles, vice president; Laura Shelor, secretary; and Louise Barnes, social chairman.

Tramalai boasts one of the most interesting histories of all organized house for independent women at the college. Before the war Tramalai was an organized house for men but was converted when the need for women's housing became acute and temporary barracks were built on the campus to house men.

Tramalai is now the college-home for fifteen Kansas State coeds. The house is located at 1418 Fairchild Street. Housemother is Mrs. T. H. Cousins.

Members are active in several campus organizations and the house is affiliated with Amicossembly.

No scheduled social events were planned by the group this year, though members enjoyed impromptu gatherings.

Officers of Tramalai were Bea Blaha, president; Wilma Porterfield, vice president and Doreen Yeaman, secretary-treasurer.

CONTROL BOARD RECOGNIZES BARRACKS GROUP

SYCONIA is unique among men's organized houses at Kansas State in that its membership is composed entirely of Lutheran students. It is a new organization on the campus this year. Housemother to the twenty-four men of Syconia is Mrs. L. R. Keim.

Social activity in the first year of Syconia's operation was limited to an open house in December.

Teams from the house participated in intramural football, basketball and volleyball competition this year.

First semester president at Syconia was Vernon Bluhm. Victor Bohling occupied the president's chair during the second semester.

Monchonsia Hall was one of three organized houses for independent men on the campus this year. Its thirty-six members lived in a Moro Courts barracks and were leaders in independent student affairs throughout the school year.

Monchonsia Hall men were active in Newman club, ICA, Alpha Kappa Psi, Cadet Officers club, American Quill club, Graduate club and Amistad. The house participated in all intramural sports.

INDEPENDENT HOUSE HAS ORGANIZED ALUMNI

HOUSE OF WILLIAMS claims the distinction of being the only independent men's house at Kansas State with an organized alumni association. For several years House of Williams was the only organized house on the campus for independent men. The twenty men who make up the House of Williams membership are supervised by housemother Mrs. Katherine Williams.

Members are active in 4-H, ICA, YMCA and various church and departmental groups. The house entered a team in all intramural sports throughout the year.

On the social side, House of Williams led the way among independent men with regular hour dances, parties, stag affairs and an alumni homecoming event.

Presiding during the fall term was Charles Armstrong. Spring term prexy was Thaine Larson.

Beta Rho, formerly known as the Pyramid Club, is a local fraternity petitioning for membership in the national organization of Alpha Epsilon Pi. Twenty men are currently members of Beta Rho. This year was the first year of activity for the group.

A majority of Beta Rho members are active in such campus organizations as Hillel Foundation and YMCA.

Although no social events were planned by the men of Beta Rho, their teams were active in the independent bracket of men's intramural competition throughout the year.

First semester officers included Victor Kaufman, president; Martin Koslo, treasurer; and Martin Lesser, secretary. Spring term president was Morton Rose. Ben Klein was treasurer and Henry Glucksman, secretary.

WEST STADIUM DORMITORY

THE WEST SECTION OF MEMORIAL STADIUM HOUSES 140 MEN

WEST STADIUM dormitory is the largest organized house for independent men at K-State. The west section of Memorial Stadium was home this year for 140 students. Mrs. J. R. Roberts supervised the activities as housemother.

West Stadium men were active in such campus groups as Sigma Tau, Eta Kappa Nu and ICA.

Foremost project of the house this year was active participation in all college intramural sports. Playing under the name Gutterbums, West Stadium won the all-school touch football championship.

Socially, West Stadium was active with several hour dances and one major party.

First semester officers were Kenneth Hanson, president; Jack Horvorka, vice president; and Donald Kobbeman, secretary-treasurer.

George Armantrout took charge as president during the spring semester. He was assisted by Keith Mines as vice president and Dale Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

EAST STADIUM

EAST STADIUM HALL is the smallest of the three college operated organized houses for women. The converted northeast section of the football stadium was home this year for sixty Kansas State coeds.

Though the quarters under East Stadium are classified as temporary women's housing by the college, the inhabitants claim some of the finest living quarters to be found on the campus. Housemother to the East Stadium women this year was Mrs. Fred Tharp.

East Stadium women were active during the year in many extracurricular groups including Kappa Phi, Purple Pepsters, Collegiate 4-H, and A Cappella choir.

Social highlights of the school year were hour dances, exchange dinners, and a Christmas dinner party.

Officers during the first semester were Paula Swiercinsky, president; Miriam Crawford, vice president; Polly Weiser, secretary; and Margaret Boone, treasurer.

Spring semester elections found Paula Swiercinsky again holding down the president's chair. Other officers were Flo Hanna, vice president; Iris Fegley, secretary; and Muriel McHale, treasurer.

VAN ZILE IS ONLY PERMANENT WOMEN'S DORMITORY

VAN ZILE HALL the only permanent women's dormitory on the campus, was named for Mary P. Van Zile, Dean Emeritus. The residence hall which now houses 170 coeds, was opened in 1926 to accommodate 130 women students.

Miss Dorothy Hamer, assistant dean of women, has been house director at Van Zile for eight years. Marilyn Jones served as president for the entire year. She was assisted during the fall semester by Claribel Lindholm, vice president; Carolyn Voran, secretary; and Muriel Frey, treasurer.

Spring semester duties were turned over to Francis Baldwin, vice president; Glendeen Link, secretary; and Deann Davis, treasurer.

The dining room, now under the direction of the institutional management department and dietetics majors, was originally managed on a cooperative basis by the residents of the hall.

Van Zile Hall has members in Mortar Board, Who's Who, Phi Alpha Mu, Prix, Omicron Nu, Phi Kappa Phi, and Purple Pepsters.

Senior class officers include Donna Kahl as treasurer and Jane Engle as secretary. Lyna Herman, Lois Emel and Lou Ellen Poore are officers of the freshman class.

One of the three attendants to the Royal Purple Beauty queen was Jeanne Petracek.

ON THE K-STATE CAMPUS

The girls of Van Zile hold their annual pink and white formal each spring. "Once upon a Christmas" was the theme for their winter party this year.

In intramurals, Van Zile Hall placed second in basketball and volleyball. They also participated in tennis, table tennis, swimming and posture.

Perched alone on the northeast corner of the campus, Van Zile will soon have a neighbor. Construction of a women's residence hall, similar to Van Zile, is expected to begin this summer. Intended to house 210 coeds, the new hall will be ready for occupancy in about two years.

WALTHEIM HALL is completing its third year as a college-operated women's dormitory. Mrs. Blanche Twiss was house director for the seventy-eight girls living there.

President of the only off-campus residence hall first semester was Mary Schlagel. Second semester Nadine Kirby took over as prexy.

Members of Waltheim Hall are active in many campus organizations and honoraries. Elizabeth David was an attendant to the Ag Barnwarmer queen.

Holding their share of parties throughout the year, their social season is highlighted by a spring formal dance. The girls also participated in girls' intramurals, placing first in the volley ball contest.

KEEP SMILING is an old rush week motto artfully demonstrated by Kappa Sigma actives as they greet prospective members at the door.

PHI DELT'S discuss tactical maneuvers in the modernistic living room of their house as they await arrival of the first group of rushees.

RUSH WEEKS ARE BUSY DAYS FOR GREEK GROUPS

HE SIGMA NU'S boxer mascot, Dorn, proves to be the best "rusher" in the fraternity as he shakes hands with the prospective pledges.

THE AGR'S FORTIFY themselves with plenty of nourishment in preparation for the long grind facing them during fraternity rush week.

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA'S DEMONSTRATE THEIR MUSICAL TALENTS WITH AN IMPROMPTU JAM SESSION DURING RUSH WEEK ACTIVITIES.

PAJAMA-CLAD rushees gathered in their rooms for late evening gab sessions as sorority rush week activities got under way last fall.

NEW FRIENDS were made as excited coeds found themselves sharing Van Zile rooms as well as the same old rush week worries and joys.

FIRST DATES at the K-State sorority houses found both rushee and rusher eager to please with members doing their best to provide fun.

THERE WERE dull moments, however, when everyone simply ran out of bright conversation and the party atmosphere withered and died.

AS RUSH WEEK moved along, smiles began to brighten a little more and an informal approach added color and interest to the activities.

THEN CAME the evening dates at various houses with exclamations over formals all but pushing the business at hand into the background.

THE BULLETIN board was eagerly scanned by prospective sorority coeds for the news they wanted to see but just knew wouldn't be there.

IMPRESSIVE ceremonies became the thing at the houses as rush week drew to a close and last ditch stands were made for the best pledges.

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY PLEDGES JOIN FORCES

INTERFRATERNITY Pledge Council is composed of one representative from the pledge class of each fraternity and sorority.

Officers this year were Bill Keller, Phi Delta Theta, president; Wendell Parks, Delta Tau Delta, vice president; and Dorothy Kissick, Kappa Kappa Gamma, secretary.

Miss Golda Crawford is faculty sponsor of the group.

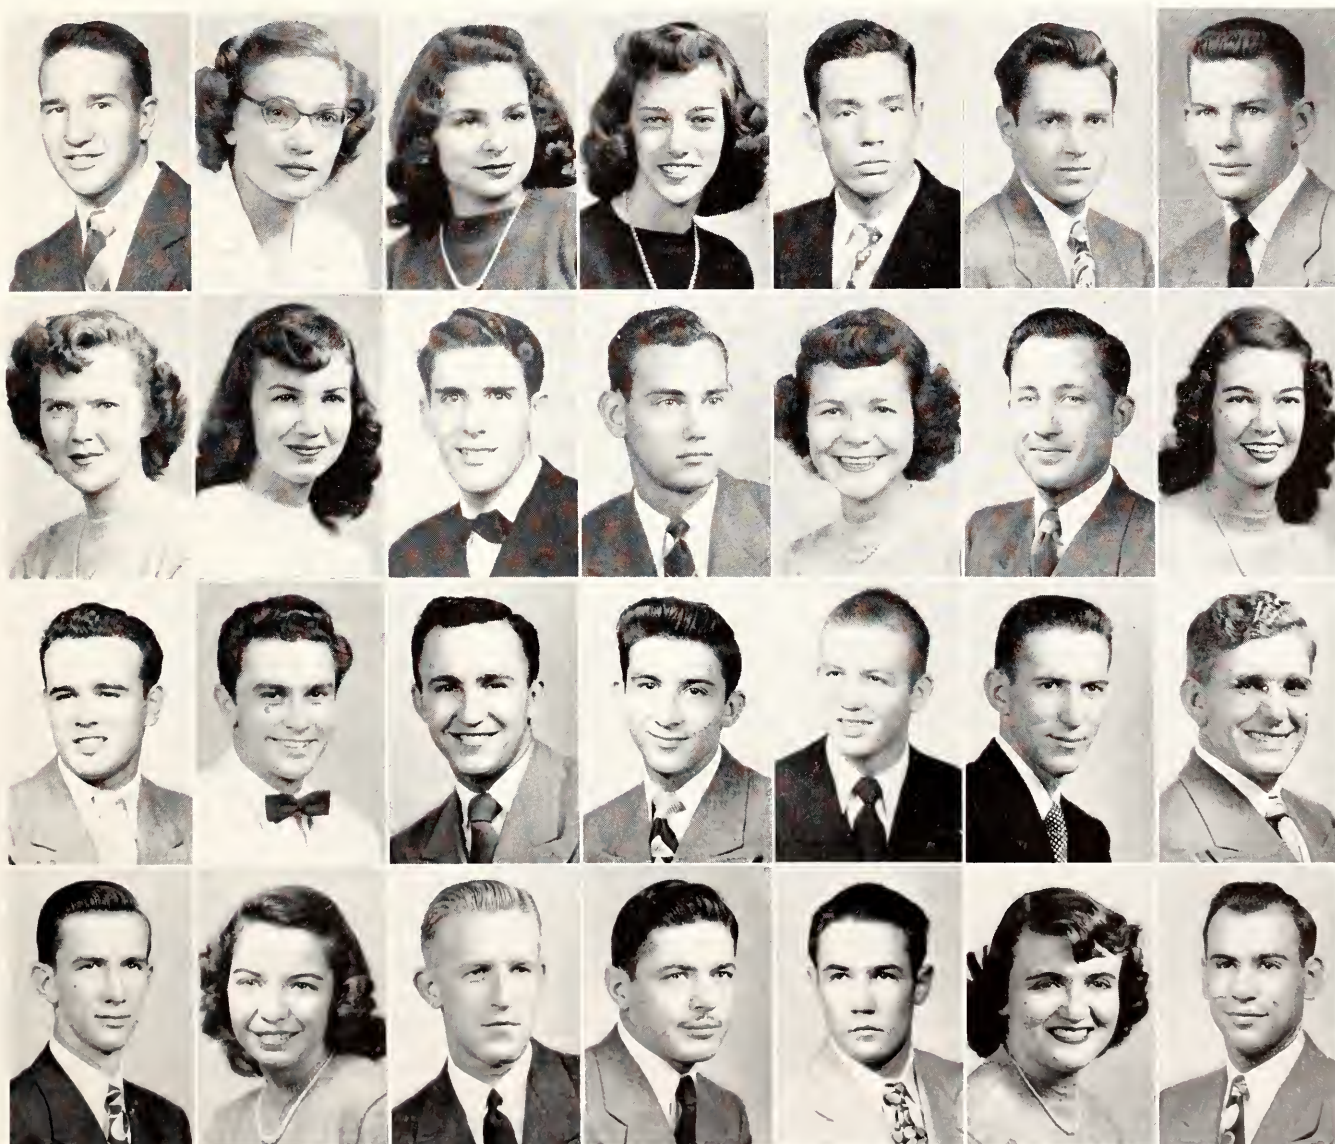

The 28 members managed the annual pledge "Tag and Drag" dance. They also supervised the campaign and election of the pledge king and queen. Phyllis Riley, Alpha Xi Delta, was crowned queen and Don Bray, Beta Theta Pi, was chosen king of the dance.

Projects the pledge council has undertaken include selling tickets for the Dick Haughton modern music concert, buying equipment for the temporary student union and decorating for the student council all-college Christmas party.

Chapter Three EXTRA- CURRICULAR

Editor--MAE WEAVER

SCHOLASTIC achievement is not all that students try for at Kansas State. They spend lots of time in numerous extra-curricular activities for both pleasure and attainment.

Student dramatists gave nine plays during the year, one of which ran a week. Student journalists wrote copy for the several newspapers and magazines published at K-State. Student musicians gave lots of their time and talent to the band, orchestra, glee clubs, and the A Cappella choir.

Among other activities were judging, debate, radio, rifle and drill teams, athletic teams, various campus drives and all-school recreation programs.

AWARDS and recognition in many activities were won by students during the 1948-49 term. The Kansas State Players received loud ovations for every performance they give. The Royal Purple was awarded the All-American Rating by the National Scholastic Press Association for the 13th consecutive year.

Some K-Staters became international-minded and went overseas during the summer vacation to learn more about other countries. The Kansas State bands gave many intricate marching demonstrations at football games. Assembly programs given by College music groups were always presented to packed Auditoriums.

The judging, debate, and rifle teams all brought home enviable honors from the contests they entered.

EARL G. HOOVER, popular director of the Players, has proved his ability to guide his students to success in presenting many difficult plays.

GUIDED by Prof. Earl G. Hoover, the Kansas State Players gave three major productions during the 1948-49 term, two plays during the 1948 summer term, and six minor laboratory theatre productions.

Officers of the Players are William Scott, president; Carl Kish, vice president; Lorraine Halbower, secretary; Leona Muckenthaler, head usher; and Mary Henson and Clifford Hunt, business managers. Scott is also president of Pi Epsilon Delta, honor society for dramatics students.

Major productions given were Oscar Wilde's "The

NINE PLAYS GIVEN

"Importance of Being Earnest" in November, Edmond Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" in February, and Norman Krasna's "John Loves Mary" in May.

Hoover undertook what most K-Staters considered the impossible in directing the heroic verse-drama, "Cyrano de Bergerac." It was an outstanding success and played every night during Fine Arts Week to enthusiastic audiences.

Summer school productions were "Parlor Story," directed by Professor Hoover and "Laura," directed by William Scott. Starred in "Laura" were Joe Adams, Ken Carson, Clifford Hunt, Si Crites, Mary Clingham, Jody Yearwood, Barbara Roth, and Bob Larson.

Production staff members who helped with both summer plays were Kay Wortman, O. D. Hunt, John Hepler, Harold Sylvis, Charlene McMahon, Ruth Thomas, and Vivian Sherwood.

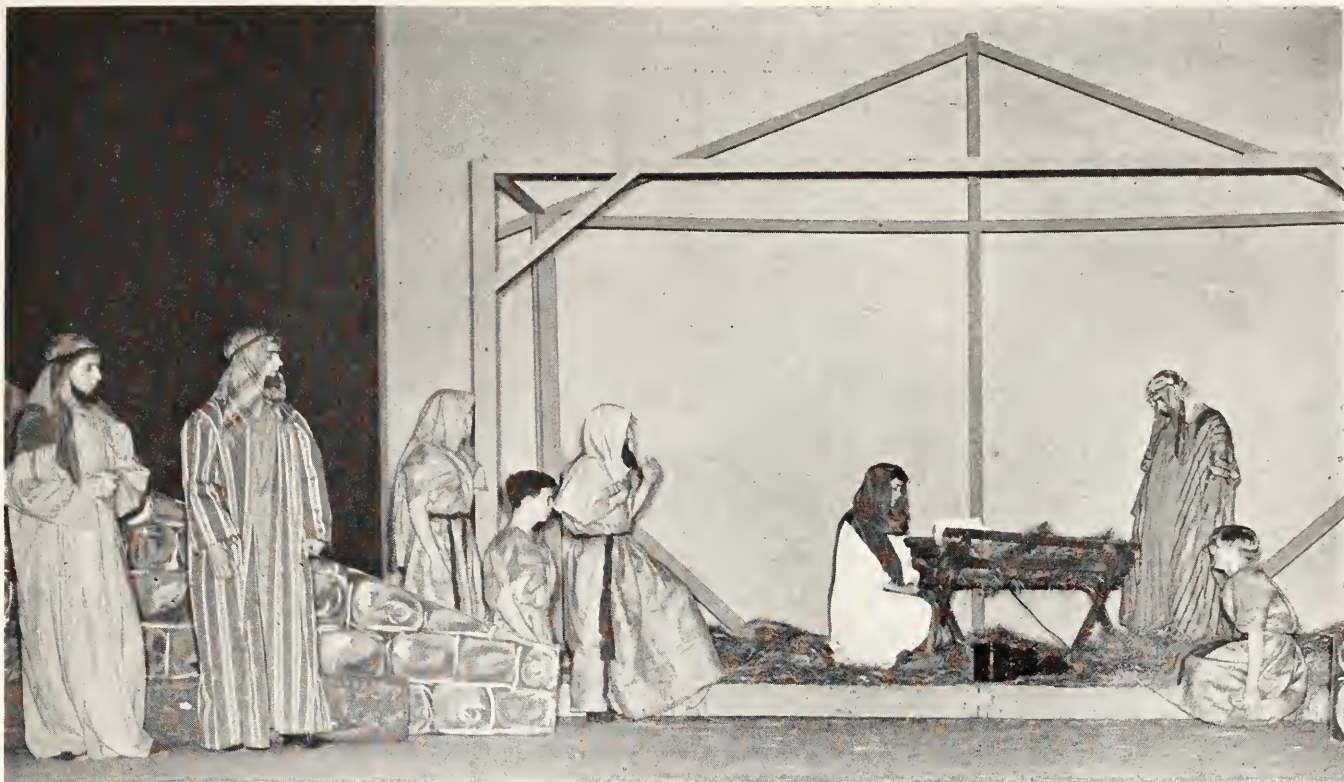

"The Night Was Strange," a story of the Nativity, was given at the Christmas Assembly. "The Roman-cers," a one-act poetic comedy, was given several times during Fine Arts Week.

In November the Players and other students in the lab theatre presented a series of one-act plays. They were "Happy Journey," "Finger of God," "Maker of Dreams," and "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Thirty-five students participated in the plays.

An up-to-date and humorous play, "John Loves Mary," was given in May. Gordon Hess and Beverly Tucker played the leading roles.

STUDENTS PRODUCE PLAYS FOR ALL SEASONS

ATTIRED in the colorful robes, draped headgear, and wearing the long beards typical of the Hebrew people of nineteen and one-half centuries ago, the Players presented the story of Christ's Nativity at the all-College Christmas assembly.

The Players were assisted in giving the production by soloists and glee clubs from the music department.

Light comedy was the favorite type of drama of summer school audiences, so the Players presented "Parlor Story," a three-act play by William McCleery a few weeks after the summer term began.

Students in the cast were Lucille Lambert, Norma Kimmal, John Bascom, Floy Buckles, Harold Burris, Larry Hartory, Dave Meier, Anita Shields, Carl Kish, and John Haines.

Many other students helped in production.

AFTER THREE ACTS OF EXCUSE GIVING, LOVE MAKING, AND TRIBULATION GRISSOM LEARNS THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST.

"EARNEST" A CLEVER PLAY

A CLASSIC, stylized production, both clever and unusual, was the Kansas State Players' spring production, "The Importance of Being Earnest." In it the characters, sets, and story suggested the manners and customs peculiar to the artificial society often created by the playwright Oscar Wilde. It is considered one of the most famous of modern comedies. Particular emphasis in the Kansas State production was placed on balance in groupings and arrangements.

Story of Scapagoat

The story concerned the efforts of a debonair British playboy, John Worthing, to attribute his own shortcomings to a mythical scapegoat he invented named "Earnest." His friend, played by Joe Adams, went along with him through an ingenious plot, from which eventually evolved Worthing's true identity. He discovered, especially after falling in love, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Members of the cast, besides Grissom and Adams, were Larry Hartory, William Scott, Clifford Hunt, Sandra Beifess, Margaret MacGregor, Shirley Smith, and Ann Carpenter.

Production staff members were O. D. Hunt and John Hepler, lights; Dorothy Paramore, assistant director; Kay Wortman, assistant technician; Leona Muckenthaler, costumes; Margaret Paramore, make-up; Cynthia Moorish, properties, Dave Meier, publicity; Carl Kish, manager; Mary Henson, box office.

"CYRANO DE BERGERAC"

"CYRANO" has been judged the most outstanding play ever given by Kansas State students—certainly it was the most difficult. To give it, enormous demands were made on the time and talents of the 50 students who made up the cast. Garth Grissom, who played Cyrano, and Sally Sanderson, who played Roxanne, the woman he loved, gave brilliant performances.

Hoover assumed a tremendous task in casting and rehearsing the large troupe of students through the many tedious practices it took to get Cyrano ready for production. The play, given every night during Fine Arts Week, was a highlight of the series. Arranging the elaborate sets for the five-act performance took the efforts of stage crews and actors as well.

Setting in France

Scene of the play by the famous 19th century playwright was 17th century France. The story was about a small but gallant French soldier who outdid all others in fencing and poetic ability, but who feared he could not win the woman he loved because of his oversized nose.

Concealing his own sorrow and jealousy he acted as spokesman for a handsome but tongue-tied soldier in his regiment who also loved Roxanne. When the soldier was killed in battle Roxanne retired to a convent. Only when the faithful Cyrano died of a wound while visiting Roxanne did she realize her love.

KANSAS State's poultry judging team won second place among the 17 teams competing in the annual Inter-Collegiate Poultry Judging Contest at Chicago. The team won first in the market poultry and eggs division, the exhibition poultry bracket, and the poultry yearbook contest.

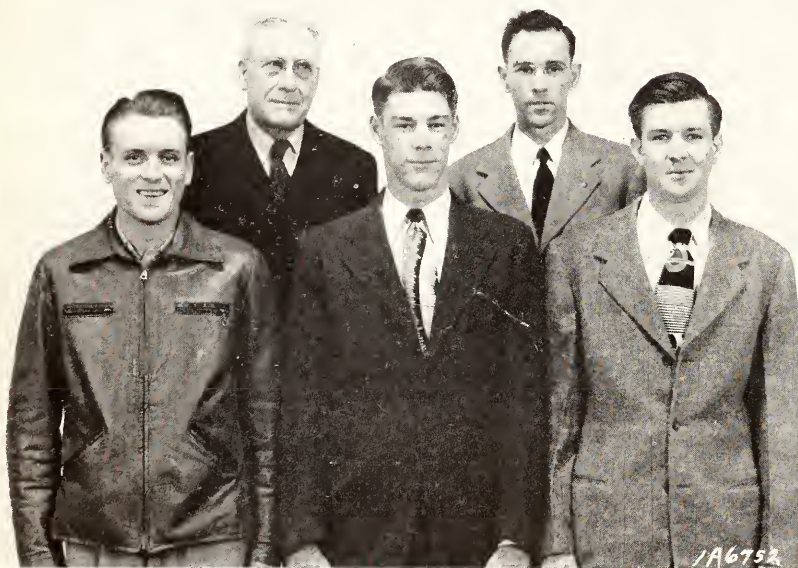

Tom Keigwin was high individual in the entire contest and placed first in judging exhibition poultry. Bill Johnson won first in the market products division and Tom Keigwin second.

The crops judging team placed fourth in judging at the International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago, which was held concurrently with the International Livestock Exposition. They judged on commercial grading of grain, hay, and cotton, identification of seed, and grading of seed.

The team also placed fourth at the grain judging contest held by the Kansas City Board of Trade. In the last 17 years K-State crops judging teams have won five first-place trophies.

The College dairy judging team placed 16th at the International Dairy Products Judging Contest at Atlantic City. Colleges in 35 countries sent teams to the contest. The K-State team spent many hours practicing at the College dairies before making the trip.

The dairy team also competed with 10 other mid-west teams at the dairymen's counterpart of the American Royal at Kansas City in May. This was the first time a K-State dairy team had ever entered.

INTER-COLLEGE CONTESTS

The meats judging team placed fourth among 14 contesting teams at the American Royal in Kansas City and fourth among 18 contestants at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. Harold Smith was third high individual winner at the Royal. Kansas State was second high on beef judging, fourth on pork judging, and fifth on identification of beef carcasses.

An all-Kansas State contest in which the entire class participated was sponsored by John Morrell and Company of Topeka. H. L. Smith won the top award and was presented a traveling bag.

Harold Dalbom, a member of the junior livestock judging team, won first in beef judging and first in judging Hereford cattle at the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. Junior team members who went to the Denver and Oklahoma City stock shows did not place high, but the students who participated felt that they obtained valuable experience for next year's judging trips.

The senior livestock judging team placed second at the American Royal among 18 other contesting schools. Norman Minks was high man among all students entered in the sheep judging contest. Lloyd Lewis won first in the hog judging contest.

At the International Livestock Exposition the senior team placed sixth among 31 teams entered. The team won first place in judging horses. Fred Germann placed high for the entire show in judging horses and Glenn McCormick won top honors in cattle.

Festival, the Choir joined the Manhattan Civic Chorus in presenting Faure's "Requiem."

In November the choir sang for the State Teacher's Convention in Topeka. The annual Christmas Vespers starred the choir in traditional Christmas music and compositions by Mendelssohn, Bach, and Handel. William Fischer, bass, was soloist at the program.

Choir members spent their 1949 Easter vacation making their second annual tour of central Kansas towns. They presented concerts in Clay Center, Concordia, Marysville, Mankato, Smith Center, Phillipsburg, Norton, Goodland, Ness City, Hoisington, Chapman, and Minneapolis.

At the concert programs the Choir sang selections suitable for Easter, such as Thompson's compositions based on the Biblical chapter, Isaiah.

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S GLEE CLUBS SING "MESSIAH"

Highlight of the Glee Clubs' year was their combined presentation of Handel's "Messiah" before Easter. The Clubs' other major program of the year was the presentation of a concert of special music at the Christmas all-College assembly.

In January the Women's Glee Club gave a concert of All-American Music, featuring songs from all native groups. In November the women's group gave a "Hymn Festival" at the Presbyterian church, and sang again at church in the spring.

Both groups have sung for the College radio audience. In addition to their concerts, the Men's Club serenades at Christmastime and in the spring, presents programs to schools in neighboring towns, and sings at local functions.

Director and accompanist for the Women's Club are Prof. Hilda Grossmann and Mrs. Esther Sparks. Prof. William Fischer and Miss Jerry Gatz direct and accompany the Men's Glee Club.

The Glee Clubs' success can only be measured by the numerous demands for their concerts presented at functions on and off the campus.

GIVE VARIED CONCERTS

A FEATURE of the Kansas State College Orchestra's concert November 23 which appealed to hundreds of students in the audience was a rendition of George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." The program of classical and semi-classical music was presented at an all-College assembly. Piano soloist for the Gershwin number was Miss Patricia Moll. Prof. Thomas Steunenberg is the orchestra's director.

The other major presentation of the 48-piece Orchestra for the 1948-49 term was its "Messiah" in April. In this program the orchestra furnished music for the combined College-Civic choruses and other numbers.

In January the College orchestra combined with Manhattan musicians, presented a Sunday afternoon concert in the College Auditorium. They presented Mozart's "Magic Flute Overture"; four movements from Beethoven's "Symphony No. 1 in C. Major; Liszt's "Hungarian Phantasy," Douglas Moore's "Square Dance," and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance." Charles Stratton was solo pianist in the Liszt number.

DEBATE AND RADIO BUILD COLLEGE PRESTIGE

THE Kansas State Debate Squad concluded a successful year with much to their credit. Wanda Lanoue and Marian Skaggs won first place at the Texas A & M Tournament. Dick Dethloff and John Biggs went undefeated through the annual Azalea Debate Tournament, Mobile, Alabama. Garth Grissom was the team's 1948-49 orator.

Other squad members received individual honors in the Missouri Valley Tournament, Southwestern Tournament, and the Grand National Tournament, Fredericksburg, Va.

The question debated was, in short, resolved: that the federal government adopt a policy of giving grants to tax-supported schools to equalize educational opportunity.

Using power lines around Manhattan for transmission, KSRS, a student-operated commercial station was organized in the spring of 1949. Radio engineering students set up equipment for the station, which broadcasts at 560 kilocycles with 10 watts. The "wired-wireless" station can be heard best around Manhattan, so programs are beamed chiefly to students.

Radio students write and produce all their own shows. Their programs include Radio Workshop, This Week in History, What's New, campus interviews, and others. Jim Heaton is program director of the station.

EDITOR Melvin Cotner beats out headlines for a spring edition of the Agricultural Student magazine. Cotner spent many hours organizing copy for the four 34-page editions.

BUSINESS MANAGER Dean Reese took care of the advertising and financial side of the 1948-49 Student. He solicited and composed ads from local, state, and national advertisers.

AGRICULTURAL STUDENT HAS WIDE DISTRIBUTION

THE Agricultural Student is published four times a year—in October, December, March, and May—by students in the School of Agriculture. It is distributed to students, faculty members, and K-State ag school alumni. Many vocational agriculture departments in high schools subscribe to the publication.

All articles are written and pictures are taken by ag students and students in the ag journalism classes.

Each issue contains departmental news from the divisions represented in the K-State ag school. Departmental reporters are Norman Collins, ag economics; Merle Howes, ag education; Garrett Seaton, agronomy; Ed McGinness, animal husbandry; Glen McCormick, dairy husbandry; Joe Brady, horticulture; Hal Ross, milling, and Tom James, poultry husbandry.

Other articles pertain to new developments in the field of agriculture.

Staff members, besides Cotner and Reese, are Dale Wiseman and Norv Gish, associate editors; Wyman White, Jim Orton, and Jim Mills, photographers; and John Schnittker, associate business manager. Elbert Macy is faculty advisor for the staff.

FALL ENGINEER editor, Murlin Hodgell, appraises the cover page of the January, 1949 issue as it comes off the press. Hodgell, an architecture senior, did the cover page drawings for most of the editions. Other cover themes were designed by Doran Barham, Robert Hodgell, and Gene Gurtner.

STAFF HEADS for the spring term, Al Greif, left, business manager, and Bob Thorn, editor, read an article for possible errors as a section of the March issue leaves the press. Thorn is a civil engineering junior and Grief is a senior in architecture and engineering.

ENGINEERING MAG PUBLISHED EIGHT TIMES A YEAR

The Kansas State Engineer, official publication of the Kansas State Engineering Association, is noted for its humor content. However, it is responsible to the Association for editorial policy and is supervised by a board of censors. M. A. Durland, assistant dean of engineering, and Prof. Leland H. Hobson are faculty advisors.

Unique in that none of the 30 students on its staff have any formal journalism training, the 34-page magazine is published every month, October through May. During the fall term Murlin Hodgell planned make-up and content and edited copy for the publication. Bill Markey, civil engineering senior, solicited advertising for the Engineer.

Bob Thorn and Al Greif were editor and business manager during the spring term.

The magazine is a member of the National Association of Engineering College Magazines. Through this organization the magazine receives suggestions, advertising and editorial criticism, and occasionally recognition. It is sent to many Kansas high school libraries.

Different sections of the magazine are entitled, Enginoddities, Enginhonoraries, Engineworthies, Enginalumni, Enginauthors, and the like. In addition, articles about innovations in engineering, varied features, and many pictures appear in each edition.

THE possibility of Kansas State students' getting a daily Collegian became more nearly a reality in the spring of 1949 when a new Cox-O-Type press, capable of printing 3,500 copies an hour, was installed in the basement of Kedzie Hall.

The fall Collegian will be published five days a week. For years the student newspaper has been printed by Manhattan printers and distributed on Tuesdays and Fridays only. Plans are for a tabloid-size Collegian containing as complete coverage of campus events as possible and a limited coverage of state and national news.

Prof. E. T. Keith, for 31 years a member of the journalism staff and since 1943 superintendent of the Kansas State College Press, died after an extended illness March 22, 1949. Professor Keith had served as acting head of the Department of Journalism and Printing in 1934-35 and in 1940.

Professor Keith was noted as one of the best typographers in the Midwest and one of the outstanding amateur photographers of the state. Since 1920 he had hand-lettered 17,000 student names on diplomas.

Associate professor Lawrence Dennis is the only new addition to the journalism faculty.

SPONSOR CONFERENCE ON HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOKS

All phases of yearbook production were discussed at a November conference at the College for high school and junior college yearbook staff members. C. J. Medlin, graduate manager of student publications, directed the sessions.

The 80 delegates who attended were instructed in yearbook editing, business, and photography. Medlin was assisted by discussion leaders.

STUDENT DIRECTORY EDITOR Mae Weaver (center) was also on the Collegian Staff and was chapter editor for the '49 Royal Purple.

Containing the names, addresses, and phone numbers of 7,500 students and 1,000 faculty and administrative personnel, the 1948-49 student directory was the largest ever printed at Kansas State.

Compilation of information on student organizations and officers, regulations, and general information was begun early in the summer of 1948. Directories were distributed November 15.

PUBLISH COLLEGE NEWS

SENDING news about Kansas State all over the nation is the task of Lowell Brandner and Arleta Barber. They keep telephones and typewriters busy in gathering and processing news releases sent out daily to press associations and newspapers.

Although many of the stories are about the College, much of the material they distribute is publicity about students, which is sent to home town papers. The bureau also arranges for wire coverage of all major events at the College.

Alumni news and general news about the College is published twice a month in the Kansas State Industrialist, official organ of the Alumni Association. In the 1948-49 editions articles appeared about various department heads at the College, stories and features about the legislature's appropriations for a fieldhouse and stories about the drive for funds for the All-Faith Chapel.

The Kansas Magazine, published annually by the Kansas State College Press, was placed on newsstands and in bookstores the first week in December in 1948. This year's edition featured an article entitled "Deadwood Dick" by Nelson Antrim Crawford, former journalism department head at Kansas State. Other stories, poems, drawings, and paintings by Kansas authors and artists appeared in the magazine.

however minor. Other editorials discussed the increase in faculty members' salaries.

Major stories in the summer Collegian pertained to the many changes in faculty make-up which occurred before the fall semester began, interpretations of the new draft law, and instructions for student voters who registered and cast their votes in the primary elections.

Strong on Features

Features appeared in the student newspaper on the razing of the unused brick smokestack for so many years a part of the campus horizon and events sponsored by the summer school recreation committee.

Salisbury's staff included Darrell Cowell and Bill Krause, associate editors; Don Alexander, copy desk editor; Duane Patterson, sports editor; Joan Argabright, society editor, and Mae Weaver, features editor.

Clyde Osburn headed the business staff. He was assisted by Lee Keck and Jack Wise.

Summer-school staffers—both on the editorial and the business crews—did double duty this year. There were less than a dozen journalism students taking courses which require Collegian reporting.

Staff members wrote feature copy, took numerous pictures, sold advertising and did all editorial work in addition to their regular school courses. Guest columns by the President, Dean Pugsley, "Harry the Cop" and various students were well-read features.

THE summer school Collegian, along with women's dress styles, took on a new look in 1948. Family man Ralph Salisbury, editor-in-chief, published a list of new student and faculty heirs every week in "The Stork Club" column. This was the first time such a column had been used, but it has remained a regular inclusion in the Collegian.

Include "Guest Columns"

Each week the hot-weather Collegian included a column written by a leading student or faculty member at Kansas State. Student opinion polls on issues of interest to summer school students appeared every week as a regular feature.

Editorials panned the Manhattan police department and their sudden all-out drive against traffic violations,

BIG STORIES PLENTIFUL IN FALL TERM COLLEGIAN

BIG stories in the fall Collegian were about Dr. Maurice Woolf's appointment as Dean of Students, the FMOC campaign, Student Union finances, Kansas States football victory over Arkansas State and near-victory over K. U. The student flare-up against the College cafeteria, general elections, class elections, homecoming, and Chancellor Hutchins' visit all made the front pages.

ROYAL PURPLE EDITORIAL

TIRELESS EDITOR

Ralph Salisbury was never long separated from his copy and picture cluttered desk in the Royal Purple office from September to May, when the 448-page annual was distributed. Supervising the tedious job, besides taking many of the pictures and writing took most of Ralph's time.

in April, and proof was checked, the staff helped distribute the yearbooks.

Staff writers were selected for their ability to write well and rapidly. Most of the editorial staff worked on the book last year.

A staff of 43 students, mostly underclass women, put in several hours each week after school started in September typing, indexing, and doing other clerical work for the Purple.

MOST of the editorial staff members of the 1949 Royal Purple had many other campus jobs to do besides looking up information, interviewing, and writing copy for the Royal Purple, but all their work on the yearbook was voluntary.

Ralph Salisbury guided the work of the twelve editorial staff members, helping with suggestions and re-writing copy which didn't exactly fit the space assigned. The staff did the bulk of its work second semester, when enough had happened to write something about.

WORK IS LONG, LONG GRIND

The title of business manager on the Royal Purple covers a variety of tasks. Early in September "Bud" Eisenhower sent out notices to all organized houses at Kansas State requesting that students in those houses get their individual photos made so that engravings could be made and blocks of pictures made up for organized house pages.

He wrote many notices for the Collegian instructing students to get their pictures made and informing them of photo deadlines.

"Bud," assisted by publications secretary Maxine Loe, supervised the office and clerical staff who worked every day in Kedzie to make out picture fee receipts and type page after page of copy.

Early in the year "Bud" corresponded with Josuf Karsh, Canadian portrait artist, to ask him to select a queen and attendants for the Royal Purple Beauty Ball.

"Bud" and the members of his sales staff visited advertisers to solicit ads for the 1949 yearbook.

By October 15 nearly 2,000 students had had their individual photos made. At least 4,500 students—

BUSINESS MANAGER
Milton S. Eisenhower, Jr., began work on the Royal Purple months before most staff members. He capably took over the duties of business manager last year at mid-term, so "Bud" had plenty of experience to fit him for the job of supervising finance and advertising.

500 more than last year—had individual pictures taken for the book.

Twenty-two pages of advertising were sold for the 1949 Royal Purple. Staff members spent many hours drafting ads and keeping books on the number, size, and cost of ads they sold.

Managing the annual Royal Purple Beauty Ball is another regular task of the business manager. Selection of candidates, judge, and a dance orchestra, as well as publicity, decorations concessions, and miscellaneous other details are the responsibility of the business staff head.

ROYAL PURPLE BUSINESS STAFF MEMBERS—Bob Larberg, assistant business manager; Don Matlack, Dick Lindblom, Joe Skinner, and Max Lingafelter. The advertising staff sold hundreds of dollars worth of advertising to help finance a bigger 1949 Royal Purple.

SCHEDULING PHOTOGRAPHS and "caddy" for the Royal Purple photographers kept Ralph C. Arnold, assistant yearbook editor, hopping between class sessions. He classified and filed all the picture taken, wrote late copy and helped read class division proof.

CHECKING REAMS OF PROOF and helping paste up page layouts occupied many hours of Ann Thackrey's spare time. Assistant editor in charge of copy, this was Ann's second year of work on the Kansas State yearbook.

PUBLICATIONS "K" KEY AWARDS TO 62 JOURNALISTS

SIXTY-TWO students worked hard and long enough to earn gold "K" keys for outstanding work on student publications this year. The awards were presented at the 1949 Student publications banquet in May.

One student, Mae Weaver, qualified for the award in three fields. She was editor of the Student Directory, and a staff member on both the Royal Purple and the Collegian. Ralph Salisbury and Norville Gish, both Collegian editors, also qualified for the keys for editorial work on the yearbook.

Other members of the Collegian editorial staff to

Collegian business staff members receiving awards were Bill Mall, Clyde Osburn, Rex Parsons, Wallace Wood, Don Wempe, Blaine Phillips, Frances Callahan, Wayne Turner, Lee Keck, Keith Duckers, Barbara Selders, and Ralph Burdick.

Thirty-two of the awards given were to Royal Purple staff members. C. J. Medlin, graduate manager of student publications, presented editorial awards to Ralph Salisbury, Dana Jennings, Ann Thackrey, Norville Gish, Shirley Hill, Shirley Nichols, Floyd Sageser, Jay Funk, Joan Blackwelder, Mary Alice Wolf, Ralph Arnold, Mae Weaver and Maxine Loe.

Yearbook business staff members who received awards were Milton Eisenhower, Jr., Diana Alexander, Jean Antenen, Barbara Clark, Helen Cortelyou, Betty George, Lois Gillan, Jane Halbower, Irene Henningson, Nancy Keel, Catherine Merrill, Lou Jean Moyer, Jean Rugan, Leigh Straight, Gwen Wilson, Max Lingafelter, Dick Lindblom, Bob Larberg, and Joe Skinner.

Student members of the Board of Student Publications were Ted Jones and Deloris Montague.

R. P. CAMERA AT ALL EVENTS

PICTURES are the life and main substance of a year-book, so Royal Purple photographers snapped photographs of Kansas State College students and events from the spring of 1948 to the spring of 1949 for this year's book.

Dana Jennings, head photographer, had his camera with him nearly every day. He snapped pictures of students and faculty members at meetings, parties, and sports events after classes and took pictures of class-room scenes when not in class himself. Then he spent long hours in the Kedzie Hall darkroom developing and printing his pictures.

Group pictures were taken by Floyd Hanna, College photographer. Lawrence Blaker, head of the Studio Royal, took the thousands of individual studio pictures

BY APPOINTMENT

November
23rd,
1948.

Milton S. Eisenhower, Jr.
Board of Student Publications,
Kansas State College,
Manhattan, Kansas,
U. S. A.

Dear Mr. Eisenhower:

I am returning the bouquet of Kansas sunflowers. I have undertaken the almost impossible task of placing in order of beauty so many enchanting examples of womanly loveliness.

Not even Paris had a harder task when he had to decide whether to award the golden apple either to Pallas Athene or to Aphrodite. In your "Dream of Fair Women" all seem to be:

"Daughters of the Gods divinely tall
And most divinely fair".

How then can a mere photographer in a far away city find pre-eminence where all is excellent? Nevertheless I have done my best with my difficult duty.

I would like to congratulate your College on its good fortune in harbouring such a company of damsels so blithe and debonair. May their grace and beauty continue to blossom for their happiness and your delight.

Sincerely,

Yousuf Karsh

CANADIAN NAMES QUEEN

A PROFESSIONAL portrait photographer, tops among artists in his field, was asked to judge candidates for 1949 Royal Purple Beauty Queen. Yousuf Karsh had been recommended to the Royal Purple staff by President Milton S. Eisenhower, who one time had Karsh make a portrait of him.

Karsh has had much experience in photographing famous persons. He is known as a competent judge of beauty and an artist who can photograph his subjects so as to bring out their outstanding personality characteristics.

The November, 1948, issue of Coronet magazine contained a series of twelve Karsh portraits.

COLLEGE PROGRAMS FEATURE

MORE all-College assemblies were held during the 1948-49 school term than during any other year since the war. Because top-notch speakers and musical artists were obtained for the assemblies, a public address system made speeches available to students who could not crowd into the Auditorium. Most of the programs were broadcast over College station KSAC.

Robert M. Hutchins, addressing an overflow crowd, advocated government aid to only the most capable College students. He declared that "football and fraternities are designed to make college palatable for those who shouldn't be there."

Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former head of the Austrian government, told students that unless a European confederation is formed, permanent peace is impossible. Liberal Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn contended in his address that Americans should not rebuke other nations for suppressing free speech, since we do so ourselves.

DOROTHY MERRIAM, brilliant young violinist, receives enthusiastic compliments of Mrs. Eisenhower and students after her winter recital.

ELLERY FOSTER, CIO representative, is introduced by Prof. Carl Tjerandsen. He defended labor's stand on Taft-Hartley law in assembly.

EXPERTS IN EVERY SUBJECT

Miss Dorothy Merriam, attractive young winner of a national music contest, thrilled K-State listeners with a violin concert. Congressman Fred Hartley defended the labor bill he co-authored, and Ellery Foster, labor representative, pointed out to students why labor does not like the law.

A Catholic priest, a Jewish rabbi and a Baptist minister helped with the campus observance of Religious Emphasis Week.

Whiting Williams, industrial relations expert, said that workers the world over revolt when they feel their importance to society is ignored. Dr. Normal Royall of the University of Kansas City, defined the liberal's position in the modern world.

Other campus visitors were Dr. Joseph Dunner, who spoke on Israel; Dr. George Catlin, philosopher and political scientist; and Charles Kettering, president of General Motors.

REP. FRED A. HARTLEY, eloquent co-author of the controversial labor bill, defends management's position before a large student audience.

FESTIVAL OF FINE ARTS

MORE than ten thousand visitors saw programs and demonstrations at the College's first Fine Arts Festival, held in February.

Highlights of the festival were lectures by Thomas Hart Benton, performances of "Cyrano de Bergerac" by the Kansas State Players, and string music by the Albaneri Trio, Washington, D. C.

Other lectures, plays, demonstrations, art displays, and musical concerts were presented by Kansas State faculty members, students and townspeople.

STUDENTS GATHER AROUND Thomas Benton to discuss the themes he chose for murals he painted which received stormy criticism.

In another ceremony the Soldier's Medal was posthumously presented to Lt. Charles V. Crooks. His wife, Mrs. Thelma Crooks, received the award for him. Crooks, an engineering student, died of polio after the war. The award was for helping rescue a pilot from a burning plane in the Pacific theatre.

KANSAS STATE ROTC UNITS

LAYING the foundations of intelligent citizenship within the student, so that his basic military training will be an asset both to him and the armed services is a major aim of the ROTC. Another goal is to produce junior officers who have the qualities essential to their progressive and continued development as military leaders.

K-Staters between 14 and 22 years of age who are citizens of the United States and physically fit are eligible for the ROTC basic course. For enrollment in certain branches of the service, students must meet specific technical requirements.

After completing the basic course, students enter the advanced course voluntarily. To do so they sign written agreements with the government to complete the advanced course and attend summer camp. Free transportation to and from camp, as well as board and room, are provided. Pay at camp is $75 a month.

At camp, ROTC trainees get a concentrated course in military science and tactics. This year ROTC infantry and artillery will go to Camp McCoy, Wis. Signal Corps students will go to Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Veterinary students will go to Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, and air students to Air Force installations.

If an advanced ROTC cadet's work merits distinction upon graduation, he may be designated a Distinguished Military Student and be eligible to compete for a Regular Army or Air Force commission. Each year more than 600 ROTC graduates from colleges throughout the nation receive commissions in the Regular Army and Air Force.

IN FOUR-SEASON TRAINING

This year more than 1,300 students were enrolled in ROTC courses. Of this number, more than 200 were enrolled in the advanced course. Veterans get an automatic College exemption in ROTC courses, but are eligible to enroll in the advanced course.

Many Kansas State graduates are now enlisted in the Regular Service or the Reserve Corps, particularly in the infantry, artillery, veterinary corps, and air force. Commissions are awarded annually to selected graduates.

Due to constant changes in scientific warfare methods both during and after World War II, the ROTC curriculum is in continuous change. As new weapons are developed, the Army must train its men to understand their structure and their use. Both the ROTC courses at Kansas State and the summer camp sessions work toward this end.

ROTC graduates, whether in the infantry, artillery, Signal Corps, Veterinary Corps or Air Force, will have the technical knowledge as well as the military decorum necessary for their continued development as officers.

STATION WOQQQ goes on the air from Kansas State with student operators sending signals everywhere—even through the "iron curtain."

RIFLE TEAM WINS FIRST IN FIFTH ARMY AREA

KANSAS State's sharpshooting cadets outdid cadets from 35 other midwest colleges and universities in the Fifth Army area at the Hearst Trophy Matches in April. The team placed fourth in the nation, shooting a score of 936 out of 1000.

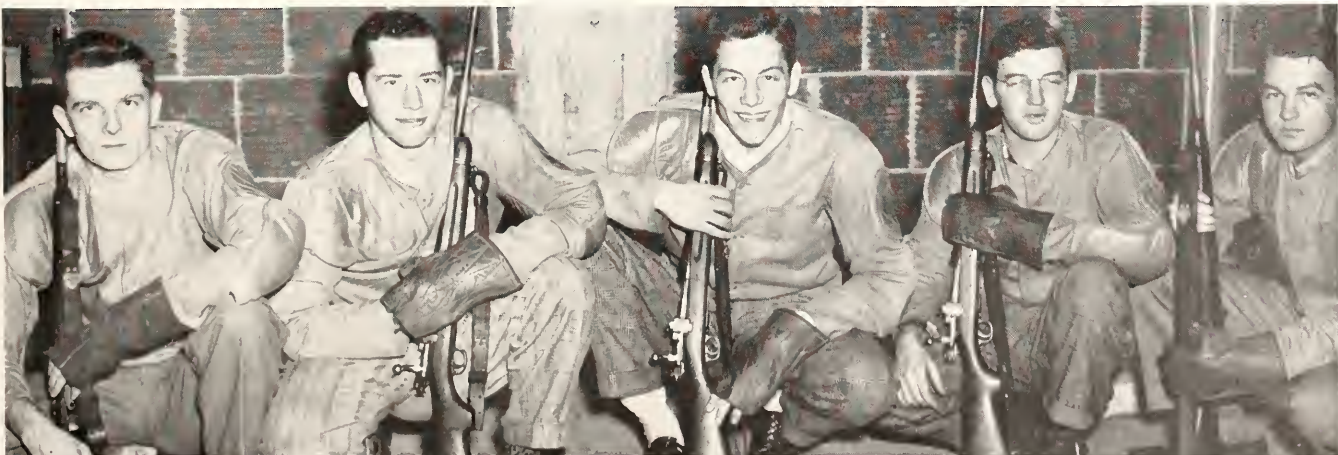

Walter Willis shot a score of 196 out of 200, tying the score of the national winner. Each member of the team received a medal and the team received a trophy. Willis received a special medal and trophy.

In th 1948-49 Intercollegiate Postal Matches the K-State team won 75 contests and lost only two. The team is coached by T/Sgt. James Aufderheide. Capt. Edward J. Cleary is faculty advisor of the organization.

Chapter Four

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

*Editor--*SHIRLEY NICHOLS

HONORARY organizations drew their members from all schools and departments. Some groups recognized scholarship and leadership in the College-at-large, while others confined their membership bids to a specific department or technical interest group.

Only one honorary group, Phi Kappa Phi, selected its members from all schools on the basis of pure scholarship. Most other groups, such as Blue Key, Mortar Board and Prix, recognized leadership in extra-curricular activities as well.

In addition to recognition by honor societies, more than 150 scholarships were awarded to deserving students this year.

SIGMA DELTA CHI and Steel Ring "pledge-doormen" work dutifully during initiation. The two initiation dates and duties coincided.

PREPARATION FOR HONORARY RECOGNITION BEGINS WITH ENDLESS QUIET HOURS AT THE COLLEGE LIBRARY.

SIGMA DELTA CHI served patrons at a downtown theater, (left) this winter with direct-wire reports of distant K-State football games. The Homecoming queen and her escort (center) lead activities at the Blue Key sponsored ball. Block and Bridle members (right) smoke a little meat at their annual steak fry. Honorary organizations include nearly ten percent of the entire student body in their memberships.

PHI KAPPA PHI

SIXTY-EIGHT students were selected as members of Phi Kappa Phi during the fall semester. This national scholastic honorary fraternity for graduating seniors and graduates elects members during both semesters and summer school.

Phi Kappa Phi seeks to emphasize scholarship in the thought of college students and to stimulate mental achievement by the objective of membership. Members of the organization are chosen for high scholastic attainment, and for their character.

Professor Fred L. Parrish is president of Phi Kappa Phi. The society has been active on the campus for 30 years.

Ward Haylett, Robert Heline, Jack Roth, Ralph Salisbury, Dean Schowengerdt, John Woolsey.

BLUE KEY AND MORTAR BOARD

BBLUE KEY, national honor fraternity for senior men, is restricted to 13 members. Members are selected for high grade averages and for participation in all school activities.

Major project of Blue Key is the Homecoming Ball.

Officers of Blue Key were Jim Gretzinger, president; Ralph Salisbury, vice-president; Norville Gish, recording secretary; and Dean Schowengerdt, corresponding secretary; and Jim Davis, treasurer.

Ten women were chosen this year by Mortar Board, national honor organization for senior women. Members are selected for scholarship, leadership and service.

At their annual scholarship dinner in November, members entertained junior women eligible for Mortar Board membership.

Carolyn Anderson and Donna Kahl were presidents of the group, first and second semester respectively. Faculty sponsors were Miss Margaret Raffington, Emma Hyde and Helen Hostetter.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS

RECOGNITION in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges went to 28 students this year. Prominent students in every American university and college are selected for this honor.

Who's Who is published in book form to place names of outstanding American students before the business world, and before others who are interested in college and university talent. It received nation-wide use as an information service.

In the latest group selected for this distinction from K.S.C., twelve were engineering students, eight were enrolled in arts and sciences, five from the school of agriculture, two in veterinary medicine, and one from the school of home economics.

By Student-Faculty Committee

Students were chosen for Who's Who recognition by a student-faculty committee. The selection was made by averaging grade point ratios for every year of college work, activity points and the results of a rating scale on qualities of leadership.

COED GROUPS HONOR JUNIORS AND SENIORS

PRIX, honorary organization for junior women, selects its members from the sophomore class on the basis of scholarship and prominence in campus activities. This year 11 women wore the traditional black skirts, white sweaters and red gavels, signifying Prix membership.

Under the leadership of president Arvilla Johnson, Prix was active during freshman orientation week. The club organized campus tours, helped with aptitude tests and sponsored a tea for freshman women.

Prix members are active in UNESCO work and the club itself is a member of UNESCO council. Another project of Prix was the organization of independent women into neighborhood groups. Faculty sponsor of Prix is Miss Bettie Brass.

PHI ALPHA MU—Back row: Yvonne Swenson, Shirley King, Nadine Smith, Helen Wilkie, Wilma Portefield, Hope Leighton, Patricia Davis. Third row: Gloria Nanninga, Arlene Ableson, Shirley Deck, Reva Jean Barrett, Margaret Seaton, Arvilla Johnson, Marjorie

Outstanding junior and senior women in the school of Arts and Sciences are honored each year by being elected to membership in Phi Alpha Mu, scholastic honorary. The 37 members of Phi Alpha Mu must have maintained an average of B or above and must rank in the upper 15 percent of their class.

Each spring Phi Alpha Mu honors prospective members with their annual tea. At this time the Margaret Russel Scholarship Award of $25 is presented to the junior woman enrolled in Arts and Sciences who has the highest scholarship rating.

Phi Alpha Mu was organized by Dr. Margaret Russel in 1919 under the name of Theta Chi Gamma. In 1921 it was reorganized and given its present name. Donna Kahl was president this year.

ETA KAPPA NU CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

THE first chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary organization for electrical engineers, was founded at Urbana, Illinois in 1904. Beta Kappa of Eta Kappa Nu became active on this campus in 1939.

Members of this fraternity are selected on a basis of scholarship and interest in the profession. They are chosen from the upper one-fourth of the junior class and the upper one-third of the senior class in electrical engineering. Eta Kappa Nu has 55 members this year, an increase of 26 over last year.

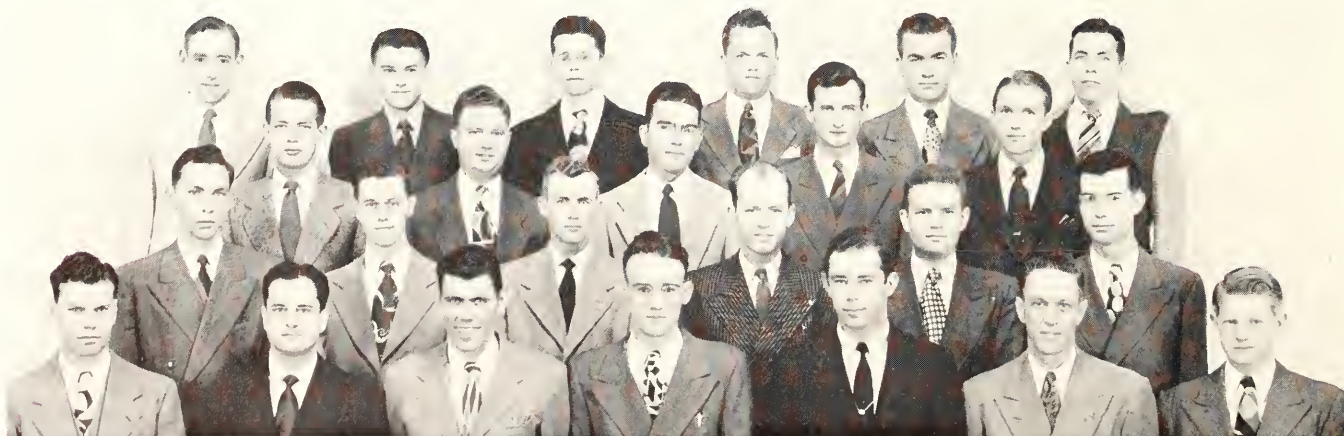

Besides contributing to Engineers' Open House exhibits, the chapter sponsored a scholarship award to be presented to the most outstanding sophomore in electrical engineering. The national organization presents an annual award to the most outstanding electrical engineer in the United States, who is under 35 years of age and has been graduated with an electrical engineering degree within the last 10 years.

Beta Kappa chapter also sponsored several picnics and parties for members and their guests. Officers of Eta Kappa Nu were Robert Heline, president; Herbert Brown, vice-president; Sid Hamilton, secretary; Kenneth Adrian, treasurer; Glen Utt, corresponding secretary; and Oliver Steele, bridge correspondent. Professor R. M. Kerchner was faculty sponsor.

ENGINEER GROUPS ACTIVE IN OPEN HOUSE

EPSILON chapter of Sigma Tau, national honorary fraternity for all branches of engineering, was founded on the campus in 1912. Men of Sigma Tau were chosen from the upper one-third of the junior and senior classes.

The organization had 90 members this year, selected on a basis of sociability, scholarship and practicality. Sigma Tau continued an annual project last fall—cleaning and maintenance of K-Hill, east of Manhattan.

Leadership of Sigma Tau was given to Arthur Cotts, president; Ward Haylett, vice-president; Jack Roth, secretary; and Glenn Utt, treasurer.

Forty-five members of Steel Ring, honorary organization for junior and senior men representing all engineering departments, carried out another successful year of activity.

Steel Ring selects the judges for Engineers' Open House and presents the trophy to the engineering department having the most outstanding exhibit.

A tradition with Steel Ring is the publication of "Intake and Exhaust", a magazine dedicated to the faculty and students of Kansas State.

Dick Gorman was president this year. Faculty sponsors were L. M. Jorgenson and R. F. Morse.

PUBLISH ACTIVITIES OF GRADUATES

SEVENTY-EIGHT members of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary for mechanical engineers, took an active part in Engineers' Open House with their beer bottle organ exhibit. This year, for the first time, Pi Tau Sigma sponsored a slide-rule class for all engineers and a smoker for freshman mechanical engineers.

The chapter also edited "Indicator Card", a publication about activities of Pi Tau Sigma and the mechanical engineering department.

Members of Pi Tau Sigma are selected on a basis of scholarship, engineering ability and personality. Professor B. B. Brainard is faculty sponsor and Gilbert Baker is president of the group.

Founded in 1947, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary and professional society for geology students, has been an active organization. The group is responsible for a bibliography of geology in Kansas, which is compiled each year, and for the geology displays in Fairchild Hall.

Members also are active in promoting an annual field trip with K.U. geology students. Last fall the K.U. chapter visited K-State and attended the K.U.-K-State football game. This year Gamma Epsilon published a newsletter which included names, addresses, and activities of geology majors and graduates.

Wendell Johnson was president of the organization and Prof. Arthur B. Sperry served as faculty sponsor.

PROMOTE UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP

ACTIVE in the agriculture field is Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity. The group began this year's activity with a smoker for students eligible for membership, and a banquet for new members.

The 31 members of Alpha Zeta were chosen on their leadership ability and scholastic achievement, being selected from the upper two-fifths of their class. The fraternity sponsors a freshman scholastic award.

Carl Carlson is president of Alpha Zeta with Fletcher Riggs, scribe; Ray Doyen, censor; and Howard Lindholm, treasurer.

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS RECOGNIZE

MEMBERS of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary organization for women journalists, are selected on a basis of scholarship, responsibility and interest in journalism.

Last fall, Theta Sig members began their activities with an evening "merry-go-round." Freshman women in journalism were escorted to the homes of journalism faculty members to become acquainted with them and the department.

One of the outstanding projects of the club was the annual Matrix Table banquet. Purpose of this is to honor outstanding townswomen and students in journalism.

Barbara Holmes was president of the organization with Mary Everson as vice-president. Mae Weaver was secretary-treasurer.

Sigma Delta Chi is an undergraduate chapter of the national professional journalism fraternity. The 32 members were junior and senior men selected on a basis of scholarship and demonstrated abilities in the journalism field.

Sigma Delta Chi activities included direct wire reports of all out-of-town football games, which were announced in a local theater. Visiting newspaper editors were entertained during the Editors Day activities. The group attended two banquet meetings and were guests of the Kansas City Press Club at a third.

Officers of the group were Ralph Salisbury, president; Norville Gish, vice-president; Roger Swanson, secretary; and Don Alexander, treasurer. Faculty sponsor of Sigma Delta Chi is C. J. Medlin.

AND PROMOTE SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT

RECOGNIZING and promoting scholarship, leadership and research in Home Economics is the purpose of Omicron Nu, honorary and professional society for junior and senior women in that school. Undergraduates are eligible for Omicron Nu by maintaining a grade point average of 2.2 while graduate students must have a 2.75 average.

Omicron Nu members take an active part in the Hospitality Days program and open house. This year the Kansas State chapter will be hostess to representatives of the 35 Omicron Nu clubs when their national conclave is held on this campus in June. Miss Alpha Lartzke, is national club president. Carolyn Anderson was president of the K-State chapter this year.

One of the projects of Omicron Nu is to extend tutoring service to those students who require extra assistance in their academic work.

Home Economics Executive Council acts as a governing board for the six divisions of the Margaret Justin Home Economics Club. Chairmen of the clubs—publicity, service, art, radio, freshman and nursing—are members of the council. Other members are the elected officers, standing committee chairmen and the club advisor.

Members of the Council who represented Home Economics Clubs were Kathryn Larsen, Mary Jo Griffith, Margaret Russel, Kathleen Shamburg, Rosalie Germann and Averil Hawes. Clarice Cooper was president of the Council this year with Marilyn Jones as vice-president. Ruby Dickey was elected secretary-treasurer and Helen Cazier was selected as lecture board chairman.

Home Economics Executive Council is active in promoting Hospitality Days on the campus.

HONORARY FRATERNITIES REPRESENT

PHI EPSILON KAPPA, honorary fraternity for men students majoring in physical education, had 27 members this year. Students are selected for membership on a basis of scholarship and character.

Phi Epsilon Kappa members sold cow bells at football games this fall to purchase books for the physical education library.

Professor L. P. Washburn, faculty sponsor, was a founder of Phi Epsilon Kappa on this campus in 1930. The chapter was inactive during the war, but was re-activated in 1946. David D. Relihan was president of the fraternity this year.

Athletes who have earned varsity letters make up the membership of K-Fraternity. This year the club had 95 members, an increase of 15 over last year.

Special projects of K-Fraternity were the sale of freshman hats and promotion of athletics on the campus. Members particularly encouraged school loyalty and good sportsmanship.

President of K-Fraternity this year was Joe Thornton with Dick Bogue, Bud Jilka, and Jack Nielsen assisting with administrative duties. Lud Fiser and Fritz Knorr were faculty sponsors.

EVERY MAJOR COLLEGE CURRICULUM

MEMBERSHIP in Alpha Delta Theta, honorary for medical technology students, can be obtained by maintaining a C average in all College courses.

The 40 members of Alpha Delta Theta met twice a month for regular business meetings. Among their projects this year was the sponsorship of the campus cancer drive. Alpha Delta Theta also promoted College courses for medical technology students and sold Christmas cards to increase club funds.

At the annual Founders Day banquet in February, the club celebrated its third year as a national organization. Alpha Delta Theta was founded on the campus in 1946. Mickey Pooley was president this year and faculty sponsors were C. A. Dorf and J. O. Harris.

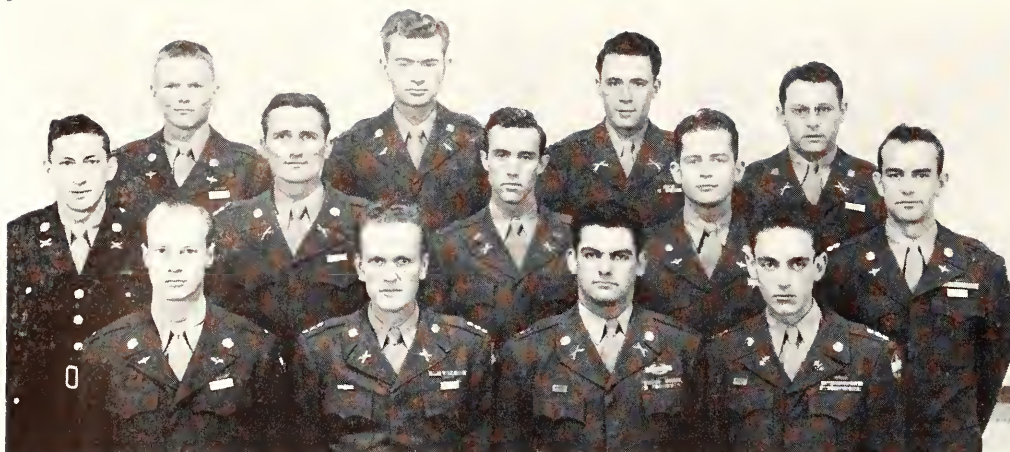

National honorary music society for women, Mu Phi Epsilon, had 9 members this year. Purpose of the club is to recognize scholarship in music and to promote friendship among the students in music.

Members of Mu Phi Epsilon were busy this year sponsoring musical shows and giving recitals. The organization also participated in programs presented by the College music department. Social activities of Mu Phi Epsilon were highlighted by teas and a variety of programs given for the members.

Leadership of the club was taken over by Jerry Gatz, president; Gerry Beam, vice-president; Elizabeth Mustard, secretary; Juanita Silva, treasurer; and Mary Hensen, historian. Miss Clarice Painter was faculty sponsor of the group.

RECOGNIZE OUTSTANDING ROTC STUDENTS

SCABBARD AND BLADE is the national honorary organization for outstanding cadets in advanced ROTC. The club had 29 members this year, an increase of 17 over last year.

Members are chosen on a basis of integrity leadership, character and scholastic achievement. Scabbard and Blade was inactive during the war, but was reactivated in 1947.

Major project of the organization was the presentation of medals to outstanding basic students in ROTC.

SCOUTING GROUP SERVES ENTIRE SCHOOL

ALPHA PHI OMEGA, national service fraternity for Boy Scouts or those working with scouting, was founded in Pennsylvania in 1925. Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega was established in 1930.

The 200 chapters of Alpha Phi Omega, represented in colleges throughout the United States, have three requirements for membership: (1) previous training in scouting, (2) desire to render service on the campus, and (3) a satisfactory scholastic standing.

Alpha Phi Omega members participated in a variety of activities this year which included obtaining and presenting a live Wildcat to the College for use as a mascot. The club sponsored a March of Dimes dance and the tuberculosis seal drive.

First semester officers of Alpha Phi Omega were Dick Hardy, president; Ralph Eaton, first vice-president; Wyatt Silker, second vice-president; Bob Hahn, secretary; Don Reinhardt, treasurer; and James Pattinson, historian.

Second semester officers were Jessie Mayfield, president; Bob Hahn, first vice-president; James Watkins, second vice-president; Phil True, secretary; James Holman, treasurer; and Wyatt Silker, historian. Wayne Sieh is faculty sponsor.

SPANISH-SPEAKING STUDENTS, MUSICIANS PLAN ACTIVITIES

Club Cervantes was founded in 1946 by a group of Spanish majors and Latin American students. Its purpose is to promote the usage of Spanish.

Club Cervantes joined with the College sponsorship of Pan-American Day and was active in contributing to its success. The club also sponsored Spanish movies.

Members of the club conduct their meetings almost entirely in Spanish. They listen to Spanish records, take part in Spanish dances and try to speak the language as much as possible.

Presiding this year was Shirley King, and Federico Torres from Nicaragua, vice-president. Marilyn Evans was secretary and Jo Harriett Hofsess was treasurer.

Promusica was organized on the campus in 1945 and the only requirement for membership is an interest in music. The club promotes understanding and enjoyment of music and provides an opportunity for those interested in music to meet together socially.

Christmas caroling, parties and picnics were some of the activities of Promusica this year. Programs for club meetings included all types of music from jazz to symphonies.

The 30 members of Promusica elected Juanita Silva as their president and Juanita Cooper as vice-president. Olivia Tiemann was secretary and Georgi Gress acted as treasurer. Faculty sponsor, Professor Charles Stratton.

CLUBS FOR EITHER PEN OR BREAST STROKES

PLOW AND PEN CLUB was organized in 1947 for agricultural journalists on the campus. Membership is also extended to agriculture students with basic journalism courses.

One of the chief purposes of Plow and Pen is to promote high scholastic achievement in the agricultural journalism curriculum. The club also is active in promoting an interest in agricultural events.

The 23 members of Plow and Pen met twice monthly for discussion and to hear speakers outstanding in their field.

Dale Wiseman acted as president of the organization this year with Bob Fiser as vice-president. Ralph Arnold was secretary and Don Tarver was treasurer.

Faculty sponsor of Plow and Pen was Professor Elbert B. Macy, who is a charter member of the club.

PRE-MED CLUB DOUBLES MEMBERSHIP THIS YEAR

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB, organization for foreign students and internationally-minded American students, had 76 members this year, an increase of 16 over last year.

By speaking at many Kansas high schools, men and women of the Cosmopolitan Club have promoted a better understanding of foreign countries.

El-Sayud M. H. Gaafar, from Cairo, Egypt, served as president this past year. He was assisted by Keith Brown, vice-president, and Reine Mehl of Mexico, corresponding secretary.

An organization for pre-medical and pre-dental students, Clinic Club was founded on the campus in 1947. The group, with 45 members, has doubled its membership of last year.

President of Clinic Club was Raymond Hogg with Shirley Deck as vice-president. Richard Griffing was secretary and Ted Grimes served as treasurer.

Dr. Mary Harman, faculty sponsor of Clinic Club, was one of the founders of the organization. She is also faculty advisor for all pre-medical students. Many of the present members were charter members.

EVERYTHING from geology to modern dance was included in the list of 133 interest groups recognized by the College Organization Control Board this year. Approval by the board entitles each club to use of college facilities for meetings, information, and publicity.

There was hardly a week night during the year when some organization was not meeting in a campus classroom, and weekends were filled with club-sponsored parties of all varieties.

OPEN HOUSE STILL BIGGER

ANOTHER attendance record was set this year at the annual Engineers' Open House March 18 and 19. Some 25,000 persons from all over the state crowded past exhibits during the two-day show. The attendance exceeded last year's record by nearly 2,500.

"Better Living Through Engineering" was the theme of the exhibition this year, the Silver Anniversary of the engineering show.

The Department of Civil Engineering won the coveted Steel Ring trophy for the most outstanding exhibit. It was the civil's first win since their victories in 1941 and 1942.

The outstanding display was a model reproduction of a sanitary system. The path of water was traced from its source to storage, distribution, then to sewage and final disposal.

THE CIVIL ENGINEERING EXHIBIT also included a model bridge wired to show various stress points when crossed by a model train.

THE ROUTES TO EXHIBITS at Engineers' Open House were winding but, aided by signs and arrows, visitors were able to find their way.

HOME EC DAYS—AG WEEK

HOME economics students call their annual open house Hospitality Days. The event is always opened with a reception at which outstanding home ec students are recognized for scholastic attainment.

For two days high school home ec students from all parts of the state and Manhattan women visit the College to watch demonstrations, see displays, and attend programs pertaining to all fields of home ec.

During Ag Week students in the School of Agriculture wear straw hats, blue jeans, and red bandanas on the campus. Ag students who refuse to comply with this mode of dress are dunked in a tank of water.

Selections are made at public try-outs for Barnwarmin' Queen, and the annual Barnwarmin' winds up the week's activities.

COUNCIL IS AG VOICE IN STUDENT AFFAIRS

THE Agricultural Council, sponsored by the Agricultural Association, is a policy-making body concerned with inter-school affairs and student matters. It is composed of elected representatives from each of the nine departments of the School of Agriculture. The Ag student council representative is automatically a member of the council and serves as chairman of the group. The Ag Association president is also a member.

Glen McCormick served as chairman of the council; Ed McGinnis vice-chairman; and Jim Orton, secretary.

It is the special project of the Ag Council to secure an additional representative from the School of Agriculture on the student council.

The organization was formed two years ago, and maintains a constant membership of eleven.

Students automatically become members of the Agriculture Association when they enroll in the School of Agriculture. The monthly seminars sponsored by the group are devoted to addresses by well known agriculture leaders.

Traditionally, it is the special project of the association to publish the Kansas Agricultural Student twice a semester. This year Melvin Cotner served as editor of the publication. The Ag Barnwarmer, a dance for all ag students, is the principal social activity of the organization. It was directed by James Kirkemide and his assistant, Charles Glenn.

Officers of the organization this year included Harold Ramsey, president; Norville Gish, vice-president; Louis Emme, secretary; and Kenneth Bell, treasurer.

STUDENT GROUPS PUBLICIZE DEPARTMENTS

WITH an eye to promoting good fellowship among its members, the Horticulture Club held fall and spring picnics, a skating party for graduating seniors and sponsored a ping pong tournament.

Interest in horticulture was furthered by an apple judging contest and a horticulture show sponsored by the group.

Ed Chandler was elected president of the club; Ken Havel, vice-president; Lela Warner, secretary; Maurice Vandruff, treasurer; and Herb Weekly, program chairman. Prof. R. W. Campbell sponsored the organization.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY MAJORS JOIN BLOCK AND BRIDLE

At the national convention of the Block and Bridle Club held in November, the Kansas State chapter won top honors for producing the most outstanding year-book, and second place recognition for its accomplishments on the campus. Twenty-four clubs were represented at the convention.

Members of the Block and Bridle Club support a three fold purpose. Their first goal is to promote higher scholastic achievement among the students of animal husbandry; second, to promote animal husbandry, especially all phases of student work in colleges and universities; and third, to bring about a closer relationship among faculty and students. The club's campus activities are both important and varied.

MILLING ASSN. SPONSORS MONTHLY SEMINAR

THE Milling Association was organized with the purpose of keeping students informed of modern and current trends in the milling industry. Membership is required for all students in milling who are sophomores or above and have a C average. The group numbered 130 this year.

At the association's monthly seminar meetings, the speakers are usually men who have been in some particular phase of milling industry for a number of years. Their talks are concerned with current subjects directly related to the milling industry, such as milling chemistry, technology, and administration.

This spring the group held a picnic to which all milling students and faculty members were invited, with dates or wives.

The Milling Seminar Association is represented on the staff of the Agricultural Student magazine written and published by students in the school of agriculture.

Association officers for the year were Bill Mahoney, president; Bill Reichert, vice-president; Thomas Flahive, secretary-treasurer. Prof. John A. Shellenberger sponsored the organization.

AG EDUCATION CLUB AIDS FUTURE FARMERS

THE Agricultural Education Club was organized in 1946, soon after the establishment of a curriculum in agricultural education. One of the chief purposes of the group is to assist in the state contests for the Future Farmers of America.

From an original 15 member charter, the organization has grown to include 103 students. Membership increased by 30 during the last year.

With Prof. A. P. Davidson serving as advisor, Clinton Jacobs led the organization as president. Other officers for the fall term were Robert Whitaker, vice-president; Oliver Russ, secretary; Charles Ross, president; Don Brock, vice-president; and Gerald Lawrence, secretary.

The Agricultural Education Club served box lunches at the F.F.A. state contest on April 1. The team receiving the best record at the state contest was awarded a plaque by the Ag group.

Annual fall and spring picnics and a smoker comprised the social activities of the group. Members of the club also participated in intramural touch football, basketball, volleyball and softball.

AG ORGANIZATIONS FOSTER COMMON INTERESTS

MEMBERSHIP in the Agricultural Economics club is open to any student majoring in agricultural economics or enrolled in agricultural administration. It is the purpose of the group to increase cooperation within the economics department and to promote fellowship and understanding between the faculty members and students majoring in economics.

When James Leathers, first semester president, graduated he was succeeded by Wilbur Levering. Other officers included Oscar Albrecht, recording secretary; John Schnittker, vice-president; Harvey Arand, treasurer; and Richard DeFord, corresponding secretary.

To be eligible for membership in the Chaparajos Club, a student must possess a fair knowledge of horses, be able to identify different types of riding tack or equipment, and show a genuine interest in light horses.

Chaparajos sponsored a spring rodeo, square dances, picnics, and teams which participated in rodeos, both Kansas and out of state.

The organization elected Sam Koury as president; Bob Kuhn, vice-president; Mary MacGaskill, secretary; John Hart, corresponding secretary; John Finley, publications; and Barbara Collins historian.

PROMOTE AND DIRECT RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

PHEMS, an organization for women's physical education majors, sponsored programs designed to promote interest and professional growth in physical education. One of its professional projects was planning and conducting a "play day" for high school guests.

Jane Rogers headed the organization as president, assisted by Gloria Lewis, vice-president; Virginia Kornemann, secretary-treasurer; and Pat Wilkinson, social chairman. Sponsor was Assoc. Prof. Eva Lyman.

COLLEGIATE 4-H CLUB IS THE LARGEST STUDENT

OVER six hundred members representing all six schools at Kansas State college made the Collegiate 4-H Club the largest campus organization again this year. Organized in 1927 with 60 members, the steady growth of the club may be attributed to the sound basis on which it is organized.

Under the sponsorship of J. Harold Johnson, state 4-H Club Leader and his staff, the club has three basic purposes which are (1) to maintain contact with former 4-H Club members and students with a similar background of interests; (2) to assist with the promotion of 4-H Club work on a state wide basis and (3) to make a definite contribution to the welfare of Kansas State College.

Membership in the Collegiate 4-H Club is limited to those who have been 4-H Club members. Associate membership is extended to those enrolled in the schools of home economics and agriculture who display an active interest.

Social activities include a fall dinner dance, spring

COLLEGE IS SUMMER HOST TO 1,000 4-H GUESTS

The radio committee under the co-chairmanship of Dale Watson and Floyd Ricker sends out weekly messages to a potential audience of over 5 million.

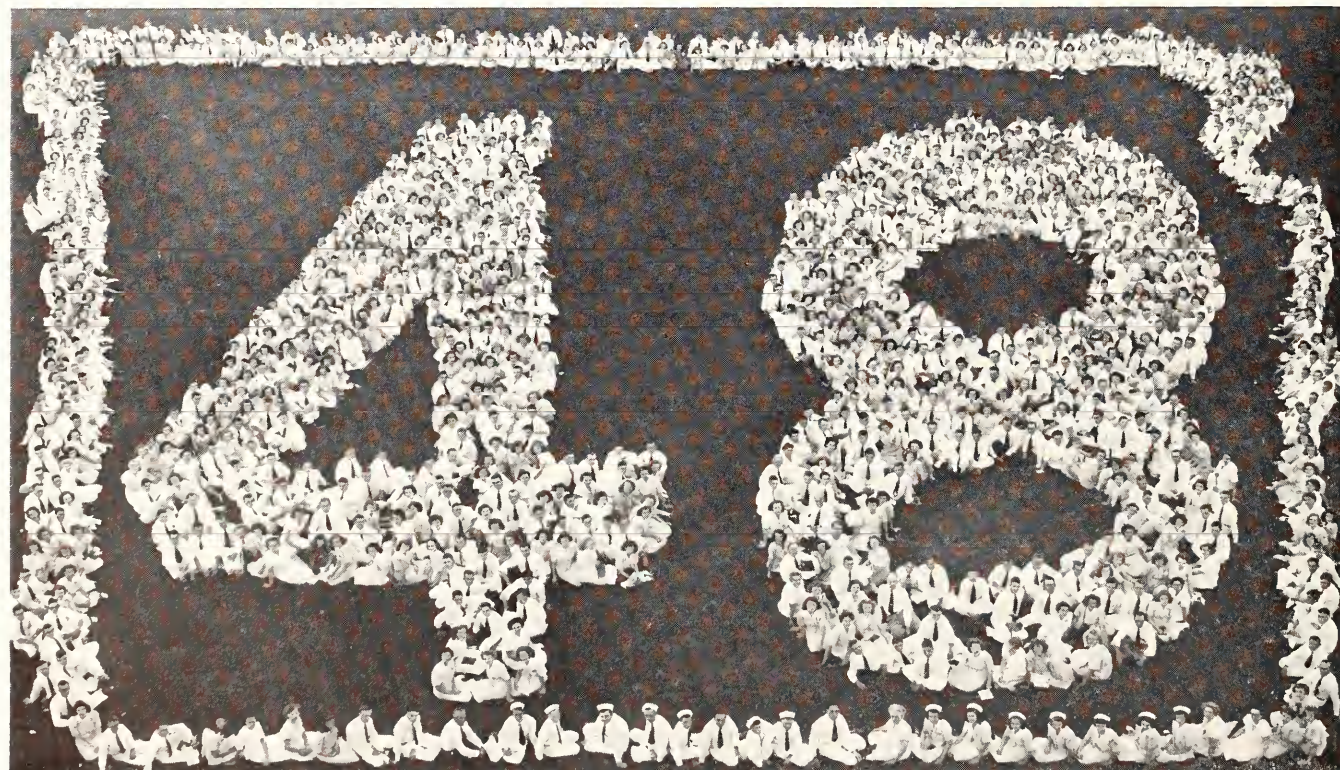

Acting as hosts to the State Rural Life Association meeting in March and to the more than 1000 attending the State 4-H Club Round-up here in June are other activities of the Collegiate 4-H chapter.

Another service added only recently by the College 4-H Club is to provide judges at county and sub-district 4-H Club Days. On some week-ends during March, 4-H'ers judged at as many as five different places at once.

COLLEGIATE 4-H'ers and the College annually play host to more than a thousand youthful 4-H members from all parts of the state. One of the regularly scheduled events is the group picture with delegates forming a clover leaf, or as this year, a map of the state. The 4-H picture is taken by Floyd Hanna, College photographer, from the tower of Anderson Hall overlooking the grass covered east quadrangle.

GEOLOGY CLUB SPONSORS TRIPS AND SEMINARS

THE Williston Geology Club, a national professional fraternity, is open to all students majoring in geology. Its membership for this year reached 190.

The organization met twice a month to hear outstanding speakers in the field of geology. Frank Foster of Colorado University, Dr. Mark Jewett of Kansas University, and a representative of the Highway laboratory spoke to the group.

The Geology Club regularly sponsors at least one off-campus field trip each year, and geology seminars. The organization also planned and arranged show cases for geological displays.

Officers for this school year included Wendell Johnson, president; Robert Burton, vice-president; Bill Metz, secretary-treasurer. Prof. Arthur B. Sperry served as faculty sponsor for the group.

Organized at Kansas University, the national organization now has 35 chapters.

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION IS GIVEN TO 130

ALPHA KAPPA PSI, a professional fraternity in business and commerce, was organized at K-State in 1926. During the war it was discontinued, then reactivated in May, 1948.

The group requires a "B" average for eligibility, and provides contacts with businessmen in various commercial fields.

Officers of the KSC chapter include Ralph Nanninga, president; Wallace Barrett, vice-president; Arthur Jewett, treasurer; Frank McBride, secretary; and Robert Gantz, master of rituals. Dr. A. A. Holtz and Prof. Harry Stewart were sponsors of the organization.

The KSC Entomological Club was host for the Kansas state pest-control meeting. The organization also presented papers at the Kansas Entomological Society meetings. The special project of the group was the publication of a yearly news letter. Picnics and a Christmas party highlighted their social calendar for the year.

The 61 members of the Entomological Club elected Dell Gates, president; Carl Bauer, vice-president; Harold Rife, secretary; Roy Stansbury, treasurer; Dana Childs and Adel Kamal, executive committee. Prof. Don A. Wilbur sponsored the organization.

DIFFERENT STUDENT AND FACULTY CLUBS

MEMBERS of Orchesis took part in the Glee Club concert and performed on the UNESCO talent show. Twelve students were active in the organization. Under the direction of Joyce Pratt, president; Alice Becker, vice-president; and Donna Shannon, secretary-treasurer. Marcia Manson sponsored the group.

Membership in Orchesis is determined by interest and sincerity of purpose. A one month apprenticeship is required for those new to the organization. It is the purpose of the club to promote an understanding of dance as a creative art expression, and to offer those who are especially interested in dance an opportunity to extend their experience and enjoyment in the field of participating in cooperative group activity.

Authorized by the national council of the organization, the Kansas State College Student Group of the American Guild of Organists became active on the campus in 1946. This year its membership reached 21.

Elected officers of the organization included Mary Young, president; Robert Lewis, vice-president; and Jo Harriet Hofsess, secretary-treasurer. Prof. Robert W. Hays sponsored the group.

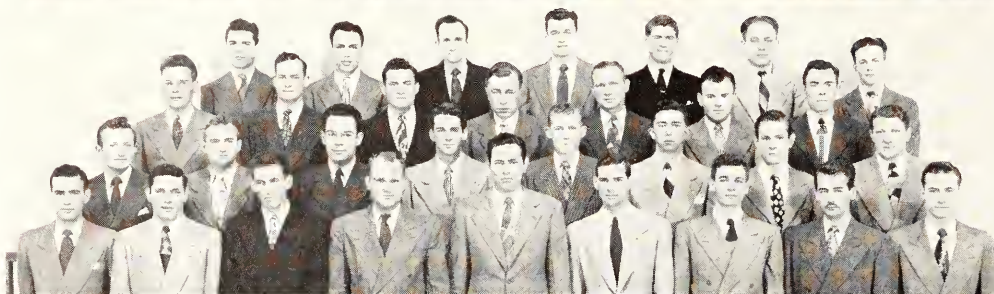

The aim of the Student Guild of Organists is to advance the knowledge and appreciation of organ playing and of church music among society at large as well as among its members. The group is composed of students of organ under the direction of Professor Hays.

JUNIOR A.V.M.A. ADDS 70 MEMBERS; TOTAL 270

PLACING seniors' individual pictures in Veterinary Hall was the special project of the Kansas State College Student Chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association this year. The organization also sponsored a smoker to welcome new freshmen, fall and spring dances, a banquet for graduating seniors, and a family picnic for married vet students. Junior AVMA members were represented in Who's Who, student council and UNESCO.

It is the purpose of this group to advance the knowledge of veterinary science and to promote social and literary activity. With the addition of 70 new students, the membership of the Junior AVMA reached 270 this year.

Officers for the first semester were John Woolsey, president; Sidney Marlin, president-elect; Charles Hunter, vice-president; Robert McNabb, secretary;

Hubert Weeks, treasurer; William Boley, critic; and Orlen Pfeifer, marshal. During the second semester the office of president was filled by Sidney Marlin; president-elect, Charles Hunter; vice-president, Raymond Swart; secretary, Alex Hogg; critic, James Neal; marshal, Julius Berchem; and treasurer, Hubert Weeks. Dr. F. H. Oberst and Dr. A. R. Borgman sponsored the group.

The Kansas State College chapter was organized in 1906 under the name of Veterinary Medical Association. The group functioned under this name until 1939 when it was granted a charter by the American Veterinary Medical Association. At this time it adopted its present title.

Members of Junior AVMA took an active part in intramural football, basketball, volleyball, baseball and track.

FOSTER FELLOWSHIP AMONG INDEPENDENTS

AMICOSSEMBLY serves to promote fellowship among girls in independent organized houses. For this purpose the group sponsors a fall mixer folk dance, a spring semi-formal dance and hour dances.

The 150 members of this organization are prominent in other campus activities including 4-H, Phi Alpha Mu, Frog Club, Purple Pepsters, Orchesis, church organizations, Home Ec Clubs, and student council.

Sponsored by Mary Margaret Green, the group was headed by Laura Belle Overley, president; Laberta Kugler, vice-president; Dolores Knapp, secretary-treasurer; and Janey Thomas, social chairman.

INDEPENDENTS MEET IN COORDINATING ASSEMBLY

THE Psychology Club, which was organized two years ago for psychology majors, tries to establish closer contact between students and faculty in the department of education and psychology.

This year the club presented a series of programs of special interest to advanced students. Among the subjects were psychoanalysis, neuro-psychiatry, and hypnotism, and the presentation of movies produced by the American Psychological Association.

Officers for the year were Bill Weaver, president; Carl Morgan, vice-president; Jay Miller and Beth Ramon, program chairmen; and Pat Everton, secretary-treasurer.

FEATURE BETTER LIVING THROUGH ENGINEERING

"BETTER Living Through Engineering" was the motto chosen for the 1949 Engineers' Open House. This exhibition, planned and produced by students with the aid of faculty advisors, presents so many different phases of engineering that everyone from high school students to those persons with extensive technical training finds displays and demonstrations of interest.

The following served as chairmen of the committees responsible for this year's displays: Ward Keller, Administration; Robert Brunson, Aeronautics; Maurice McDaniel, Agricultural Engineering; Gayle Achterberg, Applied Mechanics; Al Greif, Architecture; Chuck Smith, Assembly; Robert Arnold, Chemical Engineering; Frank Eaton, Civil Engineering; Dick Cooper, Electrical Engineering; Jack Bruner, Machine Design; Don Robinson, Mathematics; John Lindholm, Mechanical Engineering; Earl Burdick, Military; Ken Sellers, Tours; Gilbert Baker, Program; Bob Thorn, Publicity and Printing; Guy Wilson, Industrial Arts; Calvin Moeller and Howard Wood, Routing Signs and Lighting.

ENGINEER STUDENT ACTIVITIES LED BY COUNCIL

THE STUDENT Engineering Council forms the executive body for the Kansas State Engineering Association, which is composed of all students enrolled in engineering. The council acts as the direct link between students and the administration in the engineering school. Through this group student problems may be brought to the attention of the authorities for action and correction.

The officers of the Engineering Council include Jack Roth, president; Dewey Huston, vice-president; James Bondurant, treasurer; Charles Smith, secretary; Ward Keller, Open House chairman; and Merle Siegele, junior representative. M. A. Durland is sponsor.

The Student Branch of the American Institute of Radio Engineers is sponsored by a national professional organization, the Institute of Radio Engineers. The local chapter has a membership of 50. The organization was re-activated in the fall of 1946.

As its special project, the institute was instrumental in organizing a safety program for the electrical engineering department, especially in the laboratory.

Dick Cooper was elected chairman of the group, assisted by Robert Heline, vice-chairman; Dick Clarke, treasurer; and Wendell Lind, secretary. Prof. J. E. Wolfe served as faculty sponsor.

AG ENGINEER SOCIETY MAKES INSPECTION TRIPS

ALL students enrolled in agricultural engineering are members of the Student Branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

It is the purpose of this group to promote professional interest in agricultural engineering. Its members met twice a month. These meetings were devoted to guest speakers who presented various phases of the professional outlook.

The organization held a combination picnic and "beer-bust" and sponsored a senior inspection trip to Kansas City. Students making the tour stopped at the Sheffield Steel establishment, the Butler Manufacturing Company and the Lehigh Cement Corporation.

First semester officers included Paul Lyman, president; Richard Newcomb, vice-president; Harold Stanton, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Bondurant, scribe. Orman Snyder was elected president for the spring term; Dale Turnbull, vice-president; Robert Saylor, secretary-treasurer; and Russell Herpich, scribe. Prof. F. C. Fenton sponsored the group. Members of the society were also active in Sigma Tau, Steel Ring, and the Engineering Council.

MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

THE American Society of Mechanical Engineers, whose purpose it is to interest students in phases of engineering not covered by their college courses, meets to hear speakers twice a month.

Each May some of the members of this organization enter a contest sponsored by the regional A.S.M.E. held in Tulsa, Okla. The contestants write papers on any field of engineering which is of particular interest to them. K-State entries have been victories six time in

INCREASE MEMBERSHIP TO MORE THAN 220

THE activities of the Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers are carried on with the express purpose of furthering and developing scientific study in electrical engineering.

The General Electric "House of Magic," on display to the public was sponsored by this group. The organization's meetings brought to students in EE, speakers and films which presented various phases of electrical engineering. The principal social activities reported by the institute included a picnic and a "beer-bust."

Glenn Utt was elected chairman for the first semester; Al Baden, vice-chairman; Harold Miller, recording secretary; Al Getty, corresponding secretary; Ralph Naslund, treasurer. Naslund served as chairman for the second term, assisted by Gordon Tempero, Jim Holman, Harry Lindahl and Paul Jones.

The organization has a membership of 70, an increase of 20 over the previous year.

CIVIL ENGINEERS CAPTURE STEEL RING TROPHY

THE Kansas State College Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which was organized in 1923, is one of 123 chapters in the United States. The local chapter provides contacts with the leaders who are responsible for the technical and professional progress of civil engineering and offers opportunities for the members to take part in extra-curricular activities within that field.

A plan of reorganization in the fall marked a milestone in the advancement of the K-State chapter. Results provided for optional membership for juniors and seniors in the civil engineering curriculum and produced a "more affable" atmosphere throughout the organization.

The group met once a month, devoting several meetings to outstanding guest engineers who spoke to the members on particular phases of civil engineering.

Mr. Streater from the Bureau of Reclamation, Denver, explained the function of the bureau, how it operates, and the principal types of work encountered.

Under the leadership of Frank Eaton, the year's activities were climaxed by the Engineers' Open House. Jim Crow, Don Newton, Bill Predmore, Bob Schenke, Robert Fox, Paul Sweeney, and Bob Harrar directed planning and work for a battery of panoramic displays depicting water and sewage sanitary units for a municipality. The efforts of the civils brought them top honors in the open house competition.

John Mason was president of the chapter during the first semester; Frank Eaton, vice-president; William Markey, secretary; Robert Jones treasurer; and Ralph Small, program chairman.

William Mertz held the presidency for the second semester; Rolland Chandler, vice-president; Robert Tinsley, secretary; Royce Larsen, treasurer; and Flavel Simcox, program chairman. Prof. F. F. Frazier acted as faculty advisor for the organization.

Open to any junior or senior majoring in architecture, the Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects is a branch of the national professional organization. For the past year it held a membership of 35.

Winston Schmidt served as president of the organization; Ron Smiley, vice-president; and Dale Dronberger, secretary.

The activities of the institute included participation in the Engineers' Open House. Al Greif was in charge of the architecture displays and exhibitions. Principal displays were architectural designs for the home. The contemporary design was used to get the best house present day technology and design could produce.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS STUDENTS FORM NEW GROUP

ORGANIZED in November of this year, the Student Industrial Arts Association strives to point out the opportunities in the teaching and industrial art fields. The organization's first contribution to K-State was the petitioning of a concrete sidewalk from the locker room barracks to the shops. Its members also contributed to the annual Engineers Open House.

An additional aim of the organization is the promotion of fellowship, and its members accomplished this by sponsoring a smoker.

"HOSPITALITY DAYS" IS STUDENT PROJECT

HOME Economic counselors are chosen in the spring by a student committee on the basis of scholarship and ability to work with people. It is their responsibility to guide freshman home ec students and help them with their school problems. The counselors receive training in the spring so that by the fall semester they are equipped to meet regularly with a group of freshmen. Marilyn Jones, as vice-president of the Home Economics Club, acted as head counselor.

It was the function of the steering committee to plan and execute the program for Hospitality Days. Hospitality Days as the special project of the Home Ec Department, is intended to show the type of work being done in the department. Activities of the two days' festivities included teas, style shows, demonstrations and displays.

The Margaret Justin Home Economics Club consists of six separate organizations. The Publicity Club, under the leadership of Margaret Russel, helps to publicize the activities of home ec students and is in charge of the FMOC campaign for the Snow Ball. The Service Club was under the direction of Mary Jo Griffith. Kathryn Larson, president of the Nursing Club, guided the organization in its meetings this year.

The Art Club had charge of the decorations for the Snow Ball. Under the direction of Rosalie Germann, president, the organization includes all art majors both in the School of Home Economics and Arts and Sciences. This group has the largest membership of all the home ec clubs. Averil Hawes headed the Radio Club, which sponsored radio programs of interest to those concerned with the field of home economics. The presidency of the Freshman Club was held by Kathleen Shamburg.

BUSINESS CLUB SPONSORS TRIP TO K. C.

THE Business Students' Association is open to all students majoring in business administration. It was organized with the purpose of aiding the students to become better acquainted with each other and more aware of the problems and opportunities of the business world. With this in view the club met once a month to hear prominent speakers from the fields of business and industry.

This year membership in the organization reached an all-time high of 157. Clyde Stallsworth was elected president; Bud Jilka, vice-president; Jeannette Hargis, treasurer; and Gloria Nanninga, secretary. Prof. E. S. Bagley and Prof. H. M. Stewart were faculty sponsors of the organization.

It is an annual project of the Business Association to sponsor an inspection trip to Kansas City to broaden the students' outlook on the commercial field. Nearly 100 students made the trip this spring.

The social calendar for the year included picnics in the fall and spring.

WILLIAM WEST is the secretary and able leader for the College YMCA. The "Y", only all-inclusive organization for men, is active during all three school semesters.

BILLIE PARKINS, youthful director of the College YWCA program, completes her third year with the local club this fall. Billie is widely known in YWCA circles.

YM-YW GROUPS ARE LEADERS IN MANY ACTIVITIES

THE Young Men's Christian Association handles employment for all men students. This service has been offered for over fifty years. The Freshman Y Fellowship group undertook the redecoration of the dining room at the Mariadahl Children's Home this fall. Providing homes, tuition and board for foreign students is a project begun this year. Following an SPC recommendation the YM established an all-college information service for the benefit of students, townspeople and visitors to the campus.

The membership of this organization, both faculty and student, reached 400 this year. William E. West served as executive secretary and Dr. Howard T. Hill as president of the board of directors. Roger Wilk was elected president of the YMCA; Ken Bell, Jim Dixon, Howard Wood, vice-presidents; Donald Jackson, recording secretary; and Bob Weatherbie, district representative.

The social activities of the YM include an all freshman mixer called the "Y-Knot Frolic," annual hayrack ride and barn dance, as well as the regular monthly membership smoker for all Y members. Student-faculty coffee hours are sponsored by the YM-YW each Tuesday afternoon.

Pioneering in social and human relations is the work of the YMCA with emphasis on the Christian ideals.

FEDERATION COORDINATES RELIGIOUS GROUPS

"A COLLEGE-SISTER program; groups for freshman leadership, racial understanding, world relatedness, Bible study; summer employment information; and baby-sitter service," are a few of the year's activities reported by the Young Women's Christian Association.

The 300 members of this organization also carry on a varied social and service program.

Billie Parkins served as executive director of the YWCA, with Betty Rich elected president; Doris Granger, vice-president; Mary Alice Wolfe, secretary; Jo Ellen McNicholas, treasurer; and Sarah Crouch, district representative.

The 20 members of this federation represent all of the religious groups on the campus.

Under the leadership of Howard G. Wood, president; Bill Fiden, vice-president; Thyra Bollinger, secretary; and Dean Miller, treasurer, the organization co-sponsored Religious Emphasis Week. The program included an assembly, lectures and informal talks.

CHRISTIAN STUDENTS ARE SERVICE GROUP

THE Christian Student Fellowship, an organization for students of Christian church preference, was formerly affiliated with the Christian Youth Fellowship. It is now a part of the International Disciple Student Fellowship, an organization for college and university students only. Irvin Lanier, a member of the local group, was elected president of the international fellowship for the following year.

Activities of the club are designed as service projects and included donations for the Colorado Christian Home, blood bank, distribution of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, sending funds to the Negro Institute, and furnishing of the nursery for the church.

The fellowship's social program included a Youth

Week banquet, a program-planning retreat, monthly parties, and "afternoon weekly friendlies."

Irvin Lanier, newly elected international president, also acted as president of the local group. He was assisted by Howard Rinkel, vice-president; Ruth Kelling, secretary; and Ima Jean Kidd, treasurer. Lois Turner and the Rev. Roy Cartee were co-sponsors of the organization.

Individually, the 145 members of the Christian Fellowship were active in campus organizations such as UNESCO, SPC, Sigma Tau, Eta Kappa Nu, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Alpha Mu, 4-H, Kappa Beta, Milling Association, Miniwanca Club, Purple Pepsters, and the YWCA and YMCA.

FELLOWSHIPS WORK FOR RELIGIOUS UNDERSTANDING

IT IS the ultimate goal of the Kansas State Christian Fellowship to know Christ and to make him known. The organization has a membership of 60, an increase of 20 over the previous year.

The group sponsors Christian lectures, Bible studies, missionary work, prayer meetings, gospel teams, fellowship meetings and conferences. The special project for this year was a missionary conference. The fellowship also obtained a $300 library.

Robert Schultz headed the organization as president; Virginia Eddy, vice-president; Walter Zurfluh, secretary; and John Fleenor, treasurer.

Any person of college age is eligible for membership in the United Student Fellowship, an organization sponsored by the Evangelical and Congregational churches.

The group holds regular Sunday night meetings for recreation, supper, devotionals, and constructive discussions. It is the purpose of the fellowship to foster Christian discipline, witness, and fellowship among young people.

Willis Patten was elected president for this year; Nelson Moll, vice-president; Betty Wilson, secretary; and Georgina Rankin, treasurer.

KAPPA PHI BUILDS TOMORROW'S CHURCH LEADERS

THE AIM of Kappa Phi, national Methodist Women's Club, is to have every Methodist woman in the College world of today be a leader in the church of tomorrow. "Let your light so shine" was the theme carried out in the organization's programs for the year.

The group met on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The programs for such meetings were devoted to speakers and plays.

During the Christmas season, the girls of Kappa Phi entertained members of the Odd Fellows Home.

As a special group project, the members of Kappa Phi sent magazines to a school in Brazil.

Clarice Cooper was chosen president of the organization; Dorothy Socolofsky, vice-president; Elaine Sutter, recording secretary; Wanice Walker, corresponding secretary; Diann Davis, treasurer; and Mary Cook, program chairman. Mrs. B. A. Rogers served as sponsor for the group.

Iota chapter of Kappa Phi was started at Kansas State College in 1921.

METHODIST MEN AID IN CHURCH WORK

THE Methodist Men's Club works to increase interest in the Wesley Foundation and the Methodist church. With the hope of promoting good fellowship and improving social relations among Methodist students, the organization sponsored a spring and fall picnic, and held a social meeting with Kappa Phi.

For the first semester Keith Brown served as president; Kenneth McReynold, vice-president; Ray Thompson, secretary; and Ed McNaughton, treasurer.

The 42 members of the organization elected Raymond Neher president for the spring semester. He was assisted by John Allman, vice-president; Warren Roepke, secretary; and Louis Schneider, treasurer. The Reverend B. A. Rogers acted as sponsor of the group in addition to his duties with the Wesley Foundation.

Men of this organization entered the intramural program by participating in volleyball, softball, football, table tennis and basketball.

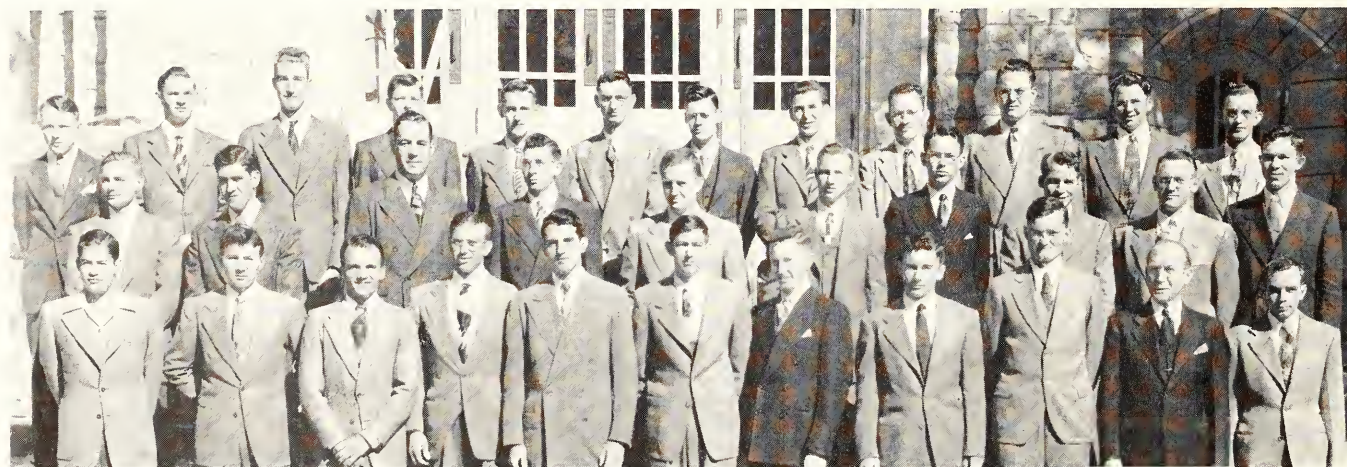

Members of the club were also active in other campus organizations such as 4-H, Amistad, Wesley Foundation, Klod and Kernel Klub, Poultry Club, Block and Bridle Club, Alpha Zeta, and Phi Kappa Phi.

WESLEY FOUNDATION ATTRACTS METHODIST STUDENTS

THE Wesley Foundation, an organization for students of Methodist church preference, held a membership of 475, an increase of 25 over the previous year.

In addition to furthering the activities of the church and participating in church programs, the foundation advanced a social purpose.

Special dinners were sponsored by the group to aid new students in becoming better acquainted. A sunrise Easter service, Thanksgiving dinner, and an overnight retreat in the spring comprised the organization's religious program. Members of the foundation formed a vocal group, the Wesley Singers, and a dramatic group, the Wesley Players.

A skating party and several picnics filled the social calendar. Mixers were also held to provide an opportunity for freshmen and upperclassmen to become better acquainted.

Wesley Foundation officers for this year were as follows: Robert Thorn, president; Merle Seigle, vice-president; Ruby Dickey, secretary; and Ray Thompson, treasurer.

PRESBYTERIAN GROUPS IN EXTENSION PROJECTS

THE Westminster Foundation is an organization for all Presbyterian young people, but it is open to all college students. The foundation has 200 members.

The special projects of the organization were along the lines of extension work and sponsoring gospel teams to be sent to small churches. Its social activities included a chuck wagon dinner, a semi-formal dance, monthly parties, and regular Sunday evening meetings.

Kenneth Bell was president of the group; Donna Brown, vice-president; Laberta Kugler, secretary; and Mary Margaret Rohr, treasurer.

Rev. William Guerrant sponsors the organization.

Organized for association of Presbyterian young men, Phi Alpha has a membership of 19. The group is religious in nature and all members are of the Presbyterian faith.

Besides cooperating with local and national welfare projects, Phi Alpha did special work with the Buckhorn Mission in Kentucky. The organization also sponsored a scholarship. Although the group is principally a service organization it held picnics, dinners, and mixer parties as a part of its social program.

John Downie was elected president for the fall term, with Bob Severance taking over for the spring semester. Rev. W. U. Guerrant served as sponsor.

RELIGIOUS SORORITIES PROMOTE FRIENDSHIP

PHI CHI DELTA, sorority for Presbyterian young women, each year sponsors a tea for all women of the Presbyterian denomination. The group also sponsors picnics and inspirational meetings, and is represented in UNESCO.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. William Guerrant, Barbara Flora was president of the club this year. June Graff was vice-president and Jeannette Hargis, treasurer. This year membership in Phi Chi Delta was increased to 49.

Members were active in Business Club, Radio Guild, K-State Players, YWCA, Eastern Star, and UNESCO.

CANTERBURY CLUB—Back row: Wei Sum, Doris Meine, Marjorie Weidenbach, Pat Harris, Beverly LaScala, Patty Johnson, Thabit Al-Safar. Second row: Shirley Scott, Norman Benzinger, Herbert Singer,

Holding meetings regularly on Sunday evenings, the Canterbury Club held as its objective, service to the church. It had a membership of 30 Episcopal students. The group, formerly known as the Bishop James Wise Club, became associated with the National Organization of Canterbury Clubs in 1935.

A parish dinner and an outside announcement board comprised the special projects for the year. Members of the club were also active in YMCA and YWCA, K-State Players, and other organizations.

Robert Wilcox served the group as president; Ray Beaver, vice-president; Shirley Scott, secretary; Marcia Enlow, treasurer. R. J. Beers acted as faculty sponsor.

STUDENTS' RELIGIOUS PREFERENCES INCLUDE

GAMMA DELTA, an organization for students of Lutheran church preference, has a three-fold purpose, religious, social, and educational. The group strives to add religious interest to college life. Associate membership is open to members of any denomination, but they are not eligible to hold office.

The special projects of the organization included a chapel drive, a Christmas banquet, and a joint meeting with the Lutheran Student Association to promote Lutheran fellowship. The group participated in the Walther League, made a trip to Topeka, attended a seven-state regional convention at Kansas University, and sent six representatives to the national convention at Detroit, Michigan.

Gamma Delta's social activities included a skating party, picnics, bowling, and a get-together every Sunday night. Intramural teams participated in basketball, softball, volleyball, table tennis, and horseshoes.

The Kansas State chapter of Gamma Delta is a member of the international organization. Membership in the organization reached 60 this year, an increase of 20 over the previous term.

Elected officers for the first semester were Alfred Baden, president; Vernon Bluhm, vice-president; Lois Stuewe, secretary; and Oscar Albrecht, treasurer. For the spring term John Wagner served as president; Richard Meyer, vice-president; Lucille Lenkner, secretary; and Norman Wilms, treasurer.

BAPTIST GROUPS ARE ACTIVE IN RELIEF WORK

THE Baptist Youth Fellowship assisted in the redecoration program of the local church. In addition the group provided aid to missionaries and hope chests for the relief project of the national BYF. A mixer for new students, Youth Week banquet and a senior recognition banquet completed the organization's social calendar.

The local organization is a part of the BYF of the Northern Baptist Convention.

—FOR RELIGIOUS, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL WELFARE

IN ADDITION to its social, cultural, and religious goals, the Hillel Foundation strives to promote good will on the campus. Although the organization is primarily for Jewish students membership is open to any Kansas State student.

Gerald Auerbach was chosen president for the first semester; William Fiden, vice-president; Herb Langer, treasurer; and Barbara Auerbach, secretary. Officers for the spring semester included Martin Lesser, president; Art Greenfield, vice-president; Sam Honig, treasurer; and Beatrice Lehman, secretary. Dr. Max Milner sponsored the organization.

The social calendar for the 50 members of the Hillel Foundation was composed of a Christmas party, a picnic, a game party, and a stag party. A religious service preceded each meeting of the group.

With the purpose of affording an opportunity to become better acquainted with the Christian Science Monitor and providing cooperative cultural and social activity, the Christian Science Monitor Youth Forum was organized at the close of the 1948 spring term. The meetings of the organization were devoted to discussions on the Christian Science Monitor.

The social program of the group included picnics, a variety of parties and dances.

Stanley Meinen was elected president for the fall term; J. Herbert Brown, vice-president; Mae Meinen, secretary; Donald Rader, treasurer; Molly Weathers, program chairman. For the second semester Donald Rader served as president; Albert Berger, vice-president; Barbara Engelman, secretary; Scott Judy, treasurer; and Mae Meinen, program chairman.

FOSTER U. S. AND FOREIGN RELIEF WORKS

KAPPA BETA, the national Christian Church sorority, has as its goal the establishment and maintenance of a friendly relationship among the women students of the church.

With 40 actives now in the group, Kappa Beta nearly doubled its membership of last year. Serving "friendlies" at the Christian Student Foundation each Tuesday, meeting twice a month, and participating in various church activities completed the program.

Louise Barnes was elected sorority president; Norma Magnus, vice-president; Lois Cummings, recording secretary; Bonnie Reed, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Wells, treasurer; Dorothy Linn, program chairman.

Organized at K-State in 1944, Sigma Eta Chi is a national Congregational Church sorority. Members of this organization are also active in the Congregational Student Fellowship.

As special projects, Sigma Eta Chi sent gifts to the Lotts Creek Settlement school at Cordia, Ky., at Christmas time and raised money to send a gift to the Mexican school. For recreation the club members held a formal Christmas dinner, Valentine party and Halloween party.

Carol Blecha served as president; Betty Harding, vice-president; Margaret Klema, secretary; Lois Jones, treasurer; Dorothy Bettenbrock, program chairman.

Chapter Six ATHLETICS

*Editor--*JAY FUNK

THE athletic fortunes of the Kansas State Wildcats remained at a fairly even keel throughout the 1948-49 season. Wearers of the purple and white failed to set the conference afire, but showed indications of the evolution of a well rounded sports program.

The fall sports calendar featured a football win over Arkansas State and a near upset of the powerful Kansas Jayhawkers. Conference competition proved too tough for the Cat gridsters as they remained mired in the league cellar.

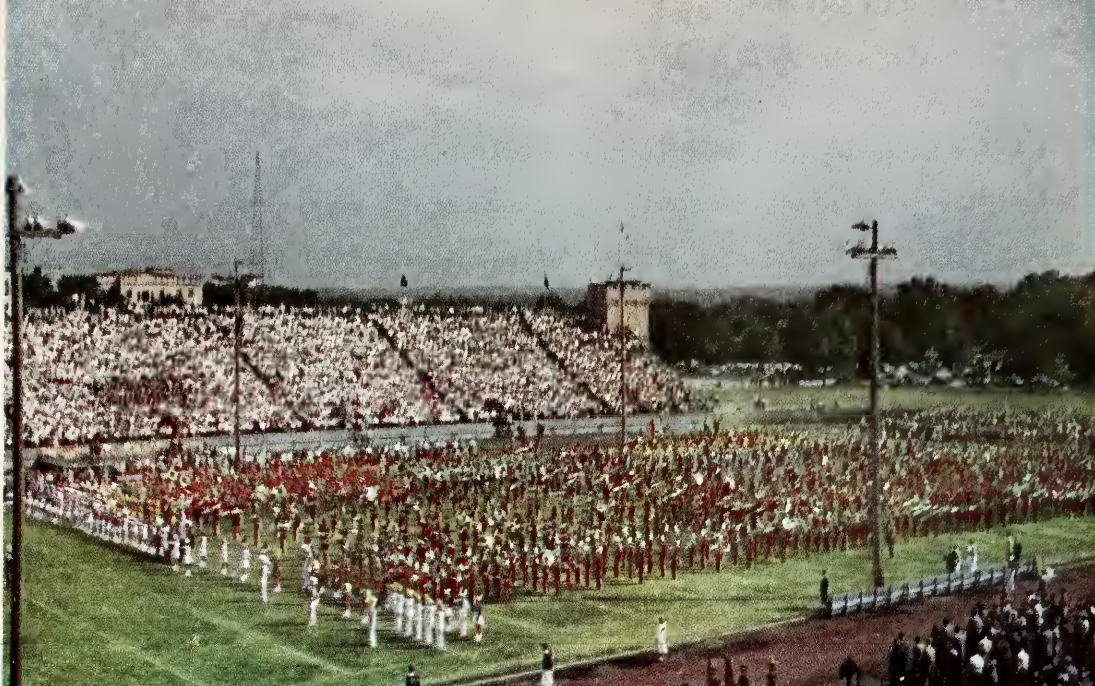

The Wildcat two-mile team ran seventh in the conference meet and the indoor track team came in sixth place at Kansas City. The Wildcat wrestlers snared fourth place in Big Seven meet at Lincoln.

IN TITLE SCRAMBLES

THE Wildcat basketball and baseball teams were in the thick of the championship scramble before dropping to third place in the final standings. The sophomore studded cagers finished with five consecutive wins, but were edged out by Nebraska and Oklahoma, conference co-champions.

The outdoor track team flashed to fourth place in the conference meet at Lincoln while the purple and white tennis team netted a sixth place showing. The Cat golfers landed in the loop cellar.

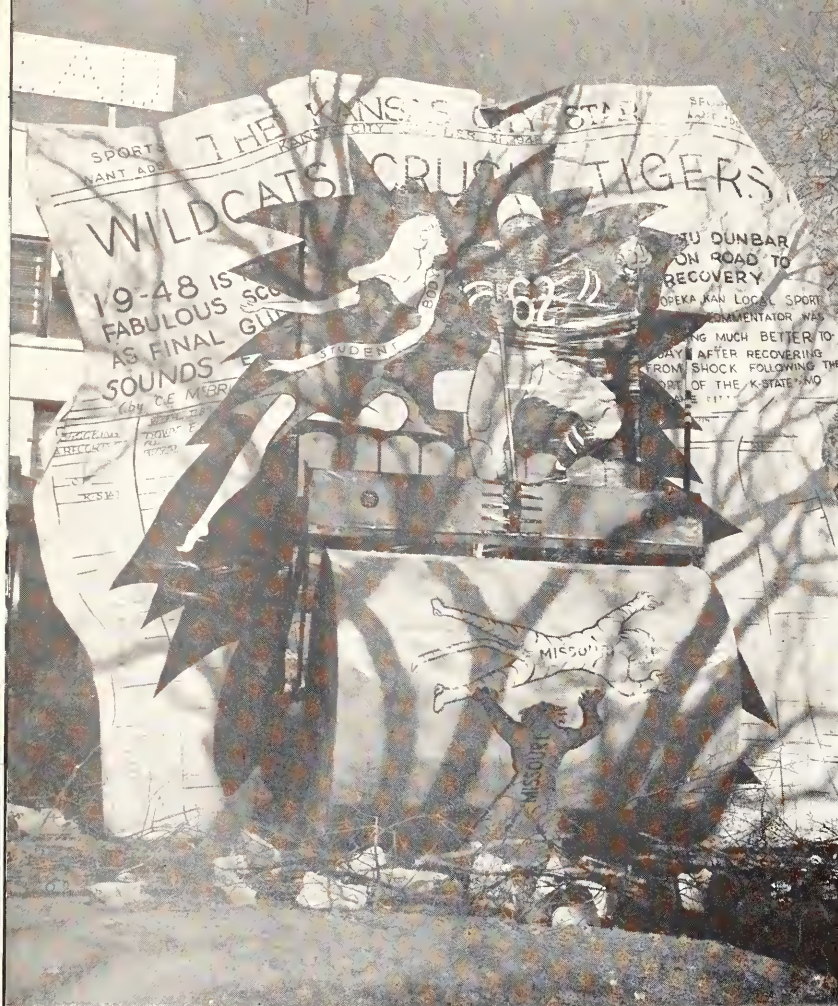

Swimming was dropped from the varsity program for the 1948-49 season. Lack of interest and the ineligibility of key men caused abandonment of the sport.

QUICK MAN WITH A BUCK is Fritz Knorr (right), new business manager of athletics. In addition to ticket sales and departmental finances, Knorr serves as baseball coach.

WILDCAT ATHLETICS ON EVEN KEEL

WITH Kansas State's athletics program once more on solid footing, this was a year of relative calm for the Kansas State Athletics Council.

Only a few minor changes were made in athletic department personnel, leaving the council free to turn its attention to determining the general policy of the college towards Big Seven problems. The council must also approve all schedules as well as the awarding of letters and numerals.

The council is made up of six faculty members, two alumni, two students and the director of athletics.

This is the first year the students have been allowed two representatives on the council. Jack Dean and Dana Atkins are the student members. Both are two sport lettermen. Dean is a basketball and baseball player while Atkins divides his time between football in the fall and baseball in the spring.

A second alumni member, Francis W. Boyd, was the third new member appointed to the council this year. Boyd captained the 1934 Wildcat basketball team.

Athletics director Thurlo E. McCrady is the boss man of K-State athletics. In two years, "Mac" has shown his determination to build a well rounded athletics program. McCrady came to Kansas State in March of 1947 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Hobbs Adams.

ADJECTIVES AND SUPERLATIVES come naturally to Fred Parris (left), director of sports publicity. Fred turns out reams of sports copy throughout the year and doubles as an instructor of Radio News, yet finds time to play host to press and radio men covering athletic events during the year.

A MARKED MAN IN KANSAS HIGH SCHOOLS is Ted Warren (right), Kansas State field representative. Ted keeps in close contact with alumni leaders and outstanding high school talent as part of the school's new progressive athletics policy. He is also the new freshman football coach.

Two new appointments were made in the department last summer. Fritz Knorr took over his new duties as business manager of the athletics department when Frank L. Myers was appointed full time director of intramural athletics. Mickey Evans succeeded Ben York as golf coach.

Lose Two Coaches

The athletics department received a severe jolt the first week in January as Lud Fiser and John Crawley handed in their resignations.

Fiser served as varsity football coach in the spring and freshman football mentor in the fall. He resigned to accept a position as secretary-manager of the local chamber of commerce.

Crawley was head line coach under Ralph Graham.

His resignation becomes effective at the end of the present school year.

Fritz Knorr, business manager, was named varsity baseball coach to succeed Fiser and Ted Warren, alumni field representative, was named to fill the freshman football vacancy. Both men are Kansas State grads already on the departments' staff.

The search for a new line coach came to an end with the appointment of Tommy O'Boyle. He took over his duties March 1.

O'Boyle played his college football at Tulane University where he won all-America honors as a guard in 1940. He served as athletics director and head football coach at Southwest Teachers college for two years before coming to Kansas State.

END LOSING STREAK

KANSAS State's gridiron fortunes rose to a new high last fall when the Wildcat football team ended its losing streak at 28 games. A 37 to 6 win over Arkansas State in the third game of the season ended the longest losing streak in the nation.

Coach Ralph Graham's young and inexperienced hustlers won one game while losing nine for the season. Despite the fact that they placed seventh in the conference, the Cats showed flashes of gridiron savvy that presages a return to power in the next few years.

1948 Football Schedule

Kansas State	0	Illinois	40
Kansas State	0	Iowa State	20
Kansas State	37	Arkansas State	6
Kansas State	0	Oklahoma	42
Kansas State	7	Colorado	51
Kansas State	7	Missouri	49
Kansas State	0	Nebraska	32
Kansas State	14	Kansas	20
Kansas State	6	Oklahoma A & M.....	42
Kansas State	7	St. Louis	21

The 1948 season was unique in that it was the first time in three years that a Wildcat football coach has weathered the jibes of student and alumni pressure groups without tendering his resignation. When Graham decided to stick it out and pull the school's football fortunes up on a par with other teams in the conference, he became the first gridiron boss to last more than one season since Ward Haylett turned the trick with his 1942, '43 and '44 teams.

Graham started the season using the two team system, but injuries to key players and the lack of adequate reserves necessitated a return to the single unit method. The Cats employed a single wing offense.

BLOCKER BUD COLE (37) leads the way downfield in Arkansas State onslaught. State's 37 to 6 win ended three year victory drouth.

THE Kansas State football team opened their 1948 season by falling 40 to 0 before a powerful Illinois team at Champaign. The Cats showed a determined first half defense in their initial start for coach Ralph Graham, but fell apart in the second half as superior Illini power took its toll.

The Cat defensive unit repeatedly threw back Illini surges as they held the Big Nine school to a 7 to 0 lead at the half. A Cat fumble early in the third period paved the way for the second touchdown and from then on out it was all Illinois.

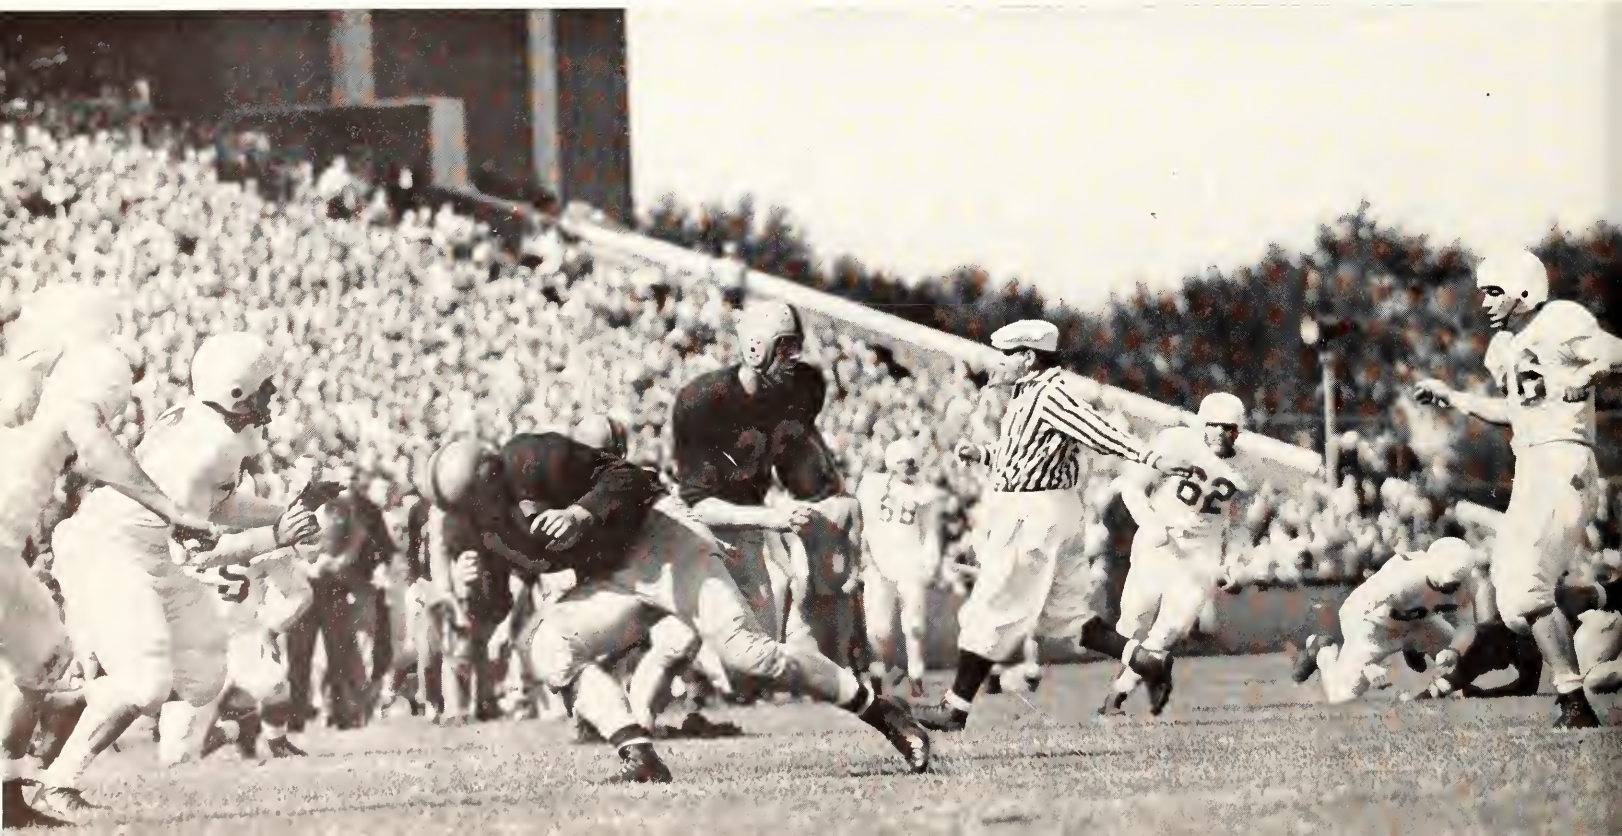

The injury jinx struck the Cats hard as Dana Atkins, Glenn Channel, Kenny Johnston and Lyle Koontz were carried from the field.

The purple and white reversed the procedure in the home opener as they spotted Iowa State 20 points in the first half and then played them to a scoreless tie in the second half.

Gene Gill brought the home fans to their feet in the third period with a dazzling 62 yard punt return. Gill's all around play stamped him as the outstanding State player on the field.

State's strongest threat of the day came late in the final period when Gerald Hackney led the Cats from their own 20 yard marker to the Iowa State 30.

28 GAME LOSING STREAK

The longest losing streak in the nation came to an end as the Wildcats exploded for a 37 to 6 win over Arkansas State on Ahearn Field. After 28 consecutive losses covering parts of four seasons, the Cats were again on the winning side of the ledger. Victory celebrations raged well into the next week.

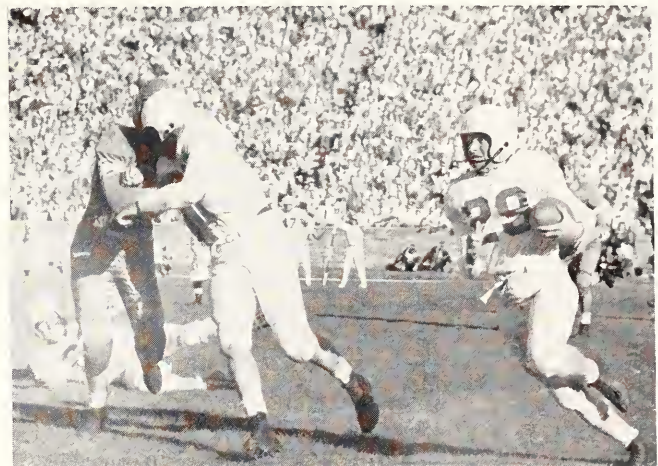

Enthusiasm and confidence caught fire and spread down to the lowest sub as the whole State squad rose up to play inspired ball. Harold Nevius started the fireworks with touchdown jaunts of 50 and 69 yards. Hackney added a pair on a one yard plunge and a 43 yard off-tackle thrust. Kenny Johnston tallied from the three and Estes hit pay from 59 yards out.

It was a case of too much power at Norman as Oklahoma's title bound Sooners finally wore down a valiant Wildcat defense and crushed their way to a 42 to 0 win. The Sooners passed for three third period counters after the Cats held them to two during the first half.

Colorado's Buffaloes erupted for 19 points without gaining a first down at Boulder as they dumped the Cats 51 to 7. K-State scored in the final five seconds of play when Atkins hit Galen Christiansen with a pass in the Buff end zone.

THE Missouri Tigers exploded for a 49 to 7 win over the hapless Wildcats to put a damper on the hopes of thousands of K-State Homecoming fans.

Neither determination nor a heavy field could stop Faurot's prolific scoring machine. The Cat defense turned back the Tigers twice in the first period, but superior power told as the Tigers crashed to three tallies in the second quarter.

K-State scored the first time they reached MU territory. Hackney led the third period drive into Tigerland and Atkins slipped loose on a twisting 44 yard run.

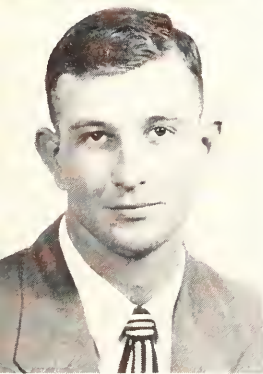

Nebraska's speed laden Huskers burried the Cats under a 32 to 0 avalanche at Lincoln. Mixing deceptive end runs and reverses with a surprising display of aerial wizardry, the Huskers climaxed their show with an 82 yard punt return by Don Bloom.

The only Cat threat came late in the fourth quarter when Bud Cole recovered a Husker fumble on the 12 yard marker, but Nebraska held on the the five yard line.

An inspired band of Wildcats threw a big scare into the favored Kansas Jayhawks before bowing 20 to 14. A record breaking crowd of 18,192 Parents Day fans watched the Cat outclaw the Hawks in their outstanding performance of the season.

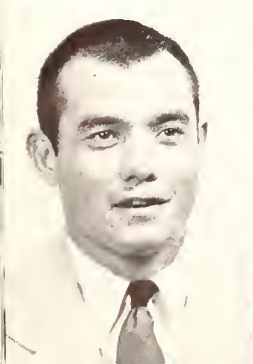

KU tallied early on a running play, but was forced to take the air to rack up their final two tallies. Gilman hit his receivers in the Cat end zone twice in the last five minutes of the half with tosses of 35 and 24 yards.

Fighting back from a 20 point deficit, the Cats dominated the second half as they charged to two touchdowns and barely missed another while holding their intrastate rivals scoreless. Hackney electrified the onlookers as he smashed over tackle and raced 96 yards to score in the third quarter. Atkins fired a 40 yard pass to Leo Rons in the KU end zone in the final minutes of play. Dana also added both conversions. Another fourth period drive was stopped on the Jayhawk seven yard line.

Bright spot in the Cat play centered around half-back Ross Estes. In the second period Estes scooped up a Cowpoke fumble in the K-State end zone and picked his way 101 yards through the entire Aggie eleven to pay dirt. Officials ruled the ball touched the ground in the Cat end zone and called the play back. Not to be denied, Estes took a third quarter lateral and outran the Cowpoke secondary 61 yards to score.

The Wildcats ended the season with a 21 to 7 loss to the St. Louis Billikens in the Missouri city.

State gained at will in midfield but was unable to engineer a sustained drive as they rolled up 300 yards rushing to the Bill's 203. Two Wildcat drives fizzled out inside the twenty yard line.

Harold Nevius broke loose for K-State's lone tally with a 47 yard touchdown jaunt. Gerry Hackney displayed terrific driving power as he picked up 109 yards for top ground gaining honors.

FROSH ARE UNDEFEATED

THE most promising freshman football team in K-State history won the unofficial championship of the Big Seven Yearling League last fall. Coach Lud Fiser's proteges were the only undefeated freshman team in the conference. They turned in wins over both the Kansas and Nebraska frosh.

From a squad of 90 aspirants, Fiser fielded a fiery team that asked no quarter from the varsity in weekly practice sessions. Because all but one varsity opponent used the T formation, the Kittens adopted the man-under-the-center type of attack and found it well suited to their abilities.

The Kittens brought warmth and cheer to the hearts of coaches and fans as they drove 99 yards in the final quarter to take the measure of the Jayhawk frosh 25 to 19 in a chilly night game at Ahearn Field. Jack Lorenz tossed 21 yards to Hi Faubion for the winning tally.

The Cat frosh pushed the Nebraska yearlings all over the field at Lincoln, but had to settle for a 9 to 7 decision. End Frank Wilkerson provided the margin of victory in the final quarter when he broke through to spill a Husker halfback in the Nebraska end zone.

COACH JACK GARDNER proved his value under fire during the 1948-49 season. Faced with one of the toughest schedules in Wildcat basketball history, the personable Gardner and his never-say-die crew gave all of their opponents some uneasy moments whether they won or lost.

THE K-State basketball team fought back after a slow start to end the 1948-49 season with 13 wins against 11 losses. In Big Seven competition the Cats won 8 and lost 4 to place third, one game behind Ne-

Eight lettermen and 11 numeral winners from the 1948 freshman team were among the candidates reporting to Coach Jack Gardner at the start of the season. Only two of the lettermen were starting members of the 1948 championship five.

Gardner experimented freely in the early games of the season hoping to find a smooth clicking combination for the conference race. Injuries and sophomore jitters made his task one of the most trying of jobs.

The Wildcats opened their season with a pair of easy wins over non-conference teams. The Cats journeyed to Emporia where Sophomores Ed Head, Jack Stone and Ernie Barrett poured 26 points through the nets as the Gardnermen dumped Emporia State 60 to 49.

Returning to their home court the purple and white cagers romped over Phillips university 60 to 44. Ed Head tallied 20 counters to lead the Wildcat scorers.

IN BIG SEVEN COMPETITION

The Wildcats lost prestige but picked up lots of valuable experience in their five game pre-Christmas jaunt to both coasts. The K-State youngsters led at half time in four of the games, but couldn't stick there till the final gun.

The Cats made their debut to west coast basketball against the San Francisco Dons in the Cow Palace. San Francisco won 55 to 53 on a last minute goal.

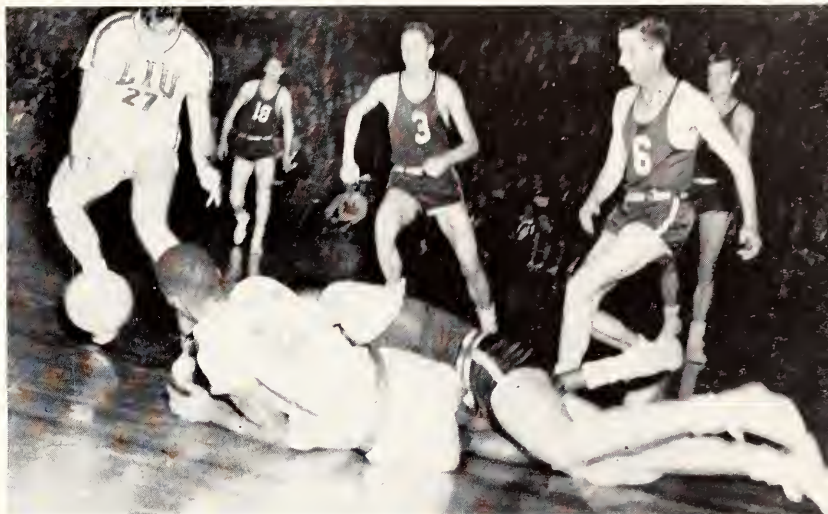

Santa Clara's Bronchos were a little too much for the Wildcats in their second west coast game. Rick Harman put the Cats ahead 56 to 55 with one minute to play, but the Bronchos netted two quick fielders to take the game 59 to 56.

First stop on their eastern trip was St. Louis where the upstart Wildcats scared the highly touted Billikens before bowing 51 to 45. Jack Stone held All-American Ed Macauley to 14 points while collecting 13 himself. The Bill's margin of victory came in the last five minutes as they scored repeatedly from the free throw line.

The Wildcats brought back memories of the 1947-48 "Cinderalla Kids" as they whizzed to an easy 48 to 34 win over the Nebraska Cornhuskers in the first round of the Big Seven Tourney in Kansas City. Guard Jack Dean laced the cords for 14 points and high scoring honors for the game.

Drop One—Avenge Later

Second round action was not so successful, as Phog Allen's cagers couldn't miss. Kansas won 60 to 46 as they hit an amazing 50 per cent of their shots.

The Wildcats were shoved into fourth place in the tourney as Iowa State's hustling cagers outfought the Gardnermen to gain a 56 to 52 decision nip and tuck game right down to the final gun. Ed Head counted 14 points for Cat scoring honors, but had to take a back seat to Cyclone Bob Petersen who hit 73 per cent of his shots for 19 points.

The Gardnermen returned to their winning ways against Rockhurst to start the new year out right. After a dull first half in which neither team could buy a basket the fray livened up with the Cats taking a 50 to 38 win.

The Wildcats staged a torrid last half drive to edge out the Colorado Buffaloes 48 to 43. Sparked by the inspirational play of Lloyd Krone, the Cat marksmen dunked 23 counters in the last 12 minutes to overcome a nine point deficit.

After trailing throughout the first half, the Wildcats cut loose from all over the court to down the Iowa State Cyclones 49 to 43.

Kansas State journeyed to Norman to knock the Sooners from the undefeated ranks and step one half a game closer to the league lead. Rick Harman's 16 points and aggressive floor play sparked the Cats to a 47 to 45 win over their last year's nemesis.

Colorado's Golden Buffaloes turned the tables on the Wildcats at Boulder as they stayed in front all the way to win 48 to 41. Krone led the Cats with 11 points.

Combining a sparkling offensive with a stingy de-

THIRD IN CONFERENCE FOR SECOND STRAIGHT YEAR

The Wildcat nine opened the season with a 4 to 9 loss to the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater. Pitcher Jack Dean faltered in the eighth inning and the Cowpokes pushed over six runs before Bill Grimes put out the fire.

Returning to Manhattan, the Fisermen evened the count with a 13 to 8 win over Kansas Wesleyan under the lights at Griffith Field.

Slip At Lincoln

The Wildcats misplaced their batting eye at Lincoln and the Huskers opened their bid for the conference crown with 3 to 1 and 5 to 2 wins over the Manhattan nine. The Husker moundsmen ruled supreme, allowing four hits in the opener and two in the finale. No Wildcat batter was able to get more than one hit during the series.

Nebraska batsmen nicked Bell for eight hits in the opener and Bill Grimes and Bob McClure gave up ten in the second game. Grimes was charged with the loss.

DIAMOND CREW'S CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES RISE AND FALL

K-STATE gained an even break on their road trip by sweeping a two game series at Ames. The Wildcat batsmen unleashed a barrage of 12 hits in the opener to down the Cyclones 13 to 0 as Duane Holder registered the only shutout of the season.

Seven Iowa State stickmen went down swinging as Holder effectively scattered six hits. The Cat batsmen smashed out five extra base blows off the Cyclone moundsmen. Dana Atkins led the attack with two triples and a single.

The Cat nine won the second game 8 to 5 after a nip and tuck pitchers duel was broken up by Al Sheriff's prodigious wallop over the left field wall. Jack Bell pitched his second game in five days and limited the Iowans to six hits while the Fisermen were collecting ten off the Cyclones. Ted Grimes slapped out two hits in four appearances at the plate to lead the purple and white hitters.

Sweep KU Series

Back home at Griffith Field, the Fisermen mixed timely hitting with improved fielding to sweep past the Kansas University nine 4 to 2 and 5 to 4.

Jack Dean twirled a five hit masterpiece in the opener as the State bats boomed out eight hits. Dale Carr toted the big stick as he nicked the Hawk moundsmen for three hits. Dean struck out seven KU batters and walked two for his first win.

Dana Atkins' grand slam homer in the third inning of the second game gave Holder his second conference win of the season 5 to 4. Holder held the Hawk stickmen to nine scattered hits to protect his early margin. Wildcat batters collected four hits as KU's ace Dick Gilman went the route.

Split With Buffs

Colorado's red-hot Buffaloes outscored the K-State crew 4 to 3 at Boulder for their tenth straight win of the season. The Fisermen banged out 12 hits but couldn't come through with runners on the paths. Dean allowed nine hits.

A determined band of Wildcats handed the Buffs their first loss as they fought back for a 6 to 4 decision in the final game. Big Jack Bell limited the Coloradoans to seven hits as his teammates garnered 10. Clint Davis replaced "Gabby" Chew behind the plate and came through with three hits in four trips to the plate. Ted Grimes and Dave Bremner supplied the power with round trip smashes.

THROUGHOUT THE '48 SEASON

K-State's hustling Wildcats gained a split with the scrappy Oklahoma A & M nine as they fought back for a 5 to 2 win after booting the opener 2 to 6 on six errors. Dean allowed seven hits while the State stickmen banged out ten.

The championship-minded Wildcats gained an even break in the Oklahoma series. They opened with a 5 to 1 win only to drop a 5 to 6 decision in the second game.

The opener was all Bell as the big fireballer blazed the third strike past 17 Sooner batters. Atkins' first stanza homer with Grimes on base provided Bell with all the margin needed. K-State finished the scoring with three runs on one hit and four Oklahoma errors in the second inning.

Dean Edged Again

The Sooners eked out a victory in the second game in a battle right down to the last out. The Cats collected eight hits off the Okie offerings while Dean was giving up 11. Cliff Schumacher hit for the circuit in the sixth. Dave Bremner and Ted Grimes each added two hits to the cause.

DROP FINAL HOME SERIES

Fiser's crew returned to Griffith Field needing a sweep of the Tiger return series to clinch second place. The Bengals had different ideas however and the Cats dropped both ends of the crucial series 1 to 8 and 3 to 4.

The Missourians touched Wildcat hurlers for 11 hits in the opener and a virtual rout. The Wildcat macemen connected for eight hits, but were unable to engineer a sustained rally.

The finale was a different story as Bell put on a one man show in an attempt to win his own ball game. Jack retired 11 Missouri batters via the strike out route and rapped out two hits. Bell limited the Tigers to five hits, but poor support and a rainy eighth inning that yielded all four Tiger runs, offset his own brilliant performance.

The K-State diamond crew closed out their season with a dismal 2 to 10 showing against the Jayhawks in the mud at Lawrence. Holder, pitching one hit ball for five innings, was the victim of a disastrous sixth inning in which the Hawks grossed eight runs on two hits, two walks and seven Wildcat miscues. K-State out-hit the Kansas squad five to three.

THINCLADS PACK PUNCH

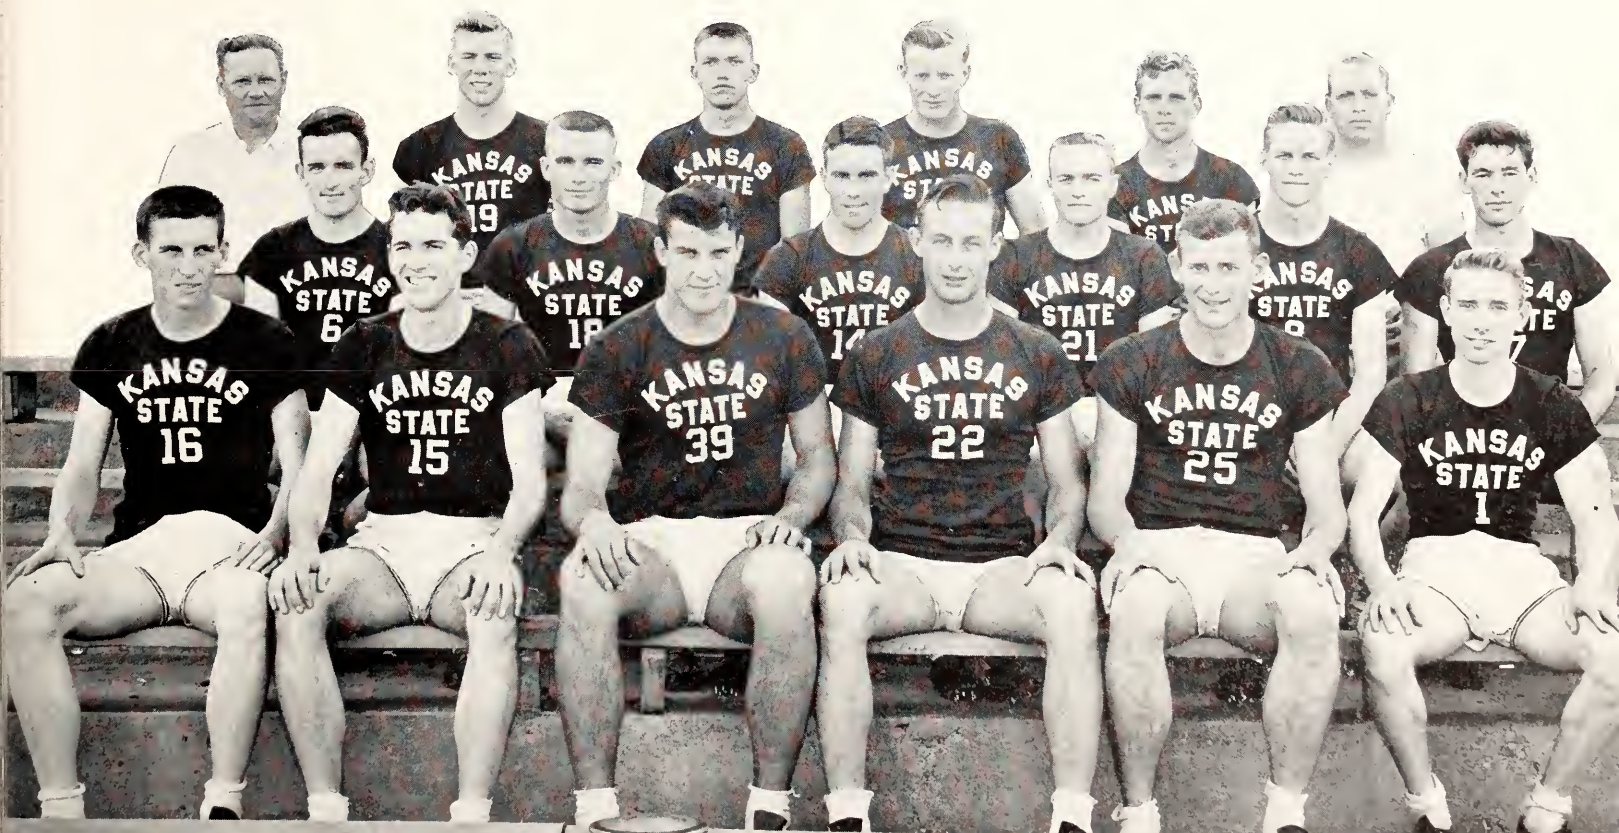

THE 1948 Kansas State track team had to settle for one tie out of three dual meets last spring, but showed surprising strength in relay competition before flashing to fourth place in the Big Seven conference at Lincoln. The Wildcat thinclads placed high in both the Colorado Indoor meet and the Kansas Relays before winning the unofficial championship at the Colorado Relays at Boulder.

Haylett to Olympics

Biggest honor of the year fell to track coach Ward Haylett. The veteran track coach, completing his 21st year as K-State mentor, was chosen as coach of the decathlon entrants for the 1948 Olympic games in London last summer. Haylett was also with the last Olympic squad in Berlin in 1936. Haylett coached Bob Mathias, 18 year old high school student from Tulare, California, who brought home the crown for the U. S. team.

All-American Rollin Prather (left center) won high point honors for the second straight year. Prather won the Big Seven shot put and discus titles before failing to win an Olympic berth with a toss that lacked 1/16 of an inch of breaking the Olympic record. Art Hildenbrand (lower left) placed high in the 880 yard run and anchored the crack purple and white sprint-medley team.

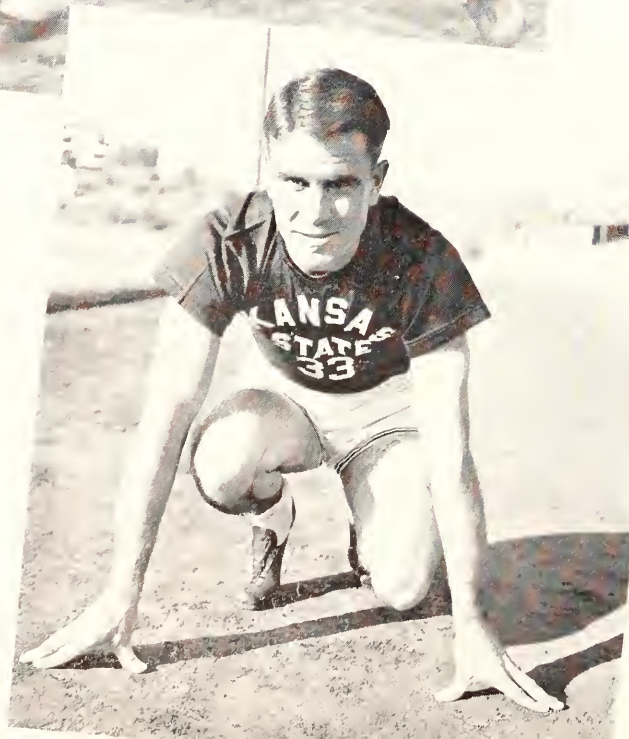

PLACE HIGH IN RELAYS

The Wildcat trackmen opened their 1948 outdoor season with a poor showing in the Texas Relays at Austin. Rollin Prather was the only point winner as he salvaged second place in the shot put. Prather, defending champ in the shot put and discus, was dethroned by Minnesota's Fortune Gordien. The Cats were not at full strength as half the team was competing in the Colorado indoor meet at Boulder.

The entrants in the Colorado meet fared better as they finished third in team scoring. Rod McClay and Jim Danielson were the big guns for the Cats.

The K-State cinder crew came through with a surprisingly good showing in the Kansas Relays. Prather was the individual star as he placed second in the discus and copped a third with the iron ball. Howard Shannon placed fourth in the broad jump although competing with only two weeks practice.

The Wildcat sprint-medley team gave the fans their biggest thrill as they ran second to the Oklahoma A and M quartet in a photo finish. The purple and white finished fourth in the distance medley.

DROP CLOSE ONE TO K.U.

Blinding rain and snow were the only elements able to top the Cat cindermen at the Colorado Relays. Despite a slushy and sloppy ring, Prather tossed the ice covered platter 151 feet 1½ inches to break his last year's discus record established on a dry turf. The meet was moved indoors after the discus throw and Prather went on to win the shot put title and individual scoring honor for the meet.

The Wildcats dominated the high hurdles as Earl Elliott and Jim Danielson finished one-two. Danielson also tied for first in the high jump. The two mile relay team snared a first and the mile relay team placed second.

The Cats staged an uprising against KU at Memorial stadium before losing 61 to 70. Not until the KU anchor man broke the tape in the final event were the Hawks assured of victory.

Rod McClay was the big gun in the State scoring. He won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and tied for the pole vault crown. Elliott won the high hurdles in record tying time and Prather scored double wins in the weights. Shannon won the broad jump and placed second in the high jump and low hurdles.

HOWARD SHANNON (top) of All-America court fame, tops the bar in high jump competition. Shannon placed second in the broad jump and tied for third in the high jump at the Big Seven meet. Dick Payne (right) was a consistent point winner in the discus although overshadowed by Prather. Dave Vanhaverbeke (lower left) scored heavily in the two mile run. Dick Hanson (lower center) ran the 440 and filled in on the mile relay team. Dick Chase (lower right) added strength to the distance events for K-State.

T'WAS McCLAY DAY (top) as the Cat speedster leads the way to the tape in the 100 yard dash during the KU dual. McClay also topped the 220 and tied for first in the pole vault. McClay displays winning form in the pole vault (left), but the bar falls anyway. Earl Elliott (lower left) placed third in the conference high hurdles and bids fair to become one of the top hurdlers in K-State history.

DRAW WITH CYCLONES

The Missouri Tigers broke eight meet records in blasting the Cats 88 $\frac{1}{3}$ to 42 $\frac{2}{3}$ at Columbia. Prather took scoring honors with wins in the shot and discus and a second in the javelin. McClay won the 100 yard dash and Vanhaverbeke won the two mile.

State fought hard luck and a determined Cyclone squad to a 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ draw at Ames. The Wildcats lost sure points when McClay tripped and fell in the low hurdles and Danielson followed suit in the highs. The Cats swept the javelin and captured the first two places in both the shot put and discus.

PRATHER WINS TROPHY

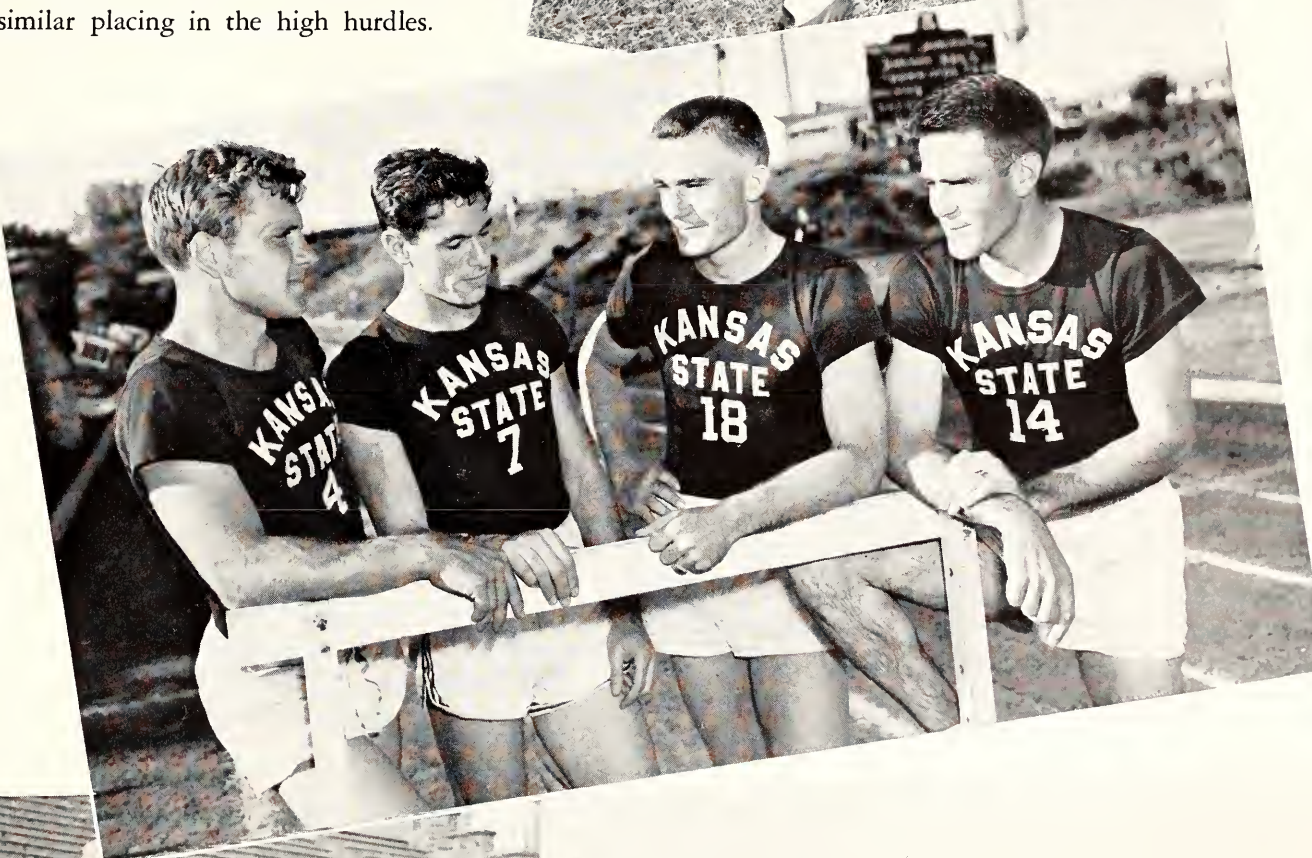

Missouri won the Big Seven track title at Lincoln while the K-State hustlers were earning 59 points for a fourth place showing.

Prather again was the big noise as he uncorked record smashing tosses with both the shot and the discus. The Big sophomore was awarded the Henry Shulte Memorial trophy as the outstanding athlete at the meet.

Shannon bettered 24 feet to place second in the broad jump and tied for third in the high jump. McClay took third in the century dash and Elliott gained a similar placing in the high hurdles.

HOST TO BIG SEVEN MEET

The Wildcat two-mile team played the host perfectly November 13th as they finished seventh in the Big Seven team championship. KU took the team title with a record low score of 19 points. George Owen placed 15th in the 35 man field to lead the Wildcat distance men.

The two-mile team failed to win any of their five dual matches during the regular season.

McCLAY LEADS THINCLADS

DESPITE lack of indoor facilities and inclement weather throughout the indoor season, Coach Ward Haylett's thinclads placed individuals in several major indoor relays before finishing sixth in the Big Seven conference meet in Kansas City in March.

The Wildcat indoor team failed in their two dual meets. Oklahoma measured the Cats 66½ to 37½ at Norman and the Nebraska Cornhuskers turned the trick 79½ to 24½ at Lincoln.

Coach Ward Haylett took a four man team to the Michigan State Relays to open the indoor season. Rollin Prather copped fourth place in the shot put and sophomore flash Herb Hoskins placed fifth in the board jump.

Prather won the only Kansas State first in the conference meet when he retained his indoor shot put title. Hoskins set a new K-State record in the broad Speedy Rod McClay flashed to a second place finish in the 60-yard high hurdles and then followed with a third place showing in the 60-yard low hurdles. Virgil Severns tied for fifth in the high jump to give the Haylettmen their final point.

BISHOP SETS RECORD

THE 1948 golf team battled out four wins against five losses in duals before dropping to seventh place in the Big Seven conference meet held at Lincoln, Nebraska.

The Wildcat linksters opened the season with a 13½-4½ win over Kansas Wesleyan. The Yorkmen dropped their next five matches before finishing up the season with wins over Nebraska, Iowa State and Kansas. Highlighting the Nebraska match was medalist Bob Moss' 67 and a hole-in-one by Nebraskan Don Stroh.

Don Bishop carded a sensational eight under par 62 to lead the Staters to a 13½-4½ victory over Kansas. Bishop's effort is the lowest score ever turned in over the Manhattan Country Club course in collegiate competition and is only one stroke shy of the course record.

NET CREW WINS FOUR

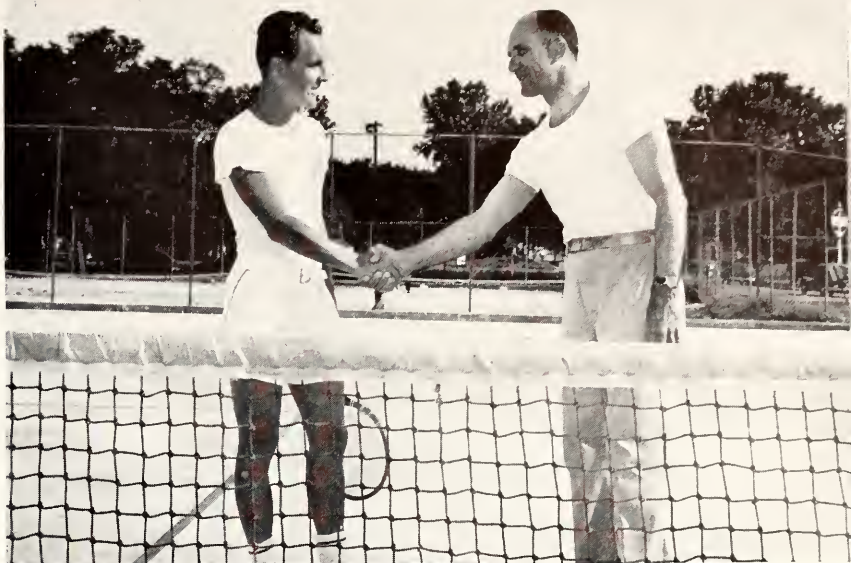

THE Wildcat tennis team stroked its way to victory in four of seven dual meets last spring before dropping to sixth place in the conference meet at Lincoln.

The K-State netmen opened their best season since 1939 by blasting Wichita 4 to 2. The Cats then dropped their next three matches before sweeping to wins in their last three meets. The Mollmen battled down to the last ditch as they eked out 4 to 3 wins over Nebraska, Iowa State and Kansas.

The win from the Jayhawks, most bitterly contested match of the season, saw the purple and white netmen sweep both doubles events to avenge an earlier 0 to 7 defeat suffered on the Lawrence courts. Dick Powers and Jim Neumann clinched the victory by outlasting the Jayhawk doubles team 5-7, 6-1, 7-5 in the fifth and deciding match. Marvin Dungan was named captain of the tennis team for the season.

CAT GRAPPLERS FOURTH

THE Kansas State wrestling team was off to a slow start this year, but the persistent grapplers regained their stride to come up with some gradually improving performances as the season wore on.

The Wildcats, guided by Coach Leon Reynard, won only two of ten starts in dual competition but were plagued with eligibility losses and injuries to key men throughout the season.

Reynard, in his second year at the helm of the 'Cat matmen, faced a seemingly endless string of complications as he attempted to guide his riddled squad through one of the toughest mat slates in the history of the school.

Before the season even got underway, the 'Cats lost the services of Stanley Fansher, their captain and high point man in 1948. Fansher injured a knee in intramural touch football play and could not wrestle this year.

Later, scholastic hurdles tripped a pair of heavyweights. Both Joe Blanchard and Gerald Hackney were forced to drop competition.

IN CONFERENCE TOURNEY

THE Wildcats won over two Colorado teams during the year and grunted their way to a fourth place position in the Big Seven tournament at Ames, Iowa.

The 1948-49 season opened with the 'Cats matched with the best in the collegiate ranks. First on the K-State schedule were the power laden national champion Oklahoma Aggies. The Wildcats fell before their experienced onslaught by a 0 to 32 score.

Prospects were little improved for the second meet of the season with Michigan State, another nationally ranked team, visiting Nichols gym as the KSC opponent. Again the 'Cats fell by the 0 to 32 whitewash score.

Somewhat shaken by their first two experiences, the team left on a five meet western road trip. On the journey, they picked up both of their season wins and dropped a trio of contests.

An initial road effort against the Denver University boys resulted in a 19 to 9 K-State win. A pair of defeats at the hands of Colorado A and M and the Colorado Teachers followed before the Staters climbed back into the win column with a thrilling 14 to 11 triumph over Colorado University. A 9 to 21 loss to the tough Wyoming Cowboys wound up the road engagements.

A CONTRAST IN EMOTIONS: THE FANS DISPLAY HOPE AND AMUSEMENT WHILE THE SQUAD TENSELY SWEATS OUT A CLOSE ONE.

CATS DROP CLOSE PAIR;

FOLLOWING their western road tour, the 'Cats began a series of dual matches with Big Seven opponents. First on the list was a meeting between pupil and teacher as "Red" Reynard, a star grappler under former K-State coach B. R. "Pat" Patterson, took his boys to Nebraska to meet Patterson's Cornhuskers. The Nebraskans, who eventually won the Big Seven team crown, toppled the 'Cats by 20 to 8 count.

Back on the home mats, the Purple and White team put up a stiff battle before falling to Oklahoma's Sooners 12 to 16.

Another split-hair decision followed at Ames, Iowa. There the 'Cats lost out to the Cyclone grapplers by 14 to 15.

The dual meet schedule ended almost as it had begun with two more top ranking teams facing the Wildcats. At Minneapolis, the K-State squad bowed to Minnesota University by 8 to 22. Cornell College of Mount Vernon, Iowa, followed with a 23 to 3 lacing of the 'Cats.

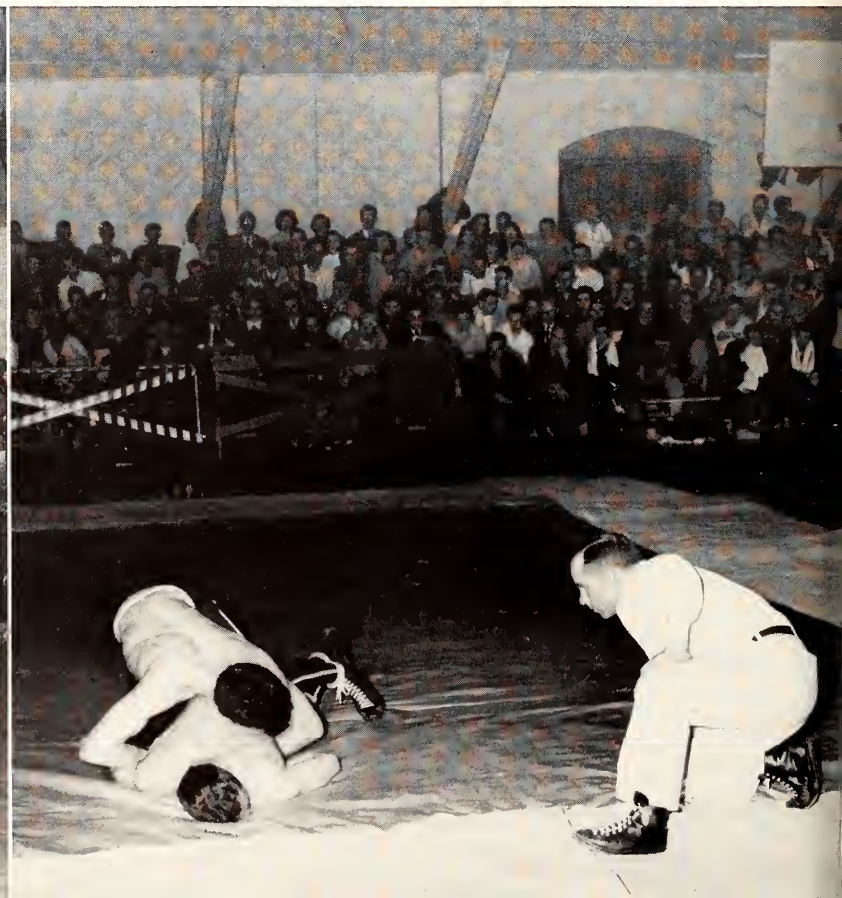

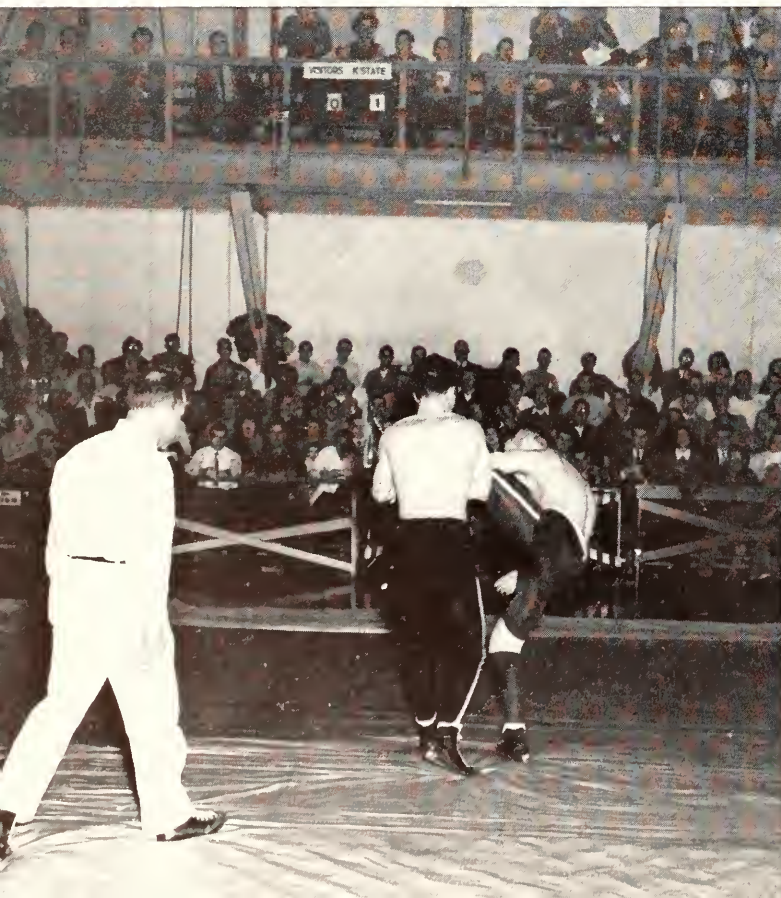

The Big Seven conference meet at Ames found the Wildcats ending up in fourth place. Marvin Fansher copped second place in the 128-pound class, Archie Vernon grabbed another runner-up spot in the 136-pound division and Charlie Lyons took a third in the 165-pound class.

At season's end, K-State squad members elected Charlie Lyons honorary captain, replacing Stanley Fansher who did not wrestle. Lyons went to the national NCAA tournament at Fort Collins, Colorado, and won a fourth place ranking.

The individual trophy awarded annually to the wrestler scoring the most points was also won by Lyons.

Prospects for coming years were demonstrated forcibly earlier in the season by Wildcat freshmen. The first year grapplers were matched against the varsity men and exploded the myth of varsity superiority with a 19 to 9 victory.

Only six men received letters in wrestling this year. Although several others came within a few points of qualifying for a monogram, the personnel of the squad shifted so often that none was able to earn his sweater.

Wrestling bowed out in a final blaze of glory, however, with the state high school tournament in the gym.

HUGE INTRA PROGRAM

AN EIGHT event intramural program provided a well-rounded sports schedule for K-State men who did not take part in intercollegiate athletics.

Under the guidance of Frank L. Myers, the 1948-49 program expanded to a new all time high of 3,150 participants. Myers became the first full time director of intramural athletics in the school's history last July when he replaced Prof. L. P. Washburn.

Fifty touch football teams comprised of 825 students braved November winds to set a new record for the fall sport. Largest turnout for any sport was the all-time record of 972 individuals taking part in the 82 basketball teams.

Swimming was revived as an intramural sport after a five year absence.

The all-year team trophy was won by Sigma Phi Epsilon. Winners of the ten high point sweater awards were Ward Clark, Roy Sherrill, Don Linscheid, Richard Lill, Jerry Brotherson, Bill Dresser, Dick Powers, John Hughes, Bill Christian and Reginald Asher.

REVIVE SWIM MEET

THE first intramural swimming meet since 1943 was held this spring. Competition was keen in both the fraternity and independent divisions with 111 entrants participating in the eight event meet.

Betas Best Swimmers

The Beta Theta Pi team won the greek division with a total of 56 points. Sigma Alpha Epsilon finished a close second with 54 points. The Northwest Kansas Leaguers won the independent division. No all-school award was made. Regular varsity swimming was dropped this year, making the pool available for intramural swimming practice and competition.

DOUBLES FINALISTS in the independent bracket of the table tennis tourney were Lyndon Boyer and Carlisle Pickett (left), Bob and Sam Ritter of Sigma Phi Nothing. Boyer and Pickett WFAC won the event.

600 IN WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

WOMEN'S intramurals are open to all women on the campus and furnish an athletic program for many students not enrolled in physical education but interested in sports participation.

Miss Katheryn McKinney, professor of physical education, is director of the organized sports program. Miss McKinney is in her third year as director of women's intramurals.

Girls from different organized groups, independent and sorority, enter the sports competition. Presentation of awards was outlawed by the faculty several years ago. They feel that the basic principle of the program is to provide entertainment and recreation for the girls and that awards are not needed. Approximately six hundred girls participate in the different competitive sports and of this number only five per cent are physical education majors.

Among the sports offered in the College sponsored program are volley ball, tennis, table tennis, posture contests and swimming in the fall. Basketball, softball, modern, social and ballroom dancing follow up in the spring.

This fall the volley ball competition was won by Walthiem hall. Folk dancing, social dancing and tap dancing were won by Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

MISS KATHERYN McKINNEY, professor in the physical education department, was supervisor of the women's intramural sports this year.

CHI OMEGA'S AND ALPHA DELTA PI'S MONOPOLIZE

PART of the girls intramurals sports program was finished late last spring. Among those groups who finished in the winners column were the Chi Omegas. The Chi Omega sorority seemed to have a corner on the dancing competition. They walked off with top honors in tap dancing.

Donna Weixelman and Mary Alice Riley won the prize in social dancing for their sorority—Chi Omega.

FIRST PLACE winners in the intramural social-dancing contest, Donna Weixelman and Mary Alice Riley, represented Chi Omega sorority.

Each year the intramurals program includes a contest to decide which group of girls from which particular organization have the best posture. This fall the contest was won by the Chi Omega's.

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority began the fall semester by trying to match the record in the dancing competition that was set by the Chi Omega's last spring. They copped first place in the folk dancing contest to start out their series of wins. Then the social and tap dancing trophies were moved to the Alpha Delta Pi house.

CHI OMEGA posture team first place winners were Betty King, Alice Chandler, Jeanette Doran, Milruth Unruh, Joan Jennings.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL winners were the girls from Waltheim Hall. Back row: Helen Gilmore, Peg Tangeman, Dorine Heitshmidt,

DANCING COMPETITION

WALTHEIM hall won the women's intramurals volley ball championship this fall. The team representing Waltheim won the title playing their games in a round-robin fashion.

The Kappa Delta sorority with their dead-eye basketball shooters won the first place standing in the basketball tournament held last spring.

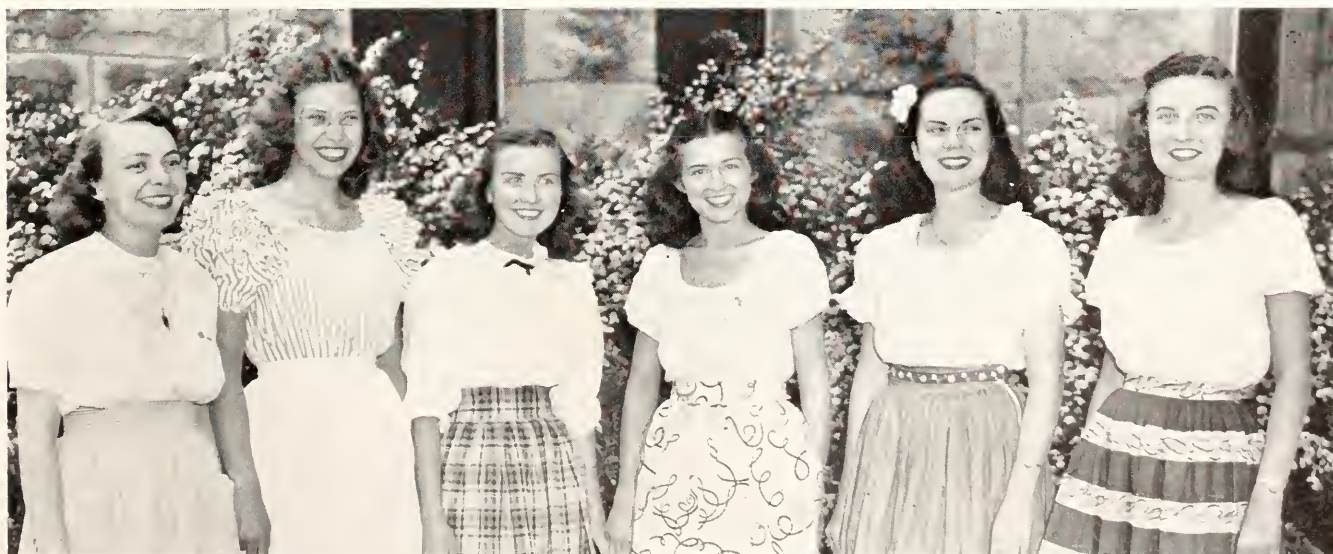

Square dancing with half the girls dressed in gingham skirts and the other half dressed in jeans won the Chi Omega's first place honors in the folk dancing competition. Six girls from the sorority put on the dances.

CHI OMEGA sorority girl's intramural folk dancing team won first place honors with their square dances. Among those who participated

Chapter Seven CLASSES

Editors--

JOANN BLACKWELDER
MARY ALICE WOLF

ENROLLMENT figures at Kansas State College soared to a new high in the fall semester of '49 with nearly 7500 students. The freshman class outnumbered all others with 1,897. Juniors were second with 1,863, and the sophomores followed closely with 1,839. The senior class fell behind with an enrollment of 1,418.

Second semester the juniors were out in front with 1,843. The sophomore class had 1,608 enrolled and the freshman class fell to 1,584. Seniors were still in the minority with 1,472. Total enrollment for the spring semester, including graduate and special students, was nearly 400 less than that of the fall semester. In both semesters, men outnumbered women five to one.

LOOKING DIGNIFIED AS WELL AS ALL SENIORS SHOULD, THE CLASS GRADUATING IN JANUARY, '49 WAITS FOR THEIR SHEEP SKIN.

THE LONG, HOT PROCESS of enrollment begins with the line for dean's cards. Without a deans' card a KSC education is impossible.

A STEP AT A TIME, the next of the series of interminable lines moves up and down the stairs at Anderson. This one is for vet's fee waivers.

FORM AFTER FORM is filled out—name, home address, curriculum, and so on. This is all preliminary to the actual class enrollment.

ANOTHER WAIT at the checkers' desks will be eliminated soon with the installment of IBM tabulating machines which check themselves.

AFTER FINAL BATTLE AGAINST SEVEN O'CLOCKS, WAGED ON THE ENROLLMENT FLOOR, ANOTHER JOYOUS EIGHTEEN WEEKS BEGINS.

NINE LOVELY LASSES, ONE FROM EACH SORORITY, PRESENTED A NOVEL ANNOUNCEMENT TO OPEN THE ANNUAL Y ORPHEUM SHOW.

ENTERTAINMENT was to be found aplenty this past year at Kansas State. It ranged from drama to hilarious comedy and from fevered campaigns to dances with your best girl in her new formal gown.

Phi Delta Theta won first in the fraternity division of the Y-Orpheum. Farm House and Chi Sigma tied for second.

Competition was just as keen in the sorority section with Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma tying for first. Alpha Xi Delta was second.

The annual Snow Ball climaxed two weeks of campaigning by men's organizations to get their candidate crowned Favority Man on the Campus. Malcom Tornquist, Alpha Tau Omega, was the ladies' choice.

Social highlight of the Engineers' Open House was the St. Pats Prom at the Community House. Varsity basketballer Lloyd Krone was chosen St. Pat. and St. Patricia honors went to Janet Johnson.

EVERYONE GOT INTO THE ACT, even a shetland pony, as the Phi Phi Delta Thetas won first with their skit entitled "Queens a Poppin".

"FUTURE FANTASY" was the clever production staged by the Kappa Kappa Gammas which coped a first place tie with the Pi Phis.

LEG ART WAS PLENTIFUL in Pi Beta Phi's skit "No Time At All" which earned a tie for first among the sororities at the Orpheum.

A NIGHTGOWNED GIRL found herself wandering through a doll-land fantasy, the Alpha Xi Delta production, which won second place.

VARSITY END DICK JOHNSON received enthusiastic support from his fraternity brothers in his campaign for the FMOC title.

THE LADIES CHOICE FOR FMOC THIS YEAR was the Swede troubador Malcom Tornquist, milling student from Norrning, Sweden.

CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED

CAMPUS politics took on added vigor this year. With a two-party system and party primaries, the K-State campaigns were much the same as national elections.

Clean Sweep for Commonwealth

The Commonwealth party reversed last year's results by winning nine of the sixteen class offices. The All-College party won complete control of the junior class, while Commonwealth party made a clean sweep with the senior class offices. Two sophomore officers were handed to the Commonwealth party and two to the All-College party. With the exception of the presidency, the freshman class went Commonwealth.

Using the democratic way of choosing one person from each of the political parties to run for each class office, the two parties held party primaries one week before election time.

Vote on Prohibition

Included on the All-College primary ballot was the prohibition question. This gave the college a preview of the student opinion on the controversial question which would come to a vote at the next state election. Student ballots ended prohibition by a wide majority. Of the 699 votes, 541 were yeses and the no's received 158 votes. A breakdown by classes showed very few in each class favoring the continuance of prohibition.

DEANS' COMMITTEES NAME 30 PROMINENT SENIORS

THIRTY prominent senior students were selected for the Royal Purple this year by student and faculty committees appointed by the deans of the five schools. The committees made their selections on the basis of a "point system" from activity questionnaires filled out by recommended seniors.

FRESHMEN are tested for aptitude and interests during Freshman Orientation Week each fall. All test results go into college files.

INFORMATION for freshmen as to wheres and whens of tests, physical examinations, and classes is provided at special Anderson Hall booth.

MORE TESTS and plenty of opportunity for concentration give frosh a good foretaste of college routine. All testing is done in auditorium.

GUIDED TOURS of campus buildings and facilities are included in orientation program. Upperclassmen volunteer for guide service.

FRESHMAN TALENT SHOW, WHIPPED UP BETWEEN OTHER ACTIVITIES DURING THE MAD WEEK, COMPARES WITH BROADWAY'S BEST.

FROSH GET HEALTH CHECK

A PHYSICAL examination is one of the first events in a freshman's college career. Before a student can enroll he must be checked by the doctors and submit to the required inoculations.

The Student Hospital maintains a staff of doctors and nurses to check the illnesses of all college students. When a student becomes ill he is entered in the hospital where the staff is able to attend to his needs.

The hospital was enlarged last year with completion of temporary buildings west of the Library.

CAPABLE NURSES USE mass-production methods. Two such lines were kept with mouths full of thermometers throughout process.

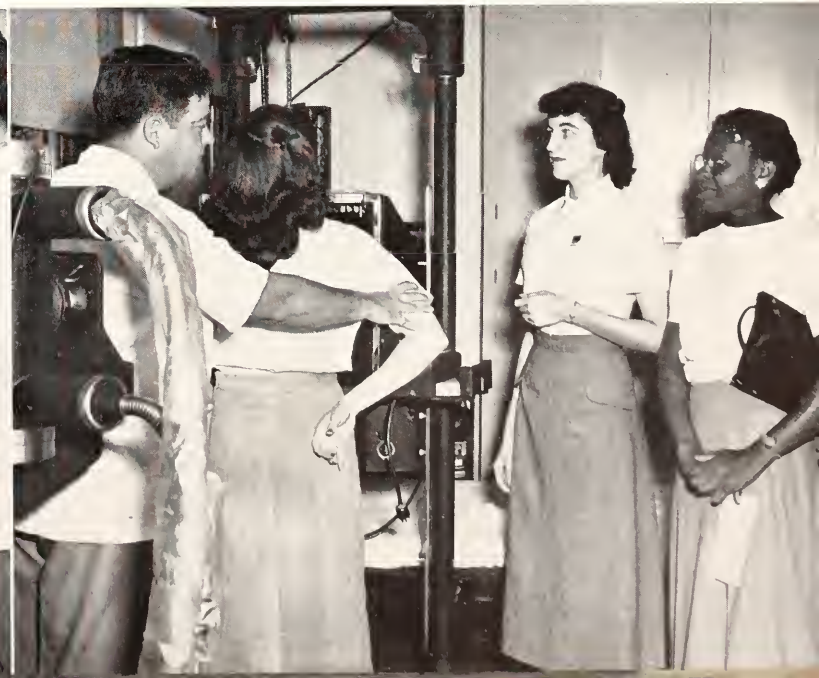

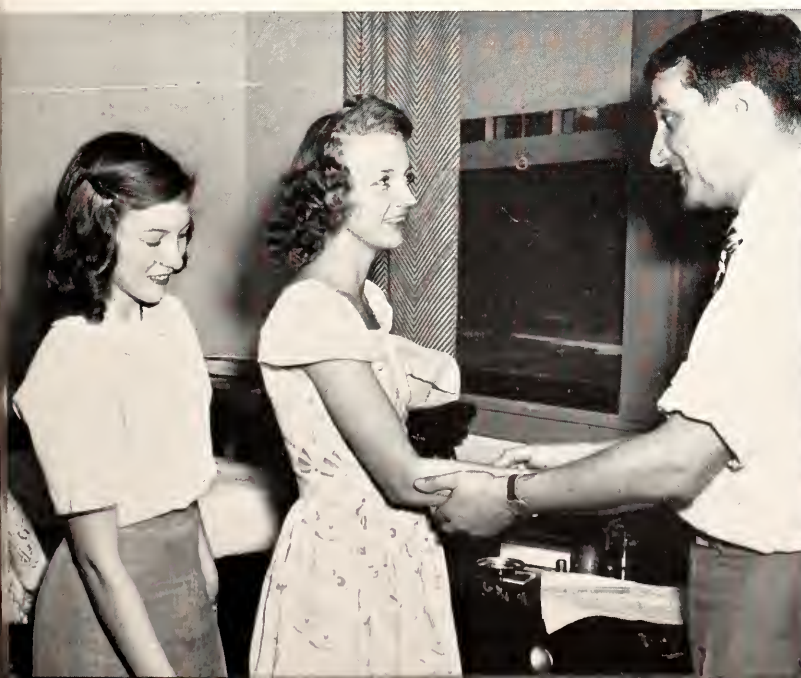

RESPIRATION, pulse, temperature, chest expansion and innumerable other details were thoroughly checked by health department doctors.

STERILE equipment in expert hands eases the fear as hordes of freshmen are stuck. Forms are filled out showing injections made.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS were given to all new students—even men. Our only explanation is a prejudiced photographic staff.

CHEST X-RAYS are made as part of the regular examination. Many early tubercular cases are stopped as a result of these careful checks.

ADVERTISING AND INDEX

Adu. Mgr. -- BOB LARBERG

ADVERTISING on these pages has done much to make your 1949 ROYAL PURPLE possible. The staff urges you to consider this, along with the quality of services offered, when making your purchases.

AGGIEVILLE, business district just off College campus, has undergone tremendous expansion along with the city in the last few years.

"HORSE PARADE" up Poyntz Avenue is part of a rodeo sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the college Chaparajos Club.

WILDCAT CLUB, ALUMNI GROUP LED BY MANHATTAN MERCHANTS, GIVES TIME AND MONEY TO BOOST KSC ATHLETIC PROGRAM.

CROWD of Aggieville shoppers stop to watch Jaycee's/Chaparajo's club rodeo parade led by band, as it approaches the edge of campus.

STUDIO ROYAL (AP—After painting) photographs Royal Purple beauty queen candidates, takes all individual class section pictures.

We, at the Campus Book Store, are very proud that all our employees are strictly associated with the College. Every individual is a student or wife of a student. By selecting our help from the student body, we keep the atmosphere of our store the same as that found in all college activities. All credit for our store's popularity goes to our friendly clerks.

Experience Counts . . .

I N T H E L O N G R U N

Every printing job has a personality. It represents more than so much paper, ink and presswork . . . each piece tells its own indisputable story. If produced by skilled hands, each sheet will do what is expected of it . . . in contrast, the slip-shod piece falters when the iron test comes. Since good printing costs no more, yet produces so generously, purchase printing carefully.

For more than 50 years the Capper Printing Company has placed quality foremost. On this basis we have grown. Our plant has both the equipment and the skilled personnel . . . craftsmen whose pride in their work in a guarantee of printing excellence . . . as an example we give you the 1949 Royal Purple.

Outstanding Yearbooks from the Presses of Capper Printing Company, Inc., are The "Royal Purple" of Kansas State—"Who's Whoot"—The "Jayhawker," U. of K.
