Kim Springer, Manhattan, is turning these cucumbers into tasty pickles. A member of the Strong 4-H Club, Kim will be competing in the Riley County Fair August 7-11 in Manhattan. If previous experience is any indication, Kim will rank high in food preservation class this year. Last year she won blue ribbons on her entries and the year before brought home a grand champion in this project. Kim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Springer.

18th Year No. 22

1972 Fair Farming Edition

With wheat harvest wrapped up, the milo heading, and the corn tasseling there is no doubt that it's fair time in the Grass and Grain area. Practically all the counties have fairs, some of them relatively small that are late summer show pieces for just people in the surrounding area, but there are larger fairs that have expanded to include both open class and 4-H exhibits along with carnivals, variety shows and other outdoor entertainment.

Some of the fairs have outgrown the county fair designation and attract exhibits and customers from a multi-county region. Salina, Abilene, Belleville and Herington all have fairs that are legitimately billed as regional fairs.

The local fair season, however, is in its glory right now. A few fairs have already been completed but most of them are scheduled for this week and next. Several more are set for the final two weeks of the month.

September will wrap up the '72 fair season with winning entries from the Grass and Grain area taking projects to the state-wide fairs in Hutchinson and Topeka.

year. These include a new cement floor for the surni barn, rearrangement of the grandstand area, and a fresh coat of paint for the 4-H exhibit building.

The past 2 years have seen an improvement in the quantity and quality of exhibits at the Clay Co. Free Fair. This year an increase in livestock exhibits is expected. Classes in the Culinary and Needlework departments have been upgraded.

Most judging in the 4-H Department will be done by the interview method. The judge and 4-H member have an opportunity to discuss the exhibit and the 4-Hers project. This gives the 4-H member an opportunity to ask questions and to see how his project and exhibit could be improved. The interview style of judging will be used for all exhibits in the foods and nutrition, clothing, photography, woodworking, electric, knitting and dog care divisions.

Pre-fair events for 4-H members include the Style Revue, Best Groomed Boy and clothing judging on Monday, August 21; the Demonstration and Illustrated Talk Contest on Wednesday, August 23; and the Home Improvement Tour on Friday, August 25. The tractor operator's event is scheduled for Saturday, August 26.

Starting on Sunday afternoon, the 4-H Council will operate a Food Stand. The food stand is a big money-raising project. Proceeds from the food stand are used to finance 4-H Council projects throughout the year.

A Kiddie Barn featuring baby animals and their mothers is a big attraction for young fair goers. The Kiddie Barn will be open throughout the fair and is sponsored by the 4-H Council.

A fair highlight for many 4-H members and their parents is the Public Style Revue. This year the Public Revue of fashions made and selected by 4-H boys and girls will be held on Monday, August 28, beginning at 8:00 p.m. This event will be held on the cement slab located north of the National Guard Armory.

Grandstand attractions at the Clay County Free Fair will include a motorcycle show by the Clay Co. Ski-Hi Cycle Association on Sunday afternoon, a horse show Monday evening, a Tractor Pulling Contest on Tuesday and a Demolition Derby on Wednesday night.

Individuals wishing a Clay County Free Fair Book are invited to write to the Clay County Extension Office-Box 207, Clay Center.

Vegetable Protein Source Substitutes Meat In Schools

The Agriculture Department announced a proposal to let schools and other child-feeding centers freely substitute approved soybean and other vegetable protein sources for meat items and still qualify for federal reimbursement.

Officials conceded that rising meat prices and higher costs of food generally were factors in designing the plan. Unit per unit, vegetable protein costs less than meat.

Currently, an official said, schools can apply individually for permission from USDA to serve "textured" vegetable protein, extenders and enrichers to children. Under the new plan, states and school districts would be given a free hand to use the substitutes.

The department's carefully worded announcement did not spell out the intent of the plan. It said the proposal would "give great flexibility" to child nutrition programs by permitting "variations" in meal items. Herbert D. Rorex, director of nutrition in USDA, said in response to questions the proposal was aimed at allowing schools and feeding centers "blanket authority" to substitute vegetable protein. However, only ingredients approved by the department will be allowed.

Rorex said over-all protein requirements would be maintained and that children would have served meals as nutritious as

No one, he said, expects vegetable protein to replace meat entirely.

Rorex said the proposal "does not necessarily" mean school will serve less meat. It could mean, he said, that vegetable protein will be used to enable larger portions to be served.

Rorex conceded the proposal expected to draw criticism from number of fronts, including cattle and poultry industry.

States and schools cooperating in national child feeding program receive federal cash reimbursements to cover part of food service.

Wheat Flour Trade Gaining

World exports of wheat flour during calendar 1971 are estimated at around 100 million cwts or about the same high level of a year ago, according to information tabulated by the Export Department of Millers' National Federation.

The maintenance of a near record level of world trade in flour is particularly significant as it indicates that despite the many new mills built and in operation in recent years, gains in per capita use of wheat foods and in population numbers on a world basis continue to expand total requirements of wheat foods.

Though the world total showed little change from 1970, there was a further significant shift among the major suppliers. Exports from the prolonged shipping strike and price competition problems.

Shipments from Australia and "other countries" were also each slightly lower than a year ago. Canada reported the same low average level of 1970, with approximately half of the Canadian exports going to Cuba which traditionally has been largely a U.S. flour market.

The growing size and importance of the European Common Market in the world flour trade reached a new peak in 1971 with a total of 38 million cwts. or 38 per cent of all flour shipments. Of this amount France and West Germany account for 26 million cwts. or a little over two-thirds of the E.E.C. shipments, and Italy, Netherlands, and Belgium make up the remainder.

The rapid gains of the Common Market as a flour exporter in world trade, especially in recent years, result largely from a very liberal government policy of export subsidy payments for commercial markets and a shift in flour imports by Egypt from the U.S. to European suppliers since the 1967 war and its break in diplomatic relations with the U.S. Egypt has continued to occupy a major role as a flour importer as its annual food needs expand with a growing population.

Special Teal Season Set Sept. 9-17

Sept. 9 through 17 has been tentatively set as the Kansas special teal season, the Forestry, Fish and Game Commission announced today.

The final teal season regulations, expected to be confirmed at the July 28 Commission meeting, include:

daily bag limit of four and a possession limit of eight blue-wing, green-wing or cinnamon teal, singly or in aggregate; and shooting hours from sunrise to sunset.

The season will be open statewide with the two exceptions. The Marais des Cygnes Waterfowl Management Area in Linn. The Marais des Cygnes Waterfowl Management Area in Neosho County will be closed to the teal season, according to Oliver Gasswint, Pratt, chief of the Commission's game division.

Gasswint said the Kansas teal season was developed from a framework set by the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and

4 Grass & Grain
August 1, 1972

Wildlife. He commented that the limit and shooting hours are liberal as the framework allows.

The latest report of Marvin G. biologist for the Commission, is that teal populations up north appear to be nearly as high as last year, indicating another great season, said, however, the success of the season in Kansas depends whether adequate water is present to attract and hold the teal.

ST. LOUIS — A push is on here to convince some high school students to skip college.

Nothing against college, for those who want it. But the students are being told not to waste their time on studies which have little to do with the jobs they will eventually obtain.

"You can go into plumbing and make a good living," the voice says in a special movie shown at most area high schools. "You no longer need college to get out of the economic bind."

The movie advises the students to enroll in their high school vocational or technical education courses, or in some private trade school.

The idea that everyone should go to college is "a myth that ought to be laid to rest," said D. Ried Ross, executive director of the RIDC.

He cites figures from the U.S. Office of Education that 80 percent of the jobs created this decade will require skills and training other than a four-year liberal arts degree.

"Unless present trends are altered, only one student in four entering our labor market will have these skills," Ross said.

The RIDC is a nonprofit organization supported by business, labor, government and private sources to promote business activity in the St. Louis area. It studied the job situation and found a shortage of skilled workers in some key areas, such as auto mechanic.

After talks with educators and local business leaders, the RIDC ran some ads which said: "The only way to get ahead is with a college education. . . . Bull."

The program took off, becoming bigger than even those at RIDC imagined. A career information center got three times the number of inquiries expected. High school principals wanted the RIDC to come out and talk about the blue collar jobs. A 125-man speakers' bureau was set up, brochures printed and 60 copies of the special film were made. Just before school let out, RIDC cosponsored a two-day Career Fair at which more than 25,000 high school students and others got the word: College is not necessary in today's work world.

More than 100 companies set up information booths. The office of Education funded a study of the program and asked RIDC to make revisions in it for next year so it can be used in other cities.

For the past 20 years parents have been telling their kids that college is the road to a more rewarding life until, as U.S. Education Commissioner Sidney P. Marlan Jr., put it, "education has become a national fetish. . . . people view vocational education as a great thing for the neighbor's children."

Yet the RIDC has struck a responsive chord here with its message, that for some vocational training is preferable to college, and that a blue collar job is just as good as a white collar one, for both money and status.

In trying to explain it, RIDC came up with these observations:

—The society has robbed the blue collar worker of his dignity and recognition and the only rewards he can get are monetary, thus the "enormous wage increases that union rank and file members have been demanding."

—In many cases more personal job satisfaction can be obtained from nondegree jobs than routine paper-shuffling jobs that require a college degree.

—Industry, by requiring that applicants have a college degree where it is not necessary, creates situations "detrimental to the productivity and job satisfaction of the worker."

What it all amounts to in St. Louis is yet to be seen. But Ross predicts the vocational courses at high schools this fall will have an extra 2,000 students.

This is a good start, he says, because of the 320,000 new skilled jobs expected to open up in the area within 10 years, less than 100,000 of the area's high school students are taking courses that will qualify them to handle the jobs at the entry level.

Pat Boone Family To Headline '72 Kansas State Fair

Pat Boone and family will headline the State 1972 Fair Review Sept. 16-18 and precede recording and country western stars Tammy Wynette, Patsy Sledg, George Jones, Loretta Lynn and Conway Twitty.

He recently completed starring in

"The Cross and The Switchblade" and writing a new book, "A New Song."

Twitty and Lynn will head one of the two country-western shows Sept. 19-20 that will feature Anthony Armstrong Jones. The second show will star Wynette and Sledg and feature Harold Morrison and The Jones Boys.

The Hutchinson centennial celebration will highlight Thursday's entertainment. Ken "Festus" Curtis, the Frontiersmen Quartet and the Burgundy Street Singers will also be featured.

WALKING HER HOG

Melanie Michaels, Manhattan, has one of the few well behaved hogs in Riley County. Most hogs are camera shy, making it hard for them and their master to get together for a picture. Melanie doesn't have any problems with her 4-H project but she keeps her swagger stick handy if any disciplinary action is needed. After picture taking, Melanie took her hog for a walk in the yard. That would have been a disaster for most 4-H'ers because the pig would have been off and running, but that didn't happen to Melanie. She could probably walk her hog to the Riley County Fair Aug. 7-11 if she wanted to. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michaels.

State Fair Grandstand Highlights Auto Races

HUTCHINSON — Racing fans will find thrills and action every afternoon at this year's Kansas State Fair. Six big days of auto racing will highlight the 1972 afternoon program in front of the State Fair grandstand with Modified Jalopy Races, Semi-late and Late Model Stock Car Races.

The auto racing will be interspersed with a Motorcycle Thrill Show, a Demolition Derby, and the third annual Tractor Pulling Contest.

The big nine-day Kansas State Fair afternoon program lines up like this:

Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16-17 — Kansas State Modified Jalopy Championships
Monday, Sept. 18 — Demolition Derby
Tuesday, Sept. 19 — Death Riders Motorcycle Thrill Show
Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 20-21 — Semi-Late Stock Car Races
Friday, Sept. 22 — Kansas Tractor Pulling Contest
Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 23-24 — IMCA Late Model Stock Car Races.

The Modified Jalopy Races will be produced by Merrick Auto Racing, Inc., Dodge City. The Semi-Late Model Stock Car Races are handled by B & P Racing Promotions of Great Bend, and the Late Model Stock Car Races and Demolition Derby will be directed by Gene Van Winkle of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The "Death Riders" are acknowledged as one of the finest motorcycle thrill shows in the world. Besides the traditional thrill show acts, such as precision riding, leaps over automobiles, and fire acts, the Death Riders plan to introduce new and different stunts. One of them is the "Human Bomb" where a man is blasted from a coffin by dynamite. The Death Riders will also perform several automobile stunts.

The Demolition Derby is entered by amateurs, and provides a field that is open to 100 drivers who compete for close to $1,000 in prizes. Drivers are required to crash their cars into one another until only one vehicle is still capable of running. Any driver who fails to hit another within a certain time limit is disqualified.

The Tractor Pulling Contest is expected to have its biggest year yet, with entries coming from all over the state, according to Fair Secretary Wallace White. "The first two runnings of the event proved to be of great interest to both the spectators and participants," said White, "and we think it will be even more popular this year."

Qualifications for the Tractor Pull will take place in front of the grandstand Friday afternoon, Sept. 22 and the Kansas State Fair accounted for a part of the price movement before the announcement was made.

Championship will be staged that night.

Grains affected are wheat, corn, barley, sorghum, and rye or oats. The Soviet Union agreed to purchase $750 million worth of these grains from U.S. commercial exporters in the next three years beginning this August.

At least $200 million of the sales will come during the first year. The Soviets have the option each year of the types of grain they want.

Frederick says announcement of the types of grain to be shipped may have minor impact on prices. The exact break-down of the purchase will be determined by Soviet buyers and U.S. exporters.

The economist believes large quantities of wheat will be included in the purchase. The Soviets have always fed substantial quantities of wheat to livestock and are attempting to increase their livestock feeding, he says.

Russia is the world's leading wheat producer. The 1971 crop totaled 2.9 billion bushels, compared to the average U.S. crop of 1.6 billion bushels. However, this year's Soviet crop will be down considerably due to severe winterkill last spring.

Soviet purchase of $250 million a year for three years would increase U.S. grain exports by 17 per cent, Frederick says. With the sale, Russia would become the second leading foreign purchaser of U.S. grain, behind Japan's average annual purchases of $437 million.

Frederick believes the sale could eventually lead to additional trade between the two world powers, and also could ease the planned reduction in wheat and feed grain acreages in the U.S. for 1973.

were podding on 6 per cent of the state's acreage, compared with 16 per cent last year and an average of 10 per cent by this time.

Schedule Change In Tri-Rivers Fair

An important change has been announced in the time schedule of the Tri-Rivers Fair and Rodeo, Aug. 7-11, Salina.

The 4H livestock sale, traditionally held at 1:30 pm on Friday of the fair, has been moved to 8:30 am the same day. It is hoped the move will make the sale more alluring to office-bound cattle-buyers who have been too busy in the past to make the traditional afternoon sale.

And both buyers and sellers should benefit from the morning temperatures of an August day which could be sweltering by early afternoon.

A breakfast for prospective cattle-buyers will be served at 7:15 am Friday on the fairgrounds.

Soviet Grain Deal Hikes Wheat Prices In U.S.

The recent announcement that Russia will purchase at least $750 million worth of grain from the U.S. has already been reflected in higher grain prices. Any large additional price increases are not in the offing, in the opinion of a Kansas State University Extension economist.

Wheat prices have risen about 10 cents a bushel in response to the announcement, reaching the $1.38 to $1.40 range in Topeka, says Roy Frederick. Other grain prices have also risen, but not this much.

Frederick believes that rumors

Takes Yellow From No-Bleach Items

When drip dry cottons which cannot be bleached become yellowed, soak the garment in a quart of warm water to which a teaspoon of baking soda has been added.

To Remove Stains From Cottons

Remove perspiration stains from washable cottons by washing the stained area as soon as possible in warm soap or detergent suds. If the fabric has become discolored, sponge it with a little vinegar and water solution. Rinse thoroughly.

Follow Thread When Ironing Drapes

You will do much better when ironing draperies if you follow the thread of the material. This prevents stretching at the sides and makes them hang more evenly.

New Range Keeps Cool While Cooking

The latest advancement in home cooking equipment is a solid state range that cooks without conventional gas or electric heating elements.

The new countertop range has a smooth, black ceramic surface that stays so cool you can boil a pan of water through a paper napkin without singeing the napkin.

Cooking is possible because of solid state electronic circuits within the range. When cookware of magnetic materials such as iron or steel is put over a coil, indicated by a pattern on the range top, the pan couples with the oscillating magnetic field created by the coil and heat being produced by the vessel itself; the range surface does not have to be heated to heat the cooking container.

Advantages of the range are many. It is safer because there are no exposed heating elements.

Because energy is induced into the cookware directly, cooking starts immediately with little heat dissipation into the kitchen.

The heat is controlled by power slide magnetic controls with many possibilities available between "off" and "high." The unit responds quickly to heating needs. Because precise control of power and rapid thermal responses are better cooking results.

With no crevices or edges to clean, it can also be used as an additional counter space or cutting board.

A limited number of the units will be available this year. A piece set of cookware is available with each new range.

Choose New Hairdo To Suit Face

If you feel like changing your hairstyle, take a good look at your facial features first and select a hairdo to flatter and complement them.

A high or domed forehead is offset with a casual half fringe or full fringe of curls or bangs. Sweep the hair up and off the face to add extra height to a low forehead.

Avoid straight styles and center parts if you have a long, pointed nose. Choose medium length hairdos with asymmetrical side parts of short, feathery forward swept top hair. Medium length hairdos also complement prominent chins. To give a receding chin more prominence, choose one which tapers forward over the ear, curving onto the cheek.

Takes Off Paper

To remove paper stuck to polished furniture without marring the surface, soak the paper with salad or cooking oil. Let it stand five minutes and then rub briskly with a dry cloth.

Use Blotters For Shelf Lining

Big desk blotters cut to fit make fine covers for cupboard shelves. They are non-slip, do not curl and will absorb small spills.

Patterns Are Trend in Home Furnishings

The trend to patterns in home furnishings is thriving and the trend most evident in new carpet styles. The new styles are the result of advanced techniques and manufacturing processes.

One new example is a richly patterned floor covering with a colorful medallion design. What makes it truly different from its predecessors is an embossing method that serves to accentuate the outline of the medallion shape. The process adds a three-dimensional surface appearance to an otherwise flat level loop carpet.

Level loop carpets are generally used in the heavily traveled areas of the home such as a family room, where durability is often more of a consideration than style. But the new carpet manages to combine the outstanding wear characteristics of a level loop style construction with the richness of pattern and sculptured pile associated with luxury carpets.

Each of the new carpet's nine colorations is actually made up of different colors. Frequently, the colorations will suggest compatible decorating themes. For instance, an arrangement of spice brown, beige, taupe, charcoal, light gray and white in a desert coloration goes well with contemporary furnishings chrome, glass, leather and wood.

Two others of the new styles are reminiscent of the oriental carpets in the richness of their colors and detail but they, too, can be used with modern furnishings. Others work equally well with modern or traditional decorating schemes.

Cover Cushions

You will have no rain soaked porch or patio pillows if you cover the regular fabric with plastic. Besides keeping the pillows dry, the plastic covers will make them wear much longer.

Use Chalk To Remove Stains

To remove yellow stains left on porcelain basins by dripping water, moisten pulverized chalk with ammonia and apply with a stiff brush.

Cleans Piano Keys

To clean ivory piano keys that are yellowed, dampen a cloth with peroxide and rub up and down gently over the keys. Then wash with warm water and dry thoroughly.

Dottie West Sings Country Western At Riley Co. Fair

Dottie West and Red Sovine will add their names to the list of famous country western singers that have taken the stage to entertain Riley County Fair goers.

In recent years Roy Clark, and Jeannie C. Riley have been among the big name opy singers performing at the fair and this annual event seems to add a special touch to the festivities.

Show time at Bishop Stadium in Ci-Co Park is 8 p.m., Tuesday, August 8.

Red Sovine has been a mainstay of the world-famed opy for the past 20 years. A Starday-King artist, Red has scored with hit after hit — including "Why, Baby, Why," "Little Rosa," "The Best Years of Your Life," "If Jesus Came to Your House," "Giddy-up Go," "Phantom 309" and "I Didn't Jump the Fence."

Red will be sharing the stage with one of the all-time great feminine vocalists in the country music field — Dottie West. A Grammy Award winner, with the tune "Here Comes My Baby Back Again," she is one of today's most consistent hit-makers.

Dottie, a pretty auburn-haired native of Tennessee, has been featured on nearly every television show and has appeared in many motion pictures.

The lovely RCA-Victor artist has one of 1972's biggest hits — "I'm Only a Woman." She's also scored high on the charts with "Paper Mansions," "Night Life," "Country Girl," and "Before the Ring on Your Finger Turns Green."

In addition to headliners Red Sovine and Dottie West, the opy cast will also include sensational young Rex Allen, Jr. The Mercury recording star was featured on the 1971 summer show on CBS-TV — "New Stars, New Faces."

The Cross-Country Boys, directed by Bill West, will also appear on the show.

Riley County Fair Plans Set For Aug. 7-11

The County Fair, with all its fun, excitement and exhibits, is the highlight of every summer. Plans are well under way for the Riley County Fair, August 7-11, according to Bob Ulrich, President of the Riley County Fair Board.

The Parade will be held Monday evening, August 7th, according to Ulrich. He said an evening parade will enable more people to take part in the event and view the procession. It will be from 2nd and Poyntz to the City Park.

Dottie West, Country Western Music Star, will perform at 8:00 on Tuesday evening, August 8th; the Palace Drug Dixie Land Band will perform on Wednesday, August 9, at 8:00 p.m. Shows will be at Bishop Stadium.

WHERE ARE THE HEADS?

Dave and Doug Parker, Manhattan, have made sorghum and poultry two of their major 4-H projects. These twins are wondering if they will have heads for the Riley County Fair Aug. 7-11. Judging sorghum heads at the fair would be difficult for any judge because maturity isn't supposed to be a factor in the selection of the winning entry. They figure there will be heads by fair time so they aren't too concerned. In past years they have also done well with their poultry entries. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker.

Cattle Hustlers Round Up Beef For Drug Addicts

Two "hustlers" from California are in Kansas trying to round up some beef cattle to feed drug addicts who are trying to kick the habit.

Bill Smith, 25, and Roy Gewant, 35, are the "cattle hustlers", their own term for the work they do, and they are ex-addicts.

Smith and Gewant work for Synanon, an organization formed to help addicts learn to live without drugs.

They were in Salina recently looking for cattle to feed Synanon's growing population, and they will be talking to many cattlemen in North-Central and Northwest Kansas in the next 2 weeks.

In the coming week they will meet with ranchers in Great Bend, Hays, Larned, Liberal, Garden City, Dodge City, Colby, Goodland, Hoxie, Menlo, Gove, Dighton, Tribune, Bird City, Atwood, Falun, Marquette, Turon, Hillsboro and Herington.

The search has the approval and assistance of the Kansas Livestock association.

Farland Foods, Garden City, will slaughter the donated animals, the carcasses will be packed by 2 Wichita companies and Garden City truckers will deliver the packaged beef to the West Coast.

It takes 400 head of cattle each year to feed the Synanon population, and Synanon is expanding its facilities to take care of 2500 addicts in October. Its present capacity's 2000.

Kansans contributed 30 head of cattle to the West Coast group last year, and Smith and Gewant hope for an increased contribution in 1972.

Although the facilities for Synanon are located in California, Kansas drug addicts who want rehabilitation help can become residents when Synanon expands this Fall.

Th only stipulations for residents are that they must want to do something for themselves and must be able to get to California. No fees are charged for persons entering Synanon.

Synanon began as a store-front operation in 1958, founded by an ex-alcoholic and subsidized by his unemployment check.

In 1971, Synanon opened its doors to teenagers who were in trouble, including juvenile delinquents and some Vietnam veterans who returned from the war as addicts.

NL Industries, the corporate name for the Dutch Boy Paints Co., has donated a factory building encompassing one square block in San Francisco to Synanon, allowing space for an additional 500 addicts.

Synanon also is working in a new area which it calls "New Things for New Lives". Synanon's teenagers are working on 2 ranches in California, learning how to grow crops, construct buildings and care for and raise animals.

Smith was a drug addict for 7 years and has been a Synanon resident for 5 years. Gewant used drugs for 16 years and also has been at Synanon 5 years.

Kansas residents who would like to become a Synanon resident or want more information about the group's work can write to Synanon, 1910 Ocean Front, Santa Monica, Calif., 90405.

Grain Trade Assessment Looking Good

By Rod Turnbull
K. C. Board of Trade

The fiscal year 1972-73 now is underway providing an opportune time to make an assessment of where the nation is in the grain business.

It is not possible to come up with figures that will balance like a bank statement. Even though the calculations on what happened in the 1971-72 fiscal year ending June 30 are fairly complete, the final yields on this year's Fall crops still depend in a large measure on the weather from here on out. There are crop predictions and projections, but not the results. Similarly, no one knows for sure what the demand will be for grains.

However, the outlook is fairly good, bolstered by the huge projected sales to the Soviet Union.

U.S. officials have been explicit in revealing that in the agreement in which the Soviet Union said it would buy 750 million dollars worth of grains over 3 years, no stipulation was made that a certain amount would be purchased each year. The only stipulation was that at least 200 million dollars worth would be bought in the year ending July 31, 1973. Nor was there any agreement on how much of each of the grains would be purchased. All of these things will be at the option of the Soviet Union.

Earl L. Butz, Secretary of Agriculture, has stated it is his opinion the Soviet Union will buy more than the 750 million dollars worth in the 3 years.

The Foreign Agricultural service of the USDA has revealed that agricultural exports in the fiscal year just ended reached a record total of 8 billion dollars, exceeding the 1970-71 previous record of 7.8 billion. As late as February, at the annual Agricultural Outlook conferences in Washington, the USDA doubted that farm exports for the 1971-72 fiscal year would reach the 7.8 billion dollar total of the previous year. Obviously an unexpected surge in the export business came in the final quarter.

There is little or nothing on the domestic scene to indicate a drop in demand in the new fiscal year for grains. Livestock and poultry feeding should continue to be heavy.

The corn and soybean carryovers apparently will not be quite as large as earlier predicted. Because of large exports and heavy domestic consumption, the corn carryover on October 1 will be about 1200 million bushels, said Carroll Brunthaver, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, following the recent issuance of the crop report based on July 1 conditions.

The Winter-projected soybean carryover of 70 million bushels has been reduced to 60 million. This would be as of September 1.

The crop report estimated the planted corn acreage at 66.8 million acres. Using a projected acre yield adjusted to trend, the USDA came up with a prospective total yield of 5042 million bushels.

This trend thing means that from past experience in the U.S., one could expect average yields to increase a little every year. Thus for this year the "trend" suggests a national average yield of 88 bushels to the acre which would compare with the record-breaking 1971 average of 86.8 bushels.

Grain men at the Kansas City Board of Trade and across the land are fully aware that the July 1 corn crop projection is based on the "trend" and not on how the growing crop looks. The first government crop report based on actual growing conditions will come August 10.

Meanwhile, while the crop report had its effect, the trade will be paying more attention to the weather than the yield projection as of July 1. It could be assumed that a new record corn yield could come only from ideal growing conditions. Anything less than ideal would suggest a lower average and a total yield less than the 5042 million bushels projected.

Total utilization of corn this marketing year is being estimated at around 5 billion bushels. The crop last year was 5.5 billion bushels.

The July crop report put the wheat yield at 1,550,667,000 bushels compared with 1,639,516,000 bushels last year. The wheat figure is an actual estimate and not just a projection.

Total disappearance of wheat in the marketing year ending June 30 had been estimated at 1444 million bushels which included 575 million bushels exported. This would have left a carryover on July 1 of 927 million bushels. However, late exports pushed the total to an apparent 624 million bushels, which would mean the prospective carryover was reduced by almost 50 million bushels.

Thus the carryover of wheat and the prospective carryovers of corn and soybeans all are less than had been expected earlier in the marketing year.

U.S. Hide Exports Cut To Strap Rising Shoe Prices

The Nixon administration has put a temporary freeze on cattle hide exports at last year's level of 16 million hides in an attempt to stem a rise in shoe prices anticipated for this fall.

At a recent press conference, Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson said hide prices hit an all-time high of 29.75 cents.

"Not to make light of a serious matter," Peterson said, "these higher prices come out of the American consumer's hide."

A Price Commission spokesman said a 10 percent shoe price increase is expected this fall although shoe prices have risen only one percent thus far this year.

Peterson did not say a drop in current shoe prices would occur but he predicted that the freeze on hides would "cut down inflationary pressures" on shoes and other leather goods and hopefully slow or stop the anticipated fall price increases.

The government made a similar move to limit exports five years ago but this, Peterson said, resulted in windfall profits for exporters and foreign producers.

To avoid a recurrence of this, Peterson announced the initiation of "export tickets."

Hide producers will be given these tickets in proportion to their production. Exporters will have to buy the tickets before they can export.

Producers will be monitored to make certain they pass on the earnings from these tickets either to cattlemen or consumers in the form of lower meat prices, Peterson said.

United States exports have climbed from 33 percent of total hide production in 1967 to 43 percent last year. This 10 percent increase is due largely to a more lively demand from foreign shoe makers — mainly Italy, Spain and Japan.

Argentina and Brazil have all but stopped their export of hides in an effort to boost their own shoe industries and maintain their herds. Yet, three years ago, these two Latin American countries produced more than a quarter of the world's cattle hide exports.

Peterson said imposing a ceiling on exports at last year's level will:

- reduce inflationary pressures on shoes,
- give American cattlemen a fair and rising share of revenues from hide exports,
- benefit U.S. workers and industries by preserving stability of businesses using hides, and
- provide a generous and stable supply of hides for America's overseas trading partners.

The secretary said that export tickets are likely to become of some value because of an anticipated higher international market price for hides than that which will prevail in the U.S.

He said the Internal Revenue Service will be asked to keep close watch on U.S. producers to make sure they pass revenues from the tickets on to either cattlemen or to consumers in the form of lower meat prices.

Peterson gave no time limit on the control of hide exports saying it would be "lifted as soon as market conditions warrant." He noted that the export ticket system is being programmed until November to start with.

Dakota to cast his vote.

The bill extends coverage to 7.4 million additional workers, including 1.2 million domestic servants, 1 million chain store employees and 4.9 million federal, state and local government employees.

It now goes to a House-Senate conferees to reconcile differences between the Senate version and one approved earlier by the House which provides a $2.00 minimum pay scale.

The Senate approved the measure by a vote of 65 to 27 after defeating the Nixon administration's proposal for a $2.00 minimum by a 47 to 46 vote.

Backers of McGovern hoped his vote would improve his image with labor. The $2.20 minimum was a key goal of the AFL-CIO in this legislative session. McGovern was not endorsed by the AFL-CIO executive council.

The bill passed the Senate after two amendments postponed the effective date of the $2.20 minimum to two years, instead of one, and eliminated 1 million employees in retail and service establishments doing less than $250,000 annual business.

As approved, the minimum wage would jump from $1.60 to $2.00 for most non-farm workers 60 days after enactment, and to the full $2.20 in two years.

The present minimum of $1.30 for workers on large farms would be raised to $2.20 in three years. The bill also repeals exemptions which now prevent many workers from getting overtime pay.

We Believe

The dignity of man is best served when people work together to help each other . . . this is as true economically as it is politically or socially.

Economic tools should be used to solve economic problems.

Cooperatives . . . owned, controlled and used by farmers are an economic tool.

The farmer cooperative is an integral part, an extension of each member's farm business.

Cooperatives are good for the community . . . the savings remain and are generally spent in the community.

As cooperatives are better understood, they will play a greater role in:

- Stabilizing and improving the rural community
- Keeping farmers in control of the farm business
- Benefitting both producer and consumer
- Demonstrating how cooperative international trade will benefit the many rather than the few

"We Believe" is reprinted from the plaque hanging in the directors' rooms of co-ops. We believe Fair Time is a Good Time to expose this creed to all our farm people.

Farming is a good life . . .

And there's nothing like the County Fairs to prove this.

We of Farmers Union are interested particularly in the activities of the young farmers in our three counties.

Burns Take High Toll In U.S.

A "silent epidemic" of burns in the United States is killing and crippling more people than polio did in 1954, its peak epidemic year.

Three Texas physicians make this assertion in calling for a national drive to reduce burns "similar to that which was required to control poliomyelitis."

"It is evident that burn prevention should be of high priority in our society," they said.

The physicians are Drs. Armond S. Goldman, Duane L. Larson and Sally Abston, all of the University of Texas medical branch in Galveston.

The doctors said a single government agency should spearhead a coordinated program to seek to reduce burn injuries and deaths.

The suggested steps include: better design and regulation of open space heaters, hot-water heaters and kitchen stoves; education programs through the mass media, and government action to require manufacture of flame-retardant clothing.

"The incidence of burn injuries in the United States exceeds that of every industrialized country, and deaths and crippling due to burns in this country currently are considerably greater than the mortality and morbidity due to poliomyelitis in the peak epidemic year of 1954," and of burn injuries in 1970, and they wrote.

National Safety Council statistics show that 6,700 persons died in fires By contrast, in 1954, about 50,000 persons contracted polio and 1,500 died of it.

The physicians note that a person burned over 50 per cent of his body requires intensive hospital care for about four months, at a cost of about $36,000. Half of the patients so severely burned die, they added.

The doctors studied 368 children treated at the Shriners Burns Institute in Galveston between 1966 and 1970.

Ninety per cent of these suffered burns at home or in the home neighborhood, they reported. More than half of the cases were found to have been caused by space heaters, usually gas, matches, outdoor fires, gas hot-water heaters and kitchen stoves.

Manhattan Mounted Police

Manhattan sports what is thought to be one of the few mounted police patrols in the nation which is made up solely of police officers.

So far this year the patrol has ridden in the Florence Centennial Parade in May and the Hutchinson Centennial Parade the first of July.

They will ride in the Riley County 4-H Parade August 7. There will also be a horse patrol on hand at the fair to direct traffic and assist fair goers.

Under the direction of patrolman Bill Council the force has organized an 11-man mounted patrol.

Organized at no cost to taxpayers, the mounted patrol involves the 11 officers, each of whom owns his own mount and gear. The group practices cavalry drills in its spare time, usually on Saturday mornings.

Riders include some of the force's high ranking figures, as for instance Chief Willis Penhollow and radar sergeant Nick Edvy.

Other members in addition to Council are officers Larry Bluthardt, Sam Riniker, Bill Smith, Ralph Henderson, Don Harbour, Bud Nelson, Claude Scott and Paul Palenski.

"Most of the fellows have been riding for a few months but not a very long time," noted Council, selected the patrol's commander.

The idea for a mounted patrol originated with Council last year, and received support from other department members in February after a man walked away from a nursing home and was found dead in a brushy area some days later.

"It would have been easier to search the area on horseback than on foot," Council noted, "because we would have been higher and had a better view. There is the possibility we could have found the man some time sooner with horses."

He said mounted police could be used in a similar future case. There also has been talk of patrolling the city park area, Cico park and the zoo grounds via horse.

Council hopes residents will develop some pride in a mounted police patrol representing their city. "At the Florence centennial we hope we'll be an organization which can represent Manhattan with pride, and we hope the people take pride in us," he said.

"We also hope the public will see us in a different light than just 'fuzz' riding around in a patrol car. We're not a saddle club, but we'll be doing precision military-type drills to the best of our ability."

The patrol will be outfitted in dressy uniforms, including Western tie, a choice of either black or light grey Western hats and charcoal grey riding pants and boots.

"We are somewhat of a unique mounted patrol," he said. "Although there are a few others in the state (Wichita's city force has one, as do the Riley and Shawnee sheriff's departments), we are one of the few in the nation made up entirely of regular officers working in their spare time."

"Most mounted patrols are largely reserve officers or friends of police," Council said. "But every man in our group is a regular officer riding his own horse with his own saddle and providing his own transportation to functions."

"Our main goal is to achieve a better relationship with the public," Council said. "We'd like to think this helps show we're a real part of the community."

Kansans Warned Of Rabies Danger

PRATT — As many as 400 Kan-anti-rabies injections, according to Dr. Donald E. Wilcox, director of disease control for the Kansas

Department of Health.

The rabies vaccine is not without occasional serious complications itself, but contracting rabies is nearly always fatal without the vaccine, said Dr. Wilcox.

Record Reservoir Water For Kansas In Future

Kansas may not be the state with 10,000 lakes but Kansans may be able to boast of more reservoirs than any other state in the foreseeable future.

When the proposed reservoirs for Kansas are completed, the state will have more impounded water behind reservoir dams than any other state in the nation.

That's the claim the Kansas Department of Economic Development made in 1970 after opening of a new reservoir had occurred each year for several years. The claim was voiced in national magazine advertisements to attract investors to the score of Kansas impoundments for lakeside development.

The boast is still possible despite vast lake building along the Arkansas River in Arkansas and Oklahoma in recent years to give the river navigable ranking.

Kansas does not have more water area than any other state, but it should be remembered that states like Michigan and Minnesota have herds of natural lakes — not reservoirs.

All of Kansas' big waters were created since World War II — in less than a quarter of a century.

The first reservoir built by the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Kansas was Kanopolis Reservoir, completed in May, 1948, at a cost of $12,346,700. Kansas City District corps publicist M. O. Smith computed that Kanopolis, with primary purpose listed as flood control, already had saved through November 1970, a total of $19,116,000 in flood damages.

Kansas has 19 reservoirs with water impounded behind dams and another in construction. Another 156, some of them small are under study or proposed, with likelihood that most eventually will be constructed.

Kansas' big water resources are multi-purpose projects. Unlike the locks and dams of the Arkansas River, with primary purpose of stabilizing water level for navigation, and the White River dams in Missouri and Arkansas, with major purpose of electric power generation, the Kansas dams have primary purpose of flood control or irrigation — in some instances an equal measure of both.

In the case of Cheney Reservoir, Wichita water supply is a major purpose along with flood control. Secondary purposes at reservoirs may be flow regulation for rivers below the dams and recreation.

While fishing, boating and camping at lake sites boost the economy of a lake locality, recreation often ranks well down the line in priorities for lake building. But there is an increasing trend toward involving state agencies responsible for recreation benefits in the planning for reservoir construction.

In Kansas, two such agencies are the Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission and the Kansas Park and Resources Authority.

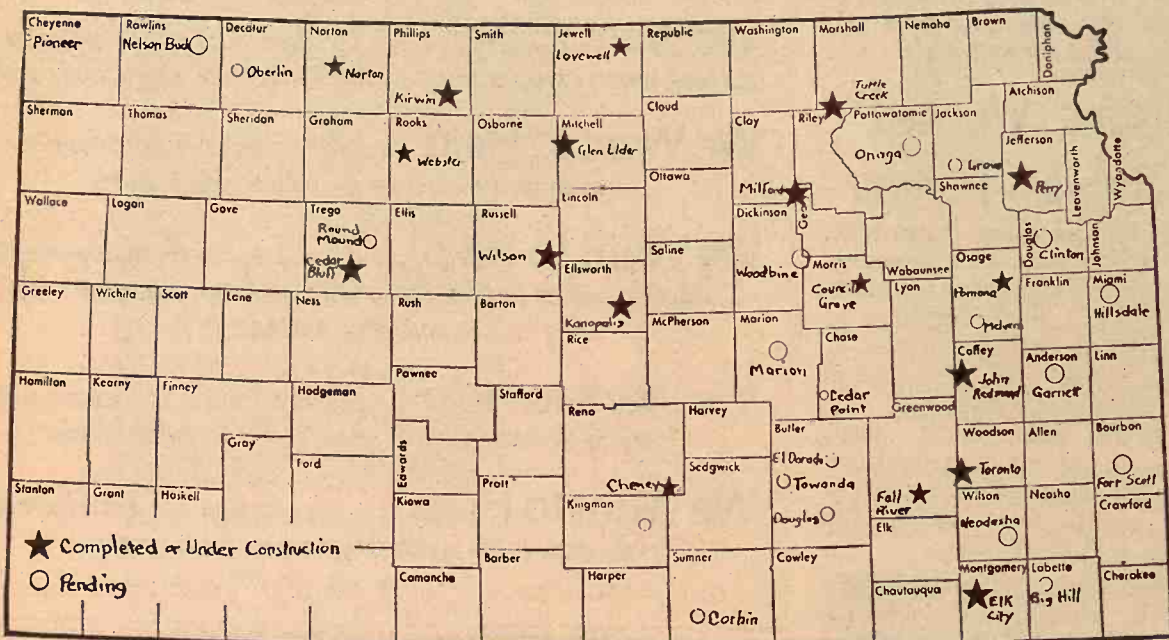

The game commission enters into agreements with federal lake-building organizations like Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation for management of lakeside lands. Some of these lands become wildlife refuges while others may be turned into game habitat for use as public hunting grounds.

On other than navigable waterways, on which the U.S. Coast Guard has jurisdiction, the enforcement of boating laws is a responsibility of Kansas game protectors. Kansas has no navigable waterways other than where the Missouri River touches Kansas soil.

The park authority has jurisdiction over reservoir lands which are developed as state parks. Seventeen Kansas lakes feature state parks, three of them at state lake sites. A park may have separate segments of a lake. Tuttle Creek Reservoir, north of Manhattan, has four such individual park segments for a top country including River Pond, Spillway, Fancy Creek and Randolph area. In addition to state parks, reservoirs have a portion of lake land retained for use as federal recreation areas. Both state and federal sites are developed.

Eastern Kansas lakes seem to have prospered while western Kansas lakes, due to lack of rain, have had water level problems. Few big impoundments in western Kansas generally have been constructed by the Bureau of Reclamation with irrigation in mind. Unfortunately, the scarce impounded waters at lakes like park segments for a long time, including River Pond, Fancy Creek and Hamilton. In addition to state parks, land retained for use as recreation areas. Both federal sites are developing. Eastern Kansas lakes have prospered while Kansas lakes, due to lack of water level, have few big impoundments. Kansas generally have constructed by the Reclamation with irrigation. Unfortunately, the impounded waters at the Webster Dam site, west of Stockton, where water level is about 28 feet below conservation pool, makes both irrigation and recreation difficult to obtain.

Western Kansas reservoirs, with the exception of Norton Reservoir, are among the oldest of the big impoundments. Lovewell, an early impoundment near Mankato, Glen Elder, another recent reservoir in the Beloit area, and Wilson Reservoir, a large, recent lake project northeast of Russell, are located in the north central portion of the state and not affected by lack of rainfall. Most reservoir construction has been in the eastern half of the state.

Completed reservoirs include: Tuttle Creek, with 16,000 acres of surface water; Perry, the newest and a 12,000-acre lake; Cheney, holding 9,500 acres of water; Milford, tying for largest with Tuttle Creek at 16,000 surface acres; John Redmond, a 9,400-acre lake in the Flint Hills; Wilson, holding 9,000 acres of surface water. Cedar Bluff, a western Kansas lake designed to hold 6,800 acres of surface water; Council Grove, a 2,200-acre lake; Elk City, with 4,400 surface acres; Fall River, an older, east Kansas lake with 2,600 surface acres; Glen Elder, with capacity for 12,500 surface acres when full.

Kanapolis, a 3,550-acre lake with 1,900 acres of public use area; Kirwin, an older, west Kansas lake of 5,000 surface acres; Marion of fairly recent construction with 6,000 surface acres; Lovewell, an older lake with better maintained water level at 3,000 surface acres; Norton, a recent, 2,230-acre lake now about 20 feet low.

Pomona, a beautiful, 4,000-acre lake that compares with Wilsona nd Perry in scenic bankline; Toronto, a 2,800-acre lake which is not considered a top fishing lake but which produced a world record white bass in 1966; and Webster, the lake with most decline from its 3,500-acre designation but which still provides recreation opportunities due to special civic effort.

Under Bureau of Reclamation jurisdiction are Lovewell, Kirwin, Webster, Glen Elder, Cedar Bluff and Cheney reservoirs. The rest are under jurisdiction of either the Kansas City or Tulsa district U.S. engineers. Some cooperation is required between federal agencies since some cost of irrigation lakes is charged to flood control, and there are plans for some flood control lake waters, as at Kanopolis, to be used for irrigation.

Under construction, but with no water impounded, is a Corps project which will result in creation of Melvern Reservoir, located on the Marais des Cygnes River about halfway between existing Pomona and John Redmond reservoirs.

Other proposed reservoirs, usually authorized for study by a Flood Control Act of some prior year, are the El Dorado Lake and Levee, northeast of El Dorado, Towanda, north of Augusta, and Douglass, south of Augusta, all three on the Walnut River or its tributaries; Big Hill, north of Coffeyville; Neodesha, north of Neodesha; Fort Scott, southwest of Fort Scott; Garnett, a fairly large impoundment that would have its southern bank near Garnett; Cedar Point, a smaller lake near Florence; Hillsdale, to be impounded north of Paola; Clinton, one of the larger proposals to be located on the Wakarusa River southwest of Lawrence; Grove and Onaga, both of the Kansas River Basin at varying distances northwest of Topeka; and a system of three small impoundments known as Tomahawk, Indian and Wolf-Coffee lakes below Kansas City, Kan.

State lakes, too, should be counted among the larger impoundments of Kansas. There are 40 of these, named for the county in which they were constructed, and all are primarily recreation lakes. Stocked with game fish by state fisheries personnel, the rules require that boats move at speeds consistent with fishing. No water skiing is allowed. Some of these lakes, too, are plagued with low levels, although a few in arid areas have wells driven to supply them as part of the state project.

Three state lakes are now dry, those in Finney, Hodgeman and Logan counties. When the lakes refill naturally, they will be restocked with fish. The state lake in Nemaha County is refilling after being dry for several years and now is partially stocked with fish.

Washington Co. Fair Highlights Demolition Derby

Already garnering enthusiasm from drivers and fans is the Demolition Derby scheduled for Friday night of the Washington County Fair which lasts from August 3 through August 5.

Appearing for the first time last year, the Derby was the most popular attraction of all.

With adequate seating provided this year, President Paul Smith anticipates an excellent turnout.

"We feel that we have our dirt problems settled, too," he says.

Visibility will be good, Smith advises. "Most of the drivers who participated last year are indicating a desire to return."

Paul Smith also concurs with the idea that no one has more fun at a Demolition Derby than the drivers.

Returning from last year, he lists Chicken Smith, Speed Wilson, Champeen Long, Wreckless Nabors, Adventurous Adams, Salvage Eaton, We-Try-Harder Schuessler and Lasting Lehman.

Smith asks that "anyone who has an auto which has ten minutes of life left, let us know."

For the fans who attend Washington County Fair, the Demolition Derby Friday night begins at 8 o'clock and promises a lot of action.

All this Friday night at Washington County Fair August 3-4-5.

Pesticide School August 7-11 In Concordia

A pesticide workshop to enable personnel to pass the state requirement test to become a commercial applicator of pesticides will be conducted by Cloud County Community College and the Cloud County Extension Service the evenings of Aug. 7-11 in the Lecture Hall of the College at Concordia.

These classes will be valuable to anyone handling or applying pesticides. Sessions will be in operation from 7:30-9:30 with certificates to be awarded to those who attend all five meetings.

Tuition is $5 regardless of the number of sessions attended. Applicants should notify Lee Doyen of the Cloud County Community College Agri-Business Department of their intention to participate in this workshop.

Milford Lake Directors Vote For Name Change

JUNCTION CITY—The board of directors of the Milford Lake association has voted to try to change the name of Milford lake to Eisenhower lake in honor of the late President.

The board voted to send a resolution to all Kansas representatives and senators requesting they ask Congress to rename the lake.

Members said the move was in response to rumors of an attempt to change the name of Tuttle Creek lake near Manhattan to Eisenhower lake.

With Milford lake nearer Abilene and the Eisenhower center, directors believe Milford lake should get first consideration.

The lake would be named for Eisenhower, but the dam would keep the name of Milford.

The name change has been rejected before because of the expense of promoting the lake under a new name.

farms increased only 1.7 per cent last year, the smallest gain since 1967.

Further, according to a report by the Economic Research Service, nearly all the increase can be traced to middleman expenses and not prices farmers received.

Officials emphasized, however, that the averages were for a "market basket" of food items and deal with all of 1971, which included sharp rises for some products and declines for others.

Market basket items exclude fish and other ocean products, and imported food such as cheese, hams, beef and the like.

Last year's rise of 1.7 per cent compares with a gain of 4.0 in 1970; 5.1 in 1969; and 3.5 in 1968. In 1967 the average market basket price declined 1.0 per cent.

The report, which had been released at a House Appropriations Committee hearing earlier, showed the 1971 market basket — theoretically enough to feed a family for a year — cost a record high of $1,244, up from $1,223 in 1970.

Of that, according to ERA analysts, farmers received an equivalent value of $477 compared with $476 in 1970. The farm-retail or middleman spread last year as $767 or up $20 from 1970.

Consequently, according to the report, farmers in 1971 received 38 cents for each dollar housewives spent on food, compared with 39 in 1970.

The report said the slower rate of market-basket price gain last year was attributed to lower prices for eggs and pork. Most other items increased, the report said.

ANGUS WINNER

Janet Stoda, Mt. Ayr Go-Getter 4-H Club, walked away with the Central Kansas Free Fair Champion Angus steer last year. The competition was tough then and will be again this year because the Central Kansas Fair boasts the most livestock entries of any free fair in Kansas. Experience with her beef project should give Janet an edge at the fair Aug. 21-25, in Abilene.

FINISHED PRODUCT

Janice Heikes, Riley, is a member of the Leonardville Hustlers 4-H Club and she has been sewing up a storm especially in the last few days with the Riley County Fair just around the corner, Aug. 7-11. Janice collared her brother, Keith, for a fitting of the new bush jacket and pants she made him. She is wearing a double breasted coat with a double knit dress she made for herself. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Heikes.

GARDEN JUNGLE

Lane Springer, Manhattan, looks like he's surrounded by tomato plants. This garden is one of his 4-H projects, and he's a member of the Strong 4-H Club. "The trouble with this garden is my watermelons aren't ripe yet," Lane says. He won a blue ribbon at the spring garden show with a cabbage and hopes the Riley County Fair Aug. 7-11 will produce a champion ribbon, too.

THREE BIG WINNERS?

Jay Chaffee, who lives just north of Wakefield, hopes one of these three will win a grand champion placing during the Clay County Free Fair, Aug. 28-30, Clay Center. Jay figures the hardest part about a hog project is keeping the darn things clean. He is a member of the Grant-Go-Getters.

of the Leonardville Hustlers 4-H team especially in the last few days and the corner, Aug. 7-11. Jane is wearing the new bush jacket and a double breasted coat with a belt. The parents are Mr. and Mrs.

ANOTHER HORSE LOVER

This Appaloosa is the main reason Gail Wolken, Filley, Nebr., is in 4-H. Gail has been in 4-H two years and is a member of the Filley Top Notchers. This three year-old will find competition though at the Beatrice Fair Aug. 7-11 because there are over 150 4-H'ers enrolled in the horse project in Gage County, Nebr.

MAKING PICKLES

4-H may have helped Pam Germann, Clifton, with her food preservation project but old family recipes and lots of practice were major factors, too. Pam is a member of the Mulberry Busy Bees and will take her finished product to the Clay County Free Fair, Aug. 28-30, in Clay Center.

WINNING RABBIT

This rabbit won a grand champion ribbon for Jimmy Kirn, a member of the Solomon Wranglers at the Central Kansas Free Fair last year. The question is can Jimmy come up with another winner this year. He will get his chance to find out at the Fair scheduled Aug. 21-25 in Abilene.

EXERCISING THE SHEEP

These boards nailed to posts about two feet off the ground keep these sheep hopping all the time. Denise Rask and Jennifer Duncan, right, hope this exercising will keep their sheep from gaining too much before the Riley County Fair Aug. 7-11, in Manhattan. The jumping should also keep the sheep firm so when the judge feels the backs they won't give to pressure. The motivation to keep them jumping over the railing is their water is on one side of the pen and the feed is on the opposite side.

Facts can not be disputed

AND THESE ARE FACTS:

A recent survey shows that banks are still, as they have always been, the first line of credit to farmers. Over 70 percent of the money borrowed by farmers for all uses — to buy land, to purchase livestock or machinery, to pay debts, to pay farm and family expenses, to provide working capital — was from your local commercial bank.

4-H BLASTS OFF WITH ROCKETRY PROJECT

Todd Nighswonger, Manhattan, has quite a collection of rockets and plans to enter several in the Riley County Fair, Aug. 7-11. This is the first year for the rocket project in Riley County and there are only six people enrolled in it. Fortunately prospects of more people enrolling are good says county agent Dennis Droge. Todd is a member of the Strong 4-H Club and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nighswonger.

Egg Production Hits Low Point

Kansas poultry flocks produced 61 million eggs during June, down 5 percent from June 1971 and the lowest for the month in 47 years of record, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The rate of lay during June averaged 1,992 eggs per 100 layers, compared with 1,893 a year ago. There were 3,064,000 hens and pullets of laying age on Kansas farms during June, 9 percent less than a year ago.

The Nation's laying flock produced 5,794 million eggs during June, 2 percent less than in June 1971. Layers on hand during June averaged 305.1 million, 3 percent below a year earlier. The average rate of lay during the month was 1,899 eggs per 100 layers, up 1 percent from a year earlier and partially offset the fewer layers.

Commercial hatcheries in Kansas hatched 682,000 chicks during June, down 4 percent from a year ago, but otherwise the largest hatch for the month since 1963. Egg-type chicks hatched during June totaled 660,000, up 16 percent from last year. June broiler-type chicks hatch was 22,000, compared with 136,000 a year ago. Prices received for chicks by commercial hatcheries on June 1 were $43.00 per 100 for hybrid, egg-type pullet chicks; $36.00 per 100 for pure and cross breed pullets; and $19.00 per 100 for broiler-type, straight-run chicks.

Hatcheries in the United States produced 329 million chicks during June, a decrease of less than 1 percent from last year. Production of broiler-type chicks during June totaled 286 million, an increase of 2 percent from the 280 million hatched a year earlier. The number of broiler-type eggs in incubators July 1 at 227 million was only slightly more than a year earlier. Egg-type chicks hatched during June totaled 43.3 million, down 12 percent from the 49.3 million produced during June 1971. Egg-type chicks in incubators on July 1 were down 9 percent from year earlier.

Kansas, Missouri Dump Elimination Falling Behind

Kansas and Missouri lag in eliminating dumps, the Environmental Protection Agency

August 1, 1972

(EPA) reports.

Nationally 1,666 dumps have been eliminated during a 20-month period, William D. Rickelshaus, EPA administrator, said Wednesday. Only 13 of 438 dumps in Missouri and six of 497 in Kansas have been closed.

The statistics came in a report of a campaign, called Mission 5,000, to help communities eliminate at least 5,000 of the 16,000 disposal sites in the United States.

Solid waste management legislation in Missouri is inadequate, the EPA said. Missouri is to publish a plan for solid waste management soon and the state health division intends to start a training program on solid waste systems.

All Kansas counties are required by state law to prepare a solid waste management plan by June 30, 1974. Two years after that all processing and disposal facilities will be licensed by the state.

EPA Says Nebraska Cattlemen Must Comply With Feedlot Waste Control

Nebraska livestock men and farm organizations were advised on July 10 that the two year extension for completion of feedlot waste controls was not acceptable to the federal agency. This word came from the regional administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. Earlier, the Nebraska Environmental Control Council had proposed extending the deadline from December 31, 1972 to December 31, 1974.

The Environmental Protection Agency representatives were aware that all livestock operators would not be able to install facilities by the December 31, 1972 deadline. However, they were firm in their decision not to extend the deadline.

With the adoption of new rules and regulations by the Nebraska ECC, we have moved from a voluntary to a regulatory type of program. The new rules state that the livestock operator shall not discharge wastes so as to result violation of the Nebraska Water Quality Standards. He is also responsible for operating his livestock operation so that it does not create a nuisance or other objectionable conditions. Minor runoff onto a neighbor's property will be permitted if (1) permission is granted by the property owner and (2) if this runoff does not violate the Nebraska Water Quality Standard. The determination of the need for waste control facilities will be made by personnel of the Department of Environmental Control (DEC) who will visit individual livestock operations. DEC is now in the process of mailing letters and inspection request forms to a list of over 2,000 operators, on file with DEC, who do not have controls.

DEC will then start a program of inspection to visit feedlots to determine if waste control facilities are needed. Operators will be notified in advance of these visits. Information is being requested from operators regarding their livestock operations. After response from the operators, DEC will be starting on extensive inspection of livestock feeding operations.

Livestock operators should be alerted to one impact of the EPA decision to retain the December 31, 1972 deadline. If a livestock feeder or dairyman is not contacted by DEC, it is up to the individual livestock feeder to notify DEC by letter prior to December 31, 1972 if he believes he has a pollution problem. In doing so, the livestock feeder will avoid the possibility of being considered in violation of the December 31, 1972 deadline.

In the future, cost-sharing — REAP funds will not be available for the construction of waste control systems unless the DEC determine that the producer needs control facilities. The State ASCS office provided its county offices with further information on the state systems that have been designed but not constructed. Operators will be contacted by their local office to determine the status of facilities that have not been constructed.

Marion Co. Fair August 21-24

Monday, Aug. 21, will kick off Marion County Fair which will run through to Aug. 24.

All exhibits will be brought in Monday noon with 4-H judging in the afternoon. That evening will feature the Marion H. S. Swing Band followed by a tractor pulling contest at 9 P.M.

Judging Day will be on Tuesday with all classes under the eye of critical judges. The evening program will include the Minshall Trio on stage at 9 P.M. and another tractor pulling contest at 9 P.M.

Wednesday will feature a performance at 7 p.m. followed by a performance by the U.S. Army Color Guard Band. An adult Horse Show is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m.

The Fair Affair will wrap up Thursday with 4-H Club activities through the morning and afternoon with the 4-H livestock sale. Following the sale entertainment featuring the Sounds Unlimited will conclude the fair week.

CAN YOU KEEP UP WITH YOUR COMPETITION

IS THE farmer across the fence always a few days ahead of you? That needn't bother you, if he's hurrying for hurrying's sake. You're farming not racing. Racehorse farming usually means the job's getting done . . . but not right!

But what about your real competition . . . the weather . . . the weeds . . . the clock? Wouldn't more power help you get your crops in earlier . . . ahead of those Spring rains? Couldn't you do a better job on weed control if you could get at them before they get a good start? If you're falling behind this kind of competition during the peak work seasons, come in and take a look at the Allis-Chalmers One-Ninety. It's way ahead of its competition.

FALL FORAGE FIELD DAY

A close-up view of new silage harvesting equipment in action is on this year's KSU Fall Forage Field Day agenda August 29 in Manhattan.

Fall Forage Field Day Set. Aug. 29

Interested in seeing grain sorghum response to nitrogen and phosphorus applied with a tillage implement, soybeans that have been treated with an anti-transpirant spray to reduce transpiration, and soybeans being combined with minimum losses?

These are among several demonstrations scheduled as a part of the annual Fall Forage Field Day at Kansas State University Tuesday, August 29.

Starting time is 8:30 a.m., but visitors arriving as late as 10 a.m. may participate in a walking tour of fields, reports Frank Bieberly Extension agronomist at KSU.

In addition to the tour and various field demonstrations, experts from KSU will be stationed in a tent to discuss particular problems with farmers on an individual basis.

Visitors may bring plant specimens for on-the-spot diagnosis. The experts will also identify troublesome weeds brought in by farmers and recommend control measures.

Also on the schedule are a demonstration of silage harvesting equipment in a field of high yielding forage sorghum and a display of various types of new farm equipment.

"We feel this will be one of the better field days," says Bieberly. "We feel the farmers will appreciate the individual attention that we'll give to their particular needs."

General Rains Improve Kansas Crops - Pastures

Recent general rains greatly benefited crops and pastures in the state, the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said.

The report said 47 percent of the state's corn had tasseled by last week considerable behind the 63 percent on that date last year and moderately behind the 1961-70 average of 45 percent.

Corn was entering the dough stage in southern Kansas last week.

Sorghum was heading in some areas, but 6 percent behind last year's pace of 15 percent headed.

The service said soybeans made good progress but remained moderately behind usual development with 15 percent setting pods, compared with 27 percent last year and an average of 19 percent.

Many farmers plowed wheat stubble fields and worked summer fallow as weather and soil conditions permitted, the service said.

The second cutting of alfalfa was nearing completion in most sections of the state with 90 percent out of the field compared with 94 percent last year and an average of 91 percent. The third cutting was 12 percent harvested for the state, compared with 26 percent last year and an average of 19 percent.

The report said pastures were furnishing good to excellent green feed over most of the state last week as recent rainfall boosted growth of range and pasture grasses.

Cattle remained in mostly good to excellent conditions, although flies continued to cause some problems and black disease was reported in western Kansas. The service said movement of cattle to markets was light, but some contracting of calves for fall delivery was underway.

Coffee Drinkers Could Get Bitter Taste On Prices

Coffee drinking is going to become more expensive, maybe even before that open can in the pantry is spooned out.

Blame it on a frost in Brazil, and the simple fact that consumers are drinking coffee faster than farmers are growing it.

Wholesale prices already are moving up. The Maxwell House division of General Foods Corp. said it is raising its wholesale price for ground coffee by seven cents a pound. The unit's wholesale price for instant coffee is being raised one cent an ounce. Both moves are effective now.

Other producers said they are studying the boosts and some have indicated they will be following soon. As a result, coffee prices in retail stores are certain to be lifted before long.

Prices actually have been on the rise all summer. In early June, major roasters boosted wholesale prices two cents a pound in the East and five cents in the West, to bring prices there in line with the rest of the country.

Maxwell House, in announcing its latest raise, said the average price of green coffee beans had risen more than eight cents a pound in the last month and a half.

But it is the frost in Brazil during the first week in July that really has sent prices sky-rocketing.

That frost didn't hurt the current 1972-73 crop. Most of this coffee had already matured to the bean stage and it escaped the cold's damage. Some of these beans already are being picked.

Severely damaged, though, were flowers growing on these same trees that ultimately were to develop into the coffee berries and then the coffee beans of the 1973-74 crop year.

According to preliminary estimates, the frost destroyed 30 percent to 40 percent of the 1973-74 crop in the province of Parana, the country's leading producer. Sao Paulo's 1973-74 crop might be cut 3 percent to 4 percent. Such damage is certain to pare 1973-74 production severely below Brazil's expected output from the 1972-73 crop of 24 million bags of 132 pounds each.

Brazilian officials have been quick to move with the weather developments.

The Brazilian Coffee Institute, the government agency that supervises the coffee industry, suspended bean sales July 10 until it had a chance to assess the damage.

Shipments will be resumed for August and September, but the going price for green beans will be raised 10 cents a pound. The institute's price for soluble coffee also was lifted 10 cents a pound, to a minimum of $1.03. All contracts calling for July shipments were abruptly canceled.

The higher asking prices in Brazil were quickly reflected in New York. Brazilian coffee beans that had been quoted in New York earlier this month at 48 cents a pound were quoted Friday a "nominal" 55 cents a pound. Beans from Columbia that cost 55 cents a pound some weeks ago were going for about 63 1/4 cents.

Under the U.S. price control program, green coffee is classed as a "volatile raw material" so roasters can pass along their higher bean prices so long as they don't increase profit margins as a percentage of sales.

Even before the Brazilian frost, pressure had been mounting on coffee prices. According to the U.S. Agriculture Department, world production for the export market rose to about 52.5 million bags in the year ended last June 30 from 40 million bags the year before. Exportable production before the frost was expected to rise almost 2 percent further this year, to 53.3 million bags.

But the farm agency estimates demand this year 53 million million bags and the frost-cutting output is certain to fall below level. That would mean production would fall below demand for sixth consecutive year.

Because of the lagging production world coffee reserves have shrunk to about 30 million to 35 million bags from 80 million bags back in 1960. Brazil has the largest share of the much of this store is considered unsuitable for commercial export. For coffee drinkers, the bitter aftertaste of the tight supply almost certainly be higher prices the weeks, and months ahead.

The CO-OP Mineral Program has been revised and reformulated.

Before the change
it was the best available.
Now it's better.

Researchers have discovered that proper calcium: phosphorus levels are vital to livestock. The wrong ratio slows gain, reduces feed efficiency and can even cause disease.

Farmland has reformulated CO-OP Minerals to provide calcium: phosphorus levels that assure fast gains and excellent feed efficiency in any and all feeding operations—cattle, swine or sheep. The new levels guide your livestock to the upper limits of their bred-in ability to gain fast and efficiently. They help get livestock to market fast, healthy and heavy... heavy on the profit side.

Choose one of the six new CO-OP Mineral Concentrates. Your Co-op feed man can help you determine which Concentrate has the calcium: phosphorus level and the additives best for your operation. Available in block or loose form. Only at your Co-op.

through June 30, 1972.

Last year Perry recorded 2.5 million visitors, almost a half-million more than Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone drew 2.1 million visitors last year.

Of the 11 reservoirs, eight have shown increases. Perry had 1.4 million visitors through June 30, 1971.

Tuttle Creek Reservoir recorded 689,463 visitors last year through June 30. This year the figure is 666,300.

Milford Reservoir is up 278,299 over the same period last year while John Redmond Reservoir climbed 216,000.

Park managers and other lake officials said bad weather last year cut attendance. An official said, "It was cold through April last year."

Other officials said Wichita's unemployment situation last year caused a dropoff.

A spokesman at John Redmond said the lake has been at flood stage most of the time and this is really the first time it has been at regular power pool.

L. E. Brown, Milford Park manager, said "We'll hit about 1.2 million by the end of this month."

Brown said last year's drop was due primarily to bad weather in April and May. He said Perry Reservoir's attractions also cut into the attendance figure.

This year's attendance is running approximately 6 per cent ahead of the 1970 figure.

Kenneth Roberts, clerk for the U.S. Corps of Engineers at Pomona Reservoir, said the reservoir had 648,000 visitors through programs, including free movies and more trash pickups.

Attendance at Tuttle Creek Reservoir is running about 5 per cent behind last year's figures, James Johnston, park manager, said.

Johnson believes the necessity of having state park permits is one reason attendance is down.

"I'm not saying that the state parks are running people away," he said. "I just think some sight-seers who would have eventually used our facilities are not coming into the state parks because they don't want to buy permits."

The permits are $5 a year or a $1 a visit.

As of the end of June attendance at Perry Lake was running about 270,000 behind last year's figure.

U.S. Corps of Engineer officials attributed the decrease to the "newness of the lake wearing off," a decline in the interest in camping and improvements in methods of counting visitors.

"They've put the counters further in so we're not getting as many repeaters as last year," an official said. "But there is still quite a dropoff in attendance."

Burning Wheat Stubble Unwise Agronomist Says

By Earl J. Bondy
Conservation Agronomist

When our pioneer ancestors on the Western plains saw a rising column of smoke, it usually meant an Indian smoke signal, and possibly an Indian attack.

Smoke signals have been rising again in recent days from burning wheat stubble. Many folks are just as disturbed today as their forbears were a century ago. The general public is becoming more conscious of air pollution and loss of soil fertility.

The ground observer sees an occasional, highly visible column of smoke. But these columns, when viewed from an airplane, add up to a grey shroud that almost matches the pal' hanging over Detroit or Chicago.

In this age of awakening environmental concern, most Kansas farmers and ranchers can be proud of what they have done to conserve natural resources over a period of many years.

But some wheat growers seem to have a mental block — an irresistible "burning desire" to "see red" whenever they see a heavy amount of stubble and straw following harvest.

Why do some farmers return to the out-moded practice of burning their wheat straw and stubble? Apparently they like to see a clean field or they think seedbed preparation and weed control is easier, or that this is the only way to overcome a possible nitrogen deficiency.

Burning, however, has little effect upon weed control. Late planting is much more effective. So is crop rotation if that is in the scheme of things.

Furthermore, burning destroys valuable organic matter and exposes the soil to gully-forming rains and high winds. Adding nitrogen fertilizer to the soil, according to soil test, is recommended.

Heavy stubble is hard to plow under — and this practice also exposes the soil surface to wind and water erosion.

What then?

Stubble mulching is the preferred conservation practice for handling these crop residues. Stubble mulching is a year-round system of managing crop residues. Harvesting, seedbed preparation, planting, and cultivating are done so as to leave protective amounts of residue from the previous crop on the soil surface until after the next crop is seeded.

Fewer tillage operations also save money and maintain crop residue on the surface. The right kind of equipment, properly adjusted, makes it easy to prepare a seedbed and leave enough surface residue.

When sweeps 30 or more inches wide, blades, or rod weeders are used to work the soil, most of the stubble remains evenly distributed and anchored on the surface. Each time these machines go over the field they destroy about 10 percent of the stubble. A one-way plow or disk destroys an average of 50 percent of the stubble. A chisel destroys about 20 percent of the residue each time it's used.

Seeding in stubble mulch is not difficult with a semideep or deep furrow drill. A semideep furrow drill, with 16-inch discs and 10-inch spacing, can easily work through the residue.

The following amounts of small grain residue are needed per acre: 1,500 to 2,000 pounds on sandy soils; 1,000 to 1,500 pounds on medium textured soils; and 500 to 1,000 pounds on hardland soils. Double or more of these amounts of sorghum or corn residues will be needed.

Stubble mulching, like any other conservation practice, has its problems. Most of these have resulted from trying to do the job without using the right kind of machinery or without having it properly adjusted.

Meteorologists Try To Pull Teeth Out Of Hail Alley

GROVER, Colo. — The pattern seems always the same this time of year in the high plains east of the Rocky Mountains. Mornings break with a cloudless blue sky and the humidity a little high. The hot sun beats down. By midday, the moisture has begun to gather in puffy cumulus clouds over the eastern face of the Rockies. The wetness comes from the Gulf of Mexico, riding southeast winds up the front face of the mountains. Heat rises from the treeless deserts and prairies, lifting the moisture. Small clouds billow up, are caught by the high westerly winds coming over the Rockies and they sail out over the plains. The bigger clouds, boiling inside, can reach 40,000 feet and beyond, where the wind shears off their tops in a flattened anvil shape. That anvil-shaped cloud is a danger sign — a sign that you are in hail country. Meteorologists call it "hail alley." It is an area stretching through four states from Wyoming southeast to the Colorado-Nebraska-Kansas border.

Records over the last 40 years indicate more hail falls in this section than in any other spot in the United States. There are between 15 and 20 storms a year on the average, coming mostly in the three-month period from May through July. In one area near Sterling, Colo., 19 days of hail were recorded between May 15 and July 15.

Now, outside this fading wheat farming town, a major scientific effort is under way to pull the teeth of hail storms, which causes some $300 million in damages to agriculture in the U.S. each year, shredding broad-leafed plants and flattening the wheat.

The plan is to see if hailstorms can be seeded to death with the rain-makers' favorite tool: silver iodide. Grover (population 133) sits modestly in the worst section of Hail Alley. It is a cluster of wooden houses and dusty streets with no particular business section.

It is 45 miles west of the abrupt eastern face of the Rockies and the Wyoming border is about eight miles north.

But many farmers don't put much faith in machines or scientists or even in the hail insurance they can buy to protect their crops.

Among the visitors who have moved into the area are Dr. Urig S. Seduno, of the Soviet Union, Prof. Krzysztof Haman, of the University of Warsaw, and Dr. F. A. Berson from Australia.

On a hill north of Grover, the scientists wait for clouds. Their experiment is funded by the National Science Foundation and directed by the National Center for Atmospheric Research of Boulder, Colo.

It is expected to run five years and cost $15 million, and the scientists feel it may be worth every cent. The Russians they say, claim to have 85 per cent success in hail suppression experiments.

According to William C. Swinbank, director of the program, two goals are to study how hail storms are formed and to test the suitability of using cloud seeding to reduce agricultural losses.

Woman Crop Duster Back In Air After Plane Crash

CLIFTON — Mrs. Mary Lee Eiler, Salina, was black and blue last Thursday, but back to her aerial crop-dusting work.

She suffered scratches and bruises the afternoon before when the engine of her crop-dusting plane failed and it dropped about 8 feet to the ground. The mishap occurred on the Earl Kisby farm about 7 miles northeast of Clifton.

Mrs. Eiler, a pilot for 24 years, operated the airport at the west edge of Bennington for several years before moving to Salina 4 years ago. The accident was the first for Mrs. Eiler. It occurred as she had completed a run over a field and pulled the plane over a line of trees. The engine stalled and she was attempting to land in a wheat field when she hit a dead air space and the plane dropped suddenly to the ground.

Guaranteed for 100 YEARS against damage by FALLING METEORITES?

MORTON BUILDINGS ARE BACKED BY THE STRONGEST WARRANTY IN WRITING EVER OFFERED ON A FARM BUILDING!

Morton Buildings are not guaranteed against damage by falling meteorites: such a warranty would be worthless, if not downright ludicrous. But, Morton does offer the strongest warranty ever offered on a farm building! In 1967, Morton Buildings, Inc. introduced a written warranty to guarantee owners of Morton Buildings protection against roof leaks, paint peeling or fading, failure of the square posts due to decay or insect attack, and structural damage by wind or snow loads. The first test of the warranty came the following year when a tornado destroyed two buildings covered by the warranty. We promptly replaced them at no cost to the owners. We feel we offer the finest buildings on the market today; however, we don't claim that every one is completely perfect, but we do take care of any problems that may occur according to our written warranty. Word of how we take care of buildings covered by our warranty spread fast. We believe it is one of the principle reasons why Morton Buildings has pulled so far ahead of other builders. Other builders have been reluctant to give written warranties. (They know better than anyone else how well their buildings stand up over the years.) But the competitive situation has forced some to come out with some kind of a written warranty. None have offered as strong a warranty as offered by Morton Buildings — even though they try to leave this impression. Since a building is a major investment, we urge you to check the warranty thoroughly. Ask these questions: Is it in writing? If not, ask yourself why a firm would make claims verbally but refuse to put them in writing? How could you prove ten years from now, what was said verbally today? Who stands behind the warranty? Does the builder have sufficient financial strength and will he still be in business 10 years from now? If the builder is merely passing on a warranty given him by one of his material suppliers, could you identify this supplier, know where to contact him and prove it was his product? What is covered by the warranty? If the roof leaks because the nail holes enlarge due to expansion and contraction, will it do you any good to have a warranty which covers only "roof leaks due to corrosion"? In case of trouble, what will the remedy be? Does the warranty offer replacement of material only, and not the full cost of on-the-job replacement labor? Does the warranty contain a "proportional refund" clause that pays only a portion of the cost pro-rated according to the number of years the building has been used? We would like to send you our free brochure telling why we are able to provide the strongest warranty ever offered on a farm building. Fill out the coupon and mail today to the nearest dealer listed below.

This Shorthorn steer was part of Mary Ann Talkington's 4-H project last year. She is a member of the Lucky 13 4-H Club and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. June Talkington, Matfield Green. This year she will compete in the Chase County Fair Aug. 15-17, Cottonwood Falls, with another steer.

Calf Scramble Set For Harvey County Fair

The Newton Jaycees will sponsor a calf scramble for 4-H members during the Harvey County Town and Country Fair, August 14-18, Newton. Ron Gatz is chairman of the committee in charge of the event scheduled to be a part of the Jaycees rodeo Aug. 14 that is part of the fair program. Other committee members are Dr. Jim Dicken and Vern Koch.

The scramble will be for 4-H members between 12 and 16 years old.

"The project has 3 objectives," Gatz said. "They are to give 4-H members a chance to learn responsibility, leadership and a sense of value and understanding in financial affairs; to bring about a closer relationship between the rural and town people of the county; and to improve the quality and participation in the 4-H market steer program." Here's how the program will work:

The participant will try to catch a rodeo steer calf and the successful ones will receive a steer for their project about Nov. 1. Ten steers will be in the program.

After receiving the calf the winner will work with the sponsoring merchant in financing the calf at a local bank. The member will care for and train the steer that will be shown in next year's 4-H division of the fair. The scramble steers will be shown with regular steer projects and in a special scramble steer class.

Special awards will be presented for the rate of gain, show and record keeping winners.

The participants must keep complete and accurate records, Gatz said. He said the scramble steers will be sold in the 4-H livestock auction at the close of the fair.

Engine Show, Threshing Bee In McLouth Aug. 4-6

McLOUTH — The fifteenth annual antique Engine Show and Threshing

CHAMPION STOCK

Bill Talkington had a very good year last year because his steer pictured here was selected as Grand Champion Polled Hereford at the Wichita Fat Stock Show. Bill will have to go some this year to match that achievement and he will have that chance at the Chase County Fair Aug. 15-17 in Cottonwood Falls. He is a member of the Lucky 13 4-H Club and the son of Mr. and Mrs. June Talkington, Matfield Green.

Bee is set for August 4-6 in McLouth. There will be a parade daily with action in all corners.

Old Time Threshers' meals will be served all three days. Friday will feature the Peru College Players for a "Country Ruckus" at 8 p.m. The horseshoe pitching tournament will start Friday with finals on Saturday and Sunday.

More action is set for Saturday and Sunday with steam engine tractor plowing, the Shawnee County Mounted Posse and lumber sawing daily. Saturday evening Kansas Old-Time Fiddlers and Pickers will furnish plenty of country music and the Dave C. Five will entertain those not party to country western music.

Sunday will feature church services at 10 a.m. with a tractor pull and the class A horseshoe pitching and all the other activities that afternoon. All in all, nobody McLouth is going to have any time sit around Aug. 4-6.

Pilot Program To Test Iron Shot For Hunting

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A pilot program using iron shot as a substitute for lead shot in the hunting of waterfowl will be implemented at selected federal hunting areas this fall, according to an announcement by Secretary of Interior Rogers Morton.

The federal hunting areas where the tests will be conducted have not been announced, and the Kansas Forestry, Fish and Game Commission has not received word of any of the state's federal hunting areas which will participate.

The Department of Interior claims three to four per cent of the population of North American waterfowl dies each year from lead poisoning, due to waterfowl accidentally feeding on spent lead shot.

It is assumed by Commission officials the pilot iron shot program will involve federal officials selling iron shot at the selected hunting areas. Only 12 gauge shot shells will be available. No other ammunition will be allowed at these areas. It is possible only certain days of the season will be affected.

If this fall's program is successful, the pilot effort will be expanded for the following season and iron shot may be mandatory for all waterfowl hunting by 1974, according to Secretary Morton.

The Forestry, Fish and Game Commission will announce any part Kansas might play in the nationwide test as soon as word is received from the Department of Interior which sets the hunting regulations for migratory waterfowl.

1973 Wheat Program Released

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced the 1973 wheat program July 17 in Washington, D. C. It is basically the same as the 1972 program.

Wheat producer leaders and wheat state congressmen have been working to get the program out so farmers could have the details at the earliest possible date. Says Kansas Congressman Keith Sebelius, "Like a balky mule, officials in the Office of Management and Budget blinked at the price tag, but finally moved so that the USDA could release the complete program details."

The two major changes in the 1973 program are:

1. Farmers who participate in the voluntary option may set aside acreage up to 150 per cent of their domestic wheat allotment in addition to the required set aside, as compared to 75 percent in the 1972 program, and

2. The payment rate for the additional, voluntary set aside will be 88 cents per bushel times the established yield times the set aside acreage, as compared to the 94 cents per bushel payment under the 1972 program. The program is targeted for additional diversion of about 10 million acres.

The main objective of these two changes, according to USDA, is to hold down the increasing stocks of wheat, because the current supply carryover from last crop year is put at about 900 million bushels.

Other major provisions of the program look like this:

- Wheat set aside required is 86 per cent of the domestic allotment, the maximum provided by law, in order to participate in the wheat program. This percentage is intended to result in diversion of no more than 15 million acres.

- The loan rate for 1973 remains at the same level as last year, a national average of $1.25 per bushel.

- Producers taking the additional set aside option are required to limit total wheat acreage plus any additional to 1972 set aside minus the 1973 voluntary set aside acreage.

- Producers will again be allowed to substitute feed grains, including barley and soybeans for wheat to preserve their domestic wheat allotment history.

- Barley will be considered a feed grain for the 1973 program year. A mandatory barley set aside will apply of not less than 25 per cent of a producer's base.

- Sweet sorghum planted on set aside acreage can be grazed except during the five-month growing season.

- Value of wheat certificate payments again to be the difference between 100 per cent of the July 1 1973, parity and the national average market price received by farmers during the first five months of the marketing year.

Announcing the USDA action to members of the National Association of Wheat Growers, Carl F. Schwensen, executive assistant, noted, "An increase in the national average yield from 29.8 to 31.0 bushels per acre caused the allotment to be cranked back to 18.7 million acres this year. The same set-aside was achieved last year with a 19.7 million acre allotment and an 83 per cent set aside."

Congressman Sebelius commented, "We were gratified a voluntary set aside program with specific payment levels included, and that the program details were announced so that winter wheat producers could make program decisions in preparation for fall planting."

Michael L. Hall, administrative officer of Great Plains Wheat Inc., pointed out in that organization's Report from Washington, "The anticipated reduction of acreage planted to wheat under the 1973 program, about 5 million acres more than in 1972, could hold down the size of the 1973 crop year ahead."

Red Circle Auction Brings Back Two Million Red Circles

BROOKVILLE, KAN. — More than two million Gooch Feed points were spent by youngsters here July 15 at the Red Circle Auction at CK Ranch near here on everything from Herefords to sewing machines.

A breakdown shows 2,083,135 points bought 99 head of livestock and 10 sewing machines. Two hundred and fifty young bidders came from seven states — including 39 from Nebraska, 35 from Iowa and 32 from Kansas.

Livestock sold included 15 registered Hereford heifers, 25 Hereford steers, five Shorthorn steers, 19 registered Duroc gilts, 21 registered Hampshire gilts, two Holsten heifers, 10 ewe lambs and two Quarter Horse colts. Stanley Stout of North American Auction Co., Shawnee Mission, cried the sale.

Dennis Nun, Ohiowa, Neb., claimed the first-place achievement award — a $750 scholarship — for his work with a registered gilt. Nun is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Second place and a $300 scholarship went to Randy Fritz, Medicine Lodge, for his work with a Hereford heifer. Fritz and Nun also received plaques.

Cash awards for winning their classes also went to Ward Brown, Selden, and Kenneth Ebert, St. George. Brown's project was a Hereford steers and Ebert won with a lamb.

Debbie and Randy Rogers, Junction City, won the talent contest and $50 with their vocal and guitar duet. Second place and $25 went to Anita Scott and Davy McIntosh, Oak Hill, who sang a duet.

A chuck wagon breakfast preceded the Saturday sale. Guests were welcomed by John Vanier, owner of Gooch Feeds; CK Ranch is operated by his son, Chuck.

Rumors are the unique sale — Red Circle points are distributed throughout the year when customers buy Gooch Feeds — may be discontinued because of Kansas trading stamp laws.

Famed Flint Hills Site For Annual Hereford Tour
The famed Kansas Flint Hills have withstood the cold and ruthless blade of the plow and the ravages of time to remain one of the world's most productive native ranges today. Post Civil War cattlemen "discovered" the beef-making qualities of the Flint Hills, and rarely have they been vacant since. The Kansas Hereford Association, in a tribute to the contribution the Flint Hills and whiteface cattle have made to the state's economy and to the total beef industry, have announced that their annual tour, the "Kansas Hereford Holiday," will be conducted in the southern section of the region, August 3-4.

In making the announcement, Dick Stryker, tour chairman, Redonia, and John Schlickau, secretary of the Kansas Hereford Association, Argonia, said the tour will be conducted over one of the most scenic drives in the state. Tour visitors will have an opportunity to see some of the best Hereford herds in this section of the country. Stryker said, "Everyone is happy about the strong cattle market, and our grass is in excellent condition." The tour will get under way at the Ark Valley Feeders, Arkansas City, at 9:00 A.M., August 3. Others stops the first day will include visits at the Walnut Valley Hereford Ranch, Winfield; Wakefield Ranch, Atlanta; Myers Ranch, El Dorado; Emmet LeFors, El Dorado; and the Flint Hills Hereford Ranch, Eureka. A social hour will conclude the afternoon activities and a dinner, compliments of the Flint Hills Ranch, will be served at 7:30. Stryker's ranch will be the lead-off stop the next morning, getting the second day of the tour started at 8:00. Other tour stops will be Elk Valley Hereford Ranch, Elk City; Garvin Ranch, Sedan; Staats Ranch, Sedan; Radcliff Ranch, Dexter; L-B Ranch, Dexter; and the final stop of the tour will be a visit at the Maurer-Neuer Packing Plant at Arkansas City.

A TIGHT NECK HOLD

Byron Stackley, Matfield Green, is a member of the Lucky 13 4-H Club. He took this market lamb to the Chase County Fair last year, and will be back again this year for the Aug. 15-17 event in Cottonwood Falls. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stackley.

El-Kan Rodeo Starts Ellsworth Fair August 4-11

The El-Kan Western Riders' Annual Rodeo, August 4 and 5, will begin Ellsworth's 1972 Fun, Fair and Rodeo Week, August 4-11.

A parade will heighten the festivities Saturday, August 5 at 4 p.m. Entrants will assemble at the Armory vying for cash prizes in five classes. Information and entry blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office. Categories range from individual to commercial, civic and religious themes in classes of floats, bands, antique cars, bicycle, pets, machinery, horses and color guards.

The rodeo will begin each night at 8 p.m. at the El-Kan Saddle Club Arena. Stock will be provided by Hudson Brothers, Marienthal, Ks. $200 added purse money will enhance the winnings, and ages 6-9 and 9-14 will be vying for $5.00 cash prizes. Some of the contests include bareback and saddle bronc riding, ladies barrel racing, brahma bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping and calf scramble.

An added attraction at the rodeo will be the businessmen calf tying contest, strictly for fun and games. Ellsworth and area businessmen will come out to try their hand at calf tying.

Sunday, August 5, a chicken barbecue is scheduled at the armory. A Chamber of Commerce committee is in charge of preparing the chicken. Advance tickets may be purchased from 4-H clubs, County Extension office and the Chamber of Commerce.

The tractor pull contest is also scheduled Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Saddle Club Arena. Cash and trophy to the first place winner will be awarded and cash prizes also to second and third place entries. Entry blanks are available at the Co-op Service and Huff Jewelry. Albert Vanek or George Huff may be contacted for further information. Thursday and Friday, August 10-11, the 4-H Fair will be an important attraction of the week.

Many events lead up to the annual fair. Beginning Tuesday, August 1, clothing will be judged. Friday, August 4 at 9 p.m. the style revue judging will take place at the Presbyterian Church. Prior to the revue, the Best Groomed Boy Contest will be held at 8 a.m. at the church.

Monday, August 7, the dog show and horse show will be held at the 4-H arena at 7:30 and 8 p.m. respectively.

Preparations for the fair will begin Tuesday, August 8 as all 4-H clubs in the county gather at the 4-H building and city hall to set up booths and individual exhibits. At this time livestock will also be quartered.

Food, and clothing entries will be completed during 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, August 9.

Thursday, Aug. 10, judging for all events will take place beginning at 10 a.m. Following the judging at 11:30 a.m. the food sale will be held in the city hall. At 8 p.m. the public style revue is scheduled for the basement of the Presbyterian church.

Beef livestock judging will be held at 9 a.m. Friday, August 11. At 7 p.m. that night, the championship fitting and showing, followed by the parade of champions, will take place.

A new event, the public beef carcass contest, is slated this year. The public is invited to evaluate live carcasses and estimate them on a five point system. Cash prizes are to be awarded. Following this event, the livestock sale will begin.

And of course to wind up a week of fun will come one day of hard work, culminating the hard work throughout the year, the 4-H'ers put into their projects — cleanup day, Saturday, August 12 at 8 a.m.

Grass & Grain

August 1, 1972

District Wheat Shows Scheduled This Month

What quality grain will their wheat make? How will their grain measure up when milled into flour and the flour used in baking bread?

4-H'ers from around Kansas will get those answers when they participate in district 4-H wheat shows at Hutchinson, August 4, and Colby, August 11.

The wheat grown by the 4-H'ers will be judged in two categories: (1) the physical qualities of the grain before being milled; and (2) the quality of the flour and bread that is produced from the grain.

Dale Edelblute, area extension specialist in crops and soils, Kansas State University, from Garden City, will judge the physical grain samples at each show.

Judging of the grain milled into flour and made into bread will be done for the Hutchinson show by John Giertz of the Kansas Milling Company, Wichita, and Tom Roberts, president, Kansas Wheat Improvement Association, Manhattan.

Virgil Adkins, Seaboard Allied Milling Corp., Kansas City, Mo., and Roberts will do the mill-bake judging at Colby.

The physical grain and mill-bake products will be on exhibit during the show day at the Hilton Hotel in Hutchinson and the Community College at Colby.

As a special feature of the shows, 4-H members and adults will be given the opportunity to judge physical grain samples, testing judgements against those of judges, according to Dr. Earl Schoeff, coordinator of the events and extension specialist in formula feeds marketing at the shows.

Other added attractions of the shows will include a welcome to contestants and visitors by Kansas Wheat Queen, Sheri Anderson of Lakin, and a talk by Glenn Busset, State 4-H and leader from KSU.

Two state award winning programs concerning production and utilization also speak at the shows. They are McDaniel, Salina, who will appear at Hutchinson, and John Irving Cracken, who will speak at Colby.

Tours will be made of the Mar-Col Elevator and Research Laboratory and the Betts Baker Hutchinson, and the KSU Agricultural Experiment Station at Colby.

The Colby group will hear a talk by Dr. James Tangeman, president of the Colby Community College. Lunches will be provided at the shows by Hutchinson Board of Dealers and the Northwest Grain and Dealers.

Sponsors for the annual 4-H shows include the Kansas Extension Service of Kansas State University, Kansas Wheat Improvement Association, Kansas Wheat mission, and Kansas Crop would now be history if our postal system was being operat- ed efficiently. One letter re- cently mailed out of Marion was 7 days to Lawrence, Ks. This is a supplement of last week's classified that the U.S. Postal Dept. employees delayed for some reason or other. There definitely should be overnight 24 hr. mail service from Marion Kans. to Manhattan.

But the bigger our govern- ment has become the more bureaucratic & less efficient. Did you note where Dept. of Transportation is going to set up inspection offices operated by federal government to tell people when they are cheated by mechanics? What "people" should do is set up people of- fices so we can tell when we are cheated by federal bureau- cratic government.

3 good used wagon wheels, special, $12.50. John Deere B tractor, don't run, $129. 1 set steel spade lug wheels for H tractor $39. Near new set of 16.9x26 tires, tubes & wheels, fits any combine, $189.

Mr. Dick makes big splash on news, lowers crop insurance age. Real big deal — One young farmer I knew went to ASCS office to see if he could get married.

WD Allis tractor, now being salvaged, engine, transmission & rear end parts.

Eagleton sure got some bad publicity. Maybe he deserved it. But remember in 1952 when ole Ike dam near dropped Dickie as vice because he took $20,000 under the table? But they man- aged to smooth it over. Really what was worse later when ole Ike took $500,000 from 3 rich oil men and the Internally Re- venue boys didn't quite know how to handle it. But they final- ly figured out how to work it in to Ike's farm account. Seems Ike wasn't much of a farmer & was losing lots of money on the farm.

IHC KB-6 truck, 1948 model, long wheelbase, two speed, mo- tor should be OK, has good tires but poor bed with hoist, $449. Set Roll-a-Cones, 13' head, 5 row $545. 4 row set Hesston milo heads $395.

Dick & Pat tryin to get their pandas bred but they don't seem to pay no heed. Seems as though they only breed in their natural habitat. So Dick's send- ing Spiro T back to China with them while breeding. That way Spiro won't be around at con- vention time, so won't make the Vice.

Krause 9 1/2' wheel disc, just like new, $379. Schaefer 14' sealed bearing wheel disc, new 20" blades. Schaefer 10' wheel disc $139.

New Schaefer 14' offset disc. We have sold dozens — there are none better, $1999. New Schaefer 14' wheel disc, 20" blades $1399.

Two used IHC No. 37 wheel discs, choice $399. WD 45 Allis tractor, clean, wide axle trac- tor with near new tires $1049.

Just traded in 1964 Model 830 Case row crop diesel, wide axle, PS, 18.4x34 tires, Eagle hitch, dual hyd.

Nixon been trying to make peace he says for four years now. Possibly we should give up on him & try another politi- cian also full of promises. I still can't believe he ever said like guarantee everyone $6500 per year. Wonder where it would come from except print some more. Really shouldn't be too hard, they already have the presses. A friend recently said our dollars were worth 1 1/2 cents — That's what it costs to print them. Maybe someday we may get a chance to vote on something besides politicians.

IHC four bottom plow, wheel type, good moldboards $139. Case 4-btm Centennial plow hyd. lift, $139. Allis Chalmers roto- baler, just in, ready to bale hay, $495.

the 12th, got to Lawrence, Ks. on the 19th. How about that for fast service?

Just received good used D-19 Allis diesel tractor, 3 pt. hitch, big tires, weights, very clean tractor, $2995. Just received 1964 Model 830 row crop trac- tor, well equipped, price not known.

NFO not supporting either party — Good for them. 9 ft. mower conditioner, No. 816, new low price $595. This unit is in near new condition. 4 rebuilt Allis Roto Balers left, from $875. If you haven't read "Who Really Owns The Country & Runs It" you should. You will realize how little your vote really counts.

Very very very good 900 Case tractor for sale at new low price. One only, $1295. This tractor should be out pulling a 4x16 plow.

Have one new Schaefer 14' offset disc, will take less than $1900 this week.

Too bad about Martha & John leaving the party. She evident- ly said "Come on home John or I will leave you." Many of these do-gooders get to doin' too much good and the wives leave them. That's what hap- pened to Bobby Dole & even Vern Miller. Did seem sorta funny, him living in Topeka alone in his house trailer.

Good used 3 legged windmill tower, could be used for conver- sation piece in your back yard, body only $39, no head.

3 good used wagon wheels $149 each. Good used 1030 Case tractor, must sell one this week, 3 pt. hitch, PTO etc. Has all the extras, priced now only $4750.

931 Case 3 pt. hitch tractor, well equipped, all four tires new. This is a big tractor, pri- ced down to the price of a little tractor, only $4450.

Good WD Allis tractor, near new tires, power steering, $549. Near new Case 5 bottom IH plow, JR Series, $795. Case 133 twine tie baler, works good, $349.

CRITICAL JUDGE

This scene took place at the Wabaunsee County Fair last year. You can count on it to happen again this year during the fair August 9-12 in Alma. The competition is stiff and every 4-H'er holds his breath as the judge inspects his animal. It's all part of the fair season that brings people from all parts of the county for a big get together.
