About 800 Feedlot Permits In By Deadline

More than 800 applications for licenses to operate as commercial feedlots, under control provisions to prevent water pollution, have been received at the offices of the state board of health, officials say.

Vern Heble, chief of the water pollution control section of the board, estimated that the applications received covered about 1,300,000 head of cattle being fed in enclosed feeding facilities.

He estimated that from 400 to 600 applications remain to be filed by lot operators and said the department will start compliance activities as soon as the current applications are processed.

Under an act by the 1967 Legislature, feed lot operators were directed to seek permits from the board of health by January 1, 1968. This deadline, however, was extended by the board to give lot operators and the board additional time to comply with the law. The board had set April 1 as the new deadline.

Under provisions of the law, feeders are deemed in compliance if they file their application for licensing as directed by the board of health. Heble said he expects almost all of the feeders to file their applications during this week.

After the applications are received, they are checked by resident engineers of the board of health and inspections are made of the sites to determine if there is a water pollution hazard.

If it is found there is no apparent danger of stream pollution the lots are licensed. If it appears there is likely to be stream pollution the engineers will direct that corrective measures be taken and will outline procedures, Heble said. After the hazards are corrected the lots will be licensed to operate, he added.

Heble said feeders have been cooperative in correcting defects in their lots and that there have been few complaints about the requirement of filing applications for permits.

He said the board has been receiving from 50 to 60 applications a day and has been unable to keep up with the mail volume.

FORMER VET DOCTOR O. W. SCHWALM DIES

ALMA — A former G&G veterinarian and state senator has died at Topeka. He was Dr. Oscar W. Schwalm, 78. He was a livestock dealer and veterinarian in Paxico from 1914 to 1949 and was state senator in 1941-43.

Area Land Auction Grosses $425,000

One of the largest land sales ever held in the G&G area has grossed $425,000, with the proceeds to go to five charities.

The land, all of it close to Bennington in Ottawa county, totaled 1705 acres, nearly all in cropland and much of it subject to irrigation, averaging close to $250 per acre.

Sale proceeds, along with other funds in the Eunice Nelson estate, will go to the Asbury hospital in Salina; Kansas Children's Service League; Presbyterian Home for the Aged, Newton; College of Emporia; and a $25,000 scholarship fund for graduates of Bennington high school, Evan Carman, Mineopolis attorney, said.

Miss Nelson died in September 1966. She was the last of four children of W. B. Nelson, an immigrant from Norway.

The children were Della, Helen, George, and Eunice. Della was the only one who married but she had no children.

Miss Nelson's grandfather on her mother's side was Dent Nelson, also a Norwegian immigrant. Dent Nelson was a prospector and farmer. He searched for gold and silver in the West and Alaska before settling at Eureka, Kansas, where he is buried.

"Miss Nelson was a quiet and unassuming person," Carman recalls. "She wouldn't have liked all the publicity the sale of her estate is getting."

The land sale certainly earned its publicity, with five of the 12 tracts selling for $200 or more per acre.

The major buyer at the sale was George Frisbie, Gypsum contractor, who bought four tracts of land totaling 541 acres for a gross price of $172,500. Altho this averaged well over $300, Frisbie declared. "This land sale was an exceptional opportunity. It's outstanding land, much of it irrigated. I'm disappointed I couldn't buy more."

Frisbie had been on the selling end during the month too.

An auction of 960 acres of land he owns in Osborne county was held in mid-March, but Frisbie decided not to sell it.

Here's the summary of land sold at the Nelson estate sale:

Tract 1 — 160 acres for $51,250 ($321 per acre) to George Frisbie, Gypsum.

Tract 2 — 80 acres for $26,000 ($325) to George Frisbie, Gypsum.

Tract 3 — 80 acres for $22,350 ($279) to Don E. Montgomery, Gypsum.

Tract 4 — 104 acres for $33,100 ($318) to Willis Darg, Bennington.

Tract 5 — 160 acres for $32,750 ($250) to Maurice McNeil, Manhattan real estate broker.

Tract 6 — 200 acres for $30,900 ($155) to Ernest Hamilton, Bennington.

Tract 7 — 160 acres for $25,600 ($160) to Donald White, Bennington.

Tract 8 — 185 acres for $60,500 ($327) to Frisbie.

Tract 9 — 116 acres for $34,750 ($213) to Frisbie.

Tract 10 — 80 acres for $26,000 ($325) to Doris Berkley, Bennington.

Tract 11 — 160 acres for $43,

100 ($269) to Harvey Markley, Bennington.

Tract 12 — 160 acres for $35,000 ($219) to Ralph Reitz, Salina accountant.

The two tracts which sold for less than $200 per acre were the only ones to contain much grassland. About 60 to 70 acres of the land purchased by Don White, an area Hereford breeder, was in grass, and the Hamilton purchase had 47 acres of meadow. Hamilton had farmed the tract he bought, as had Darg.

Darg was one of the auctioneers for the sale. The other was Bob Perry of Salina.

In addition to the tracts, the former Nelson home in Bennington was sold, to Emmet Winans of Bennington for $3700.

Writer Sylvia Porter Covers Farmers Share Of Food Dollar

The syndicated financial writer Sylvia Porter covered the farmer's share of the market in a column last week, pointing out that for every dollar the consumer spends the farmer gets only 5½ cents of it, only about half as much as he got in 1947.

These are the "brutal facts," said Miss Porter, behind the new round of threats of the National Farmers Organization to withhold key food products from the market in order to force up prices they receive.

The tone of the article gave some comfort to farmers who fear that their side of the cost of groceries doesn't often get a good hearing. Miss Porter's column not only suggested sympathy for the NFO effort but for the establishment of a national agricultural relations board at the federal level to serve U.S. farmers in the same way the National Labor Relations board serves other U.S. workers, or to give farmers a new way to unionize on a national scale.

Miss Porter then gave several examples of what proportion of the food dollar a farmer gets for his product that goes into the final retail item. Here they are:

Organize To Halt Grove Dam

A crash program to halt progress on the proposed Grove Reservoir Dam has been started by people around Silver Lake in western Shawnee county.

The dam site, which was relocated at the confluence of Soldier and Little Soldier creeks, was originally funded for a site on Soldier Creek just upstream from the Jackson-Shawnee county line.

Albert Glotzbach of Silver Lake said that the organization will hire an attorney to handle legal matters and initiate a letter-writing effort.

The reservoir at the new site would control runoff from 260 square miles and provide water storage yielding more than 20 million gallons daily at minimum usage.

Chrysler Market Share Up

Five years ago Chrysler Corporation was producing barely 10 percent of all U.S. cars, and competitors were rather patronizingly wishing it well.

Today, Ford and GM aren't wishing anymore for Chrysler, and they think that the number three carmaker in the country is getting more than its share at 18 percent of the market.

In fact, around Chrysler management there is talk now of getting a 25 percent slice of the car market.

Chrysler hasn't been getting its gain from an overall industry sales increase. Total sales of U.S. made cars have fallen the last two years, so Chrysler is making its gains right where it hurts GM, Ford, and the number four U.S. car producer, Rambler.

Chrysler's surge puzzles many in the car industry. The company has been accused for years of being a couple years behind in styling and many think that Chrysler products are still too bland and boxy.

How, then, have they gained? At the expense of profits, making more cars but making less per car? In years past Chrysler profit margins have generally been behind Ford and GM. Last year Chrysler's net profit was 3.2% of sales. GM's figure was 8.1%. Ford's was less than one percent in 1967 because of its strike, but it netted 5.1% in 1966.

Actually, Chrysler's profit has been rising and Lyn Townsend, board chairman, predicts a wider profit margin as start-up costs of a $1.7 billion expansion program are mostly behind Chrysler now.

Financial publications like the Wall Street Journal have suggested that Ford and GM management think that Chrysler did not fight hard enough against union demands in the last two bargaining rounds.

In 1964, rivals recall the UAW made Chrysler its first negotiating target. Chrysler avoided a strike by settling at the last minute for the biggest wage and benefit boost the union had ever won. GM and Ford had to match, but both were struck for varying periods over other demands.

Last fall the UAW came to Chrysler after striking Ford for two months. Chrysler settled without a company-wide strike, in part by agreeing to bring wages at its Canadian plants up to U.S. levels. Ford did not grant this concession, and GM's Canadian plants have been struck since February 9.

There does appear little doubt that Chrysler dealers have often been able to sell cars because they deliver them, while Ford and GM were slower in delivering.

Whatever the reasons for its gain, the figures are there to indicate that Chrysler has increased its share of the market. The buyer of any product seldom suffers when competition goes up among manufacturers of any commodity he buys.

A small complement of soldiers arrived at Forbes Monday night. An earlier cadre was flown in during February to prepare the post for the transfer.

GREENCHOP: HI-DAN offers excellent greenchop over wide range of maturity. Gives an early, higher protein, silage crop. Greenchop or cut for silage, HI-DAN gives you maximum use for each acre.

SILAGE: HI-DAN is high quality silage. It is also easier to make silage with HI-DAN than most other crops. Harvest at the bloom to hard-dough stage.

THIS YEAR, PROVE IT IN YOUR FIELDS...
WHEN LIVESTOCK HAVE A CHOICE, THEY PREFER

frontier® HI-DAN 35

A new early mid-season sorghum-sudangrass hybrid. Normally 6 feet or more tall, depending on moisture conditions. Leaves are numerous and narrower than leaves of present varieties, tillers freely, and stalk smaller in diameter than present varieties.

When livestock have a choice they prefer HI-DAN 35 because the entire plant is extremely palatable. This year plant HI-DAN 35 and your livestock will prove its superiority. HCN (Prussic acid) potential is lower than any present sorghum-sudangrass hybrids.

Seeds are small and brown, and can be planted in cold soil with little danger of seed rot before emergence, due to bred-in fungicide.

Very vigorous growth, and a good stand is easily obtained. Less seed is required to produce an adequate stand due to smaller seed size.

frontier S-205

Excellent silage for short season, drought areas or for late planting • has produced feed when others failed • grows 6' to 8' with excellent resistance to root lodging and stalk breakage • top quality feed value with good carbohydrates ratio • sweet stalk adds to value as bundle feed and hay.

frontier S-210

Frontier S-210 yields a bumper tonnage of silage or bundle feed • stays sugar-sweet all winter • excellent standability • grows to nine feet tall • large juicy stalks • rich in protein • high sugar content • large yield of white palatable grain • medium-early maturity.

frontier S-209

Frontier S-209 is the most drought-resistant of all large-seeded forage hybrids • resistant to root lodging, stalk breakage, high soil alkalinity • thick, stiff, juicy stalk • high protein and sugar • early maturity.

frontier S-212

Frontier S-212 is a mid-season hybrid • all the best characteristics • tall and leafy • moderately thick, sweet stalk • high in protein • highly resistant to root lodging, chinch bugs, foliage disease, and milo disease.

frontier S-214

is a full-season forage hybrid that gives you everything. Excellent tonnage of highest-quality silage. Very tall, leafy hybrid with extremely large stalks that are sweet and juicy, and can be planted earlier than ordinary hybrids because the bred-in fungicide resists decay in cold soil. Recommended under all moisture conditions except extremely dry areas. Three-year average of over 40 tons per acre under irrigation. Full-season maturity.

CHOOSE FROM 13 FINE VARIETIES OF

frontier® GRAIN SORGHUMS

Ideal For All Areas and Soils...Dryland and Irrigated!

frontier® SUPER 400

Super 400 adapts to a wide range of conditions...and has outstanding yield potential. In areas where head smut is a problem, Super 400 really excels. It has excellent resistance to this widespread disease of sorghums. Super 400's dark, red grain will often average higher in protein content. Has good resistance to root lodging. Offers better standability than many other varieties when stalk breakage is considered. Medium-early maturity. For super results...use Super 400.

frontier® 388

Developed for areas where a hybrid with earlier maturity is desired. Frontier Brand 388 is of medium height, and is well adapted to short-growing season areas. Head is open with good drying characteristics. Seed is hetero yellow type with some increased vitamin A content, and is exceptionally palatable. Has considerably better lodging resistance than most hybrids of the same medium-early to early-maturity range.

frontier® 401

A yellow endosperm variety, adapted for all areas and soils—dryland and irrigation. It has a large open head with palatable grain and excellent head smut resistance. A good root system and medium height give it good standability. Seedling vigor and emergence are excellent. Tests in Frontier's own yield trials and official test plots have shown 401 to have exceptional yield potential. Medium-early maturity.

frontier® 413

The stiff stalk of Frontier 413 insures excellent standability, that grows to consistent height for easy combining. You'll get a tremendous yield from the large head that is well filled with greater-than-average number of medium-sized red seeds. Frontier Brand 413 has tremendous yield potential where the growing season allows a moderately late maturity.

GUARANTEED TO STAND... OR MONEY BACK!

frontier® 410-E

Nearest thing to crop insurance! 410-E gives high yields—excellent standability...even under adverse wind conditions. Has large heads, short thick stalk and strong root system. Medium maturity.

still stands... even after blizzard!

GUARANTEE

Frontier Hybrids, Inc., Scott City, Kansas, agrees to refund the purchase price of the seed for every acre of Frontier Brand 410-E Grain Sorghum that lodges more than ten (10) per cent per individual acre after heading for any reason, except that lodging caused directly by hail, subject to the following conditions:

1. The ten per cent lodging requirement shall apply only to separate individual acres on which lodging occurs, and the acre is the unit upon which the refund shall be based.
2. All claims under this guarantee must be received by Frontier Hybrids, Inc., prior to the last day of December same year as seed was planted.
3. This guarantee is in effect only when the purchaser submits, within a reasonable time after lodging and before harvest, a paid receipt showing the variety purchased and a written claim for refund to the dealer from whom the seed was purchased. Frontier Hybrids, Inc., by its agents, shall have the right to make an inspection of the claimed lodged area before decision on the claim.

GRASSY GRAIN

Maturity varies with season, but it can mature in 65 days. Grassy Grain 1 was produced primarily for areas with short growing seasons but has value as a catch crop when a crop is lost due to hail or other adverse conditions. Grassy Grain 1 will find an important place as a second crop to follow wheat or other crops with an early harvest season.

Popular variety for many years. Essentially same characteristics as 400-C, except less resistance to chlorosis.

Earlier maturity, slightly shorter plant height than 388. Apparently good yield potential.

5 to 10 days earlier maturity than 400-C. Loose head, stiffer stalk, good protein content and yielder.

Maturity varies from slightly less to slightly longer than 400-C depending on climatic conditions. Good protein, dark grain color. Recommended for irrigation only in areas of less than 20 in. rainfall.

A reliable producer year after year. Good resistance to iron chlorosis deficiency and milo disease. Heavy producer under irrigation. The large heads stand well for combining. Medium-early maturity.

Developed for bird resistance. Bitterness prior to maturity discourages bird damage, mature grain is readily acceptable by livestock. Excellent yield potential. Distinctive brown grain with high protein content.

Developed for higher irrigation yields. Maturity similar to 413. Ask your dealer about area adaptation.

HYBRID SEED CORN

frontier® S-ONE-X YELLOW/GRAIN

A new singlecross that offers very high yield potential—10-20% higher than regular hybrid corns. Stalk height is uniform and stalk strength is above average. Ears are long and large. Height of ears is uniform, normally between waist and chest height. Plant population should be limited to 13,000 to 15,000 per acre on most soils. 18,000 to 23,000 under irrigation. Medium maturity with good blight and disease resistance.

frontier® 510-A YELLOW/GRAIN

A medium maturity variety that will produce high yields under adverse conditions. Responds well to irrigation. Recommend from 12,000 plants per acre to not more than 15,000 per acre on most soils. Irrigated planting rates should be 23,000 to 27,000 per acre. A strong tendency to produce two ears at a lower planting rate. They are usually beautifully cylindrical, exceptionally free of disease.

frontier® 410-A YELLOW/GRAIN

Medium early maturing corn with good yield potential. Stalk is stiff and straight with a strong two-eared tendency. Ears are borne about waist high on strong shanks. A very rugged variety that stands thick planting, it is very drought resistant. Maturity considered to be in 105 days. A very good hybrid corn for its maturity class. Suggested high limit plant population, 27,000 per acre.

frontier® SWX WHITE/GRAIN

This singlecross is an excellent yielder with outstanding milling quality. White corn on a white cob. Uniform drying enables earlier harvest. Maturity averages 120 days. Ear height uniform at about 48 inches. Recommended normal rate of planting for best results. Suggested high limit plant population, 25,000 per acre.

frontier® 520-A YELLOW/GRAIN/SILAGE

Will produce good silage tonnage or big grain yield. Ears are borne rather high on a stalk of good quality. Responds extraordinarily to irrigation, matures for grain in about 125 days. Suggested high limit plant population, 27,000 per acre.

frontier® 530-W WHITE/GRAIN

A full season white hybrid. High yield, strong root system, vigorous growth, exceptional drying in the field, allowing earlier harvest. A white cob prevents milling objection. Single eared tendency. Maturity is about 125 days. Suggested high limit plant population, 25,000 per acre under irrigation.

frontier® 550 YELLOW/SILAGE

An ensilage corn of exceptionally high yield of high energy silage. Ear height is variable. Normally one ear per stalk at high population. Stalks withstand lodging and are of good quality. 550 performs well under varied conditions, maturity will vary by location. Has produced outstanding yields of silage and grains. Suggested high limit plant population, 27,000 per acre under irrigation.

Prize winner, Mrs. Albert Bailey, Geneseo: "As spring has arrived I am sending a salad recipe that we like very much. We like the paper very much. I also am very fond of the recipe page and enjoy the different hints and suggested ideas on the Woman's Page."

SPRING SALAD

Dissolve 1 package lemon gelatin in  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup boiling water. Add 1 cup apricot nectar, 1 small can crushed pineapple. Chill until syrupy and fold in 1 cup drained cottage cheese. Chill until firm. Serve on lettuce leaf.

The next recipe is from Mrs. L. Joseph Wedel, Langdon, Mo.;

APRICOT CAKE

1 yellow cake mix
1 box apricot gelatin (peach flavor will work)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup apricot nectar
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup cooking oil
4 eggs
Mix first five ingredients well. Add eggs, one at a time, beat well after each. Bake in greased tube pan one hour at 350 degrees. Let stand five minutes. Remove from pan and glaze while warm with powdered sugar and lemon juice glaze.

Mrs. Karl E. Stock, Oketo: "Here is a recipe you might like for your paper."

PINEAPPLE-CHEESE SALAD

2 packages lemon gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 cup pineapple juice and rest water to make the second cup of water
(Drain juice of crushed pineapple for cup of juice and water).
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup sugar
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup grated yellow cheese
1 cup crushed pineapple
Pinch salt
Can use little salad dressing on top to serve when cut into squares. When gelatin is partially congealed, add 1 package of commercial whip and let set till firm.

Mrs. Oliver E. Wacker, R 1, Lincoln, sent the following recipe:

APPLE CAKE

2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup salad oil
2 eggs
2 teaspoons soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup raisins
1 cup nuts
1 cup apple pie mix
Pour hot water over raisins while getting other ingredients ready. Blend together all ingredients and mix well by hand. Bake in 9x13-inch pan for 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. "This is delicious with a whipped cream topping."

Mrs. Orlando Stewart, Longford, submitted this recipe:

CHERRY SALAD

1 package cherry gelatin
1 package Philadelphia cream

cheese
1 can cherry pie filling
Chopped nuts
Make gelatin using  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups water. Chill until partially thickened. Fold in pie filling, nuts and cheese which has been diced or crumbled.

Points To Remember

When Choosing Carpet

Errors made in buying carpets and rugs can be expensive as well as frustrating.

However, the margin for error can be eliminated with some attention to individual home needs and some easily knowledge of these important on your home furnishings list.

First on the list is color. If you're going to be pleased with your carpet over a number of years, you must be satisfied with its appearance.

It is essential to pick a carpet or style you really like. Perhaps it is not so surprising that more mistakes can be made on the side of timidity than otherwise. Choosing a lively color, an interesting pattern, or a distinctive color-textured design might seem like a big step — but it's far more rewarding that compromise for a non-descript style that does little for other home furnishings.

Second, be honest about traffic requirements. It's not necessary to count footsteps to analyze the amount of wear your carpet will get — but do consider basic rooms' uses. Obviously there is a big difference between the traffic in a guest bedroom and a living room daily.

Don't try to get by with lesser quality than you need. The most expensive carpet may actually be the most economical in the long run, for it will last longer and look better than a cheaper grade.

Third, consider total carpet performance and value. Making a carpet decision on the basis of a single factor usually results in a mistake. You'll avoid both major and minor mistakes by considering a carpet or rug as a furnished product — from the dual standpoint of practicality and beauty — remembering that value depends on performance in relation to price.

The new ONE-SEVENTY features the finest

With all the talk about narrow row cropping and new crops in many areas comes the need to take a fresh look at tractor power to get the job done. The ONE-SEVENTY tractor, with its factory estimated 53 horsepower, could be the main work horse on your operation or the secondary tractor if your operation is king size. The ONE-SEVENTY is powered right. It's designed to help you put every ounce of power to work at the most economical fuel cost, low tire expenses and minimum maintenance.

If you have driven an Allis-Chalmers ONE-NINETY XT or seen one clean up jobs across the fence, you'll recognize many, many XT ideas applied to the ONE-SEVENTY. Every one has been proved in thousands of tractors by operators, by owners, by everyone who knows Tractors from the Tractor People.

Payoff In Large Litter

MANHATTAN — Hog producers hear continually of the importance of increasing litter size to improve profits. But is the careful management necessary to obtain larger litters worth all the efforts?

A Kansas State University Extension economist believes the answer to this question is "yes."

Wilton B. Thomas has made a study of the costs and returns involved.

For example, he found that management return per litter — sale price minus cost — averaged $47 for a six-pig litter, $73 for a seven, $101 for an eight, and $130 for a nine-pig litter.

Thomas calls this difference of $57 a "management premium." For the producer who can average nine pigs in each of 50 litters, the figure is $2,850.

At the other extreme, cost of producing a litter was $17 less for six pigs than for seven. Difference in return was $26. So the "management penalty" for six-pig litters is $1,300 for 50 litters.

Why the difference? Many of the costs — such as feed for the breeding herd and equipment costs — are about the same whether medium-sized or fairly large litters are produced, Thomas explains. So the profit per pig is higher with the larger litters.

A-D-M Buys Abilene Mill

ABILENE — The bankrupt Abilene Flour Mills Co. here has been sold to Archer-Daniels-Midland Milling Co., Minneapolis.

Officials did not reveal the purchase price.

The sale needs approval of several contract clauses by all concerned parties, according to W. O. Brooks, Wichita federal receiver.

The conditions include:

- Ability to consummate a lease — or lease-purchase agreement — for a grain storage terminal adjacent to the mill.

- Reaching an agreement on a new labor union contract.

- Assignment of proper leases on Union Pacific Railroad right-of-way.

The sale must be approved by the Federal District Court, Wichita.

Brooks said that with court approval the sale could be completed by April 15. Company officials have not announced when production would resume.

The sale includes the company's main milling plant, and storage tanks north of it.

A 2,084,000 bushel storage terminal, built in 1959, is not included. However, it will be operated by the new owners. It is owned by 14 former employees of Abilene Flour Mills Co.

An office building also was not included in the sale.

Total grain storage capacity at the mills will be three million bushels, officials said.

The new owners indicated that a small office staff will be employed here, but most bookwork will be done in Minneapolis.

Farm Population Down To 5½% Of U.S. Total

The number of Americans living on farms, continued to decline last year to 10,817,000 about one out of every 18 persons, the Census Bureau has reported.

This estimate is 778,000 lower than the 11,595,000 persons the bureau figures lived on farms in 1966.

The farm population represented about 5½ per cent of the total estimated population last year of 197.4 million.

The survey was based on averages for a 12-month period, centered on April of 1967.

Negroes comprised about 12 per cent of the total farm population and their numbers continued to decline at a faster rate than whites — 10 per cent between 1960 and 1967 compared with 4.5 per cent for whites.

Seek New Political Role

Two Riley countians have announced that they are seeking new political roles.

Charles Arthur, right, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. A former floor leader and speaker in the House, Arthur is 51, has served four terms in the House and one in the Senate. John Conrad, the present House Speaker, is also a candidate for the office, and he and Arthur are expected to be the principal contestants for the Republican nomination.

Shortly after Arthur announced his candidacy, state representative Richard Rogers of Manhattan, left, announced that he would seek the Senate seat from the 15th Senatorial District representing Riley and Geary counties. Rogers is former state chairman of the Republican party.

What's It All About

The Nelson Art Gallery has its first Jackson Pollock painting, a black-and-white work titled, "No. 6." The Friends of Art, a private group which has purchased much art for the Kansas City gallery, paid $45,000 for the painting last week. The picture, done in 1952, had to be purchased by outside funds because the will of William Rockhill Nelson provided that no trust funds be used to buy art by any artist not dead at least 30 years. Pollock died in 1956.

Capacity-matched team for high-volume forage handling

International forage harvesters. Fine-chop up to 80 tons of corn per hour with powerful cutter head action. No horsepower-robbing recutting screens or blowers are needed. The rugged cutter head has nine knives, not the usual six—makes 9,000 sure-cuts per minute. Knives are tungsten-carbide hardened to stay sharp longer, resist breakage. Resharpen them on the built-in knife sharpener. The 550 handles up to 80 tons of corn per hour, the 350, 40 tons per hour. Choose your International crop unit: a cutter bar, windrow pick-up or one-row or two-row corn heads for wide or narrow rows.

International power forage feeders. The 51 deluxe unit (240 bushels) has an all-steel sub-frame, unloads front or rear in less than two minutes with rubberized or chain cross conveyor. Standard 51 unit has penta-treated wood sub-frame; 320 bushel model 61 is ideal for big volume haylage and silage producers.

For high volume forage handling—one item or a complete capacity-matched team—see your International dealer. He'll tell you about other worth-more features. His IHCC financing is as flexible as you could want.

International 56 blower. Handles 100 tons of corn silage or 70 tons of haylage an hour, blows it 100 feet and higher. An exclusive 45° feeding system makes this huge capacity possible. It augers the crop in a near straight line flow to the big 56-inch diameter rotor. The direct-drive PTO takes 20 percent less horsepower than conventional blowers.

CARGILL GS 58
"YIELDS 134 BU."

said Victor Loeb sack of Topeka, Kansas

After comparing varieties over the years Loeb sack voted Cargill GS 58 as an "outstanding favorite for my farm."

Here's why! He planted in 14 inch rows. That's unusual. But even more unusual he used 7 lbs. of GS 58 seed per acre on some fields and 14 lbs. per acre in other fields. Two yield checks were made and Loeb sack found these results:

| Variety | Yield   | Moisture | Test wt. |
|---------|---------|----------|----------|
| GS 58   | 126 bu. | 15.5%    | 53 lbs.  |
| GS 58   | 134 bu. | 15.0%    | 51 lbs.  |

Cargill GS 58 is a sorghum variety with large semi-open heads with a red grain color. It has a high test weight, good stalk quality and an excellent yield potential on either dry land or irrigation. It will

Rodeo Queen Finalists
The reigning Kansas Rodeo Queen, Miss Shannon Hetrick of El Dorado (wearing hat), stands with five finalists in the annual rodeo queen contest at Kansas State university at Manhattan. Left to right are Miss Sandra Wilson, Olathe; Miss Candy Case, Lawrence; Miss Hetrick; Miss Sharrie Snell, Garden City; Miss Stephanie Baer, Ness City, and Miss Judy Kirk, Scott City. The queen will be crowned April 19 during the National Intercollegiate Rodeo association event at Kansas State.

Woodbine Group Will Try For Third Time 2-Mill Levy Proposal
WOODBINE — Lyons Creek Watershed District will try for a third time to implement a method of financing watershed ments. This opened the way for adoption of the new resolution.

The district is currently levying two mills for administrative and engineering expenses. A portion of these funds, under the new resolution, will be used for improvements, Beck said.
"In two previous elections there was considerable fear and many rumors among the voters that the two-mill levy would be in addition to the presently authorized levy of two mills, making a possible levy of four mills," Beck said.
"It is not the intent or desire of the board to levy more than two mills and the resolution directly specifies that the levy for all purposes cannot exceed two mills."
The watershed district encompasses 180,000 acres in Dickinson, Geary, Morris and Marion counties.

Pet Milk Closes Iola Plant
IOLA — The Pet Milk receiving station here has been closed. Pet announced that milk from its patrons in the Iola area will be received and assembled by Producers Creamery Company, Erie, Kans., for processing at Pet's Neosho, Mo. plant.
Pet officials said that the move would eliminate the jobs of seven employees at the Iola plant.
Officials added that the Pet receiving station at Humansville, Mo., was also closed and milk that was being received there would now go to El Dorado Springs, Mo.
No plans have been made for the disposal or use of the Iola or Humansville facilities.

construction from a two-mill tax levy.
The board of directors has adopted a resolution for a maximum two-mill levy on all taxable tangible property within the watershed. It would finance all costs, including improvements in the modified general work plan.
Voters have twice rejected financing plans after valid protest petitions were filed by 20 per cent of the district's landowners.
A request for federal funds has been held up by the state because a local method of financing has not been approved. The work plan provides 55 flood-water retarding structures. The federal government will finance 22 at a cost of $1.8 million.
A multipurpose structure at Herington, which will provide a municipal water supply and recreation area, will cost $765,000. The government will pay $410,000 and Herington will provide $355,000.
Hayes B. Beck of Junction City, district president, said a Kansas Supreme Court ruling last month held that funds derived from the two-mill levy may be used to finance improve-

Honor Three State Sheepmen

Three Kansas sheepmen were honored for outstanding management at the annual Sheep Day on the Kansas State University campus. They are Robert W. Lukens and J. W. Severance, Beloit; and Harold W. Heitschmidt, Natoma.

These men were top in the Kansas Market Lamb Production Program sponsored by Kansas Farmer magazine in cooperation with KSU. They represent outstanding accomplishments in the percent of lamb crop and the weight of lambs when marketed, V. E. McAdams, Extension livestock specialist, said in presenting each with a trophy.

Lukens is sweepstakes winner for excellence in management. A special trophy was given for this honor. Lukens has 233 head of western ewes and raised 111 per cent lamb crop last year. He utilized native, brome, and sudan pasture in the summer phase. Lambs were marketed at an average of 101 pounds.

Severance owns 218 western ewes, and Heitschmidt has 240 westerns. Each produced 105 per cent lamb crop. Heitschmidt marketed lambs at an average weight of 93 pounds, and Severance's lambs averaged 101 pounds.

Native sudan pastures were used by Severance, and Heitschmidt utilized native, brome, and alfalfa pasture.

Each of these top sheep producers use Hampshire rams.

This production program has been conducted the past 17 years. Main purpose is to encourage and recognize master ewe flock managers in Kansas.

An NFO Reply To Swift

I would like to comment on Swift's reply to NFO which G&G carried in the March 26 issue. Swift in refusing to sign minimum price contracts with NFO is insisting on maintaining a double standard. It does price its own feeds, fertilizers, chemicals and meats in relation to other conditions and competitions in the market. It is saying to farmers — "You cannot do this. We, your buyers, will determine what we will pay you. In other words — Swift can price their products, Swift will price our products, but we farmers cannot price our own.

The United States Department of Agriculture has for years released figures at the end of every month showing parity of income for farmers. It stands currently at 72%.

In 1922 the Capper Volstead Act was passed was passed. It stated that farmers could legally block their production together — their wheat, corn, soybeans — hogs and cattle and bargain collectively for a price. Now we are doing this. NFO is a pricing agency for the American Farmer.

Swift and Company evidently has forgotten some important historical events. Like the Boston Tea Party, some of our patriots dumped tea into the harbor and some would say they wasted food that should have been given to the poor. Then the battle of Concord. "Here once the embattled farmers stood, and fired the shot heard round the world." Swift's investments would equal the land value of two average counties in the state of Iowa. The farmers united have an investment that makes Swift's pale into significance, a small blur. It looks to me like the tail trying to wag the dog.

And incidentally don't believe that your production isn't needed to feed us. They'll buy food even sooner than speed boats and TV sets — if you, Mr. Farmer, have the guts to keep your farm gates closed and put a price tag on your production like any good business man. Mr. Neighbor, organized labor didn't lose their jobs. They just priced them. You have a two priced system in labor today. Tomorrow we will have a two-priced system in Agriculture.

We have to price our production together or go out of business one by one. Where do you stand — like a beggar at the gate or like a man, with your neighbor in NFO.

Black Vermillion Watershed Meets April 15

Eighth annual meeting of the Upper Black Vermillion watershed, Joint District No. 37 is scheduled to be held at Vermillion School building Monday, April 15, at 8 pm.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Deibert, Marysville, have developed a slide show in conservation to present at the meeting.

Business will be conducted with the principal item being the election of five directors from five of the sub-watersheds of the district. The by-laws provide for a board of 15 directors elected to a term of three years. The term of office is staggered so that the terms of five directors expire each year.

Progress of the watershed has been slowed down by the freeze of funds, primarily because of the Vietnam war, but it is expected that some work can begin this year, a spokesman said.

Luthi Farm Site For Area Angus Day

JUNCTION CITY — Final plans have been completed for the 43rd Annual Better Livestock Day, sponsored by the Geary-Dickinson Angus Association.

This year's event, held annually since 1926, will be Thursday, April 18, at the Robert Luthi farm, Abilene, Kansas.

Recognized nationally as the oldest and largest Angus Field Day in the nation, this event has annually attracted 1000 4H and FFA youths.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. and a type demonstration, conducted by Miles McKee, Calvin Drake and Robert Hines of Kansas State University, will begin at 9:00 a.m. The judging contest, consisting of four bull and four female classes, will follow with Miles McKee and Calvin Drake making the official placings.

One of the highlights of the day will be the noon meal which will feature smoked barbecued Angus beef prepared by Dr. David Mackintosh of Manhattan, and served by the wives to the members of the two-county group.

A. J. Schuler, Jr., program chairman, has announced the afternoon program will begin immediately following the dinner. Highlights of the program will include two short colored films — "Be a Better Angus Judge" and "An Angus in Your Future."

Demonstrations will be given on foot trimming, tattooing, grooming, and showmanship. Of interest to everyone will be a demonstration on "Freeze Branding, Its Use and Method of Application." "A Cow, A Calf and You" will be the title of a talk by Dean R. Hurlbut, Director of Junior Activities, American Angus Association.

This is the first Insect Newsletter of the 1968 season. Succeeding issues will be prepared for the next few weeks until the growing season gets underway.

Copies of the 1968 Kansas Insect Control Recommendations have been available since the first of the year. Copies will be sent out to all persons on the mailing list of the Insect Newsletter.

Dealers should take notice of the new pesticide law regarding tolerances. All pesticides registered for use on food or feed without finite tolerances will be cancelled as of December 31, 1967, unless label extensions are granted. Check with your suppliers to see that materials on hand have up-to-date labels. The common ones which did not have tolerances as of November, 1967 are listed behind each section of the Kansas Insect Control Recommendations. Many have since been cleared for use and a current listing will be sent in future issues of this Newsletter.

We welcome all reports concerning insect problems in 1968, and urge you to contact us when insect problems arise in your area. We attempt to arrange field schedules to have one man in the office to handle phone calls, process identifications, etc., while the other is in the field.

ARMY CUTWORMS: The first reports of any army cutworms damaging wheat (12-16 per foot of row) were reported from Rooks County.

March 9-15: One wheat field in Ottawa county had army cutworms 3-5 per sq. ft. 1/4 of the examined fields in Lincoln, Ellsworth, Rice, Kingman, Sedgwick, Sumner, Harvey and Dickinson counties showed less than 1 cutworm per sq. ft.

Yellowing wheat (soil borne mosaic? or lacking nitrogen) with some army cutworms was reported from Stafford, Rice and Pawnee counties.

March 15-22: Army cutworms ranged from 1-10 per foot of row in Cowley county, 0-2 per row in Sumner county. Wheat growth east of Pratt-Ellis counties is abundant enough to take considerable cutworm feeding (4-5 per linear foot). The crow population through the central area should be a factor in destroying cutworm populations.

PALE WESTERN CUTWORMS: A report just in from Les DePew saying that there are some pale western cutworms showing up in Finney county. This could be a potentially serious problem in view of the small plant growth and lack of moisture that exists in much of the western area.

GREENBUGS: The fall infestation of greenbugs in central and western Kansas was greater than had been observed for many years. Some fields were destroyed by greenbug feeding before winter dormancy of plants. They survived temperatures of -16 degrees in northern Kansas and 7 degrees in southwest Kansas.

January 16-19: Live greenbugs 1 to 10 per foot of row found in Sedgwick, Sumner and Harper counties.

Jan. 20-26: 5 to 15 per foot of row in Phillips, Rooks Smith and Osborne counties. One field in Phillips county had 40-50 per foot of row.

February 3-9: Light numbers 1 to 10 per foot of row found in Finney, Kearny, Grant, Stevens, Seward, Meade, Clark and Comanche counties.

February 10-16: (a) Phillips county populations 25 to 50 per linear foot; (b) 0 to 9 per foot of row in Kingman, Pratt, or Edwards counties; (c) None were found in Barton, Rush, Russell, Ellsworth or Rice.

March 9-15: Phillips county population dropped to 0 to 2 per foot of row. None found in Lincoln, Ellsworth, Rice, Kingman, Sedgwick, Sumner, Harvey, Marion or Dickinson counties.

GRASSHOPPER OUTLOOK: Last year's fall survey indicated a rise in grasshopper populations. The fall survey indicates where farmers and ranchers should closely watch. The areas are indicated on the map below.

The 1965 fall survey showed no infested areas in Kansas; 50,000 acres in the fall survey of 1966; and 625,000 acres in the fall survey of 1967. An infestation is considered to be of economic importance when as many as 8 grasshoppers per square yard are found.

One-Sided Bridge Collapses

NEOSHO RAPIDS - A steel truss bridge, once featured in Ripley's Believe It or Not, over the Cottonwood River four miles west of here has collapsed.

The Lyon County engineer's office at Emporia reported that a truck apparently got off the runners of the bridge and crowded the east side of the bridge, causing three cross members to rupture on the main span.

The bridge gave way on the north side.

No injuries were involved. Because of an S bend in the river, a motorist can be headed north when he crosses the bridge and still be on the south side of the river when he reaches the other side of the bridge.

Protest Grain Freight Hike

KANSAS CITY, Kans. - Great Plains Wheat Inc. will protest a new railroad request for a rate increase on grain shipments, Art Wilks, chairman of the organization's transportation committee, says.

Wilks, of Burlington, Colo., said the railroads were granted a three per cent increase last year and that the new increase would mean a three to seven per cent hike or about two to three cents a bushel from Burlington to the Kansas City Market.

"The producer is the one who will have to absorb this new increase," he said. "It would further reduce the price he receives for his wheat."

Great Plains Wheat is a market development association supported by wheat producers in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

3-1 Show Set For Pratt

PRATT — The annual Three-1 Show, an exposition of the latest manufactured products in western Kansas, will be held here April 25-28.

The four-day exposition is sponsored by Western Kansas Manufacturers Inc. The name of the show represents industry, implements and irrigation. More than 200,000 persons are expected to view over 300 exhibits during the show at the old Pratt Air Base.

Injunction Vs. Reevaluation

John Berns of Peabody, former president of the Kansas Livestock Association and member of the State Board of Education, has filed an injunction action in Marion county District Court to halt implementation of taxation under the recently completed property reassessment in the county.

Berns contends in his suit that the county declined to give him information showing examples of actual sales used in reevaluating property in Marion county. Marion used an outside firm, United Appraisal Co. of Kansas City, Kansas, to do its reevaluating of property for tax purposes.

A Possible Breakthru In Gold Mining

Development of a new process for extracting gold from previously unworkable ores, a breakthrough that might open huge new gold deposits to mining, has been announced by the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

If successful, use of the process could help meet the gold needs of U.S. industry, but it would scarcely dent the Treasury's gold-stock shortages.

An 8000-square-mile area of Nevada, the Bureau said, is known to contain gold-rich ores which contain carbon compounds that hang on to gold so tightly that conventional cyanide process can't extract it economically.

The bureau said scientists at its Metallurgy Research Center in Reno have invented "an aqueous chemical treatment" to break up the gold-carbon love affair; once that is done, the cyanide process can extract the gold.

The new method is said to permit economical recovery of 90 to 90 per cent of the gold in these ores, compared with previous recovery of only 20 to 35 percent.

But so far it has been performed only in the laboratory. Pilot scale tests are being conducted, the Bureau said.

The bureau said the carbonaceous ores of Nevada are believed to contain some 10 million to 30 million ounces of gold, compared with the nation's known reserves of some 9.4 million ounces economically mineable by present methods.

HOGS START AT 11:00 A.M. CATTLE AT 1:00 P.M.

We had another heavy run of cattle and hogs at the regular sale last Saturday. Both cattle and hog prices held steady to strong on all classes, except stock calves that seemed steady to lower.

Cows and feeder cattle were mostly in demand. Fat hogs and shoats held on a strong market, the No. 1 butchers again matching or topping terminal markets with a $19.00 price.

We have six regular packer buyers for hogs, and they will take all you can bring in. Also, we can use more feeder and replacement cattle for several local and out-of-state buyers. If you are thinking of selling give us a call.

A Freight Cut On Export Grain

An Interstate Commerce Commission board has decided to permit the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad to reduce rates about 17 per cent on wheat and grain sorghum destined for export.

The lower rates became effective April 6, but ICC observers said they expect other railroads and several trade associations to appeal and therefore block the reduction.

The lower rates would be effective on grains shipped from Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and New Mexico to Galveston, Houston and Texas City, Tex.

Ask For State Watershed Funds Back

Rep. Garner E. Shriver, R-Kan., and Thad Kinnaman, Cedar Vale, Kans., representing the watershed districts of Kansas, last week urged Congress to restore budget funds cut by President Johnson for watershed planning and construction for fiscal 1969 beginning July 1.

Shriver and Kinnaman appeared before the House of Representatives appropriations agriculture committee.

The two Kansans requested that $10 million be allowed for watershed planning and $125 million for construction.

Kinnaman told the committee that Kansas watershed district administrators sent their thanks to the committee for previous appropriations.

He outlined the number of projects which had been completed with previous appropriations and that maintenance expenses now were being borne by the members of the local watershed districts.

He assured the committee that Kansas watershed project sponsors were capable and ready to fulfill their responsibilities in the federal-state partnership as had been demonstrated by the projects already completed.

He pointed out that the greatest need now was for construction funds and that many planned structures were awaiting action by the present Congress to give approval to such funds.
