THE BISMARCK FAIR. A Complete Success.

The weather for fair week could not have been finer. The rain of Monday so completely laid the dust and cooled the air that it was a delight to be moving about. The regatta gave perfect satisfaction and the boat crews left Northern Snowflake, Early Rose, Late Rose. saying that they should be delighted Farina, Beauty of Hebron, White Star, Mamto come again. The display of agricul- moth Pearl, Early York, Early Ohio, Irish tural implements and stock was the best that was ever shown here. The county displays and the exhibits in the main building were not so full as they have sometimes been. Some departments were very full and very nice, others were quite limited. We give on this page a complete list of the Vinland Grange display and on one of the inside pages the Douglas County Horticultural Society display. This will give a complete idea of the whole. We should be glad if all our readers could have seen this grand exposition them-

Vinland Grange.

Vinland Grange carried off the blue ribbon for the best grange and club display. The following is their list of entries, which wil give a fair sample of the whole. Leavenworth Jefferson and Wyandotte counties competed for this same prize:

FINE ART DEPARTMENT.

Our preliminary notices had probably prepared our readers for an unusually good exhibit in the Fine Art department at the Fair this year, but certainly the thousands who thronged the passages of the Gallery in Bismarck grove for the past few days, have had their highest anticipations realized, whilst those especially, who have made painting a study, have been gratified to look upon a collection which has embraced more works of real artistic merit and value than all other previous exhibits in the state put together. Even this limited observation of a number of fairly good examples of painting of different styles and schools can hardly fail to impress the average lover of the beautiful, or to exercise some influence in elevating the standard of taste among us. The western eye is an observing one, and what it chiefly needs is good models to teach it discrimination in art.

Under the supervision of the superintendent of the fine art department (B. W. Woodward) the gallery had been renovated and the walls tinted so as to serve as a more appropriate

To praise a marine of the grove, with a fairly good light Elkins, Colby, Brenner and Meeker are view by Hamilton or Bricher would for pictures, and adorned with flower of a character whose fine qualities can certainly be superfluous. Those of Mr. exhibits in the centre space, it needed be appreciated to a great extent by any | Woodward speak for themselves. "On only the fine cellection of paintings to render it altogether the most attractiae feature of Bismarck. Outside of what the artists themselves have worthily contributed, the exhibition has been made a grand success this year by the loan collections-not entered for premiums, but furnished by art-loving gentlemen of Kansas City and of our own town, in order that the fine art of this section might be as adequately represented as possible. Among these we might especially mention Louis Hammerslough, W. Findlay and William E. Thorne, of Kansas City; and Professors Robinson and Marvin, Cil. W. A. Harris, Mrs. Judge Usher, Ex-Mayor Grovenor, Geo. A. Banks, J. D. Smith, Dr. Lawrence, B. W. Woodward and perhaps others. The task of arranging and grouping a mass of several hundred pictures of all sizes and styles, from the large canvass of Bingham's Pike's Peak down to the smallest water color or pencil sketch is one of no slight difficulty. It requires something of the taste of the artist combined with the skill of the mechanic ty in which he is noted. Mrs. or rather the eye and the hand of both, combined. This work was so completely done, with the assistance of the fine art and hanging committees-Professor Rebinson and Mrs. J. W. Green of A. J. Phillips of the latter cess of Bismarck, and beside his labors of this indefatigable student of "Still the late General Bingham, of Missouri. Bingham was a painter of the last generation but one who held a high place struck by the more brilliant toned beautifuil harmony of color which cannot fail to render it attractive. Mr. Hammerslough exhibited, several mountain and lake views by Cyrenus Hall of Chicago-but far more valuable in our appreciation is a pair of companion genre pieces by Erdman of Munich .- "The Accepted Lover," and the "Rejected Suitor." Landscapes in oil are not rare even in the West-but good figure pieces are not abundant and we congratulate

Mr. Hammerslough upon the possession of these. William E. Thorne contributed from his art store in Kansas City, six water color representations which were much admired, especially the "Lorelei" and the "Surprise" Mr. Thorne makes an especial feature in his business of this class of pictures which reproduces fairly at a moderate cost, many of the finest modern paintings. We cannot all view the original "Lorelei" of Kray-but this is the next best thing.

W. W. Findlay, of Kansas City.

the Valley" is, so far as we are acthe same may be is its worthy companion in size, whilst so beautiful in contrast of tone, we hardly know which and most to admire, the glowing warmth of the sunlit morning scene in South Park or the cool treshness which environs those noble trees around the solitude of committee of award, who had been so unanimous generally, were almost divided, when it came to a decision as to these. So, whilst they strung the blue ribbon on the Elkins as the chief representative of the "best collection," they dropped another upon the brow of the Colby as the "best landscape." "Let both divide the crown." Space denies our giving more attention to Mr. Findlay's exhibit, but we must mention the little bit of beech forestby Brenner of Louisville-the special-Judge Usher kindly furnished two fine pictures-a Bit of the Grand Canal, by Ruggles, delicate yet strong in color, and a Cow which although a a copy is an admirable study in fore shortening. For the fine etching of Hans Makart's grand cartoon of Catherine Carnaro, we are indebted to George. A. Banks, while Mr. Grovenor's life," whose zeal and talent are bound to send him well up in the ranks of art. Dr. Lawrence exhibited some curious specimens of Chinese painting, selected by him years ago when in Canton. If there ever was a "gem of purest ray serene" in a western gallery it is the little sketch "On the Mohawk," by Wiles, of New York, owned by Prof. Robinson. It would shine as serenely and in any gallery. Prof. R. also exhibits a characteristic English landscape, by Spinks, with a charming per spective. Its companion, is in the Woodward collection. In variety to these, Prof. Frank Marvin had a clear cut winter scene on the opposite wall.

W.'s fine collection to and for the occasion presented a variety of attractions seldom found in any gallery. The collection comprised photographic views, paintings in oil and water colors, thirty-five to forty in number, and every one worthy of the most careful study. The photographic views, made by a new, and as yet secret process, represent a series of very beautiful moonlight scenes in the classic city of Venice. The pale bluish tint of moonlight pouring over the sleeping city is reproduced almost perfectly. Seven water colors, representing scenes near Digne, in France, painted by Jaubert, were deemed worthy, last year, of a place in the Paris Salon. This year they were deemed worthy of a place in Bismarck Salon. We hope they were appreciated demonstrated by his munificent loans to this exhibit that he is both free this year by Kansans as much as last handed and art loving, for he, like Mr. | year by Frenchmen. Among all the Hammerslough, has risked with us oil colors none seemed to us more pictures worth much in market value, pleasing than the "Norwegian Harand a great deal more in their influ- bor." "Morning in tention, while "The Last Benediction of the Earl of Strafford" caused all quainted, Elkins' finest work, and per- lovers of true art to stop and admire its beauty. Other pictures in Mr. said of Colby's "Solitude," which Woodward's collection were equally worthy of mention, but we have not time to notice them now. Next year, when Mr. Woodward, as superintendent of the fine art department, shall furnish us the richest treat we have eyer had, we hope to call attention to them, as well as to many other gems in Green Lake. We understand that the his possession. Many additions to his valuable collection were secured by him last year, while visiting the principal galleries of Europe.

As a whole, the art exhibition was a decided success, and both the managers of the fair, as well as the general public are under many obligations to Mr. Woodward for his indefatigable labors in the right place, and we hope he will be permanently retained in charge of it.

Tearing down was the order of the day in the main building yesterday as soon after dinner as the officers would allow the goods removed, and, in fact, some were inclined to go a little before that hour. One important change was made early in the morning. The blue ribbon was taken from the display of gentlemen's clothing and furnishing goods of Hammerslough and awarded to Steinberg Brothers. Messrs. Payne and Dickinson, the judges, revisited the two booths and acknowledged that their first award had been an error; that Messrs. Steinberg were clearly entitled to the prize. They give Messrs. Steinberg the silver medal for the best display and three blue ribbons-one on clothing, one on hats and caps, and one on gents' furnishing goods. The change gave almost universal satisfaction to the spectators, and when Mr. S. Steinberg came over, about noon, hands were extended to him from all directions and the most hearty congratulations expressed. It is a high compliment to Messrs. Steinberg that they can compete with the leading clothing house of Kansas City and carry off the laurels. Steinberg's has been a household word in all this region for years. They have established a reputation for fair dealing that any honest firm might well envy, and when they gain such a victory as was that of yesterday, we all feel like congratulating them. The old reliable house of Lawrence is the victor.

The display of the Leis Chemical ManufacturingCompany was one of the last to be disturbed. They felt proud of what they had as they have reason to, and anxious that even the last callers should see the whole. The diplomas of former fairs, where they have met the stongest competition, their certificate from the United States government, te whom they have sold thousands of dollars worth of goodsgoods that have had to bear the closest anylasis as to purity-well they might feel proud to show them. It has cost the Leis company probably five hundred dollars every year, to make an exhibit, and we doubt very much whether that amount would cover their expenses this year. Mr. George Leis, Mr. I. N. Van Horeson and other members of the firm have been the best friends

The Household.

The deeds we do, the words we say,
Into still air they seem to fleet,
We count them ever past,
But they shall last;
In the dread judgment they

For the love's sake of brethren dear,
Keop thou the one true way
In work and play,
Lest in that world their cry
Of woe thou hear.

Among the many anecdotes related of the steadiness of nerve of the veteran Prince Charles of Prussia as a boy is the following: On the 20th of October, 1811, the Prince being then ten years and four months old, he was dining at Wustrau Castle with Count Zieten, the only son of Frederick the Great's renown. ed cavalry General. His host was a very occentric person, inveterately addicted to practical joking, and upon the occasion alluded to had prepared an unusually startling surprise for the juvenile Prince. Count Zieten rose during dinner to propose the health of "the King," and as the words left his lips a whole battery of field guns, which had been posted just under the dining room windows, was fired off at a vollay. Everybody present started except the Prince, upon whom his host's eyes were steadily fixed. Observing with grim satisfaction that the royal lad did not even wink, Zieten turned toward him with the question, "Not afraid of cannon, eh, your Royal Bighness?" Pointing to the walls of the apartment, lavishly adorned with portraits of officers of the famous Zieten Hussars-the regiment of which his son, Fredrick Charles, always wears the scarlet uniform-Prince Charles quietly replied, "Certainly not, in such company as this!" and went on with his dessert as though nothing unusual had been done or said.

Tomato Catsup.

The basis of tomato catsup, or ketchup, is the pulp of ripe tomatoes. Many defer making catsup until late in the season, when the cool nights cause the fruit to ripen slowly, and it may be it is gathered hurriedly for fear of a frost. The late fruit does not yield so rich a pulp as that gathered in its prime. The fruit should have all green portions cut out, and be stewed gently until thoroughly cooked. The pulp is then to be separated from the skins, by rubbing through a wire sieve, so fine as to retain the seeds. The liquor thus obtained, is to be evaporated to a thick pulp, over a slow fire, and should be stirred to prevent scorching. The degree of evaporation will depend upon how thick it is desired to have the catsup. We prefer to make it so that it will just pour freely from the bottle. We observe no regular rule in flavor- sas will confer a favor on the publishers by mening. Use sufficient salt. Season with tioning this paper in their letters. Bear this in cloves, allspice and mace, bruised and tied in a cloth, and boiled in the pulp; add a small quantity of powdered cayenne. Some add the spices ground fine, directly to the pulp. A clove of garlic, bruised and tied in a cloth, to be boiled with the spices, imparts a delicious flavor. Some evaporate the pulp to a greater thickness than is needed, and then thin with vinegar or with wine. An excellent and useful tomato sauce may be made by preparing the pulp, but adding no spices, and putting it in small bottles while hot, corking securely and sealing. If desired, the sauce may be salted before bottling, but this is not essential. To add to soups, stews, sauces and made dishes, a sauce thus prepared is an excellent substitute for the fresh fruit. It should be put in small bottles, containing as much as will be wanted at once, as it will not keep long after opening .- [American Agriculturist.

The Popular Science Monthly for October, 1882.

The October number of "The Popular Science Monthly" is one of great excellence While all its articles deserve to be well spoken of, several of them are unusually fitted to attract attention. The first place among this number must be given to the opening article, by Douglas Graham, M. D., on, "Massage: its Mode of Application and Effects," the matter of which is both valuable and novel. It is an account of a combined operation of rubbing and kneading the body, systematically and intelligently performed, as an aid to the curing of disease. Matthew Arnold's Lecture on "Literature and Science," in Which the first place is given to literature in the scheme of education, while science is admitted as a subordinate department of literature, is the next article. A review of the paper in the editor's table exposes the utter insufficiency of Mr. Arnold's valuation of science. Dr. Andrew Wilson's "The Past and Present of the Cuttle. Fishes" is packed full of information about these most curious and varied inhabitants of the deep. "Moziey on Evolution" is a reply of Mr. Herbert Spencer to some statements in the Rev. T. Mozley's recently published "Rem-iniscences," and is especially valuable because it contains a clear and succint outline, at first hands, of the whole scheme of the theory of evolution. "Explosions and Explosives," by Allan D. Brown, of the United States Navy, furnishes accounts of gunpowder, nitroglycerine, dynamite and gun-cotton, their properties, and the methods of making and using them. "The Utility of Drunkenness" is found by Mr. W. Mattieu Williams, to consist in the fact that it promotes "the survival of the fittest" men by turnishing a means, supposed to be agreeable to themselves, of clearing the world of the "unfittest." In "Delusions of Doubt," M. B. Bill describes a curious mental disease which is somtimes manifested in most remarkable ways. The 'Annual Address'' of Professor G. J. Brush , retiring President of the American Association, is next given. The subject is, "The Progress of American Mineralogy," and the address presents an honorable record of the work of our laborers in that branch of science. In "Industrial Education in the Public Schools," Professor Straight projects a scheme under which pupils should be turned out pre pared to do honest, thorough work as a matter of 'course. Dr. Felix Oswald lends the unique charm of his keen humor to the discussion of "Physiognomic Curiosities." "The Formation of Salide Mineral Waters," by M. Dieulatait, is a suggestive study in chemical geology. "A Partnership of Animal and Plant Lite," by K. Brandt, offers a solution to a biological problem that has caused much perplexity. The portrait and sketch are of Professor Rudolf Virchow, physiologist, anthropologist, and advocate of popular rights. New York: D. Appleton & Company. Fifty cents per number, $5 per year.

FROM COL. L. T. FOSTER.

FROM COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Onio, May, 10th, 1880.
DR. B. J. Krndall & Co., Gents:—I had a very val able Hambletonian colt which I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a smaller one on the other which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two Veterinary Surgeons who failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Sravin Cure in the Cicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggists here to sund for it. They ordered three bottles; I took them all and thought I would give it at thes; I took them all and thought I would give it at the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and by the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and the lumps had entirely disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colts limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it.

Yery Respectfully,

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, Mass., March 16th, 1830.

B. J. KRNDALL & CO., GENTS:—In justice to you and to myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,

CHAS. E. PARKER.

FROM REV. P. N. GRANGER. Presiding Elder of the St. Albans Dis

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to vour letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendal's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks, when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N.*GRANGER. trict.

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—Having got a horse book of you by mail a year ago, the contents of which persuaded me to try Kendall's Spavin Cure on the hind leg of one of my horses which was badly swollen and could not be be reduced by any other remedy. I got two bottles of Kendall's Spavin Cure of Preston & Ludduth, Druggists of Wascea, which completely cured my horse. About five years ago I had a three-year-old colt sweenied very badly I used your remedy as given in your book without roweling, and I must say to your credit trast the colt is entirely cured, which is a surprise not only to myself but also to my neighbors. You sent me the book for the trifling sum of 25 cents, and it I could not get another like it I would not take twenty-five dollars for it.

Yours truly,

B. J. Kendall & Co.—Gents: This is to certify that I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure and have found it to be all it is recommended to be, and intact more too. I have removed by using the above callous, bone spavins, ring-bones, splints, and can cheerfully testify and recommend it to be the best thing for any bony substance I have ever used, and I have tried many as I have made that my study for years.

B. J. Kendall & Co.—Gents: I have tried your spavin Cure on a chronic case of bone spavin, which has been treated by two of the best doctors in the land. The case was fired twice, and I can safely say that Kendall's Spavin Cure did more good than anything which I ever tried. I believe it to be a good remedy for a great many difficulties. Ring-bone and bone spavins I am sure it will cure if taken in time. It is also good for scratches, grease heel, etc.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I think it my duty to render you my thanks for benefits and profits which I have derived from your invaluable and far famed Spavin Cure. My cousin and I had a valuable stallion, worth $4,00, which had a very bad spavin and was pronounaed by four eminent yeterinary surgeons beyond any cure, and that the horse was done for ever. As a last resort I advised my cousin to try a bottle of for dall's Spavin Cure. It had a magical effect, the third bottle cured it, and the horse is as well a ever. Dr Dick, of Edinburgh, the eminent veterinary surgeon was an uncle of mine, and I take great interesr in assisting his profession.

B. J. Kendall & Co.—Gents: I tried your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it had the desired effect. It cured the spavin, which other treatments had failed to do. I did not use quite one bottle of your limment. After the spavin was removed drove the horse and his mare over 500 miles, from Linn county, Iowa, to Harlin county, Nebraska, with a load of about 2,0% pounds, and made the trip in four weeks. Condition of Crops.

ENCOURAGING PROSPECTS FOR COTTON AND CORN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11, 1882. The September report of the Department of griculture on the condition of cotton shows improvement since the 1st of August in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee. Arkansas and Texas, and some deterioration of South Carolina, Georgia and States of the Gulf coast to Louisiana, inclusive. The general average of August was 94; of September, 92, which is the same as in September of 1880, and higher than in any other season for ten years. Last year the average dropped from 88 in August to 70 in September. The State averages are as follows :- Virginia, 90; North Carolina, 88; South Carolina, 95; Georgia, 89; Florida, 83; Alabame, 90; Mississippi, 83; Louisiana, 89; Texas, 101; Arkansas, 100; Tennessee, 89. These figures indicate, as they stand, a large erop, but from every quarter comes the inti-mation of too much rain for heavy fruiting, too much "weed," some shedding of bolls, a tendency to rust, and a later development of bolls than usual. Under these conditions early frost would be especially injurious. The caterpillar has made its appearance in many counties of the Gulf Coast States. In some places the second generation is "webbing up." While the damage is inappreciable as yet in most cases fears are expressed that the third brood may do great injury. The bollworm is reported at many points in Denton county, Texas, their destruction is estimated at $100, CORN. The corn crop in all the region south of Pennsylvania and of the Ohio river is in high condition in every State except West Virginie, being represented by 100 or higher figures. In many districts of the South the crop is reported the best in twenty years. In the New England States there has been a very sharp decline, except in Vermont-from 81 to 75 in Maine, 95 to 62 in New Hampshire, 87 to 60 in Massachusetts, 93 to 90 in Rhode Island, and from 96 to 65 in Connecticut. A decline of 6 points in New York and New Jersey and 4 in Pennsylvania is indicated. The loss in all of these States is due to the drought, which has been especially severe in New England. There has been abundant rain in all other States. In the corn-growing States of the Ohio Valley the prospects average very nearly as at the last report. The general average of condition is 83, the same as in August. Last year there was a decline from 77 in August to 60 in September. In 1880 the September average was 91. If early frosts do not injure the crop the product will be materially larger than last year, but the heavy production of 1879 and 1880 cannot be approached under the most fayorable circumstances.

The Wheat Crop.

While it is conceded on all sides that the wheat yield of this year will be the greatest ever known in the United States the estimates differ materially as to the size of the crop. The Department of Agriculture, whose reports are conservative and are more apt to be underestimates than overestimates, puts the production at five hundred and twenty-five million bushels. Other authorities place it at five hundred and fifty millions. Still higher figures are given by the Commercial create irreverence in others.-[N. Y. In a recent issue Bulletin, of this city. that journal published the results of careful inquiries just made in over three hundred and fifty counties in ten of the leading grain-growing States. The returns are for the most part based on the ascertained results of threshing. Supplementing these returns with estimates of the acreage and yield in the rest of the country the Bulletin reaches the conclusion that the entire crop will fall little short of six hundred million without being sensible of the least objective bushels, and furthermore that the clearness. His researches into the phenomena quality of the wheat will be unusually good. This is an encouraging report, and it will be a cause for national rejoicing if the estimates of our contemporary shall prove to be substantially accurate.-[N. Y. Herald.

A year from now Newton will be known as the city of wind-mills. Everybody is taking this method of irrigation.

S. R. Summers says he has the best corn in Osborne county. He has forty acres of the St. Charles white corn which he claims to know will average forty bushels to the acre. It is an early variety and is a very good kind for this country.

North, the wheat king of Jewell county, raised 320 acres of wheat this year that averaged 25 bushels to the acre, and he is going to put out 600 acres this fall.

We can now look for brisk times throughout Kansas, until winter sets in. The outlook is that we are to have a prosperous year for 1883. The large crop of this year will bring to the State thousands who are in search of homes Turkish wheat, which was introduced into Kansas two years ago, is in great demand for milling at Minneapolis, whither shipments are being made.

Kansas estimates her barley this year at 846,960 bushels, worth at the present prices 1,850 acres of cotton and 633 acres in tobacco

With a pond on every farm it would be impossible for those hot winds to get up and howl as they do. And then if we could add en acres of timber to every quarter section of land the evaporation would be so great and the air would become so heavy that it couldn't dance so lightly over these immense prairies.

of the Bismarck fair that it has ever had. It was mainly through their effort that a rule was adopted that an officer of the fair association should not be a competitor for a prize. This was five hundred dollars out of their pocket. Beside this they offered special premiums, (which they promptly paid) for articles manufactured from their goods. Never was there such a display of bread and pastry before, and it was all made from the German Baking Powder and competing for the Leis' Chemical Works prize. Unless we stop to think, we are apt to overlook the reat good these public spirited men have done us. They are first and foremost in every movement that has promised to bring to our city renewed life and prosperity. The German baking powder, and the fruit extracts of the Leis' chemical works will be popular with the public for years to come, and sooner or later our people will recognize this self-denial in giving away a prize which they could easily win simply to stimulate competition.

Two young bloods of this city went about two miles west of the city one evening last week, to settle their differences at the point of the revolver. Several shots were fired, but neither of them were sober enough to stand any chance of hitting anything, unless it might be a bystander.

Consumption.

Leis' Dandelion Tonic will not cure consumption when the disease is fully developed but by improving the digestion, stimulating the functions to healthy action, restoring lost brain and nerve power, thus improving the general health, it will arrest that dread disease in its incipiency. It is as nearly a cure for consumption as anything ever-compounded.

Fruit-Crop Report, 1882.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, KANSAS STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, Lawrence, Kansas, 1882.

Dear Sir :- The following statistics have been furnished this office from reliable sources. and are herein given to show the per cent. of an average crop of apples-100 being the standard within the States mentioned-they being accepted as beretofore furnished the bulk of apples thrown upon our markets, and from which the stock competing with that grown in Kansas and Missouri has been obtained.

Prospective apple crop for 1882; reported to this office in July: Kansas, 76 per cent.; Michigan, 30 per cent.; Illinois, 33 per cent.; Indiana, 20 per cent.; Iowa, 30 per cent.; Ohio, 37 per cent.; Missouri, 75 per cent.

From the foregoing it can be readily seen that Kansus leads all other favored fruit-growing States, and not only leads but will have no formidable competitor in disposing of her

The product of several of her competitors is reported of an inferior quality, whilst that of Kansas is remarkably fair, and every way su-

TOPEKA, Sept. 11, 1882. There is a new movement on foot to defeat St. John, the Republican candidate for Governor, and it is said that some of the best and leading Republicans in the State are at the head of it. The plan contemplates the withdrawal of G. W. Glick and Charles W. Robinson, the Democratic and Greenback nominees, and through a delegate or mass convention nominate some man upon whom the entire opposition can unite. A joint meeting of the Democratic and Greenback State committees will be held at Topeka on Thursday. and a committee of disaffected Republicans are expected to be on hand to see what can be effected in the way of a grand combination of the opposition forces. It is estimated that there are 20,000 Republicans who will vote against St. John, and these, united with 60,000 Democrats, 18,000 Greenbackers and some 20,000 anti-prohibition Germans, on an independent candidate, would, it is claimed, easily elect

The October number of Demorest's Menthiy Magazine combines most agreeably the useful and the entertaining, and contains a vast amount of information on a variety of subjects. "The Plantin Museum at Antwerp," "A Trip to the West," "Woman's Work and Wages," and "Talks with Women," by Jennie June, are all capital articles. The Household Department is well filled, the articles on "Home Art and Home Comfort," and "How to Treat our Doors," being especially good. Mrs. Alexander's entertaining story, "The Admi ral's Ward," is continued, and the shorter stories are excellent. "Current Topics," "The Fashions," poems, and miscellaneous articles, complete this interesting number The oil picture, "A Trial of Patience." is quite a gem, and the engravings are admira-

"Misery loves company" is an old saying, and we suppose we ought to be happy, for we have lots of company in our misery. That which troubles us most just now is a dearth of paper. There is lots of it east of us on the road somewhere: in fact it has been there for two weeks, but the railroad companies find it more profitable during the great fairs to carry passengers than freight, and so we are obliged to wait. We managed last week to get through by express enough for one issue, and this week cut down paper four inches larger each way than we want (all we could get in Kansas City) and lose several dollars on it. Things will be righted in a few days and we shall have all we want.

One hack from Leavenworth came to grief while crossing the track between here and Bismarck. It was struck by an engine and knocked about twenty feet against a telegraph pole, where it landed on its side. There was a load of passengers in at the time, but none of them were hurt. The team was quite badly njured, and the top part of the hack was total wreck. The accident was sheer careless ness on the part of the driver.

The North American Review for October opens with an article on "The Coming Revodution in England," by H. M. Hyndman, the English radical leader, giving an instructive account of the agitation now going on among the English working classes for a reconstruction of the whole politico-social fabric of that country. O. B. Frothingham writes of "The Objectionable in Literature," and endeavors to point out the distinction between literature which is per se corrupting, and that which is simply coarse. Dr. Henry Schliemann tells the interesting story of one year's "Discoveries at Troy." Senator John I. Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, treats of the rise and progress of the rule of "Political Bosses." Prof. Geo. L. Vose, of the Massachusetts Institute' of Technology, contributes an article of exceptionable value on "Safety in Railway Travel;" and Prof. Charles S. Sargent. of the Harvard College Arboretum, contributes an instructive essay on "The Protection of Forests," The Review is sold by booksellers and newsdealers generally.

No Whiskey!

Brown's Iron BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

Brown's Iron Bitters is guaranteed to be a nonintoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881. Gents :- The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hun-dreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

Brown's Iron Bitters has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

THE WESTERN NATIONAL.

The Fifth Day of That Fair.

A GRAND SUCCESS.

Crowds of Visitors.—The Displays The Races.

The finest weather of the week brought out thousands at Bismarck yesterday, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Long excursion trains from neighboring cities brought in great numbers of citizens, and Lawrence people turned out a big delegation. The day was a perfect one, the exhibits were in fine shape; the track was in perfect order; the grove was lovely; and everybody was happy and pleased.

HORTICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department Douglas county comes out ahead as usual, and carries off the blue ribbon. This was the unanimous verdict of the visitors from Ohio, Indiana, New York and other states as they passed along admiring the collections of fine fruit, as well as that of the committee appointed to make the award.

Among the crowd of admirers was an Ohio lady who was so intent on taking home a specimen of this fruit that she offered any price for a single specimen of the yellow bellflower to show her buckeye friends the great beaty and excellence of Kansas fruit.

The collection consisted of 146 seper ate varieties of apples, 17 of grapes, 194 Winter crab; 195 Kentucky Red. 20 of pears, 11 of peaches, besides samples of minor fruits. The specimens were all perfect, the display was tastefally arranged and the whole exhibit very credible to the county. We understand the collection was mainly made and arranged by B. F. Smith, vice president, and Samuel Reynolds, secretary of the Douglas County Horticultural Society.

Though the Journal at all times tries 46 Roxbury Russetts; 47 Peck's to give a full report of all passing events, Pleasant; 48 Reynold's Seedling No 1; yet when it comes to as big an elephant as 47 Johnathan; 50 Gloria Mundi; 51 the Western National Fair we must con-Winesap; 53 Nonpareil; 54 Westfield tent ourselves with a section at a time, and Seek-No-Further; 55 Detroit Red; 56 even then we do not expect to give a very distinct idea of even one-half of the grand display. We desire this morning to give an idea of the main building, and these descriptions can be taken as fair samples of the whole.

STEINBERG'S.

As one enters the building from the south the first thing on the left is the dising their display, said, "Are you going to put up your whole stock?" "No," was the reply, "only samples; and we are sorting pretty closely at that." On examination we find that there are scarcely any two articles of a kind. The arrangements of the goods displays the artis' At a glance one can take in the whole, yet each individual article is brought out so clearly that one can examine it in detail. The latest style of full gentleman's suit is displayed to the best possible effect on a form. By its side are grades. Therej are suits for the most fashionable man and the boy that has but plain durable ones. There is every garment that a gentleman should, would or could wear. Useful goods and ornamental goods. Mr Spaulding is in attendance and takes pleasure in answering sas City friend thought Steinberg had a whole stock on display, yet if he were to visit their store in this city he would agree with us that "the half has not been told."

LEIS' CHEMICAL WORKS. building would not look natural without Leis' display. The mammoth bottle of Dandelion Tonic forms the top of the pyramid of this display as usual, and the fanear the cologne fountain, and while he tions with which he is constantly plied, dips a pretty card in the cologne and passes it over the counter. Hanging about on the corners of the display are the diplomas that the goods have already won. In fact persons by can be heard to say. "There is that Dandelion Tonic again; well, it is a good thing, anyhow." And they are right, it is a good thing. The ladies, of course, swear (or as near as they ever do swear) by the German Baking Powder. That is their friend, and they are not at all stinted in Beauty; 164 White Seek-no-Further; their words of praise for it. The fruit extracts also have their friends by the hundreds, who would not place one particle of dependence upon you if you should pretend to doubt that they are the very best. In fact the surest proof of the value of the goods of their manufacture is the grand building which they are just completing at a cost of fifty thousand dollars. When that building is completed they nope to be able to manufacture as fast as the demand increases and even push business. The citizens of Lawrence can point with pride to the display of the Leis Chemical Works because every article is made here, and it is all of the very best. THE WHITE SEWING MACHINE.

In the west wing, south side, we found our friend Richey with the White Sewing Machines. We thought, when we saw the machine last year, that it was about as near perfect as it well could be, but they that are patent to every observer. The new automatic bookin winder, that winds every bobbkin as smooth as a spool of silk, is a big improvement. Specimens of the work of the machine, are hanging on all sides of the booth. The picture of Garaeld in white silk on a black back-ground has a crowd of admirers around it nearly all the time. To show that it does not take an artist or a professional to do good work on the White Mr. Richey takes a little girl and seats her at a machine and it seems to run almost automatically, in fact the machine will almost run itself. It is perhaps unfair for us to say it, but we can do good work ourself on a White machine. The merits claimed by the manufacturers for the machine is: "In principle, simple; in construction, faultless; in movement, positive; a space on the north side, near these n action, reliable; in operation, easy; in with the Osborn self-binder, in t results, satisfactory; its durability unques- self-rake, dropper and mowe tioned; to see pleases; in appearance, handsome; to try convinces." Mr. J. T. can see their complete workings. Richey, the agent, will be happy to give as if they were in the open field. any information that may be desired in which first attracted our atte. regard to the machine.

JAMES HEWSON & CO. At the southwest corner of the center of the building is the display of James Hew- that they have an established reputation, son & Co., of Kansas City. As we walked up to this, booth we were handed a hot possible every year to make some improve biscuit, (very welcome we assure you) well buttered. The biscuit was made with ground is covered with plows of every Hewson's French Baking Powder. The biscuit were superb and were a practical illustration of the intrinsic value of the goods manufactured by Hewson & Co. To each person who stopped to admire their display a handsome cook book was handed out, even the little children were not forgotten. They had a host of picture cards, and they distributed them with a lavish hand. Hewson & Co. manufacture their own goods. Their French baking powder is an article that has stood the test of the best chemists in the United States, and they invite an equally severe test on every other article of their manutacplay of Steinberg Bros. This is the same ture. Probably in the whole West row and the revolving harrow, the Eclipse location they had last year, and they have there is not a larger manufactory even outdone themselves. A merchant of than theirs, and their guarantee Kansas City, who saw them while arrang- of absolute purity is well maintained. Their new factory at Kansas City contains over 12,000 feet on the floors. They manufacture and make a specialty of the French Baking Powder, flavoring extracts cremore for the teeth, laundry blue, cocoa cream for the hair, stove polish, &c. We hope to be able to say still more of the exhibits of the main building before the week is out. In fact we hardly know where to stop, and would not now if t were possible to stretch our space just a

THE MAIN BUILDING.

It is an immense cherry that will make two bites, especially if we have the first bite, yet we found out that we could not swallow it whole. When we thought of how meagerly we had touched the splendid display of Steinberg Bros., the only one of all our merchants who had the enterpriss to make a display, we resolved to go back and if powble make a little amend. The house of Steinberg was established in this city many years ago. Through all of our reveraes he has stood by the tarmers. If the crops failed, if the grasshoppers deyoured they were kind hearted and lenient. They cast their lot here and shared all the burdens as well as the prosperity that has been meted out to our people. They have passed the season of distress and we all rejoice in their prosperity. This display is an honor to the city. No house in the state can show a more complete stock and more or finer goods for the money. Mr. Spaulding showed us a satin-lined overcoat complete as the tailor's art can make it for $35, and then shows us all the grades down to a three dollar coat that certainly keep the cold out. A case of silk handkerchiefs shows the same wide range of have been able to find some improvements quality and price. Neckwear, hats and caps, shirts-the plainest to the very best that any market affords-are all there. One cannot spend a pleasanter hour than in looking over this display of Steinbergs.

JUSTUS HOWELL. Taking a stroll from the main building south, we met on our way a traction engine, that seems as easy to control as a hand cart. It turns about to the right or left in a space little longer than itself; is backed up and twisted in and out among the myriad of people, and machinery scattered about with the agility of a dog We are told that this is a part of the i.s play of Justus Howell, and as we hunt 41.. out and are shown through the ir agricultural implements that he has a hibition. In Machinery hall he occ i i Nicholls & Shepard, and near tor thresher made by the same . n machines have been so long in the their own, and one only wonders that it is ment in them. Nearly half an acre of conceivable pattern. Steel beam plows breaking plows, stubble plows, all handsomely painted, and the bernished mouldboards reflecting surrounding objects clearly as a mirror. The Bain farm wagon or the Watertown spring wagon are simply perfect as regards beauty and durability. The Davis improved hay stacker attracts a great deal of attention, because it is in operation and one can see just how it works. It is a very perfect piece of machinery, and will do in five minutes what five men could not do in an hour. Then there is the spring tooth harwind mill, and the Smith roller attachment for grain drills. A man who stood by said he had used one of the latter last year; that he sowed three pecks of grain to the acre, and yet it was too thick, and that this year he should not use over one-half bushel to the acre. From his three pecks or seed he got an average of fifty bushels will be glad to greet you and convince you, per acre. Mr. Howell has an abundance show how nearly perfect the machinery he represents will work. At his store in this city he has almost anything a farmer can the Domastic [sewing] machine that were possibly use, and he will not have an ar and wire, strong, durable and withal handsome. It is hog, chicken, we might almost say rat proof. As an ornamental fence it is now the most popular. It is called the Frye Combination Anti-Monopoly Barb Fence. As we said before, it is a new fence in this section. The first piece of it that we know to have been constructed was about two miles west of the city, by manufacture at Kansas City.

They got away with the blue ribbon, a man who wanted it for a corral. It was doubtful whether, as a corral fence it would be a success. In a few weeks the first purchaser came back, bringing with him his brother, and both purchased largely of the fence. Now the section about that first purchaser is almost entirely surrounded by that fence. It is a tight fence will turn anything, will not tear your stock the many testimonials of those who have used the fence: CORNING, IOWA, Sept. 1, 1882. This is to certify that I have used Frye's Combination Wire Fence. 1 put it around my corral, where I pen 125 head of cattle every night, with hogs and stock on each side of the fence, and they fail to go through the fence. Previous to putting up said fence I had a five and six board fence around the same and my stock were going through it regularly. I find the Combination Fence to be a fence that will turn all stock bred upon a farm. I take pleasure in recommending it to other farmers.

Mr, Deming takes pleasure in showing his fence to any who may call upon him. Their factory is on Pinckney street in this

THE LAWRENCE PLOW COMPANY. No exhibit on the grounds, or indeed that we ever saw, begins to compare in magnitude with that of the Lawrence plow company this year. They occupy half tell us a little of the mysteries of bows of one entire wing of machinery hall and building. In machinery hall they have in operation the Buckeye self binder, self rake, dropper, reaper and mower and a mammoth corn sheller, suitable for an elevator. This corn sheller was a big attraction as it threw the corn one way and the cobs another, and received universal praise for the perfection of its work, What shall we say of their outside show? They course we can only pick out the features which were the most notable. A Holliday wind mill running a corn sheller and that working like magic drew around it an imtwo rock drills, one of which was running by steam and had already bored a hole over one hundred feet under the grounds of Bismarck; all of these were attractions that drew a constant throng. Plows, harrows, wagons, drills-all of the Plow Company's manufacture, were much admired, more especially by those who knew of their sterling worth by practical test.

The goods of the manufacture of the Lawrence Plow Company need no recommend. The have stood the test of years of use. One who stands upon the platform of either of the depots of this city any day can see car loads of scrapers being shipped away for the use of the railroad companies themselves. Railroad companies buy the tra, and will make a fitting restingbest of tools, au clieuren is a big atem in the receipts of the Plow Company. We hope none of our readers will stop at sive stock carried by Abernathy, North our description of this grand display, but that all will go and see for themselves.
"GOT THERE."

One of the most smiling faces that we met as we entered the grounds yesterday was that of Justus Howell. He was one of the crowd that "attended the races and won." We must come over and see the banner of blue silk that hung at the head of his display. It was the first prize "for the best display of implements and machinery by a dealer." Even Mr. Howell's competitors felt like ktaking him by the hand and congratulating him on the taste he had shown in arrangement and the size and magnificence of his show. On the Union grain drill, one of his pets, also hung a blue ribbon, and Howell said it was "glory enough for one day." We found at once that this was going to be blue ribbon day, and were prepared to meet radiant or despondent faces as the decision of judges had placed the signal of success. Mr. Hewson, of James Hewson & Co., met us as we entered the main building, and said: "Do you see that from the Kansas City Journal?" We read the following:

A CLEAN SWEEP. - JAMES HEWSON & CO., OF THIS CITY, SCOOP IN ALL THE HON -

TO BE HAD AT BISEARCK. Our enterprising manufacturers, James Hewson & Co., have been distin-guishing themselves at the Bismark air as they do everywhere. Their display was a conspicuous attraction and who exhibited an uncommon interest in the artistic manner in which the celebrated French baking powder, handsomely put up, was shown in all sizes of packages. Two fountains throwing out seductive odors charmed throwing out sequence odors charmed the ladies who were delighted with ing that is a credit to themselves and to the perfumeries manufactured by Jas. the city. The Missouri Valley Horticul

Hewson & Co. Hundreds of perfurm ed of perfumed cards and packets are given away. No other place in the building exhibited so much vivacity and so contant an attendance as this exhibit. Messrs Hewson & Co. also show a full line of toilet articles, faney soaps, their famous flavoring extracts, blueing, and a hundred articles of a miscellaneous character which they making a clean sweep on best display of baking powder, flavoring extracts, perfumeries and toilet articles is not surprising, as they have always won the highest honors eyer since they commenced displaying their products and there is no one more fairly enti tled to such distinction than James to pieces if they happen to rub against it Hewson & Co., who rank foremost and is so cheap as to be within the means among the legitimate manufacturers of any ordinary farmer. Here is one of of the West, as their French baking power and other products rank fore-most among the best articles of their kind. It is probable they will even exceed their display at our own fair next week.

They, too, had got away with the blue banner for the best display-all they competed for-and the verdict of the thousands said the honor was rightly bestowed. The committee who made the examination voted by ballot, and were unanimously in favor of Hewson & Co. We hope these gentlemen will teel so elated with their honors that they will be at Bismarck again next year.

MRS. ORME.

We observed the display of millinery of Mrs. Orme the first time we entered the building, but wanted to have her and ribbons, feathers and straws; but fully two acres of the ground north of that bless you, she hadn't time to do ither department was surrounded by an eager throng of questioners all the time. One case of pattern hats was so constantly surrounded that one could barely get a peep into it. In this case was shown some of the prettiest blending of colors that it has been our fortune to meet with. Another case con had ninety-two seperate entries. Of tained the "raw material" from which bows, etc., are concocted. Velvets, satins and silks in all the most enticing shades, besides ostrich feathers as long as the moral law. A parrot, with which was running a threshing machine; its various-colored plumage, sat in one corner of a case and held in his bill an elegant piece of plum velvet. Mrs. Orme's millinery has a well-earned reputation in this city and she was the only one of all our dealers who had the courage to face competition at Bismarck. She has good reason to be proud of her success this year. THE BABY BED.

> The prize baby bed, offered by Abernathy, North & Orrison, of Kansas City, to the handsomest baby and won by Mrs. Wheeler's baby of this city. was an object of unusal interest. It looks as if made for a modern Cleopaplace for the handsomest baby in Kansas. Those who have seen the exten-& Orrison, said that the bed was but a sample of the goods of all kinds they had in stock, and that this prize was a small sample of the enterprise and generosity for which they are noted.

COULD NOT COMPETE. Leis Chemical Manufacturing Company, because Mr. Lais was one of the directors of the Fair Association, could not compete for the prizes offered. They have hanging about in their display not only diplomas of former fairs, but certificates of government tests. The government has used car loads of their baking powder, which is proof positive of its high standard of excellence. The goods of the Leis Chemical Manufacturing Company will bear the strictest test at all times, and are daily becoming more popular.

LAWRENCE PLOW COMPANY. Another of the fortunate ones who carried off a host of prizes, was the Lawrence Plow Company. They had the red banner for "the best display of implements and machinery by a dealer." They also had a score of blue ribbons, among which we noticed one tied to their horse fork, farm wagon, straw cutter, easy cultivator, sulky rake, Keystone portable steam drill and Cortland spring wagon. One of the matters of especial; congratulation in this is that most of the premiums carried off were on goods of the Plow Company's own manufacture. In fact, constantly surrounded by a throng most of their grand display was of goods of their own make.

ALEX. MARKS & BRO.

The oldest jewelry house in Lawrence makes a display in the main buildtural society evidently thought they had the best display it was possible to make, for they have put in one of their handsome silver fruit stands or dishes of pears and one of peaches that do credit to the Missouri valley. Alex. Marks & Bro. are known far and wide as the leading jewelers of Lawrence, and when we say that their display of watches, fine jewelry, diamonds, etc., was creditable to them, we have said that no jeweler in the West could make a better display.

Religion in the Woods.

The famous literary and religious campmeeting at Chautauqua, New York, was as prosperous this year as formerly. There was a very large attendance, and fully 1,500 persons were graduated after several years' course of study in history and science, This center represents an immense number of students all over the country who pursue their studies during the year and attend the meetings at Chautauqua in summer. This is a voluntary religious and literary movement of a very curious character, and is doing a world of good. -[Demorast's Monthly for October.

[Reported for the SPIRIT OF KANSAS by E. B. GOOD, Grocer, 71 Massachusetts street, Lawrence, Kansas 1

As we predicted two weeks ago fair week brought to the city great quantities of packed butter that farmers had been storing up for a big price. In the mean time dealers, as soon as the price run up to thirty cents per pound retail, ordered from Iowa creameries, so that there was no dearth at all. Most of the butter our farmers had packed was of an inferior quality, much of it strong, and the result was that thousands of pounds could not be sold at any price. As a rule it will not pay to pack butter in Kansas to hold more than ten days, and even then it wants an extra good cellar to keep it good. We are sorry for those who lost, yet we did the best in our power to warn them in advance.

There are few changes to note in our quotations. Green corn, Summer squash and grapes have disappeared entirely, and the later and more solid vegetables have taken their places

DR. T. W. THORNTON & CO., Kansas City, Missouri, will perfectly cure all cases of PILES, FISTULA, and all itching Diseases of the Skin, of however long standing, and of the worst WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE OR CAUSTIOS!

Treatment mild, with but little pain, no detention from business, and no danger to be feared from treatment. We use a method which is new and never fails to cure. No pay asked until patient is entirely cured. Constitutional examinations free. Charges moderate. A competent female attendant for female patients. Odice—No. 712 Wyandotte street.

Below we give the names of a few persons who have been cured by us; they can be consulted by letter or otherwise. The names of ladies will not be made public:
