Have you been to a museum sale lately? No, you don't hear about many museums selling out; but that's what many of the local farm sales are. Besides the usual list of machinery and household goods you will find many items which hearken back to earlier days. Such items as coffee grinders, apple peelers, two-man saws, horsecollars, sad irons, and washboards to mention just a sampling.

Whether you buy or not, a trip to one of these farm sales can be quite rewarding. Besides seeing these antique items you will have the satisfaction of being on the very place where they were used. If you go to buy, some of these museum articles would make real conversation pieces for your living room. Grandma might laught at seeing them in the front room, but they can be real curiosity items.

Next time there is a farm sale in your area, pack the wife and kids in the car and head for the hills. You may be driving back a few years

Take Another Step To Merge Churches Of 25 Million Protestants

ATLANTA, Ga. - An unprecedented movement to unite the 25 million members of nine Protestant denominations into one Christian church has been outlined. It is the latest step in an eight-year ecumenical venture by a group called the Consultation of Church Union — COCU.

No vote was planned immediately on the unity proposal. And actual church union is not expected for several years. Some representatives say final unity if at all - will not come until the late 1970's.

The Rev. Dr. William Benfield Jr., of Charleston, W.Va., chairman of a union commission, presented the plan to 250 representatives of the nine denominations at COCU's eighth annual meeting.

As proposed, the new church - still unnamed - would have three levels of ecclesiastical offices and four geographical organizations.

"There is no more exciting possibility for renewal of the church in America," said the Rev. Dr. Paul A. Crow Jr., general secretary of the group. But he added that "tired, jittery or impatient churchmen could "stifle" the massive unity move-

The participating churches are the African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion, Christian Methodist Episcopal, the Christian Church sometimes called the Disciples of Christ, Episcopal Church, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., the United Church of Christ, the United Methodist Church and the United Presbyterian Church in the

Among other highlights of the outline are:

-The offices or orders would include bishops at the district, regional and national levels. presbyters who would be leaders of parishes and congregations and deacons working in specialized ministries.

The church would have parishes - one or more congregations not necessarily geographically defined, districts and a national assembly.

-The national body would be composed of bishops, presbyters, deacons and laity, elected to it by the regions.

USDA Asks Wheatmen For Trade Advice

The Agriculture Department plans to meet April 2 with farm and grain trade officials to hear views on the International Grain Arrangement.

A spokesman said the meeting was called to review the IGA and to hear recommendations from private sectors.

The IGA is a treaty which sets up minimum and maximum prices for wheat among major exporting and importing

There has been considerable controversy over price levels since the treaty was put into ef. fect last July, including charges that some countries have not abided by the rates.

Canada announced last Fri. day that it was forced to cut its minimum wheat price by about three cents a bushel below the IGA minimum to remain competitive in world trade

An Agriculture Department official said Monday he did not think Canada's action meant the IGA would be affected ser. iously, but that it could cause serious repercussions among other wheat nations.

Fertilize From Air

NESS CITY - While many residents are complaining about the weather, the farmers are hurrahing about it, and many here are getting ready to fertilize their fields by airplanes.

Two co-ops in Ness City have gone together in supplying nitrogen fertilizer to pilots, who have equipped planes to drop it on farmer's fields. The dry fertilizer, according to Richard James, branch manager of the Ness City Co-op, is ideal for the wet fields.

The nitrogen, which composes 33 per cent of the fertilizer that will be dropped, has a great affinity for water. It will land on the fields, drop through the snow by sheer weight of the small particles, and the melting snow will push it further down.

James says, however, that the snow isn't necessary for use of the fertilizer since it would dissolve in the humidity in the inadequate housing.

"It is intolerable that thousands of rural communities in this land of material affluence should be without modern water and sewer systems.

"While lit is too early to report recommendations, I can say that our goal is to help expand opportunity - economic, cultural and social - not only for the 10 million people on farms but for the other approximately 45 million residents living in the countryside as well," he promised.

Hardin reminded the NFU that President Nixon had set the goal of an agricultural economy "keyed to opportunity and abundance with family farm enterprise as its cornerstone."

He said agriculture's excess productivity "is and for years has been a topic of major concern to our commercial producers."

He told the farmers they must face the fact that excess capacity to produce will almost certainly continue to be a problem throughout the coming decade.

"What type of programs we are going to propose to meet the overall problem of excess capacity has, quite frankly, not yet been decided," he said.

"Fortunately, there is time to propose, study, analyze and debate," he added, noting the 1965 act does not expire until Citing the deep concern about the climb in the volume and value of farm exports, Hardin said, "Until the past two years, exports were the most rapidly expanding sector of the market for farm products. After reaching a high mark of $6.8 billion in fiscal 1967, they dropped to $6.3 billion in fiscal 1968.

"This year, we anticipate that the value of farm product shipments will be about $6 billion. Dollar sales, including barter, should approach $5 billion, somewhat under last year's totals," he said.

He told of the creation in the USDA of an Export Marketing Service, headed by a general sales manager.

"This export marketing service will place new emphasis on programs relating to agricultural exports, especially exports for dollars."

He said the complex America of today is such that problems of the farm and rural community or of inner cities and suburbs are all interconnected, all inter-

In another area of concern, Hardin said the existence of malnutrition in the U.S. will be met through developing a comprehensive food distribution program.

Hardin has been appointed by the President as chairman of a committee on food and nutri-

He said his group is "going into this matter of malnutrition in America very thoroughly and will make some recommendations at an early date.

"We have begun to chart the course. Let us now begin to go forward toward the efficient, flourishing agricultural economy, keyed to opportunity and abundance, that is our mutual desire," he concluded.

Adhesives Help Handyman Solve Sticky Jobs

The home handyman's ability to stick to a job and get it done, may be due in part to the availability of new and effective adhesives.

According to a building trade journal, the variety and consumption of adhesives, glues and epoxies - used for home remodeling and commercial jobs is vast. A survey of the adhesive market drew manufacturers' estimates of $22 million gallons of adhesive annually for ceramic wall tile alone, and a total consumption of 3.7 billion pounds of chemical adhesives for one year - equivalent to the use of 18.5 pounds of adhesive by each person in the country. The phenomenal increase results from the wide variety suitable for practically any type of application job, plus their ease of application and effective holding power. There are special adhesives for plastic laminates, wall panels, ceramic tiles, acoustical ceiling tiles, indoor and outdoor carpeting, vinyl flooring, foam insulation, furring strips and underlayment.

One of the most popular types is panel adhesives. They eliminate face nailing of wall panels and are said to improve shock resistance and provide better acoustics than a nail application.

Also used extensively by homeowners are the new epoxies - tough, two-component adhesives which allow durable bonding of various types of material to one another — such as concrete to wood or metal.

Dainty Dwarf Dahlias

One of the most rewarding efte sow a packet of seed of dwarf dahlias. This is because the results are so entrancing.

of little dahlias are available. The Coltness hybrids have single flowers; the Unwin hybrids have mostly semi-double but occasionally a plant with fullydouble blossoms.

Several selections have been made from the Unwin group an extra — early blooming mixture called Early Bird, which produces plants three inches shorter than the 15-inch tall Unwin's in a full range of colors.

And another mixture from which many of the whites and yellows have been eliminated, thus giving a darker-colored overall appearance to a bed of these dahlias.

It takes only four months or a bit less from the time seeds are sown until the little plants start to bloom. It's such fun to watch as the blossoms on each opens — to see the four, color and flower size.

These little fellows are easy dahlias to grow. Set out the plants in a sunny place where the soil is good, spacing them 19 inches apart. No need to pinch them back as is done with large dahlias.

Most of the time there is only a single flower on a cuttinglength stem. Sometimes a few buds appear. If you want flowers a bit larger than 3-inch diameter, take them off.

Look For More Soybean Changes

The price-support rate for 1969 crop soybeans will be $2.25 a bushel for No. 1 soybeans. This compares with $2.50 a bushel for No. 2 beans for the three previous crops. Considering the change in the base grade, the reduction in the loan level will be around 30 cents a bushel.

The first major effect of the lower support level will be to reduce income for soybean growers by about 30 cents a bushel. Since the 1969 crop may total about 1 billion bushels, the lot of farm income could be nearly $300 million.

We won't try to judge the reduction of the soybean pricesupport level in terms of justice to soybean producers. We will outline some of the economic developments that led to the cut in the loan rate.

The soybean industry has grown at a phenomenal rate during the past 40 years. Soybeans now are the second-ranking cash crop in the United States. (Corn is first, by a small margin). The production of soybeans increased from less than 10 million bushels in 1928 to 1,080 million bushels last year. For many years, the demand for soybeans grew as fast as production. There was a great need for soybean meal as a high-protein feed for livestock and poultry; also, a strong demand for soybean oil for making margarine, shortening, cooking and salad oils, and the Domestic use and exports of soybeans, together, kept pace with production until about three years ago. But everybody and his brother has gotten into soybean production - creating an increase of more than 50 per cent in just the past four years. Soybeans are now grown from Nebraska to Ohio and from Minnesota to Mississippi, and soybeans are the only major U.S. crop without acreage controls.

Carryover stocks swelled from 36 million bushels in 1966 to 90 million in 1967 and 167

WAYNE SOW BLOX

Bigger, healthier litters on less feed

The key is to limit intake but not vital nutrition. Every sow is assured of an abundance of proteins, vitamins and minerals needed to build large litters with vitality. You can do it on less feed at lower cost with Wayne Sow Blox.

- Regulates vital nutrition of sow herd. Every sow gets her share.
- · Prevents undesirable overfat sows. Uniform weight control.
- Produces pigs with more vigor and resistance to scours.
- · Very little waste. Feed them anywhere.

million last fall. By September 1, carryover stocks will be about 325 million bushels. At this rate, the government seems likely to have around a billion dollars tied up in soybeans within another year or so.

For some time, it has appeared that the USDA would have to adopt one of the following alternatives: (1) get more money from Congress for price-support loans, (2) reduce the price support level, or (3) impose acreage restrictions. The recent reduction in the price-support level for soybeans will tend to reduce the amount of money required for price support; also, slow down the increase in soybean production and stimulate domestic use and exports.

We believe, however, that further changes will be needed. These changes may be an additional reduction in the price-support level or acreage restrictions, or both. Congress may establish a specific program for soybeans when the present farm legislation comes up for revision and extension.

construct its anhydrous ammon which was denied the right to ia tank within the city limit here last month, recently decid ed to locate tanks in Gorhan and Dorrance.

Agco had begun construction of a tank at 10th and Fossil in Russell, after checking with of ficials, when the company was informed that it would have to have the approval of the City Planning Commission to store fertilizer in the city.

The Planning Commission turned down Agoo's request to located the tanks within the city limits. The action occurred only three days after the disaster in Crete, Nebr., when a railroad car of anhydrous ammonia ex ploded, killing several citizens and injuring others.

The new tank in Gorham will be operated in partnership with the Gorham Farmer's Co-op. The tank located in Dorrance will be operated exclusively by the Ageo Co-op. It will serve the eastern part of the co-op's trade territory, including Russell

Sunflower Not Sweet To Iowans —They Call It Noxious Weed

The sunflower may be honored in Kansas, but it's just a weed in oIwa.

The wild sunflower has been placed on the Iowa list of secondary noxious weeds by the state legislature in Des Moines.

The lawmakers consented to the measure after being told the sunflower was an economic threat to Iowa crops, particularly soybeans, because they rob the soil of moisture.

When Kansas Governor Robert Docking heard of the Iowa legislation, he was moved to write to a former Kansan in Iowa: "The sunflower is a noble plant; versatile, benign, filled with all manner of good things. Honey is made from its blossoms and dyes from its petals. Its seeds can be ground into an excellent poultry feed; roasted they can be eaten like peanuts; ground into flour, they are used to make bread and pastry.

"Sunflower oil overflows with vitamins A, B and D. In quality it equals the best vegetable oil. It is used in making oleomargarine, shortening, soap, candles, paints, varnishes, illuminating fluids and fuels. Packed with proteins and vitamins and low in calories, it is becoming one of the world's most versatile foods."

The governor pointed out that the sunflower is grown commercially in many countries of

Finally, the Governor noted: "We should not ban this elegant growth but praise it, defending its virtues against all who would attack it."

After all the flowery prose, however, Governor Docking noted that the Kansas legislature in 1917 had also mentioned the sunflower among noxious

Commission Co., Inc. Sale Every Thursday

We had a real large run of cattle at our sale last Thursday. Consigned from 143 different owners, these were all fresh cattle from farmers and ranthers from as far away as 100 miles. We had plenty of buyers, local and out-of-state that competed very strongly with each other. Prices on 1 all classes of cattle were steady to strong. Compare our prices on catthe with any other market, then onsign them to the MANHATTAN COMMISSION CO., INC. and we assure you we will sort your cattle so they will bring you top dollars.

Set Details On Geary-Dickinson Angus Day

JUNCTION CITY — The 44th Better Livestock Dan, sponsored by the Geary-Dickinson Angus Association, which has been held annually since 1926, will be Thursday, April 17, at the Dean Felbush farm, Abilene, Kansas. The Felbush farm is located 5½ miles south of Abilene on K-15.

Recognized as the oldest and largest Angus Field Day in the nation, this event annually attracts around 1000 4-H and FFA youths in the morning judging contest.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. and a type demonstration will be presented at 9:00 a.m. The judging contest, consisting of four bull and four female classes will follow with personnel from Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kans., making the official placings.

A large traveling trophy will be awarded to the high FFA, 4-H Boy and 4-H Girl teams. Other trophies to be presented will include a trophy to the winning Chamber of Commerce team and to the high individual judge in the adult division.

Over 70 head of Angus cattle will be exhibited and used in the judging contest. One of the highlights of the day will be the noon meal which will feature smoked barbecued beef served by wives of the two-county

Shearing School At Hutchinson

Applications for a statewide sheep shearing school at Hutchinson April 10-11, are still being accepted, reports V. E. McAdams, Extension livestock specialist at Kansas State Univer-

The 2-day school is designed to teach beginners this specialized trade by actual practice. Students may learn the fundamentals and develop confidence to do the job.

The participating sheepmen will learn, 1) standard methods of holding the animal to save time and labor; 2) safe handling of sheep; 3) equipment handling and care; and 4) tying the fleece.

The main requirement for students is a desire to learn how to shear sheep, McAdams reports. Participants need to bring work clothes for the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. sessions. The enrollment fee is $3.

The Sunbeam Corporation, Chicago, will provide the instructor and equipment for the school. Charles Swain, Drakesville, Iowa, will teach this Kansas State University sponsored school.

McAdams says interested persons can get more information about the school and can make application by contacting local county Extension offices.

Dole Asks Early Wheat Pay

Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., has introduced legislation to provide advance payment to Kansas and other wheat growers of the nation on domestic wheat marketing certificates...

Under normal procedure of the Department of Agriculture, payment of wheat certificates does not start until after July 1, the beginning of the new marketing season, and continues three months.

Introducing the legislation, Sen. Dole praised President Richard Nixon's payments of up to 50 per cent at sign-up time to feed grain, wheat and small cotton producers of acreage diversion payments.

"My bill," Dole told the Senate. "would just step up by several months the wheat payments which otherwise will not be made until much later this

Dole's bill directs the secretary of agriculture to make payments to wheat producers in advance of the determination of the value of the certificates with adjustments to be made in the balance of such payments.

Marion To Drop Coyote Bounty

HILLSBORO - The Marion county commissioners have decided to eliminate the bounty offered on coyotes after the current year.

Several counties in the state have discontinued the $2 bounty for a pair of coyote ears.

Marion county will pay bounty the remainder of the year, but no bounty will be budgeted for 1970.

The commission has been told of plans by the city of Florence to annex 99 acres at the north-west edge of Florence. April 7 has been set for the hearing on the annexation petition.

Pre-emergent Herbicide for Corn, Sorghum (Milo)

It's clean-up time. Time to protect your corn, sorghum and your profits. Time for Ramrod—the dependable herbicide for foxtail, other grasses, and many broadleafs, too.

Weeds can choke young corn or sorghum to death Pre-emergent Ramrod stops weeds at the right time before they emerge. And it keeps your fields clean up to 8 weeks—till crops are old enough to protect themselves. At harvest, you'll find fewer weeds causing problems.

And check the Ramrod price this year. You're in for a pleasant surprise.

Acreage Forecast About On Target

Cotton acreage will rise about 1969 cotton program was an-10% this year, but feedgrain acreage will be about the same as last year's, the Agriculture Department forecast on the basis of farmers' March 1 planting intentions.

The projections suggest that production of cotton and feed grains this year won't vary much from the previous estimates made by department planners.

Cotton acreage this year is expected to equal slightly more than 12 million acres, up from 10.9 million in 1968 and about 9.5 million in 1967. Taking this into account that a smaller number of acres actually will be harvested, a department cotton analyst said it seems likely that a crop of approximately 12 million bales will be produced in 1969. This forecast compares with the 12 million to 12.5 million the department projected last year at the time the

Concordia To Vote On A Wheel Tax

CONCORDIA — Citizens here will vote April 1 whether or not they want to impose a $10 per vehicle wheel tax. If the proposal passes, Concordia would be the first city in Kansas to have a wheel tax. If it passes, the tax would raise about $26,000, to be used for street improvements and traffic regulation.

Last year's cotton crop amounted to 10.8 million bales If the 1969 crop projection is realized, cotton inventories on Aug. 1, 1970, the start of the crop year, are likely to be about 6.5 million bales, or roughly the same figure that is projected for Aug. 1 this year, the analyst said.

Plantings of feed grains corn, sorghum, barley and oats based on the March 1 survey, are expected to total 115.8 million acres this year, almost the same as the 116 million planted in 1968.

Total feed grain production in 1969, therefore, is expected to be about the same as the 168 million tons harvested last year. But the department hopes that by Sept. 1, 1970, the start of the feedgrain marketing year, stocks will be down somewhat from the 47 million tons calculated for Sept. 1 this year.

For corn alone, farmers indicated they would plant 64,-409,000 acres, close to the 64,-787,000 actually planted last year. In 1967 planted corn acres totaled 71,093,000.

According to the survey, farmers intend to plant slightly under 43 million acres in soybeans, a 3.4% rise from 1968. It seems likely, however, that the 25 cent a bushel reduction in the Federal price support loan for soybeans will lower this

As previously reported, the department expects soybean production to approximate the more than one billion bushels harvested in 1968, the support drop notwithstanding.

Grizzly Count

Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, who flew to Florida last week to check on the alligator supply, announced that the gnizzly bear out West is doing okay.

"The grizzly bear is not now threatened with extinction in the United States," Hickel said.

This good news for bear backers was offset by some alarm. ing tidings for admirers of the American peregrine falcon.

You know -- duck hawks.

The peregrine falcon, Hickel said, is severely depleted throughout its range and no longer is nesting in the eastern part of the country.

"Pesticides are suspected as the cause of its decline," the department said.

Probably few birds can fly faster than this powerful falcon, and the department fears it is racing toward extinction.

But Hickel said the grizzly population in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado has remained stable at about 800 animals in recent years. There are larger numbers in Alaska and Canada.

"Wild life managers believe that this mammal of the West is assured survival because it is managed as a game species under state laws," the department said. "Protection in nation

Bennett said automobile dealers have sometimes agreed to hold title on cars sold in late December. Thus, if a person traded cars every year with a cooperative dealer, he would escape property taxes on his automobile altogether.

Another method of avoiding payment, Bennett said, is for a husband to sign his car to his wife in late December. His wife takes advantage of the legal waiting period allowed for certification of the title to the state.

Then, in early January, the wife signs the car back to her husband. The result is that no one legally owns the car on Jan. 1 and thus no taxes are assessed against it.

Another tax reform bill tentatively approved would force livestock owners moving stock out-of-state for part of a year to show proof taxes were paid on the livestock in another state or become liable for Kansas taxes.

Another bill would allow cities and counties to contract for payment in lieu of taxes for property held in a so-called Kansas freeport — a building which houses goods destined for sale outside the state.

A fourth tax reform bill was held over for further study. The bill would force livestock owners to average their stock on a monthly basis for tax pur-

Livestock owners now have the option of averaging their inventory or of paying taxes only on livestock in their possession on Jan. 1.

$13 million export elevator 25 miles up the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

Ellender pointed out that farmers have grown in their ability to produce. They have exported enough farm products in the past few years to help stem the tide of a declining trade balance and have helped the "balance of gold" problem for the U.S.

He praised the more than a million farmers who in eight states including Kansas, have foreign markets at this southern port of the U.S. Earlier, Ed Janke, newly namd governor of the Farm Credit System, had told the group the new elevator facility was "a start. We have made provisions to get this grain funneled here joined together Farmers Export Co. to furnish an outlet to to this facility - and we are at the apex of this funnel. "Now we must move ahead. We have made the beginning and in the coming years, we will realize the benefits." More than 200 persons, including several from Kansas, were on hand at dedication activities at the elevator site Friday morning.

NFU Favor For Payment Limit

National Farmers Union (NFU) ended its 67th annual convention here with hot debate over its stand on, farm projects.

In a vote in which repeated attempts to amend were defeated, NFU recommended a limitation of payments to farm program cooperators. The maximum set was $37,500.

The limitation would be applied on a graduated scale allowing cooperators due up to $25,000 a 100 per cent payment;

Last Grocery In Town Closes Doors

The Ash Grocery store has disposed of its merchandise and the first store in Roxbury, also was the last.

H. H. Helzer, Gypsum, bought the groceries for his expanding business at Gypsum, and Clifford Urbanek, Gypsum, purchased the notions, drugs and other merchandise.

Oliver Ash sold his store for health reasons, but since he is postmaster too, he will re-do the inside of the building and keep the postoffice.

Ash said good roads and good cars, in addition to health reasons, caused him to quit. He said many of the town's 130 residents do much of their shopping at Lindsborg and Salina.

The original business was started in 1872 by B. B. Gates and was Roxbury's first store. Ash recalls he started working in the store in 1931 when it was owned by the late W. R. Lilly, who ran the store 40 years before selling to Oliver and Ralph Ash.

Oliver Ash opened the general store in 1951. At one time, the store had benches so neighbors could gather, "but we've had it too crowded with goods in later years."

Roxbury had as many as three such store at one time, Ash said. With the Ash grocery closed, the town still has a bank, two service stations, a grain elevator, a welding and blacksmith shop and its own telephone system.

"We must have one of the few remaining old switchboardtype phone systems in the state," Ash said with pride.

He said he didn't know the future plans for the postoffice or his own position as postmaster. "We won't close the doors as long as the postoffice is here," Ash said.

Sheep Day At KSU April 7

MANHATTAN - A look at sheep programs for today and tomorrow will be emphasized at the seventh annual Sheep Day at Kansas State University on Monday, April 7.

Dr. Hudson Glimp, sheep researcher at the New Meat Animal Research Center, Clay Center, Nebraska, will be the major guest speaker at the 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 pm. affair.

Several K-State researchers will also report on various phases of the current KSU sheep research at Manhattan, Colby, and Garden City. These include Dr. David Ames, Dr. Don Kropf, Clifford Spaeth, and Dr. Dudley Arnett.

A special feature of this year's program will be the dedication of the new 18,000 square foot sheep research facility. This $100,000 plant, which replaces space destroyed by the 1966 tornado, includes modern, adaptable space for approximately 500 research animals.

Other portions of the program include a ewe-type demonstration, Kansas lamb production demonstration results, and a business meeting of the Kansas Sheep and Wool Growers, directed by President Leslie Kohl, Wichita

The Sheep Day program will be held in Weber Hall, reports Dr. Ames, program chairman. A noon lamb luncheon will be provided in the Weber Hall arena.

Members of the Sheep and Wool auxiliary will have a special program and business meeting for the ladies.

Herington Livestock Auction Co. Herington, Kans. will have the opportunity to see some things they've never seen before at the Mid-America Farm Exposition April 8, 9 and 10 in Salina.

Display space for the exposition, which will feature a variety of labor-saving farm machinery plus the latest in farm chemicals, feed, seed and farm services - is nearly fill-

The list of equipment and supplies to be shown is long and varied, according to Ron Mercer, coordinator for the exposition jointly sponsored by the Salina Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, the Kansas Farmer-Stockman and the Kansas Power and Light Co.

In addition to displays by major manufacturers, there will be many exhibits of specialized farm supplies including cattle feeders, ensilage equipment, mixers, feed grinders, mulchers, moisture testers, trailers, sprayers, hay loaders and lawn equipment.

The event - for which there is free admission - will give farmers and ranchers not only a rare chance to see new and unusual equipment, but also the opportunity to check and compare recent development in which they are especially in-eplacement. Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin disclosed this in a of hour press conference preoding his first appearance before a major farm organization since his appointment to is job six weeks ago. He gave these reasons for the ew fund level in CCC: • Policies of Congress to replace CCC losses a year or two

In recent years, there has hen some lag in replacement funds, and, in estimates a ear ago, there seemed to be enough money available.

• As a result of larger crops in some of the commodities, inreasing the amounts of loans

Commission Company "Gail Garton - owner & manager"

Cattle sold steady here this past week except for cows which were 50¢ lower. Feeder pigs were higher, butcher hogs were steady.

There were 151 different consignor cattle and hogs this past Saturlay, which made up the largest sale since we acquired the business.

There were 69 buyers for cattle and hogs. There were 19 buyers who purchased 10 head of steers or more; 17 men who bought 10 head of heifers of more; and there were 5 cow buyers who purchased 10 head of butcher cows or more. 23 men ought feeder pigs.

This is competitive buying which offers consignors the highest prices for their stock at that time.

If you have livestock that you are thinking about selling, or if you are looking for stock to buy, consider the CLOUD COUNTY LIVESTOCK COMMISSION COMPANY as the place to do business. The following is some of the sales made this past Saturday: STOCKER & FEEDER STEERS
