President Ward Sounds Battle Cry In Defense of Farmers' Union Program and Cooperative Marketing

By President Cal A. Ward

Speaking at more than forty farmer picnics, and travelling some twenty thousand miles the last four months, has put the writer in direct touch with tens of thousands of our farmers, and their problems. This article proposes to defend cooperative marketing and speak of its gains. It has been just ten years since the 1921 drop in prices, which plunged agriculture into a to defend cooperative marketing and speak of its gains. It has been just ten years since the 1921 drop in prices, which plunged agriculture into a depression, from which it has never since recovered. Through all these years, the leading agriculturalists of the country, including our strong farm leaders, have attempted to analyze and cope with the situation, and, invariably, the result of this analysis has shown that cooperative marketing is, perhaps, the most logical and worth-while approach to the situation. Cooperative marketing has always been a foundation stone in the program of is, perhaps, the most logical and worth-while approach to the situation. Cooperative marketing has always been a foundation stone in the program of the Farmers' Union. And the leadership of our Farmers' Union organizations, throughout the country, including that of Kansas, has always been found in the front ranks, when state or national legislation was contemplated. In the early days of the Corn Belt Federation, the Kansas Farmers' Union spoke through the voices of such men as John Tromble and Clarence Brasted. At the death of Mr. Tromble, we were represented by Clarence Huff. The McNary Haugen Bill was supported by most of our farm groups. The fight was forced vigorously into Congress and this body twice passed the Bill, only to have it vetoed by the President.

During all these years, the Farmers'o Union was going forward in the development of cooperative marketing organizations, not only in Kansas, organizations, not only in Kansas but throughout the country. The principle of cooperation, especially in marketing, has always held a vital place in our program. Resolutions were always passed in its defense, not only in our national and state conventions, but also in County and Local meetings. So, it is easily seen, that the Farmers' Union has paved four's license after October 1st, 1931, that the Farmers' Union has paved four's license after October 1st, 1931, that the Farmers' Union has paved four's license after October 1st, 1931, the received to submit to an exthat the Farmers' Union has paved and led the way in cooperative mar-

The McNary Haugen bill, having failed to become a law, put every farm leader into a position of demanding that the Government give us some type of agricultural legislation, that would help the farmers out of the condition in which they are of the condition in which they are now finding themselves.

Soon after the election of Mr. Hoover to the WHEAT TO GERMANY Presidency of the United States, all were assured that a special session of Delivery to Be Made At Average Rate Congress would be held for the purpose of enacting into law, legislation that would be beneficial and helpful to farmers. The Agricultural Mar-keting Act was passed in June, 1929. Sales Represent Enlarged Use of U. It is legislation that coincides and runs parallel, in many respects, to the fundamentals and principles of the Farmers Union. The Federal Farm Board had just begun to funcwith their program, when the tion announced today (September 11) that with the approval of the Federal Wall Street stock market crash came upon us. The result was, that a bad Farm Board it has sold seven million economic situation was made worse and became more or less world-wide in its scope. A condition of industrial stagnation soon followed, resulting in a downward trend of farm commodity prices, which has prevailed continually since that time.

Economic problems are involved and the farmers are demanding that they be given the right and put in a position to market their own commodities, thus having something to say about the price they are to reschaft on September 11, and made to say about the price they are to re-ceive. The system of selling at the effective by approval of the Farm other fellow's price and of buying at his price, has about run its course. Thus, cooperative marketing is finding support at a tremendous rate, throughout the country. September---During All These Twenty-Nine Years It Has Always Been in the Forefront of the Fight for better Conditions for Agriculture

It was also the pioneer in advocating legislation for the relief of been planned, and all Farmers' Union

Together with the other farm organizations, it bombarded congress until congress was at last convinced that there was a farm problem. The McNary Haugen bill was introduced into two sessions of Congress and passed twice and was twice vetoed by the President. Then along came the two national conventions, with both old parties promising legislation to aid the farmers.

Mr. Hoover was victorious, and almost immediately after his inauguration, he called a special session of Congress and they passed what is known as the Agricultural Marketing Act. This Act, while it was not what the farm organizations wanted, was a step in the right direction. It has created a tremendous opposition from the interests which have always opposed cooperative marketing. There will undoubtedly be a fight in the next session of Congress, for its repeal and the Farmers' Union will be found fighting for its retention and for amendments that will make it more effective.

Under this Agricultural Marketing Act, great national cooperative marketing institutions have been set up, aided by government finances, but owned and controlled by the farmers themselves, the first of these, the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, was set up with ten millions of dollars capital stock, and ten millions of dollars as surplus. The stock of this corporation is owned by twenty-seven cooperative grain marketing organizations. In fact, every cooperative grain marketing organization in the United States, but one, is a stock-holder in this national grain marketing company. It is purely cooperative. In its first year's business, it handled 112,-000,000 bushels of wheat, on which the net profit of $666,000 was made. Other national cooperative associations have also been set up, such as the National Livestock Marketing Association, the National Wool-Growers' Association, and others. Our space does not permit us to go into detail on these different associations in this issue. Nearly everyone is familiar with what has been done, at least, in a general sense. We are printing below the preamble to the National Constitution of the Farmers' Union, the legislative report of the last national convention, the report of the Committee on resolutions at our last Kansas State Farmers' Union Convention, also the report of the Committee on Legislation, at the last state convention.

Speculators and those engaged in the distribution of farm products have organized and operate to the great detriment of the farming class.

To enable the farmers to meet these conditions and protect their interests, we have organized the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America, and declare the following purposes:

To establish justice.

To secure equity.

To apply the golden rule.

To discourage the credit and mortgage system.

To educate the agricultural classes in scientific farming.

To teach farmers the classification of crops, domestic economy, and the process of marketing.

To systematize methods of production and distribution.

To eliminate gambling in farm products by boards of trade and other speculators.

To bring farming up to the standard of other industries and business enterprises.

To secure and maintain profitable and uniform prices for cotton, grain, and live stock and other products of the farm.

To strive for harmony and good will among all mankind, and brotherly love among ourselves.

serious problems of employment and so-called overproduction, and

Whereas, it is a known fact that this is the richest nation in the world with an abundance of everything to supply every necessity, every comfort and every luxury of life to every American citizen, and Whereas, every thinking person must know that the present industrial depression is due to unfair marketing conditions on the one hand and to lack of equal opportunity on the other, and

Whereas, farm products are selling far below the cost of production, while millions of people are unable to buy these products at any price, and at the same time these low prices make it impossible for the farmers to purchase the products of labor;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America;

1. We realize that all producers must join hands to secure economic justice.

2. We realize that American labor must be employed at living wages before the American farmer can have a home market for his products,

3. We realize that the most serious problem in this country today is the problem of under-consumption and that over-production is largely a myth and would wholly disappear if economic justice were secured to all useful citizens.

4. We believe that this government belongs to the people and that the people have the right to use every power of the government to solve the problems which we are now facing. And for this reason we call upon the government at Washington to enact legislation which will assure to the American farmer (Continued on page 2)

IN MEMORIAM

Just a few days ago the passing of H. D. Collins came to my attention.

Being one of the younger men of the Kansas Farmers Union my acquaintance with Mr. Collins does not date back as far as others of our membership. The past 6 or 7 years I have frequently met with him and discussed the history of the Farmers' Union, its problems and opportunities. The least that can be said is that Brother Collins always was keenly interested in the Farmers Union and had a deep seated belief that its principles and purposes were fundamental.

The passing of Brother Collins brings to us again a vivid memory of the sacrifices made by the pioneers of this movement. He was with the Farmers Union and a member of it for many years. He served the organization in variouss official capacities. He for a number of years was a Director on the State Executive Board. Also, he served as a Director of the Farmers Union Mutual Insurance Com-pany and the Farmers Union Job-bing Association. At different times Mr. Collins also served his county and local in different official capacities.

Although Mr. Collins had been in failing health for a considerable time, yet his zeal for the Farmers Union never wavered. He will be remembered by a host of friends throughout the state.

Domestic consumption in Canada last year was officially estimated at around 130,000,000 bushels, while exports of wheat and flour for the crop year August through July amounted to 259,000,000 bushels. The new crop appears to be of good quality since Canadian inspections of grain passing through Winnipeg dur-ing August showed an unusually large proportion grading No. 1 hard and No. 1 or No. 2 northern. Pre-liminary tests show an average pro-tein of 12.25 per cent as compared with 11.13 per cent in 1930. The outstanding development in domestic cash wheat markets was the advance of 6 to 7 cents in prices of spring wheat as a result of an active mill demand for the relatively light receipts of new wheat. Only 1499 cars were received at Minneapolis, and 611 cars at Duluth. Of the weeks inspections at Minneapolis 505 cars were winter wheat. The protein was higher averaging 13.99 per cent for the weeks inspections, according to the Minneapolis Grain Inspection Department. Cash prices followed the advance of 7 1-8 cents in the September futures and premiums held very firm, with No. 1 dark northern 12 to 15 per cent protein selling in Minneap-olis September 11 at 9 cents to 13 cents over the December price of 62 cents. SCHILLING VISITS KANSAS

W. F. Schilling, Member Federal Farm Board, Spends Two Days In Kansas

gress. The writer and W. F. Schilling, member Federal Farm Board, in company with E. P. Schiefelbusch, President Farmers Union Produce Association, and A. W. Seamans, Manager, drove more than 800 miles in making four meetings. Inasmuch as Mr. Schilling is the Dairy member of the Federal Farm Board, and because of the fact that the Farmers' Union Creamery of Kansas is contemplating a program of expansion in the establishment of smaller churning plants at strategic points, we visited some of the points in the state where such plants are contemplated.

It was Mr. Schilling's first trip in Kansas, and may I say that he was received very favorably at all of these meetings. In contrast to other Farm county September 5. Board members, who have visited and spoken in Kansas, Mr. Schilling launched vigorously into his addresses, without referring to manuscript. The fact of his being a dirt farmer, owning and operating a dairy farm in Minnesota, added weight to his discussion as he addressed these audiences of farmers. He is very vigorous and positive in his presentation and discussion. It was evident to all that he is conscientiously and religiously sold on the cooperative idea. He believes that cooperative marketing is one of program. On a general canvass it was the main channels through which we may expect to find a solution of our found that six counties and two states problems. Having been President of the Twin Cities Whole Milk Producers' Association for some twelve years, from practical experience and observation he could easily impress any group of the benefits of cooperative marketing. His experience in this organization is very colorful, indeed. He was the grounds free to all and other cool under indictment, with others, for some two years, way back fifteen years ago, for setting up this cooperative. They were charged with attempting to Congre set up a monopoly, to starve the babies in town, of their milk. That, when troduced and made a short speech they were selling 3.5 percent milk at five cents a hundred pounds, and their and as he said showed himself to the own farm babies were the ones which were starving.

Mr. Schilling in his discussion, told how the Land O' Lakes Creameries. of which he was a Director, this spring took eight and one half million pounds of surplus butter off of the glutted market. The price of butter fat since has risen about nine cents per pound. He also related how that a western now lives in Oklahoma. That is when turkey pool, which had borrowed one hundred thousand dollars from the Farm Board, bought the birds at five cents a pound more than private dealers would pay, shipped 219 carloads, paid back the loan, and had $30,000 Mr. Simpson's high points in his speech were: A radical, is a person to distribute to its members.

Mr. Schilling pleaded for support of the Farm Board and the Marketing Act, by the farmers themselves. In his addresses, he referred to stabilization operations, stating that the Board was reluctant to enter into these operations, but because of insistent demands, especially from this section of the country, the Farm Board launched into two stabilization activities. And a Farm Organization as in it were while it cost the government and taxpayers several millions of dollars, yet, compared to the results to the farmers themselves and business in general. this was insignificant.

Mr. Schilling referred to the rumor, which has been more or less widespread, that the Farmers' Union Terminal Associations of St. Paul had a million bushels of wheat in Elevator M, that was not up to the required grade. This report has been proven to be wholly and absolutely erroneous according to Mr. Schilling. May I suggest, the fight has been hot in this section and the enemies of the Farmers' Union program in that section have "gone the limit" in attempting to defame our groups and their program.

Mr. Schilling stated that the Government had two inspectors and the The big crops of wheat, cotton and State, three, going over the grain and the result is, a better grade than the oil in Oklahoma this year will not pay government had bought. It will all grade No. 1, and the Government has grain worth $200,000 more than they paid for it.

the cost of production for all agricultural products which are consumed on the American market. We believe that the government should provide for maintaining a reasonable surplus of non-perishable agricultural products as a reserve in case of climatic reverses or other reverses.

5. We believe that work rather than charity should be provided for the nation's unemployed and that an immediate program of public works, such as roads, flood control, deep waterways, reforestation, etc., should be instituted by the state and federal governments to give employment at useful and productive labor to every American citizen and we demand that in the financing of these public works the evils of interest-bearing bonds be done away with. We have passed the state where we believe that loans at high rates or low rates of interest can solve our problems. Experience has taught the farmers of America that prosperity cannot be borrowed.

Therefore, we demand that the federal government issue a non-interest bearing legal tender "bond currency" for public improvements during this period of depression, said currency to be retired out of the profits of such improvements.

Such a legal tender currency would provide employment for all, a market for all farm products and benefit both producers and consumers instead of adding to the prosperity of the bondbrokers of

And, to the end that adequate provision be made for the carrying out of above program, we ask of Congress the coming session not only a re-instatement of the original income brackets but that they shall be increased substantially in the higher brackets so that the proposed public improvements can be taken care of by those best able to bear the burden.

We believe that such a program could quickly relieve agriculture, restore confidence, revive industry, promote industrial peace, and assure universal prosperity to all our people, and the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America pledges its active support for such legislation and calls upon the farmers of the United States to make every effort a long this line.

As organized farmers, we extend the right hand of fellowship to our brothers working in other industries with a determination to cooperate with all useful groups for the purpose of putting all useless groups from off our backs.

Whereas, the constitution of the United States clothes Congress with the power to issue and regulate the supply of currency, and

Whereas, the Federal Reserve Act and amendments thereto takes this power away from Congress, and delegates to the Federal Reserve system and its subsidiaries, the power to issue, contract or expand the circulation of the currency of this nation at will, and thereby control the business activities and the price of the products of this nation.

Therefore be it resolved by the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America in National Convention assembled at St. Paul, Minnesota on this 19th day of November 1930, that we demand that the banking laws of the United States be so amended that the exclusive right to issue and regulate circulation of the money of this nation will be restored to the United States Congress.

Whereas, the accumulated burden of taxes heaped upon agriculture presages the destruction of the American farm home, that unit of governmental strength that has made this the brightest star in the diadem of nations, we urgently recommend a graduated land tax, placing the burden on speculative lands rather than on the family home.

Whereas, because of the alarming increase of agricultural acreage in the hands of corporations and speculative agencies, and the corresponding elimination of title from the actual farmer, there has arisen an insiduous wave of propaganda for the prevention of non-freeholding voting bond issues for school purposes of public welfare. We pledge our opposition to any attempt of curtailment of our franchise under any pretext whatsoever. Just so long as all American citizens retain their franchise unimpaired, just so long will our country remain the champion of the rights and liberty of humanity.

PREAMBLE TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION, KANSAS DIVISION, FARMERS' EDUCATIONAL AND CO-OPERATIVE UNION OF AMERICA

The objects of the Kansas State Union of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America shall be to organize the farmers of Kansas into local and county unions; to educate members of the organization in better business methods for farmers and in the principles and practice of cooperative business by the Rochdale system; to promote the voluntary organization of cooperative business associations to handle the purchases and sales of members; and to give every member a chance to exercise his natural right to control the production and the marketing of the products of his own labor. To accomplish these purposes there must be no conflict of interest among the members.

These objects must be sought:

(a) By the organization and support of grain elevators, mills, produce stations, wholesale and retail stores, warehouses and terminal exchanges.

(b) By dividing the gross profits arising from the operation of cooperative enterprises under the Rochdale plan as follows:

A reasonable return for the use of capital shall be paid to the subscribers for the stock of such associations; an adequate reserve for each business shall be created by retaining a share of the profits in the treasury of each association; and the remainder of the profits shall be distributed among the share holders of such enterprises, each subscriber receiving a share in proportion to the amount of his transactions. In the division of cooperative profits the measuring unit of the product marketed should be made the basis for distribution and in purchases through such associations the volume of transactions in dollars should determine the members share of the patronage profits.

(c) By direct exchange of goods between the members and business organizations of the Farmers Union and the members and business organizations of the various trades or Labor Unions, and by the use in such transactions of the authorized Union Labels.

(d) By the cooperative purchases or sales of merchandise and farm products in quantity through the business agents of the local organizations of the Farmers' Union, and by other means duly authorized by the Board of Directors of the State Union.

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE KANSAS FARMERS' UNION CONVENTION, McPHERSON, KANSAS, OCTOBER 31, 1930 Income Tax

We commend Governor Reed and the Legislature for the submission to the voters of the graduated income tax amendment to the Constitution. We appeal to voters everywhere to ratify this amendment, that Kansas may, as 20 other states already have done, begin to substitute a graduated income tax for the outworn and outrageous property tax that is now levying on tangible property in Kansas practically all the taxes, and allowing intangible property and salaried income to largely escape taxation. A graduated income tax will bring our tax system into line with the principle of taxing in proportion to ability to pay. The income tax will end the injustice of taxing mortgaged property and debts. The income tax will solve the troublesome problem of the taxation of intangibles by requiring that all incomes, whether from tangibles or intangibles, be taxed on the same equal and fair basis of net income. The income tax will collect taxes from that vast untaxed wealth that now escapes taxation, and thus relieve real estate and all tangible property of the unjust tax burden it now bears.

We believe that a graduated income tax should be levied sufficient, at least, to pay the 8 million dollars revenue needed for State Government, and that if the income tax exceeds that sum, that it be applied as a state tax to aid elementary schools, or pro-rated back to the counties—in all cases to reduce the present property taxes and not make it an extra tax.

In the words of the National Farmers Union, "We are unalterably opposed to a sales tax," and we will not accept it in lieu of an income tax. The sales tax will give the mail order houses an advantage over our home merchants and will be especially severe on our merchants near the state's borders. Consecutive sales will pyramid the tax. The sales tax violates the fundamental principle of taxing in proportion to ability to pay—by taxing the poor man with a large family more on his food and clothing than the rich man with his small family, by taxing sales with small profits the same as sales with large profits, by taxing the business with many turnovers of capital many times the business with one turnover of capital, by taxing products that have many sales between the producer and the final consumer, such as the farmers grain and live stock, many times, while products sold direct to the final consumer are taxed but once.

We demand of County and State Boards of Equalization that city and county property be assessed at the same per cent of actual value, in order that all property shall pay its equal proportionate share of county and state tax. Deduction of Mortgage

Under our property tax system, we demand that all bona fide real estate mortgage indebtedness be subtracted from the assessment of property, as citizens should pay taxes on the property they own and not on the debts they owe.

Equalizing Intangible Assessment We commend Governor Reed and the Legislature for the repeal of the Intangible Tax Law. To be fair to intangible property which now is under legal obligations to pay the full property tax rate that other property bears, the Legislature should provide that State and County Boards of Equalization be given authority, so long as we have the property tax, to equalize the assessment of intangible property at the same per cent of actual value as tangible property is assessed. Otherwise intangible property that gets on the tax rolls will be assessed 100 per cent of actual value and tangible property at something like 60 per cent of actual value. 6. The taxes paid by railroads, telephones, telegraph companies, power and light corporations, and other public utilities should be distributed over the whole area served by these utilities.

CREAMERY SHOWS WHAT CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED THROUGH CO-OPERATION

The growth and development of the armers Union Co-operative Creamery Ass'n, from the inception of the or-ganization up to the present is but an additional incident revealing what can be accomplished through co-operative effort.

The history of the organization which is a farmer owned and farmer controlled enterprise dates back to the Kansas Farmers Union State Convention held at Emporia, Kansas in 1924 when delegates present expressed a desire to have established a department or agency within the Farmers Union that would specialize in handling and marketing co-operative dairy and poultry products.

By authority of this convention a committee was appointed and charged with the responsibility of studying the dairy and poultry products marketing problems and assigned the task of outlining a plan for the establishment of a department to market cooperatively these products.

The activities of this committee re sulted in the establishment of the Farmers Union Co-operative Creamery which since the beginning of its operations in September, 1925 has churned over 16,000,000 million pounds of butter and packed in excess of 11, ciation will get as much for your grain and hay as any firm can get. have been marketed co-operatively and

The Farmers Union Co-operative Creamery is not only co-operative on the receiving end of the line but on the selling end as well. The association is a member of the Dairy and Poultry Co-operatives, Inc., Chicago. The Union Oil Company (Cooperative) North Kansas City, Missouri, is a centralized purchasing and manufacturing agency owned, controlled, and operated by members of local cooperative oil companies in seven middle-western states. It is a medium through turing agency owned, controlled, and operated by members of local cooperative oil companies in seven middle-western states. It is a medium through which more than 100,000 farmer consumers pool their buying power, and thus save money on the petroleum products they use. The Union Oil Company is incorporated under the cooperative law of Kansas. Each member has but one vote. The stock dividend is limited to 8 per cent per annum, and the balance of the profits, after reserve is set aside by the stockholders, are paid to the member companies on a patronage basis. 1929 was realized that there was much to be realized on 1930 business was declared.

The company is managed by a board of thirteen directors who are elected by the stockholders at the annual meetings. These directors are the direct representatives of farmer-con sumers in seven states served by the company. During the little more than two and one-half years since the company has operated a very substantial growth has been made. THE FARMERS UNION MUTUAL LIFE INSUR-ANCE COMPANY A NA-TIONAL INSTITUTION

Organized under the laws of Iowa in October, 1922 as a strictly Mutual participating level premium, legal reserve company. It had for its object three great ideas, as follows:

1. To Save The Farmers Money On Their Life Insurance. Statistics show that farmers are preferred risks for life insurance. Rural people live long-er than people in the crowded cities. Therefore to get the benefit of his lower death rate the farmer must insure in a company that takes only rural people.

2. To Conserve The Insurance Dollars of The Farmers. Railroads, public utilities, and in fact all great commercial enterprises for years have been financed by the big eastern insurance companies. The Farmers Union Mutual Life Insurance Company proposes to be the finan-cial aid to the farmers that the eastern companies have been to the big commercial interests.

3. To Promote The Entire Farmers Union Program. By insuring in their own company, farmers are naturally brought together in a bond scales. The office employees are of common interest and protective folks who are in sympathy with co-fellowship. The absolute knowledge operative marketing, and who do their best to get the return back to the farmer as promptly as possible, and to give the proper information to agricultural returns, is building for them a credit structure invested in friendly hands where they can turn

7. The time of payment of the second half of our property taxes should be extended from June 20 to August 1st.

8. We ask that the Legislature provide a more reasonable limitation to the building of Benefit Roads and the issuance of bonds for our over-taxed people to pay.

9. We ask that all of the gas tax over 2c per gallon and one-half of the motor vehicle licenses tax be given to the counties and townships, and that gas tax refunds be made by the counties.

10. This year of adversity is no time to increase salaries and initiate a building program, and we recommend Governor Reed's stand for economy in appropriations by the next Legislature.

11. We ask the legislature for a Presidential Primary Law, giving to the voters the right to express their preferences for nominees for President.

12. We ask that a text book on co-operative marketing be authorized by the Legislature, and taught in the elementary schools and in the high schools of Kansas.

13. We ask that in any county in which there are as many as 250 dues paying members of the Farmers Union or Grange, that these organizations be authorized by law to elect delegates to the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture.

14. We ask for the enactment of a Farm Storage Law patterned after the laws of Montana and North Dakota.

15. We favor an oleomargarine and butter substitute license law similar to such law in Montana. 16. We demand an anti discrimination price law in Kansas without jokers.

17. We favor the constitutional amendment providing a salary of $500.00 to members of the Legislature.

These Resolutions were adopted by the Convention.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY KANSAS STATE CONVENTION OF THE FARMERS' UNION, AT McPHERSON, KANSAS, OCTOBER, 1930.

Whereas our Constitution discourages speculation in farm products and whereas the various Boards of Trade have operated to the detriment of the farmers, Be It Resolved that we favor the immediate abolition of all Boards of Trade that operate in Farm Products. We renew our faith in the principles of the McNary-Haugen Bill, as the most effective proposal to establish an American price for our surplus agricultural products. Our second choice is the Debenture which would make effective half of the tariff rate on the commodity shipped out. And we urge that Congress reconsider, these proposals in the coming short session. We are disappointed in the Hawley-Smoot Tariff Bill. First, because the Debenture was left out of it and, second, because of the hundreds of increased tariff schedules. We regard it as more of a burden than a benefit to agriculture. The inequality which existed between agriculture and industry under the Tariff Act of '22 still exists and to a larger degree.

We are duly grateful for the sentiment which was responsible for the enactment of the Federal Farm Marketing Act as a possible solution of the problem of agricultural depression. We deplore the fact that the provisions of the act are inadequate to the job as outlined in its declaration of policy. We do commend the full use of the provisions of the Act, and the services of the Farm Board, in furthering the building and use of cooperative marketing associations. The assistance of the Farm Board has been of incalcuable value in helping to further cooperative grain marketing agencies that have taken advantage of its assistance. We urge our officials to make every effort to cooperate with other like agencies, that the added volume of business may enable the producer to retain market control in his own hand. WE PETI-TION THE FEDERAL FARM BOARD to apply every provision in the scope of the act to relieve the present agricultural emergency.

These resolutions were adopted by the Convention.

Occasionally, someone comes out and raises a big "hullabulloo" by referring to the price of wheat, cotton, and corn now, as compared to prices when the Farm Board took their places. And even, going so far, as to charge the Farm Board with this condition. Anyone who makes such statements, either is not in possession of the facts and conditions or else, they choose to de-liberately misrepresent and falsify. Men and women, let us be fair. " It was unfortunate for the Farm Board, as far as their popularity is concerned, that they were thrust into action just as a time when the whole country was approaching, perhaps the worst crisis in its history. Should the situation have been reversed, and a general condition of prosperity in evidence, with the trend of farm commodity prices upward, then the Farm Board would have been praised and received in great triumph, everywhere. About every day, press reports carry the statement or accusation of some group of individuals, that the Farm Board has, or has not, done a certain thing. It is really amusing ability to do so. to find, that in about nine cases out of ten, such rumors are entirely withof ten, such rumors are entirely without foundation. The fact of twenty-five cent wheat, ten cent eggs, five cent hogs, and so forth, should not be charged to the Farm Board. Their program is a long time one and the Marketing Act the establishment cooperatives, farmer-owned and-farmer-controlled. And, the success of the whole program will depend on the support given by the farmer himself. If we insist on remaining individualists and if we will not Join hands with our neighbor in farm organizations and cooperatives, then we must pay the toll ourselves. All other groups of society, including labor, business, pro-fessional and industrial classes, are far more solidly organized than are the farmers. And the farmers of the country will receive benefit, legisla-tive and otherwise, comparable to our willingness to work together in strong farm organizations and cooperatives So may we farmers, ourselves, take the initiative in this legislative program, in behalf of cooperation. And if changes and amendments are to be made, let's make them ourselves, and not turn the job over to our enemies. not turn the job over to our enemies of cooperation, who would have the marketing act repealed, or made unhelpful and unworkable.
