

SPIRIT OF KANSAS

A Journal of Home and Household.

VOL. XII.—NO. 31

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, AUG. 16, 1882.

WHOLE NO. 548.

ALL IS FAIR IN LOVE AND WAR.

Of course Gresham made me swear eternal secrecy. No one but our two selves was to know anything about it. In the course of the afternoon we both composed and posted our notes of acceptance, though Gresham had not taken the trouble to write an invitation for himself.

'You see if I had been asked for it, in case anything went wrong,' he said, 'I should not have had the face to show it; so what was the good?'

In what a state of excitement we lived during the next few days. What wild conjectures we made as to what was passing at Merivale House! What a time of suspense it was! The following week Gresham went to a house in the county for a coming-of-age ball. The morning after his return I saw his well-known dog-cart stopping at our Rectory gate. Had he heard anything? I rushed out.

'Morning, Mostyn,' he cried. 'I'm driving into D—. Get up and come too.' My mind misgave me as I glanced at his face. I was soon up by his side.

'Everybody is talking about it,' said Gresham, 'and I have been driven some way; about our ball, I mean. Do you know, Mostyn, I am afraid I've muffled it rather.'

'How? I ejaculated turning cold all over.'

'You know Mrs. Beresford Green?' continued Gresham. 'Well, I had to take her in to supper the ball night. There she was, sitting like a great blue satin globe, a good deal compressed at the equator, and one of her strapping girls by her. I took her in to supper, and showed her before her. She hardly spoke a word while she was putting away the oysters and turkey; but when she had done she began asking loads of questions about the Merivale ball, and at last she said she had received such an odd note of invitation from Lady Merivale. I began to shake in my shoes; but I only said, "Indeed!" and she went on to say how Lady Merivale had asked her and her daughters, but had not extended the invitation to her friends. (Did I tell you when I wrote to her I did not say anything about friends, because she always has such second-rate people?) Once started on the subject she went on in the most awful style. She said she had written a refusal back to Lady Merivale, and then by the same post sent out a lot of invitations for a competition dance on the same night. I fancy she forgot Lady Merivale was a post in front of her, but still she had evidently got some people to say they would come, the Chetwinds, cousins of the Merivales, among the others. You know I dared not ask any relations. Anyhow, one thing I am glad of, and Gresham drew himself up complacently, "and that is that I wrote for the band at once. There at least we were too sharp for her, I fancy."

'Did you see Tower?' I asked, "and could he come?'

'Oh! yes, I saw him, and he told me he was coming without my asking him even, and he wanted to know what sort of place it was, and whether it was likely there would be any shooting. Now I felt perfectly certain I wrote "Bring your gun?" at the end of his note. I know I was just closing up his letter and Lady D's for I know I wrote it.'

'You really should have been more careful,' I remonstrated. 'What with all these mistakes, and Mrs. Beresford Green giving a competition ball on the same night, things are beginning to look a little mixed!'

'I tell you what,' he replied despondently. 'I am beginning to feel shy of the whole concern. It's an awful piece of folly, and I shall never set up to my part. I wish I had let it alone.'

'Oh, come?' I returned. 'We are in for it now, you know, and we must make the best of it. Everything has gone on pretty well so far, and anyhow there is no going back now.' I had to give that piece of advice pretty often during the following three weeks. Gresham's temper became strangely uncertain. One day he would talk and laugh with the utmost glee about our approaching visit to Merivale House; the next I would find him plunged in the deepest despondency, slanging the servants if they came near him, apostrophizing the cooking, giving even me a surly welcome. I used to drag him out for a smoke, or get him to have a game of billiards, but I never deserted him, however cross he might be. And then he would gradually recover himself, and when the time came for me to depart, he would lay his hand on my shoulder and say: 'Hang it all, Mostyn! I am beginning to feel mortally afraid of the whole thing. I know I shall come to grief somehow; but you'll stick by me, old chap?' And so the time drew near.

Where to Begin.

Nearly two score missionaries have just left Boston with the intention of endeavoring to convert heathens like Arabi Pach in Egypt and pagan princes with unpronounceable names in the wilds of Africa. This is all very laudable; but why abandon the home field for foreign religious pastures? There is scarcely any country in the world which is so much in need of zealous missionaries as the United States. Why does not some one go and pray with "Boss" Kelley, who is an awful example of political debauchery and corruption? Then there are the river and harbor pirates who have stolen more in six months than Captain Kidd appropriated in his long and industrious career; why not endeavor to turn them from their evil ways? As things look now the Tariff Commission sadly needs light and instruction. Then there is that monumental sinner, Robeson. Missionaries are more needed in Camden, where the ex-Secretary of the Navy lives, than on the Congo.—N. Y. Herald.

How He Saw the Sea Serpent.

Yesterday we took our annual trip to Marblehead to look at the sea serpent. We were cordially received and escorted by our friends, headed by the chief of the fire department, to the beach. We took a long look to seaward, but could see nothing of our old friend. Then we took a look through a glass. Still no serpent. Bound not to give it up, we waited awhile then took another look through a glass. The entire party looked through glasses. Still no sea serpent. Our blood was up. We determined to wait for him if it took all day. And we did; observing the sea through glasses at brief intervals. At last we were rewarded. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he appeared in the dim distance. At 5 he was nearer, at 6 he was so close to the shore we could see him wag his tail in recognition. We all got a magnificent view of him, and there is no doubt he was the same one we saw last year. The only person about whose seeing him we have any doubt is C. W. Thomas. He said: "Boys, through my glass, I can see the whites of his eyes!" And when we observed Mr. Thomas, we saw that he was not looking through a glass, but square into a tin dipper.—Boston Post.

A Mouse and a Clam.

The Providence Journal relates the following as told it by a very respectable grandson of a pilgrim living in that truthful city:

One night last week, at a late hour, a gentleman of this city who, as a matter of habit, rarely retires before midnight, had occasion at that "witching hour" to attend to the furnace fire before retiring. The wind was blowing almost a gale, and the rain was pouring down in torrents and the night was one to induce a feeling of "uncertainty" in the heart of the bravest. The gentleman in question never indulges in intoxicating liquors, and there is no reason to suppose that his nerves were unusually disturbed. He is very fond of clams, however, and on the morning of the day when the incident occurred had ordered a peck of clams which were to be cooked the next day. As he descended the stairs on his midnight errand, with a lamp in his hand, and shading the lamp with his hand to shield it from the draught, he observed that the bucket of clams had been left at the foot of the stairs.

Groping his way slowly down the stairs, and looking cautiously for the cellar floor, he suddenly saw what appeared to be a small white clam, move gradually from the bucket where he had hitherto been reposing peacefully with his mates, and work his way steadily and quickly across the cellar floor and mount the wall at the further side of the cellar, to a distance of three feet from the floor. Never having seen a clam walk before, and being especially interested in the apparent fact of the ability of a clam to climb a cellar wall, the gentleman courageously determined to investigate the matter in the interests of science and curiosity. He placed the lamp at a convenient position, took up a piece of barrel-hoop and boldly advanced, resolving to become a martyr to science if need be. The white object proved indeed a clam, but the clam had used other means of locomotion than its own in navigating across the cellar floor. An insect mouse had walked over the bucket of clams, and an ambitious clam had fastened his nippers on the mouse's tail. The mouse becoming frightened at the advent of the gentleman above mentioned, started for his hole in the wall, when he was compelled to stop on account of the shell-fish attachment to his tail.

Wool Market.

Walter Brown & Co.'s wool circular for August 12, says: "As is customary at this period of the season, when the markets are full of wool, there is a feeling among consumers that by holding off they will force holders to accept lower prices. Thus far, however, the trade has been firm and shows no intention of breaking from the quotations now current, and with a continuance of sales equal to those of the past few weeks, it is not likely that the next few weeks will show any material change."

"The Land of the General Reader."

Mr. Edward A. Freeman, the English historian, who tried hard during his recent tour of this country to convince himself and others that the United States had no political points distinctively its own, has gone home and continued his line of reasoning in the pages of the Fortnightly Review. He admits something good of us though, for he says America strikes him as "the land of the general reader," and this reader Mr. Freeman says he is not disposed to scorn, which is very kind of him. He says: "It seemed to me that in America the reading class, the class of those who read widely, who read as far as they go intelligently, but who do not read deeply—the class of those who, without being professed scholars, read enough and know enough to be quite worth talking to—form a larger proportion of mankind in America than they do in England." This is praise enough, for it is the mass of general readers, not the few special students, who have the power as well as the will to apply acquired knowledge to the benefit of the community.

A Good Example.

New York Herald: "The Republican of Kansas, assembled in State Convention, passed a resolution indorsing President Arthur's veto of the scandalous River and Harbor bill and approving the course of the Kansas delegation in voting to sustain the veto. This is timely and commendable action. The infamous job has been all but unanimously denounced by the press of the country, and the jobbers should now be condemned by the people speaking through their State and Congressional conventions of both parties."

And See What a Magnificent Bill is Offered at Topeka During State Fair Week,
Sept. 11 to 19.

Kansas has been made glad this year with the richest harvest in the history of the State. Her unprecedented prosperity has attracted the attention of the whole country, and her bright prospects as the leading agricultural and stock growing State of the Union are the subject of universal comment. In proportion to the magnitude of her crops and the prosperity of her people, will be the great "Harvest Feast" of the year at Topeka, during State Fair week.

THE KANSAS STATE FAIR.
Inaugurated last year with such splendid success will surpass anything of the kind ever known in the West. The attractions of the week at Topeka include the following and many other features of less importance.

Second annual exhibition of the KANSAS STATE FAIR ASSOCIATION, which has associated with it the

KANSAS STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY,
KANSAS WOOL-GROWERS' AND SHEEP-BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION,
KANSAS POULTRY AND PET STOCK SOCIETY.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE KANSAS STATE GRANGE.

REUNION OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

REUNION OF THE VETERAN SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' TO BE ADDRESSED BY BLAINE, NEAL DOW, AND OTHERS.

REUNION OF THE EX-PRISONERS OF WAR.

ANNUAL REVIEW OF THE STATE MILITIA AND PRIZE DRILL.

SECOND ANNUAL CONTEST OF THE KANSAS BAND UNION.

TEN GREAT EVENTS IN ONE WEEK.

Forty Thousand Dollars in premiums, with TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS set aside for Live Stock. No legitimate feature of a great State Fair neglected, while many attractive novelties have been introduced to add to the interest of the week's programme. Pens and stalls and exhibition space free. No entrance fee at the Kansas State Fair, but a free for all contest with cash paid premiums impartially awarded. The big pumpkin, the patent churn and the red bull will loom up before the astonished visitors in all their majestic grandeur. Let 'em loom! We propose to show that Kansas can raise bigger pumpkins and redder bulls and better sheep and finer wheat and larger apples and more corn and fattier hogs and more of them all to the square mile than any State in the Union. These things are always on hand and always welcome; they are just what the thousands of eastern visitors who will be here want to see. Bring them along. But the glories of a red wagon will not always satisfy nor are the charms of the green quilt counter potential and the managers of the State Fair have provided a long list of specialties.

THE RACES. Here's where they have it on first ballot. Just think of $44,000 as speed premiums in the Western circuit to which Topeka belongs. It is the largest aggregate of premiums in the United States except the Grand Eastern circuit, and the best horses on the turf will be there. Trials of speed every day. Chas. M. Smith, of Earlville, Ill., the best race starter in the United States, has been engaged and will be in the judges' stand during the whole week.

TWENTY COUNTY FAIRS in one building. That's the size of it just now and it may include more county displays before the entries close. That number of counties have already applied for space, and are making diligent preparations to show their products to the best advantage. May the best county win.

GRANGE SPECIAL. A very appropriate and commendable action of the executive committee of the State Grange was the offer of premiums aggregating $700 for the largest and finest collection and display of farm products in their natural state, including the garden and orchard, the exhibit to be made under the auspices of the State Fair.

BICYCLE TOURNAMENT. Everybody will be on hand to see the contest by amateur wheelmen for the championship of the State and a silver cup. Captains of New York and New England clubs have also been engaged to give exhibitions of their skill on the bicycle. This will be an attractive novelty—something brand new.

EQUESTRIENNE STAKE RACE FOR $1,000. This will close the races for the week with an exciting event. No hippodroming about this but a genuine straight-away free-for-all for the prize. Kansas girls can beat the world as horse-women.

POULTRY EXHIBIT.—The Poultry and Pet Stock Society offer premiums aggregating $1,000, which is something for the chickens to crow over.

FINE ART HALL.—The management are sparing no pains to make this department what it should be. Visitors will be agreeably surprised to find that the gift framed "Lake Cromo," with trees to the right and water to the left, don't occupy the position of honor so often usurped by it in industrial expositions. Mr. H. L. Schaum, of Lawrence, a gentleman of taste and an art critic of recognized ability has been appointed superintendent of this department, and has already secured contributions from some of the finest artists in this country. Cyrenus Hall of Chicago; DeFrancis of St. Louis; Ed Winslow Turner, of Boston, and J. A. James, of Washington, D. C.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY AND WOOL-GROWERS' AND SHEEP-BREEDERS' exhibition will be made in connection with, and constitute a part of the State Fair.

SOLDIERS' REUNION.
Thirty thousand old soldiers expected! Grandest reunion of veterans since the war! The reunion exercises will last through the entire week, September 11 to 16—but Friday will be "Veteran's Day" on the Fair Grounds, when all the old soldiers in line will be admitted free. Hon. James G. Blaine will address the assembled thousands of veterans and other citizens from the grand stand, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

A splendid camp ground has been leased, where 600 hospital tents loaned by the government and 1,000 hired tents and additional barracks, sufficient to accommodate all who wish to come, will be erected. Tents and barracks free, and rations already contracted for at 23 cents per day for the veterans and their families, make it cheaper to live on the camp grounds than at home. The ration is as follows: Bacon, fresh beef, roasted and ground coffee, soft bread, hard bread, Boston baked beans, rice, granulated sugar, salt, candles and soap. Organizations of old soldiers would do well to send their commissary or quartermaster to Topeka, a few days previous to their arrival there, to arrange for quarters and rations. Bring your blankets and camp cooking utensils. State headquarters will be established, and State registering system adopted, so that the veterans can find their old comrades with the least possible difficulty. A grand camp fire every night, and at last one grand parade, and review. Addresses will be made during the week by the following distinguished soldiers and citizens: James G. Blaine, Gen. Neal Dow, of Maine; Gen. J. Warren Keifer, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Gen. John Coburn, of Indiana; Col. A. D. Straight, of Indiana; Col. Harry White, of Pennsylvania; Col. Carr, of Gatesburg, Ill.; Gen. Paul Vandervoort, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. of the United States. The above have said they would certainly attend the reunion, while Secretary of War Lincoln, who will be in the West at that time, has written that he hopes to attend. Gov. St. John, Senators Ingalls and Plumb, Representatives Ryan, Haskell and Anderson and other distinguished citizens of the State are expected to be present.

The re-union of the G. A. R. and the ex-prisoners of war, will be features of re-union. Special information may be had by addressing at Topeka J. Lee Knight, corresponding secretary of the committee of thirty-eight, or W. H. Ward, president of the association of ex-prisoners of war.

ENCAMPMENT OF STATE MILITIA.

By order of Maj. Gen. T. J. Anderson, the State Militia will go into camp at Topeka, during State Fair week for the annual review. Two hundred and fifty wall tents for their accommodation have been secured from the government.

SHAM BATTLE.—The Militia will fight a sham battle with small arms and heavy ordnance on the Fair Grounds at the conclusion of Mr. Blaine's speech, Friday.

COMPETITIVE DRILL.—One of the most interesting features of the week will be the competitive drill by militia companies for $1,000 in prizes offered by the Fair Association.

GRANGE REUNION.

The Grangers of the State have arranged for a grand assembly of the Patrons of Husbandry at Topeka during State Fair week, when they will be addressed by Hon. George B. Loring, United States Commissioner of Agriculture.

MUSICAL JUBILEE.

The second annual tournament of the KANSAS BAND UNION will take place at Topeka during fair week. Seventy-five bands in Kansas have already entered the list, and this will be the grandest musical jubilee of the year in the West. The prizes consist of a gold medal and $600 in money, offered by the fair association. All Kansas bands intending to compete, which have not already entered the lists, are requested to communicate at once with D. A. Valentine, president of the band union, Clay Center. Entries close September 1, 1892.

OTHER FEATURES OF FAIR WEEK.

The attractions already enumerated make the liveliest week of entertainment ever offered to the people of Kansas, but the story has not all been told.

THE FLAMBEAU CLUB are preparing to give some of their brilliant pyrotechnic displays. This is the grandest exhibition of fire-works ever made, and the Flambeau club is peculiarly a Kansas institution. Gen. Grant pronounced the Flambeau display the most weird and fascinating spectacle he had seen in all his journey round the world.

ARMY SONGS.—The veterans will be supplied with printed copies of a dozen or more old army songs, with the music, by the middle of August, so that they can practice up for the reunion. Just think of a chorus of thirty thousand male voices singing patriotic songs on Veteran's Day, and at the night camp fires!

OPERA.—Both opera houses will be in "full blast" during fair week. Emma Abbott and her reorganized troupe with several new operas will open the new opera house at that time, and Emma Abbott is under contract to sing every night. At the other house, Fay Templeton's company, one of the most popular combinations traveling, will appear in comic opera. Luxen's opera house in North Topeka will also present an attractive bill.

GEO. Y. JOHNSON,
Sec'y Kansas State Fair.

RAILROAD FARES DURING FAIR WEEK.—On the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, the Kansas City, Lawrence & Southern Kansas, and the Union Pacific, through Kansas, one cent per mile, round trip. On the Missouri Pacific in Kansas, one fare for the round trip.

When? September 15th. 8-16-92

This is the way a sound-headed Virginian farmer got rid of sheep-eating dogs, after having had twenty or more killed and worried, as reported by a contemporary; he piled the twenty sheep carcasses in a heap, built a close rail fence about them, and smiled a quiet smile. The fence was made so as to form a sort of a half covering over the mutton, in shape like an Esquimaux hut, with a hole at the top, so that, while any kind of a dog could run on the outside and jump in, no possible dog could ever jump out. The next morning the granger strolled out to the trap with a shot-gun and killed the suspected crr. But he let the trap remain and repeated his strolls until he had shot forty-six dogs, and our contemporary adds, there is not now a bark to be heard in all the town.

Drunkennes.

Those trying to break up the baneful habit of intemperance, will experience great relief from the use of Leis' Dandelion Tonic. It restores the brain, stomach and liver to healthy action and strengthens the will-power. There is nothing that will so quickly cure the ravages of a long course of debauching. It is recommended by leading temperance advocates.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

It cures Spavins, Splints, Curbs, Ring-bones and all similar blemishes, and removes the bunch without blistering.

For man it is now known to be one of the best if not the best liniment ever discovered.

We feel positive that every man can have perfect success in every case if he will only use good common sense in applying KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE, and persevere in bad cases of long standing. Read below the experience of others.

FROM COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Ohio, May, 10th, 1890.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I had a very valuable Hambletonian colt which I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a smaller one on the other which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two Veterinary Surgeons who failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggists here to send for it. They ordered three bottles; I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial. I used it according to directions, and the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and the lumps had entirely disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colts limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it.
Very Respectfully,
L. T. FOSTER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Stoughton, Mass., March 16th, 1890.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and to myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months, it took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

Acme, Michigan, December 28th, 1879.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I sent you one dollar for your "Kendall's Spavin Cure" last summer which cured a bone spavin with half a bottle. The best liniment I ever used.
Yours Respectfully,
HOMER HOXIE.

FROM REV. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1890.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks, when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

Wilton, Minn., Jan. 11th, 1881.

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—Having got a horse book of you by mail a year ago, the contents of which persuaded me to try Kendall's Spavin Cure on the hind leg of one of my horses which was badly swollen and could not be ridden by any other remedy. I got two bottles of Kendall's Spavin Cure of Preston & Lindquist, Druggists of Waseca, which completely cured my horse. About five years ago I had a three-year-old colt swelled very badly. I used your remedy as given in your book without rowdiness and I must say to your credit that the colt is entirely cured, which is a surprise not only to myself but also to my neighbors. You sent me the book for the trifling sum of 25 cents, and I could not get another like it I would not take twenty-five dollars for it.
Yours truly,
GEO. MATHEWS.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Hamilton, Mo., June 14th, 1881.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—This is to certify that I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure and have found it to be all it is recommended to be, and in fact more so. I have removed by using the above Spavin Cure, ring-bones, splints, and I have cured a very bad spavin and was pronounced by four eminent veterinary surgeons beyond any cure, and that the horse was done for ever. As a last resort I advised my cousin to try a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure. It had a magical effect, the third bottle cured it, and the horse is as well as ever. Dr. Dick, of Edinburgh, the eminent veterinary surgeon was an expert in the treatment of spavins, and he has assisted in his profession.
Yours truly,
JAMES A. WILSON, Civil Engineer.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Chillicothe, Ky., Feb. 20th, 1879.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I have tried your Spavin Cure on a chronic case of bone spavin, which has been treated by two of the best doctors in the country, and the case was dried twice, and I can safely say that Kendall's Spavin Cure did more good than anything which I ever tried. I believe it to be a good remedy for a great many difficult cases of bone and bone spavins I am sure it will cure if taken in time. It is also good for scratches, grease heel, etc.
Yours respectfully,
T. B. MUIR.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Washingtonville, Ohio, June 17th, 1890.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I wish to add my testimony in favor of your invaluable liniment, "Kendall's Spavin Cure." In the spring of 1872 I slipped on the ice and sprained my right limb at the knee joint. I was very lame, and at times suffered the most excruciating pain. I wore a bandage on it for over a year, and tried most everything in my reach, but could find nothing that would give me permanent relief. When I overworked, it would pain me very much. In April, 1878, I began to think I should be a cripple for life, but having some of "Kendall's Spavin Cure" I thought I would try it. I used one-third of a bottle and experienced relief at once. The pain left me and has not troubled me since. I feel very grateful to you, and would recommend "Kendall's Spavin Cure" to all who suffer with sprains or rheumatism.
Yours truly,
MRS. J. BOUTELL.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

ON HUMAN FLESH it has been ascertained by repeated trials to be the very best liniment ever used for any deep seated pain of long standing, or of short duration. Also for Corns, Bunions, Frost-bites, or any bruise, cut or lameness. Some are afraid to use it on human flesh simply because it is a horse medicine, but you should remember that what is good for Beast is good for Man, and we know from experience that "KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE" can be used on a child 1 year old with perfect safety. Its effects are wonderful on human flesh, and it does not blister or make a sore. Try it and be convinced.

WHAT IS GOOD FOR BEAST IS GOOD FOR MAN.

Read of its effects on Human Flesh

Patten's Mills, Washington Co., N. Y.,

Feb. 21, 1878.
B. J. Kendall, M. D.—Dear Sir: The particular case on which I used your "Kendall's Spavin Cure" was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months standing. I had tried many things, but in vain. Your "Kendall's Spavin Cure" put me to the ground again, and, for the first time since hurt, in a natural position. For a family liniment it excels anything we ever used.
Yours truly,
REV. M. P. BELL.

Pastor M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Kendall's Spavin Cure is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep-seated pain, or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man, and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength with perfect safety at all seasons of the year.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success, to our knowledge, for beast as well as man. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

CHORUS OF CONGRESSMEN.

For East and West and North and South,
For many a river from head to mouth,
And streams that are lost in a time of drouth,
So gaily we gobble the millions.

Oh, the millions! the jolly, jolly millions!
Don't it take the Congressmen, though, to make
The millions fly?
We grab them here and grasp them there,
And every jobber jumps for his share,
And not a fellow seems to think that he may jump
Too high.
As gaily we gobble the millions.

For harbors that were never known before,
With clam shops lying along the shore,
And mud flat dredged by the score,
So gaily we gobble the millions.

For court houses where there is never a court,
And houses of customs far from a port,
And plenty of jobs of that cheerful sort,
So gaily we gobble the millions.

For this and that, and we scarce know what,
And some of us never care a jot,
So long as the Treasury pays the note,
So gaily we gobble the millions.

'Tis little we care for opinion's stress,
For voice of public, or voice of press,
Or an honest vote in vain duress,
As gaily we gobble the millions.

'Tis likely enough that many a one
Will never again see Washington;
But ere our Congressional course was run,
How gaily we gobble the millions!

The Popular Science Monthly for September, 1882.

In "The Popular Science Monthly" for September, Mr. C. M. Lungren gives the fullest and clearest statement that has been published of the relative cost of "Electric and Gas Illumination." His information is derived from first sources, and his manner of presentation is that of one who has a full understanding of the subject. Dr. Felix L. Oswald writes in the clear, pungent, aggressive style that is characteristic of him, concerning "Longevity," to the effect that the length of life is to a considerable extent a matter of temperament and habit, and shows how it is affected by the occupation of the individual. In "Animal Self-Defense," Mr. H. L. Fairchild describes the varieties of armor, the disguises, and the kinds of weapons with which animals are provided. The illustrations add much graphic interest to his account. "Brazilian Diamonds and their Origin," by M. H. Gorcelix, is full of information, novel and original, concerning the most precious of minerals. The author is familiar with the country of the diamond, and speaks from personal knowledge of its topography and geology, and of the circumstances under which the beds occur; and he closes his account with a theory, supported by such evidence as the formation of the diamond region affords, of the origin of the crystals, and the manner in which they are deposited where they are. In "The Functions of an American Manual Training School," Professor C. M. Woodward, of the Washington University, St. Louis, presents some timely remarks on the importance of giving a more practical aspect to education, and describes the theory and the work of the Manual Training-School at St. Louis. In "A Note on 'Thought-Reading,'" Mr. Horatio Donkin disputes the possibility of performing the feat so named except where there is some kind of communication, however indirect or remote, between the parties to the transaction. Professor George H. Perkins, of the Medical Department of the University of Vermont, discusses "The Physician of the Future," and what he will have to know, and glances at the rules by which his practice will probably have to be governed. M. A. De Rochas gives a pleasant account of the "Trials by Fire" of the past, and the "Fire-Juggles" of times that are nearer to us, and suggests some of the ways in which those who appear to have successfully endured the fire-test may have prepared themselves—or the fire—for it. In "Electromania," Mr. W. Mattieu Williams deprecates the advance which the world supposes itself to have made in the application of electricity to its work. His views form a curious background to the facts and figures which Mr. Lungren has presented in the opening article. "Anthropoid Mythology," by Dr. B. Plazcek, is a curious repository of lore concerning monkeys and their likeness to man from ancient Oriental and ancient Mexican literature. In "The Poisons of the Manufacture," Mr. Hector George presents a number of suggestions of practical value concerning the poisonous emanations which are the dangerous accompaniments of many manufacturing processes, and the means of counteracting them. In "Littre, Dumas, Pasteur, and Tain," the curious circumstance is made prominent that in a recent discussion in the French Academy of Sciences, "the cause of skepticism and negation was upheld by the men of letters, while the cause of belief in an infinite and supernatural power was defended by men of science." An entertaining paper follows on "The Chinese; their Manners and Customs." The portrait and sketch are of Thomas Say, the father of American entomology. The editor in his table commends the example of Sir John Lubbock—a man of wealth, who gives his time to scientific investigation—to American young men of wealth; has something to say on the views recently expressed by Mr. Beecher on theology and evolution; and suggests as a proper American memorial to Mr. Darwin the institution of a fund for scientific research.

New York: D. Appleton & Co. Fifty cents per number, $5 per year.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for September opens with a beautiful frontispiece, entitled "A Sunday morning in Surrey," from a picture by Alfred Parsons. The same artist, with equal charm, illustrates Mrs. Lillie's papers, "In Surrey," the first of which appears in this number. English country scenery has never been so attractively presented as in this delightful paper.

From the rural beauty of an English country we turn to a quaint description of one of our most characteristic coast towns—York, in Maine, near Portsmouth—beautifully illustrated by W. F. Halsall and E. H. Garrett.

The fifth and last paper of Mr. Lathrop's "Spanish Vistas" describes the coast towns from Malaga to Barcelona—a series of "Mediterranean Ports and Gardens," full of picturesque bits, of which the writer and the artist have made the most. Mr. Beinhardt's illustrations for this paper—as for the entire series—have never been surpassed.

"The Weibtreue" (Faithful Wives) is the title of a very interesting account of Weinsberg, in Suabia. The writer, Elise Allen, paints two graphic historical pictures of which Weinsberg is the center—Konrad's Siege of the Castle and the Peasants' War—and gives an interesting sketch of the poet Justus Kerner.

The third part of Colonel Higginson's American History is devoted to the discoveries made by the Northmen. His paper is illustrated with eight engravings.

Edwin P. Whipple contributes an entertaining paper entitled "Some Recollections of Ralph Waldo Emerson." The problem of the Mississippi River, and the theories proposed for its solution, form the subject of a timely paper by David A. Curtis.

Barnet Phillips contributes a strong short story, "A Doctor Spoiled." Another excellent short story, "Love will Find out the Way," is contributed by Mrs. Elizabeth D. B. Stoddard. Poems are contributed by Hjalmar H. Boyesen and Philip Bourke Marston.

William Black's new novel, "Shandon Bells," becomes more interesting with every new part, and is finely illustrated by Wm. Small.

The Editor's Easy Chair, Literary and Historical Records, and Drawer are full of timely and entertaining matter.

The Bad and Worthless
are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best, and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies cure, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

LADY BEAUTIFIERS.—Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks, and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health and nothing will give you such rich blood, good health, strength and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof.

Capt. Sawyer brought us in a day or two since, a bag of handsome apples, for which he has our thanks.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Mr. Elmer Pierson showed us, a day or two since, the cut of their mill and elevator as it will be when completed. The elevator is to be of stone the same height as the mill.

The combination fence manufactured by George N. Deming & Son, of this city, is becoming very popular as a yard fence.

John Martin of Topeka will probably be the candidate of the opposition to St. John. Some people are very sanguine that he can be elected.

The new Opera House front is completed, and it is even handsomer than it had been anticipated it would be.

The walls of the new Leis Chemical Manufactory are being covered with immense signs. If there is one thing George believes in more than another it is advertising.

"Say, Susan, have you lost your appetite. Are you weak and nervous? If so, 'Dr.' Lindsey's Blood Searcher is what you want."

Jack Watts has just completed, next door to Barber Bros. Drug store, one of the finest store rooms in the city. It has a magnificent plate glass front. The store has been rented and will be occupied September 15th by the man who has the big line "Famous" in this week's SPIRIT. He does not say what he is going to keep and we shall not expose his secret, but we know he will have such a stock as he will be glad to show to a man even if his wife and daughter should be along. The goods are as handsome as is the store. Call and see what it is.

*"It is a great art to do the right thing at the right time." The person subject to derangement of the kidneys or liver has a protective duty to perform in purchasing a package of Kidney-Wort. It invigorates these organs and by its cathartic and diuretic effect, cleanses the whole system of all bad humors.

The diversified contents of Demorest's Magazine for September make this a highly entertaining number. There is something in it to please all tastes. The lovers of the serial will find the continuation of the "Admiral's Ward" interesting; while those who prefer shorter stories cannot fail to be pleased with "Mascoot, the Match Maker," and "Esther's Love Story." The biographical sketches of "Carmen Sylva," and "Friedrich Schobel" are admirable; and not less so is Jenny June's "Girl of the Period." The various departments, including "Current Topics," "Fashion," "Household," and "Home Art and Home Comfort," contain much that is instructive and entertaining; while the illustrations are excellent, the oil picture, "A Soul to Heaven," being quite a work of art.

Adam Forepaugh's Greatest of All Great Shows.

This famous Combination of Menagerie, Circus, Trained Animals, etc., is to exhibit here Friday September 15. The present is the eighteenth annual tour of the establishment. A sensational feature of the show is a troupe of twenty-one performing elephants; they all appear in the arena at the same time and execute an elephantine dance, form pyramids, play upon musical instruments, and engage in a series of military evolutions. Among the myriad of attractions in the circus is the celebrated equestrienne, Miss Lizzie Deacon, whose romantic career with the Empress of Austria renders her such a great curiosity. All the riding is upon barebacked horses, and the veteran manager claims that he has the largest tented exhibition ever seen in the United States.

A Delicious Appetizer.
That ensures digestion and enjoyment of food; a tonic that brings strength to the weak and rest to the nervous; a harmless diarrhoea cure that don't constipate—just what every family needs—Parker's Ginger Tonic.

The board of education at their meeting last night unanimously adopted the report of the building committee recommending the purchase of the Automatic school seats for the new buildings. Several seats were represented among which were the Paragon, Monarch, Andrews, Excelsior, Bentwood and others, all of which were offered at a little lower price, but the committee visited some schools that had been seated with the Automatic over two years ago and were unanimous in their report on account of its great strength, healthfulness of position, saving of space and noiselessness.

They are certainly much better than any seats now used in the city.—Capital.
The Automatic is sold by L. D. Dobbs of this city, and the unanimous verdict of teachers and scholars in the public schools of Lawrence, where they have been used for over two years, is that it is the most comfortable and economical of the half-dozen varieties in the school buildings here.

Woman Suffrage Association.

The American Woman Suffrage Association will hold its Thirteenth Annual Meeting in Omaha, Nebraska, in the Baptist Church, September 12 and 13, 1882. It will begin its sessions on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p. m. You are hereby respectfully invited to attend.

Auxiliary State and local societies may send delegates equal in number to the Congressional delegations of their States or Territories. Where delegations are not full, alternates will be received from the States, consisting of members of the Association in attendance at the Convention. All members of the Association have a right to take part in the discussions.

The Woman Suffrage Constitutional Amendment now pending in Nebraska, makes the present occasion of special interest and importance. Some of the speakers in attendance at this Convention will probably remain and take part in the campaign. A full attendance of suffragists is especially important.

Lawrence Business College.

Young man, don't fail to attend the Lawrence Business College if you can possibly arrange matters so as to do so. Fall term begins September 5; school in session all the year. For College Journal giving full particulars, call at the college, or address

Tourists are sometimes suggestive. "Why, a donkey couldn't climb that hill," said one of them; and then he added, "and I'm not going to try it." This is, without doubt, a wicked and adulterating generation; and even the milk of human kindness resembles the stock of most railroad corporations in that it is extensively "watered."

It is all very well to say that a man was hanged on a legal technicality, but on thinking the matter over we must confess that the rope really had something to do with it.

What does life consist of with most of us? Of nothing more nor less than making a tremendous noise in the world during our babyhood and then awaking to the fact that during the rest of our mortal career the world will like us best if we keep still and mind our own little business. The children who gave promise of becoming great men are somehow hampered by circumstances and never come to much.

New Life

is given by using BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in perfect condition. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it disarms the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, Esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co., Attorneys, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec. 5th, 1881:

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for malaria and nervous troubles, caused by overwork, with excellent results.

Beware of imitations. Ask for BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and insist on having it. Don't be imposed on with something recommended as "just as good." The genuine is made only by the Brown Chemical Co. Baltimore, Md.

WAIT FOR 4-PAUGH, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15TH.

The Household.

The Green Apple Season.

About this time look out for children's funerals. Orchards are full of apples and so are city fruit stands. The fruit may be small, green, hard, sour and indigestible, but it is an apple, and may be bought for a cent. What more can the small boy ask? He buys, he bites; perhaps the flavor does not meet his views, still what he holds in his hand is an apple; apples are made to eat, so he eats it. He becomes accustomed to the flavor and wants more, and if his money is equal to the demands of his palate, his parents soon want the doctor. Sometimes the doctor succeeds, but oftentimes the undertaker succeeds him, and the family's pastor makes a little speech about the mysterious dispensations of Providence and then a little gravestone marks all that remains of what once was a boy—and all on account of the green apple, and the authorities who allow this terrible temptation to be freely exposed for sale.—N. Y. Herald.

Household Hints.

Meat that has gathered moisture in the refrigerator should be dried in the oven before being sent to the table, even if it is to be eaten cold. Meat is often wasted just from a lack of this care.

If the water in which new turnips are boiled is well salted, and is changed twice or three times, the strong and disagreeable flavor noticed in them before frost comes will almost entirely be removed.

Tender tops of new beets, if boiled and then fried in butter, make an excellent garnish or relish for roast pork or for beef. Vinegar may be added or not, as you please. Drain them well before frying.

Veal cutlets dipped in beaten eggs and then in Indian meal, or in very fine bread crumbs, and fried in butter till a sort of brown crust forms on them, make a delicious breakfast dish. Serve with new potatoes sliced and warmed with cream.

String beans make a nice dish, if, after being boiled in the usual way with a small piece of pork to flavor them you drain them carefully, and then add sweet milk or cream, a little butter, pepper and salt, just as you prepare peas.

When you serve black raspberries or huckleberries, after putting sugar all over, allow one teaspoonful of water to each saucer of fruit. Do this even if you serve milk and cream with them also. They are so much less juicy than other small fruits that they need it.

Light cakes for breakfast or tea are made of one quart of sweet milk, three eggs, beaten separately and very light, a piece of butter the size of an egg, three coffee cups of flour, a little salt, three tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Put the whites of the eggs in last, and bake in gem pans in a hot oven.

A good way to bake apples or pears is to first put them in a small jar, cover them with water, and bake slowly for at least two hours. If you choose, scatter sugar over each layer of fruit before putting the water on. The juice will then be ready to serve with them, but you can add the sugar afterward and let it come to a boil.

The castor is no longer a necessary article of table furniture—in fact, it is dispensed with altogether on many handsomely set tables; its place is supplied by pretty jug-shaped bottles at each end of the table, which is certainly a more convenient arrangement. The same tables are provided with pretty and quaint individual bottles at each place.

Now comes the hour of disquiet to the mother of one or more small boys. By careful training they may be taught that green apples cause colic, but no amount of persuasion will convince them that the watermelon is to be shunned; so, wise mother, let them eat the melons, make one stipulation, and that is that they shall eat salt with them. This will prevent most of the bad effects sometimes experienced.

Work-baskets can be ornamented in many pretty ways. Choose an open-work basket of some fanciful design; in the bottom paste with mucilage on lining of silk, or velvet, or satin, on which is painted or embroidered a spray of flowers. Around the edge of this lining in the bottom of the basket put a row of plaited ribbon, and another at the top also. It is not necessary to line the sides, though this is a matter of choice. These baskets make pretty gifts.

An elegant screen is made by using an ebony frame which forms one square space. Fill this with dark olive satin; on this, in oil colors, outline a hill and a tree. Use as dark shades as you can, and make them effective; brighten with yellow light, using Naples yellow. A design for the suggested landscape can be found in some book of wood-cuts, and with a little work it can be made very brilliant. Squeeze the paint from the tubes on blotting paper, which will absorb the oil and so prevent its spreading.

Concerning Women.

King's College, London, has published a scheme for extending its operations to the education of women.

Drake University, of Des Moines, Iowa, has a woman professorship in the medical department.

The Central Committee of the suffrage party of the State of New York have issued a tract offering fifty reasons why women should vote.

Miss Matilda Hindman regards the outlook in Nebraska as hopeful. She lectures five times a week, and finds people everywhere ready to hear.

Mrs. Catharine Starbuck, of Nantucket, has been elected a delegate to the National Unitarian Convention to be held at Saratoga in September next.

Mrs. Mary E. Haggart addressed a convention of twenty Sabbath schools, the 5th of August, at Walesboro, on the suffrage amendment. It is a great step to get into the Sabbath schools and churches. Indiana women are working with a will.

Parsons College, located at Fairfield, Iowa, has had a donation of $6000 towards establishing a new chair of natural sciences to be called the "Sally Ringland Professorship." Mrs. Ringland, the donor, was a woman of wealth recently deceased.

The secretary of the Harvard "Annex" learns that at least two persons now preparing their wills have included in them generous bequests to help the cause of the education of women at Cambridge, and that offers of money for immediate use have also been made.

At the close of the convention of the American Woman Suffrage Association, at Louisville, the first society in Kentucky was formed. Although but a few months old, it has already become a power for good, as the property rights bill adopted by the State legislature shows.

The Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors has decided that sex is no bar to admission to practice as attorneys. Miss Mary Hall of Hartford, has passed a satisfactory examination in the knowledge of law, and the court below reserved the question of her eligibility for the opinion of the higher court.

Pennsylvania is now the only State which has persistently refused women admittance to the bar. A lady in that State has been trying for seven or eight years to gain admittance, but the court refuses to allow her to enter under the existing statutes, and the legislature refuses to pass a new law.—(Hartford Times.)

The career of Miss Fanny Parnell, brief as was her course, shows how much woman may do in and for a great cause. It is questionable if Ireland would have fallen into the servitude in which she has lain for centuries, or that our race would to-day be on the ascent to Liberty, but for the influence that has been exerted for good or for ill by the fairer sex.—(Irish World.)

The Evening News, the only daily opponent to suffrage in Indiana, has lately admitted that the "paradoxical thing called the suffrage amendment" would be submitted to the people by our next legislature. Now, judging from the wonderful progress lately made in the way of converting partial suffrage sinners, the amendment may not only be submitted but also be ratified at the election soon to follow.

Dr. J. H. Vincent, in his lecture at Lake Bluff, last week, on "That Boy's Sister," referring to the suffrage question, said that the woman who did not control two to five votes would never gain by depositing one, but would be likely to lose influence over the others. If "That Boy's Sister" does not suggest to the brilliant lecturer that if he does not control from two to five votes he will never gain by depositing one, it will only be because she is not so bright as her brother.—(Chicago Advance.)

The American Woman Suffrage Association will hold its Thirtieth Annual Meeting in Omaha, Nebraska, at the Baptist Church, September 12 and 13, beginning its session on Tuesday, September 12, at 7:30 p. m. All friends of Woman Suffrage who are in sympathy with the principles and methods of the Association, are respectfully invited to attend. Every auxiliary State and local society is invited to send a report of its work, and to propose plans of action. The Woman Suffrage Constitutional Amendment now pending in Nebraska, gives the present occasion special interest and importance. Some of the speakers in attendance will remain and take part in the campaign.

Rev. Mary Thomas Clark, of Richmond, Ind., has been for several years a regularly ordained minister in the Universalist church recognized in full fellowship as far as duties of the church are concerned. When traveling in church work, she never lets an opportunity pass when she can give a lecture on woman suffrage, separate from her regular sermons, and she has herself an unanswerable plea for the enlargement of the sphere of woman. Hence, in her quiet, unobtrusive way, this Christian worker has been creating a public sentiment where she preaches, quite in advance of the times, and will be of great advantage in the present campaign for the suffrage amendment in Indiana.

The Iowa State Register gives the following tribute to the W. C. T. U. Temperance Union: "For years they have been the most efficient and popular of temperance organizations in Iowa, in themselves—and for years have been the peacemakers, both between the temperance organizations themselves, and such organizations and the public. Women never wrought with greater patience and greater foresight than these good and true women have wrought for the past six years. Nobler still, their work has been as modestly done as it has been successfully. Their State organization has shown constantly wisdom and prudence and skillful leadership, and their local organizations have nobly supplemented in detail the wisdom and skill of the general plan. In every respect these women have not only won the respect these women have not only won the respect to the women of America and glory to womanhood in doing it. We have, since knowing what they have done, a larger faith in the nobility and civilization of Iowa."

Feathers, ribbons, velvet can all be colored to match that new hat by using the Diamond Dyes. 10 cents for any color.

An enthusiastic admirer of Polled cattle says they are gentle and give no trouble unless a dog shows up. Then the dog must go. They eat, grow fat, and are not dainty; that they enter the stables quietly and in good order, and that the bulls get all or nearly all polled calves.

One Experience from Many.

I have been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.

There is reported to be now about 200,000 sheep in the eastern portion of Montana, and that the cost of keeping in herds of 2,000 each is about $1 per head. The wool is said to average $3,000 and the lambs $1,000 from such a herd, or about 100 per cent. over the cost of keeping.

Farm and Stock.

Subscribers are earnestly requested to send for publication in this department any facts not generally known, but of interest to stock raisers and farmers. "Farmers, write for your paper."

The Chicago Times gives the following samples of advertisements appearing in considerable numbers in the Washington papers: "I will pay $100 to any one securing me a position paying $60 a month in any of the departments." "Will pay to anyone procuring me a position paying $60 a month in any of the departments." "Will pay to anyone procuring me employment under the Government paying $1,200 annually, more or less, per centage in proportion to salary received, payable monthly." "A pensioner will pay for one year $20 a month for a position in any of the departments that will pay $60 a month." "A competent young lady who desires a position in one of the departments will give one-half of salary to any person procuring her the same." It would be worth a little investigation to find out who it is that can sell offices in the United States service and what disposition is made of the proceeds.

Textile Record: "A direct contribution to the causes of depression has been made by the speculators, who have used the shortness of the crops as a pretext for getting up corners. These gamblers have by artificial and, in our opinion, criminal means, further inflated prices that were, from natural and unavoidable causes, unusually high. They are men who prey upon the misfortunes of their fellow citizens; who enrich themselves by filching bread from the mouths of honest laborers, and who are blood-sucking parasites upon the industrial body. It is worth while to consider whether legislation cannot be devised for the purpose of having these blacklegs definitely placed in the ranks of public enemies."

Practical jokers are so seldom punished for their detestable tricks that there is much satisfaction in laughing at the discomfiture of a Troy merchant who thought to make his neighbor mad. The other night he removed a fruit-stand from its own place to the sidewalk in front of a shoemaker's shop and then went chuckling home to bed. But his little operation had been watched, and in the middle of the night he was aroused from pleasant dreams of his own astuteness by a policeman, who ordered him to carry the fruit stand back to the place where it belonged, on penalty of immediate arrest.

Lynchburg Virginian: "We have been hewers of wood and drawers of water for the other section long enough, being content with the husk while we gave them the kernel. No true friend of the South can favor this policy [protection] longer; and since it is manifest that in the two great manufactures of iron and cotton we can beat the North, it does not become any of our people to be crying out 'protection,' when the measure of protection is already excessive, and is used to our detriment."

[Logan, (Ohio) Hocking Sentinel.]

Hocking Valley News.

In the absence of anything startling or terrific, politics and the exploits of the army worm excepted, news from this delightful valley will not prove nerve-tingling. However an item of very great importance to many people is communicated by Mr. F. Harrington, wholesale and retail druggist of Logan, who thus writes: Mr. Alex. McClurg, Union Furnace, states that his wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for the last twenty-five years, being unable to walk without canes or other help the most of that time; has now used two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil and walks not only about the house but also in the fields without any helps.

Farmer's Review: "A typical protectionist is Mr. H. H. Stevens of Kentucky River Mills, Frankfort, Ky. Before the tariff commission, the other day, he very frankly stated that he wanted to see a duty of 50 per cent. imposed on jute, hemp, etc., and to have all machinery used in manufacturing the same put on the free list. Protection for himself and none for anybody else. That's his motto and his frankness is refreshing. It's the same with them all, but they do not all say so."

[Saginaw Daily News.]

Mr. George Shick informed our reporter that he had been suffering with rheumatism in his feet so badly, that for weeks at a time he would be unable to leave his bed. He tried various remedies without relief, and concluded to use St. Jacobs Oil. It acted like magic. In two days he was entirely cured.

M. Camille Flammarion, the eminent French astronomer, predicts the probable end of the world by its coming in contact with a comet which he says will make its appearance in September. The comet will pass so near the earth, he declares, that the planet will have great difficulty in escaping destruction.

Troy Chief: "The anti-St. John men compelled the Convention to nominate McCabe. St. John had promised the colored people a position on the ticket, but intended to sell them out. The anti-St. John delegates voted for McCabe almost solidly, and compelled the St. John fellows either to take him or go squarely back on their colored brethren."

Sparkling Eyes.

Rosy cheeks and clear complexion only accompany good health. Parker's Ginger Tonic better than anything, makes pure, rich blood and brings health, joyous spirits, strength and beauty. Ladies try it.—Bazaar.

Troy Chief: "The convention adopted a prohibition and woman suffrage platform. It seems to us there ought to be a Republican Convention held, and a ticket put in the field."

Is the name of E. P. McCabe, the candidate for State Auditor, Eli? Any way he's got there.

We make this liberal offer because we desire to give a present sufficiently large to induce every one to give Dobbins' Electric Soap a trial long enough to know just how good it is. If, after trial, they continue to use the soap for years, we shall be repaid. If they only use the fifteen bars, getting the dollar's worth of music gratis, we shall lose money. This shows our confidence. The soap can be bought of any grocer—the music can only be got of us. See that our name is on each wrapper.

A box of this soap contains sixty bars. Any lady buying a box, and sending us sixty cuts of Mrs. Foggy, can select music to the amount of $4.50. This soap improves with age, and you are not asked to buy a useless article, but one you use every week.

[Reported for the Spirit of Kansas by E. B. Good, Grocer, 71 Massachusetts street, Lawrence, Kansas.]

Trade in general for the past week has been dull. Farmers are so busy with work that they find little time to come to the city. All kinds of country produce find a ready sale and at a fair price. Potatoes are a little dull, and there is plenty of butter to supply the demand; but of peaches, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, pears and grapes a much larger quantity could find a ready sale. Eggs are steady and in good demand. Some chickens that are brought in sell readily for a better price than our quotations, but we endeavor to give about the average.
