Talk in Trillions —
Ka That's Real Inflation
The gross national product will reach one trillion dollars a year before the end of 1970 and will jump to two trillion dollars annually by 1980, predicts The Outlook, a weekly investment advisory publication produced by Standard & Poor's corporation.
Only about three-fifths of the gain in the GNP will be a real growth, however, since inflation will have become a way of life in the '70's. Standard & Poor's projects a 3 percent inflation growth rate during the coming decade compared with an average 2.1 percent for the last 20 years.
High interest rates also will be a fact of life during the period. But business and investors will be able to live with these conditions, for corporate profits before taxes will climb from an estimated 95.7 billion dollars this year to 205 billion in 1980, gaining an average 7 percent annually versus 6.3 percent during the '60's.
During the coming decade Standard & Poor's anticipates a rather steady upward movement in the economy without the deep dips or spectacular spurts that have characterized other periods. The decade will be one of gradual rather than drastic change.
The population will grow younger on average, and the working force will outgrow the population as a whole. With more sophisticated management of the economy, financial crisis will be avoided, and the population generally will be able to buy what industry produces.
According to The Outlook, these projections rule out a major war because "no one can forecast the kind of world we would have after such a conflict." The forecast does allow for continued East-West tension with little, if any, relaxation of the heavy (but bearable) burden on the economy.
Population growth will be 1.3

LONGHORN ATTENTION
Though the modern breeds get the prizes at the big livestock shows in the country, put a Texas Longhorn in the stalls and he'll get a major share of the attention from the crowds.
This Longhorn was a major attraction at the American Royal last week. Named Abilene, he is a 19-year Longhorn who is the official mascot of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame at Oklahoma City. His handler here is Mac McClain.
Abilene has an 8-foot horn spread, weighs 2100 pounds, stands 17 hands (about five feet, 8 inches) at the shoulders.
Longhorns are the direct descendants of the first cattle Spanish explorers introduced in the new world. They were brought into Texas in the late 1500s. He was an ideal animal when cattle had to endure month-long drives for 1000 miles before reaching beef markets.

Filled Milk, Class 1 Milk — It's All The Same, Says USDA

The Agriculture Department has decided to classify so-called "filled milk" as ordinary Class I or bottling milk under the federal marketing order system.
Most of the 67 marketing order areas have treated filled milk on the same price basis of regular milk, officials said, but the new proposal will state the regulation clearly and uniformly.

The department defines filled milk as "a beverage containing either fresh liquid skim milk, or skim milk reconstituted from nonfat dry milk, with added vegetable fat or oil in place of the natural butterfat."

time."
Federal milk marketing orders set minimum prices which handlers and processors must pay dairymen. The proposal approved by the department would require filled milk to be priced according to the minimums.

American Buys Kaiser Jeep

American Motors has agreed to buy Kaiser Jeep Corp. for $80 million.

The agreement was announced jointly by AMC and Kaiser Industries Corp.

The agreement calls for payment of $10 million in cash, $10 million in AMC's negotiable five-year notes and 5.5 million shares of American Motors Capital stock which is currently selling for about $11 a share. The $10 million in negotiable notes is subject to adjustment following an audit of Kaiser Jeep, AMC said.

"American Motors and Kaiser Jeep manufacture noncompetitive product lines with complementary management and dealer organizations," the AMC announcement said. "American Motors produces a broad line of passenger vehicles in a wide range of price classes, and Kaiser Jeep specializes in the manufacture of a line of four-wheel-drive pleasure and utility vehicles and heavy duty military and government vehicles."

The decision to go ahead with the filled-milk regulation proposal generally is based on information received at a public hearing early in 1968 at Memphis, Tenn.

Department officials said the proposal is subject to approval of at least two-thirds of the dairy farmers in each marketing order area. A spokesman said final approval is expected by the end of the month.

The department said the proposal and a separate decision on the central Arizona area would amend all but four federal milk marketing orders.

The Georgia and southeastern Minnesota-northern Iowa orders were not in effect at the time of the hearing last year and are not covered by the proposal.

Also excluded were the Minneapolis-St. Paul and Mississippi orders to allow for other administrative considerations.

A spokesman said proposed amendments would be offered for the four remaining order areas "within a relatively short

State Holstein Assn. Sale Averages $810

ABILENE — The annual fall state sale of the Kansas Holstein Association held here grossed $35,645 for 44 head of registered dairy animals.

The average of $810 per cow was the highest in the history of the sale, of which this one was the 27th. Most of the fall sales have been held in Abilene.

Highest price paid was $1100 for a 2-year-old from Higher View Dairy of Hays.

Two other cows brought more than $1100.

A cow sold by Harold Scanlan of Abilene and bought by Francis Sprang of Effingham brought $975, which was fourth high.

Two of the animals went to out-of-state buyers — one to Oklahoma and one to Wisconsin.

The 44 head sold represented 35 Kansas consigners. About 100 persons attended the show and sale.

K-STATE LIVESTOCK JUDGES
KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY'S senior livestock judging team finished 13th in the American Royal judging contest at Kansas City.
The K-Staters, coached by R. H. Hines, made their best showing in swine, where they were third as a team. Dillard Ungeheuer (second from left on the back row), was the high individual in the contest in swine judging.

Risk Companies Avoid Risks

Because of the conservative approach of most insurance companies and the changing nature of the insurance market, many persons are becoming convinced insurance companies are not interested in selling insurance — or taking a risk — unless it's "a sure thing."

Persons make jokes about a fire insurance salesman whose idea of a good policy is one on a steel bridge.

Day after day insurance companies cancel motor car coverage for drivers who have had too many problems, refuse to renew school policies because of racial trouble, and turn away businessmen because they are in problem neighborhoods.

As a consequence, insurance companies are getting a reputation, perhaps not entirely deserved, of not being willing to take a risk unless there is very little risk to take.

Some of this is true. Insurance companies should not be asked to accept flood insurance in areas where floods are seasonal unless they can charge enough to offset the risk. And this is precisely what happens.

Insurance companies have worked out elaborate actuarial tables on each risk. If the risk is high, the company may charge extra, spread the risk, or refuse to take it.

Now one of the strangest risks in a business as staid as the insurance business is beginning to take hold — and major insurance companies are willing to give you your money back.

The Aetna Life and Casualty Company broke the ice recently by introducing what it called the first policy of its kind with a "full money-back feature." The disability policy provides that holders who reach the age of 65 without collecting benefits will get a refund of all premiums paid. Even if benefits have been paid, Aetna will refund the balance paid in. Moreover, policyholders get up to $1500 a month in the event of disability.

Earlier this year, Allstate Life Insurance Company introduced a similar plan for life insurance, in amounts of $5000 and $10,000. It provides that buyers who continue making payments until age 65 get back all they paid in — and still get full coverage until age 65 in the event of death. Moreover, if the insured becomes permanently disabled before age 60, Allstate makes the payments until age 65 and then returns all the payments (including those made by Allstate.)

2. Grass & Grain
October 28, 1969

Obviously, insurance companies as big as Aetna and Allstate — and many others with older plans — are not giving away money so easily.

Dr. Dan McGill, professor of insurance at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania, said similar plans had been offered or 40 years ago, went out of fashion and apparently are coming back.

"There has to be a charge for this," Dr. McGill said. "It may be in the interest rate. They just give you back the premiums without paying you interest. And if they charge enough of a premium they can make money on your money — particularly with interest rates as high as they are."

The interest earned on the premiums is definitely figured into the cost of the policy, according to Thomas Mahoney, vice-president and health actuary for American Life and Casualty Company, Chicago, whose disability policy returns 80 percent of the premium at the end of every 10-year period.

The price of money-back insurance should be checked against other kinds of insurance without this benefit. The cost of getting money back may be surprising.

SHOE IMPORTS EXPAND GREATLY IN 1960s

SHOE IMPORTS, which accounted for as little as 4.2% of the U.S. supply in 1960, are expected to account for 27% this year. The two big sources of imports: Italy and Japan.

The very first thing anyone notices about you is the way you look. When you walk down the street, come into a room, stand at a meeting, how you look is something nice, or not so nice, about you.

You look nice when you know what to wear for what you're doing and where you're going.

Dressing well begins by planning a wardrobe based on your needs and your budget. Since it is rarely, if ever, possible to have an entirely new wardrobe, begin with what you have. Be busy deciding what is wearable in your present wardrobe. Next, think about what you need, then how much you can spend. As you check your clothes and plan future purchases, consider your activities and personality.

What do you do? Do you have a job? Do you take care of the house? What are your favorite times? Do you go to church, meetings or neighborhood activities? Plan your wardrobe around your activities.

What type of person are you? Do you make friends easily or is it difficult for you to talk with strangers? Are you friendly and going or reserved and shy? Do you think of yourself as sophisticated, dramatic, dignified, simple, strong? Look for clothes that express your personality.

the garments you like to wear most as a guide in shopping for new clothes.

I've been watching my calorie intake and was proud of my progress until I visited my parents. When I used their scales I weighed three pounds more than my scales showed. My Dad said "I'll fix that," and dragged out another set of scales. Not only did I immediately lose those three pounds but two more besides.

I thought I'd be a little more excited with my cooking last week. I sprinkled rosemary on the roast beef. My dear husband looked at the meat and asked "What's a relief," he said. "That's a relief," he said. "For a minute I thought you'd dropped the meat in the grass!"

'69 Crops 70% Over Average

October 1 expectations for bumper fall crops combined with the earlier harvest of a near-record wheat crop to make 1969 the State's best crop production year, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The index of 1969 all crop production was 170 percent of the 1947-49 base, surpassing the previous highs of 160 percent in 1960 and 150 percent in 1958.

Record production is in prospect for sorghum grain and sugar beets, while output of soybeans, dry beans and hay will be the State's second largest and the corn crop the best since 1944.

Record high yields per acre of sorghum and corn and second highest for soybeans were unchanged from a month earlier, while the record yield per acre of hay was a shade below the September forecast.

Maturity of most fall crops lagged a little behind average, although dry, warm weather late in the month encouraged rapid ripening. Fall crop harvest activities started around mid-September and were gaining momentum by October 1.

Seeding of the 1970 winter wheat crop was favored by ample moisture and nearly two-thirds of the expected acreage was in the ground by October 1 with most early plantings up to good stands.

Sorghum Grain

With harvest one-twelfth completed by October 1, sorghum grain production was indicated at 182,229,000 bushels, 12 percent larger than in 1968 and 9 percent above the previous record crop in 1960.

An expected yield per acre of 57 bushels was 10 bushels above last year's previous high. Dry-land sorghums were exceptionally good in most eastern, central and southwestern areas but suffered from lack of moisture in northwestern counties.

Most irrigated fields are maturing a good crop of grain. Sorghums have had some disease, insect and weed problems in local areas. Late planted fields made good progress in September but many will need at least an average frost date to fully mature.

Corn

Corn grain production was forecast at 90,783,000 bushels, 7 percent above last year and the largest output since 1944. A prospective record yield of 77 bushels per acre is 2 bushels above last year.

This year there is an increased acreage of high yielding, irrigated corn in western areas. In central and eastern areas yields were relatively good except in southeast Kansas where they were materially below a year ago. By October 1, about one-sixth of the State's grain acreage was picked.

Other Crops

Soybean production of 22,011,000 bushels was indicated, the state's second largest crop and only 8 percent smaller than the 1968 record. Average yield per acre was estimated at 23 bushels, 2 bushels below the record 1968 yield. About one-eighth of the crop had been harvested by October 1, slightly behind usual due to late maturing fields.

Sugar beet production is forecast at 782,000 tons, 31 percent above the 1968 previous record output and nearly double the production of most recent years. Digging was well under way in western Kansas by October 1.

The Kansas dry bean crop is forecast at 220,000 cwt., 29 percent above last year and second only to the record 1961 crop.

Production of hay was expected to total 5,517,000 tons, 16 percent above last year and second only to the record 1965 output.

The expected alfalfa hay output of 3,477,000 tons is 16 percent above last year and the state's third largest crop.

Apple production of 16.0 million pounds was slightly above last year and the largest in 18 years. Peach production of 9.5 million pounds was about 1½ times last year's crop and the largest in a third of a century.

Pasture and Livestock

The October 1 pasture feed condition was sharply above a year earlier, as September moisture favored late growth of grasses. An exceptional growth of volunteer wheat provided some grazing by October 1 and along with seeded wheat pasture should carry a sizeable number of cattle and sheep this fall.

September milk production totaled 133 million pounds, the same as last month, but 1 cent below a year ago. Egg production during September totaled 69 million eggs, down seasonally but 3 percent above September 1968.

Farm Wages

Wages paid farm workers October 1 averaged above a year earlier in all categories. Farm rates paid by the month with board and room furnished averaged $265 compared with $250 a year ago, and monthly rates with house furnished were compared with $304 a year earlier.

Daily wage rates averaged $11.50 with board and room, 90 cents from last year and $14.10 without board and room up $1.10 from a year ago. Hourly wage rates averaged $1.59, up 9 cents from October 1, 1968.

United States

Sorghum grain production in the United States was forecast at 764 million bushels, 3 percent more than 1968 and 1 percent above the 1967 crop.

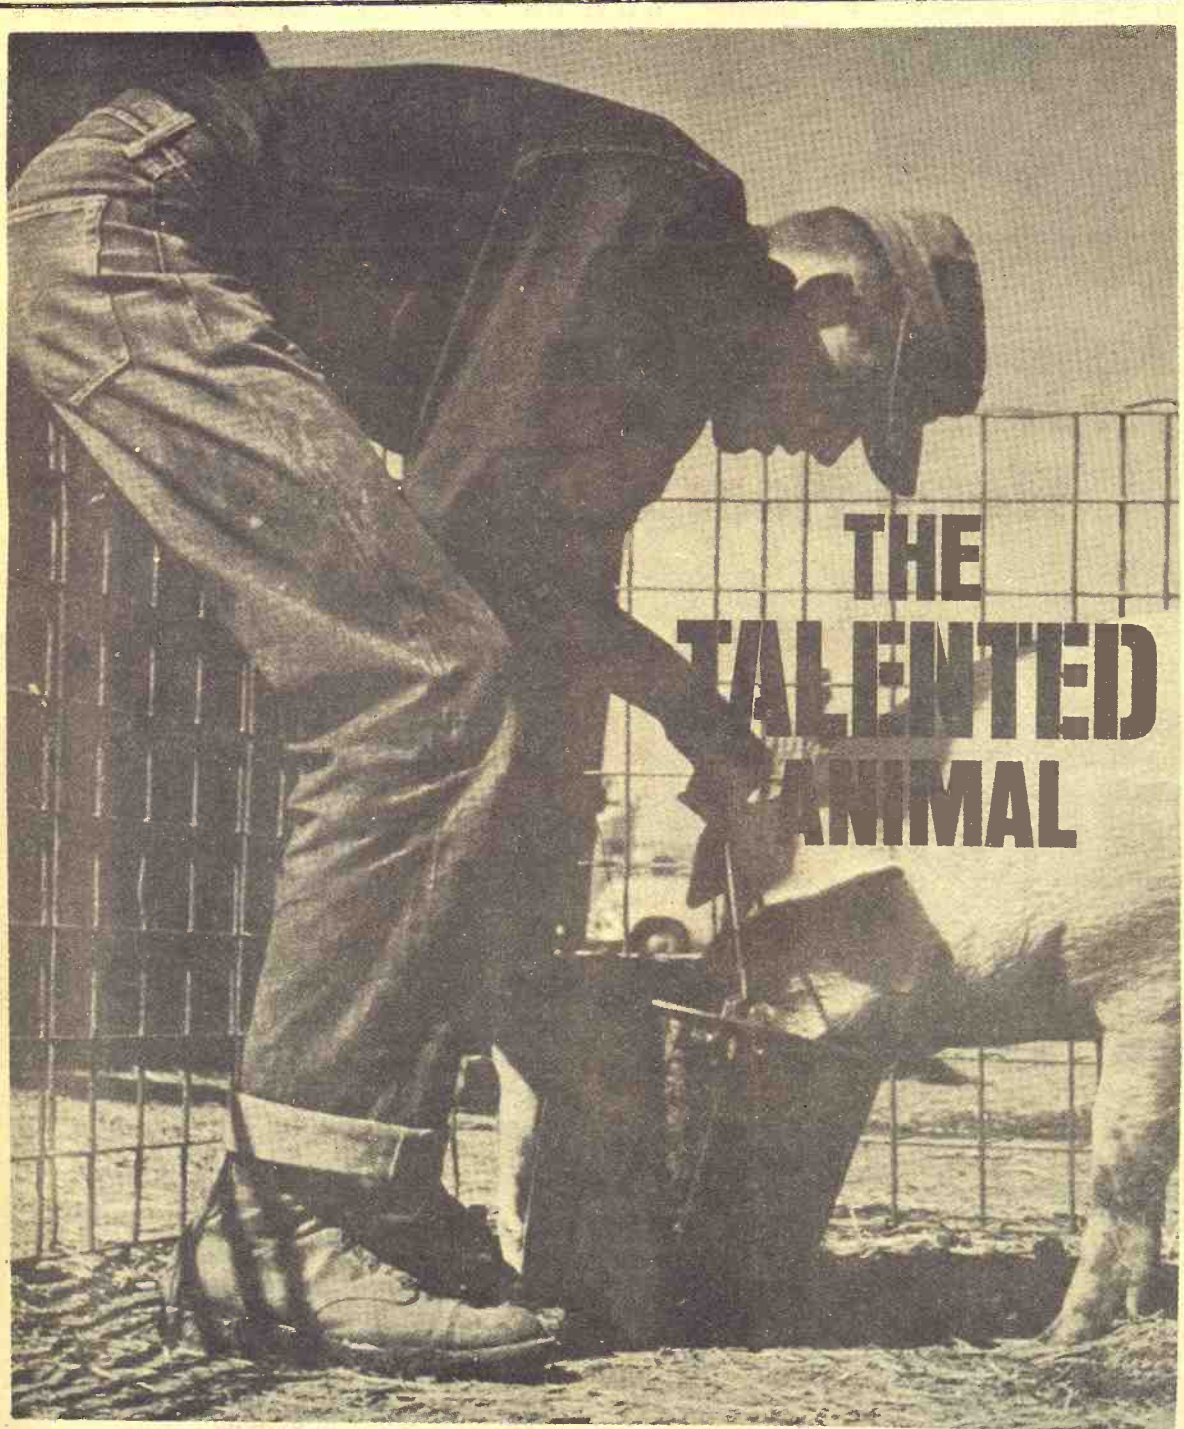

Corn grain output was estimated at 4350 million bushels October 1, down 1 percent from last year's crop of 4375 million bushels but 9 percent above 1967 crop output.

Soybean production prospect at 1070 million bushels, was only 1 percent below last year's record crop of 1080 million bushels but 10 percent above the 1967 production.

Minorities Gain State Jobs

Efforts to bring additional minority group members into state government jobs are making some headway but there still are major problem areas, a state report indicates.

Statistics on the number of minority group employees in state government were gathered by the Kansas Commission on Civil Rights and analyzed by Joseph P. Doherty, assistant director.

Doherty, in a progress report, said 63 of the 75 agencies who responded to a questionnaire said they are making specific efforts to recruit minority group personnel.

Wages paid farm workers in all categories earlier in the year averaged $1.10 without board and room compared with $1.10 from a year ago, and monthly wages with house furnished compared with $3.04 a year.

Daily wage rates for farm workers averaged $1.10 with board and room, 10 cents from last year, and $1.10 without board and room, 10 cents from last year.

Sorghum grain production in the United States was 1,764 million bushels, more than 1968 and 10 percent above the 1967 crop.

Corn grain output was 4,350 million bushels, down 1 percent from last year's crop of 4,390 million bushels but 9 percent above 1967 crop output.

Soybean production was 1,070 million bushels, only 1 percent below last year's record crop of 1,080 million bushels but 10 percent above 1967 production.

"I don't think we should belittle the efforts some agencies are making to correct the situation."

"But the real problem is some agencies are not willing to take the extra step to correct previous injustices," Doherty said.

The progress report involves persons employed by the state at all levels on Oct. 1 of last year. At that time, there were 28,026 state employees, 25,588 or 91.3 per cent of whom were white.

Negroes made up the second largest group with 1,768 or 6.3 per cent, followed by Spanish-Americans, 279 or .99 per cent, Indians, 44 or .15 per cent, and "others," 347 or 1.23 per cent.

The progress report showed percentage increases in all but one of the minority group categories since the last survey which was taken in March of 1967.

Doherty said one of the most serious problems in the State Highway Department which employs 16.37 per cent of the entire state work force — a total of 4,588 persons.

The assistant director said in general minority groups are poorly represented in the highway department with the lone exception of Spanish-American.

He said 15.4 per cent of all Spanish-Americans employed by the state work in the highway department.

However, he noted, the Highway Commission, has numerous jobs filled by whites that, in other agencies, are filled by minority group members — clerical posts for example.

"Although some other state agencies have no minority group employees at all, the problem is more serious in the Highway Commission because of its size," Doherty said.

Only 3.73 per cent of the Negro work force is employed by the highway department.

Doherty said some officials in the highway department are making efforts to add minority group members to the department's payroll.

The commission's report broke down state government into 10 categories. Here are those categories with the number of employees and the percent of the total work force in each:

Education and research — 9,640 (34.39); health and hospitals — 7,921 (28.26); highways — 4,588 (16.37); general government — 2,129 (7.59); public wel-

Two Good Reasons for Feeding Creep Chow

The calf, of course, gets the benefit of the extra energy, protein and other nutrients in Purina Creep Chow. He needs them if he is going to reach market weight quickly and bring top price. Purina research shows that creep-fed calves average 40 to 60 pounds heavier at weaning.

But mother cow also benefits from creep feeding. She isn't "suckled down" as heavily by a creep-fed calf, therefore, she is in better condition during the breeding season. Creep feeding can make a dollars and cents difference in the conception rate of your brood cows.

Medicare Doctor Fee Sure To Go Over $5 Monthly

The monthly fee paid by the elderly for doctor coverage under Medicare will be increased from the present $4 to "something over $5," an administration official says.

This would mark the second increase in the Medicare fee since the program went into effect in July 1966. The first fee was $3 a month.

The planned increase was disclosed by Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security, during questioning by the House ways and means committee.

Payment for doctor coverage under Medicare is entirely voluntary on the part of the elderly. In contrast, all of the elderly automatically receive hospitalization coverage at no charge, financed through a share of Social Security taxes paid during working years.

Ball attributed the planned increase in the voluntary Medicare fee to skyrocketing medical costs.

When the last increase — from $3 to $4 — was made, government officials conceded that the sum was insufficient, but they hoped that by keeping the figure low doctors would voluntarily hold their charges in line.

Ball told the committee that the exact amount of the increase had not been determined, but that the new fee would definitely exceed $5.

The new fee will be announced in December by Robert H. Finch, secretary of the Department of Health, Education & Welfare. It would likely go into effect next July 1.

The administration plan to increase the Medicare fee was brought out under questioning by Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert (D-N.Y.)

Criticizing the administration for seeking only a 10 percent increase in Social Security benefits, Gilbert said: "This 10 percent won't even be 10 percent more money for the elderly, in view of the Medicare increase."

Gilbert suggested that "a 20 percent increase in benefits would be more like it."

House Democrats have proposed a 15 percent benefit increase, effective December 1. The Nixon plan for 10 percent increase would go into effect with next April's benefit checks.

Bank Farm Loans In State Up By 7%

Kansas banks pushed their farm loan totals to an all-time high the past year to $679,607,000 — an increase of more than 7 percent over the year previous — the agricultural committee of the Kansas Bankers Association reports.

The Kansas increase compares with a 6 percent increase nationally in bank loans for agriculture, according to the National Agriculture Credit Survey just released by the American Bankers Association.

Banks were providing more nonreal estate farm loans — those used for current operations, living and production — than were other lenders, including government agencies. Of the total 600 insured commercial banks in Kansas at the beginning of this year, 589 were making agricultural loans.

Nonreal estate farm loans Jan. 1, 1969 totaled $593,106,000 for banks; $96,599,000 for Production Credit Associations; $14,280,000 for Farmers Home Administration. All totals were increased over the year previous.

Banks increased their farm real estate loans — those secured by mortgages on farm land including improvements — 18 percent to a total $86,501,000.

The bank loan increase was greater than for other lenders which showed the following totals for Kansas: Federal Land Banks $225,770,000; life insurance companies $240,673,000; individuals and others, $200,712,000; Farmers Home Administration $7,012,000.

Nationally, bank loans to agriculture totaled $13.5 billion from $12.8 billion a year earlier.

You? Penny-wise and pound-foolish?

It's great to save money on cattle feed. But be sure it's an economy you can afford. Urea, often less expensive, is a safe feed additive to a certain level. Beyond that, it becomes toxic. That means many pounds of weight loss. So, while you appear to be saving money on feed, your cattle could be starving on synthetics.

That's why you'll need a good protein supplement if you're going after maximum weight gain. It costs no more to feed the best. Sunflower Soybean Meal or Pellets. They're carefully processed from prime soybeans. They're highly palatable and digestible. They're nature's richest source of protein.

If you want that hefty weight gain with fewer headaches, arrange for Kansas Soya custom-mixing. We'll follow your present formula or, if you decide it needs beefing up, build a formula for you that's feedlot-proven for lowest cost with highest gain.

Maybe you mix your own feed. In that case, we'll deliver Sunflower Soybean Meal or Pellets whenever and wherever you need them. Or, if you pick up your order, provide automated in-and-out truckloading. And you can always use Kansas Soya's grain bank facilities.

Agree To Extend Great Plains Conservation

A 10-year extension of the Great Plains program of conservation and an increase in authorized federal spending to $25 million has been agreed upon by consignees from the House and Senate Agriculture Committees. At present, authorized spending is $15 million per year. Appropriations have never matched the authorized figure but a congressional source said "We foresee a time when they could."

October 28, 1969

The Great Plains states, which made up the "dust bowl" of depression years, work with the Department of Agriculture on conservation measures designed to prevent the area from again becoming a desert. Another change in the proposed

Sheep Breeders Sale Nov. 15 At Hutchinson

The Kansas Purebred Sheep Breeders Association is sponsoring its 24th annual ewe sale and 4-H and FFA sheep judging contest Saturday, November 15, at the Kansas State Fair sheep building in Hutchinson. The judging contest begins at 9:00 a.m. and the sale at 1:00 p.m. George Ahlschwede, Kansas State University Extension meats specialist, says the sale is one of the few places that Kansas' top sheepmen put their quality ewes on the auction block. Both bred ewes and open ewe lambs will be consigned and Ahlschwede notes that they will be ideal for 4-H and FFA projects, as well as improving flocks or

Parry Civil Rights Barbs At USDA

The Agriculture Department, stung by accusations of racial discrimination, has begun a series of educational meetings to familiarize its executives with civil rights issues.

The meetings are part of a tough mandate laid out by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin in a quietly circulated memorandum dated Sept. 23 but only last week made available generally.

Hardin's memo directed each agency chief to certify by next March 31 that all programs have been cleared of any practices impeding racial integration and that each agency completes civil rights training courses by June 30.

One of the first agencies to begin training is the massive Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service which administers federal farm programs at the national, state and county levels.

Other agencies such as the Federal Extension Service and the Farmers Home Administration—both targets of civil rights critics—are expected to follow suit.

A Major Sale By Area Dairy Queen Owner

Purchase of 145 Dairy Queen stores from Dairy Queen Inc. of Kansas by American Dairy Queen Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., was the largest single sale in the national firm's history.

Earl Bane, Salina, sold his franchise rights in Kansas, Connecticut, Mississippi and parts of Arkansas and Iowa for an undisclosed price. He retained his franchises in Saline and Johnson counties.

The transaction includes provisions for Bane to continue with American as a consultant for two years and to operate the Salina headquarters until the end of 1969. American will maintain an office here.

Bane came to Salina in 1948, operated a restaurant and opened his first Dairy Queen store. He still owns the store and will continue to lease it to Harold Fitzpatrick.

Bane founded Dairy Queen of Kansas in 1961 after he had represented the national firm since 1949.

"In 8½ years we've enjoyed a 70 percent increase in volume," Bane said. "Development of Johnson County will keep me busy enough now." Dairy Queen started as an ice cream manufacturer. It recently moved into the food industry.

Feeding Gooch's Best-- Raymond Krouse weans 107 feeder pigs from 11 sows!

Mr. Raymond Krouse, Wheaton, Kansas has specialized the last 2 years in the farrowing, raising and weaning of 8 week-old feeder pigs to sell. About one year ago, he switched his sow operation used to raise feeder pigs onto the uncomplicated Gooch Sow Feeding Plan.

Mr. Krouse is well satisfied now that he has switched to the uncomplicated Gooch Sow Feeding Plan. Mr. Krouse feels he now is getting larger litters of good, healthy, uniform size pigs. His sows are farrowing 10 to 14 pigs per litter. Equally important, Mr. Krouse reports the buyers of his feeder pigs are able to market-finish them in 3 months or less.

Clearly demonstrating the outstanding success in raising feeder pigs Mr. Krouse is experiencing with the Gooch Program is his 1969 feeder pig production. He has averaged over 8 pigs per litter weaned from the 62 litters farrowed so far. In fact, the last 11 sows he farrowed raised him 107 feeder pigs to sell.

THE UNCOMPLICATED GOOCH SOW FEEDING PLAN KROUSE USES WITH GREAT SUCCESS!

■ Feed one base ration from breeding through farrowing and weaning—grain mixed 3 to 1 with Gooch's Best Brood Sow Supplement.

■ Spot treat sows with the Neomycin-Terramycin antibiotic combination in Gooch Swine-Guard 300 at breeding—then again starting one week before and continuing two weeks after farrowing. When possible, Mr. Krouse also follows the Gooch recommendation of spot treating sows at midgestation with Swine-Guard 300.

■ Feed Gooch's Best Pig Guard 250 to help baby pigs make fast growth when the sow's milk flow slackens.

Sows are limited during gestation to the 3 to 1 mixture needed to maintain thrifty condition. Under confinement conditions, Mr. Krouse also feeds limited quantities of oats and alfalfa pellets. Sows are provided Gooch Phos-Eleven Mineral.

Full feeding this 3 to 1 grain-Gooch Brood Sow mixture from farrowing on supports top milk flow for the pigs—also conditions sows for breed-back within days after weaning.

State Co-op Volume Up, Members Down

The net dollar volume of sales of farmer cooperatives in Kansas showed a gain for the year July 1, 1967, to June 30, 1968, but the number of cooperatives and the number of members was down.

Dr. Milton L. Manuel, professor of economics at Kansas State University, Manhattan, attributes these facts to inflation, farmers using more inputs for production, mergers of cooperatives and a steady decline in the number of farmers.

Manuel says that the net dollar volume of sales of farmer cooperatives was up about one percent, from $533,248,000 to $538,755,000 for the marketing year.

"This was due to farmers using more inputs (feeds, fertilizers, farm chemicals, etc., to produce more outputs (crops and meat)," Manuel says. Part of the increase in net volume also was due to inflation. The three products which made up most of the net volume of sales for the cooperatives were feeds, petroleum products and fertilizers, in that order.

As of June 30, 1968, there were 299 farm cooperatives in Kansas — a three percent decrease from the 309 cooperatives in operation the previous years.

Memberships in Kansas farm cooperatives decreased from 216,335 in 1966-67 to 212,795 in 1967-68. Manuel says there are fewer farmers in Kansas than memberships in Kansas cooperatives because farmers often belong to more than one cooperative to take advantage of the diverse services offered by cooperatives.

strate our determination to bring food help to every locality, large or small, in the nation," said Lyng.

The program permits eligible low-income families to buy stamps at a discount that can be redeemed at grocery stores for food at full value.

The dates these counties will begin issuing food stamps will be announced locally after state welfare officials have planned a timetable for procedures to assure effective and efficient programs, Lyng said.

Retail grocery and food whole-salers also will be briefed by Department of Agriculture personnel to assure their understanding of their part in the stamp program.

CITE AREA HOLSTEIN PRODUCTION RECORDS

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has cited two G&G area Holsteins for doubling or better average milk and butterfat records in one lactation. One animal cited as a 3-year old owned by Floyd Moran, Topeka, for producing 16,000 lbs. of milk and 676 lbs. of butterfat, and the other one owned by Quinn Steenbock & Sons of Manchester, for 19,500 lbs. of milk and 764 lbs. of butterfat.

Add G&G Area Counties To Food Stamp Plan

Seven additional counties in Kansas have been designated to begin the food stamp program by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng.

These counties will make food stamps available to low-income families as soon as possible: Douglas, Jackson, Jefferson, Linn, McPherson, Miami and Saline.

The counties had requested the program and were designated because either they have no Department of Agriculture family food-aid program or they distribute Agriculture Department foods on a limited basis, Lyng said.

A stream of diet ginger ale runs across the ground at Canada Dry's Toronto plant as a bulldozer crushes more than 100,000 cans of the soft drink. The drink contained the artificial sweetener cyclamate, which will not be allowed for sale in the U. S. after the first of the year because of questions about its effects on health.

No Link Yet Of Mid-America To Associated Milk

The board of directors of Mid-America Dairymen, Inc., the cooperative that handles virtually all the milk that reaches the Kansas City market, has voted against recommending to its members a merger with Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

Associated Milk Producers is a new dairy marketing group organized under the cooperative laws of Kansas. Twelve cooperatives with members from Minnesota and Wisconsin south to Texas, east to Indiana and west to Colorado have indicated an intention to merge with the new organization.

But Mid-American Dairymen, which itself represents the merger of 14 smaller dairy marketing cooperatives, has decided not to join. Bill Powell, Princeton, Mo., said today. Powell is president of Mid-America.

The proposed merger has been talked in dairy co-op circles since the early part of this year.

"In the early stages of our discussions concerning the proposed Associated Milk Producers merger our board raised questions which involved administration, board functions and responsibilities, achieving uniformity and equal treatment of members, prospective costs and expenses and other questions. Up to now we haven't had satisfactory answers to all these questions. However, one board has been willing to work with Associated Milk Producers and will continue to do so."

MU Test Favors Crossbreeding

COLUMBIA, MO. — Most of the extra growth "kick" from crossbreeding beef cattle showed up in more pounds of calf weaned per cow bred, according to John Lasley, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

The animal geneticist was referring to the results of the heterosis project at the North Missouri Center near Spickard, Mo. The project includes Angus, Charolais and Hereford cows producing both purebred and crossbred calves.

The crossbred calves averaged about 9 per cent more pounds weaned per cow bred than did the purebred calves. This advantage ranged from 5 to 16 per cent among the crosses of the different breeds.

The crossbred advantage for other traits following weaning, such as daily gain, ranged from 1 to 5 per cent. For traits affected little or none by hybrid vigor, such as most carcass traits, the crossbred animal was about the average of the two breeds used for the cross.

Lasley says that in general, mating cows to a bull of another breed increased the pounds marketed per cow bred. Purebred cows performed better when bred to bull's of certain breeds than with others.

"The study again points up the importance of getting a high conception rate and high percentage of calves weaned," Lasley says. "These two factors strongly affected the total pounds of beef marketed."

Dairymen To Get Hike By 40 Cents Cwt.

Look for the price of milk to go up in the grocery stores, if a 40 cent a hundred pounds increase on Class I milk goes thru.

Mid-America Dairymen Inc., the farmer cooperative which handles nearly all the class I milk that is delivered in the Kansas City, Topeka and St. Joseph areas, announced last week the new prices to be effective November 1.

If the increase is passed along to the consumer, it will amount to about 1 cent a quart.

Mid-America said the increase was the first for dairymen in a year and a half.

Few pricing systems are more complicated than that applied to milk. In the first place, there is a federal marketing order program in which minimum prices are set. Prices vary from area to area and are affected monthly by supply-demand factors.

In addition, separate prices are established for class I milk, which is used for bottling purposes; for class II, used in cottage cheese; and class III, used for other manufacturing purposes such as cheese and ice cream.

The farmer gets a "blend" price, depending upon the amount of the milk used for each purpose. However, in federal marketing order areas, all the dairy farmers get the same blend price.

For years, dairy farmers were given a premium of 10 cents a hundred pounds if they installed steel bulk tanks, the big stainless steel tanks that are one indication of the ultimate in modern dairying.

In September 1967 the dairy co-op put into effect a premium of 50 cents a hundred pounds over the federal marketing order minimum.

At the same time, it eliminated the 10 cent bulk tank premium because all the grade A milk producers had installed these facilities.

The federal market order price on class I milk in September 1967 was $5.43 a hundred. The 50-cent premium raised the price to the bottlers to $5.93.

In 1968, the federal marketing order price was raised and as this price was raised, the co-op reduced its premium demand. By October 1968 the federal marketing order had been increased to $6.07 a hundred and there was 26 cents left of the premium, bringing the total charge to $6.33.

ing the total charge to $6.33.

This month, the federal marketing order price is $6.23. Thus, with the $6.33 cost to handlers, the premium is only 10 cents.

Now the co-op is establishing a 50 cent premium as of November 1, but since this will include the 10-cent premium still in effect, the actual rise will be 40 cents, to a total of $6.73.

In September, the dairy farmers were getting $4.50 a hundred pounds for class II milk and $4.35 for class III. Prices for October will be similar.

About 72 percent of the milk delivered to Kansas City and the others in this area is used for bottling (class I).

The prices on class II and class III will not be changed by the co-op's premium order. Prices have risen from levels of a few years ago because of decreased production and a strong demand for dairy products such as cheese and ice cream.

Low-Cost Housing Complex OK'd At Manhattan

MANHATTAN — A 100-unit cooperative apartment complex has been given the green light by the Manhattan City Commission.

A controversial planned development district on a 9-acre tract in the Northview area was approved by a 4-1 vote when the commission adopted an ordinance permitting construction of the project.

Plans call for 60 two-bedroom units and 40 3-bedroom units, with the living area on the ground floor and bedrooms on the second.

Rental cost will be $99 a month for the small units and $117 a month for the larger apartments, excluding redecorating and utilities.

Families living in the complex will own a membership in the nonprofit cooperative. To be eligible, they must meet an income test of $6450 annually or less for two persons; $7500 for three to four persons, and $8550 for five to six persons.

The first 100 apartment units will be funded by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). An additional 100 units could be constructed on the tract if funds are available and the city sees a need for them. Developers said Kansas State University students would not be able to share an apartment unless related by blood or marriage.

The cooperative will be governed by a board of directors chosen from among the families living in the project.

The complex was opposed by a group of Northview residents, who asserted the area already had a number of mobile home parks and multiple-family dwellings which was "more than its share" of high-density "population."

Emphasis On Protein In Future Food Need

New varieties of cereals packed with protein and fortification of other foods with vitamins and other nutrients are some of the encouraging possibilities for solving the world's hunger problem, says an Agriculture department scientist.

"I do not anticipate a day when man gets his nourishment entirely from a pill," says Dr. George W. Irving Jr., head of the Agricultural Research Service.

"He shouldn't have to, I doubt that he'd want to, and he may never be able to. But I believe technology will find ways to insure that people everywhere get enough to eat."

Irving told the annual meeting of the Agricultural Research Institute that new foods some of them substitutes for traditional fare will play a major role in eliminating malnutrition and famine.

"World protein production, now estimated at 80 million tons a year, should be expanded by a fourth just to furnish adequate diets for this planet's present population," Irving said. "Since that population is expected to double within the next 30 years, protein supplies, too, must double."

Although production of food calories also must increase, Irving said, most emphasis has been on protein the primary building block nutrient. Plants, animals and even insects are being studied as possible protein sources.

But efforts thus far have not been fully exploited. Fish farming in some Southern states, for example, has emerged as a thriving enterprise, Irving said, but yields run only about three tons of fish an acre annually, compared with 200 tons in Japan where "aquaculture" is an established industry.

Fortification of food offers many possibilities. All the important cereal crops — corn, wheat and rice — are deficient in at least one essential amino acid or protein component.

Plant breeders are developing new varieties of these crops but, meanwhile, "we are looking to fortification with synthetic amino acids," Irving said.

An example of what can be done is taking place in India where bakers are fortifying bread with lysine — one of the amino acid building blocks of protein. Irving said that with the addition of only 0.2 percent lysine each loaf contains one-third more usable protein than unfortified bread.

Another way to enlarge the protein supply of food, Irving said, is by taking fuller advantage of sources such as soybeans. Most of the world's crop is crushed to make meal for animal feed, which is not an efficient method of improving human diets.

"Since animals fed on soybeans meal use up more protein than they return in the form of meat," Irving said, "it makes sense to try to get human food directly from the soybean, rather than running it through an animal."

Another nontraditional food source is fermentation, an old process used to make cheese, beer and other items, Irving said.

The petroleum industry abroad and in the United States is pioneering efforts to extract protein from oil on a commercial basis, at first, intended for livestock feeding, Irving said.

Eventually, he said, the protein from oil and gas may be used in human foods.

"I have heard that a catch has already been coined for this substance," Irving said. "And too soon, perhaps, local television announcers will be adjuring to go down to the local supermarket and ask for it by name, Petro-protein."

Wheat Pasture Beneficial

Wheat pasture feed supplies in western two-thirds of Kansas mid-October were rated the best since 1965, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

About 3.1 million acres of volunteer wheat has sufficient growth for pasture. This compares with 1.5 million acres in mid-October 1968 and is the highest since 1965.

Approximately 11 percent of the volunteer wheat acreage was being pastured compared with 6 percent a year earlier.

Movement of cattle to volunteer wheat pasture was heavy the first part of October. Army cutworms damaged some fields of volunteer wheat, and some was destroyed for insect and disease control.

Seeded wheat is up to a good stand in most areas and was developing rapidly. However, only about 1.6 percent of the seeded wheat was being grazed at mid-October.

Prospects for wheat pasture were favorable in most areas. Snow, ranging from 6-10 inches, fell about mid-month in the dry areas of northwest Kansas.

Great Plains Area

Top growth of fall seeded wheat with sufficient growth to pasture was the best since 1965 when comparable records began. Forage supplies available from wheat were good over much of the western third of Kansas and western Panhandle areas of Texas and Oklahoma.

In other areas of Kansas, wheat forage supplies were mostly fair, except for poor in parts of the northwest and east central. Wheat forage supplies in the remainder of the Oklahoma and Texas wheat pasture area were mostly fair.

By mid-October, about 14 percent of the fall seeded wheat acreage in the three-state wheat pasture region had sufficient growth to pasture. This compares with the previous high of 11 percent in both 1966 and 1968.

Approximately 3.3 percent of the fall seeded wheat acreage was being grazed, about the same as a year earlier. Favorable soil moisture supplies over much of the three-state region should further improve grazing prospects.

Troops Don't Move - Housing Tight In Junction

JUNCTION CITY — A slowdown in shipment of Army troops overseas has added to the critical housing shortage here, city officials say.

A survey showed practically no homes or apartments available in Junction City for rentals and all available quarters at Ft. Riley are filled, with many who ordinarily would live on post residing in surrounding communities.

October 28, 1969

A 24-unit privately financed apartment complex is scheduled for completion in December and a 100-unit federally financed complex is expected to start within 60 to 90 days.

STRICT RULES CUT CLASS

Strict new rules of the American Horse Show association left only two horses in one of the classes for Tennessee Walking horses. These two were left in the class for Missouri and Kansas 3-year olds. Five horses were excused after an inspection by the ring veterinarians and stewards. Five other horses did not appear for the inspection. Six of 13 horses in a foal class were excused for the same reasons.

The walking horses have been the center of controversy over methods used by some trainers to make the walkers attain their unusual way of moving, which gives the rider a perfectly smooth ride.

Need A Winter Storage Plan For Pesticides

Insecticides, fungicides and weed killers which are lying around the house should be stored for the winter.

John Ferguson, Kansas State University Extension engineer, advises Kansans to take inventory and make certain that all pesticides are kept in their original containers with a label that plainly identifies the contents.

All liquid containers should be sealed tightly. Paper bags or boxes containing dry products such as dusts or wettable powders should be closed and resealed with tape or put in a clean plastic bag which can be sealed.

Place the containers of pesticides in a storage room, chest or cabinet that can be locked. Ferguson says the storage space should be some area not subject to freezing temperatures.

Some liquid pesticide formulations will freeze and break the containers or the active ingredients may drop out of solution. Don't store pesticides near food or in medicine cabinets.

Keep weed killers away from insecticides and fungicides, especially if you have products that contain 2,4-D or related herbicides.

Now, dispose of all "empty" containers, products without complete labels, and products in damaged containers. Pesticide containers are never completely empty, so don't use them for any other purpose.

Ferguson says excess material should be buried at least 18 inches deep, away from water supplies. Put empty containers in the garbage can only if they can be tightly closed so that children and pets cannot get into them. If regular garbage pickup is not available, take the empties to a landfill dump or bury them at least 18 inches deep.

Where Does Grocery $ Go? Not All For Food

The average housewife who goes supermarket shopping continues to drop more and more non-food products in her cart than in previous years, according to a study by Supermarket-ing magazine.

Last year the woman entering a food market with a $20 bill emerged later with $2.44 worth of nonfood products including houseware and health and beauty aids. Also in her cart was $9.74 worth of perishables, such as baked goods, dairy products, frozen foods, meat and produce, and $7.82 worth of dry groceries. Ten years ago, only 91 cents of every $20 was spent on nonfood products.

The consumer expenditure survey showed that, out of $20, the total amount spent for perishable foods last year again fell below $10. Within the perishable food category, produce and frozen food, including ice cream, moved ahead in consumer popularity. The total spent for grocery products hit a new overall low, but the study indicated that, within this category, more was spent on soft drinks and tobacco products than in 1967 or 1966.

The study also showed "that consumers are spending more for more expensive items of food-convenience, snack and specialty types of food and generally ones requiring greater processing than their staple predecessors," the magazine noted. "Changing living patterns, resulting from the increased number of working wives and mothers, also are bringing about changes in food demands," the publication noted. "Retailers see this as a subtle but continuous erosion of the classic 'three squares' — breakfast, lunch and dinner."

Ten years ago nonfoods represented about 14.2 percent of 45.6 billion dollars in food store sales. With sales now at 70 billion, nonfoods represent about 22.6 percent. "Every indication is for continued erosion in the food and grocery percentage," the magazine concluded.

fare Department is scheduled to release the paper in several weeks. It is based on Census Bureau survey of 52,500 households across the country.

The report will show that both older persons and youngsters increasingly are giving up cigarette smoking, that the proportion of young persons who never have smoked is increasing and that women smokers are less inclined to quit than men. HEW declined to release 1968 data but officials confirmed the findings.

24 Grass & Grain
October 28, 1969

Smoking data gathered by not yet tabulated includes answers to questions about cigar smoking.

Kansas Feedlot Count Up 1% From Year Ago

There were 745,000 cattle and horses on grain feed for the slaughter market in Kansas feedlots as of October 1, according to Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This was 31 percent more than the number on feed a year ago and up seasonally from the 618,000 on feed July 1.

Large feedlots with a capacity of 1000 head or more had 549,000 on feed, 37 percent above last year, while smaller farm-sized feedlots had 196,000 on feed, 15 percent more than October 1 a year ago.

Grain-fed cattle and calves marketed for slaughter during the July-September quarter totaled 418,000, 36 percent more than the same quarter last year.

Cattle and calves placed on feed during the past quarter totaled 545,000, 20 percent more than a year ago.

Expected marketings during the current October-December quarter were estimated at 402,000 — 39 percent above the same quarter last year.

Steers accounted for 73 percent of the total cattle on feed October 1, or 547,000, while heifers comprised the balance of 198,000.

Some 545,000 head had been on feed less than 3 months, 20 percent more than a year earlier. Those on feed 3 to 6 months totaled 190,000 compared with 113,000 last year. There were 10,000 that had been on feed over 6 months compared with 3000 a year earlier.

By weight groups the largest increase over a year ago was in the 900 pound and over group where the 213,000 on feed represented an increase of 65 percent. Those weighing 700 to 899 pounds totaled 364,000, up 20 percent while those in the 500 to 699 pound group totaled 164,000, up 25 percent. There were only 4000 on feed under 500 pounds compared with 6000 a year ago.

Major Feeding States
Cattle and calves on feed October 1 intended for slaughter market totaled 10,082,000 head in the 22 major feeding states, up 10 percent from a year earlier.

Placements of cattle and calves on feed during July-September 1969 were down 1 percent from placements during the same quarter last year. Marketings (from cattle on feed October 1) during October-December are expected to be 12 percent above the same period last year.

Weight, Kind, and Time on Feed
Cattle and calves on feed less than 2 months in the 22 states are estimated at 5,452,000, down 2 percent from October 1, 1968. There were 3,277,000 on feed 3-6 months, up 29 percent.

Cattle on feed 6 months and over totaled 1,353,000 head, up 22 percent. There were 7,118,000 steers and steer calves on feed on October 1, 1969 in the 22 major feeding states, up 13 percent from a year ago. Heifers and heifer calves on feed numbered 2,936,000 head, up 3 percent from a year earlier. Cows and other cattle on feed totaled 28,000, up 9000 head from a year ago.

The number of steers and steer calves in each weight group and change from October 1, 1968, are as follows: Under 500 pounds — 377,000 head, up 33,000; 500-699 pounds — 1,298,000 head, up 112,000; 700-899 pounds — 2,595,

October 28, 1969

000 head, up 335,000; 900-1099 pounds — 2,473,000 head, up 278,000; 1100 pounds and over — 375,000 head, up 40,000.

Heifers and heifer calves by weight groups and change from a year earlier are as follows: Under 500 pounds — 290,000 head, down 84,000; 500-699 pounds — 1,001,000 head, up 12,000; 700-899 pounds — 1,127,000 head, up 166,000; 900-1099 pounds — 370,000 head, up 2000.

Marketing Intentions
In the 22 major feeding states, cattle feeders intend to market 5,817,000 head during the October-December period from the number on feed October 1.

If these intentions are carried out, marketings from cattle on feed October 1, 1969 would be 12 percent above marketings during October-December a year earlier.

GUNS BACK IN SEARS CATALOG
Guns have reappeared in the Sears-Roebuck catalogs. The company took a moratorium on gun ads last year "pending consideration of antigun legislation in Congress." Now Sears has resumed the promotion of firearms but won't sell them by mail or telephone and demands proof that the buyer is 21 years old.

DISMANTLE U.P. SHOPS AT JUNCTION CITY

The former Union Pacific maintenance shops at Junction City are being razed. Here, part of the roof has been removed by Robert Smith, Solomon contractor, who is doing the dismantling.

The shop, which has been unused for a dozen years, was once a major part of a railroad maintenance section at Junction City which hired 200 men. Next to the shop is a roundhouse which sometimes had as many as 20 locomotives in it. It's scheduled for dismantling too. Both are in the northeast part of Junction City.

Two Area 4-H Winners At Royal

The Kansas meat identification and judging team from Reno County placed first, and the livestock judging team from Wabaunsee County placed sixth in judging contests in Kansas during the American Royal.

Members of the winning Reno County team were Nancy Krause, Susan Zwickel, and Myron Miller. Nancy placed first in the overall contests. Susan was second in meat judging and Myron was first in meat identification. Otis Griggs, Reno County Extension director, was team coach.

Wabaunsee County livestock judging team members were Kayla McDiffett, Rodney Buch-man, Alan Falk, and Mike Bohn. Mike tied for first place in beef cattle judging. Darold D. Marlow, Wabaunsee County Extension agricultural agent and Clint McDiffett, 4-H livestock project leader, were team coaches.

Kansas Army Units To Return

Members of the Kansas congressional delegation have been advised by the Department of the Army, Dept. of Defense, of the release of Kansas National Guard units and members and Kansas Army Reservists who were mobilized in spring 1968.

The mobilization was ordered after capture of the American naval spy vessel Pueblo.

Mobilized units assigned to strategic Army forces will move from duty stations in the continental United States and Hawaii to their home towns starting Dec. 1 and concluding Dec. 11, in preparation for demobilization, the Pentagon said.

Units will be relieved from active duty soon after arrival at their home towns, but no later than Dec. 15. They will be resigned to state or area command control on the day after release from active duty.

as individual replacements from the strategic Army forces and the normal one-year tour of duty in Vietnam, will leave there during the week of Nov. 22.

They will return to their home towns for demobilization with their units.

Personnel assigned to South Vietnam as individual replacements who have completed a normal one-year tour of duty or have completed their reserve obligation in Vietnam will be discharged immediately upon their return.

Maj. Gen. Joe Nickell, state adjutant general, said there are about 1500 Kansas Guardsmen in Vietnam. He said 1700 others have been discharged the past few months for various reasons, such as return to college, family hardship or for agriculture.

About 500 members of the 69th are stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo., and are in a replacement pool for assignment to units in the States.

Members of the Kansas delegation said Kansas had no re-

Many individual reservists were called to active duty during the period of mobilization.

Most Soil Moisture In 8 Years

Mid-October soil moisture in wheat fields across the western two-thirds of Kansas was the best in 8 years, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

There were 5.21 inches of water available to plants in the top four feet of soil and this was up about one-sixth from the 4.42 inches at this time last year, but moderately less than fall supplies in the 1957-61 period.

At field capacity the top four feet of a medium textured soil would have about 8 inches of water available for plant use.

In the first foot of soil 2.02 inches of water was available for plant use compared with 1.54 inches last year. Water available for plant use in the second foot was 1.35 inches, moderately above last year's 1.16 inches.

The increased amount of water in the top two feet of soil reflected substantial rains over the western part of the State in recent weeks.

The third foot of soil had 1.07 inches available water compared with 0.96 inch last year. In the fourth foot, 0.77 inch of water was available, the same as a year ago. The average depth of penetration of available moisture was 43.9 inches compared with 43.2 inches last October.

In all crop reporting districts, soil moisture supplies available for wheat were above last fall with the northwest and north central areas showing the greatest increase.

Seeding of the 1970 wheat crop moved along normally this fall and by mid-October nearly 95 percent of the wheat was in the ground. Some growers delayed seeding or had to replant as a result of insect or disease problems.

Stands were mostly good to excellent with a few fields uneven because of lack of moisture at seeding time or insect damage. At mid-October, the average height of the wheat plant in the western two-thirds of Kansas was 3.1 inches compared with 3.4 inches last year.

Some 331 tests were made in the Soil Moisture Survey. Moisture content of the soil was determined at various depths in wheat fields throughout the western two-thirds of the state. These levels were the top 6 inches, second 6 inches, second foot, third foot and fourth foot.

The top 6 inches were designated as very wet on 40 percent of the tests while 49 percent were classified wet and 11 percent moderately wet. This compares with 30 percent very wet, 17 percent wet, 36 percent moderately wet and 17 percent slightly damp or dry last fall.

For the second 6 inches, 4 percent was very wet, 55 percent wet and 41 percent moderately wet; whereas in October 1968 there was 1 percent very wet, 34 percent wet, 62 percent moderately wet and 3 percent slightly damp or dry.

In the second foot, 1 percent was very wet, 33 percent wet, 66 percent moderately wet and 1 percent slightly damp or dry this fall compared with 16 percent wet, 81 percent moderately wet, and 3 percent slightly damp or dry a year ago.

For the third foot, 14 percent was wet, 77 percent moderately wet and 8 percent slightly damp or dry this fall compared with 7, 80 and 13 percent, respectively, last fall.

In the fourth foot, 8 percent was wet, 62 percent moderately wet and 30 percent slightly damp

GRANGER OF YEAR

Max Bailey of Delia, Jackson county, will be honored as "Granger of the Year" at the state convention of the Kansas Grange at Manhattan in November.

Horse Numbers Continue To Grow

Following World War I, horse numbers in the United States took a dramatic drop. The work horse was largely replaced by the tractor and saddle horses pushed aside by the automobile.

In 1959-60, horses and mules were dropped from the U.S. Department of Agriculture reporting services, their numbers were disregarded and for a time no one knew just how many horses the U.S. had.

However, since 1959, horses have made a remarkable comeback in Kansas and the U.S., reports Kansas State University Extension veterinarian Dr. Homer Caley. Since 1966 riding horse numbers have increased nearly 15,000 each year with no letup in sight.

Dr. Caley notes that it's doubtful that work horses and mules will ever return to their former popularity; however, horse pulling contests are still entertainment in some parts of the country and pulling horses remain a favorite topic for old-timers to discuss.

Need To Learn Antibiotic Use

Since the discovery of penicillin and other antibiotics, their use in the livestock industry has steadily increased. Today most livestock feed additives contain one or more antibiotics and other growth-promoting compounds, reports Dr. Homer Caley, Kansas State University Extension veterinarian.

Widespread use of antibiotics has been very beneficial to both the cattle and swine industries. Knowledgeable producers know that to compete in the livestock business they must use all available help, including antibiotics. Advantages of using antibiotics have been proved many times throughout the United States, Caley notes.

Antibiotics are most beneficial in controlling disease organisms. Subclinical diseases — those that reduce animal efficiency without visibly sickening the animal — are particularly well controlled with antibiotics. Caley says subclinical diseases may well be the most costly unseen production expense to Kansas livestock producers.

Young stock started on antibiotics at an early age nearly always stay healthy and improve gains. Calf starters and pig creep feeds usually contain antibiotics and other compounds.

The many antibiotics on the market create a problem for producers because under some circumstances disease organisms develop resistance to a frequently used antibiotic. When many antibiotics have been fed to livestock, then often emergency treatment with the same antibiotic is ineffective.

To combat resistant bacteria, Caley recommends not feeding one antibiotic so it can be used effectively on sick animals.

He suggests choosing one antibiotic recommended by a local veterinarian to use exclusively on sick animals. While this method may not work with 100 percent effectiveness the probability of effectiveness is increased.
