Freeman In Kansas

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman comes to Kansas tomorrow (April 19) for a "shirt-sleeve" talk on farm programs. His appearance in Hutchinson is one of three stops planned for the 2-day farm policy swing in the midwest.

The meeting will be held in the Baker Hotel, in a ballroom which accommodates about 500 persons. About 200 state farm leaders have been invited, but USDA advance men stressed that all farmers are invited.

Freeman has said the purpose of the meetings is to hear what farmers have to say. Chances are he will get an earful.

Knock 50 Million Bushels Off Wheat Estimate

Unless early April rains give a good shot in the arm, the 1967 Kansas wheat crop will be the poorest since 1957.

So predicted the Kansas Crop Reporting Service last week with its April 1 crop forecast. Forecasters knocked off over 50 million bushels from their December 1 prediction, estimating the crop at 197 million bushels on a prospective yield of 15 bushels per acre.

The April 1 forecast date should reflect some of the late March rains which fell on parts of central and eastern Kansas, saving what might have been the most disastrous wheat crop in 30 years, but later rains in western Kansas may mean that the May 1 forecast will show a more optimistic look.

The 15-bushel predicted yield is based upon seeded acres, of which there were 13.1 million planted last fall. Crop observers figure that perhaps one-fifth of this total will be abandoned before harvest.

Last December the reporting service estimated the 1967 crop at 249.8 bushels, assuming that a normal amount of moisture fell from that time thru the growing season.

The new forecast of 197 million bushels compares with 200 bushels produced in 1966 and an all-time high of 307 million bushels produced in 1952.

Here Is Current Reseal Program

MANHATTAN — Reseal has been announced for five farm-stored grains after 1967 maturity dates.

The reseal program will enable farmers to continue price-support loans and earn storage payments on 1966 crops of wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, and oats.

In addition, loans on 1965 crops of the five grains and on 1964 crops of wheat, corn, and grain sorghum — all of which are now under reseal — may be extended for another year.

In accordance with the continuing policy regarding older stocks of grain in storage, loans on 1963-crop wheat and grain sorghum and on 1964-crop barley and oats now under reseal will not be extended at the end of this year's respective reseal periods.

Occasionally, it has been necessary to call the loans on some crops before the end of the reseal storage period.

Under the reseal program, price-support loans on farm-stored grains are extended beyond the applicable maturity dates until called. These reflect the original maturity date for each crop. The 1966-crop loan maturity dates in 1967 are April 30 for wheat, barley, and oats;

July 31 for grain sorghum; and July 31 for corn.

Producers having reseal grain under Commodity Credit Corporation loan may repay their loans with interest and then dispose of such grain as they desire, or they may deliver the grain to CCC to satisfy the loan. Repayment may be made at any time before the date to deliver shown on the producer's delivery instructions.

Storage rates on the grains now eligible for farm-stored reseal will be set later and will be available at the ASCS state and county offices.

Co-ops At Russell, Dorrance Merge

RUSSELL — Co-ops at Russell and Dorrance have merged.

The merger of the Russell County Cooperative Association and the Dorrance Farmers Cooperative Elevator Co. became official April 3.

The new name is Agco Inc. Seven directors from each cooperative will direct affairs until the first annual meeting, which will probably be held in the fall of 1968.

Leonard Major is chairman of the Dorrance board and Laverne Becker of the Russell board. Paul Thielen is manager at Dorrance and Loren Dinkel at Russell.

Grain storage, service stations, and bulk fuel are available at Russell, Dorrance and Bunker Hill. Combined grain storage is about 1½ million bushels.

The Russell co-op was organized in 1953. The Dorrance co-op is about 50 years old.

Record Rates Despite Slow Bluestem Growth

Bluestem pastures in the Flint Hills of Kansas were rapidly being leased by April 1 with lease rates setting new record highs this year, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The condition of grass in the area, at 65 per cent of normal, compared to the all-time low for this date of 64 per cent in 1937 and with 92 per cent last year and the 1961-65 average of 90 per cent.

Native grasses in the 14-county area made little growth during March because of cool temperatures.

Warmer weather and widespread rains over the eastern and central areas at the end of the month rapidly improved pasture prospects.

The amount of available grassland leased on April 1 was less than last year but more than the 1961-65 average. Reports received for April 1 indicated that 92 per cent of the available acreage was under contract compared to 95 per cent last year and 88 per cent for the 1961-65 average.

The spring and early summer outlook for grazing was much improved following the precipitation over most of the Flint Hills area at the end of March.

Bluestem leasing prices for the season gained a new high in 1967. Leasing rates per cow were at a record average of $37.00 per head, up 70 cents from a year earlier.

The bulk of the rates for cows fell in the $28.00 to $45.00 range on a per head basis.

Rates for young cattle at $23.10 were at a new record, exceeding last year's average by 70 cents per head.

Leasing rates for young cattle ranged mostly between $15.00 and $28.00 per head.

Pasturing an aged steer for the season ranged from $20.00 to $35.00 with an average of $28.00 per head, up 60 cents from last year.

Lease prices for pasture by the acre for the season ranged mostly from $5.00 to $6.50 with an average of $5.60 per acre. The price is the same as the record high set last year.

While pasture prices were higher, the guaranteed acreage also has increased. The bulk of the reports received indicated 4 acres for young stock, a little over 5 acres for steers and 6.6 acres for cows compared with 3.8 acres for young stock last year and 4.9 and 6.3 acres for steers and cows, respectively.

Pasture prospects were much improved in Northeast Kansas by precipitation on March 26-27 and over the eastern half of the state by substantial rains during the period of March 31-April 2. In the western one-third of the state, March precipitation was light and scattered with lack of moisture a serious deterrent to the start of pasture grasses in that area.

Awards Spice Soybean Boom

Robert Manson, a DeSoto farmer, was named the Kansas champion soybean producer April 6 at the second annual meeting of Kansas soybean producers in Topeka.

Manson, 40, had harvested an average of 63.64 bushels per acre on a five-acre contest plot. John Hamon of Valley Falls was named first reserve champion; and James Schrick, Nortonville, was second reserve champion.

District winners were Leo DeDonder and sons, Reading; Albert Kientz, Wamego, and Milo Schraeder, Inman.

A $200 prize was awarded the champion and $100 prizes to each of the other winners. Trophy cups were also presented.

Bronze plaques were presented to all soybean farmers who had produced 40 bushels or more per acre. Others receiving plaques were: John Rush, Troy; Larry Brunkow, Onaga; Coy Rose, De Soto; Wayne Dickens, De Soto; Don Reid, Atchison; Robert Korthanke, Robinson; Paul Lee, De Soto; Ernest Rumbaugh, Merrill; Melvin Bauman, Wathena; Roger Candle, Bendena; Larry Lehew, Horton; Charles Thompson, Leona; Homer Jacobson, Hiawatha; Henry Suder, Jr., Fairview; Larry D. Nolte, Hiawatha; and Harry Shoebrook, Horton, Kansas.

Champion Manson said he had 178 acres of soybeans last year. He has been growing beans about 10 years, he said. Harvested in October, the bean grows about three beans to the pod, he said, and there may be 160 pods to one plant.

Manson said that a wheat combine can be adapted to harvest soybeans. Beans pay better than wheat, he said, and being harvested in October, checks are spread out over the year.

Dr. R. V. Olson, head of the agronomy department at Kansas State University, Manhattan, was the featured speaker at the banquet.

Soybeans is the third largest crop in Kansas, Dr. Olson said, and is gaining fast on corn. Wheat is still "king", he said, with sorghum crops second.

In 1966, approximately 900,000 acres were planted to soybeans in Kansas, Olson said. The state harvest yielded 22 bushels to the acre and averaged about $2.80 per bushel in price.

Soybeans are the top United States cash agricultural export crop, Dr. Olson said, with 40 per cent being shipped as beans or as meal and oil. The oil is used for the production of margarine and the meal is used for cattle feed, he said, because of its high protein content.

Soybeans is called the miracle crop of this century, Dr. Olson said. Soybean production got underway in 1940 and has grown to a 36.6 million-acre crop worth $2.7 billion. Dr. Olson reviewed a soybean study made from data obtained at the various Kansas experiment stations. The study made from funds made available by the leading Kansas soybean processors, including Archer Daniels Midland, Cargill, Inc., Kansas Soy Products, Inc., and Ralston Purina Company.

Dr. Olson predicted a brighter future for soybeans. Hosts for the banquet were Ralph Moore, Wichita, Kan.; Elmer Buster, Emporia, Kan.; Kansas Soy Products, Inc.; Lindsay, Fredonia; Archer Daniels Midland.

Purina dealers across the country recently kept careful feeding records on 55,246 pigs. Pigs were fed a Purina starter from the time they would eat dry feed until they weighed about 50 pounds.

This record proved Purina starters help pigs make remarkably fast early gains. And heavy pigs at weaning are ready to ship from two weeks to a month earlier. That's where the right start really pays off for the hogman!

How Milk Hike To Help Economy

Thanks, Mr. Rankin. (Ed. reference is to a Topeka milk association official, who had announced there would be no summer decline in the price paid for milk. How right you are. The farmers need current prices and cannot stand a cut in income that would result from the seasonal reduction in price. The 40-cent a hundred will mean an additional $40 a year from a cow producing 10,000 lbs. of milk. If these 5000 dairy farms average 30 head, this will mean an additional $1200 per farm and to the state as a whole of $6 million. Take note of this, Mr. Lacy!

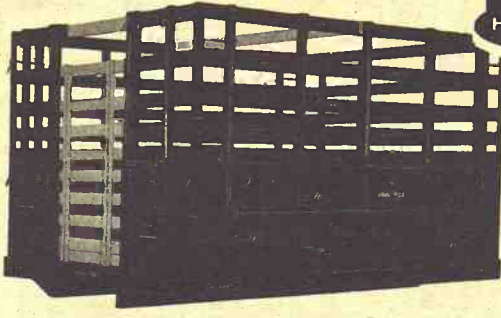

Now let's take this a step farther. NFO is asking 2c a quart or a $1 per hundred more for every dairy farmer in the nation. See the economic effect this would do for our dairymen and to the nation. Because for every dollar that is paid the primary producer of raw wealth it generates another $7 in the economy.

Some would argue that we would build surpluses with such a price. This isn't true. Surpluses accumulate in times of low prices: the producer must produce more to cover costs and in addition as more money becomes available in the economy it is available to the consumers thru increased wages, profits and new jobs.

C. E. Gilliland has worked with Southwestern Bell for 40 years

He's seen a lot of improvements in telephone service

"Improvements mean better service for telephone users," says Mr. Gilliland, wire chief at Parsons. "For example, years ago a rainstorm would knock out 10 to 15 per cent of the telephones in town. Now, weatherproof cable keeps them working in all kinds of weather.

"And how about Long Distance service? Calls go through quicker. No problem in hearing or being heard, and it costs less than it did 40 years ago.

"Then there are all the new developments in the business—Picturephone, Telstar, microwave relay, Data-Phone service. Who knows what new services will come along in the next 40 years?"

Whatever comes along will come because of people like Mr. Gilliland. He and the more than 5,800 other Southwestern Bell people in Kansas have one thing in common. They're working to make your telephone service better than ever.

Prices Set For Wool Payments

Shorn wool payments for the 1966 marketing year will be made at the rate of 24.8 percent of the dollar returns each grower received from the sale of shorn wool during 1966, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation state office has announced.

The payment rate was determined recently by USDA as the percentage necessary to bring the national average wool price of 52.1 cents per pound received by growers during 1966 up to the previously announced incentive level of 65 cents per pound under the national wool program.

Each wool payment is determined by multiplying the grower's dollar return from the sale of his wool (less marketing charges) by the payment rate of 24.8 percent. Producers thus will receive an incentive payment of $2480 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

The percentage method of payment is designed to encourage growers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. Under this method, the grower who gets the best possible price for his wool also gets a higher incentive payment.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs sold or slaughtered during the 1966 marketing year will be 52 cents a hundredweight. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the payment rate for shorn wool, average weight of wool per hundredweight of lambs, and value of lamb's wool relative to the value of shorn wool. The payment is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

Payments also will be made on mohair marketed in 1966. The payment rate will be 41.2 percent of the returns each grower received from the sale of mohair. This is based on the difference between the support price of 75.8 cents and the average price of 53.7 cents a pound received by growers.

ASCS county offices soon after April 1 will begin making 1966 program payments to producers who have filed their applications. Under agreements approved by growers for the advertising, promotion, and related market development activities on wool, lamb, and mohair, deductions from payments will be made at the rate of 1½ cents a pound for shorn wool and mohair and 7½ cents per hundred pounds for lamb.

Why more CATTLEMEN are switching to AI* and a controlled breeding program

Cooper HI-ENERGY BEEF-Medicated with REPROMIX® synchronizes heat in your herd and makes it possible to plan a breeding/calving program months in advance. AI* (Artificial Insemination) is particularly effective because one outstanding sire can produce superior, look-alike calves that demand top feeder prices.

Heat detection time is reduced sharply from the usual 40 to 45 days for unsynchronized cattle to about 14 days for cattle synchronized to come into heat as a group with Cooper HI-ENERGY BEEF-Medicated with REPROMIX. Most cows come into heat from 1 to 5 days after the last special feeding and show heat for a second breeding from 18 to 26 days following.

When your herd comes into heat as a group you are able to save on technician's fees at breeding time. You also effect other labor economies because of the much shorter calving period.

"I cooperated with K.A.B.S.U.* in the synchronization and breeding of my herd of 151 cows and heifers."

Creamed Potatoes New-Style Ends Separate Sauce-Making

New potatoes, richly sauced, are good as is, but when thinly sliced tender green onions flavor the sauce, this vegetable dish becomes something special.

The new-style flavor is matched here with new-style preparation which eliminates separate sauce-making. When the potatoes and onions are tender, the flour is sprinkled in to mingle with the butter and flavorful cooking liquid. Then double-rich evaporated milk is added and the whole cooked and stirred to creamy perfection. This one-pot method of creaming can be adapted in the preparation of other creamed vegetables.

CREAMED POTATOES NEW-STYLE

1½ pounds new potatoes
1 cup water
¾ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons butter
dash pepper
1½ cups sliced green onions
(including green tops)
¼ cup flour

1 tall can evaporated milk
(1½ cups)

Scrape or peel potatoes; cut in half if large. Place in a medium size saucepan with the water and salt. Bring to a boil, cover and boil over medium heat until fairly tender, about 20-25 minutes. Add butter, pepper and onions. Cook four minutes longer, stirring occasionally, until butter is melted and onions are tender. Remove from heat. Sprinkle in flour a little at a time, blending smoothly. Then stir in evaporated milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until sauce is thickened. Makes four to six servings.

Treat Calluses With Pumice

To treat bumps caused by pumps, calluses on the soles, rough elbows and scuffy knees, massage them daily with a pumice.

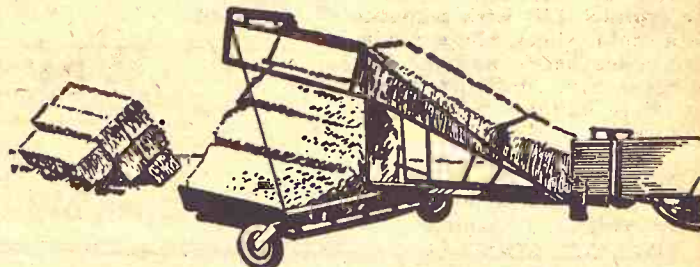

Merely soap the area under treatment and apply pumice with a rotary motion. The best time for this is while bathing.

If preferred, cleansing grains may be used instead of toilet pumice. There are special lotions, too, for removing calluses and rough spots. These are applied to dry skin after bathing.

Foot calluses usually are an indication of improper footwear and the problem will not be eliminated until shoes are properly fitted.

Dry Milk Provides Added Nutrition

Use dry milk "as is" when adding to other dry mixtures for prepared dishes.

It will give added nutrition to foods like mashed potatoes, hot breads, cooked cereals, scrambled eggs, pancakes, meat loaves, waffles, white sauce, gravies, and cream soups. For beverages and custard, reconstitute the dry milk by adding it to water. Blend by shaking in a tight container.

How Much Cheese?

A cup of shredded Swiss, Parmesan, or American cheese weighs about one-fourth pound. When a recipe calls for shredded cheese by cups look at the package weight to judge how much to cut off for shredding.

Removes Fish Odor

Wash dishes that have been used for fish in water containing about a tablespoon of ammonia. It will remove the fish odor.

Curtain Pull

For an unusual curtain pull, use a colored plastic thimble. Drill a hole in the end of the thimble, insert a cord and tie a sturdy knot on the inside of the thimble.

Hogs-For-Viet

Net Near $8000

DOWNS — About $8000 will go to South Vietnam from the Pigs-for-Peace committee, a group which had hoped to take a hundred or so first quality hogs from the G&G area to Asia as a people-to-people charity.

A last-minute snag prevented the direct shipment of the hogs and so they were sold at auction instead. The sale brought in $7042, said Dan Vander Giesen, chairman, and previous contributions increased the amount to near $8000.

The plan was originated by S. Ben Finley, former minister at several towns in the G&G area, who is now a farm advisor for the Agency for International Development in Vietnam. He wanted the hogs for a breeding station.

SALE

Having sold our farm, I will sell at public auction at the place 1 1/4 miles east of Endicott, Nebr., on Highway No. 8; or 4 miles northwest of Steele City, Nebr., on Highway No. 8.

Here's Slate Of K-State Feeders' Day

April 18, 1967

MANHATTAN — Livestock Feeders' Day at Kansas State University is Friday, May 5, at Manhattan. The program will emphasize the importance of beef research to the Kansas livestock industry, Dr. Don Good, head of the animal husbandry department, reports.

The 54th annual event begins with registration, coffee, and open exhibits in Weber Hall from 8 to 10 a.m.

K-State livestock researchers will give producers a preview of planned research facilities to rebuild from the tornado destruction in 1966 during the morning program session which starts at 10 a.m.

Morning research reports will include "Meat Research," by Dr. Don Kropf; "Forages in Beef Nutrition," by Dr. Calvin Drake; and "Undesirable Recessive Traits in Beef Cattle" by Professor Walter Smith.

Dr. Ed Smith will discuss "Phosphorus, Vitamin A, and Protein Supplement for Cattle on Grass," and Dr. Drayford Richardson will report on "Non-protein Nitrogen, Oystershell, and Other Factors in Beef Nutrition."

Following the roast beef lunch in Weber Hall, cattlemen will hear about "Modern Beef Carcass Evaluation," from Dr. Harold Tuma.

Dr. R. A. Long, head of the animal science department at the University of Georgia, will discuss "The Structure of the Beef Industry."

"Dr. Long has played an important role in developing an efficient and progressive beef cattle industry in Georgia and all of the Southwest," Good said. Long's activities there included beef cattle nutrition research and cattle buying seminars for commercial buyers.

A 6:30 p.m. Block and Bridle banquet for visiting stockmen and their wives at the K-State Union will cap the full day of activity.

Special programs for the ladies begin on Thursday evening with the Kansas Cow Belles Dinner at the KSU Union at 6:30 p.m. On Friday morning, the ladies will attend a special home economics program in Justin Hall from 10 a.m. to noon.

Feedlot Waste Pollution Reaches Redmond Lake

For the first time some of the water from streams allegedly polluted by feedlots has reached a federal reservoir.

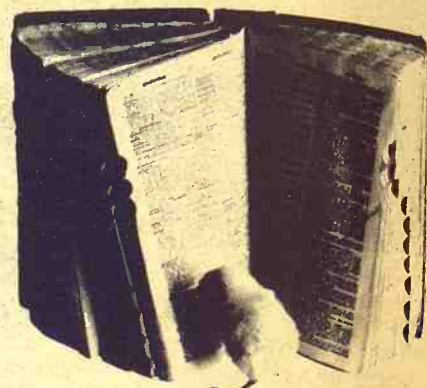

The Kansas Fish & Game Commission reported last week that dead walleye and flatheads in John Redmond Reservoir were a result of polluted water from feedlots. John Redmond, near Burlington, is located on the Neosho river below its confluence with the Cottonwood river, the stream which drains several of the controversial feedlots.

Fish & Game observers say most of the dead fish were at the upper end of John Redmond below Hartford.

Many critics of Kansas water pollution controls have contended that if feedlot pollution reaches a federally-controlled reservoir that the U. S. government might impose its own pollution controls. The conjecture got closer to a test last week, if the Fish & Game's contention that the fish in John Redmond lake died because of feedlot runoff is true.

Is profit a dirty word?

No. You're in business to make money. And that's just what Babcock B-300 Layers do for you. Quiet, healthy, easy-to-handle, they peak easily. Keep on peaking after others fall off. Give good early egg size. Good shells and interiors. Greater income over feed and chick costs . . . as proved by the fact they were first over all competitors in the 1964-65 Random Sample Test Year. There's nothing dirty about nice, clean profits. Call or write today for the whole dollar-and-cents story.

BUCK'S STORE OUT OF BUSINESS AT WICHITA

Bull Passing On Trait For Extra Set Of Ribs

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — Owners of a Hereford bull are excited about what they regard as a new development in the cattle raising industry.

Their bull is siring offspring with 14 pairs of ribs — instead of the normal 13 — and an extra vertebra. Owners Norman Libby of Harding County, N.M., and Jack Hess of McLean, Texas, say, "This is the first bull in the history of all breeds that has consistently sired animals with 14 pairs of ribs." They added: "Hog breeders produce hogs with 14 sets of ribs and now it is a fairly well established trait in hogs. Now we feel the 14 pairs of ribs can be bred further in cattle."

Traders Laying Off Soybean Futures

Has some of the glamour worn off soybeans?

Long one of the most active commodities in futures trading, soybeans are being dealt on the Chicago market at a declining rate, in fact the lowest in 20 years.

Recently one-day trade reached only 4.8 million bushels, the lowest daily volume since 1948 and only a trickle compared to the record daily volume in December 1964 when 417.8 million bushels were traded.

Why the lack of trader interest in soybeans, soybean oil and soybean meal futures?

Some trade board sources say there are too many beans, that the futures prices (around $2.85 a bushel) are too high, that the market for soybean oil and meal has turned soft because of strong competition from other, cheaper foreign products.

In 1966, U.S. farmers produced 931 million bushels of soybeans; 10 percent more than the record production of 1965. Soybean futures prices kept rising last year until they reached nearly $4 a bushel in September. When the 1966 harvest set a production record, prices began to decline.

Soybeans are edible to humans in roasted and salted form, as peanuts. Soybean meal, or crushed soybeans, is high in protein and valuable as poultry and livestock feed.

Soybean oil is used as an edible oil and in industry, but it competes with vegetable fats and animal fats and other crushed seed oils. Soybeans are not fed to animals in their natural state.

In January, the USDA reported that farmers held a record number of bushels of soybeans on their farms, waiting for better prices. This year's soybean production is expected to approach the 1966 record and a big carryover probably will result.

Soybeans first were traded on the Chicago market in 1940. About two-thirds of the world supply is grown in the U.S. Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota are leading producers. Kansas ranks ninth and Nebraska twelfth.

Frontier Facts

A PRODUCT OF FRONTIER RESEARCH

FRONTIER HIDAN 35 Hybrid Sorghum-Sudan-grass is REALLY DIFFERENT! Livestock really go for Hidan 35. It is unexcelled for pasture or grazing, for greenchop, bundle feed and even makes good silage.

Hidan 35 has the sweetest, juiciest stalk of any Hybrid sorghum-sudan-grass or sudangrass hybrid on the market. Its palatability is unexcelled. Leaves are more numerous, and stalks smaller in diameter than any present variety. Its seeds are smaller and it takes less seed per acre when planting. It has a bred-in fungicide making it possible to plant earlier, as it is resistant to cool soils. It is one of the earliest in maturity, starts quick and vigorously. Highly resistant to leaf diseases.

For pasture it has two of the most important features. It is very low in HCN (prussic acid), as proven in several tests. And it has exceptionally high protein.

In Wisconsin sheep were turned out on several varieties of sorghum-sudan-grass hybrids. The sheep got on Hidan 35, and would go to nothing else, eating Hidan 35 to the ground.

In western Kansas Fred Casterline put 400 head of 550 pound steers on 130 acres of Hidan 35 June 20th, when the Hidan was about 12 inches high. He took these steers off at an average of 747 pounds Nov. 8th. He reports they were in top condition, no bloat or diarrhea, hair was in excellent condition, and they RECEIVED NO SUPPLEMENT. He had a small acreage of another variety, but had to put up an electric fence to keep them from going back to the Hidan 35.

Mr. Casterline recommends cattle weight be in the 450 to 550 lb. class when put on Hidan, that they be turned on early when Hidan is 12 to 15 in. high, and that enough cattle be kept on the Hidan to prevent it getting over 20 to 25 in. high, otherwise it grows so fast it gets ahead of them. Best feed value of Hidan is in the grass stage, for pasture purposes. He uses half his acreage and when pastured down to about 6 inches, moves them to around 15 in. before turning them back.

OK Grazing On Western Kansas Soil Bank Land

Counties on US81 and west can put Soil Bank land to use to provide grazing and hay for livestock.

USDA gave such permission last week, after receiving the request from Governor Robert Docking, on account of severe drought conditions.

The directive from USDA said the Soil Bank land could be freed for grazing and haying, with landowners to adjust later
any of the grazing benefits against payments they will receive from the soil bank plan.
The emergency use can remain in effect until July 1, according to the USDA order.

FARMERS OUTLOOK

L.H. Simer

Forget Big Ideas About Wheat Price

Apparently, some people have big ideas about wheat price prospects. They may be disappointed.

The great expectations for wheat prices are the result of several developments: (1) Surplus stocks are said to have disappeared. (2) There are critical food shortages in India, Pakistan, and some other countries. (3) Our own central and southern Great Plains have suffered from severe drought.

The CCC owned only 133 million bushels of wheat near the end of March, one-tenth as much as at the peak time 7 years ago. But the carryover of old wheat on July 1 is expected to be about 400 million bushels. While that will be less than one-third of the record carryover of 6 years ago, it is equal the amount that we need for food in 9 months.

Although world food production has not kept pace with population growth in the past 3 years, there was a bumper wheat crop last year. Production is estimated at 10.1 billion bushels. That was a new record high, 11 percent more than the year before and 16 percent more than the 5-year average.

In our own country, drought has been severe in the central and southern Great Plains. But there is a big acreage of wheat — 26 percent more acres of winter wheat than last year, and it is spread over many states. A substantial part of the acreage is irrigated.

On the basis of April 1 conditions, the USDA forecast the winter wheat crop at 1.162 billion bushels. This would be 10 percent more than last year, and 20 percent more than the average for 5 years.

The spring wheat crop also promises to be larger than last year. Farmers have reported intentions of increasing acreage 20 percent. Soil moisture is normal or better in the spring wheat states. Production of spring wheat may reach 320 million bushels, up 25 percent from last year.

Thus, total U.S. wheat output seems likely to be around 144 million bushels, 13 percent more than last year. This amount, plus the carryover of about 400 million bushels would make a total supply of about 1,840 million bushels. That would be 2 percent more than we had in this marketing year (ending June 30.)

We ourselves will need only about 610 million bushels for food and 80 million for seed.) Thus, the amount available for exports, feed, and carryover in the year ending June 30, 1968 now seems likely to be around 1,270 million bushels.

The amount of wheat used for feed depends mostly upon the price of wheat as compared with the price of corn and other grains. About 80 million bushels are expected to be used for feed this year. It will be less in the 1967-68 marketing year, if the price of wheat rises substantially.

Exports of wheat reached a record high of 867 million bushels in 1965-66, but may be more than 760 million this year (ending June 30.) The volume of exports in the year beginning July 1 will depend very largely on government policy.

All exports of wheat are under strict government control because the government pays the entire cost of most shipments, and a part of the cost of the remainder. We can see no reason to expect that the government will push exports so strongly that prices of wheat and the cost of bread, will rise by any large amount.

National Wheat Forecast For More Than '66

With a Kansas decline accounting for half, Agriculture department experts last week cut their estimate for the 1957 U. S. wheat crop by 100 million bushels from the last forecast, made in December.

The current USDA guess is a national crop of 1.162 billion bushels, still more than the 1.056 billion bushels produced in 1966 and the 5-year average of 970 million bushels.

The increase is based much on a 26 per cent increase in planting last fall.

Where The Tornadoes Are

This map shows where nearly 600 tornadoes hit in the U.S. in 1966. Only seven states escaped tornado activity. There were storms in every month of the year, and they caused 100 deaths and one quarter billion dollars in damage. If there is a tornado alley, Kansas is unmistakably in it, but the dots indicate that the state is hit no more often than several others.

Watch It, Buster

"Respect all bulls, but don't be afraid of them." That's the key to handling the big bulls at the Kansas Artificial Breeding Service Unit (KABSU) at Kansas State University, Manhattan, says Dennis Wells, Rock, a K-State senior and a part time employee of KABSU. The breeding unit had an open house last week.

Town Pledges To Help Bethany

LINDSBORG — The town of Lindsborg is seeing to it that Bethany College balances its budget. A campaign to raise $100,000 in Lindsborg is underway and opening night pledges of $82,000 seemed to assure that the goal would be met by April 21.

Rumors that the college might relocate brought out an enthusiastic crowd of 700 townspeople representing about 45% of the families in the community to a town hall meeting.

Jack Carlin, a dairy farmer and chairman of the meeting, announced the fund raising goal and immediately the pledges began pouring in to the college.

Talk of moving the 86-year-old Lutheran college came from a survey last year in which such a move was considered although not directly recommended.

The fund-raising in Lindsborg raised $6600 in 1965 and $30,000 last year. The college has had a deficit budget for some years.

Area Herefords On ROM List

The American Hereford Association has added 40 animals — 11 bulls and 29 cows — to its Register of Merit list in the past year. Several are from the G&G area in Kansas and Nebraska.

Two of the bulls are Mischief 719, often shown by Baughman Ranches of Russell, and Mischief B77, R. O. Blair of Yates Center, breeder.

Alfred and Ferrall Meeks of Taylor, Nebraska, were the exhibitors of the latter bull, and they were also the exhibitors of a cow to make the ROM list.

The Hereford association qualifies whitefaces to its ROM list thru the accumulation of points
