"By the terms of the treaty

the first milliard of France's war indemnity was to be paid before the end of 1871 and the remaining four milliards within three years of the signing of the peace preliminaries. On June 29th, 1872, however, a supplementary agree-ment was concluded providing for the earlier payment of the installments and the speedier withdrawal of the alien garrison. The agreement was concluded at the wish of France itself, and as with each payment additional departments were evacuated, its effect was that the hated forces of oc.

cupation disappeared over the Rhine much sooner than had been hoped or intended. The last installment was due on March 1st,

Has Been Harshly Criticized. "For invading Germany and insisting that the war reparations must be paid before her armies are withdrawn. There have been a number of French acts that have disturbed those who dread and fear militarism. Men around sixty years of age or older, however, are not much inclined to condemn the French government."

Victorious German armies en tered Paris in 1871 and the treaty that ended the Franco-Prussian war was signed at Versailles. Bismarck dictated the terms. The French people were required to pay a huge war indemnity, something like a billion dollars, and one of the terms of the treaty was that the German army of occupation would remain in Paris until the last penny of that obligation had been discharged."

The French people had suffered heavily during the war. The capitalland other great cities were filled with the Imperial German armies. No one believed that the indemnity could be paid within twenty years. That was what the Germans thought. Bismarck believed that he had imposed terms that would virtually convert France into a province of the new military empire that he set up during the winter of 1870.

"The French people made no effort to evade their obligations. Their one passion and purpose was to free their country of the Jerman armies at the earliest possible date. Within a year France had paid every dollar of the indemnity exacted by the Germans and D armies recrossed the Rhine and stayed there until 1914."

"Foch and many other of the great leaders of the last war fought the German invasion in 1870. There are millions of Frenchmen yet living who helped pay that indemnity. After all it is not very strange that the French insist on the Germans

The Preliminary Peace Treaty of 1871 is a historical document the exact terms of which can be obtained very easily. The failure of the writer to inform himself properly leaves him open to the suspicion that he intentially mis-stated the facts. As members of this Union should we draw conclusions therefrom as to the veracity of other statements made in the Union paper. B. F. Abmeyer."

This is a very harsh criticism and letter I have taken the trouble and if justified by the facts would indicate that I am unworthy as well as untrustworthy. BUILDING FUND ASSESSMENT

The State Union and the membership through a vote of the Locals ordered the payment of a Building Fund Assessment with the regular dues of 1922 and 1923. After December 15th new members will not be required to pay any part of the dues for 1923 but should pay 1924 dues in full as soon as initiated. This means that new members initiated after December 15th who pay no regular dues for 1923 will not be required to pay the current Building Fund Assessment of fifty cents for this year. All new members taken in after the 15th of December must pay the initiation fee of $2.00 and the regular dues for 1924, $2.25 or a total of $4.25 to put them in good standing until December 31st, 1924.

This ruling does not apply to old members who are delinquent for 1922 or 1923 dues who must pay the Building Fund Assessment when they reinstate themselves. Members delinquent for 1921 and 1922 must-pay as follows to be restored to good standing as of De-

LIVE STOCK COMMISSION COMPANY GAINS

PRESTIGE IN RECENT CONTROVERSY The Farmers Union Live Stock Commission is drawing to the close of a significant year in its history, a year in which a great many things have been accomplished that will make firmer the foundation of this house and be of benefit to both the commission firm and its patrons in the future; among them the agreement reached with members of the Live Stock Exchange and the Traders Exchange

This agreement was the direct result of the Government hearing begun here October 23, 1923. After this hearing had been in progress two days an adjournment was asked for by Mr. J. H. Mercer, Live Stock Commissioner of Kansas, in order that the complainants and respondents might endeavor to meet on a common ground and adjust their differences. The adjournment was granted by Secretary Morrill, a committee of seven was appointed, three from the members of the Live Stock Evchange, three from the cooperative groups, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Chester Morrill, who was conducting the Government hearing making the seventh member of the committee.

After several days deliberation a final agreement was reached between all members of the Live Stock Exchange, all members of the Traders Exchange, and the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission, it being the only cooperative commission company to sign the agreement. This agreement provided for the setting up of what is known as The Market Practice Committee consisting of one representative from the cooperative house, namely: E. E. Woodman, the Live Stock Exchange represented by Mr. Frank Witherspoon, the Tradersr Exchange by its Secretary, Mr. George Addison, the Stock Yards Company by its Vice-President, W. H. Weeks and the Department of Agriculture by the Kansas City Market Supervisor, Dr. Butin.

It might be well to call your attention to the different groups engaged in business at the Yards. The three principal groups engaged in the actual handling of live stock are: Members of the Live Stock Exchange, generally known as the old line commission firms, members of the Traders Exchange, that is traders and orderbuyers on the Yards, and the Cooperative Commission Company group. The Stock Yards furnishes the facilities for handling of live stock, has charge of the allotments of pen room, etc. The Départment of Agriculture through its representative supervises not only the general market practices as to buying and selling, but also the administration of the Stock Yards Company in its dealings with the different groups on the Yards.

With these facts in mind you will see that each factor having direct bearing on the successful carrying on of business here at the Yards has equal representation on the Market Practice Committee.

Inasmuch as both the Live Stock Exchange and the Traders Exchange, already had, and still have rules and regulations governing its members, have their own Board of Directors and Arpitration Committee to settle any dispute among members of the respective exchanges, the primary object of the Market Practice Committee and the reason for its establishment is to regulate the relationship between the old line commission companies and the cooperative commission group, and has nothing to do with disputes among members of either exchange.

The Market Practice Committee set up rules and regulations governing the relationship between the cooperative house and other marketing agencies; and in the taking in of the Stock Yards Company and the Government representative, all ground for any discrimination is removed, and the committee given the power to settle any dispute that might arise. In writing the rules and regulations the committee followed largely the market practices as adopted and found efficient here on the Yards by other marketing agencies.

In oder to make this agreement binding on all parties the principal signers of this agreement put up assets as a guarantee of good faith, amount being based on the amount of business handled, but in no case to exceed $10,000.00. The Farmers Union Live Stock Commission putting in the hands of the Trustee liquid assets in a measure equal to the value of memberships owned by members of the livestock exchange doing en equivalent amount of business. The Live Stock Exchange and Traders Exchange have ratified this agreement and bound its members to the terms of the agreement, and they are subject to the same penalty for violation of his agreement as they would be for violation of either the Live Stock Exchange or Traders Exchange rules.

The Farmers Union did not surrender any of its cooperative principles. This agreement recognizes the legality of cooperative marketing, and that it is a factor to be considered. Our business will be carried on in exactly the same manner so far as pro rating of all profits to our stockholders is concerned. The concessions made by the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission are: To limit the time spent in the country by our field men to 15 days each month in what is known as restricted territory and thirty consecutive days in outside territory -Not to pay for telephone or telegraph messages not pertaining to shipments, nor to buy a customer or prospective customer meals or any gift. However, the Farmers Union Stock Commission did not take out membership in the Live Stock Exchange.

For these concessions on our part we were given the service of the Clearing House, the official hog docker and blanket insurance policy which protects all old line commission companies here in the Yards.

A copy of the agreement as signed appeared in the Drovers Telegram, issue of Nov. 12, 1923. By reading this agreement you will see that no mention is made of any change in our cooperative and profit-sharing plan, and none has been made.

This matter was gone into very thoroughly by the Board of Directors of the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission and its legal advisors, and nothing agreed to but, what in our opinion, would add strength to the position of this firm both in the country and here in the Yards.

FARMERS UNION LIVE STOCK COMMIS-SION, E. E. WOODMAN, Manager.

GRAIN DEALERS AND COOPERATION.

The organized grain dealers are greatly worried over the losses that Farmers may suffer as a result of cooperative marketing. Garbled extracts from the final settlement statements of wheat growers cooperative associations are being sent to local elevators and in many places are being printed, with critical comment, as paid advertisements in the local papers.

The grain exchanges, the mational associations of grain dealers and the state organizations of privately owned elevators are spending a lot of money in their effort to save agriculture from the perils of cooperation. If this campaign, now practically nation wide, is disinterested and unselfish it is highly commendable. If its real purpose is to save farmers from costly experimentation in matters in which success is impossible these gentlemen are entitled to gratitude for kindly interest. But before any vote of thanks is extended it may be well to inquire into the motives back of thi activity and to analyze the facts.

It should be fairly evident that the wheat merchants are not so much concerned over the failures to secure immediate results from cooperaotin as they are over the prospects of the final success of the movement. If cooperative marketing fails the grain traders will have the entire field to themselves for many years and therefore should not be greatly troubled over the small losses that farmers in small pools none too well managed may suffer. It is the galled jade that winces. Wheat growers should understand that the grain dealers have combined to destroy the cooperative movement not because it threatens the farmer with losses but because, if successful, it will ultimately put them out of

In the statement of the North Dakota Wheat Growers Association which marketed 2.981,763 bushels of wheat for its members last year these items appear: Interest paid banksper bushel, 1.2 cts. Elevator handling and storage " Terminal handling and storage " 1.7 1.9 Farm Storage .. Insurance and taxes ...

There is nothing alarming in these ffigures nor are they new items of marketing cost chargeable to the cooperative plan. No matter how wheat is handled it must carry all these charges to be deducted from the farm price.

The interest of 1.2 cents a bushel is surely reasonable. Reduced to rates on borrowed money it does not amount to more than two per cent any way it can be estimated. Under the old system no wheat was moved with borrowed money at less than eight per cent interest.

The local elevator handling and storage deduction of 5.8 cents a bushel is not too high. In the bulletin on cooperative wheat marketing recently issued by the Kansas State Board of Agriculture is an analysis of the operating costs of 78 cooperative country elevators in Kansas which shows a total cost per bushel of 6.8 cents which is one cent more than was charged to the deliveries of the North Dakota cooperators. The local elevator charge is a constant cost in wheat marketing on any plan. For the most part these charges are paid to elevators owned by the farmers themselves and constitute a substantial part of the income of such service associations that must be maintained not only for shipping wheat but for handling many other lines of business essential to agricultural pros-

The Murray Garsson Membership Prize Contest

Mr. Murray Garsson of New York, the Motion Picture Producer, who is preparing the big Farmers Union Picture Play for presentation to the People of the United States is an ardent convert to the Union Program of Organization, Education and Co-operation. While in Salina during the week of the Educational Assembly was very much surprised to learn that there has been a decline in the membership of our Kansas organization. He expressed amazement that there is even one farmer in this state who does not belong to the union.

Hearing that a state-wide Membership Campaign was being planned by the officers and Directors of the State Union Mr. Garsson offered to contribute $500 to be used for prizes for securing additional members and for the collection of dues from those who have not paid up for this year. The Board of Directors accepted this generous donation and added $125 to it from the State Treasury to be divided into five prizes to be offered to County Unions participating in the campaign as follows:

The First Prize, $250 will be awarded to that County Union which makes greatest gain in its paid up membership before November 16th, 1923. The County Unions finishing Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth will each receive substantial money prizes the whole amount of Prize Money, $625, to be divided as indicated below:
