Only European War Can Remove American Farmer From Tax-Payer's Neck, Says Fortune New York, February 24: "The Supreme Court has put the American an attempt to remove that disadvan taxpayer into the farming business tage." Specifically, it was an attempt to stay," says Fortune in its March issue, "and every Federally taxable of scarcity which industry had built citizen will help to feed the pig and for itself through protective legislapay the interest on the 40-acre mort-payer's neck. "Any congressman could tell this without taxing his feet off hs desk," Fortune says. "There are 15,000,000 farm votes that can be beautifully organized on a farm issue, and neither party will dare bid less than the farmer has actually been receiving under the AAA. Both parties will therefore structure in reality sayng: "This country cannot der the AAA. In a recent release, The Farm Research Inc. as anti administration anti New Deal propaganda setup states, that according to the 1935 financial statements published by the four big packing companies their profits for the fiscal year exceeded the very considerable profits which these same companies made in 1934 by the following percentages:

Swift & Co. 144 percent. Armour & Co., 81 percent. Wilson Packing Co., 112 percent. Cudahy Packing Co., 125 percent.

This release further states that about 50 percent of this increase was on account of the processing tax refund ordered by the Supreme Court. this session. He is serious, fair, a I am at a loss to see how the Pack- good parliamentarian, and functions ers could have taken this refund into account in their financial statement when the Armour statement is made as of Nov. 3, 1934 and I presume the wer questions about their funds beothers were made about the same cause, "they're not a lobby." time also. The Supreme Court decision was rendered in January, 1935. However that may be the statement if true shows that the packers certainly did not absorb the processing stitute, neutrality is a re-enactment, tax as they now claim.

The release points out farther that the farm income for 1935 only increased 10 percent over the 1934 income. The conclusion they try to have us arrive at is that certainly to lead a street parade. His famous the AAA and the other farm aids did the farmers no good if with all this help his income only increased 10 percent while the packers average increase was 81 percent for the same period with all the persecution to passed over his veto by Congress and which they are subjected. Perhaps this very 81 percent increase in the processors' profits points to the reason why the farmers income only increased 10 percent. If we farmers received our just share of the consumer's dollar instead of the less than 40 percent that we receive now our balance would also show on the House. right side of the ledger. We could make the repairs on our farms that we need. We could buy the thousand and one consumers' goods that we ought to have but cannot buy because there is not enough of the consumers dollars left for us after all the processors, middle men and money changers take their toll. It is time we farmers woke up and started carrying our cooperative handling of our products farther, shortening the toll road to the ultimate consumer. It is time that the city factory worker and the rest of the common folks realized that their best customer, the farmer, needs a square deal and must have it if the city man is to permanently prosper.

I was very sorry that I had to disappoint some of our folks this week. I will try to make as many meetings as is at all possible, but until we have some one to take care of the paper I will have to put in more time at the office. I shall try to make all the county meetings to which I may be invited and as many other meetings as my time will permit. We have the following members of our state board who have agreed to fill as many dates as they can. John Fengel, Bert Winchester, Ross Palensky. Our Vice President John Frost is doing some fine field work building membership and filling speaking strong. WASHINGTON IMPRESSIONS

Secretary to Congressman Carlson of the 6th District Congressman Carlson's Flood Con-crol bill, which was introduced in the first session of the 74th congress, passed the house on February 17. The oill authorizes a preliminary survey of the Republican and Smoky Hill rivers, and minor tributaries of the Kansas River. The Republican and Smoky Hill rivers contribute materially to the flood conditions in the Kansas or Kaw river valley. Mr. Carlson is working earnestly in the hope that the floods may be controlled. The Republican has a drainage area of over 25,000 square miles, while the Smoky covers a drainage and Representative Cooley (D-NC) area of over 20,000 square miles. It might be surprising to some to know that more currency was in cir-culation on February 28, just before the time when all the banks were closed than any other date in Treasury records. There were $6,545,000,-000 in circulation at that time as compared with $5,881,000,000 now and $4.746.297.000 in 1929 when business was at its best.

Editors note. To a real student of economics the last paragraph above shows that it was the deliberate delevel of Farm prices and the consequent general depression.

The big bankers well knew that it was deflation that had brought on the depression so in order to save their own hides they gradually in-creased the amount of currency in circulation until in February 1933 it was at the high level given above. It was largely due to the large volume of currency supposedly in cir-culation at the time of the inaurguration of President Roosevelt that the country responded as fast as it did to the AAA and other measures designed to end the depression. Some of us suspect that there is again starting a elaborate effort to delay recovery by a reduction of circulating medium. Perhaps that is why the Frazier-Lemke Farm Refinancing Bill is being illegally kept from a vote. If all legislation had to go through the silly process enforced against this bill Congress could resolve itself into a kids game of "Off again, on again, Gone again, Flana-Perhaps the Coughlin and O'Connor

Dairy Opposition Untested With the opposition of dairy state members yet untested, leaders were confident of carrying the measure through unscathed.

The trouble lay in a union of northeastern and mid-western dairy state members, augmented by some defections from majority ranks, behind a Boileau amendment.

Hardly had the substitute for AAA reached the floor yesterday when the dairy block opened up on it. Its mem-bers pleaded with the wheat, cotton and corn state representatives to remember how the dairy members had stood with them for the AAA and cotton control acts on condition lands taken out of production be not used for grasses and forage or dairy cattle production. They asked a similar accord on the new bill.

The agriculture committee's democratic majority had turned down the Boileau proposal and Chairman Jones (D-Tex) fought to beat it on the floor. Majority Leader Bankhead of Alabama told Boileau his amendment was unconstitutional.

Representative Carlson of Kansas, said yesterday he would support the bill, though it should not be considered a full program, and warned that the farmers would resent any attempt to make it a political issue. Representative Martin of Massachusetts, assistant minority leader, had termed it "a political bill."-Salina Jour-

MOWER AND BINDER REPAIR

A natural-born mechanic may know instinctively how to repair mower, and binders. Others can find out how in a new bulletin by W. R. Humphries, of the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering. The publica-tion, "Care and Repair of Mowers and Binders," has just been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is Farmers Bulletin 1754-E and is well illustrated with working draw-

Humphries points out that although the mower is a comparative-ly simple machine, many of the adjustments, particularly of the cut-ting mechanism need to be just right if the machine is to do good work. A dull knife with guard plates in poor adjustment will require considerably more power to operate than a sharp one with properly guards. He suggests checking the machine in a definite sequence before starting actual repair work and that a logical starting point is the cutter-bar assembly.

Included in the checking is the alinement of cutter bar and of guards, a sharp, straight, well-centered knife sliding freely without excess play. proper tension on lifting spring of par, set of shoes, proper angle stick, and proper adjustment of the grass-board spring. He describes proper operation for gears and proper operation for gears and clutches of main wheels and driving pawls and bearings, also of the pitman and its fittings.

Although the binder is a more complicated machine than the mower, a study of the various parts and their relation to one another will give a working knowledge of the apparatus, Humphries believes. He discusses in detail proper alinement and operation of cutting mechanism, operation of grain wheel and outside divider, of main wheel sprocket and counter-shaft, of binding attachment, and causes and remedies of tying troubinder, good performance by the tractor is as necessary for efficient harvesting as good performance by the binder.

Proper lubrication and storage of the two machines are also discussed The bulletin is a revision of and supersedes Farmers Bulletin No. 947, Mowers, Reapers and Binders. After the free supply, which may be

MESSAGE TO THE LOCAL

February has been called the month of patriots because several great patriots were given to the world during its short period. Perhaps it is for that reason that the Farmers Un ion has dedicated the month of February to the consideration of legislative problems. We have been given for many years to the idea that patriotism is practiced only on the battlefield and through legislative halls. True it is that many patriots have given their lives on the field of batmanifest these qualities in his ac- tle and many more have struggled tions. God manners are simply for their country's welfare in the manifestations of good will toward our fellow men. Bad manners are grave need for patriotic men in Conthe result of vanity, ill nature and gress, and there is need for us, who lack of sense. If we wish to get work out here on the farms of America, to make our voices heard, through our organized voice, as to War clouds are dark over the world

The Neutrality legislation was put through Congress last year while the tide of feeling aroused by the munitions Investigation ran high. But it is effective only until February 29th. Then, unless it is strengthened and re-enacted, it will no longer be in effect.

This legislation consists of regulations against loaning money countries at war - traveling on enemy ships or in war zones, and against extending credit for goods to warring nations. In other words —any citizen who disobeys any of these regulations does so at his own risk. No soldiers will be sent to protect investments nor to enforce collection of loans. No citizen los-

FOUR MINUTE SPEECH OUTLINE "Neutrality Legislation Is Important"

Present neutrality legislation passed by last session of Congress effective only to Feburary 29, 1936. Give provisions of present neutrality laws in regard to: a. Loans to warring nations. Embargoes on munitions and basic war materials.

Classification of war materials. d. Status of citizens in war zones. -Inadequacies of present laws. Permits exportation of raw materials and other supplies not expressly classed as munitions and armamants of war. Inadequate control over private dealings between citizens and private business with belligerent na-and effective neutrality steps. Tendency is to place emergency power in hands of the administration to make restrictions on commerce and place embargoes on basic war materials and financial assistance. What do you think of the proposal? From what sources has the opposition to present neutrality proclamations come? Are there any instances of open violation of the embargoes? (Standard Oil petroleum shipments to Italy. Socony-Vocuum concessions in Ethiopia.)

IV .- What do you think of neutrality proposals such as these: Blanket embargoes on basic war materials to warring nations? Restrictions on loans and credit to belligerent nations on the part of citizens and corporations? Withdrawal of government protection and responsibility for citizens and property in war zones, after evacuation has been order-

ORGANIZE, OH, ORGANIZE (By Andrew J. Fedje, Milnor, N. D.) Tune: Maryland, My Maryland.

Ye farmers of this mighty land, Organize, or, organize! Its bulwark evermore to stand, Organize, oh, organize! For with the flag of right unfurled In spite of darts against you hurled, You still must feed this hungry world, Organize, oh, organize! .

If you would come into your own, Organize, oh, organize! Or be forever overthrown, Organize, oh, organize! Yes, everywhere, throughout

The tillers of the land must stand And be a firm united band, Organize, oh, organize!

Firmly to stand against each wrong, Organize, oh, organize! Your only hope is Union strong, Organize, oh, organize! To break the bonds of slavery, That bind you now from sea to sea, And from oppression to be free, Organize, oh, organize!

Your calling was the first of earth, Organize, oh, organize! and ever since has proved its worth, Organize, oh, organize! Then come ye farmer, good and true, With good of all the world in view, The die is cast; it's up to you, Organize, oh, organize!

Farmers are the only ones who will ever build up the Farmers Union. If you lag behind, you hurt your own cause.

The Wall Street gangsters and racketeers may open the flood gates of hell and let out all of the imps of that bottomless conflageration to assist them, yet if this bill ever comes up for a vote and has a fair chance for debate it will pass both Houses of Congress and it will then be up to the President to sign or veto it. We are not going to submit to an underhand veto by names being taken off, neither are we going to assume that his responsibility and not that of sauce:

Opposition Declares Stand I am glad that the opposition the Frazier-Lemke Refinance Bill has now declared open war upon agriculture. It parrotlike uses the phrase "inflation," but that will not save them. The public knows that they have been guilty of inflating this Nation with 32,000,000,000 taxexempt bonds. The public knows that that was unnecessary. They will have to use a more forceful argument backed up with more intelligence than that. I repeat, this procedure of hide and seek of taking names from the petition when we put on material on hand, to assist in these discussions. Let us know your needs.

others has been an unworthy performance. It is an unworthy performance. This House owes it to itself to ous and unseeming action. It can do it by bringing this bill up on the floor for discussion and disposition on its merits. We accept this war of aggression that has been forced upon us by the opposition and we in-form that opposition that from now on they will know that we, 140 Democrats and 67 Progressives, Farmer-Laborites, and progressive and nonpartisan Republicans are here.

Insist On Rights We will accept nothing less than an unconditional and constitutional surrender by the abolition of the 'gag and shackle rule" so that every the Speaker's desk that has the backing of a large number of people can come up on the floor for disposition on its merits. There must be complete restoration of representative government and democracy in this House.

The battle is on. The battle lines are flung from the Atlantic on the east to the Pacific on the west, from the Gulf of Mexico on the south to the Canadian boundary on the north. The battle will continue, unless the opposition capitulates from its unwarranted position, until next November, when the grandest host of the polls and cast an avalanche of ballots that will leave no doubt in anyone's mind that the American people still hold near and dear to their hearts democracy and representative government.

Glycerine is a clear, colorless, syralmost odorless liquid having a slightly sweet taste. This gives it its name, from the Greek word "glykeros," meaning sweet.

Glycerine exists in nature to only a very limited extent. Some free glycerine is found in palm oil and to a lesser extent in some rarer oils. The bulk of the world's supply of glycer-ine, however, is produced in the making of soap. In the chemical treatment of the fats and oils to produce soap, the glycerine is set free.

GLYCERINE IN THE MEDICINE CHEST

Probably no single drug-store item enters into so many of your medicinechest preparations as glycerine. It keeps capsules and pills from drying out. It keeps ointments and syrups from getting moldy. Without it surgical tapes and plasters would dry. In a wide variety of pharmaceutical preparations it is invaluable as a drug olvent.

Sometimes glycerine is used in disinfectants to increase the germicidal power of dolute solutions, and in certain preparations it has value as a nerve tonic.

Aside from its many uses in pharmaceutical preparations glycerine in itself has positive value. It is helpful in certain types of burns, and in a diluted form is often of great value for its ampliant properties. In Fig. for its emollient properties. In England it has been for generations a household remedy to give a teaspoonful of glycerine to a child suffering from a sore throat or chest cold.

HOW MY FRIENDS CAN HELP

Since I announced for governor have received literally hundreds of letters not only from farmers, but from town and city people, who say they will work for me "till the last dog is hung," and of course this is very grotifying, and none the less so because many of these letters come from class thinking Republican farmers who blieve there is little chance for the party to elect a governor, and whe are therefore for me in my effort w restore decent government in Missouri, and to more effectively fight for lower taxes. Of course as have said on previous occasions. don't want our members, leaders and managers to do anything in my behalf that might create friction within our ranks, and if farmers irrespective of party are as friendly toward my candicacy as they seem to be from the reports I am getting, then happily there isn't much danger of this; several of our local managers have either said or written to me during recent days that farmers who have never been members of the M. F. A. are coming into their places of business to trade, and to say that they are for me, and these managers explain this on the theory that these farmers have read of the things I stand for in the newspapers, and that vnace was registered with the close Liberty League and other like organthus for the first time they are get- of 37c. Many of ing. our members are writing in for blanks for "Hirth for Governor Clubs," and we will gladly supply them, and also I will appreciate it if my friends will the governorship, and then write me not be overlooked. Just remember, however, that we must do nothing that will stir up friction within our Likewise our members should bear in mind that Mr. C. E. Lane of Springfield, who has succeeded me as President has long been an outstanding M. F. A. leader, and if anybody thinks they can put anything butter received at New York during "over" on Mr. Lane they will change their minds after they have tried it.

And now what is my uppermost message to the "crossroads" at this cording to the latest weekly report time? It is that with oat sowing time rapidly approaching our members do two things-first, the bad roads foreign butter to arrive in the near fuof recent weeks have kept many members from paying their annual dues, and I hope they will do this without kets are firm at the close, dealers are delay so the Association can intelli-gently make its plans for the re- that more moderate weather and imgently make its plans for the remainder of the year; second, that every mother's son of you will see if you cannot bring in at least one new member between now and March 1, and I will gladly send literature that will make this easy, for in our battle for lower taxes which is certain to involve one or more Constitutional amendments we need to strengthen our lines to the uttermost, and with farm conditions markedly improved, I am satisfied that there are thousands of farmers who can be brought into the Association if we will only bring the matter to their attention. In this connection, I want to call the attention of our local Elevator and Exchange boards and managers to the fact that if they would have their agencies exempted from the payment of a federal income tay in times to a federal income tay in the federal income t come tax in times to come they must do more business with members than with non-members, and therefore why not bring in enough new members during the next 30 days so there will be no doubt on this score? The continuation of the severe winter weather, which made its bow the week of January 20th establishing new all-time records for its separalyzed truck transportation, and seriously hampered railroad service, thus resulting in further production to terminal markets. The severe storm and blizzard of a week ago blocked already badly drifted highways in many sections, particularly in Iowa, Wisconsin, and Michigan sharply reducing deliveries to creameries. Reports stated many factories did not produce enough butter for lo-cal requirements, thus butter had to

The limited supplies of fresh butter resulted in free movement of storage. There was a good demand for local use, as well as for shipment east. The New York market has been highly irregular recording fluctuareaction that covered most of the losses the two following days, closing at 38 ½c to 38¾c. Firsts opened at 31½c to 32½c, advanced during the week to 38c declined later to 34c, reacting and finally closing at arrived at the terminal markets frozen. We were advised many of the truck lines have refused to accept eggs until there are definite indications of more moderate weather. This condition has been a boon to the holders of storage eggs as storage stocks have been in good demand and moving freely. However, even yet we have quite a surplus of eggs as compared with last year.

As the weather moderates, roads open, and receipts begin to show up in noticeable increased quantities, the egg market is almost certain to decline to lower levels. Because of this all dealers are operating very conservatively. Ideas vary as to just what effect the severe cold weather will have on early production. Generally it is the foregone conclusion, however. that the production in the immediate future is going to be curtailed to a great extent in some sections, but this shortage may be overcome later

The February 17th U.S.D. A. Bureau of Agricutural Economics report states the production of baby chicks by commercial hatcheries in January this year showed a very large increase over the production of January 1935. The report states that with the exception of 1930 the commercial output of baby chicks in Francis Grillot, young stockman of January was the largest for that were sold by Bill Acuff for $10.35 per are striving to increose production cwt. straight. try and egg production. On 90 per cent of the farmers corn crop he would be entitled to a loan of 75 per cent of parity price or abcut 65 cents per bushel. He would take out stock in his local association for five per cent of his loan in the same way as he does through a Federal Land Bank Loan.

This would form the basis for debentures issued against the stock thus obtaining the necessary capital to finance the operation. The gover-nment would guarantee these debentures in the same manner as they do in the Federal Land Bank and the the grower agrees with his local association to do certain things which ve will explain a little later.

On the ten per cent of the crop he would receive a loan of fifty per cent of the parity agreeing to keep that amount on his farm as a normal granary for protection against brouth and other crop failures.

The government would guarantee the loans providing the farmer agreed to grow only such acreage of basic crops as would allow him to keep up and add to the fertility of his farm. He would agree to keep his normal granary supply until such time as his loan contract would di-

The government would cease to guarantee his loan when the price went to 15 per cent (suggested fig-ure) above parity and the corn would be forced on the market in order that the price would not go above parity. 10. That landlords should be encouraged to offer tenants longtime lease privileges which will permit the use of better farming practices from the standpoint of a land use program embodying the principles of conserving soil fertility and maintaining a balance between production and market requirements. It is felt that short term leases on tenant operated farms has been a stumbling block in the way of such a program. 11. That steps should be taken to 12 This report is premised upon the fundamental assumption that the American market must be preserved for the American farmer.

We hereby extend a vote of thanks to all Members of Congress representing the State of Kansas, for their diligent and untiring efforts in behalf of an agricultural adjustment program which will perpetuate the gains previously made and provide in the future a parity price for agricultural products.

We commend The President of the United States and the Secretary of Agriculture, for their recognition of the farm problem, and for their leadrship in the formulation of beneficial agricultural adjustment legislation. Motion made that these recommendations be adopted.

Motion carried unanimously. A definition of a phase of the constitution is outlined in the "Resettlement News" as follows: "The consti-
