100 PER CENT LIST OF KANSAS LOCALS

List is Published This Week, Showing Considerably More than Hundred Eligible; Better than Last Year

ELLIS. McPHERSON TIE

Many Locals will Be on List when One or Two More Members Pay Dues; Several Locals Reorganized or Newly Established

Considerably more than a hundred Kansas Farmers Union Locals have paid up for 1934 equal to or greater than last year's total membership. This is much better than could be reported at this time last year, and reflects the renewed interest being shown in Farmers Union work throughout the state. Included in the list, which is published in this issue and which will appear in nearly every issue hereafter during the year, are nine reorganized Locals and seven new Locals.

A large number of locals lacked such misstatements have been made. only one or two members of being eligible for the "100 per cent list." No doubt, these members who are responsible for the fact that their Locals do not appear on the list, will pay soon. That means the list undoubtedly will grow rapidly. Many Locals shown on the list already have a much larger 1934 member-ship than their total 1933 member-

Other Locals probably are now eligible for listing as 100 per cent Lo-cals, except for the fact that the Local secretary has not forwarded all the dues and names. The Locals will be added to the list as soon as the state office receives the dues of all 1933 members.

It will be noted that McPherson county and Ellis county are tied for high honors, with seven each. Ellis county is showing lots of action, and will be ready for the state convention next October in the city of Ellis with a large and progressive membership. McPherson county always gives a good account of itself.

BEAR EXPENSES OF TEMPORARY AGENTS

A letter from B. E. Wincherster of Stafford, Kansas, throws some light on a situation which has been discussed considerably in different parts of the state. Mr. Winchester has been in contact with many farmers in various sections of the state in recent weeks. He writes:

"In my work in the different counties, I am told there has been propa-ganda put out to the effect that a county must have a farm bureau or ganized if one is not already organ ized, in order to get the corn-hog allotment benefits. It has also been said that it is just as cheap to the tax papers of the county to have a farm bureau as to have a temporary agent, since the county commission ers must appropriate at least $1,200 to support a temporary agent, the same as the law requires a county to appropriate for a farm bureau.

In this connection it is pointed out that many of these lowpriced twines may be sold under trade names, but made by prison mills in other states or in foreign countries.

A letter from Harry Neath, who heads the twine department of the Jobbing Association, points out fur-ther that in Kansas there is no law regulating the sale of binder twine, and tags have been used which either gave no specifications or were such as to leave a false impression, since it is known that some twines have been sold which were short in weight or yardage or both.

On the other hand, says Mr. Neath, Farmers Union Standard Twine, made in Kansas, actually does average 500 feet to the pound, is full strength and well treated. Tests prove that it will stand comparison and that the farmer using it can tie his crop at less expense with this twine than with any other.

The Farmers Union cooperative appreciates the wonderful volume of business in twine which it enjoyed last year, and feels confident that cooperative dealers throughout the state will cooperate with it again this year and thus make it possible for farmers to save a considerable amount of money in tying their 1934 crops.

The Osborne County Farmers Union Cooperative Association, under the management of J. C. Gregory, and because of his able help from real cooperators, has taken its place as a leader in the matter of marketing farm products in the north central part of Kansas.

This cooperative association with a seven points, including Osborne, Corinth, Downs, Portis, Forney, Bloomington nd Alton. The set-up now includes seven elevators, four produce stations and one grocery store. A majority of all the farmers in the county are interested in this cooper ative association. In addition to the elevators and other units now estab lished, a cooperative oil and gasoline setup is to be added soon ..

The Osborne County Farmers Union outfit, organized in 1906, was one of the pioneers in cooperative marketing and purchasing. At this time, after more than a quarter of a century of life, it controls half of the elevators in the county. Last year it handled 70 per cent of the grain market-ed in Osborne county. Mr. Gregory has been manager since 1926. New Oil Setup

Mrs. Ward's Letter

(continued from last week) Starting in on another letter, first want to mention the finding of my letter on the front page of the Union Farmers paper. Little did I expect ever to find it there, but I want to thank our Editor, and our kind friend, Mr. Lynn, and hope it did not crowd out something of importance.

CONFIDENCE AND LOYALTY

individual or organization. Lack of cooperators have additional success- President Goes Slow on Inflation spite of his ability. So will it hold an organization from going forward as it should.

Confidence is something which must be built up, in many cases; and a good basis for confidence is loyalty.

If a farmer is loyal to his own organization, he will undoubtedly have if he has no confidence in it, he is not likely to be loyal to it.

Lovalty increases with confidence; and, by the same token, confidence increases with loyalty.

Now let us apply some of these simple truths to the Farmers, Union. The application may well start with the Local and Local membership. When a man or woman joins the Farmers Union, he or she expresses confidence in the cause of the organization. The act of joining the Local is an expression of confidence in organization. The act of joining the Local is an expression of confidence in organized agriculture, organized for the purpose of securing equity, es- ist as a unified body of people with tablishing justice and applying the Golden Rule.

Germs of Doubt

Many a farmer has joined the Farmers Union in good faith and with good intentions. He had confidence in it and its principles, and he was loyal to it. Then, for some reason-perhaps carelessness—he allowed his loyalty to falter. He patronizzed the old line firms, perhaps because he was promised a little better cash return than it appeared he would receive from his own cooperative, Farmers Union firm. He had to justify his action, for that is the natural thing to do. Therefore, he may have said something unfavorable to his own firm, in order to make a case for himself. That further destroyed his confidence and his loyalty.

What he may have said probably fell on the ears of some brother Farmers Union member. The germ of disloyalty and lack of confidence thus would have found lodgement and may have taken root in this listener. Thus, disloyalty and lack of confidence might spread. No basis of fact would be necessary in such a case.

Loyalty in such a case would have forestalled any breaking down of confidence. Confidence would have brought about more confidence, and instead of the cancer of doubt, the Farmers Union would have grown and prospered.

Results Light the Way It is not to be assumed that whenever a member loses confidence and fails in the matter of loyalty, that the whole membership will follow. Re- organization, he is doing just that sults of cooperation are concrete, and much to help orthers destroy his own stand out as beacon lights against the class organization.

> This, then, puts the challenge squarely before us. We MUST stick together. We must have confidence and we must have loyalty.

Power in Numbers

Success in cooperative buying and President on his money views. selling is not the only reward of loyalty and confidence in the Farmers Union. The very fact that we exthe best interests of our own class at heart, has given us power with which course of national forces. We have become a power in Topeka, and we are Many are the interests which would destroy us as an organization if they could. Their activities are curbed because of the influence of the Farmers Union. The old Money Gang which had a death grip on this nation would like to choke the life out of the Farmers Union with the same fingers that have tightened on the money system of the United States through all these years.

How would these interests, and others we could name, go about killing the Farmers Union? They would first kill confidence, on the part of the farmers themselves, in the Farmers Union. Then they would foster the resulting disloyalty. If they could get the start they would like, they could make short work of us.

They would poison us from the in side. They would not strike at us from the outside. Build Up Confidence

Therefore, it is up to each one o us to keep our confidence up to the proper level, and to maintain our loyalty in our organization, Remember our organization stands on its own. No outside interest is ever going to support it. All its support must come from among farmers. When a farmer fails or refuses to support his own

Our Poultry Program each week-day morning has attracted a lot of interest. Johnson's Hatchery, one of the largest and best in Kansas, has sponsored this program along with the Seymour Packing Company's two hundred fifty buying stations all over the state, and the makers of Quisenberry Quality Feeds. No better chicks are hatched than those that come from Johnson's of Topeka. They're all from selected breeding flocks and their record of livability is little short of wonderful. Getting good chicks to start with is important, and then feeding them right is also important. So we're glad to bring you the daily messages from Quisenberry Quality Feeds. Time-tested formulas have been used in making these better feeds and hundreds of poultry raisers won't use any other feeds. Then, of course, when you've got your chicks and have raised them you want all the profit you can get from them. And that's where the Seymour Packing Company does such a good job for Kansas farmers. Pioneers in the marketing of better produce, Seymour's are offering a genuine servive to Kansans and we're telling the world about it every day. -WIBWnation certainly have a long road to travel before we can rightly say we are "out of the woods." We must which bear in mind that we were deeply involved, that this was a mighty sick and greed which got us down are by no means out of our national system as yet. We have found the right medicine in Cooperation, but we are not through taking it yet. In fact we

We thnik of taking medicine only as an emergency measure. Headache tablets no doubt are the right things to take at times, but they do not appeal to us as a steady diet. Even the most deadly poisons may be administered by skilled physicians in such a way that they will save, rather than destroy, life. Their use, however, cannot be continued without limitation or judgment.

Medicine Versus Food

more emergency measures were nec-essary as medicine, which our sick nation so badly needed at the time they were first given. Most of these measures would not do as permanent systems, and were not intended as such. However, insofar as cooperation forms one of the ingredients used in these measures, that particular ingredient will be retained as a national tissue builder, after it, in combination with other ingredients, has served as a fact that, after all, the government tonic or medicine. Some of these organizations, especially the AAA, will be retained and developed into that kind of an organization which, because it is builded around cooperation, will make for a healthy agriculture. will make for a healthy agriculture. Supporting the statement that we have a long road yet to travel before we reach the open day light, let us look for a moment at conditions as they are today. Millions were given employment under public and civic work administrations. The money these millions have received as wages has been a life saver. But it has to stop sometime. As soon as it stops, what will become of those who have been, or are, so employed? Will they all step into jobs that will keep their families from starvation? Of course, the answer is "no." We can see that we have a stupendous task of reconstruction ahead of us. Thousands upon thousands of men and women, or whole families, have moved from the farms to the cities. This movement was forced by conditions. As a general thing no one has tical for the government itself to been able to make a living on a farm under the system which made the cost cent interest, with 1½ per cent to be of production so much greater than paid each year on the principal, the reward. Many in the ranks of the unemployed, or in the ranks of those employed on governmentally All these measures, and more which those employed on governmentally something radical is done, these fam- program, which we offer and chamilies cannot go back to the farms. There simply is not a chance for them as things are now. This adds to our problems of reconstruction. Reconstruction Needed

It will be a long time before factories swing into full operation again as they operated a few years ago. This fact closes the door on millions who would like to step from govern mental project work back into their old jobs; and it heaps more reconstruction problems on us as a nation. Factories cannot open and operate to capacity again until the American citizens again possess their normal purchasing power. This purchasing power cannot be recaptured when we as a nation operate under a system which makes it possible for eighty per cent of the nation's wealth to be under control of about four per cent of the people. The pauperized nine-ty-six per cent are the ones who would do most of the buying, who represent the normal purchasing power. The wealthy four per cent who control the wealth are not the ones who produce the wealth. The pauperized ninety-six per cent, who live in practical slavery or servitude to the wealthy few, are the ones who pro-duce the wealth. This gives us some light on the question of what we will have to do by way of reconstruction. The great mass of common folks who are not getting a square deal un-der the old dog-eat-dog system, are the ones who are demanding a cooperative system. We have made a little start toward getting it. Great fundamental measures, however, still Free. have to be adopted before we can do any boasting about our progress. The great piles of money or funds which have been appropriated to take care of the emergency measures mentioned a few moments ago, have been borrowed from the wealthy group who have this nation's wealth in their clutches; and this nation, the and dewberry. President Roosevelt estimates that by July, 1935, this government will owe 31 billion dollars in interest-bearing, non-taxable bonds. Those who do nothing to increase our wealth are on the receiving end of this deal. They are the dogs that are eating us, the under-dogs. Isn't it time for us to get away from the dog-eat-dog system? These money lords who exsystem? These money lords who excist because our system is wrong, not only collect interest from the masses, but they live off the fat of the land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing toward the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing the operation of our land without paying taxes or contributing the operation of our land without paying taxes or

be. We can see why this nation can-not make satisfactory progress to-ward the prosperity which should cer-tainly exist in a land with such great nautral resources as ours has.

"What can we do about it?" is the hopeless wail that goes up from an oppressed people. First, let us realize that a solution will not come from (continued from page 1) those who enslave us under the prestable rights. Let there be no mistake about what progress we are lems will have to come from the

The basic industry of this country, agriculture, has an organization which represents the organized thought of agriculture. The Farmers Union is an organization which nation just a few months ago, and that the disease germs of selfishness organized their own organization. It organized their own organization. is not supported as well as it should be, because all its support must necessarily come from farmers, and farmers have not felt financially able have found in cooperation something better than medicine; it is the sustaining food which will build us up to give their organization the supplementation of the and blazed the way for cooperation in government. Now it is pointing the way to permanent reconstruction. It has something definite to offer.

Some Absurd Practices Primarily, the Farmers Union points out the absurdity of a great government allowing a handful of financial pirates—international ers—to dictate its money policies. It points out the foolishness of the government, of, by and for the people, issuing interest-bearing bonds which So it is with emergency governmental or economic measures. The CWA, NRA, AAA, PWA, and many that they have value then issuing ing these bonds and guaranteeing that they have value, then issuing money backed by these bonds, then entrusting, in a way, the distribution of this money to the financial pirates.

The Farmers Union points out the fact that Congress was originally given the power to issue money and regulate its value. That power has been stolen from the government, from Congress, from the people, by these money kings. We point to the store of actual wealth and property which is, or should be, held in fee simple by the great mass of working, producing people? We ask, further, why should the government—the peoole—pay these money powers interest for the privilege of using United States money? The Farmers Union points out that money must get to the classes who represent the nation's purchasing power, according to what they produce, or to what good they do their nation or society as a whole. It points out the fact that farmers must be allowed to retain their farms, and home owners their homes, if we are to continue as a free people instead of an enslaved people. farmers must pay high interest rates in order to be refinanced, especially when it would be possible and prac-sponsored projects, are these folks time will not permit us to discuss who moved off the farms. Until now, are parts of the Farmers Union pion as the way to national prosperity. These measures are embodied in the Frazier-Lemke bill, the Wheeler bill, Thomas bill, parity or cost-of-production bill, fortune limitation and income and gift tax bills, Capper-

> BUTTER AND EGG MARKET LETTER By P. L. Betts
> Dairy & Poultry Cooperatives

Butter The butter market made some recovery during the past week from the previous week's decline, but closes ½c to ¾c under the high for the week which was reached last Saturday. Extras are 21%c a quarter cent higher, Standards 22c, 89 score 21 122c, and 88 score 21c, all three grades 1c higher. Extras have been plentiful while care of 90 score and undergrades have not been so much in excess of actual demand. As a result Standards close the week 4c higher than Extras. The market at this writing is unsettled. We can think of no better term to characterize the present market than to say that it is a "muddled situation." On one hand are reports from reliable sources that as a result of a letup in the Government relief works program and the higher retail prices consumption is again laging behind what is felt it should be in order to maintain present prices. On the opposite side is the present administration pointing to definitely higher price levels with statements that if this cannot be accomplished one way it will another.

From a statistical standpoint the situation is quite favorable as indicated by the April 1st U. S. Department of Agriculture Cold Storage holdings report.

Butter on hand April 1, 1934, 15, 352,000 lbs; April 1, 1933, 9,255,000 lbs.; 5-year average April 1st, 14,-489,000 lbs.

In other words we have less than one million pound surplus as com-pared with the five year average. This would appear to be exceedingly favorable when we recall that on January 1st, this year we had 111,210,000 lbs. compared with the five year average of 47,561,000 lbs. or a surplus of over 63,000,000 lbs. over the five

From the standpoint of production outlook we have both encouraging and need of moisture, have fair pasture prospects and report production on the increase, while the reports from certain sections of Minnesota and the Dakotas paint the most encouraging outlook for years.
