Machinery Auction

The sixth annual machinery auction in Concordia conducted by sale barn owner Tom Walker and auctioneers Larry and Rollie LaGasse drew one of the largest crowds of a busy auction season.

Larry LaGasse reported the sale grossed $30,000 — about 10,000 more than the year before, with 1036 individual sales being made to 550 buyers from 150 consignors. Implements came mainly from farmers with a few dealers bringing in equipment. There were consignments from as far west as Beloit, south to Salina, north to the Nebraska line, and east to Washington.

Buyers came from South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas. "We averaged two sales a minute from starting time of 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.," LaGasse said.

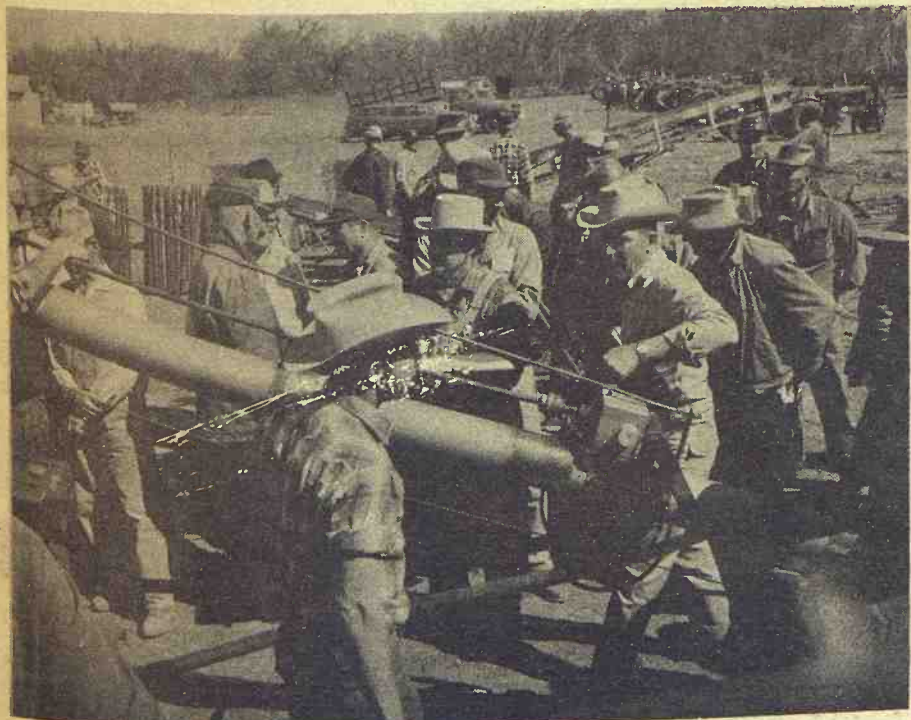

Part of the crowd.

Dawn Nondorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Nondorf of Scandia, wasn't a bidder but was an interested looker.

Wayne Jones and Dean Elsey of Concordia and Wayne Ruud of Jamestown look over a mower.

Larry and Rollie turn the crowd's attention to an auger.

Riley Farm Bureau Women Meet

"Let Freedom Ring" was the theme for the meeting of the Riley County Farm Bureau Woman Organization. The group met March 15 at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Leonardville.

A safety skit, entitled, "Heavenly Days," was presented by the Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H Club of Riley.

Miss Barbara Bulk, Leonardville, gave a citizenship seminar report. Miss Joyce Larson, Leonardville, entertained with a clarinet solo, accompanied by Miss Bulk.

A 1966 Farm Bureau Woman Leader of the Year, Mrs. Lowell Davidson, addressed the group.

On display was a variety of wheat art, ranging from centerpieces to mosaic work. Mrs. Pauls of the Kansas Wheat Commission described the various pieces and explained how they were made.

Each woman present received a booklet containing salad recipes which were submitted by members and guests.

HIGHER INTEREST OK'D FOR CREDIT UNIONS

Credit unions can charge up to 12 per cent interest but other lenders can't charge more than 8 per cent in Missouri, the state attorney general has ruled. There's a legal limit on interest in the state, but Attorney General Norman Anderson gave the opinion that it doesn't apply to credit unions and they can charge up to one per cent a month.

CO-OP Feeds with Tylan and Sulfa Do It Best!

A fat hog is as outdated as the horse-and-buggy days. Consumers demand good, lean meat ... and smart producers are increasing their net profit by supplying good, lean hogs. Leaner market hogs bring more money and yield the meaty cuts the consumer wants.

CO-OP Protein Concentrates, Complete Swine Feeds and Pig Feeds won't make a pig leaner, but when properly mixed and fed will make pigs gain fast and efficiently.

CO-OP Feeds are available with Tylan and Sulfa. Tylan and Sulfa work together, increasing weight gains and improving feed utilization in the presence of dysentery and atrophic rhinitis.

The CO-OP Swine Feeding Program will do a good job in your operation. Get together with a CO-OP Feed man and get all the details.

Grain Reserve - Can It Pass, Would It Do Any Good?

"It's wishful thinking to assume wheat prices are going anywhere in the near future," grumbles Don Moore, a Kansas wheat farmer.

And the status quo is never satisfactory, of course. No. 2 ordinary hard wheat sold at Kansas City for $1.59 a bushel, down from $1.88 a year ago.

Because of the run on gold in European money markets, wheat prices have moved upward from the mid-winter lows as investors have rushed to purchase commodities generally. But that's no substitute for the wild price gyrations that spurred frantic trading on wheat markets a year ago.

Some wheat men are pinning their hopes on a bill pending in Congress to establish a wheat reserve of 400 million bushels, thinking that removing that much grain from the market would stir some action.

Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange, claims that if the bill "were in effect today, the price of wheat would be 20 to 30 cents a bushel above the present level." Other analysts, however, don't think passing the bill would have much impact.

The problem is that last year's record 1.5 billion-bushel wheat crop so far has outweighed the government's efforts to help jack up prices.

Exports are likely to hit the official target, counting food aid shipments, but domestic use is predicted to decline. As a result, experts see the carryover at the end of the crop year on June 30 totaling 545 million bushels, a four-month supply, up from a year-earlier holdover of 426 million bushels.

Moreover, if normal spring rains start falling there's little chance of things improving. Forecasters think the 1968 U.S. wheat crop could match or even exceed last year's output, and that bigger harvests overseas will greatly stiffen competition in export markets.

Grain Reserve Bill

The latest grain reserve bill (one version was killed late last year) before the Senate Agriculture Committee would have the Government hold up to 200 million bushels of wheat and farmers privately store another 200 million under the resale program. (This allows farmers who receive Government crop loans on stored grain to extend the loan into the next crop year; farmers use it because they can wait for better prices).

Unless there was an emergency, the reserve stocks wouldn't be released except when prices were fairly high.

The American Farm Bureau Federation and grain dealers oppose the measure, mainly because they think the Government could use the reserves to keep prices from going too high.

Other farm groups support the bill, and most of them say passing it would bolster sagging wheat prices.

At least one analyst for a large brokerage firm doesn't think so. "The Government's surplus stock of wheat is currently 105 million bushels so that all they would be authorized to buy and take off the market is 95 million bushels. That won't push up prices very much."

He doesn't think the resale program for private storage will work very well either because it could force a farmer to market stored wheat and a new crop in the same year, putting him in a higher tax bracket.

"The tax angle makes resale no bed of roses," concedes an Agriculture Department official. Another analyst also has doubts that extended storage of wheat under loan will help prices. "We have 238 million bushels under loan right now, and prices haven't budged," he says.

In any event, the reserve bill is given only a fair chance of passing. Some Washington insiders say the bill may get entangled with Senate hearings on new farm-program legislation, which could delay a vote until next year. "I have hopes that we can get the reserves bill passed," says one proponent, but he admits it's not certain.

May Shift To Flat Rate Cattle Indemnity

WASHINGTON — Payment of a flat rate indemnity for cattle reacting to the brucellosis, tuberculosis, or para-tuberculosis test would be permitted under an amendment to federal regulations proposed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This amendment would benefit cooperative state-federal disease eradication efforts by facilitating the payment of indemnity claims of these diseases, explains Dr. E. A. Schilf, senior staff veterinarian in the Animal Health Division of USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

Under the changed regulation, a flat rate indemnity would be paid without the appraisal and salvage reports previously required, and federal veterinarians in charge would have full authority to approve qualifying claims.

Interested persons may submit comments on views in writing to the Director, Animal Health Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Federal Center Building, Hyattsville, Md.

WABAUNSEE EXTENSION PLANS GRAB-BAG AUCTION

ALMA — The Wabaunsee County Fair Association and the County 4-H Council will conduct a benefit auction at the Fairgrounds here March 30. The purpose of the auction is to raise money for the new roof over the judging arena. County agent Darold Marlow says consignments of anything may be consigned by anyone desiring to make a donation.

"My Hydrostatic Drive 656 works circles around my gear-drive tractor," says J. W. Broughton, Big Spring, Texas. "This spring I drove my International Hydrostatic Drive 656. My hired hand used a gear-drive tractor of the same horsepower. My Hydrostatic 656 worked circles around the gear-drive in the same field. I could always match speed exactly to the job."

While disking and listing, I noticed far less slippage even with less tractor weights. And on headland maneuvering, I left the gear drive far behind every time.

With a rotary cutter, I chopped far more stalks with the 656 Hydrostatic Drive than my hired hand could with the gear-drive tractor. The cutter shed trash better with just a slight touch of my thumb on the Speed Ratio control.

And what a whale of a difference infinitely variable speed will make when I plant, cultivate and strip cotton! Just let a man run the Hydrostatic 656—and he'll sell himself."

Don Ende, Beresford, S.D.: "I fall-plowed with my Hydrostatic Drive 656. I got more work done because I had the correct speed, full power at field ends and could make faster turns."

Peter Kuipers, Worthington, Minn.: "In a picking-bee against eight other machines, my Hydrostatic 656 with corn harvester picked consistently more. I feel the Hydrostatic Drive 656 is the only tractor transmission to buy."

A. W. Gustafson, Richardson, N.D.: "I use my Hydrostatic Drive 656 with a stacker-loader every day, all day to feed 800 head. The infinite speed range and traction built into the 656 allow me to far outwork any previous tractor-loader I've ever had."

See your dealer and test-drive an International 656 Hydrostatic Drive tractor soon. See for yourself if it isn't everything owners say it is. Ask for IHCC financing if you wish and have your Hydrostatic Drive 656 in time for spring.

Little Royal Set This Week

MANHATTAN — Judges for the 40th Annual Little American Royal at Kansas State University, Manhattan, have been announced by Duane McClure, Newton, chairman of the judges committee.

Judges in the beef division will be Joe W. Lewis, Larned, and George Crenshaw, Wamego. Judge for the dairy division will be Chester Peterson Jr., Lindsborg. Claude Messner, Caney, will serve as judge of the swine division, while Douglas Todd, Newton, will be the horse judge. Eldon Clawson, Topeka, will judge the sheep.

The Little American Royal will begin in the Weber Hall Arena at 7 p.m. March 30. A student managed and sponsored fitting and showing contest, the Little A. R. is patterned after the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show in Kansas City. In the K-State show, students show only University-owned livestock and are judged only on their fitting and showing ability.

The judges are all well qualified in their fields, McClure said. Each has had experience judging county fairs and shows, some are K-State graduates.

Lewis is a partner in John M. Lewis and Sons Alfalfa Lawn Farms, a widely known Polled Hereford breeding farm. He was graduated from K-State in 1939. While in school, he was a member of the senior livestock judging team.

Former beef cattle herdsman at Kansas State, George Crenshaw, once showed the Grand Champion Steer at the Denver National Western Stock Show. He later went to Black Post Ranch where his herds built an outstanding record. Crenshaw now has a registered Angus operation at Wamego.

A member of the first place K-State dairy judging team at the Chicago International Livestock Exposition in 1957, Chester Peterson Jr., was graduated from K-State in 1959. A one time writer for "Successful Farming" magazine, he presently is well known for his agriculture free lance writing and photography of agricultural subjects.

A one time champion of the horse division of the Little American Royal, Douglas Todd was graduated from K-State in 1967. He was a member of the K-State rodeo team, Block and Bridle Club and Chaparajos.

Swine judge, Claude Messner, is the owner of one of the largest registered Duroc operations in the nation. His barrows have won many championships in both carcass and live competition. He is the owner of the 1967 Premier Duroc Sire of the Nation.

Eldon Clawson, a 1965 graduate of K-State, is presently the County 4-H Club agent in Shawnee county. While in college he was a member of the senior livestock judging team and won the Merit Trophy Award given by the Block and Bridle Club.

Judges for the show and the trophy donors will be honored at a banquet in the K-State Union prior to the show.

A Case man banks the difference between workpower and horsepower

The bankable difference is more torque, at lower rpm. Lugging ability. Instantly responsive power in reserve that lets you use wider implements, multiple-hitch rigs with confidence. High torque that builds up faster to lick most overloads non-stop. The kind of power a Case man gets from an easy-running, big-displacement engine designed for maximum leverage at relatively low speeds. Compare specs. 451 cubic-inch displacement in the big 7-pow Case 1030, 20% more than the average for others in its power class. Rated engine speed of only 2000 rpm. 500 less than some comparable tractors. You'd expect more work capacity from an engine like this and long life with low maintenance. You get both from the Case 1030—and both mean more dollars you can bank.

'Banker' Might Be Less Inclined To Dicker Under 7 Percent Interest'

"I would anticipate that there would not be much effect on rural credit because of the increase in the Federal Reserve Banks discount rate," Ray J.

Doll, vice-president of the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank told a meeting at Hutchinson.

Doll explained that only 25 per cent of the member banks in this area borrowed money from the Federal Reserve system in 1967. Thus, the banks will not feel the pinch directly. Doll said that the rural banks might feel the increase in the discount rate through their correspondent banking with larger city banks.

"I would say that the cattleman who goes in to borrow money tomorrow, and wants to pay 6 3/4 per cent instead of 7 per cent would find the banker less inclined to dicker than he might have been two days ago," Doll said.

The subject of increase in the discount rate became more than academic for over 100 bankers from the Hutchinson area meeting.

It was announced, in the middle of the meeting, that the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank had increased its discount rate from 4.5 per cent to 5 per cent.

The meeting, sponsored by the Federal Reserve Bank, in cooperation with the Kansas Bankers Association, had been set up to discuss the latest developments in state and national economies and the international situation.

Doll spoke of the problems of agriculture.

OUTRUN DEMAND

"New techniques and applications of capital have caused output per farmer to increase much more rapidly than demand for his output has grown," Doll said.

This development has caused substantial agricultural underemployment, increased capital and credit requirements, large supplies, low prices, low incomes, and slow growth of deposits in rural banks, he said.

"Consequently, the banking system is finding it increasingly difficult to provide adequate credit to rural communities from internal resources," Doll explained.

Sends Prize - Winning Recipe

Contest winner, Mrs. Del Leiszler, Linn: "It will soon be Easter time again so I am sending a bread recipe that may be of interest to some people. I enjoy the variety of recipes that you print in the Grass & Grain."

PORTUGUESE EASTER BREAD

The Portuguese make this bread only at Easter and always give a loaf to friends. To the basic recipe I add the grated rind of 3 large lemons. If desired, add 1 cup each blanched almonds (silvered) and golden raisins, but the bread is sweet and delicious enough without such additions. A powdered-sugar glaze, flavored with the rind and juice of 1 large lemon, is excellent. Anyway you slice it, it makes excellent toast. The recipe as given makes 4 large loaves but is easily cut down to make 2 loaves."

3 yeast cakes
1 cup lukewarm water
12 cups flour
1 tablespoon salt
3 cups sugar
12 eggs, well beaten
1 pint lukewarm milk
1/2 pound butter

Dissolve the yeast in the lukewarm water and set aside. Sift the flour and salt together in a large pan. Mix the sugar and eggs with the lukewarm milk. Add the mixture with the flour. Stir in the yeast. Knead until the dough has the consistency of bread dough. Now add the melted butter, kneading a little more, and adding more flour as necessary. Cover and let rise until doubled. Divide dough into round, slightly flattened loaves, roll the loaves in flour and place in buttered pie pans. On top of each loaf if desired, press into dough a raw egg in its shell. Place 1 or 2 strips of dough over the egg and let loaves rise again until doubled. Bake in a 350-degree oven until golden brown and done, about 45 minutes.

Mrs. L. J. Wedel, Langdon, Mo.: "These are very good snacks."

GRAHAM CRACKER BARS
Cover bottom of 9x13-inch

1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup sugar

1/2 cup oleo
Remove from heat and add:
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cups coconut
Spread over the whole graham crackers in the pan. Top with whole graham crackers; press firmly. When cool cut in to 1x2-inch bars. * * *

Mrs. George Forst, Blaine: "We sure do like the Grass & Grain. I think the recipe corner the best. I am sending in a recipe my sister in Oregon sent me. It sure is good and makes a chicken go a long way."

CHICKEN DISH

1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup flour
1 quart chicken broth
6 eggs, well beaten
1 5-pound chicken, cooked and boned
1 small loaf bread
2 teaspoons onion
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup celery
1 teaspoon sage
1/2 teaspoon salt

Make a dressing of bread and seasonings. Moisten with water or broth and pat in bottom of greased pan. Cover dressing with the chicken cut into medium pieces. Pour over this a custard made by melting some butter in skillet. Add flour and broth and cook until slightly thickened. Pour over beaten eggs and mix well. Pour custard over chicken and dressing. Do not mix. Sprinkle on crushed Wheaties, bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove and let stand 10 minutes and cut into serving pieces. * * *

Feed 'em Purina Creep Chow

"I get at least 50 to 100 extra lbs. of calf to sell in 30 to 60 less days," says J. B. Sorsby, owner of 200-cow Texas herd. "That's why I've fed Purina Creep Chow for 10 years."

Purina Creep Chow gives your calves extra protein, energy, vitamins and minerals they need to grow fast. Green grass is usually over 70% water and lacks a good supply of certain nutrients. Purina Creep Chow supplements grass and mama's milk. It fills the essential need!

Creep feed Purina Creep Chow to your calves this year. Check the price. Weigh the results. Your Purina dealer may also sell good creep feeders and even keep them filled for you. Ask him... now!

Make Pretty Baked Desserts To Serve For Easter

March 26, 1968

Grass & Grain

Mini-Look Is Creeping Into Home Furnishings

The many customs of Easter can come to the modern festive table quickly and easily in bakers' desserts which you set abloom.

Candy Easter eggs nested in pastel-frosted cupcakes are harbingers of the renewal of life. Spring bouquets fashioned from gumdrops, candy shot and chocolate-frosted cupcakes rival nature's riot of color. The rabbit, a symbol of the ancient East where they are connected with the moon, take shape easily and convincingly using soft, coconut-frosted cake balls. Decorate each dessert as follows:

Spring Bouquet — Slice a leaf-shaped mint gumdrop into four sections so the leaf shape is retained. Insert a short toothpick into each of two "leaves" and set into top of a chocolate-frosted cupcake. Press in six or seven tiny, colorful gumdrops to resemble "flowers." Squeeze together one end of remaining "leaves"; place between gumdrop "flowers." Scatter silver shot among "flowers."

Easter Egg Nest — Garnish pastel-frosted cupcake by gently pressing top of cupcake into a dish of shot of many colors. Nest three colored jelly bean "eggs" into center of cupcake.

Bunnies — Press soft, coconut-frosted cake ball into shape of a crouching bunny — large at one end; small at the other. Create a bunny head at small end of cake, using long, sliced pink or red gumdrops or toothpicks for "ears," chocolate chips for "eyes" and a cinnamon red hot for a "nose." Fashion bunny's tail from half a large marshmallow; hold in place with a toothpick.

While the mini-skirt continues to dominate the fashion scene, the mini-look is creeping into home furnishings. The reason is not so much of keeping up with fads, but adapting to change.

Furniture manufacturers are producing more and more pieces to fit small areas in the home such as the foyer, narrow wall space or hallway area. They're also scaling furniture for apartments and homes with small rooms.

The furniture makers recognize that rooms are getting smaller and that more Americans are on the move and need furniture designed to fit almost any apartment or house.

Elegance is not lost because the furniture is designed for small spaces. The secret is fitting the piece to the space for which it is scaled. The smaller pieces can be used in various arrangements and they can give the homemaker the pleasure of switching pieces without making her room look cluttered.

The love seat is becoming very popular. A lot of homemakers are finding love seats or small sofas ideal for their first living rooms and dens and for large bedrooms. They're being used in pairs to create practical and attractive arrangements.

Small chests for dining alcoves and foyers, small tables for living rooms and scaled bedroom pieces.

Fewer Wrinkles

Keep wash-and-wear garments on hangers even when they are soiled. It will eliminate unnecessary wrinkles at laundry time.

Pipe Celaner Handy

Use a new pipe cleaner to clean the tube of your percolator. It can be washed and used over again.

Don't Discard Outgrown Coat

When your small daughter outgrows her coat, don't discard it. Make it into a three-quarter length coat.

Take the material you cut off the bottom of the coat and use it to make a belt, also cuffs to lengthen the sleeves.

You say people are afraid
to get involved?

...not everyone.

Many telephone people have made it their business to get involved in other people's problems. They've saved hundreds of lives in the process, often risking their own safety.

Over the years, 240 Southwestern Bell employees have been awarded the Vail Medal, an award recognizing acts which exemplify the company's highest traditions of service.

Among our Vail Medal winners are employees who ... pulled a mother and her son from the rushing waters of a turbulent river ... carried a baby from a blazing trailer home ... dragged a man and woman from a burning car.

The list goes on and on.

And we're proud of them all. They're the kind of people you can count on to get involved.

Tuna Fondue Casserole Makes Savory Main Dish

If you're not serving tuna twice a week, you're not saving as much money as you could on your food bills. Canned tuna is comparable to lean meat in complete protein, yet costs only 35 cents a can, even when not on sale. Get the message? Here tuna takes a bow in a delicious hot sandwich casserole with a savory fondue base. Your family and your budget will both love it.

TUNA FONDUE

- 1 cup finely diced celery
- 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 8 thin slices bread
- 2 cups milk
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco

½ cup grated process American cheese
Combine tuna with celery, mayonnaise, mustard and salt. Spread mixture on bread slices. Place 4 of the slices in shallow baking dish; top with 4 remaining tuna-topped slices. Combine milk with eggs, Worcestershire sauce and tabasco; pour over tuna-bread mixture. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 45 minutes. Yield: four servings.

WE CAN'T BLAME THE BOYS for having a water fight now and then. If you worked in Jack Daniel's rickyard, you'd start one too.

Looking after a burning hard maple rick is a hot job. But it's one we can't do without. You see, we take the charcoal that results and use it to help smooth out our whiskey. That's done by seeping it down through vats packed 10 feet deep with this charcoal. What comes out is only the sippin' part, ready for aging. Just a taste of Jack Daniel's, we think, and you'll agree it would be worth a water fight or two.

'Farmers Don't Have Monopoly On Inflation And High Taxes'

Kansas farmers are too critical of Kansas businessmen, the Kansas State Chamber of Commerce president has told a Farm Bureau group in Salina.

The chamber president, Henry E. Jameson, editor-publisher of the Abilene Reflector-Chronicle, said "We businessmen recognize that agriculture is the state's largest business and that farmers are in trouble."

"But, you don't have a monopoly on the dual impact of inflation and higher taxes."

Jameson said because businessmen and chambers of commerce constantly talk about attracting industry and tourists to the state, farmers have gotten the idea that businessmen don't care about them.

This is mistaken because the talk and newspaper coverage of new industry and tourism are directly related to the farm crisis, he said.

The decrease in farm population, the increase in farm size, rapidly rising farm debt and the farmers' inability to pass on higher operating costs is forcing farmers to "Get big or get out."

The result is an exodus of farmers to the cities and a loss of population to the state.

"We have to provide 15,000 new jobs a year just to keep even," said Jameson. "And, the new jobs are not going to be on the farm."

To illustrate, he said there were 135,000 farms in Kansas in 1950 but only 95,000 in 1968. About 400 Kansas small towns are expected to "dry up."

"We not only have to supply jobs for the displaced farmer but because you lost your farm Joe Doakes lost his job in a store in town," Jameson said.

"How many farm wives do you suppose work at Westinghouse here in Salina?"

At the Ersham plant at Enterprise in Dickinson county, about 75 per cent of the employees are farm wives or about a third of the company's labor, Jameson said.

Jameson told the farmers they shouldn't knock the efforts of the Kansas Department of Economic Development, the

'Return That Bread Slice'

Kansas wheat growers have asked the government to mount a nationwide campaign to return the slice of bread taken from the American diet 22 years ago.

A resolution submitted to the Agriculture department by the Kansas Wheat commission recalled that in 1946 the government supported a successful effort to get Americans to cut down on bread eating by one slice a day to save wheat for the relief of famine sufferers in France and Italy.

The resolution said the consumption of one additional slice daily would result in increased use of wheat products and "better health, better wheat farmer income and general national prosperity."

The 7-man group, led by Lawrence Brennan, Dodge City, vice-president of the commission, was received by John A. Schnittker, undersecretary of agriculture. He said the suggestion was a "fascinating idea that the department would certainly look into."

chambers and local businesses to attract tourists to the state, either.

"In Abilene, we have learned the value of the tourist dollar," he said. Tourism to the childhood home of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Old Abilene bring in more than $1 million a year. "And this money changes hands six or seven times before it goes to the bank."

Farmers also should help recreate a new image of Kansas, he declared. People across the country think of this state as a dustbowl filled with long-eared jackrabbits and tornadoes.

"There are seven states that have more tornadoes than Kansas. We have a few hot days in the summer but we have more sunshine than Miami."

Jameson told for one instance where a large industry failed to locate in Kansas after an executive said "I have a new boat and children. What would I do with a boat in Kansas? How would I educate my children?"

This man was unaware, Jameson said, that he would have been within 65 miles of three large universities and that we have several large reservoirs in the state.

India Expects To Grow Own Grain Needs By 1971

The agricultural revolution now taking place in India will help the country attain self-sufficiency in food grains by 1971 and do away with foreign aid, C. Subramaniam, India's former food minister said in Kansas City last week.

He spoke to about 130 persons at a meeting of the International Relations council.

On Lecture Tour

Subramaniam, who is on a lecture tour, said the problem of food shortage in India has been accentuated by the population explosion in recent times and efforts are being made to attack both the problems simultaneously.

"If you look at the agriculture picture of India 30 years ago, you will find that we used to export food grains to many of the European nations," he said. "But today the picture is different. The tremendous increase in population since we became independent has made us an importer of food grains."

Grass & Grain

March 26, 1968

He said India's population before independence in 1947 was about 330 million. Today it is more than 500 million.

"India was the first country to accept family planning program as a national policy and in the last three years considerable progress has been made in this direction," he said.

On the agricultural front, he said, the introduction of modern varieties of seeds, new chemical fertilizers, and better storage facilities have completely changed the agricultural picture.

Expect Big Harvest

"Our harvest this year is expected to yield as much as 100 million tons when our target was 90 million tons," he said.

India received more than 10 million tons of food grains from the U.S. in the last two years because of drought.

Subramaniam said by 1971 India will not only become self-sufficient in food but will be able to create enough to buffer stock to meet peak demands.

"I have assured your President that we are not going to be eternal beggars," he said. "I have assured him that by 1971 we will be in a position to do away with all foreign aid and become a self-sufficient country."

New Record For Northern Pike

A new record for northern pike caught in Kansas is now in the books of the Kansas Fish and Game Commission.

A 15-pound, ¼-ounce specimen was taken at Council Grove Reservoir on February 15 and is the first new fish record for 1968. The new record holder is Kenneth W. Brown of Manhattan, who took the northern while using a Hellbender lure on a 14-pound test line.

The pike measured 39 inches in length and 17¼ inches in girth. Brown had his fish weighed on scales legal for trade in the presence of the necessary two witnesses.

Roy Schoonover, chief of the Commission's fishery division, in confirming the record, stated that it probably wouldn't stand very long. "Northern are growing fast in Kansas waters," he said, "and I expect that some lucky angler will take a larger one before the year is out."

The previous record northern pike for Kansas was taken by Albert Wood, also of Manhattan. His 14 pound, 15½ ounce was taken from the Blue river below Tuttle Creek Reservoir in April, 1967.

"THE KANSAS CITY STOCKER-FEEDER AUCTION SURE MAKES MY BANKER HAPPY"

"I like it, too" says Harold Koehn of Larned, Kansas, "because it draws so many out-of-state buyers. When they come in, it makes the Kansas City market really competitive — I know I get top money. And these buyers must like K.C., because I notice they tell their neighbors back home, and we keep seeing new bidders at the auction."

Mr. Koehn operates a 1700-acre livestock and grain farm. He runs about 600 calves yearly, and sells most of them at the Kansas City auction. He's tried other auctions the past 10 years, but always comes back to Kansas City, "because it's more dependable and satisfactory. Another thing," he says, "the marketing men at my commission firm keep me posted on the market and advise when to ship."

Shown above are some of 130 choice stockers Mr. Koehn recently sold here. They topped the market for their weight and class—and were bought by three out-of-state buyers: from Princeton, Ill., Odebolt, Iowa and Lexington, Neb.

Expect Kansas Planting Fall of 600,000 Acres

Kansas' total crop acreage is expected to drop some 600,000 acres this season from last year, the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says. The Service predicted the state acreage of all crops will amount to 19.9 million acres, compared with 20.5 million acres last year.

Public Cold To Shoulder Harness

Safety harnesses in the new cars get a cold shoulder in most places.

A Wilmington, Ohio, automobile dealer says owners of at least two of the first 12 cars he sold with shoulder harnesses have taken the devices out, and he suspects other owners aren't using them. "We sold a car with shoulder belts to the state highway patrol," says Pontiac dealer Bruce McGarth in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, "but the police don't use them."

"Terrible devices," snorts A. E. Torvok, the Buick-Pontiac dealer in Millman, Minn. "They look like dirty laundry hanging in the car." Some dealers try to make the shoulder belts less conspicuous.

"We've installed clips in the cars to hang them up out of sight," says a Caddy dealer in Hollywood, Calif. "An owner never has to take them down off the clips if he doesn't want to," the dealer adds.

AUTOMATIC IRRIGATION AT LOWEST COST

With the Big Squirt Automatic Irrigator, the initial cost is one-half of the circular type. Yet, volume output is 10% greater, and only 5 ac. are lost in ditches on 160 ac., whereas up to 36 ac. are lost with circular type. This compact, powerful Big Squirt unit will irrigate up to 100 ac. per day. Spray is gentle and saturating. Machines are in operation on all crops from corn to delicate vegetables — and on all soil types. One man can handle up to ten machines, or 3200 ac., all by himself!

percentages were given for sugar beets and dry beans, but these also should increase, the report said.

The Service said if early season planting intentions are realized, the acreage of feed grains (sorghums, corn, barley and oats) planted will amount to 5,778,000 down four per cent from last year.

Prospective corn acreage, at 1,380,000 acres, is forecast to be down one per cent from last year but up six per cent from the five-year average.

Sorghum, at 3,991,000 acres for all uses, is down eight per cent from last year and six per cent from average.

Barley acreage, at 145,000 acres, is up 22 per cent from a year ago but still the third smallest total in more than 50 years.

Oats, at 262,000 acres, are expected to be up 20 per cent from '67 but only amount to about half the five-year average.

March 26, 1968

The intended 931,000-acre soybean planting would be the second largest of record, up 10 per cent from 1967 and nine per cent above average.

Sugar beets, at 33,000 acres, would be up by 8,000 acres.

Potatoes, at 1,500 acres, would be down six per cent from last year while the intended 1,100 acres of sweet potatoes is unchanged. Hay acreage, at 2,440,000, shows a one per cent decrease.

Planting of oats and barley was running ahead of last year's progress as of March 9, with generally favorable weather aide farmers, the report said.

Sharpest drops were expected for corn, sorghums, hay and spring wheat in that order.

Centralia Poll Herefords At $512

CENTRALIA — The herd dispersal of Double D Polled Hereford Ranch, owned by J. W. DeBord, moved cattle into eight states, with 22 bulls averaging $512 and 85 females $335.

The sale topper, at $1825, went to two South Dakota breeders. Another top seller, at $1310, went to a North Dakota stockman.

April 20 Date Set For Fairbury Beef Revue

FAIRBURY, NEBR. — The sixth annual Blue Valley Beef Revue, set for Saturday, April 20, at the Jefferson county fairgrounds, Fairbury, is expected to equal the success of last year's Nebraska Centennial show of quality beef cattle.

Planning is well under way for this year's show, with Marvin Schultis chairman of the general committee; Richard Weers of Diller, is vice president; Richard Niemeier, secretary, and Ray Schmidt, treasurer.

As last year, three breeds will be in competition: Black Angus, with Weers as breed chairman; Hereford, Don Banahan of Steele City, and Shorthorn, Harlan Ruhnke of Fairbury.

The show, described as the largest of its type between Chicago's International and Denver's National Western, draws exhibitors from the Flint Hills of Kansas to the Sand Hills of Nebraska, and all areas in between. It's hoped that a number of Iowa cattlemen who expressed interest last year may join the exhibitors this year.

Along with the show of cattle, there are special divisions for Future Farmers and 4-H club members, in the progress show of market beef heifers and steers, and the showmanship and judging contests. Some of the youngsters hold their own in the open classes of female cattle, too.

One entire 4-H club made an overnight trip to Fairbury for last year's revue, bringing cattle and entering the contests.

An enjoyable feature each year is the buffet supper at the Hotel Mary-ETTA, where the exhibitors and their families are guests of the Revue Committee and the Fairbury Chamber of Commerce Agriculture committee.

Winners in the open classes last year, champion and reserve in order by breed and sex:

Angus bulls — Boudish & Nutsch, Hanover, Kansas; Gordon Zeller & Son, Bellwood, Nebraska. Females — Ruth Schafer of Shelton, Nebraska; Elaine Wassenberg, Marysville, Kansas.

Hereford Bulls — Serriens Double S Ranch, Lincoln, Kansas; BJD Herefords, Marysville, Kansas. Females — Patricia Gill, Fairbury; Cindy Arbuthnot, Haddam, Kansas.

Shorthorn Bulls — Leo Schmitz, Marysville, Kansas; Pete Hawkinson, Frankfort, Kansas. Females — Leo Schmitz; Georgis Grathwohl, Hiawatha, Kansas.

Show catalogues and entry blanks may be obtained from the Jefferson County Extension office in Fairbury, Nebraska.

MORE WILD TURKEYS STOCKED IN AREA

Wild turkeys have been stocked in two more G&G areas. The Fish & Game Commission has released four hens and two toms each in Russell county on the Smoky Hill river and on the Arkansas River west of Great Bend. Thus far, 27 wild turkeys have been relocated this year. Earlier releases were made in Chase county and near Webster reservoir.

Find Farm Full Of Dead Stock

An attempt to run a business of nursing sick and crippled animals back to health has ended in disaster on a farm near Dodge City.

The Ford County Sheriff last week found dead animals all over a farm after foul smells called attention to it. Sheriff Richard Wolfe said during the past three months, 72 head of cattle, 22 head of hogs and one horse died at the farm.

Wolfe declined to name the two men in the business, but reportedly one man supplied the capital to purchase the livestock and the other was supposed to care for the animals. Wolfe said that one of the partners had mental problems and was undergoing psychiatric examination.

The investigation will continue.

Picket Lines In Cornfields?

Union labels on watermelons? Strike pickets in the corn field?

That day hasn't arrived yet and, in fact, isn't even on the horizon. But union officials aiming to organize farm workers vow the time will come when organized labor will swing weight on the farm as well as in the factory.

A comparative handful of the nation's farm workers carry union cards today. The only large union bloc in the field claims 12,000 members of the nation's 3.7 million farm workers.

Union officials estimate that close to a million farm workers could eventually be organized, leaving out such groups as the families of farm operators and part-time help.

The effort continues steadily if slowly, despite opposition among some farmer groups and sometimes violent clashes with farm operators.

"The farm workers union is here, it's going to stay here and nothing is ever going to work it off the track," says William L. Kircher, director of the AFL-CIO's organization department.

The American Farm Bureau federation insists that "compulsory collective bargaining by unions of farm workers would not result in equalization of bargaining power but rather the submission of farmers to labor leaders."

Charles Schuman, president of the federation, said the group opposes bringing farm workers under the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations board.

The farm union movement, which has been around in one form or another for many years, got its greatest impetus two years ago from walkouts at vineyards in California.

That state, and to a lesser extent Texas, has been the focus of most of the recent activity.

Key figure in the movement is Cesar Chavez, a 32-year-old Arizonan who formed the National Farm Workers Association in 1962 with $1200 of his own money. That group, with Chavez still the leader, was merged with the AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee.

Membership varies with the growing seasons, but the merged committee's last membership claim was 12,000. Most work in California grape fields for firms that run the wineries.

"This is not an attempt to set up any superunion structure" said Chavez. "It's just an effort to explore how we can help each other through cooperation."

To date, however, this union has been limited to picking off a few grape growers at a time. In addition to the strike, the major union weapon is the boycott in which wide labor support beyond the farm industry is sought against the products of the target company.

The boycott is a simple matter to organize when the grower markets wine under his own label. But the union has a tough time when a grower sells table grapes, which can't be labeled.

Some 125 pickets have been arrested in the two years since the farm union started organizing field hands in the melon area of Starr County, Texas. The effort was highlighted by a union march to Austin in an unsuccessful attempt to win a $1.25-an-hour state minimum wage.

Union members accused Texas rangers of siding with corporate farms and breaking up strike meetings. Two civil suits are pending in federal court.

Labor leaders in California have their eyes on a minimum wage of about $1.75 an hour. They say many workers get as little as 40 cents an hour.

Farm operators dispute this. They say none of their workers gets less than $1 an hour and many get twice that. They also contend that their profit margin is so thin that they could not pay any major wage increase.

A primary union target is the migrant laborer and others who work on perishable vegetable and fruit crops in California, Texas and Florida.

Little effort is aimed at the Midwest, where widespread use of machines lets farmers plant and harvest crops with a minimum of hired help.

STOCKTON MAN HEADS YOUNG FARMER GROUP

The new president of the Kansas Young Farmers Association is John Griebel of Stockton. Other officers are Roger Pine, Lawrence, vice president; Larry Abeldt, Holton, Secretary; Jared Hoover, Chapman, treasurer; Garold Markley, Burlingame, reporter; and James Highley, Atchison, sentinel.

Saving Is A Habit

Do you have the habit of saving money? Saving money should be as natural as planting in the spring and harvesting in the fall.

When you sell a load of hogs, cattle or grain or get that milk check, put a portion of it in your savings account. It doesn't need to be a large amount each time but before you know it you will have a nice sum accumulated.

A savings account can provide for your rainy day needs, taxes, education expenses or that vacation trip you didn't think you could afford. Or you may want to convert your accumulated savings to a savings certificate which pays a higher rate of

Reply To NFO From Swift

Swift & Co., which has received considerable attention from the National Farmers Organization because it has signed no contracts with the NFO, has made an attempt to get its reply across to national newspapers.

In response to NFO efforts to encourage boycotting Swift products, the Chicago office of the big packing company released this reply to charges that the company is not concerned about the welfare of farmers:

We have always maintained that our own progress is closely tied to the well-being of agricultural producers who are both suppliers and customers. It is regrettable that this view has been misrepresented.

Members of the N. F. O. have been urged not to sell livestock to Swift and to boycott all products manufactured by the company. This campaign was launched after the company refused to sign a long-term livestock purchase contract.

The N. F. O. is seeking an agreement which includes minimum prices for livestock regardless of market conditions. Target prices which the N. F. O. hopes to achieve include $32.75 per hundred weight for choice cattle; $29 per hundredweight for lambs and $22.75 for hogs. All of these prices are well above current market levels.

Swift & Co. cannot sign the proposed N. F. O. contract or any other long term livestock purchase agreement which fails to protect against declining prices regardless of livestock supplies in a competitive market. As presented, the N. F. O. contract includes a built-in risk of loss for us. It is not reasonable for anyone to believe that we could assume such a risk.

Any meat packer tied to a contract calling for a premium payment for livestock over existing market prices and who must sell his products against other meat packers with a much lower raw material cost could quickly find himself out of business.

Whatever the livestock and meat supply may be, our job as a meat packer is to deliver to our customers the kind of meat that consumers want. In order to meet this responsibility successfully, in a competitive economy, we must buy livestock at market prices.

Swift has purchased livestock from many N. F. O. members and others on a basis that we believe has been equitable to all parties. We remain willing to buy from N. F. O. members on this basis. Obviously, margins and profits for livestock producers have often been at unsatisfactory levels but so have earnings in the meat packing business. It is our earnest hope that leadership in farm organizations, business and government can find answers to the economic problems which have proved detrimental to agricultural producers and also to the marketers of their products.

TO VOTE ON SCHOOL CLOSING AT MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER — Residents of the Manchester grade school area will vote April 11 on a proposal to close the school. A similar proposal was defeated 49-27 a year ago.

Officials of Chapman Unified District 473 said it will be more feasible to transport Manchester students by bus to schools at Talmage, Blue Ridge and Chapman, Kans.

School board members said it is difficult to obtain teachers willing to teach multiple grades and pointed out the high cost of operating buildings with a low pupil-teacher ratio. Unified districts cannot close a school without the consent of patrons.

OF HOME AND
FOUR MOTEL UNITS

Saturday, April 6, beginning at 10 a.m. in Riley, Kansas.

To be offered separately and then as one unit. Three bedroom home erected in 1953, attached single car garage, full basement, central heating, lots of cabinets in kitchen.

The four room motel would make a very attractive cabin to be put on one of the lakes. It would be ideal in that you could have a fine kitchen and three very nice bedrooms.

For inspection contact Bob Leonard, owner, Phone 913 HU 5-2430 or Eldon Thorman, Clay Center, Phone 913 ME 2-2148.

Heavy Sorghum Output Swings East

Marshall County was the leading sorghum grain producing county in Kansas in 1967 with a production of 5,830,000 bushels, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Shelby County ranked second with a production of 5,473,000 bushels, Nemaha County third with 4,740,000 bushels and Haskell fourth with 4,628,400 bushels.

Stanton, Washington and Grant counties followed in order, each having a production of over 4 million bushels, while Republic, Brown and Finney counties each exceeded 3 1/2 million bushels.

Stevens County, with 129,000 acres, had the largest acreage of sorghum harvested for grain in 1967. Morton County ranked second with 109,000 acres followed by Marshall County with 106,000 acres.

Haskell County led the state in average yield per acre with 81.2 bushels in 1967. Doniphan County with 79 bushels ranked second, while Brown, Lyon, Wichita and Cherokee all recorded yields of 70 bushels or more. A total of 21 counties had yields of 60 bushels or more per acre.

24% Under Irrigation

Production of sorghum grain on irrigated land in 1967 totaled 36,051,000 bushels or 24 percent of the total state production.

Irrigated sorghum grain was harvested from 421,300 acres or 13 percent of the State's total acreage of sorghums for grain. The average yield per acre on irrigated land was 85.6 bushels per acre compared with 40.1 bushels on non-irrigated land.

Irrigated yields ranged up to a high of 97 bushels per acre in Grant County and were 90 bushels to the acre or more in Morton, Stevens, Sheridan, Gray and Haskell counties.

High yields per acre for non-irrigated land included 79 bushels in Doniphan County, 73 bushels in Brown and Lyon counties and 70 bushels in Cherokee County.

Haskell County was the leading producer of sorghum grain from irrigated land, followed by Stanton, Grant and Finney. Haskell County also led in the acreage of sorghum grain harvested from irrigated land in 1967 with 49,400 acres followed by Stanton with 47,000 acres, Finney with 40,800 and Grant with 37,200.

On non-irrigated land in all counties sorghum grain production totaled 113,357,000 bushels from 2,826,700 acres harvested.

Dickinson Tops Silage

Dickinson County was the leading sorghum silage producing county in Kansas in 1967 with a production of 227,500 tons from 17,500 acres.

Washington County was second with 137,100 tons and Butler County third with 130,000 tons.

Average yields per acre were the highest in several of the western irrigated counties although some counties with primarily dryland fields had exceptionally high yields.

Sorghum grain production for the entire state totaled 149,408,000 bushels in 1967, the second largest crop on record, having been exceeded only by the crop of 167,544,000 bushels in 1960.

This year's yield, at 46.0 bushels per acre, was 3 bushels below the 1966 previous high but 5.8 bushels above the 5-year average.

The acreage harvested for grain totaled 4,338,000 acres, 14 percent more than in 1966 and 4 percent more than average.

Acreage of sorghums planted for all purposes, including grain, silage and forage, totaled 4,338,000 acres, 14 percent above last year and 3 percent above average. Sorghum silage, harvested from 532,000 acres, yielded 10 tons per acre to produce 4,320,000 tons. Sorghum forage was harvested from 538,000 acres with a production of 1,237,400 tons.

Stevens County had the largest acreage of sorghums seeded for all purposes at 142,000 acres, followed by Morton with 117,000, Hamilton with 116,000 and Marshall with 113,000.

Another Side To Incorporating Family Farm

The individual family farm is not on the way out but it might be profitable for some to investigate the possibility of incorporation, T. Ross Wheatley, of E. F. Hutton & Company, Investments, said in Kansas City last week.

Wheatley, head of the company's commodity department, addressed the Balanced Farming Recognition meeting honoring more than 100 Missouri farm families.

Wheatley spoke on "Trends in Corporation farming."

"The family farm corporation does not have to be a huge thing with big business connotation," he said. It can be very much a family affair showing family continuity of ownerships, permitting earnings to be distributed in the most appropriate way."

Wheatley listed four advantages of incorporating a family farm — the possibility of borrowing more capital, the advantages of distributing and transferring ownership, limited individual liability and a wider spread on employee benefits such as insurance.

"Then, of course, there are some disadvantages," he said, "such as more bookkeeping problems, the possibility of income tax reduction being offset by corporation taxes, filing of more reports to the state and the payment of numerous fees, such as legal, filing and corporation."

"This trend does not mean that the farm family is on the way out but I think it means we have to be aware of the trends in the exciting business we are in."

Linn Creamery Meeting April 13

LINN — The 47th annual meeting of the Washington County Cooperative Creamery, the state's oldest co-op, will be held at 10:30 a.m. April 13, in the auditorium in Linn Rural High School.

Three directors will be elected at the morning business session and a free luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

The event annually draws more than 1,000 persons.

The creamery hauls milk and eggs from farmers in Clay, Cloud, Marshall, Republic, Riley and Washington counties.

RILEY STOCKMEN MEET MARCH 26

G&G Area Farmer In National Sorghum Program, DeKalb Talks

A recent meeting held in Kansas City by the DeKalb Agricultural Association shed some new light on what is happening with grain sorghums.

Altho the meeting obviously was a commercial one, the discussions applied to the entire area of raising livestock feed, regardless of commercial brand.

One of the farmers in the group was Harold Travelute of Bremen, Marshall County, who got a 160 bushel per acre yield in a program of DeKalb, which was led by a New Mexico irrigation farmer who got 205 bushels yield.

Travelute did irrigate his field once, as contrasted with another Kansas farmer, Otis Daniels of Rolla, Morton county, who preirrigated part of his fields and then watered the crop five times.

Travelute related that he bought his farm where the grain sorghums were grown early in 1967. He applied a weed killer at planting time but because of almost continuous rain in June, ran into weed trouble and had to cultivate three times.
He used 112 pounds of nitrogen and 35 pounds of phosphate.
His yields ran up to the 160 bushels per acre.

"Now that I am irrigating I see that I am not using enough fertilizer," Travelute said.

Two principal observations appeared over and over in the De-Kalb discussion. One is that it has become obvious that sorghum yields have gotten to the point that they can equal or surpass the output of corn. The other is that the use of herbicides has in many cases reduced cultivation to nothing. Travelute's case was an exception, but many of the farmers in the DeKalb discussion agreed that they poured on the fertilizer to get high yields, used herbicides to kill weeds, and often didn't have to touch a field until harvest time.

Top-dress pastures now!

Your grasses crave nitrogen from the very moment they "wake up" in the spring. That's why a top-dressing now with 300 pounds of Gulf Mr. N* Ammonium Nitrate per acre is a profit maker. It is important to put this nitrogen on before growth starts.

Get a guaranteed 33.5% nitrogen that gives long-lasting grow-power to your pasture. Gives your grasses a big boost for extra grazing. Produces extra protein-rich forage and makes more and better hay or silage as well.

Gulf Mr. N is uniformly prilled and

Here's Breakdown On '67 Farm Income

Cash receipts from farming in Kansas in 1967 totaled $1,711,008,000, down 3 per cent from the record high level of 1966, according to the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Cash receipts from farming included $1,498,699,000 from marketing of crops and livestock and $212,381,000 in government payments to farmers.

Government payments paid to Kansas farmers represented 12 per cent of their total cash receipts from farming.

Realized net income of Kansas farmers was about $499.6 million in 1967, some 15 per cent below the record set in 1966 but otherwise the highest in records dating back through 1949.

Cash receipts of livestock and livestock products marketed by Kansas farmers in 1967 at $970 million, was down slightly from the previous year. The decrease reflected lower livestock prices although such price reductions were partially offset by a small increase in volume of livestock production.

Cash receipts from farm crops totaled $529 million in 1967, down about 5 per cent from 1966 and 4 per cent below the 1961-65 average.

The lower total cash receipts during 1967 reflected decreased receipts from wheat, soybeans, eggs and corn that were partially offset by increased receipts from sorghum grain, dairy products and hay.

On a per farm basis net income averaged $5,259 in 1967, some 13 per cent below the record high of $6,036 set in 1966 but 30 per cent above the 1961-65 average. Realized gross income per farm was down less than 1 per cent from 1966 but was 28 per cent higher than the 1961-65 average. Farm production expenses reached an all-time high in 1967.

Avery Announces

Former Governor William Avery ended his waiting game last week, announcing that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate to succeed the retiring Frank Carlson.

Two Republican candidates are already in the field, with political observers figuring that Avery has quite a bit of ground to make up to catch Congressman Bob Dole as the favorite.

Avery's announcement was surprisingly specific in its platform. Avery advocated a truce in Vietnam, stopping foreign aid, cutting space appropriations by 50 percent, and earmarking savings for jobs and training for the hard-core unemployed.

'Waste of Time at Board of Trade'

I was in Topeka and was asked to meet a friend at the Branch Office Member of the New York Board of Trade. We sat in the office a few minutes and watched the prices of the various commodities flash on the ticker tape as trading proceeded in various "pits" across the country.

As we left the building the thought occurred to me "What a tremendous waste of time and money?" People all over the nation buying and selling on slight or even heavy price fluctuations and thereby trying to make a dollar by performing no useful function but to gamble on the supply and demand of the nation's food and fiber.

The irony of it all is that the Board of Trade is no longer the pricing agency of agricultural products. The National Farmers Organization is. Pick up any newspaper where prices are quoted — and then go out to the country elevators and try to buy grain at these prices. It can't be done. What has happened? The NFO has and is blocking millions of bushels of grain together and its members are holding this grain for a price and a contract. This price includes cost of production plus a reasonable profit. This is good business. It is the only way a good business man can stay in business.

Farmers are joining the National Farmers Organization by the thousands because they see the logic and leadership offered by this new organization. Farmers who are not members can help hurry the day when the trade will need what they have and a price tag will be on every bushel — by joining the NFO and putting their production along that of their neighbors.

MAJOR INCREASE IN HERBICIDE USE

The use of herbicides in the United States is up and increasing at a phenomenal rate. Total sales in 1966 amounted to over $257 million compared to $163 million in 1964, a 57 percent increase in two years.

If You Must Burn Pastures, Here's How

Burning pastures and fields should be a controlled operation, because such an operation often results in uncontrolled wildfires, Bill Loucks, area Extension forester at Kansas State University, says.

The person setting the fire is responsible for confining it to his own land. If he carelessly permits its escape to a neighbor's property, he may be liable for the full amount of resulting damage, the forester reminds.

Before setting a fire, contact local rural fire personnel or the district Extension forester for fire hazard information and other assistance.

Objective of controlled burning is to get a fire that is hot enough to remove plant residues but not hot enough to damage root crowns. Time the operation so soil is moist but the fuel is dry enough to carry a fire. Burn a few days after a rain to get best results.

With proper timing, the fire will remove undesirable residues and move fast enough so not to produce enough heat to harm grass plants, Loucks says.

Select a day when wind velocity is 8 to 15 miles per hour and temperature is 50 to 80 degrees. Optimum time of day is between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Relative humidity should be 25 to 50 percent.

Prepare firebreaks before starting a fire to protect buildings, windbreaks, and other property. Plow or disc a firebreak, or use a previously burned strip. There is always the possibility of wind carrying burning material across a firebreak, Loucks cautions. So, be sure to have sufficient men and tools available to control spot fires that occur.

Tools around the farm can be used to control grass fires. Keep shovels handy. And a live-stock sprayer works good for applying a spray of water at the base of flames. Of course, a gunney sack is most commonly used.

Start fires at the upwind side of the area. However, if there is a large area to burn, divide it into strips or blocks so the fire area is the size that can be controlled with manpower and equipment available, Loucks says. Burn downwind strips first so they can be used as firebreaks for other areas.

Make sure fires are dead before leaving the burned areas, he cautions. Smouldering chips and fence posts can spark another fire with a little help from the wind.

Drop In U.S. Livestock Values

The Agriculture Department says 1967 brought a downturn in the value of livestock on farms.

A livestock inventory report estimates the value of livestock and poultry on farms on January 1 at $18,700,000,000 compared with 19 billion dollars a year earlier. Most of this decline reflected a drop in the unit value of livestock.

The number of meat animals — all cattle, hogs and sheep — showed little change. Milk cows, included in the meat animal class, declined 4 per cent to the smallest number since 1888. Poultry numbers declined 2 per cent.

The number of all cattle totaled 108,813,000 head, up slightly from the 108,645,000 at the beginning of 1967. Milk cows totaled 14,662,000 compared with 15,198,000 a year ago. Hog numbers were reported at 54,263,000 head compared with 53,249,000 at the beginning of 1967. Sheep numbers totaled 22,122,000 compared with 23,898,000.

Chicken numbers totaled 424,550,000, down 1 per cent from the year earlier, 428,550,000, while turkey numbers were down 7 percent, 7,289,000 birds compared to 7,817,000 a year earlier.

The increase in beef cattle was in cows and heifers, most of which may go into breeding stock. The numbers of steers declined 1 per cent.

Department officials said the inventory figures were in line with their expectations.

On a per head basis, milk cows were the only group to increase in average value — from $247 a head a year ago to $251 this year. Beef cattle held unchanged at an average of $149. But hogs declined from $33.20 to $29.70; sheep from $10.70 to $10.20; chickens from $1.20 to $1.10 and turkeys from $5.13 to $4.68.

Yellow Areas In Fields Are Soil-Borne Wheat Mosaic

Those yellow areas showing up in east, southeast, and south-central Kansas wheat fields probably mean that soil-borne mosaic is present.

This virus disease keeps spreading westward, reports Claude L. King, Extension plant pathologist at Kansas State University. Trace amounts of soil-borne mosaic were found in past years as far west as Kinsley in southwest Kansas and Smith Center in the northwest.

The exact way that the virus spreads from one field to another has not been determined, King indicates, but there is a strong suspicion that birds carry the infected soil on their feet. Once a soil is affected, the virus continues to survive there in spite of crop rotation.

A closer inspection of the affected fields shows that the virus-damaged wheat leaves are not really yellow, but rather are light green in color with dark green islands. If late spring freezes occur, the tips of the diseased leaves may become a reddish purple.

The "yellowing" shows up in years when the soil is moist and there are many 40 to 60 degree days during February, March and April. The wheat plants remain stunted as long as the temperature remains low, so the wheat plants often mature late.

This means that soil-borne mosaic stunting makes the wheat plants easier prey for the hot winds and rust during late June. This causes a decrease in grain yield due to small and shriveled kernels, King observes.

Random county agent surveys in eastern Kansas during recent years have shown that losses may average 5 to 10 bushels per acre. A 1961 variety test in Johnson County showed a 22-bushel reduction due to soil-borne mosaic — a $35 per acre loss.

Soil-borne wheat mosaic built up to a peak in the middle 1950's when 25 percent of the wheat fields in some counties contained diseased areas. The greatest losses — totaling $14 million — came in 1954, 1957, 1961 and 1962. State losses have averaged somewhat under $1 million annually since 1962, King says.

Eastern Kansas growers have met this problem in the past by switching wheat production to fields where the virus was not present, or by planting the K-State recommended varieties that have high resistance to soil-borne mosaic. These varieties, in the order of their introduction, have included Commanche, Concho, Ottawa, Tascosa, Gage and Shawnee.

But now the disease is spreading westward, King points out, and is becoming a problem in south central Kansas where Triumph is a popular variety. Growers in this area may wish to consider switching to Shawnee or Gage varieties.

For the past 2 years, Shawnee has yielded higher than all other varieties at the Newton Experiment Field. Gage has been only 1 bushel under the highest yields at the Hutchinson Experiment Field.

K-State plant pathologists have received samples of diseased plants this spring from Butler, Elk, Pottawatomie, and Sedgwick counties.

Warren Heads KLA

Ward Warren, a third generation cattleman from Silverdale, has become the president of the Kansas Livestock Association. Warren operates over 14,000 acres in Kansas and Oklahoma and is basically a cow herd operator. His operation also includes a feeder steer program handling light weight Southern steers. In addition he is a partner in various interests. He is a director of the Home National Bank, Arkansas City, and is vice president of the Ark Valley Feeders Inc., a new 10,000-head feeding lot near Arkansas City.

Pay For Priests Goes Up

Catholic priests in the Kansas City-St. Joseph diocese will get substantial raises in pay April 1. Bishop Charles Helmsing said the increase is principally an attempt to equalize the cash income of priests, which has varied with the amount of mass stipends and fees received for baptisms, weddings, funerals and other clerical functions.

Presently priests receive $150 a month in addition to stipends and stole fees. Under the new scale they will receive either $200 or $325 a month, depending on whether they choose to continue receiving stipends and stole fees or placing such fees in the parish treasury.

Some 'Bargaining' Points On Wheat

WHEAT is our nation's number 3 cash crop. Only corn and soybeans produced more cash for farmers in 1966, the last year for which USDA estimates are available.

In that year, farmer's cash receipts from sales of wheat totalled $2 billion, while soybeans and corn each brought $2.5 billion. Sales of wheat provided 4.5 per cent of all cash receipts from the sales of all farm products.

Most wheat producers received additional cash, from the U.S. Treasury — about $700 million in 1967. This money was distributed to wheat producers who restricted their acreage as requested by the Government. The money is collected by a levy on flour millers. The levy is passed on to consumers in the form of higher prices for flour, bread, and other bakery products.

About one-third of the money that wheat producers receive directly from the sale of wheat also comes, indirectly, from the U.S. Treasury: About one-third of the wheat farmers sell is shipped to hungry nations under our surplus disposal-for-foreign aid programs. Our government pays for this wheat. The government also pays a small export subsidy, or bounty, on most other wheat that is exported. In early March, these payments varied from 0 to 24 cents a bushel, depending on the kind of wheat and the loading point involved. Altogether, wheat producers get about half of their income from the market and about half from the Government.

During the latest three wheat marketing years (ending last June 30), the average yearly U.S. wheat production was about 1,300 million bushels. During the same period, exports averaged 778 million bushels per year. We used 509 million bushels for feed, 69 million bushels for seed, and fed about 100 million bushels to livestock and poultry. The percentages of the total disappearance were (1) exports, 53 percent; (2) food, 35 percent; (3) seed, 5 percent; and (4) feed for livestock and poultry, 7 percent.

The preceding acts will be very important if and when wheat producers begin to "bargain" for higher prices for their product.

Present supplies of all classes of wheat are at least sufficient to last until the next crop becomes available. Harvest of the 1968 crop will begin in Texas in a few weeks. According to USDA estimates, the carryover of old wheat on July 1 will be around 545 million bushels, or about two-fifths of the amount being used and exported this year. The carryover last July 1 was only 425 million bushels.

Wheat production in 1968 will be around 1500 million bushels — if the weather is average. Such a production likely would be more than could be used and exported. If so, the excess would provide for an increase in the carryover in 1969.

One Year Old, He Weighs 1579 Pounds

Would you believe a bull can weigh 1579 pounds at one year of age? This Charolais bull shown by Lester Laue of Hanover did, setting a record for all breeds, Laue says.

An import from France, bought by Laue and two other Charolais breeders at the World Charolais Federation Sale at the Calgary Stampede in July of 1967 for $13,000, the bull had its weight certified at 1579 pounds one year after its birth March 17, 1967.

The bull, registered at Beau Ivo, weighed 126 pounds at birth and 425 pounds when purchased last July. Weighed the first of each month from August on, the bull weighed 728 on September 1, 1026 on November 1, 1250 on January 1, and 1520 on March 1.

The other owners with Laue are Lauright Ranch of Augusta and Donald Mishler of Tulsa, Okla. The Lauright Ranch will sell its one-third interest at auction April 29-30 when they have a complete dispersal of their herd.

List Resolutions Of Kansas Livestock Assn.

At the annual meeting of the Kansas Livestock Association at Wichita last week, the organization endorsed these resolutions:

- An income tax base for all school taxes and total reliance on the income factor for distribution of the School Foundation Finance Fund.
- Use income as the principal factor in appraisal of real property for tax purposes.

- Removal of business and agricultural inventories from ad valorem taxation.
- Earning capacity as the major factor in determining taxes on estates of farms and ranches.

- Opposing latest rulings by the secretary of labor restricting farm labor by youths.
- Opposing the unit leasing rule for minerals which was introduced but failed to pass in the 1968 legislature.
- Opposing current meat importations and offering endorsement for certain principals in proposed federal legislation on meat imports.

- Favoring a state indemnity for tuberculosis cattle rather than a county obligation as under current law.
- Favoring Phase III in the state hog cholera eradication program and favoring state indemnity payments for depopulated herds when hog cholera is found.

- Favoring restoration of mail and passenger services by railroads in rural areas.
- Seeking addition of a ruling for hunting and fishing licenses in Kansas to read "No hunting or fishing without permission."

We had another of our outstanding sales last Saturday, with a market both on cattle and hogs showing stronger and higher in all classes. We noticed several new stocker cattle buyers were on hand, and they told us they are looking for more of these green, farm fresh animals that are coming to this Junction City barn.

Check the prices with weights on the listings below, and we think you'll agree that we are getting top prices all the way.

Now something about our hog market. We had two new packer buyers last week, making six we can figure on regularly. No wonder our top went to $18.90, right with the terminal markets.

With the biggest butcher hog run we've had in a long time were 400 to 500 pigs and shoats, and buyers for them, too. We are looking for another heavy sale this coming Saturday.

Phone Auction

The buyers of these hogs are unseen, as a marketing system using telephone bidding at Sedalia and Marshall, Missouri, is employed. Over a thousand hogs were sold. Here, Larry Hunt of Sedalia sorts the hogs by grade. Don Naylor (background), Sedalia, operates the gates. After four trial sales at Marshall, the Missouri Farmers Association expanded the system to Sedalia.

Morganville Sets Farmers Night

MORGANVILLE — Farmers night is an annual event at this Clay County Community, which will entertain farmers and their families in the grade school auditorium Thursday night, April 4.

Sponsored by the chamber of commerce, the program will include music by the Morganville grade school band under the direction of Mrs. Beth Messer. A foreign exchange student from Switzerland, Anthony Perran, will be a guest speaker.

Fred Urban, program chairman, stated lunch will be served.

KILLED BY

FALLING HAY BALES

BONNER SPRINGS—Charles Knitt Jr., 42, was killed last week when 45 to 50 bales of hay tumbled down on top of him, breaking his neck.

Sheriff's deputies said Knitt was apparently trying to get a bale of hay from a loft in his barn when the accident occurred.
