

Kansas State News.

The Elk County Ledger and Courier have consolidated.

We understand that Topeka is soon to have an evening paper.

An Osage county farmer raised this year seven thousand bushels of corn.

A LARGE number of Leavenworth children have been attacked with scarlet fever.

Mrs. INGALLS, wife of Senator Ingalls, of Atchison, is rapidly recovering from a long and severe illness.

GEN. KILPATRICK, one of the bravest soldiers and most eloquent speakers in the country, is soon to deliver a lecture in Abilene.

The bank of Foster & Co., at Fredonia, which suspended a short time, has resumed. Their creditors gave them a short extension.

A MISS LITTLE, of Nesho Rapids, has in her possession an elegant robe, formerly belonging to the Chinese royal family. It is said to be worth $1,000.

TWO prominent lawyers of Garnett settled a little difficulty one day last week, by hammering and choking each other in the most approved pugilistic manner.

The farmers of Riley county will hold an institute at Manhattan, commencing on the 15th inst., and continuing three days. Many topics of interest to farmers will be discussed.

The Eureka Herald says: "H. S. Jones started to Emporia last Monday with the largest drove of hogs ever taken out of this county at one time. They numbered 270 head."

The following prisoners were taken to the state penitentiary from Johnson county, by Sheriff Clemmens last week: G. W. Potts, five years; Samuel Crane, five years; David Lewis, three years; John Harmin, one year; Charles Temple, one year.

A MANHATTAN paper says: "J. S. Gilmore, land commissioner of the Kansas Pacific Railway company, proposes to furnish trees in any quantity, from one hundred to one thousand, to any and every town on the line of the K. P. which will take the trouble to set them out."

ACCORDING to the Lyndon Times the Osage county commissioners last Monday formed two townships out of Valley Brook. The new township will be known as Fairfax township, which consists of the north half of old Valley Brook. Valley Brook township is now 6 1/2 miles.

The Cosley County Telegram says: "Still another mastodon tooth has been unearthed at the mouth of the Grouse. It is the largest that has yet been found—is a molar—measures thirteen inches in length across the top, and weighs ten pounds. This is the third one that has been found in the locality. It would pay some naturalist to spend a few days in that vicinity, hunting for the balance of the monster."

SAYS the Abilene Chronicle: "We are happy to chronicle the fact that a pork packing house is to be opened in Abilene. A company composed of some of our best business men has been formed, and the large brick building on Old Texas street has been leased. At present it is not definitely known who will go into it, but enough capital has already been subscribed to make this project a success and by men who will push it for all it is worth."

A DRUMMER on the M., K. & T., who prides himself on his charms, forever lost his pride the other day. He drove his fellow drummers wild in a car by his attentions to a comely maiden, to whom he showed his samples, and whose hand he squeezed for half an hour. But when the train stopped for him to get off at this place, a quiet fellow stepped forward and thanked him for entertaining the girl, remarking, "She is hopelessly insane, and I am taking her to the asylum at Oswatomie."

POST-OFFICE changes in Kansas during the week ending November 24, 1877, are furnished by Wm. Van Vleck, of the post-office department: Established—Jonesburgh, Chautauqua county; James C. Postmasters appointed—Bremen, Marshall county, William Kuttis; Dora, Labette county, Francis W. Noblett; Kiowa, Barbour county, Arthur W. Ramsey; Modena, Butler county, Mrs. Lucy C. Skinner; Westminster, Reno county, John E. Atherton.

INFORMATION wanted of the whereabouts of George Mitchell, who left Emporia, Kansas, last March to go to Topeka to work at his trade as painter, since which time he has not been heard from. He was slightly deranged in mind when he left and may be in some asylum. His height was about five feet six inches, large, dark gray eyes, black hair, with a few gray hairs mixed with it, English by birth and twenty-nine years of age. Any information that can be given of the above described person will be thankfully received and amply rewarded by G. T. BARWICK, Emporia, Kansas. Exchanges please copy.

A YOUNG man named Risley Hanson committed suicide at Spearville, nineteen miles west of Kinsley, Monday. He took the strychnine route to eternity. He had been working as section hand on the Santa Fe road about one month. No reason is assigned for the rash act. Sometime during Monday afternoon Risley inquired casually of an acquaintance the amount of strychnine necessary to kill a wolf. He ate a hearty supper and an hour later was found prostrate on the prairie near the station-house in a dying condition, only explaining that he had strychnine, then expired with his hands clutched in the buffalo grass.

The Topeka Blade gives this warning: "Farmers should be on the lookout for a notorious fraud in the shape of a human who was lately traveling over the country selling corn shellers to farmers and taking their notes for the same, which were afterwards changed to correspond with the number of shellers shipped. Quite a number have been duped in this way. One farmer who bought one and gave his note for $12, when the rascal went to work and shipped twenty-one corn shellers instead of one, and changed the note to $23. It seems very strange that farmers will be taken in by such frauds year after year. Comment is unnecessary."

We find the following in the Hays Sentinel: "Last Monday night Ned Waters was robbed of $450. It seems that he and P. C. Cooley and a man named John Martin spent the night in playing cards, but about 5 o'clock in the morning Ned fell asleep in his chair and when he awoke Martin was gone, his pocket-book likewise, and Cooley was holding the saloon. Upon discovering his loss Waters dispatched officers in quest of Martin, who lives on the Walnut, and lodged Cooley in jail, though he has since been released. When arrested, Martin told several contradictory stories. A careful search of his person and premises failed to discover the missing money. He is now in jail awaiting a hearing."

SAYS the Salina Herald: "The man J. B. True, who was arrested in this county two weeks ago for forgery, was, on Tuesday morning, taken from here by the sheriff of Pottawatomie county, on a requisition, to Lewisville, for the murder and robbery of a Methodist minister, by the name of S. Woolpert, of Wakefield, all of which he stoutly denied. On Thursday evening he was taken from the jail by a party of men, who placed a rope about his neck and hung him until he confessed to the murder, and indicated the spot where he had concealed the body. Further information has been gathered to the effect that he has a wife living in Missouri, who has left him on account of his villainies, and that a warrant is out for his arrest, for a forgery committed in that State."

THE Leavenworth Times of Sunday says: "News was received here yesterday to the effect that a woman named Burrows, who was ill about eight days ago with pneumonia, died night before last, under peculiar circumstances. On Friday her husband was furnished with money with which to come to this city and procure medicines prescribed by the attending physician. He came to this side of the river, but the money that was to have been used for medicine for his wife, was used for whisky for himself, and he went home drunk and without the medicine. During the night the patient died, and it is presumed is better off than alive with such an unprincipled brute. Our informant states that there was strong talk yesterday of lynching the man, and that hereafter, if he escapes, his presence will not be necessary to the welfare of East Leavenworth."

"GRANGER," in a Sumner county paper, says: "I have noticed a number of articles going the rounds of the press on the subject of the great profit of sheep in Kansas. One especially in the Industrialist thought to be par excellence, in North Kansas, but I think Sumner is ahead. Mrs. Tobitha H. Armstrong, in the fall of 1871, brought 22 sheep on to their farm, one mile south of Oxford, and turned them into the grove, and that is about all the care they have had, except a large stack of prairie hay, provided for them to run to in snow storms. They have killed over 70 for mutton, and some 25 have paid their part of the dog tax, and at the sale on the 10th of October, 251 were sold, old and young, for $783.61, or $3.01 per head. Most of them were bought by farmers, in lots of from 20 to 100, for stock. 31 of the small lambs and very old sheep, went at $1.90, which lowered the average. The 200 choice of the lot sold for near $4 a head."

A LATE issue of the Joliet (Ill.) Republican says: "We learn, by St. Louis and Kansas City papers, that the K. P. railroad has just closed a sale with Warren, Keeny & Co., well known Chicago real estate men, for 340,000 acres in Central Kansas, for the Chicago Colonization company's colony. This is undoubtedly the largest land sale ever made to private parties by a railroad company, and as the purchasers took a general look over the lands of the Santa Fe, M., K. & T., and other roads before locating it speaks well for the country along the Kansas Pacific that they selected land on their line. The sale was negotiated by John M. Childs, and his tact and perseverance in working up and consummating the sale, show what Joliet real estate men are worth for business. The tract of land purchased is about twenty-five miles square, and it is the intention of the company to settle it at once with workmen from the cities, as was noted some weeks ago in speaking of the scheme. It deserves success, and we believe the men who have it in hand are the right ones to succeed."
