ATHLETIC BOARD

MULDOON SEATON TERREL THROCKMORTON STRATTON
 KING DEAN HOLTON AHEARN

THE SUDDEN resignation of Athletic Director Clevenger gave a gloomy outlook for athletics at K. S. A. C. "Clev" had won the affection of both students and faculty and his sudden determination to go to the University of Missouri caused much worry to those interested in the building up of a fine athletic department at K. S. A. C.

President Jardine busied himself immediately in finding the man to whom could be safely trusted the mission of carrying on the work outlined by Coach Clevenger. As every one asserts, President Jardine chose wisely, his choice being Mike Ahearn, the man who years ago first put Aggie athletics on the map. The wisdom of the President's choice could receive no greater commendation than was evidenced by the hearty acclaim of approval that was shown when the choice was first announced.

According to men long acquainted with athletics at this institution, never have conditions been more favorable for success. In Coach Bachman we have a man unequalled in the Valley as a football mentor. Coach Knoth demonstrated his ability as a basket ball mentor when his team won the last game from Missouri University, thus placing third in the Valley. The track team made a very creditable showing and a great deal can be expected of the track men under Bachman's coaching. Baseball has been very successful in school since it was brought back as one of the major sports at College. The prospects are excellent for a winning team this spring.

Besides these sports tennis and boxing have become popular pasttimes with the students. Everything taken into consideration, the indications show a year, very successful from all points of view, but particularly successful as regards the future. The complacent smiles to be seen adorning the faces of the athletic board indicate they feel assured of success under the present regime.

Ray Watson, Head Yell Leader

Watson and Corby worked very well together or separate. Both are full of fight and the proper rhythm and voice to instill into the crowd the 100% fighting and backing spirit.

They were always on the job at any function that called for "pep," whether it be a football game, a Y. W. party or a tiddledywinks tournament.

Watson is through this year, but Corby will be with us another set of semesters to keep the old fight going.

The 1920 Football Season

THERE was a gloom in the Aggie Camp at the start of college in 1920 because of the resignation of Clevenger as Athletic Director and Coach, but through some good fortune he left a mighty good man in Charles Bachman to fill his place as football coach. Not only that, but it was not long until the office of Athletic Director was filled by one "Mike" Ahearn, and what was gloom at the start turned to brightness in a short while.

The football season had not been under way long before the men realized that the new coach was a man who knew what goal he was working toward, and that he expected every one to work as hard as he did. The keynote of the football work was harmony and teamwork, and the team made wonderful progress.

Although the team of 1920 does not have many victories to its credit, the fact that the men were able to hold the Missouri Valley Champions to a tie in their last Missouri Valley game of the season speaks well for the progress that the team made during the season. Many of the football followers in the Valley have given Bachman's men credit for having more football knowledge than any other football team in the Valley. This knowledge was gained through long practices and consistent class work in theoretical football.

Coach Bachman was not expected to build up a winning football team in one year, and he had no such intentions, but his work has been directed toward a powerful football machine for future years, and Aggie followers are expecting a great deal of the 1921 Aggie Team.

Aggies	14	Hays Normal	0
Aggies	55	Funston	0
Aggies	3	Creighton University	0
Aggies	7	Emporia Normals	7
Aggies	0	Kansas University	14
Aggies	7	Missouri University	10
Aggies	0	Ames	17
Aggies	7	Oklahoma University	7
Aggies	0	Washburn	0

COACH C. W. BACHMAN

CAPTAIN GATZ

COACH CHAS. W. BACHMAN

All-American and All-Service guard in football and an all-round star in track, according to the press reports. A finished football coach and expert in teaching track and field sports, according to the student body of K. S. A. C.

Bachman came here last fall as head coach of athletics and has more than made good with the loyal supporters of the Wildcats. "Watch his football machine in 1921," say the wise fans of sportdom.

CAPTAIN IKE GATZ

Ike was the idolized leader of the 1920 football team. Big, fast, rangy and heady. Ike was an ideal pilot; he inspired confidence in his men and had them all in there, battling every minute of the game. Captain Gatz won his letter in football four different years, one of which was for the year of S. A. T. C., and the sleeve of his honor sweater has as many stripes as a Zebra's back.

CAPTAIN-ELECT CLELAND

"Shifty" was the unanimous choice of the "K" men for football captain of the 1921 team. Captain Cleland plays center on the offense, center on the defense, and in addition devotes considerable attention to breaking up plays around end, through the line and off tackle. "Fight" is his middle name, and he owns a perfectly sound and versatile football head.

Write-up by M. F. Ahearn, Director of Athletics.

HINDS

AXLINE

Member Outing Honor Roll. Favorable mention by Walter Eckersall for All-Western Team. As a leader Ike was hard to beat. He instilled fighting spirit into his men that inspired them to greater efforts. He played with the Aggies four years.

Hinds was regarded as the most dangerous open field runner in the Missouri Valley. His two greatest games were against Missouri and Oklahoma in which he showed some real offensive and defensive play.

Shorty Cowell, the "blacksmith," had a combination of physique, speed and football sense which made him an ideal halfback. An injury received early in the season kept him out of the most important games. He was a member of the Aggie teams for three years.

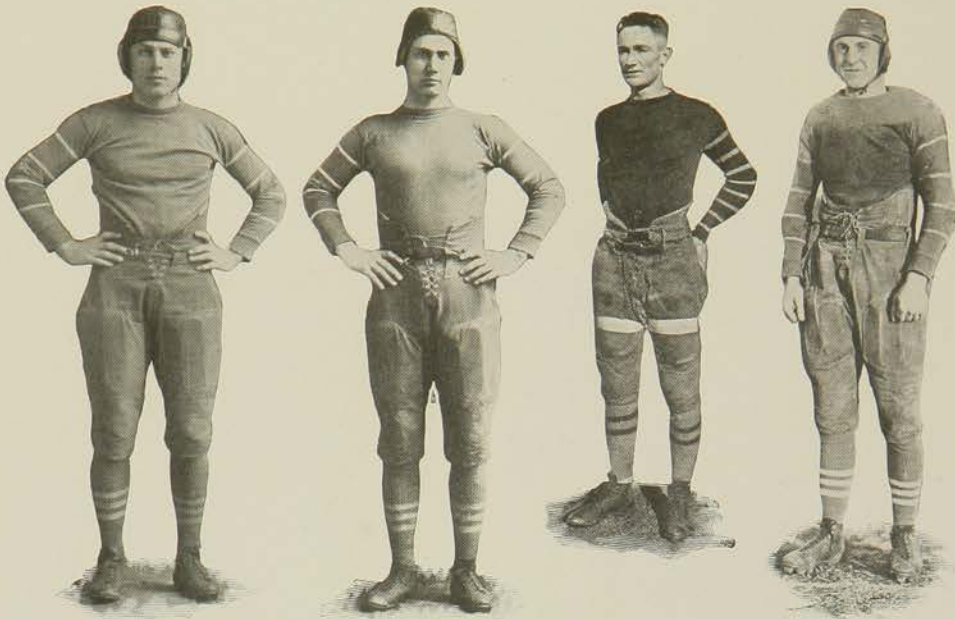

As a field general "Swede" Axline was the equal of any in the Valley. His strategy in the Oklahoma game was one of the bright spots of that memorable game. With one year of Valley experience he should have the greatest season of his career next fall.

HAHN

HUSTON

SEBRING

Playing his second year at guard, Hahn showed that he had all the requisites of a splendid football player. He was aggressive and was blessed with an unusual amount of speed.

Dewey started the football season with a national reputation as a punter and drop kicker. Before the season was well under way he gained additional laurels as a great offensive and defensive guard. Huston has one more year to play.

During his second year of play Randels gained for himself a Valley reputation as a receiver of passes. "Proc" was a deadly tackler and a good defensive player. He is at present confined to his home with rheumatism, but we are all praying for a speedy recovery and that his services will be again available.

Sebring played his first year last fall and by his pep, fight and enthusiasm he soon won the confidence of the coaches and players. "Seb" was in the fight from start to finish and the word quit was not in his vocabulary.

"You belong here"

SEARS

Sears was a deadly tackle, a good interferer, and one of the most energetic men on the squad. "Susie" could jump into the backfield whenever summoned and play either halfback or fullback, it mattered not which.

Goerke, playing his first year of Varsity football, developed into a great offensive and defensive fullback. An injury early in the season deprived the team of his services until the Ames game. He starred in both the Oklahoma and Washburn games.

Stauffer, teaming alongside of Dewey Huston, soon became a terror to opposing teams. The frequency with which he broke through the opponents' lines made him a man to be feared. His work during the entire season was like that of a veteran.

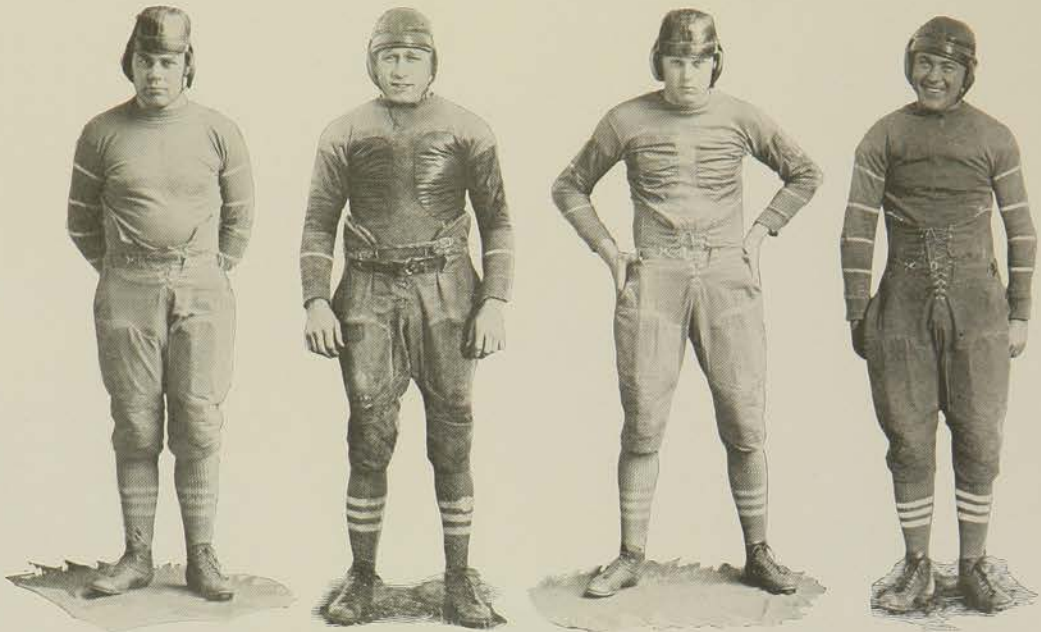

Marshall was one of the most reliable and consistent players of the team. He is a fighter and "game to the core." His big, energetic frame helped form one of the mainstays of the Aggie line until he was injured in the Creighton game which kept him out the remainder of the season.

"Step high. Watch your shins."

SITES

Captain-elect Cleland combined a wonderful physical make-up with a splendid determination and uncanny ability to follow the ball. Shifty was the steadying hand of the Aggie team and his work throughout the season stamped him as one of the best centers in the country.

Brady Cowell, like his brother, Shorty, was one of the most consistent ground gainers on the team. Brady was a good halfback and an accurate receiver of passes. The "Hinds to Cowell" combination was a deadly one to opposing teams.

Winters was a letter man from the season of 1919. A serious injury early in the season prevented him from playing in any of the games of the year, but he still has more time to play and much will be expected of him for the coming fall.

Sites is another man of ability and should be complimented for his faithful and constant service to the team. Sites substituted at end and was one of the most aggressive men on the squad.

"Hit 'er hard"

SCHMITZ

MURPHY

Schmitz was a hard consistent fighter and a substitute for Gatz and Hahn. An injury of long duration kept him from a regular place on the team. His weight, strength and general versatility made him an ideal lineman.

Schindler substituted at tackle. He is large of frame and has an abundance of weight, but his lack of experience and the keen competition kept him from playing many of the games.

Burr Smith substituted at end and at center. Burr's work improved during the season and his playing during spring practice indicated that he stands a good chance for a regular position next fall.

Murphy did his best work at the center position, but due to the excellent work of Captain-elect Cleland at this position Murphy did not get a chance to show his ability often. Don should be commended for his hard, consistent work for the team.

"Lock it tight in your arm."

ROYAL PURPLE

BRYAN

FRANZ

Bryan substituted at halfback. "Rocky" worked hard and consistently, but he was facing keen competition and men of experience in the backfield. With the past year of experience Rocky should show up well next fall.

Franz substituted for Hahn and Marshall at guard. He has the size and ability to make a good guard, but the competition in the guard positions kept him from landing a regular place.

Freshman Football

COACH A. A. HOLTZ

CAPTAIN STARK

In writing a review of the Freshman football squad of 1920, interest naturally centers in the potential ability of the men. At the beginning of the season over fifty men reported for the squad, but there was a constant dropping off until toward the close of the season the average daily attendance at practice was twenty-five to thirty men.

We can mention only briefly some of the work of the best men on the squad. We will start with Weber at center. He is a man of lots of ability, a quick thinker and a powerful fighter. Dougherty and Ewing played in the guard positions. They are not flashy, but are steady, dependable and consistent players. Quinn also played guard but he was a little light for that position.

Nichols and Patterson played the tackle positions and they both proved to be reliable, hard fighting line men. Nichols was probably the most flashy and spectacular player on the freshman squad.

Although Kohler played an excellent game at right end, the end positions were probably the weakest positions on the squad. Couch played left end, but he was handicapped by lack of weight. Hopper did some great work at end although his regular position was at half-back.

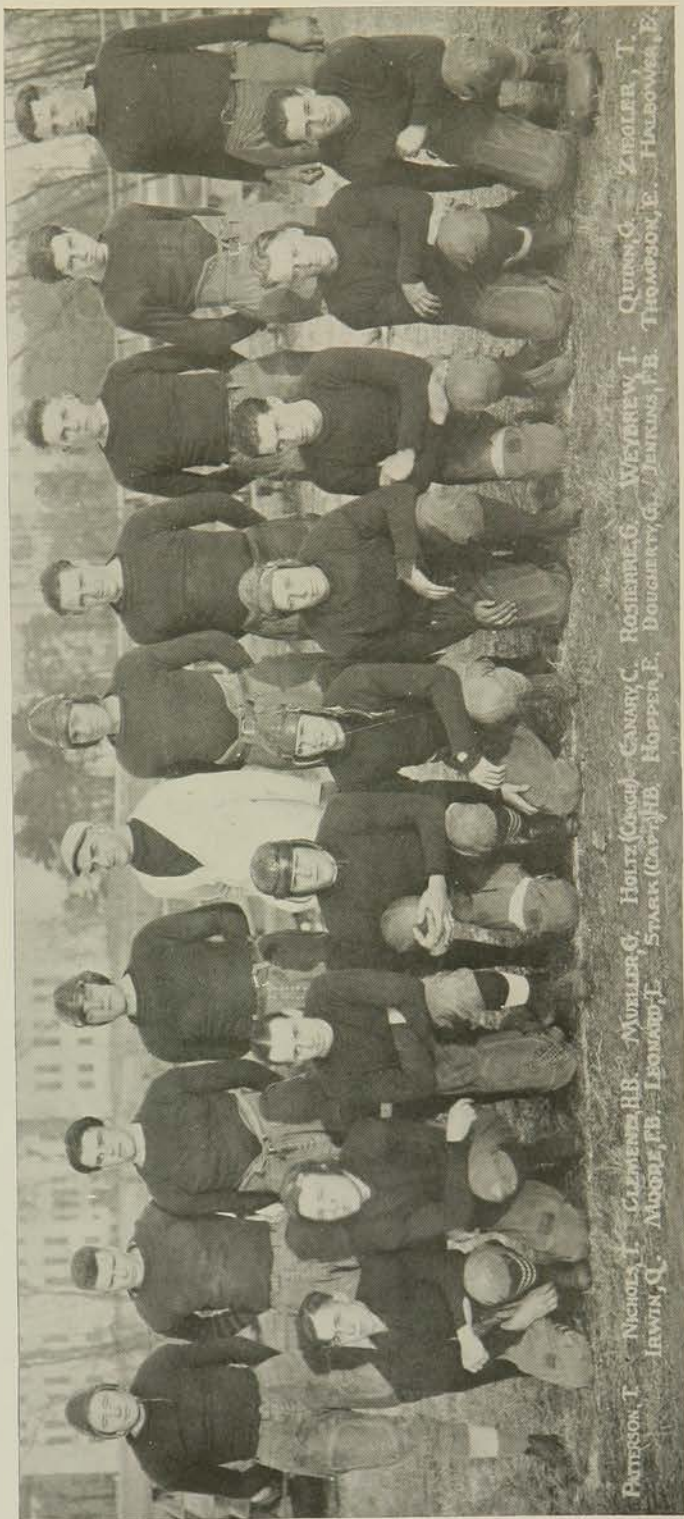

Captain Stark is a man of varsity caliber and with proper coaching should be a sensational backfield man. He is a fair punter and a fair passer. He is also a good line plunger with excellent ability to keep his feet. Clements and Swartz were used as halfbacks. Clements is a good line plunger, a hard fighter, and is quick on his feet. Swartz is exceptionally fast and shifty on his feet.

Marsh and Jenkins were used at fullback. They were both good line plungers and hard fighters. Jenkins was exceptionally good at carrying the ball.

Other men of ability who should receive very favorable mention are Ziegler, Curry, Gatz, Williams, Estes, Rosiere, Halbower, Canary and Leonard. These men all have ability and should be encouraged.

BASKET BALL

The 1921 Basket Ball Season

THE 1921 basket ball season was a very successful one. The team finished third in the valley race, but the fact that the Nebraska University team finished with a higher percentage than the Aggie team does not mean that they had a better squad than did the Aggies, because Nebraska played none of the stronger teams in the valley.

The prospects for basket ball at the beginning of the season were exceptionally bright. There were six letter men in school and all of these men were old heads at the game. Around these men as a nucleus, and with very good material from the previous year's freshman squad, it was almost a certainty that the Aggies would have a strong team.

There was much worry in Aggie circles for a short time because of the resignation of Coach Clevenger, which left the squad without a coach, but after some worry and work on the part of the athletic board it was found that Knoth, who was instructing in physical training at that time, was a man of experience and ability in playing the game. Knoth was finally appointed as basket ball coach. Under his training, and through the excellent work and ability of Captain Burger the team was whipped into shape.

The season began by winning from Ottawa University at Manhattan, and the following week-end Oklahoma University was defeated in both games of a series. These games were what the squad needed and gave the men a chance to steady themselves. During the remainder of the season the Aggies won seven Missouri Valley games, including four from Kansas University, one from Drake and one from Ames, besides the last game from the there-to-fore all-victorious Tigers. The Missouri Valley games lost include three to Missouri University and one to Ames.

The following is a summary of the season:

E. COWELL BUNGER (Capt.) KNOTH (Coach) FOVEL W. COWELL

COACH KNOTH

"Bud" Knoth proved his ability to coach winning basket ball teams in the season just closed. Under his efficient instruction the Aggies grabbed third place in the Valley and had the unique distinction of being the only basket ball team in the U. S. that beat Missouri University.

CAPTAIN BUNGER

Ham received the highest honor that can be bestowed on any basket ball player in the Missouri Valley—that of being selected to Captain the All-Missouri Valley Five, picked for outstanding play during the season. Captain Bunger's work at forward this year was the best ever seen on an Aggie court. Ham is a true sportsman, cleanly aggressive, untiring on the floor, a good eye for the basket and fine encouragement for his men. Ham earned warm praises from officials and coaches and he deserved every praise that was sung in his honor.

WARREN COWELL

Captain-elect of the 1922 basket ball team is an all-round athlete, having won his letter in three major sports. He has not reached his climax of ability in any one of the sports, although he is already being hailed by sport writers as the "Star." The team will surely be successful under "Brady's" careful management.

Bunger was without a doubt the best forward in the Valley. This was proved when he was chosen as Captain of All-Missouri Valley five. "Ham" was fast and he played the floor exceptionally well. These qualities, together with his ability as a goal shot, made him a favorite with the fans.

Warren Cowell, who is better known as "Brady," will captain the team of 1922. Brady plays in the same aggressive and pleasing style in basket ball that he does in the other sports. His speed, fight—and he is a hard fighter—experience and material ability will make him an excellent Captain.

Everett Cowell, who is frequently known as "Shorty," has been chosen as a member of the All-Missouri Valley team for the past two years. That is nearly enough said for his ability as a guard. Like "Brady," he is fast and he fights them hard.

Jennings played the center position and he usually got the tip off against the best of them. "Al" was a hard fighter and he played the floor well. Although he was not a flashy player he was always in the game. "Jinks" finished his basket ball work for the Aggies this past season.

KNOSTMAN

BRYAN

"Bill" Knostman was seriously handicapped by poor eyesight. This made his passing and long shots rather uncertain at times, but, on the other hand, "Bill" scored more than his share of the short shots, and he never stopped fighting.

Kuykendal was a worthy candidate for the center position, but he was used as a utility man a great deal of the time. He played well at either forward or center. "Kike" played the floor well, showed fair ability as a goal shot, and was an outstanding disciple of Fight.

Williams is a letter man from the season before this last. "Freddie" has excellent ability as a point maker, but he does not play the floor quite as well as some of the other forwards. His experience and ability will make him a valuable man next year.

Bryan did not show up so well until late in the season. His work in the victory over Missouri received much favorable comment. "Rocky" was a good point getter and a fair floor man, but he did not pass the ball as well as the other forwards. "Rocky" has two more years of competition.

FOVAL

Although Foval is small, his excellent floor work, his speed and fight make him a valuable utility man. He was played at either forward or guard, and he made a creditable showing in either place. This was Foval's first year of varsity competition.

TRACK

BERMAN HYSTER

The 1921 Track Season

TRACK was the last sport of any consequence to get a foothold among the major sports at K. S. A. C. and naturally it was the slowest to reach the place where it received much support from the student body and where it held much interest for the followers of Aggie sports.

In 1920 track reached the height that put K. S. A. C. on an equal footing with other Valley schools that indulge in that form of sport. This was made possible by such men as Watson, Gallagher and Evans, who are without doubt three of the greatest stars that the Missouri Valley has ever produced.

The Track season began with a win over Kansas University in the annual indoor meet between the two schools. The Aggie squad also won the outdoor meet with their old rival on McCook Field at Lawrence. Later in the season the Haskell Indians were defeated by quite a large score. The next meet was the Missouri Valley Meet at Ames, Iowa, in which they were able to carry off third place, and at the Western Conference meet at Ann Arbor, Michigan, they placed fifth.

The Aggies were exceptionally strong in the dash and the long distance events, but they were very weak in the field events, which proved to be a very serious handicap. If more of the field events could have been won the team would have been far superior to any other team in the Missouri Valley.

The fact that the Aggies furnished Ray Watson for the U. S. Olympic Team in the games at Antwerp, Belgium, and that Cliff Gallagher equalled the World's Record in the 50-yard low hurdles indoors speaks well for the squad.

Besides these individual stars there were men on the squad who did not possess quite the natural ability of the men already mentioned but they were willing to train and work hard for the few points that they could add to the total that usually won for the Aggies.

The 1921 squad will be coached by Charles Bachman, who was a noted star in the field events on the Notre Dame track squad, and he no doubt will be able to develop men in the field events that will balance the dash and distant events which will make the Aggie squad a well rounded squad.

COACH A. G. SCHULTZ

CAPTAIN EVANS

Track, 1920

"Germany" Schultz directed the destinies of the track and field athletes during the season of 1919-20. Under his careful tutelage the Aggie Track Team developed a strong offensive and won from K. U. twice during the season; once indoors at home and again outdoors at Lawrence. At the Annual Conference track meet the Aggie team made a very creditable showing.

JACK EVANS

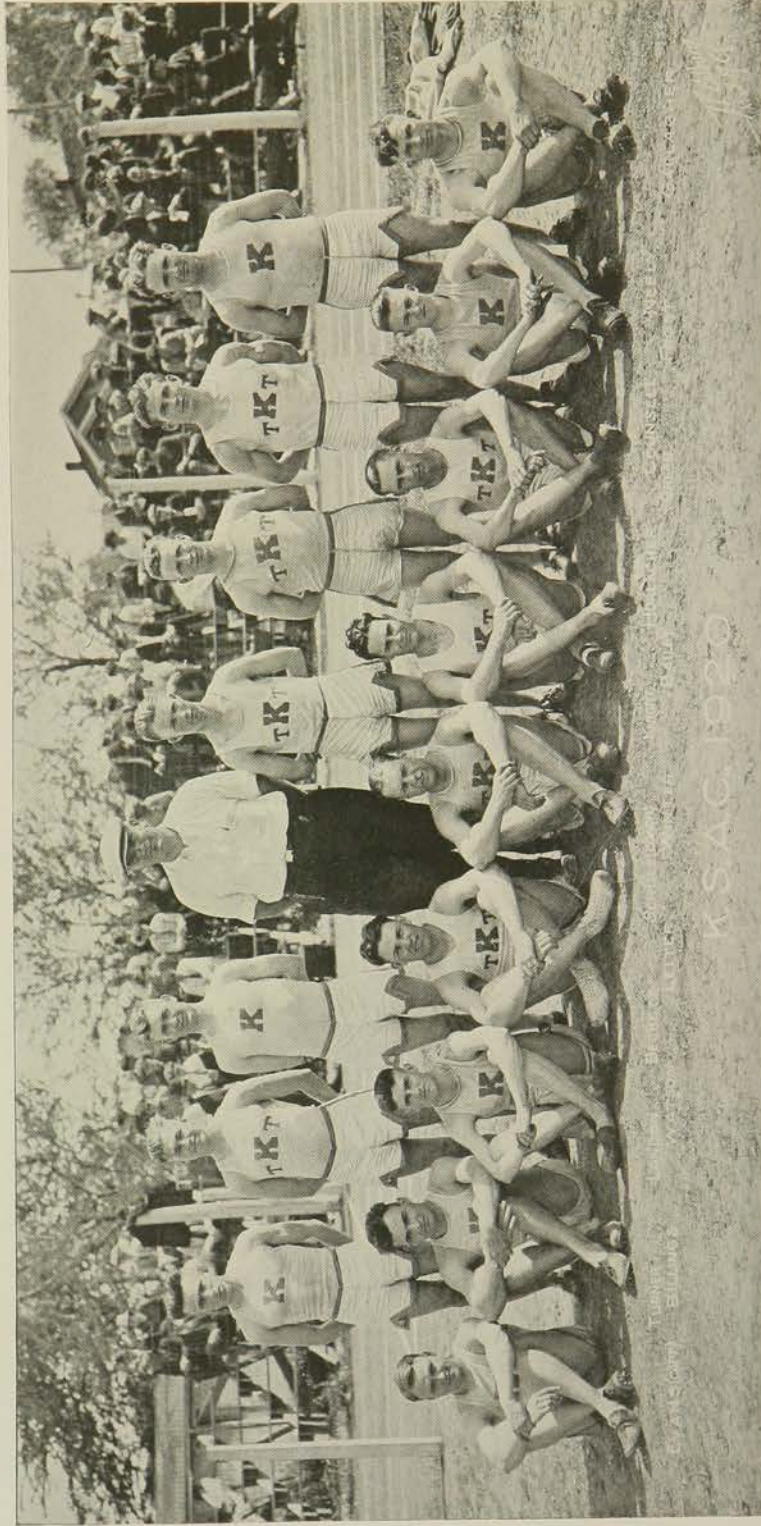

The "Osage Flyer" was a popular leader and a hard worker. Jack's specialty consisted of stepping the century dash in close to ten seconds. He was a hard man to beat in the 220-yd. dash, and was an important cog in the Aggie relay team.

CAPTAIN-ELECT WATSON

Student, athlete, sportsman, cheer leader, pepper box, foremost Aggie athlete—but what's the use, words cannot do the subject justice. Ray has the proud distinction of being the only athlete who ever represented this institution at the Olympic Games. Watson owns a fleet pair of legs, a stout heart and a world of endurance. The Kansas State Agricultural College is proud of his achievements and expects still greater achievements during the season of 1921, when Watson as Captain of the track team will be out on the field encouraging his men by word and deed. Wait until he gets the Royal Purple across the finish line, then watch him travel.

Jack Evans came to K. S. A. C. with a brilliant high school record in track, and he has kept up the good work while in college. He is without a doubt one of the fastest sprinters in the Valley and his experience and pleasing personality made him an ideal captain.

Watson is undoubtedly the greatest track star that ever ran under the Aggie colors. The fact that he was a member of the United States Olympic team speaks well enough for him.

Gallagher is a good running mate for Evans in the dashes and he is the best hurdler in the Missouri Valley at the present time. Cliff equaled the World's record in the 50-yard dash indoors the past season. "Enuf said."

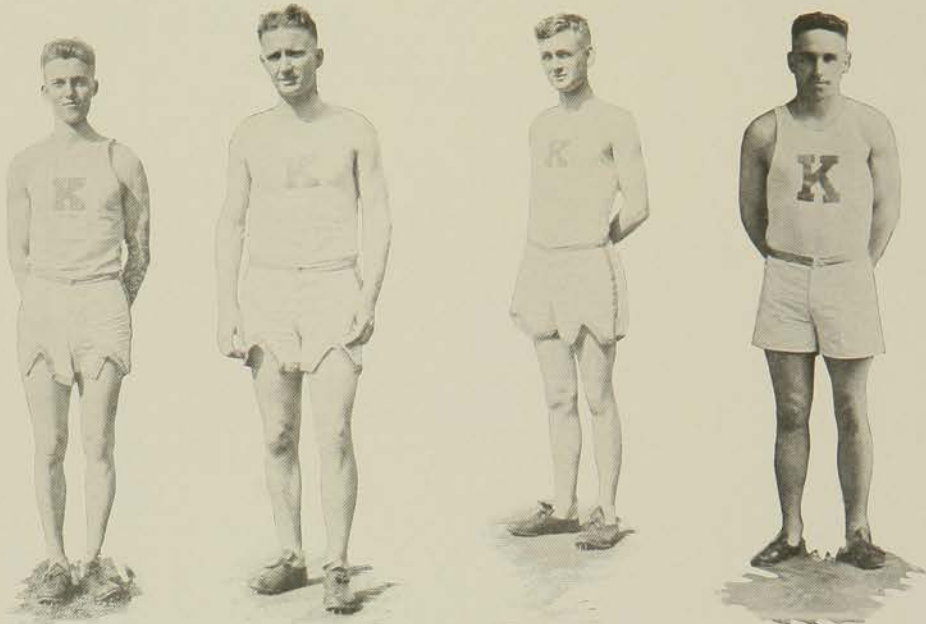

Wright Turner is the diminutive quarter-miler on the Aggie squad. Wright is generally known as "Scrubby," but that applies to size only because he showed his heels to a fast field in the quarter mile at the K. C. A. C. meet in Kansas City.

Jack Frost is another man of the small but mighty class, but his size did not hinder him in his work. Jack has been known to clear the bar at more than twelve feet with the aid of the bamboo pole. He was a high jumper as well as a vaulter.

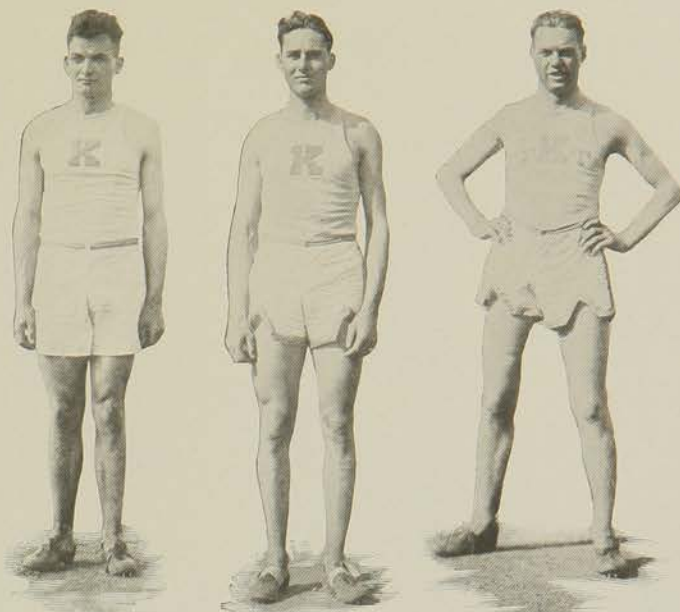

Tom Neeley is a good running mate for Turner in the quarter-mile and he is also a valuable man on the relay team. Tom, like Jack Evans, is a noted high school star that has made his work good in college.

Although Beckett was not a flashy runner on the track, he was a hard working, consistent athlete, and his efforts usually added a few points to the Aggies' total. Beckett did his best work in the mile event.

Wallace Clapp ran in the half mile. Although he is not exceptionally fast or flashy, his steady plodding along has enabled him to finish ahead of more ambitious runners that could not deliver in the end as was shown in the K. U. outdoor meet.

Ship was big and powerful and possessed an exceptional amount of spring in his legs. He cleared the bar over 6' many times and has the record of 6' 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ ".

Cross-Country Team

Cross-Country running was re-established at K. S. A. C. this year through the efforts of Charles Bachman, track coach, who is a firm believer in cross-country running as a benefit for spring track as well as for its initial value.

The squad gradually worked up from a short distance until at last they were running from six to eight miles each evening. This constant practice put the squad in good shape for fairly good competition, and the squad as a whole was good.

The first race was with K. U. and the Aggie squad was victorious by a score of 27-28½. The Aggie team did not meet any other team this season, but it is hoped that next year the team will be able to compete with more Missouri Valley schools in this sport, and that they will be able to compete in the Missouri Valley cross-country meet.

The Athletic Board decided to award cross-country sweaters to the men making the team. The sweater is woolen jersey, bearing the letters "CKC." These letters were awarded to Ray B. Watson, C. Kuykendal and Mr. Henre.

The Season of 1920

THE BASEBALL season of 1920 was a very successful one and the Aggie Squad succeeded in bringing the Missouri Valley Championship Pennant to K. S. A. C.

The season was started by a game with a team from Fort Riley, and this team proved itself to be a worthy opponent for an early season game. The first game that was played with a college team was the game with Oklahoma A. & M. This game was won with ease. The second game of that series was canceled on account of rain. The team went from Stillwater to Norman and they played two games with the University of Oklahoma. The first of these two games was easily won, but the second ended in a tie. The game was called in the 13th inning.

After this trip the Aggie Squad had somewhat the appearance of a finished college baseball team. This early experience proved to be of great value to the men in later games.

When the season closed the records showed that the Aggie Squad had won four games from Missouri University, two games from Kansas University, two games from Drake University and three games from Oklahoma University. Besides these Missouri Valley victories there were a few victories which were won from non-Missouri Valley teams.

The Aggie Squad was defeated twice by Kansas University and twice by Washington University.

The following is a summary of the games played:

Fort Riley	0	Aggies	8
Oklahoma A. & M.	0	Aggies	9
Oklahoma University	1	Aggies	7
Oklahoma University	3	Aggies	3

COACH Z. G. CLEVINGER

CAPTAIN McGRATH

COACH Z. G. CLEVINGER

Coach Clevenger, familiarly known as "Clev.," taught the 1920 baseball team enough of the national pastime to cop the Missouri Valley Championship. Clev. turned out a baseball team with the "old fight," and many a game was pulled out of the fire after the fans had given it a decent burial. The Aggie Mentor was a keen student of the game and knew the inside of outside baseball, and was able to instill his men with this knowledge of the game.

CAPTAIN McGRATH

"Irish" captained the baseball team and hurled the spheroid at opposing batters in such a mystifying (spitball) manner that hits off Mac's delivery were as infrequent as August rains in Kansas. Captain McGrath had speed, curves, a cross fire, a slow ball, a change of pace, and a winning smile. What more could one ask of a pitcher captain? (Ed. note—Mac had a batting average also, but it resembled an Oddfellows emblem.)

CAPTAIN-ELECT GUILFOYLE

Luke is the Kansas Aggie apostle of baseball, the village constable of Wamego and the oracle of the athletic department. Captain Luke is the receiver-general of the Aggie ball team and fills the position to the entire satisfaction of the baseball fans. Steady as the "Rock of Gibraltar" describes Luke as a catcher. As a hitter it is impossible to describe him. He is out this year to lead the Wildcats to another Missouri Valley Championship.

Write-up by M. F. Ahearn, Director of Athletics.

MAGRATH

Captain Magrath was known as the premier pitcher of the Missouri Valley, and there is no doubt but that he is deserving of that title. His experience and ability made him a valuable slab man and a wise Captain.

Captain-elect Guilfoyle is conceded to be the smartest catcher in the Missouri Valley, and he can well be called just that. He is always alive to the play in progress and he possesses a keen sense of duty in a game.

"Ding" Burton is one of the shiftiest and snappiest infielders in the valley. He is a remarkable stick artist, having carried off the high hitting honors of the Aggie team the past season.

Everett Cowell, probably better known on the field as "Shorty," has robbed many an opposing batter of what ordinarily would have been a base hit. He could cover more ground than any fielder that was seen in action last season.

"Pitch to me, Riley"

DICKERSON

SNAPP

Although "Red" Dickerson was no sensational player he was always found hanging around the initial sack when his presence was needed there. It is steadiness that counts with "Dick."

Steadiness and dependability were two stellar features in the work of "Mert" Otto. "Mert's" record for the season is enviable. "Riley" is a good running mate to "Wamego."

Jim Snapp raced around in the center garden position and he was a sure catch of fly balls. His natural hitting ability made him one of the most feared of Aggie batters.

At shortstop there was no equal to Art Quinlan in the Valley. His experience and natural ability made him the best all around shortstop that has ever been seen in collegiate competition on the Aggie diamond.

AGNEW

SWINGLE

Carl Mershon kept his stand at the hit corner of the diamond, but they never came too hot for "Rosy." He also possessed a great deal of ability with the old hickory club.

Although "Brady" Cowell was in a hitting slump during the first of the season, his hitting in the last games should win him a great deal of favor for the 1921 team. He is shifty and fast, and he is a good infielder.

Maynard Agnew, who usually answered to the name of "Lefty," was somewhat of a utility man, but he worked most frequently in the outfield although he did some very creditable work on the mound.

Charles Swingle possessed a great deal of ability as an outfielder, but he did not play much, due to the keen competition for the outfield positions. Much credit is due him for his constant effort and work for the team.

WOMENS ATHLETICS

Women's Athletics

ATHLETICS are considered very essential by every Aggie girl. She likes to swim, hike, play basket ball, hockey and tennis. She has a true love for sports, and winning or losing, she is characterized by her sportsmanlike manner and her clean playing.

This year athletics have been even more popular than ever. Every sport has received the consideration of a large number of college women. There has been keen competition for every team that has been picked. There are a large number of girls who are especially prominent in athletics, being engaged in more than one sport. We find them at all times working for the betterment of women's athletics. Five seniors, five juniors, seven sophomores and five freshmen have been chosen for places on two or more teams this year.

The instructors of the Physical Education Department have been untiring in their efforts to coach the teams and referee the games.

The Women's Athletic Association places a girl at the head of each sport, and she plans the practices, try-outs and tournament. The various sports, described briefly, are as follow:

Hockey—At the beginning of the Fall Semester, Miss Belle Hagans, Hockey Manager, planned a very successful color tournament whereby all the 225 girls that signed up for this sport were allowed to play on a color team. After the class teams were chosen a class tournament was held, which resulted in the championship being tied between the Freshmen and Sophomores.

Basket Ball—Miss Irene Drake was manager of this popular winter sport. Almost 200 tried out for places on class teams. The class games were well attended and a large amount of interest shown by others than the girls playing. The Freshmen and Sophomore teams played in the finals of the tournament, and after a hard fought game the Sophomores came out victors.

Hiking—This is a sport which is indulged in the year round. Miss Anna L. Best, Hike Manager, reports that the total number of miles hiked by all the girls last semester was 2,200. The hikes are 5 and 10 miles long, and as many as 45 girls have gone on one hike.

Swimming—Miss Florence Johnson was manager of swimming and succeeded in arousing a great deal of enthusiasm in this activity. A swimming carnival was held in April, when the class teams competed against each other.

Baseball, Tennis and Outdoor Track work are other sports in which the athletic girl of K. S. A. C. takes part during the latter part of the Spring Semester. The Annual Gymnastic Meet, which is competition between the Freshmen and Sophomore women enrolled in physical education work, was won by the Sophomores this year.

A "K" sweater, a symbol of distinction, which is given by the Women's Athletic Association to those girls who have taken part in a certain amount of athletics, was awarded to each of the following: Jessie Evans, Corrine Thiele and Grace Turner. Clementine Paddleford and Ruth Willis won sweaters last year. W. A. A. pins were given to those participating in a number of athletic events.

EDITH BOND

Miss Edith Bond, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in '17, and who is at present head of the women's physical educational department of K. S. A. C., has won the hearts of the student body with her ever ready smile and her aesthetical dancing. However, dancing is not Miss Bond's only talent, for as an organizer her ability is unlimited. When she arrived at K. S. A. C. in '18 as assistant in the department there were no such athletic events as the annual gym meet, color tournaments, baseball teams, swimming carnivals, tennis tournaments; there was not even an organization of W. A. A. The growth of the department is largely due to Miss Bond's ability and untiring effort.

LOUISE TAUSCHE

Miss Tausche has charge of the classes in swimming. Through her efforts the Red Cross life saving corps is to be established.

JESSIE EVANS

Miss Evans is student assistant in folk dancing and coaching.

When Earth's Last Picture is Painted

When earth's last picture is painted
And the tubes are twisted and dried,
When the oldest colours have faded,
And the youngest critic has died,
We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need it—
Lie down for an aeon or two,
Till the Master of All Good Workmen
Shall put us to work anew.

And those that were good shall be happy;
They shall sit in a golden chair;
They shall splash at a ten-league canvas
With brushes of comets' hair;
They shall find real saints to draw from—
Magdalene, Peter and Paul;
They shall work for an age at a sitting
And never be tired at all!

And only the Master shall praise us,
And only the Master shall blame;
And no one shall work for money,
And no one shall work for fame;
But each for the joy of the working,
And each, in his separate star,
Shall draw the Thing as he sees It
For the God of Things as They are!

—Rudyard Kipling.

SENIORS

Class History, '21

HELLO EVERYBODY! Sure you know us. We are the Seniors. Everybody knows who the Seniors are. Yes, this is our own page, in our own book, so we can say what we please. Why we can even say we like to toddle, and not one soul will raise a racket. Why? Because we are the Seniors. We are supposed to write our history on this page, but if we do no one will read it, for everybody hates history. So we are going to tell you in just plain facts, not historical facts, what the Class of '21 means to you and this college.

In the first place, athletics is our middle name. Most all the athletes in school are Seniors. Why, there is Dickerson, Watson, Bunger, Jennings, Knostman, E. Cowell, Otto, Bogue, Gallagher, McCollum, Mershon, Turner and—well, that's just part of them, but we can't fill this whole page with the names of our athletes. You can look the list up for yourself in the registrar's office.

Early in the fall of '17 the co-eds, realizing that good looks are dependent upon plenty of exercise, determined to make athletics their hobby. The result is that the senior girls hold the three-year inter-class basketball cup, and have more good looking athletes than any previous graduating class can boast.

Through the four years not one member of the '21 class has been afflicted with a nervous breakdown, for the midnight juice has not been burned to any great extent. However, the class has a splendid scholarship record and the honor fraternity roll is long. Which all goes to show that the Seniors are just naturally well supplied with brains and plenty of graft.

The class has executive ability too. In the first place, we didn't have to have Prexy help us organize as one other class did not more than a year ago. Then, beside managing our own affairs we have been of a lot of assistance in helping run the rest of the school. Which all goes to show that along with that liberal supply of brains and graft we have a head for politics. Who is it but a Senior that is president of the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., W. A. A., Girls' Loyalty League, S. S. G. A., Zeta Kappa Psi, Alpha Zeta, Theta Sigma Phi, or of other similar offices that could be named?

Popularity and the Senior Class walk hand in hand. And you'll have to admit that it takes real talent to be a politician and still be popular. But if a student is a member of the class of '21 you can just bet you last dollar he stands 100% high with the student body. In the recent popularity contest four of the six co-eds voted as the most popular girls of the school were Seniors.

But do not think that college has all been easy sledding, for at times we have been sorely tempted to do those things that the faculty have posted on the "Must not list." Even now in the last few weeks of our college life we are debating such questions as "To Toddle or Not to Toddle."

No more space. The page is filled and hereby 270 Seniors bequeath their best wishes and popularity to the Seniors to be.

Here's ten to one you are going to miss us.

JUNIORS

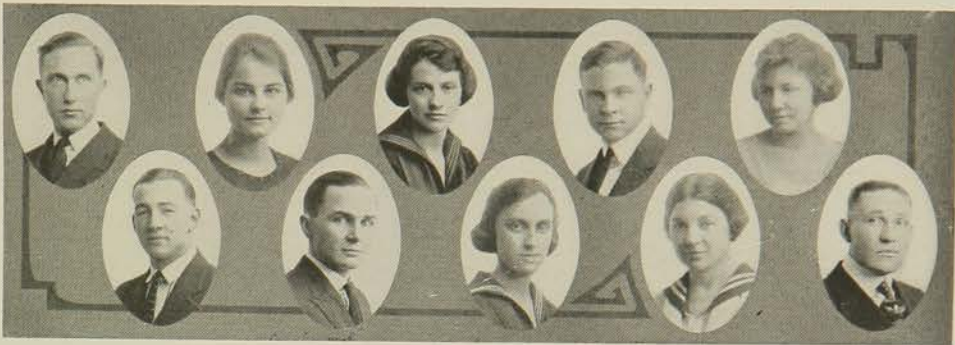

Class of 1922

IN THIS day of organization when every student is supposed to be a dues-paying member of at least six societies or organizations, the college class organization does not draw the attention it did in the days when college life was less complex. However, despite this fact, the Class of '22 has developed Interest—note the capital I—in its affairs among the members of the group.

More votes were cast in the election of Junior class officers for the spring semester than in any other class election. The class meetings have a standing-room-only attendance of peppy patriots who deliberate with due decorum and vote as their conscience dictates on matters of class policy. Some, there are, who would intimate that this interest in class meetings and elections is the result of opposing factions within the class, but we '22 men and women know that, in the final analysis, it is inspired by a desire to see that the best thing for K. S. A. C. and the Class of '22 is done.

We'll base our claim to fame on the fact of class Pep and Interest in this decadent day, rather than upon the more stereotyped grounds of brilliant men and beautiful women, although we invite comparison with any other class at K. S. A. C. on that score.

SOPHOMORES

Class of 1923

N THE 8th of September, 1919, the class of '23 made its initial appearance on the hill. When the rush and tumble of registration was over and the smoke cleared away it was found that this was the largest class ever enrolled in K. S. A. C.

The amount of interest evinced in class politics would seem to show we have more than our share of future legislators. So heated have been some of our contests that they threatened to develop into true "knock down and drag out" affairs.

Early in our career we had considerable dispute with the upperclassmen, chiefly the Sophomores, regarding the wearing of that important bit of variegated apparel known as the freshman cap. After many duckings, some of which were unwillingly attended by some of our number, Prexy came to our rescue and decided this matter should be voluntary on our part. Having been "led to water" and, like the calf, not drinking, we decided to show our class spirit by donning the "postage stamp."

Socially we have been a bit bashful, but still we can point with pride to the ability of some of our members as social lions, lounge lizzards or shimmy dancers. The Freshman-Sophomore Hop and several class entertainments mark our ability as a class along this line.

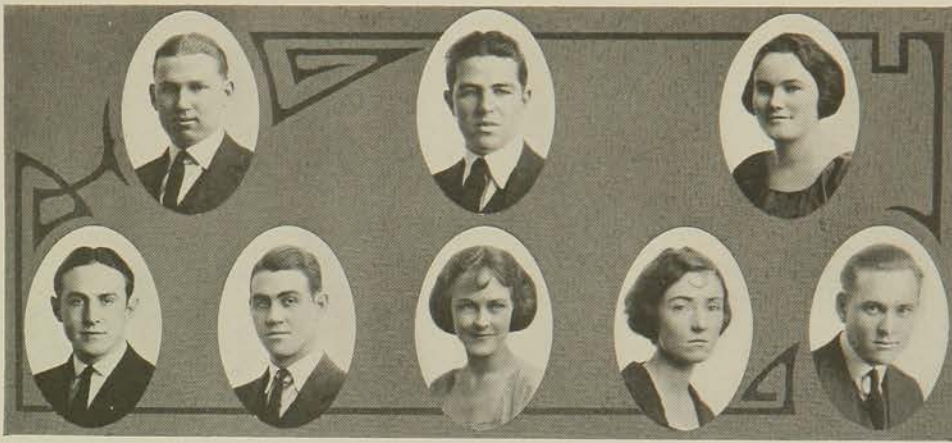

We have been well represented in athletics. The girls have won or tied for championship in all interclass contests. The boys have shown up exceptionally well in all class contests as well as in varsity athletics. This year we have men in all major sports.

As a class we cannot be called book worms, due to control measures such as social affairs, porch swing lab, cuts, lack of midnight oil, etc., but notwithstanding we have many members who are in line for scholarship honors.

In closing, with our college career half through, may I ask, friend reader,

As the school years pass, wherever you may be,
Just watch the record of the class of '23.

FRESHMEN

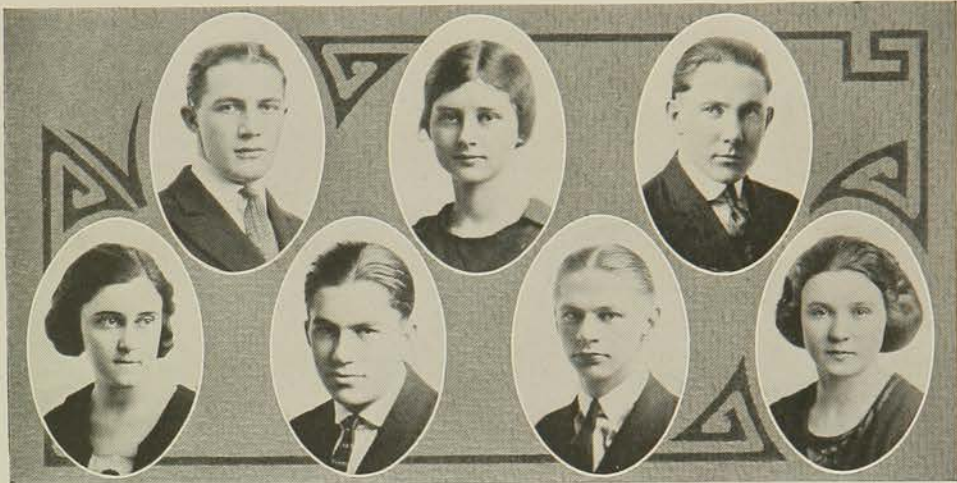

Class of 1924

Motto—"Plus Ultra"Colors—Gold and Green*Class Flower*—Yellow Chrysanthemum

Nineteen-twenty found us here,
 Full of hope and joy and cheer.
 There are many things you'll see
 Make us proud as proud can be.
 Early at the college door
 We stood, seven-hundred and some more,
 And thus far, in play and work,
 The freshman class has failed to shirk.
 We started out with football cheers,
 Which will last for many years.
 Our little stunt at the Home-Coming game
 Shall not pass without due fame.
 The freshman girls' little team
 Tied for first in the hockey scheme,
 And the freshman boys of the football squad
 Played the game to the farthest rod.
 Then came basketball and track,
 And you'll admit that we're no quack.
 For general knowledge and debate,
 This class is surely up to date.
 "Come out of the Kitchen," as you all know,
 Was almost entirely a freshman show;
 And when it comes to chapel, we're right there,
 No other class would ever dare
 To even think they could surpass
 The Negro Minstrels of the Freshman Class.
 The minds of the class do not confine
 To the narrow channel of one good time,
 For at the first meeting, October first,
 High ideals came out with a burst.
 For the good of the class, we sincerely thought
 One more officer should surely be brought,
 For in our activities we felt the need
 Of a Devotional Leader to take the lead.
 A Parliamentarian we added too,
 To tell us how Robert would have us do.
 And now, dear friends, just a parting word,
 The worth-while things are always heard,
 So listen thou, as times pass o'er,
 For the fame of the Class of '24.

A DRAMATIC FRATERNITY

A Review of Purple Masque Dramatics

Having staged "Seven Keys to Baldpate" successfully during the mid-winter, Purple Masque concluded the 1919-1920 season with the Festival Week play, "Daddies," by John L. Hobbie. This delightful four-act comedy, coached by Professor Emerson and Mrs. Bowman, will doubtless always stand unique in Aggie dramatic history because of the fortunate circumstances which made possible its production here before its release for amateur, or even stock, performance. Through the good offices of Theo. F. Hobbie, a student in the college and a nephew of the author—himself a native Kansan—the consent of Mr. David Belasco was secured for its complimentary presentation. The parts were well taken and the action brilliant and finished. Lloyd Hamilton as the crusty Pittsburg millionaire played with a conviction and finesse long to be remembered by Aggie theatre lovers, while diminutive Mary Burr, eight-year-old daughter of Professor Walter Burr, endeared herself to the hearts of the twenty-three hundred persons who saw her by the very remarkable characterization of the captivating six-year-old Lorraine. Time after time the action between these two remarkable amateurs brought forth such thunderous applause as to threaten disaster to the play. Betty Lyman, as Ruth, concluded a notable career in Purple Masque productions in a somewhat subdued role that nevertheless called for finished acting of the reserved sort. Lewis Bryan as Bob, Vorin Whan as the automobile magnate with the breeze of the windshield in his manner, Frederick Stimson as Allen from Detroit, Harold Batchelor as the young lawyer, Eugene Huff as a very likable old family servant, Helen Miller as Mrs. Audrey, Queenie Hart as Bobette, Irene Shoemaker as the French widow, Mary Louise Harrison as Little Sammy, Frank Burr, James Siever and Worth Ross as the triplets, Agnes Jones as Katie, Lucile Whan as a nurse, all played finished parts.

Manhattan audiences have come to expect much of a Florence Heizer play. In "Come Out of the Kitchen," by A. E. Thomas, presented on January 21st by an all-student cast, they witnessed a production which in stage setting and quaint and capable characterization was fully worthy of her genius. A Belasco interior was never more complete in its detail than was the kitchen scene in the second act. With the Manhattan Gas and Electric Company playing the role of cheerful lender, the action in this scene took place amid surroundings replete with gas range, ice cream freezer, kitchen cabinet, rolling pins, dish washers, and aluminum sets. Rare contributions from the Payne Furniture Company, always a good friend of Aggie players, made possible a living room setting for the first act and a dining room setting for the third act, such as is seldom seen off the professional stage. Portraits by Miss Schell, well selected draperies by Mr. Dehner and quaint devices of the southern fireside by Mr. Aiman—all blended into a unity of old Virginia atmosphere—a most welcome relief from the green and white striped effects which Aggie audiences had so long come to expect.

Hamilton Riggs as "Alias the Butler" displayed an unusually ample stock of "buttlng" mannerisms, much to the amusement of the crowd, but was at all times the actor playing true to his part and avoiding the temptation to burlesque. Vernon Carrier was a very real boy and his strokes were sure. Neale Alleman did a difficult Solon Tucker in a wholly satisfying and delightful manner. Ruth Martin uncovered a surprisingly natural Irish brogue, and besides, carried her role of leading lady with naivette, charm and distinction. With a play at last suited to the inimitable negro characterization of Dorothy Settle, the audience saw a very human and original "Mammy" who weathered the occasional heavy passages with such sincerity that they were wholly convinced. Earl Bruce as Crane, Harold Sebring as Weeks, Don Eibert as Lefferts, Curtis Watts as Elizabeth, Gladys Newton as Mrs. Falkener, Alyce Carter as Cora, did able leading and supporting parts.

"Suppressed Desires," a one-act play by Susan Glaspell, was given as a chapel number on January 14th. Vorin Whan proved himself perfectly at home as Stephen, the husband of the psycho-analytical minded Henrietta, and as the "Step Hen" affinity of his impressionable sister-in-law. In the latter role Winifred West moved with a true appreciation of her difficult part. Rowena Thornburg, as Henrietta, lived up to the promise of her splendid acting in last year's "Believe Me, Xantippe."

MILTON S. EISENHOWER

"Milton S. Eisenhower of Abilene, junior in Industrialism, Journalism, Kansas State Agricultural College, won first place in the Missouri Valley Oratorical contest held at Columbia, Missouri, Friday, April 16, 1921. Leading universities and colleges of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Iowa were represented in the contest. It is the first time in the history of the event that a K. S. A. C. man has won highest honors."

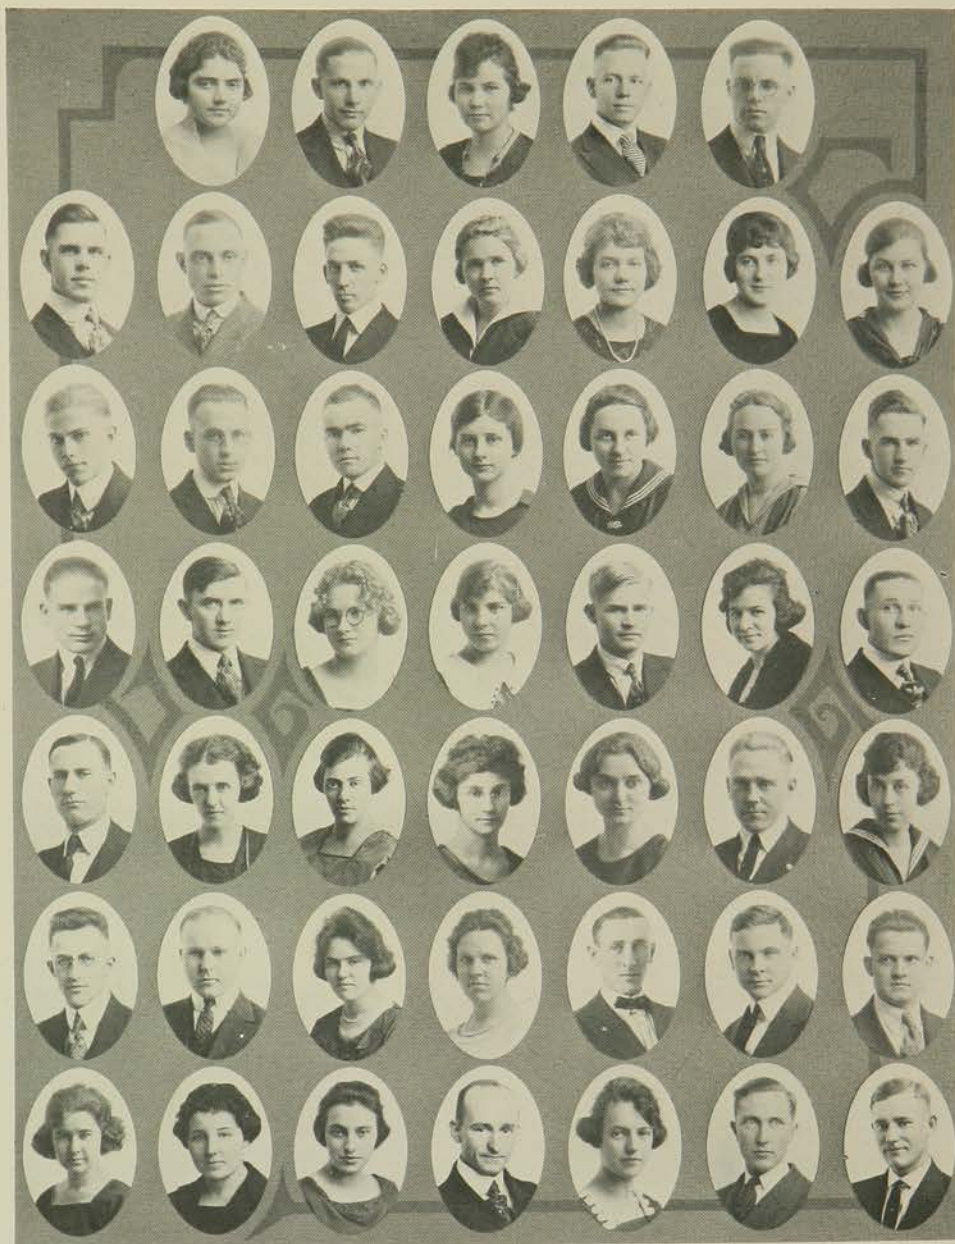

"The subject of Eisenhower's speech was 'The Practitioner of Peace.' In his speech he did not advocate absolute disarmament, but a uniform reduction and balancing of armies and navies."

"Last year he won the short story contest and last semester he took first place in the contest among the public speaking classes. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity."

"Dr. Howard T. Hill of the Public Speaking Department, who coached Eisenhower, made the trip with him."

—Taken from the Kansas Industrialist of April 13, 1921.

Block and Bridle Club

THE BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB is a national organization of the animal husbandry students who have completed one and one-half years of the prescribed four-year course.

The purpose of the club is to promote the improvement of the live stock industry and to better the educational facilities for students following this line of work.

The charter members of the national organization were the animal husbandry clubs of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. The local chapter was installed at the Kansas State Agricultural College in January, 1920. This is the oldest of the departmental organizations in the division of Agriculture. The original club was known as the Saddle and Sirloin Club and was founded in 1914.

The Block and Bridle Club is the largest and most progressive of the various divisional organizations. It features, yearly, the two following functions of agricultural interest:

1. The Student Stock Judging Contest, an event greatly anticipated by students who have not already made one of the stock judging teams.
2. The Barn Warming Dance, the proceeds of which are donated by the club to the stock judging team to enable it to attend the Students' Judging Contest at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago.

The men on the judging teams that won first at the National Swine Show at Des Moines, Iowa, first at the Western National Live Stock Show at Denver and fourth at the International Live Stock at Chicago are all members of this club.

The members in the faculty are:

Farmers' Short Course

THE FARMERS' Short Course is the outstanding one among the agricultural short courses. It was first offered in 1900, and in its twenty-two annual sessions has had a total enrollment of 3,625 students.

The work of this course is intensely practical and is concerned with the chief problems the Kansas farmer has to handle. It is given for an eight-week term during the months of January and February each year, the large number of subjects offered making it desirable for many students to return for a second term. All students who successfully complete two years' work are granted a certificate.

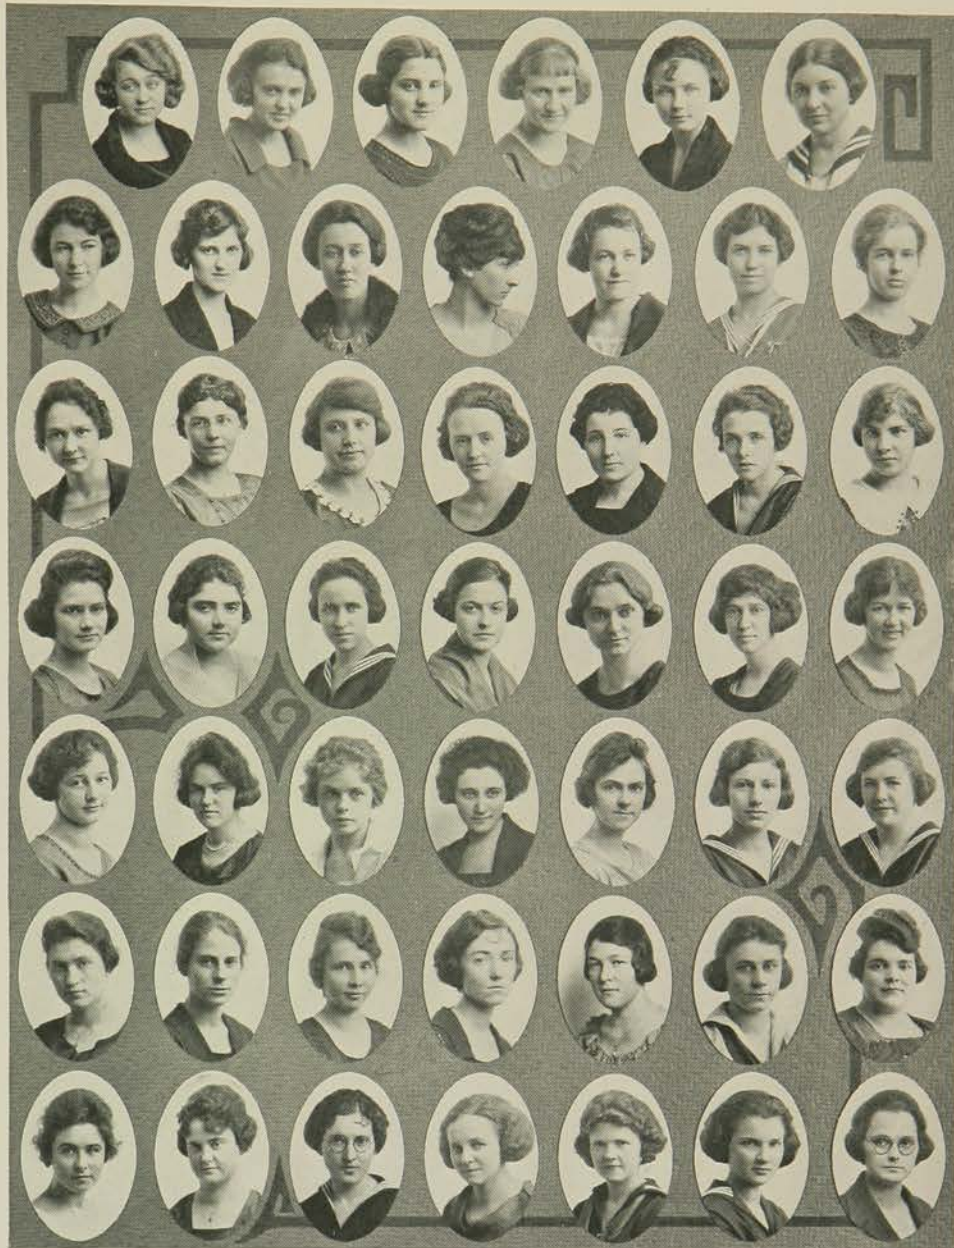

The advantages open to a Farmers' Short Course student are not limited to the training provided in the particular subjects making up his program. College assemblies and other college meetings, lectures, entertainments, athletic sports, and class parties provide inspiration, entertainment, and recreation. Altogether the student spends a busy and most profitable eight weeks, and returning the second year gets even more out of the second term than he did the first.

For the Short Course term, January-February, 1921, 102 students enrolled. The pictures of 89 members of this group are shown on the opposite page. From left to right the names of the men in each row are:

Tobasco Dancing Club was organized January 1, 1919, by two students, who foresaw the need of interfraternity dances to continue the democratic spirit already so characteristic of the Kansas State Agricultural College. Seven fraternities were represented in Tobasco and a Board of Directors elected which consisted of one representative from each fraternity. The organization proper was chosen by these men. Five men were selected from each fraternity and the total membership limited to thirty-five. Dances were held twice monthly. The best music obtainable was always secured, which resulted in a new interest in the terpsichorean art.

Later the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kappa Sigma fraternities became represented. The organization now is limited to nine national fraternities, with a total membership of fifty. Dances are held monthly.

The student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at Kansas State Agricultural College was organized in November, 1920, and granted a charter by the National Society in January, 1921. Since its organization the purpose of the local society has been evidenced by its interest in the several branches of agricultural engineering, which included equipment, advertising, service, education, irrigation and drainage. At present this is the largest student branch in the country.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers established a Student Branch at the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1917, the work of the Student Branch being combined with the regular divisional seminar held twice a month.

The object of the local organization is fourfold: First, to keep in touch with the national organization; second, to secure prominent speakers; third, to give students experience in presenting their ideas to an audience, and fourth, to promote a greater unity and friendship among all students of the engineering profession.

The "Brown Bull," K. S. A. C.'s humorous publication, is only one year old but it already ranks with the best wit and humor magazines in the country.

The magazine was started last year by Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity, with Ralph O. Foster and Milton S. Eisenhower as the editors. The first issue contained no scandal or slander, but it did have a great deal of personal material.

Three issues were published this year with Milton Eisenhower as the editor. Each issue has showed marked improvement and, with all personal and slanderous material left out, the magazine has become one of the best. The "Brown Bull" is now published jointly by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, journalistic fraternities for men and women, respectively. It serves to advertise the college widely; but more than that, it contains a lot of wit and fun for the students.

The "Brown Bull" has a circulation of 2,000. Many copies go to alumni, newspapers and contemporary wit magazines, which quote the "Brown Bull" a great deal.

The Aggie Press Club is completing its second year as a distinctive college organization. Composed, as it is, of all students of journalism at K. S. A. C., the Press Club is capable of doing excellent service to the college. The publicity that the various members of the club gave to the college through the newspapers of the home towns while the club members were on their vacations, constitutes a unique and valuable service to the college.

A special edition of the "Collegian", student paper, was distributed by Press Club people to the many visitors at the International Wheat Show at Wichita in October. Other members acted as honorary guides for Farm and Home visitors on "Newspaper Day," February 10. At present, plans are under way for the reorganization of the Club, which will put it on a firmer footing and also make it more distinctive.

The "Kansas State Collegian," the official student paper, is printed on Tuesday and Friday of each week of the college year by the students of the department of Industrial Journalism.

It carries all of the news of the college and the student activities, and also runs special feature articles. This year several new features have been added to it, such as a humorous column and human interest stories. It is a strong supporter of the S. S. G. A.

The "Kansas State Collegian" has a circulation this year of nearly 2,000.

The Disabled War Veterans, composed of men at K. S. A. C. under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board of Vocational Education, was organized January 18, 1921. The Club was formed with the view of furthering the spirit of fellowship and co-operation resulting from service in the World War. The Club is a social organization, but its activities also extend to aid all the disabled veterans, and to co-operate with relief and public welfare organizations. The Club makes possible unified action in all matters of policy affecting the men in school.

About fifty Federal Board men entered school at the opening of the fall semester in 1920. Since that time the number has increased to over three hundred. The men are enrolled in every department of the college and in the various trade courses.

The work of supervising the men was at first in charge of Dean J. T. Willard. The District Office at St. Louis then installed a representative whose duty it was to take complete charge of all matters relating to the work of the men. O. W. Price held this position until the beginning of the second semester, when he was transferred to another school. He was succeeded by Edward L. Littleton, who represents the Federal Board at the present time.

The Y. W. C. A. at K. S. A. C. is an active organization with a membership of 550 students. The membership is open to all college women. The personal basis for membership has been adopted recently to take the place of the church membership basis, which was used. This association carries a budget of $3,000, the greater part of which is raised by a financial campaign. The various lines of work are carried on through eleven committees. The Committee chairmen with the four officers are organized into the first cabinet; the sub-chairmen of the committees are organized into the second cabinet. Vesper services are held regularly on Thursday afternoon. The nature of these meetings varies because of the desire to make them interesting, attractive and helpful to all the college women. The Y. W. C. A. is greatly indebted to the faculty friends and the town friends whose interest and assistance are of a definite value.

Y. M. C. A. (Con'd)

The following outline demonstrates that the two chief watchwords of the Y. M. C. A. are "service" and "efficiency."

Rooming Bureau—Over 700 rooms listed for incoming students. A bi-weekly revised list always kept in the office.

Employment Bureau—Over 600 men placed in touch with regular, part time, or odd job employment.

New Student—Members of this committee met all trains at the opening of college to help students find rooms, etc.

Social—Functions such as the Aggie Men's Mixer, Short Course Mixer, and bi-monthly socials with the Y. W. C. A. are held.

Extension—Teams were sent to many High Schools, where they put on "Go to College" chapels which created a great deal of interest.

Boys—Boy Scout Troup 5 is a "Y" organization. The Manhattan Sunday School League is fostered by this department.

Publicity—Keeps the public in touch with "Y" activities.

Promotion—Its chief duty is the formation of the Freshman Council, composed of about thirty men, in order that a group of responsible men may be trained in "Y" methods.

Industrial Service—The teaching of English to foreigners, the co-operation with negro churches and groups of young people, and the exchange of technical knowledge for practical use with groups of trade people.

Athletic—The organization of local clubs, etc., into athletic tournaments, especially Basket Ball.

Finance—Under direction of R. C. Nichols the student campaign netted $1,500, the faculty campaign $500.

Membership—The largest membership in the history of the organization, numbering over 600.

Use of "Y" Building—Several college organizations used the parlors for their monthly and bimonthly meetings. Twenty organizations, including School of Ag and High School, used the Basket Ball Court.

World Forum—A three-days' series of lectures and conferences on world conditions, by nine speakers of international reputation, held February 18 to 20, was one of the big successes of the year.

Service Counts Here

By WM. JARDINE

F YOU believe that money or social position or a big reputation is what counts most in life, you will not find what you want at the Kansas State Agricultural College; you will be disappointed.

If, on the other hand, you believe that service is what counts, that he profits most who serves best, you will find here an institution that measures up to your ideals. You will find an institution that will prepare you for the service you want to perform.

These are a few of the things that will give you this sort of preparation:

Practical instruction in your chosen vocation.

Training for civic usefulness and artistic appreciation.

A majority of the students earning at least part of their way.

Clean, honest, athletic, forensic, agricultural and journalistic contests.

A system whereby the students govern themselves and thus prepare for leadership in community activities.

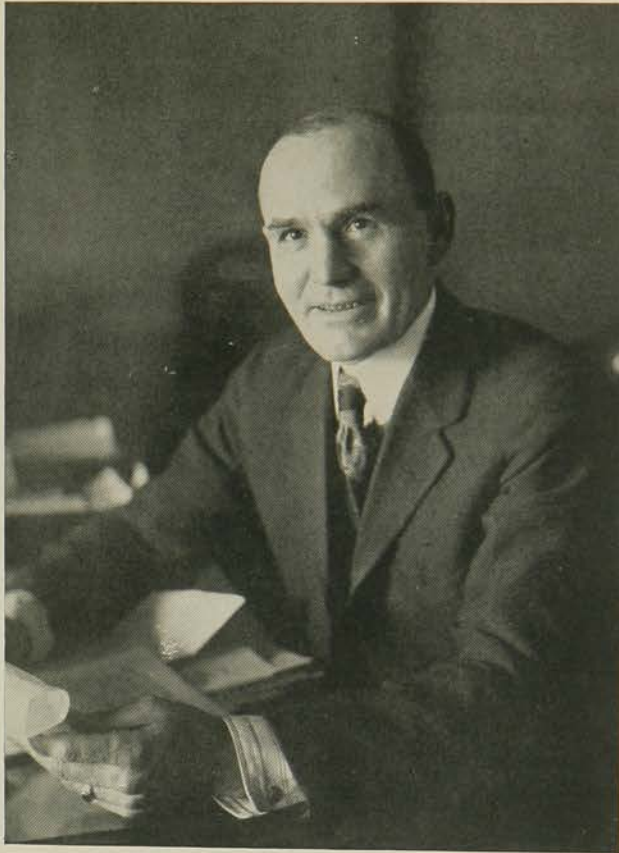

The development of the strong characteristics of each student.

A campus atmosphere, democratic, non-artificial, as much like that of the work-a-day world as possible.

Emphasis on perseverance, industry, determination and respect for labor as essential to success.

Constant co-operation between faculty and students in advancing the best interests of the college.

It is largely because of these policies that our graduates are leaders in scores of vocations in Kansas, in all parts of the United States and in many foreign countries. They lead because the college has taught them to serve.

PRESIDENT WM. M. JARDINE

When the average person thinks of a college president he pictures to himself an elderly man, gray with years and worry, very dignified and probably quite reserved. The students of his college quite often regard his views on matters of interest to them with an apologetic attitude. They think that so much time has elapsed since the president was of their age and opinion and that he has been in such a different environment to that of the college student that he is not responsible for his eccentric views on problems of student concern.

However true the above may be of some college presidents, very little of it can be applied to "Prexy" Jardine, for he isn't old, crabid or eccentric. He is one of the college young men with additional experience in life which qualifies him to see college problems from the correct angle.

In athletics there never was a more enthusiastic backer, and in other lines of college activities he is just as strong for the students.

His few words on the page opposite concerning the college emphasize the magnanimity of service—and he is the very personification of that word.

Again "Hip Hooray" for "Prexy."

The Student Self-Governing Association of the Kansas State Agricultural College had its beginning in the spring of 1920.

The purpose of this organization is to place the control and advancement of student interests and activities in the hands of the student body itself.

This self-governing body is regulating the social life of the students and is bringing about an active understanding between the students and the townspeople.

It is the desire of the S. S. G. A. to create an activity fee for all students, to promote a daily college paper, to foster a more wholesome social life and to elevate the standards of morals of the college.

Loyalty to K. S. A. C. is the slogan of this organization.

Division of Agriculture

Animal Husbandry students judging some of the College Shorthorns. Among this group of students are the men who composed the famous Kansas Aggie Stock Judging Team, which ranked first at the National Swine Show at Des Moines, fourth at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago and first at the National Western Live Stock Show at Denver

THE TRAINING of men for leadership in more than 100 specific agricultural occupations is the record of the Division of Agriculture. The fact that there is a shortage of capable leaders in American agriculture constitutes a great opportunity for young men who are pursuing work in this Division. Training in the sciences underlying agriculture, in agriculture itself, and in subjects important to citizenship, makes these young men abundantly able to take advantage of all these opportunities.

That they do take advantage of the opportunities is shown by their records after leaving college. Of the graduates in agriculture since 1900 only 14 per cent are following non-agricultural occupations, 50 per cent are farming, and 36 per cent are engaged in other agricultural occupations. In the list are agricultural teachers, county agents, extension specialists, experiment station investigators, seedsmen, millers, creamery operators, agricultural inspectors, orchard managers, and experts for banks, breed associations, railroad and fertilizer companies. These positions pay salaries beginning at about $2,000 a year, and going up as high as the capabilities of the men justify. The demand for high-class men in these and other agricultural occupations is always greater than the supply.

Specialization based on good general training is the keynote of modern agriculture as well as other industries. The student in the four-year agricultural curriculum first takes general basic subjects, and then in his junior year selects a major subject so as to get training for some special type of farming or other agricultural occupation.

There are seven departments in which to specialize: Agriculture Economics, Agronomy, Animal Husbandry, Dairy Husbandry, Milling Industry, Horticulture, and Poultry Husbandry.

Division of General Science

THE DIVISION of general science includes most of the oldest original departments of the college in which the fundamental and general subjects are taught upon which the special technical and vocational instruction is built. In it is also given instruction bearing directly upon a number of vocations such as teaching, journalism and various lines of scientific service or investigation. Activities in charge of departments of this division are extensively illustrated in this volume under athletic, military, musical, oratorical, dramatic and forensic organizations. The work of some of the departments can scarcely be presented in pictures. That of the science departments is often of such a character as to require considerable explanation for its understanding. The opportunity for work and study in the various sciences is exceptionally good. Not only are hundreds of students constantly under instruction, but original research in many lines is in progress continuously.

In the department of entomology not only is important work going on in the repressing of noxious insects, but an especially interesting phase of work has been developed in recent years, that of apiculture. The possibilities of the state in this industry have scarcely been touched, and the facilities for instruction in the principles and practice of beekeeping are excellent.

In connection with all of the sciences extensive laboratories are maintained, their capacity being sufficient to accommodate several hundred students simultaneously. The equipment and maintenance of such scientific laboratories is accomplished by an educational institution only at an expense which is prohibitive to small colleges.

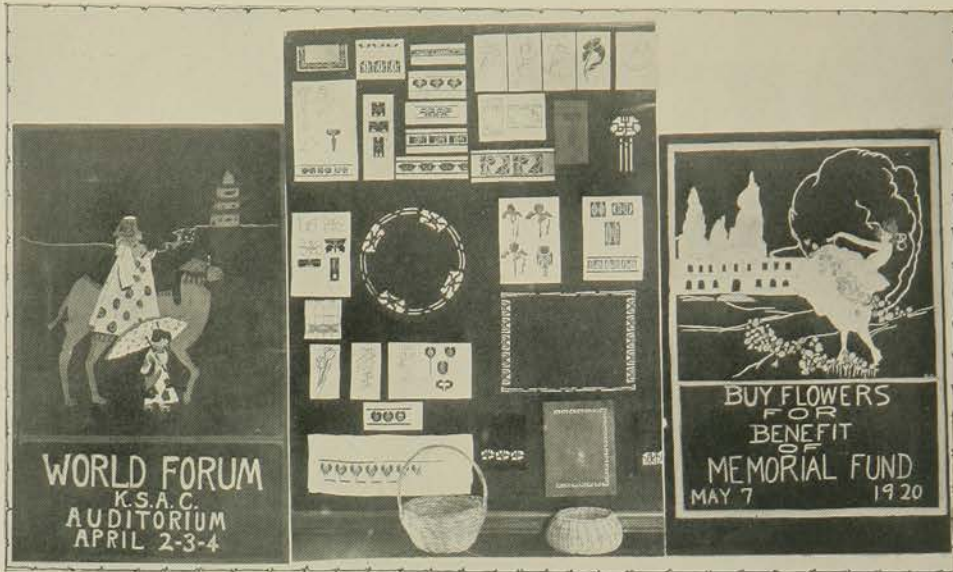

General Science (Continued)

In connection with the department of physics the wireless telegraph and wireless telephone installations always attract the attention of students and visitors. The weather predictions are sent out daily by wireless.

Division of Home Economics

The students in Home Economics learn how to design and construct various articles of use and interest, such as posters, baskets, table runners, etc. It is an instance of combining idealism with materialism or putting one's ideas into concrete form.

The fundamental and underlying motive in the Home Economics Course is the combining of practical household knowledge with a college education. Above are college girls working on costumes of original design.

Two Views of the Cafeteria Kitchen

The students in Institutional Management receive practical knowledge in this large kitchen, where food for 1,100 meals is prepared daily.

Graduates in Home Economics are now actively engaged in such fields as teaching, lecturing and demonstrating. They are also rendering a great service to the people in research laboratories, hospitals and other institutions. Probably their greatest service is the translating of their college training into active service as a home maker.

Miss Hortense Caton

Miss Rowena Thornburg

Miss Ruth Peck

Luella, or "Chubby" as she is better known on the hill, has won her many friends by her pleasing smile and disposition.

The Western Kansas winds were fruitful two years ago when they left Gertrude in our midst. Long will we remember her true blue eyes and raven hair.

Marcia, our Y. W. C. A. "Prexy" and May Queen, is a capable organizer and mixer. It is rumored that she can cook, too, although she did take the General Science course.

A typical pep-box is Hortense, who can fill any dark day with sunshine. She has always taken an active part in college affairs.

Rowena has won the admiration of many by her dramatic ability. She also has an abundance of pep and enthusiasm for other activities.

Our calm and steadfast girl is Ruth who is known by all. Her guiding hand will direct the Y. W. C. A. this coming year.

The true personality of these popular girls has been artistically portrayed in a highly satisfactory manner by

MAJOR FREDERICK B. TERRELL

Major Terrell is Professor of Military Science and Tactics Corps at the Kansas State Agricultural College. He was assigned to this institution in July, 1919. At that time the R. O. T. C. had a low rating with the War Department on account of the small number of men enrolled in Military Science. Major Terrell has gradually built the corps until at present the college has an Infantry, a Coast Artillery, a Machine Gun and a Veterinary unit established here, and the promise of a Cavalry unit to be established by next fall. The course of instruction has been diversified and made much more interesting. It has also been standardized the same as the other college courses.

Major Terrell has a strong and pleasing personality, and is very well liked by all who know him. He has always taken an active interest in College affairs, and is a member of the Athletic Board, of the Student Affairs Committee, the Freshman Council of the Y. M. C. A. and is assisting in coaching the Baseball Team. He showed exceptional Military ability in the recent World War, rising from the rank of Captain to that of Lt. Colonel. While in France he served with the 1st Corps, 6th Division in the Vosges and the Argonne sections, receiving two citations for meritorious service.

E. L. CLAEREN
Major Q. M. C., U. S. Reserve

Major Chapman came to K. S. A. C. in August, 1919. He is a graduate of West Point and is a man of proven military ability. In the recent World War he was a Major in the Army of Occupation at Coblenz, Germany. Coming here direct from his service in Europe he has been able to instruct the Coast Artillery unit of the R. O. T. C. in the practical use of the Artillery in War time.

Major Davidson is Commandant of Cadets, and is first assistant to Major Terrill. He came to the College in 1919. He is a graduate of West Point and is well versed in all Military tactics. Since coming to this institution he has been very influential in increasing the efficiency of the entire Cadet Corps. In addition to his duties in the military department he has assisted the Athletic department by conducting classes in boxing and is largely responsible for the development of this sport at K. S. A. C.

Major Claeren is an excellent type of military man, having served in some military capacity since 1884 when he enlisted as a private and served until 1910. Upon retiring from active service he was made assistant to the Commandant at K. S. A. C. During the last war he was recalled to active service as Captain Q. M. C., where he served until discharged. In January, 1920, he received his commission as Major Q. M. C., U. S. Reserve.

Lieut. Brower has charge of the Veterinary unit established last year and is responsible for the placing of this section among the first five units in the country. Lieut. Brower was the first officer appointed by the War Department in the Veterinary Corps.

Captain C. M. Jackson, Inf. U. S. A., came to K. S. A. C. from Wentworth Military Academy in February of this year. He is taking the place of Major Van Fleet as Assistant to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics and will be assistant coach of football next fall. He is the personification of pep and enthusiasm and is well liked by all members of the Cadet Corps.

The military department of K. S. A. C. is one of the best equipped and most efficient in the Central States. Since the war, Artillery, Machine Gun and Veterinary units have been added to the corps and a Cavalry unit is assured for next year. The department has received over $300,000 worth of equipment from the Government, including uniforms, rifles, machine guns, field pieces, trucks, band instruments and many other valuable instruments. The War Department has also detailed four Majors, one Captain and one Lieutenant here as instructors, as well as sending twelve enlisted men to carry on the detail work of the Corps.

The Corps is divided into the basic and advanced courses, the basic being required but the advanced to be elected from those desiring to continue in military work while in college. The cadet officers are chosen from those taking the advanced course. They receive three hours college credit, sixteen dollars a month and uniforms from the Government.

K. S. A. C. is proud of its military department, of its Regular Army officers, and it is also proud of the type of enlisted men that the Professor of Military Science and Tactics has picked to be his assistants in the work of making the department one of the best in the United States.

All these men are World War veterans and are serving from 1st to 10th enlistments. There are veterans of the Indian, Cuban, Philippine, Mexican and World War campaigns.

They are the highest type of Regular Army men and are the kind one would expect to find working with college men.

In addition to performing their work in the military department, four of them assist the Athletic Department in carrying on the Physical Education classes.

Master Sgt. McCarey, Sgt. Connelly and Sgt. Hoar have recently been assigned to the college, thus bringing the number up to twelve now on duty.

Decorations for Junior-Senior Prom, 1920

Merton Otto Receives the Crook

In this Date Section we have tried to give the main events of the year since the last Royal Purple was published. We have necessarily fallen short of what we would liked to have put in because of limited finance for space, photography and engraving. However, we have summed up the more important events as we seen them and put them in.

We would liked to have put it in a chronological order, but the arrangement of cuts would not permit. Here it is, though. Go after it and devour it.

We hope it recalls many of the memorable occasions to your mind as you look through and read this section, the same as it did to us.

Crowning of the Queen of May

Miss Mildred Arends was chosen as the Queen of May for the spring of 1920. The day was ideal, the weather man having his dates mixed up and the rain reaching us the next day. It is unnecessary to say that the girls, all of them were ideal, etc., etc., etc., that can always be taken for granted safely providing they're Aggie girls.

This year the Queen of May was elected to be none other than Marcia Seeber, the Y. W. president, and a thousand or two other titles. We are sure she will do justice to the occasion for two main reasons: first, she's Marcia Seeber, and second, she belongs to the famous class of 1921.

Towards the latter part of last year the Ags began to do things up in great style. Starting one day with a parade of the stock that has made the college famous and has been partly responsible for keeping the word Agriculture in Kansas State Agricultural College, they proclaimed to the students and faculty of K. S. A. C. and to whatever visitors happened to be on the hill that day that there was a great and successful Agricultural Division of this school that was open to their inspection at all times, and especially did the students and faculty of this renowned division invite their inspection on this great day of days.

A group of mares and colts at the Kansas State Agricultural College

During the week student stock judging, dairy judging and grain judging contests were held. These contests were open to all the students, regardless of divisional registration. Below are scenes from the dairy judging contest.

Are you prepared for school to reopen? Well, it has any way and the men are out for football, working hard that the Aggies may have a successful season. They are being coached by Chas. Bachman, the greatest coach in the Missouri Valley. Soon we will have a game and the night before there will be a big "PEP" meeting.

It will be a big one, too, as Mike Ahearn and Hiram King will put on a one-act tragedy entitled "Out-Herrodng Herrod." Both of them are regular Herrods at telling funny stories. They will be at their best at this first pep meeting of the year because they can use the same stories that they used last year and get by pretty well because there are a great many new people here who never heard them before—the freshmen. Above we see Mike and King preparing for the occasion.

JARDINE PRATT DYKSTRA MAXWELL BLAKE
LAMB MIDDLETON CLAMMER BREWER BLACKMAN JENSEN

Speaking about football and athletics in general, here we have a squint at our very best friends along this line as well as all other lines. The above men comprise the executive board of the chamber of commerce. We're strong for them and they're strong for us. The college and the Chamber of Commerce make a pretty good team.

Swine Judging Team

Standing—F. W. BELL (Coach), CLELL NEWELL, E. D. MCCOLLUM, H. J. HENNEY
Sitting—J. FARR BROWN, HILLARY MATHER, MERTON OTTO

Even if there was no Engineering or any other division on the hill the college would still have a right to sing its praises of its men. The above group of men are the fellows who took first at the National Swine Show at Des Moines, Iowa.

Dairy Judging Team

G. M. DRUM R. H. LUSH

H. W. CAVE (coach) C. YOUNG

Here is another team that makes our school famous. They carried away many honors from the Dairy Shows at Waterloo, Iowa, and at Chicago.

1921

The Gym, decorated for the Barn Warming Dance

The Barn Warming Dance was held for the purpose of making it possible to send the Stock Judging team to Chicago, where it placed fourth among twenty-one teams from United States and Canada at the International Live Stock Show. Such high placing is made possible by the earnest efforts on the part of the students and the very efficient coach, Prof. F. W. Bell.

The Men's Glee Club

This is that Aggie Glee Club that you've been hearing about. They made quite a trip this spring over the state, singing at various high schools. Everywhere they were given a warm welcome and a very earnest invitation to come again.

The Short Course Men's Basket Ball Team

Basket Ball season was well under way by this time and the Aggies had showed up well so far. Of course, we know how they came out by this time, but no one knew for sure at the time this picture was taken. Remember we had just beaten K. U. and were feeling fine. We had a right to feel so, too.

The best feeling of the year tho was after Missouri had gone through the whole year without defeat up to their last game with the Aggies—the last one of the season for themselves as well as for us. Then they couldn't do the impossible—make a clean slate. They were awfully good on floor work and on passing and at shooting goals, but they didn't have the athletic "guts" to hold on like the Aggie team did. They couldn't hold out long enough, and the team of men, so well coached by Knoth and managed by Capt. Bungler, forged ahead of the Tiger team and spoiled their longed for clean season.

Again, for the Aggies hurrah!

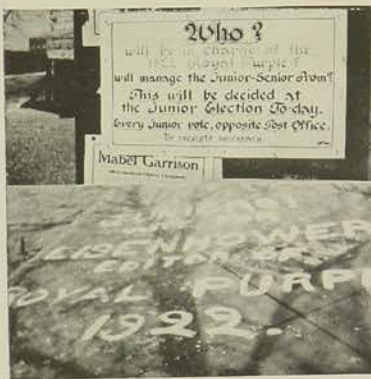

Purple Masque

Presents the
Three Act Comedy—

“Come out of the Kitchen”

The Engineers hold open house for the rest of the school. They had the way mapped out for us to walk, so that we wouldn't miss anything. Every visitor was struck either by the marvels of the many acts of commanding the natural sciences by the engineers or by the natural personality of the guides. Occasionally some were struck by flying sparks around where the men were welding.

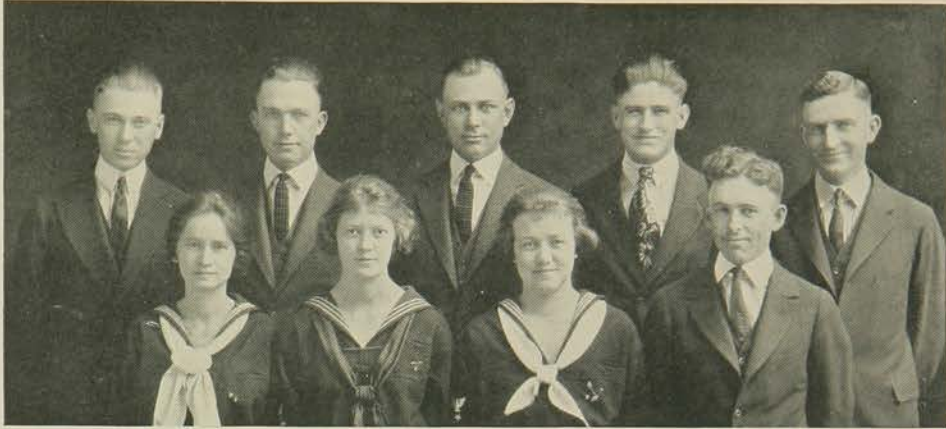

“Knappie” and Sawyer have done this act many times during the year. No wonder Tom gets a haircut every ten days instead of every two weeks as he did before he became Manager of the Royal Purple.

The Juniors held their election for next year's staff. Never was there any more excitement at elections, football games or dog fights. After reams and reams of paper had been printed, setting forth the various qualifications of the different men, the day came and the class decided on Howard as editor, Coles as business manager and Wilson as manager for Junior-Senior Prom.

The Royal Purple Staff

KNAPP OTTO SAWYER WATSON McCOLLUM
 SEEBER ANDREWS GRAHAM MERSHON

BETWEEN twenty and thirty years ago there were brought forth into this world nine small crying (except Irene Graham, she was born laughing) bundles of humanity, whose pictures, taken not many years later, you may behold on the page opposite this. Perhaps their parents were proud of them at that time even though they have given up hopes by now. Anyway, every one of those nine grew to their present age. Collected as they have been by whatever circumstances that brought each to this college and after juggling them around finally precipitated them into the famous class of 1921, each has felt the debt that he owes to his class and to his Alma Mater.

Having been chosen to collect and edit the greatest Royal Purple in the history of the college (for none other would do the class justice) each member of the staff has worked long and hard to accomplish that end. The midnight oil has not been spared, neither have the photography supplies.

We have tried to give the school a book that will justly do credit to the college, and a book that wherever seen will reflect honor on our Alma Mater, and will call forth praise for this institution.

We realize that there are mistakes in this volume, but remember when you come across them that there are two sides to the question. Copy has been late names have come to us misspelled, and many have totally disregarded notices of all kinds. We have done our best. We have been open to suggestions at all times. We have delayed our copy that we might collect items of importance to the school.

We want to thank every one who assisted in any way in making this book what it is. We hope it pleases you.

EVENTUALLY, WHY NOT NOW?

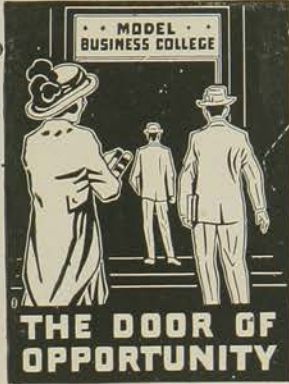

TWO OF A KIND

Business the Best Vocation

There was a time when the professions were the only honorable occupations and were also regarded as the only ones worth while from a financial point of view.

Today, the big earnings are made by business men. Salaries, dividends and commissions run into figures far beyond anything that doctors, attorneys, or other professional men may ever hope to reach.

Business pays from the very start. While it is a common thing for the young person entering a profession to wait for a volume of patronage sufficient to furnish him a living, it takes only about one-fourth as much time to prepare for this splendid vocation as for the professions. And, remember, a business education is necessary, regardless of what your life's work is to be. In Wichita, there are many opportunities for young people of limited means to "make their way." A little money, a willingness to work, and a determination to succeed, is all you need.

Write this great school of business today for big, free Prospectus, explaining all.

Side-Stepping

DID you ever notice how peculiar most of us humans are in the matter of side-stepping? The man who can't play golf dubs it "an old man's game"; the chap who can't dance will side-step a two-step and ask his partner to "sit it out" with him; the man who never had the pluck or price to go to Europe shouts "See America First." One of the firmest policies of this firm is not to side-step. Every day in our advertising we tell you what we have, and we tell you the whole truth. We don't claim to be infallible—all we can do is to try to have everything you want just when you want it and at prices that are reasonable. We step straight ahead successfully, because we never side-step.

POWER FARMING

In these days of intensive farming, where power machinery has to such a large extent supplanted animal and hand power, it is a great satisfaction to know that your fuel and lubrication requirements are well provided for.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products have behind them not only the will to make them efficient, but also the ability to do so, gained from experience and knowledge acquired from contact with every kind of machine.

RED CROWN GASOLINE

Made by this company is designed specifically for use in internal combustion engines. It has the correct range of boiling-point fractions to make the motor start easily, pick up quickly, and develop all the power the engine is designed to produce. It is a high achievement in gasoline production.

You cannot go wrong if you use Red Crown Gasoline, as we make but one kind of gasoline for internal combustion engines.

POLARINE OILS

There are four grades of Polarine, differing in consistency only, not in quality. Each is made to meet a specific piston clearance condition.

One of them will correctly lubricate every make of tractor, truck or automobile.

Ask any Standard Oil (Indiana) agent or representative to advise you the correct grade of Polarine for you to use—he has a chart of recommendations which eliminates all guesswork.

There Are a Lot of Good Newspapers in Kansas

But there is one newspaper published in the Capitol City, known by nearly everyone in the State, and read every day in the year by more than 35,000 Kansans.

Every issue gives all the important world happenings and in addition is brimful of news of Kansas and Kansans.

It is the newspaper of Kansas.

A word of appreciation

WE WISH to thank the members of the class of 1921 for the generous patronage they have extended us during the four years they have been in Manhattan. We have appreciated this and have endeavored to give the kind of service and the quality that make each purchase one of mutual satisfaction. If we have succeeded in our aim kindly tell the many freshmen whom you send to K. S. A. C. next fall.

One Last Word

S THE staff of the 1921 Royal Purple we wish to thank every member of the faculty and student body who assisted in any way in the production of this book. We want to thank the various organizations for their loyal support and co-operation.

To each advertiser, who even under the financial thunder cloud showed their good will towards K. S. A. C. by backing this volume, we voice our appreciation.

In behalf of the Senior Class, we say to the Juniors, in the familiar words so much used during the war:

“Carry on.” Make the coming year your big year. You receive in proportion as you give. See that your Alma Mater never goes lacking for your heartiest support in any worthy line of activity.

You are soon to be the Seniors. Whatever you do will have a great deal of bearing on what the student body as a whole does. Co-operate in all lines of activity, and drive consistently forward. See that you set your aims and ideals right and then fight unceasingly towards your goal.
