Kansas

VERY SOON after the discovery of America by Columbus in 1492, Kansas fell within the region claimed by England, based on the exploration of the Cabots. Spain next claimed this land as a result of the discovery of the Mississippi by DeSoto and the exploration of Coronado—the first white man to tread the Kansas soil. LaSalle next won this land for France. Then it became part of the United States in the Louisiana Purchase of 1803.

Kansas was first made famous by the Kansas-Nebraska Bill of 1854, and by the struggle between the free-state men and the pro-slavery forces that followed. The first legislature met at Pawnee, near Ft. Riley, the center of the United States. It soon adjourned to Shawnee Mission, near the Missouri border, where it passed the famous pro-slavery bogus laws. This was the heroic period of Kansas history when Governor Charles Robinson, Senator Jim Lane, and John Brown were among the chief leaders.

First the steamboat and later the railway reached as far west as Kansas City (first known as Westport Landing). From this point the pony express raced for California, and the Santa Fe and Oregon Trails made Kansas a pathway. In this western world the Indians, being crowded from their last hunting ground, waged their final war, while Kansans played well their part in the winning of the prairie.

On January 29, 1861, President Buchanan signed the bill that admitted Kansas to statehood as the thirty-fourth star in the blue field of Old Glory. On February 9, Dr. Charles Robinson was inaugurated the first governor of the new state, and on the same day Jefferson Davis was elected President of the Confederate States of America. Thus directly was the story of "bleeding Kansas" linked to that of Civil War. Well has it been said that "Kansas is the focus of freedom where the rays of heat and light concentrated into a flame that melted the manacles of the slaves and cauterized the heresies of state sovereignty and disunion."

In the supreme test of Civil War, Kansas furnished to the Union army a larger proportion of her population than did any other state or territory. "It is impossible," says Ingalls, "to overestimate the value of citizenship in a state that sent more soldiers into the Union armies than it had voters when Sumter fell." As one of our historians has said, "Kansas has a significant and memorable history; the territorial struggle converted a wilderness, which had little claim upon the interest of mankind, into historic ground."

After the Civil War the homestead act, the rich prairie soil, and the halo of the Kansas struggle, materially aided by the railroads, all conspired together to make Kansas become a great soldier state which grew with startling rapidity. Drouth and grasshoppers and prairie fires could not conquer these Kansans now any more than the wrath of man could conquer them in the territorial period. Kansas became a typical frontier state, a land of faith and hope and charity. The frontiersmen believed in the future. They believed in democracy and the square deal.

As we review ever so briefly the history of our State, we do not wonder that Senator Ingalls was led to declare: "The history of Kansas is written in capitals. It is punctuated with exclamation points. Its verbs are imperative. Its adjectives are superlative. The commonplace and prosaic are not defined in its lexicon. Its statistics can be stated only in the language of hyperbole."

The College

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE is the oldest state educational institution in Kansas. It is one of the oldest colleges of its kind in the world. As a state and national institution it was opened to students on September 2, 1863.

In its sixty-three years the College has made a world-wide reputation as a superior institution for research and instruction in agriculture, engineering, home economics, veterinary medicine, the industrial sciences, and in various closely-related fields.

Each year students come to the College from all parts of Kansas and from about thirty other states and fifteen foreign countries. The presence on the campus of students from many parts of both hemispheres—students representing a diversity of experience, opinion, history, and educational interest—provides an interesting and stimulating intellectual and social atmosphere. The fact that in their training the faculty members represent one hundred and twelve colleges and universities in the United States and foreign countries, is an important factor in providing the liberality of attitude which an institution must have if it is to be truly educational. A further important factor is that the College provides, and the law by which it was founded requires, opportunities for liberal training as well as for technical training; opportunities for training in music, dramatics, literature, history, and many other liberalizing subjects.

The more than five thousand graduates of K. S. A. C. are distributed throughout the United States and in many foreign countries, where they are exemplifying the ideals that the College represents; ideals of sound scholarship, vocational efficiency, good citizenship, and wholesome living.

The College emphasizes the importance of well-balanced development of the student. It encourages the student to combine technical training with liberalizing study and activity; to work hard and to play well; to be an individual and at the same time to be a useful member of a community by subordinating some of his individualism to the common welfare; to prepare himself to make a good living and to live a satisfactory life.

DEAN J. T. WILLARD

The Division

THE Division of General Science includes the departments which impart instruction in general and scientific subjects for all of the students. The technical curricula with rather clearly directed vocational objectives include many subjects from this Division which are of fundamental service in the acquisition of the technical knowledge, and others designed to give the student preparation for intelligent participation in public affairs and appreciation of arts that appeal to cultivated taste and emotion.

The Division also administers curricula in which most of the characterizing subjects are from its own departments. The curriculum in General Science is the lineal descendant of the original single curriculum which the institution offered for many years, although it has been modified so as to be almost beyond recognition.

of General Science

THE CURRICULUM in Industrial Journalism was added in 1910 and that in Industrial Chemistry in 1919. Through several years of gradual approach beginning in 1916 the four-year curricula in music were developed and were first offered in full form in 1922. The curriculum in Rural Commerce which is now followed by nearly three hundred students was established in 1921. The latest candidates for student favor are the two curricula in Physical Education one for men, and one for women, the freshman years of which are being given this year.

All of the curricula administered by this Division include liberal provisions for electives by means of which professional subjects in education and extensive groups in science, language or general cultural subjects may be chosen.

DEAN L. E. CALL

The Division

FARMING must ever be the important vocation of Kansas people. The vast expanse of fertile, rolling prairie of necessity must become more and more productive to supply food and raiment to the increasing population of the world. To accomplish this, the farmer of the future must be skilled in the art and trained in the principles of his profession and he must be served by town and city business and professional men who have a sympathetic understanding of the needs of agriculture.

Success in farming will come to those who combine high qualities of character with good judgment and adequate training in the fundamental principles underlying their profession. Success to the business man serving the farmer will result in a large measure at least from a clear understanding of the needs of his patrons and of the knowledge of how to meet these needs efficiently and economically.

of Agriculture

THE FOUR-YEAR curriculum in Agriculture, embracing as it does, training in so many of the basic subjects that constitute the foundation of a general education, is admirably prepared to fit young men for both modern farm life and service to agriculture. Well balanced as it is in the theoretical, cultural, scientific, practical, and economic subjects, it affords an opportunity for training that rarely comes amiss in this work-a-day world.

The Division of Agriculture provides adequate training in more than one hundred useful and interesting occupations, on the farm, in the classroom, in scientific laboratories, in packing plants, in greenhouses, in flour mills, in creameries, in grain elevators, in editorial work, in farm managerial and advisory capacities, and in a score of public positions serving agriculture. The demand for well-trained men in agriculture has always exceeded the supply.

THE MATERIAL basis of our modern civilization is the result of science and engineering. More and more is the present era becoming the industrial age. Every labor-saving appliance manufactured is an added tribute to engineering attainment. A constantly increasing number of engineers will be required to maintain and advance our present position. A college education has now become practically essential for engineering work.

The general trend in engineering has been reflected in the collegiate enrollment in the division which has increased from slightly more than five hundred in 1920 to almost one thousand for the present year. This division has now become the largest engineering school in Kansas and one of the largest three between the Mississippi river and the Pacific Coast states.

Engineering

IN ORDER to meet the demands of students in this region, four-year courses are offered in agricultural engineering, architectural engineering, architecture, landscape architecture, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, flour mill engineering and mechanical engineering. In addition to these, two-year trade courses are offered in various lines of shop work for those who find it impossible to take one of the courses leading to a degree.

The engineering experiment station undertakes research and test work of engineering and industrial value to the people of Kansas. All of the road materials for use in Federal aid construction are tested, and also lubricating oils used by the state institutions.

IN 1873, President J. A. Anderson pronounced the following idea of the education of women:

“By an act of the Legislature this institution has always been open for the education of females. What is to be aimed at in her education?

A girl has a right to an education as precisely adapted to a woman's work as a boy's is preparatory to man's work. She has a right to all the knowledge which related sciences can contribute to her intelligence, adeptness, and efficiency in the art of making a home.”

Home Economics

FIFTY-THREE years have elapsed since the pioneer college work in Home Economics was offered here in the department of sewing, organized under this enthusiastic advocate of vocational education. From that time up to the present the Kansas State Agricultural College has maintained outstanding work in Home Economics.

Most of the graduates from this Division enter the profession of home-making, but there is scarcely a ranking Home Economics college faculty throughout the land in which the Division is not represented by its graduates. Today, as yesterday, the Division of Home Economics offers "that education precisely adapted to a woman's work," meeting by its increased curricula and courses the growing conception of "woman's work."

DEAN R. R. DYKSTRA

THE Kansas State Agricultural College is one of the leaders in veterinary education. The first veterinary degree conferred by it was in 1907. Since that time a total of 268 such degrees have been granted.

A survey indicates that the 268 graduates in veterinary medicine are engaged in the following activities:

1. Army veterinary officers.
2. Government veterinarians (meat inspectors, sanitary inspectors, tuberculosis eradication workers, etc.).
3. State veterinarians (dairy inspectors, tuberculosis eradication work, etc.).
4. Salaried veterinarians (dairy companies, cattle companies, etc.).
5. Veterinary instructors (veterinary colleges, agricultural colleges, extension workers, etc.).

Veterinary Medicine

6. Veterinary inspectors (milk inspectors, health officers, etc.).
7. General veterinary practitioners.
8. Small-animal practitioners.
9. Veterinary research workers.
10. Veterinarians for serum companies, city zoos, humane societies, poultry stations, etc.).

No profession offers greater opportunities to those genuinely interested in animals and professional career.

No institution is better housed, equipped, or officered for the teaching of veterinary medicine than the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Division of Extension

DEAN H. J. UMBERGER

IT MAY be trite to say that we are living in a most progressive age, but such is a fact nevertheless; and consequently one of the greatest educationally as well.

Progress and education are interdependent. Probably each is responsible for the other, but certainly progress is dependent upon education, or practical and fundamental knowledge, and cannot take place any faster than our educational development. This is an important fact not only from the standpoint of the public, but from that of the individual and particularly he who has had the advantage of a course of instruction in an institution of higher learning secured by his residence there.

Regardless of the standard of academic knowledge one may attain, such standard can only be maintained by constantly supplementing it with recently discovered facts. He, who has had the advantage of a degree from an institution of higher learning, must recognize this responsibility. Since progress is dependent upon knowledge, one's ability to keep abreast of progressive times is determined by his ability to keep himself informed.

Educational institutions in recent years are coming to recognize more their function in assisting those individuals who desire to maintain their knowledge. They realize that they must concern themselves not alone with resident teaching, but also in assisting individuals, who are engaged in the every day walks of life, to develop their fundamental and theoretical knowledge. The activities of modern institutions are no longer confined to the campus proper, but wherever the individual may of necessity be in the every day business of earning a living for himself. These institutions have a vital function to perform in the life of him who has a realization that his ability to progress in his vocation is dependent upon a constant source of practical and fundamental knowledge.

Division of Summer School

THE purpose of the Summer School is chiefly to provide opportunities for study to those who can not make use of the regular sessions. It thus gives to a great many teachers and professional people the privilege of advanced study during a part or all of the summer vacation. Also many students and investigators prefer to work eleven months rather than nine and to these the summer school offers its wide opportunities.

The Summer School of 1926 offered three hundred sixty-seven courses in both undergraduate and graduate work. The Divisions of Agriculture, of Engineering, of General Science and of Home Economics were all represented. Daily public lectures were also given on scientific, social and other subjects at 4 P. M. each day. Other special features were the School of Community Leadership and the Conferences on High School Leadership. Many special lectures, historic films, and a patriotic pageant were a part of the Summer School entertainment program.

As a mark of the earnest character of the work, attention may be called to the number of graduate students which was greatly in excess of the regular semesters. This means that a large number of teachers were enrolled taking advanced work for a higher degree or who were engaged in research in their special fields. Possibly no session of the College serves the state in a larger way or renders a more useful service to its citizens than the Summer Session. It offers a great variety of work at a time of the year when conditions are especially favorable for study, and when a great many subjects can be studied to better advantage than in any other part of the year.

DEAN W. H. ANDREWS

DEAN MARY P. VAN ZILE

Dean of Women

THE position of Dean of Women is based on the ideal for students of the highest physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual development. Special interests of the Dean of Women include the student problems involved in living conditions, health, employment, vocational guidance, discipline, and social and religious life. She spends much time in serving on committees, in attending student meetings, in conference with students, parents and housemothers, but these duties do not express the deeper significance of her work. It is rather a service which has for its aim the effecting of better adjustments between students and the faculty, and the world in which they must live. Routine duties are the only means to the great end of the development of personality and character by the conscious and comprehensive adjustment of personal and group needs.

The Registrar

REGISTRAR JESSIE MCD.
MACHIR

COLLEGE records are no longer mere lists of subjects, credit hours and grades written down in formidable looking books, row upon row, but have come to be chronicles of human events crowded into four of the best years in any young person's life. A memory book, as it were, to be forever cared for and guarded by the college registrar.

The personality of the student is brought into the record by mounting his photograph upon the page and so is laid the foundation of a record of personal characteristics and to the recorder this girl's record suggests womanly sweetness and charm, and that boy's record a pair of honest eyes and a frank smile.

As the record progresses with the passing of the years, it shows the organizations with which the student is identified, literary or social, and whether he has participated in debates, athletics or other of the various contests sponsored by the college. The officers and cabinet members of the Young Women's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Association are shown on the records of those so honored. Sophomore and Senior honors and election to Phi Kappa Phi are given a prominent place—in short, any special activity or honor which would describe the personality and the college life of the student is considered an important part of the record.

Finally, when the last examination has been taken and the student, dignified by cap and gown, has received his diploma from the hand of the President, a final item is inscribed on his record, "Graduated June third, nineteen hundred and twenty-six," and if the recorder can add "With Honor" or "With High Honor," the college joins with that student and his parents in the pride of real achievement. And so ends the written history of any student, but the memory of the womanly sweetness and of the honest eyes and the frank smile will remain in the hearts of students and faculty alike.

In Memoriam

DR. MARGARET RUSSEL

1891-1926

TO THE memory of Dr. Margaret Russel, Professor of English, her friends, the students of Kansas State Agricultural College, solemnly and reverently dedicate this page. With her high scholarship and pleasing instruction she earned for herself unusual respect and admiration. With her understanding of friendship and her great capacity for friendship she made of every student a personal, if not an intimate, friend. Those who had the privilege of her acquaintance and friendship will long revere and love the kindly, courageous and inspiring spirit that was, in this life, Margaret Russel.

The Faculty

THE number of faculty members in the various divisions of the Kansas State Agricultural College has increased very greatly in the past twelve or thirteen years. Perhaps the most noticeable of these is the increase in the Division of Extension. The total number of faculty members employed in this division has increased nearly two and one-half times in the past twelve years. Not far behind the Division of Extension comes the Division of General Science, Division of Agriculture and Division of Engineering. The total number employed in these divisions has practically doubled. All the other divisions show a very decided increase. The popularity of summer school is shown in the fact that the appropriations now have increased thirteen times that which was appropriated for the running of this division twelve years ago. The following is a list of the total number of instructors employed in the various divisions in 1913; also the total number employed in these various divisions at the present time:

History of Class of 1926

By CLASS HISTORIAN

EACH CLASS history that shows its unashamed type face usually possesses a distressing similarity to every other outgrowth of the species. This effort promises to be no exception.

To begin with, we are quite agreed that the members of the class of 1926 have passed through four years of college life, unless the point system has necessitated an extended term in certain cases. But of the latter group, there will be found very few from this latest class of promising young citizens.

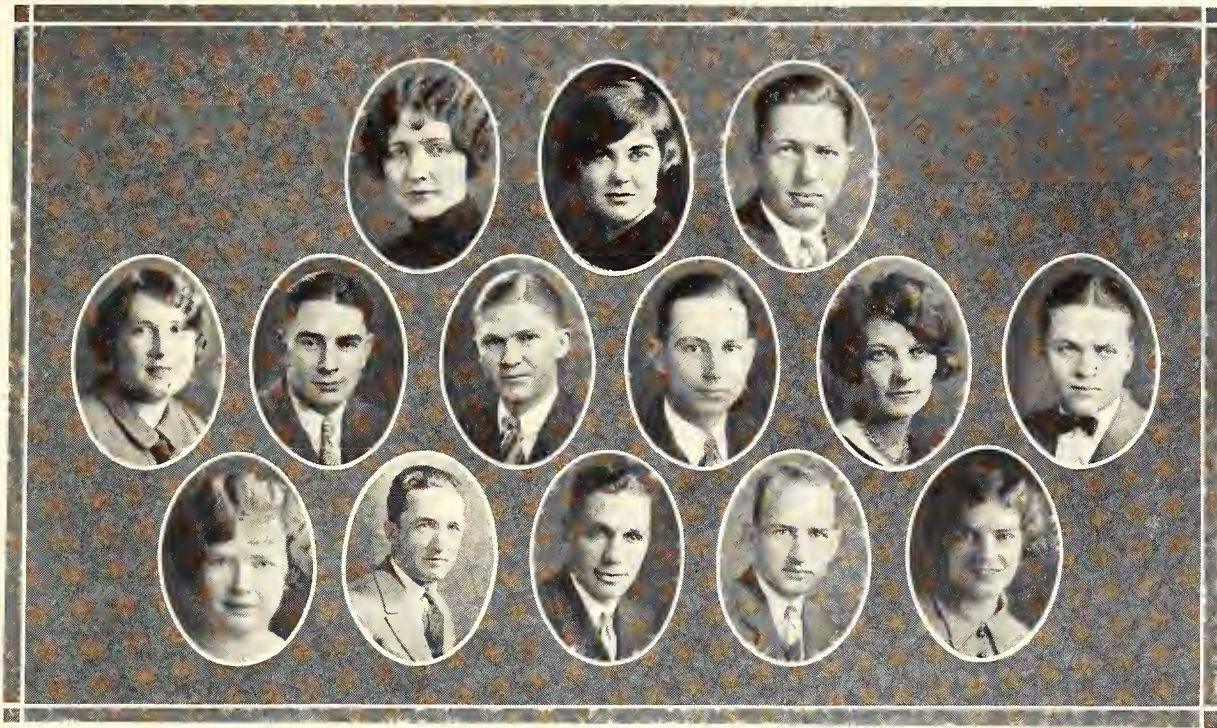

The 1926 class has done nothing that could be marked as extraordinary in the course of its four years of experience, unless it would be the part it contributed to the founding and developing of two almost man-sized political parties during its last year in college. These organizations served as the means for upholding platforms of such purity, the like of which has not before been dreamed at K. S. A. C. The chief objective of these student political groups is the stimulation of more class interest in the regular semester class elections.

Of course, this class which has occupied most of our attention during the last four years, has not spent its entire time at the polls nor in burning nocturnal electricity in an attempt to achieve the desirable, and sometimes elusive "M" average. There have been the regular number of parties, the prom, and numerous other activities to break the monotony. Nor has the class failed to contribute its share of outstanding persons in affairs on the hill; athletics, debate, oratory, judging teams, and honorary fraternities, all claim members of the class of 1926.

The members of this year's class have watched the growth of the memorial stadium with pride, knowing that they have been active in contributing liberally to the stadium fund.

As we leave college this spring, we have mingled feelings of regret and anticipation for what we shall encounter in the world outside our Alma Mater.

JUNIOR

Junior Class History

GENIUSES are born, not made: Class histories are written but seldom read. So once more an attempt at the usual mass of unread words will go into the pages of a Royal Purple.

Like most Junior classes, we started out as Freshmen, and most of us hope to attain the heights of a Senior.

In the year of 1923 one more "mob" of innocent, unsophisticated freshmen entered K. S. A. C. Like most Freshmen we displayed a great deal of ignorance and were proud of it. As we look back over the three years, most of us are still displaying a certain amount of ignorance, but are not so proud of it—or perhaps we have merely become accustomed to it.

It seems impossible for the historian to mention the great number of scholastic attainments of the class—as is the usual procedure—for we seem to be quite ordinary along that line; making about the usual number of Es and the usual number of flunks. We have had about the ordinary number of class meetings; about the ordinary number of dances, and can only claim an almost unanimous subscription to the Stadium Fund.

Perhaps the one outstanding feature in our college career is the fact that many of the leaders and prominent members in the movement for better politics on this campus are members of the Junior class.

And after all we have one year left in which to attain great things. We may attain them and we may not: But in all events we have had an immensely interesting college life and we are casting no sorrowful backward glances—only cheerful ones ahead toward one more year at K. S. A. C.

Sophomore Class History

TO TABULATE, within the space here allotted, all the remarkable achievements and activities of the Class of '28 is, of course, an impossibility. It would be possible, perhaps, with any ordinary class of students, but in our case it is very different. To merely list the outstanding leaders would require more space than is allotted us.

Custom has designated us as the Class of 1928. Those of us who attend the summer schools or subscribe to the correspondence school may by the Grace of God and a few Deans, graduate at that time but do not worry, students of other classes, most of us will remain long, long after that date to guide the policies of and lend an uplifting hand to our beloved Alma Mater.

As the Class of '28 we can boast of being very active in football, basket ball and track; also in debate and Purple Masque plays. More students in this Sophomore class are and will continue to be in more activities at K. S. A. C. than any other class heretofore.

FRESHMAN

History of the Freshman Class

By CLASS HISTORIAN

IN THE Fall of the year nineteen hundred twenty-five, the faculty and older students of K. S. A. C. were greeted with a new group of "young green things" called freshmen; however, they were alive and going. After enrolling, they grew, intellectually, faster and faster. These freshmen came from all parts of Kansas and some were from other states. Each had his own ideas about how things should be carried out and all of these ideas were good ones.

On October 14th they assembled and elected their leaders. These leaders piloted them wisely and safely through the first part of the year. After that, they again had a meeting and elected more officers. This took place on February 5, 1926.

The class of "twenty-nine" has been well represented in both forensic and athletic activities. The freshmen football team has been able to give the varsity squad a good game whenever they played. They have been equally successful in basket ball. In dramatics the freshmen have been well represented. A number of them have had parts in the productions given the past year. The freshmen have also held a high scholastic standing.

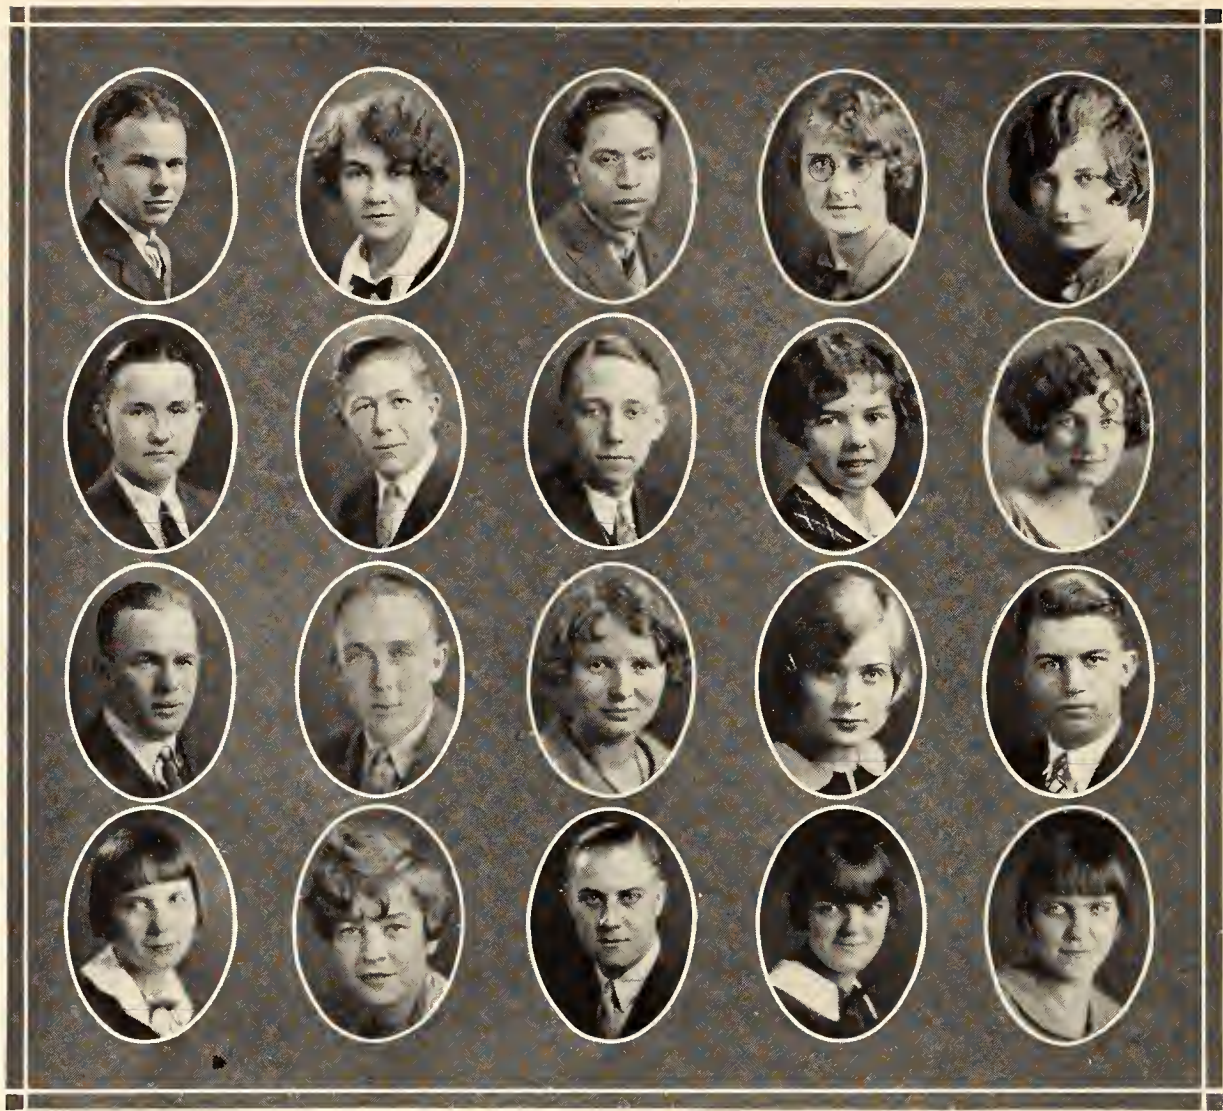

The class of "twenty-nine" as a whole, have been together on all questions, although there was a division of the class politically, into what is known as the "Siegga" and "Kalakak" parties. May the class ever have this spirit of oneness for, "In unity there is strength."

Students' Self-Governing Association

THE purpose of the Students' Self-Governing Association as set forth in the preamble of the present constitution is to place the control and advancement of student interests and activities in the hands of the student body itself. With the firm belief that this arrangement will cause an increased self-control resulting in higher ideals and co-operation, and that officers of sufficient wisdom and maturity can be found so that appeal to college authorities shall be unnecessary.

The policy of the present Executive Council as outlined at the beginning of the year was to be the execution of those duties which naturally come under the jurisdiction of the S. S. G. A. in the simplest and quickest manner possible with the minimum of unnecessary legislation to accomplish the end desired. The operation of the Executive Council in the preceding years had shown that many unnecessary and useless regulations had been passed with no effort or system provided for the enforcement of these rules. The apparent trouble in the functioning of the organization in the most satisfactory manner seemed to lie in the make-up of the council as a legislative body.

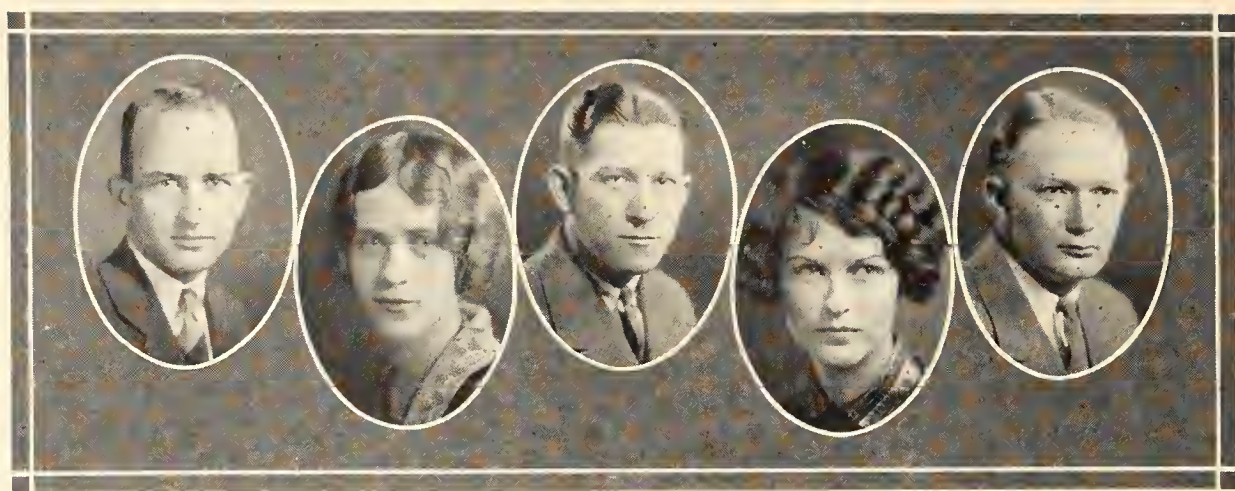

With the idea of determining the cause of the lack of general interest in the S. S. G. A. and the reason for the inefficiency with which the Executive Council was compelled to operate, the formation of committees and the assigning of duties to the various members of the Council was carried on in accordance with the present constitution.

Under this system, the Student's Directory was published, the Varsity Activity Budget Committee formed, and a method of election control was devised to provide for the change in political organization which took place during the present year. The other minor duties and functions were performed in the best and most expeditious manner that seemed suitable.

At the present time, a committee organized in the Executive Council is preparing for presentation to the Student Body a constitution based on the present constitution but improved and revised in many respects. The committee has taken as a guide, the strong and successful features of the constitutions of governing bodies of other schools and colleges that have practically the same problems.

With a new constitution designed for the purpose of giving to the students the power of government that they are entitled to and providing for the exercise of that government in a judicious and business-like manner, the S. S. G. A. should be a highly successful and respected student organization in the years to come.

Seigga

WIEBRECHT

HERLEY

ROSE

SEIGGA was organized as a political party just before the fall campaign of 1925. The name was derived by reversing the letters in the word "Aggies."

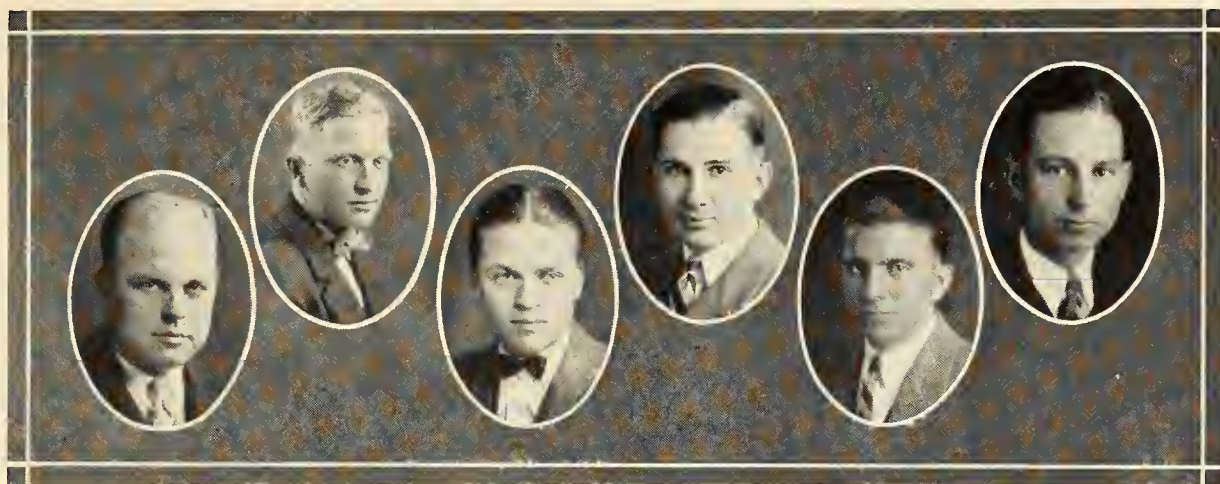

No strong issues have arisen between the two campus parties. At present the Seigga differs from Kalakak chiefly in its more centralized form of party organization and nomination. Seigga has an executive council of five members selected in open convention. This year they are Gene Wiebrecht, Chairman; A. B. Rose, Rachel Herley, Charlotte Swanson and Orin Clency.

When candidates are to be nominated the executive council of Seigga appoints a nominating committee which includes one or two students from each organization or group known to be favoring Seigga and also a number of other representative students. This committee meets and selects at least two names of persons believed to be fully eligible and capable for each office to be filled at the election. The committee also discusses and drafts a tentative platform for the party.

The lists of suggested candidates are taken to the party's open convention. Anyone may add a candidate's name, and those who attend the convention vote and select the party candidates. A platform is discussed and adopted at this convention.

In the fall elections, Seigga won the important Senior class offices. The party was very successful in the spring elections. Every office in the Sophomore and Senior classes, the presidency and two other offices in the Junior class, and one office in the Freshman class are filled by Seiggas.

Kalakak

HEDBERT, ROGLER, RUGH, NUSS, LANTZ, NICHOLS

THE PRESENT system of school politics was brought into existence as an uprising against the old method of secret political organization in which each class had an organization which selected candidates and subsequently put them in office. The political power was in the hands of a few, the elections were undemocratic, and the system did not foster the school spirit which is so necessary in the establishment of a strong Alumni Association.

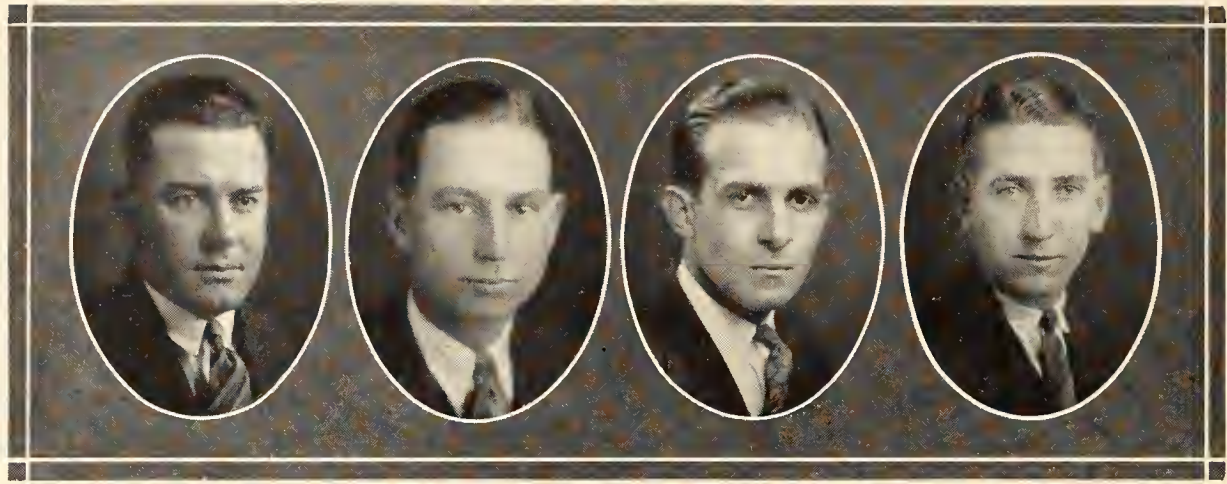

Scarab, the Senior men's honorary fraternity, planned and put into existence a split in the Senior class which carried through the other classes, wrecking the numerous minor political clans, and increasing the political unit from the class to the school.

Due to the financial embarrassment of the founders it became necessary to place the new plan under a handicap by requiring each voter to pay class dues of twenty-five cents at the time of the election. Nevertheless the voting power was increased from 200 per cent in the Senior class to 1,000 per cent in the Sophomore class. This shows the overwhelming success of the new system.

Next year the burden of collecting dues will be taken from the hands of the parties and will be replaced in the hands of the class treasurer. The parties will then be financed by the candidates and the voters will be free to vote without restrictions.

As new issues will come up next fall some real lively campaigns are to be expected and the Kalakak party will be right in there fighting with more vim, vigor, and vitality than has heretofore been dreamed of by the school.

IN the spring of 1920, the Ag Fair was organized for the purpose of uniting all of the departments in the Agricultural Division in one central effort that would create a spirit of co-operative unity among the individual students. Each year its value as an educational project has increased. Every student in the division is given the opportunity to get experience that can be used in putting on County Fairs and other community organizations of which Agricultural graduates are often called on to take charge.

Every Ag student is expected to, and does take an active part in the Ag Fair which is the one big enterprise for Agricultural students.

THE Veterinary Medical Association was organized October 20, 1906. The same year saw the Association firmly established under a State Charter as a responsible Association, having fixed privileges and purposes.

From the beginning the purpose of the Association has been the technical development, together with what literary and social training as might accompany it. Meetings are held once every two weeks during the regular school semesters and practically all students of Veterinary Medicine are members. To each Senior graduating in good standing is granted a "sheepskin" diploma signed by the officers of the Association. To belong to the Association is an aid to the men after leaving College in being recognized by various Veterinary Societies. Out of the ranks of the Veterinary Association have gone men who are honored in their walks of life. With interest increasing and opportunities widening, there is much to hope for in the future usefulness of the Association.

PUBLICATION

Royal Purple

F. E. WIEBRECHT, Editor-in-Chief

THE staff has hoped to make this, the 1926 Royal Purple, the eighteenth volume of the Kansas State Agricultural College annual, a memory book of the year's campus activities as well as a yearbook so distinctive that it will be a memory in itself.

From the beginning our aim has been to make a book which will uphold the former standards and will rank equally with all other activities of the institution. We have worked long and hard; we leave it to the student body to judge the result.

The motif, the history of the State of Kansas, was chosen because of the close relationship of that history to the history of the school.

THE Brown Bull is the only humorous publication of the college, being issued four times a year. It is published jointly by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternities for women and men, respectively.

This year has been the most successful for the Brown Bull, since it was established in 1920. The Brown Bull ranks with the best of college humor publications, and is quoted extensively in other college publications as well as in national humor magazines.

THE Kansas Agricultural Student is the official organ of the Agricultural Association, the general student organization of the Division of Agriculture. It is a thirty-two-page, highly illustrated, quarterly magazine, the first number of which was issued in December, 1921. The chief activities of the Division of Agriculture are reported in the magazine which also gives semi-official reports of the outstanding projects under investigation in the Agricultural Experiment Station.

MILITARY

Department of Military Science

LIEUT.-COL. F. W. BUGBEE
Infantry, D. O. L., P. M. S. & T.

THE Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the Kansas State Agricultural College is composed of Infantry, Coast Artillery, and Veterinary units. These units are organized into one regiment of three Battalions.

The practical work for the first year for all units consists mainly of close and extended order drills to teach and perfect discipline in the student and the organization.

For the second year this work is enlarged and instruction and practice in leadership and the handling of men as well as of the arm or arms peculiar to the unit to which the student belongs is given.

Instruction in the Advance Course (third and fourth years) consists in applying the tactics of the unit to which the student belongs to concrete cases as well as special instruction in that unit. A large amount of work in command and leadership is also given, this instruction being particularly applicable to the handling of large numbers of men.

MAJOR NORA YODER

COLONEL KATHRYN KING

MAJOR MILDRED READ

THE FIRST annual Military Ball was held March 27th at the Community House. At this ball, Lieut. Colonel Bugbee and Cadet Colonel B. A. Rose announced and presented the staff officers, whom had been selected by a popular vote of the entire regiment. Kathryn King was made honorary colonel and Nora Yoder, Imogene Daniels, and Mildred Read were made honorary majors.

MAJOR IMOGENE DANIELS

U. S. Coast Artillery

MAJOR C. D. PEIRCE

CAPT. L. E. SPENCER

THE present group of Artillery officers have seen a wonderful improvement in the Cadet Corps in the past few years. They have developed the Coast Artillery Unit from a small, poorly equipped unit to one that ranks high in competition with other colleges and universities in the United States. This rating is due to the untiring efforts of the Coast Artillery officers.

CAPT. W. W. WERTZ

LIEUT. R. E. MCGARRAUGH

U. S. Infantry

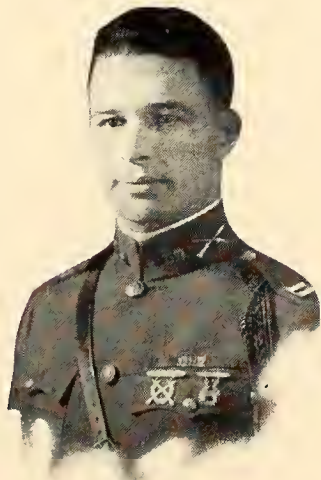

CAPT. C. W. JONES

CAPT. A. W. BOWEN

THE infantry unit has made most rapid progress during the administration of the present regular army officers. The organization is more complete, the men are better disciplined and the unit as a whole is able to pass a military inspection with a higher grade than it has received heretofore. Progress has been made not alone in the close-order drills, but the cadets themselves have a more thorough knowledge of the principles to be used in time of peace or war. These officers have done more than their share to advance K. S. A. C. to the grade of distinguished College, the highest honor that is conferred to a R. O. T. C. unit.

CAPT. W. P. WALTZ

LIEUT. J. V. SIMS

U. S. Veterinary

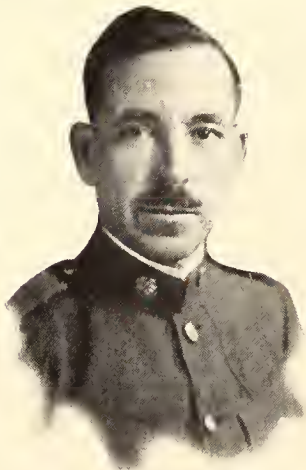

CAPT. G. W. FITZGERALD

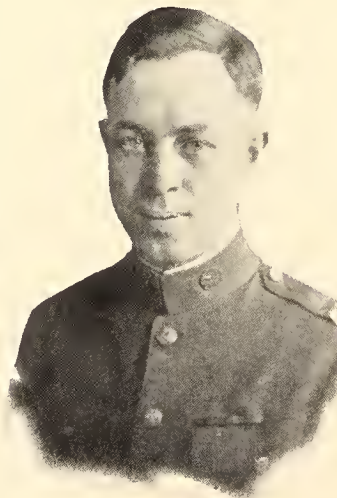

ALTHO the Veterinary Unit at K. S. A. C. is very small, compared with the Artillery and Infantry Units, it is fast becoming a very popular course in the Veterinary Division and will continue to develop due to the personal interest that is shown in the work by Capt. G. W. FitzGerald.

Non-Commissioned Officers

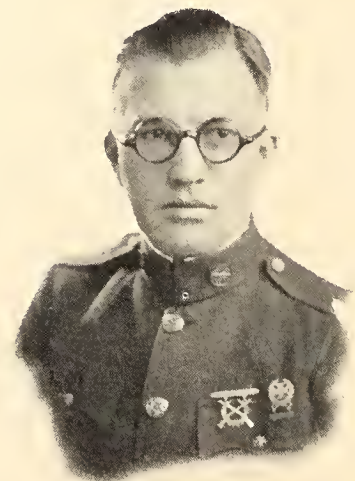

THE non-commissioned officers deserve a great deal of praise for the improvement that is taking place in the Cadet Corps at this college. Altho the number of men employed has been decreased, the work of the non-commissioned officers has been carried on as efficiently as in previous years. Their willingness to help has gained for them many friends in the Cadet Corps.

Rifle Team

THE RESULT of gallery rifle teams for the season 1925-1926 were very gratifying and a distinct surprise to the department, since the scores were much higher than had been expected from such a new and unseasoned team. After overcoming many difficulties, they won, in a very decisive manner, 16 out of 21 matches with the largest colleges and universities in the United States. Their scores and victories were achievements which have never been duplicated by a Kansas State Rifle Team and rated this team as one of the few high-scoring teams of the country.

The team was very ably captained by Mr. I. K. McWilliams, a Senior in Mechanical Engineering. Captain McWilliams deserved much credit for the way in which the team functioned.

The three high men of the season were as follows:

- W. S. MAYDEN Gold Medal
- H. A. SENIOR Silver Medal
- R. L. ROBERTS Bronze Medal

Mayden was gold medal man in 1922-1923, and the best rifle shot that ever represented Kansas State. He could easily develop into the best shot in this country.

Senior was a new man and a hard worker. He should push Mayden for honors next year.

Roberts was a very fine shot and hard worker. He could always be relied upon.

The high ten men of the team who received sweaters for their exceptional work were as follows:

| W. S. MAYDEN | O. K. CORRELL |

MAJOR LYLE C. READ

THE Cadet Corps of Coast Artillery has made very rapid strides in the past year, not only in numbers but also in some very noticeable achievements at school and at Fort Monroe. In firing the twelve-inch disappearing rifle and the twelve-inch railway mortar, the boys from Kansas State made a larger percentage of hits than units of any other school. They also qualified twice as many men in rifle and pistol marksmanship.

R. O. T. C. Infantry

LIEUT.-COLONEL W. H. SCHINDLER

MAJOR R. W. FORT

THE R. O. T. C. Infantry met all competition at Ft. Snelling with the utmost credit to itself and honor to the school. Especial distinction was made in the rifle and pistol competition. The company had practical experience in the use of the 3-in. trench mortar, the machine gun and automatic rifle, and the 37-mm. fieldpieces, as well as the regular infantry drill. The general appearance and bearing of the cadet infantry companies show that the officers are competent and that the line of command is well defined.

Athletics

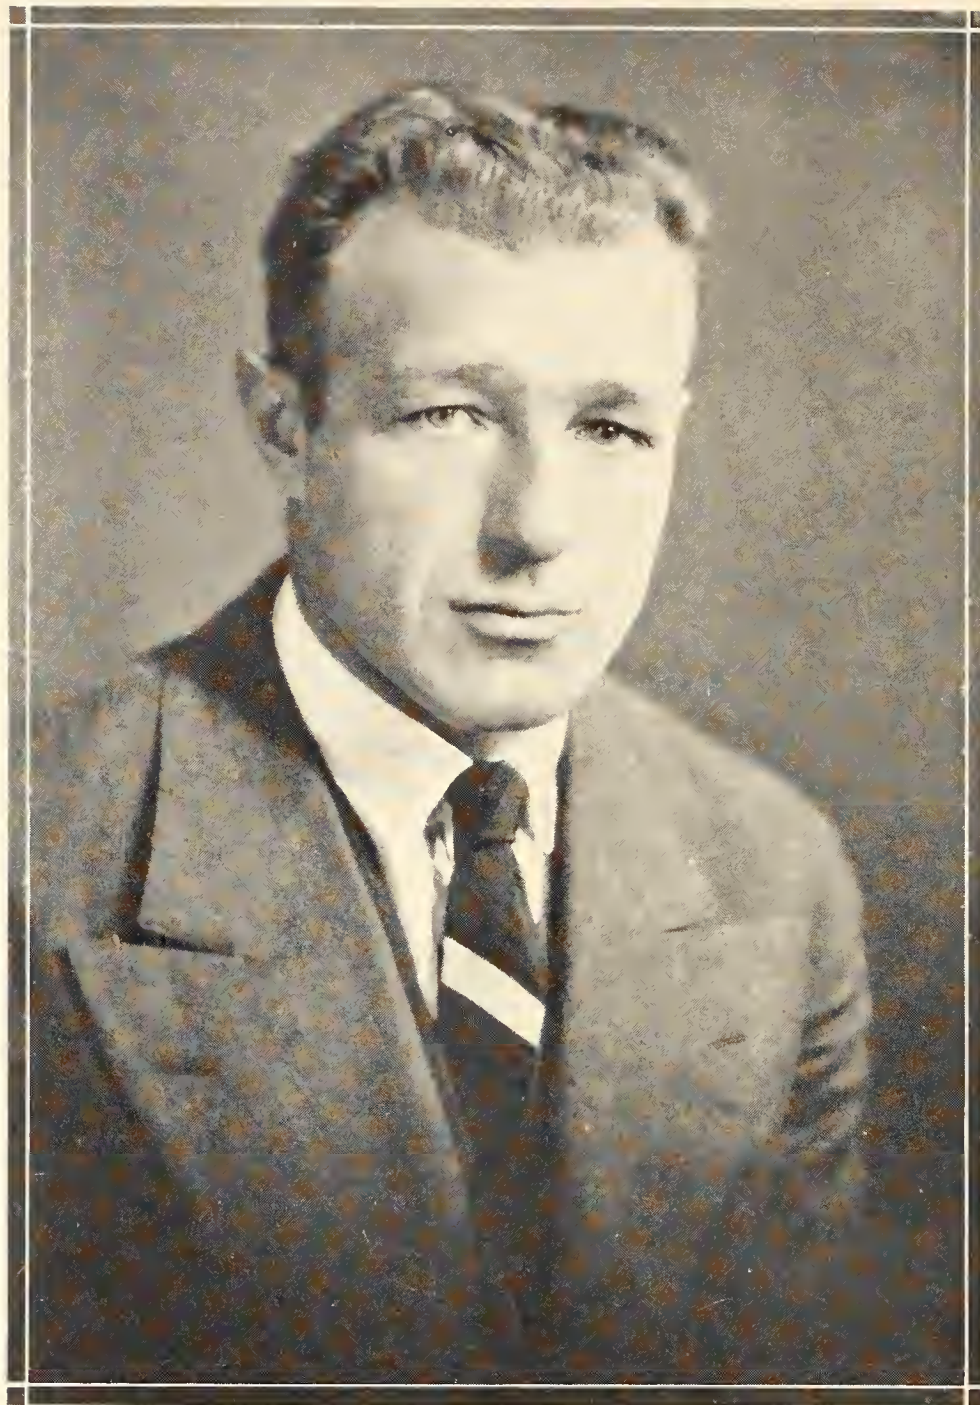

MICHAEL F. AHEARN

"MIKE" has been associated with Aggie athletics since 1905 as Coach of all sports and as Director. During that time he has watched the Wildcat teams develop from an unrecognized position of strength in the realm of sport until today all teams of the College rank with the best in the United States.

As Athletic Director for the past six years, he has clearly demonstrated his ability as a leader, as a diplomat and as an administrator. To him much credit is due for his wisdom in the selection of the Coaches. His influence has been a prime factor in the unusual progress of the Wildcats in athletic achievement.

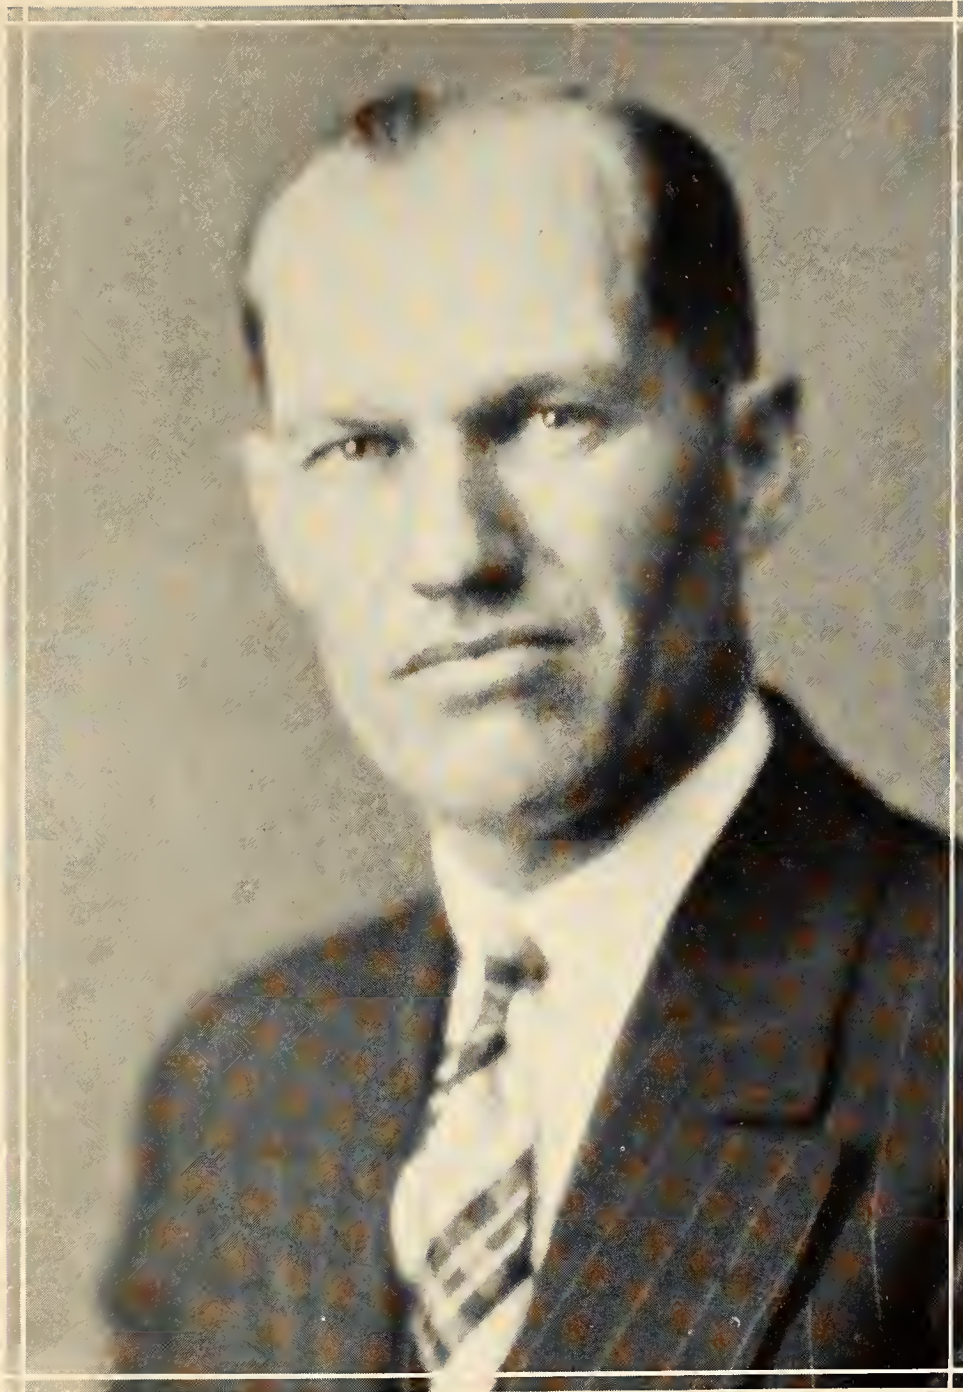

Mr. Ahearn, Dean of Missouri Valley Directors, is nationally recognized as an authority in sport and he has served on the National Football Rules Committee for the past four years.

CHARLES W. BACHMAN
Head Coach

C. W. BACHMAN has been the Coach of Aggie football and track teams for the past six years. Seldom does a coach possess that combination of personality and ability that wins for him the never-failing co-operation of the individual athlete and the loyal support of those interested in the success of the teams.

K. S. A. C. and her followers will always be grateful to him for his work, which has given them the privilege of beholding that rare genius of leadership which turns idealism and theory into performance.

COACH C. W. CORSAUT

IN 1924 C. W. Corsaut took over an Aggie basket ball team which had been the conference doormat for two seasons. That year the Purple finished fourth, in 1925 third, and this year the Aggies tied for second honors in the Valley.

Technical ability, knowledge of the game's rules, and strategy has been drilled into Wildcat basket ball men. Back of Corsaut's success, however, is a further quality—that of instilling into his men high ideals of sportsmanship and of tenacity.

Corsaut-tutored teams are never permitted to retaliate for rough play. They play according to the spirit as well as the letter of the code—but they play a hard, fierce, dogged game and opponents have learned never to count a game won from the Aggies until the final second has been completed.

As coach of baseball Corsaut has developed teams stamped with the same proficiency and fight which has been shown by his basket ball teams. Last season's crew finished third in the chase for the conference pennant. Given material with that little bit extra in brain and brawn which distinguishes the great from the mediocre in athletics, Corsaut will turn out champions.

Assistant Coaches

MR. FRANK ROOT, a graduate of Kansas State Agricultural College and one of the best all-round athletes in the history of the College, is the "iron man" of the Aggie Coaching Staff. Besides being Bachman's assistant in coaching football, he has personal charge of the Freshmen basket ball and baseball teams, teaches several classes in Physical Education, and has a keen interest in Intramural Athletics. He is always ready to step in, fill, or take care of any emergency. His willingness and readiness to co-operate makes him an invaluable member of the Athletic Department.

ROOT

SUMMERS

Prof. Summers did most of the scouting for the Aggies this year and from the reports he turned in on the football systems of the opponents, proved himself an encyclopedia for knowledge. Every play was technically reproduced and described in his type-written reports. Prof. Summers has won the sincere gratitude of the Athletic Department for his valuable services.

The Freshman football squad was under the tutelage of Prof. Brainard and Dr. Holtz. Under their supervision the Freshmen gained in confidence and ability until they were no longer "meat" for the Varsity. Dr. Holtz is a faithful worker for the football interests of the College, although this is the first year that Prof. Brainard has coached the Freshmen; a factor he performed as a veteran in the coaching profession.

HOLTZ

BRAINARD

Ineligible to play football because he had completed his three years of varsity competition, Archie could not keep away from the game, so he offered his services to the department as an assistant. Butcher coached as he had played, with his eyes open and his mind alert. His aggressive yet pleasing personality made him popular with the players.

BUTCHER

Emporia Teachers 7===Aggies 26

THE KANSAS STATE WILDCATS opened their 1925 season by trouncing the strong Kansas State Teachers of Emporia 26 to 7.

Don Meek, famous for his long run against K. U. last fall, demonstrated his real football ability by running around the Emporia tacklers for three touchdowns.

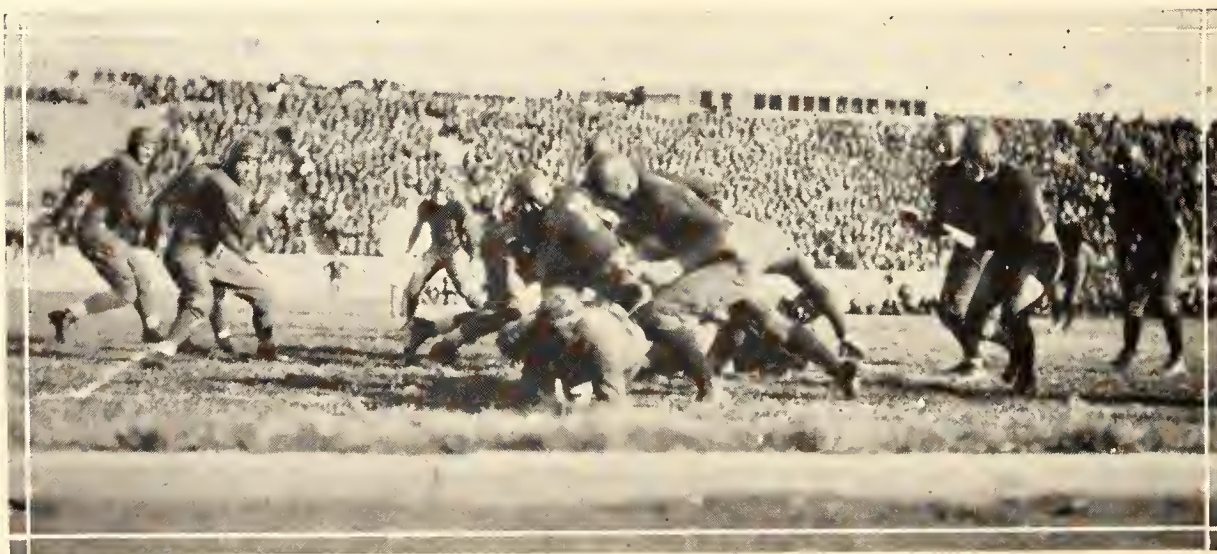

Holsinger was also an outstanding performer because of his accurate passing and off tackle plunges.

The play of Lane in the backfield and Crockett and Campbell in the line featured the play of the Teachers. Although rather small for a fullback, Lane was very good in backing up his line. Campbell broke up many an off tackle run and Crockett was always there when the Aggies came his way.

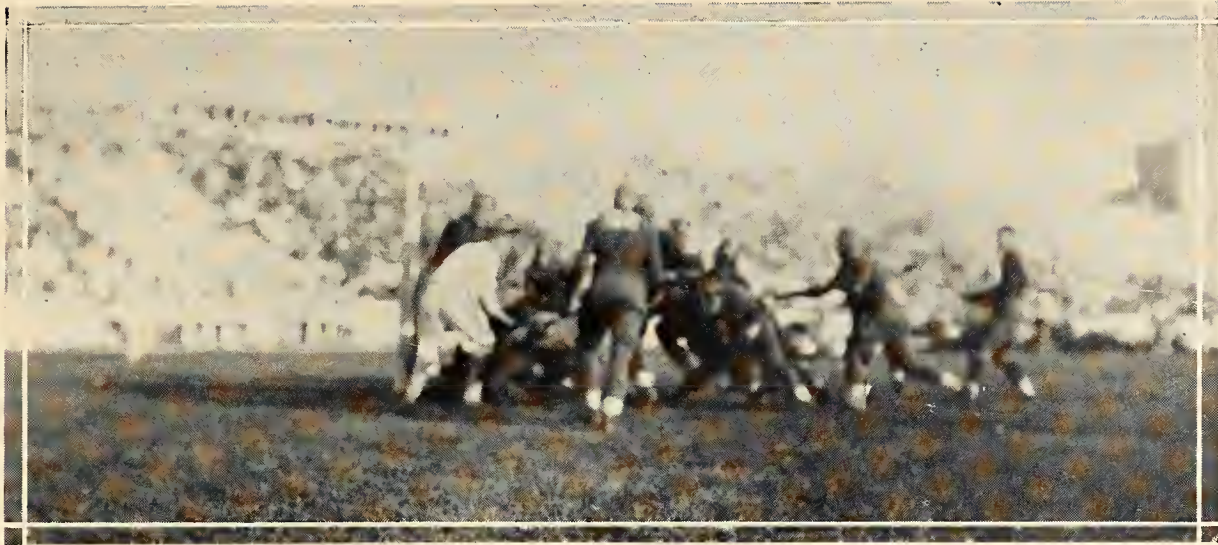

The only Teachers' score came in the first quarter when Campbell rudely knocked down the ball which Cochrane was attempting to kick and accompanied it across the goal line. He later kicked goal, making the opponents' score 7.

The reserve strength of the Aggies had its effect on the Kansas Conference representatives in the last half of the game. The first quarter was rather even, but once the Aggies "got started," there was no question as to the superiority of the Aggies.

A summary of the game shows that the Aggies earned 22 first downs to two for the Teachers and gained 513 yards from scrimmage to 46 yards for the Emporians.

Oklahoma 0---Aggies 16

THE AGGIE WILDCATS won their first Missouri Valley game of the season from Oklahoma University in a fast and spectacular gridiron battle.

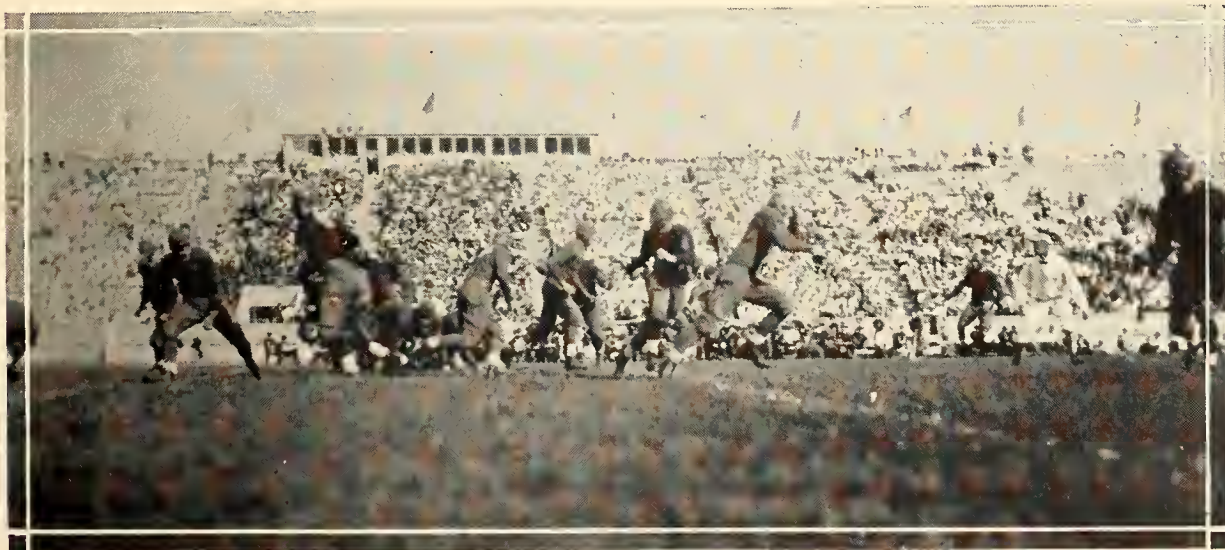

The intense heat in the first half was a prime factor in the success of the opponents from the Sunny South who outplayed the Aggies in the first two quarters. In the second half a cool breeze from the north gave the Aggies the pep and drive which carried them to a 16 to 0 victory.

The first Aggie counter came in the third quarter when Cochrane stood on the Sooner 35-yard line and drop kicked the ball squarely between the goal posts. The first touchdown came in the same period when Haskard intercepted a Sooner pass and side-stepping and dodging the entire tribe of warriors from Soonerland ran 80 yards thru a broken field for a touchdown. Cochrane kicked goal. This was one of the most sensational and spectacular broken-field runs seen on Memorial Stadium field since Ray Hahn made his thrilling 65-yard run against K. U. in 1922.

Feathers pushed the ball over for the last score in the fourth period when it was fourth down and the ball a yard from the line.

The two teams, well educated and skilled in the technique of the forward passing game, gave the crowd some hair-raising thrills when forward passes were completed to players who were being closely guarded.

Both teams were evenly matched, and the battle was closely fought; however, a summary of the game gives Oklahoma a small advantage in yardage and first downs.

Drake 19===Aggies 0

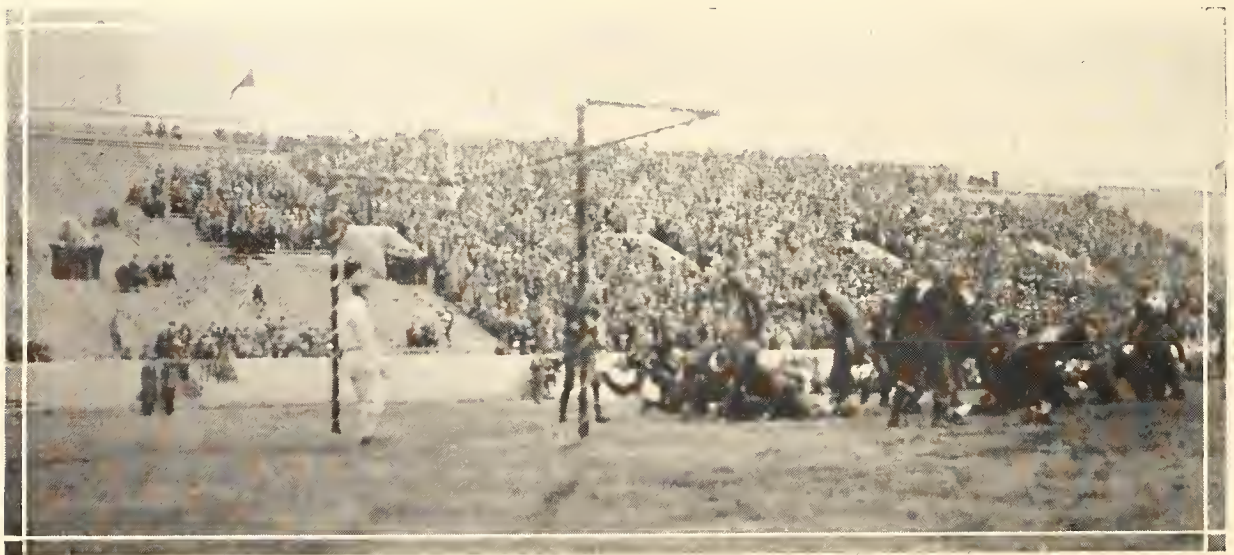

THE MENTAL attitude of the contesting teams often determines the outcome of an athletic event. This fact was emphatically illustrated many times during the past football season; particularly so when the Missouri Tigers defeated the Nebraska Cornhuskers 9 to 6 one week after the Huskers had triumphed over Illinois and "Red" Grange. And again Ames defeated K. U. 21 to 0. Another instance of this condition was demonstrated when the Drake Bulldogs upset the dope by defeating the Kansas Aggies 19 to 0 in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

Last year the Aggies clearly outplayed Drake. This year, a week before the Aggie game, the Bulldogs had difficulty in winning from Washington University by a small score and the Drake team of 1924 was rated stronger than the team of 1925. These results gave the Aggie team a spirit of overconfidence when they entered the game. They never recovered from this mental disorganization.

However the game was a thriller from the spectator's point of view and both teams battled on even terms in every department except the scoring. The Aggies "threw away" three "sure" touchdowns by fumbling forward passes with a clear field ahead, and gave Drake a touchdown on a fumble pass from center when attempting to punt from near the goal line. A fumbled punt also figured in one of their scores.

This experience of the result of overconfidence was instrumental in the success of the Aggies for the remainder of the season, in that it taught them the lesson that worthy opponents can be beaten only on the field of play and not in the dressing room.

Kansas 7---Aggies 14

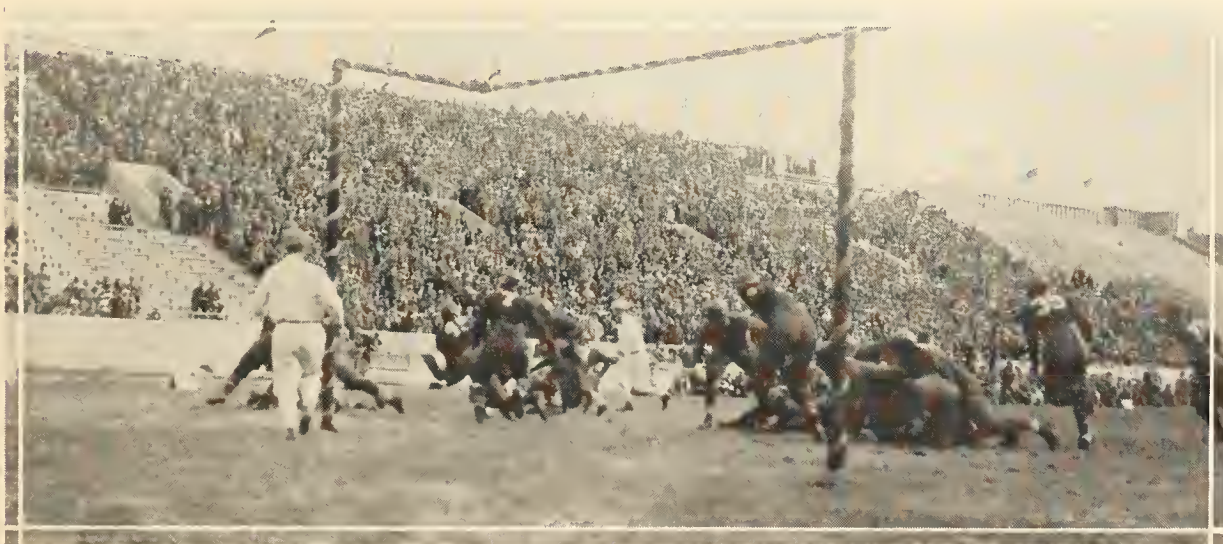

TRAMPLING OVER the remnants of a Jayhawk "super-six" line, Kansas State slipped and slid to a 14 to 7 victory over Kansas University on the Jayhawk home field. Last year the "Jinx" of 18 years was broken and the Wildcats, after having tasted the blood of the Jayhawk bird entered the fray determined to win and behaved themselves most nobly.

The first Aggie touchdown came with startling suddenness. An attempt to catch one of Cochrane's high hurtling kicks on the Kansas three-yard line failed and was recovered by McGee. A second later Holsinger went over for the touchdown and McGee added the extra points while dazed Kansas crowds watched in amazement and Kansas State was wildly exultant.

As the first half drew to a close the Jayhawks opened up a brilliant forward passing assault and hustled the ball to the Aggie's seven-yard line where the referee's whistle rescued the Wildcats from a perilous situation—the only real threat the Jayhawkers made during the game.

The generalship of Cochrane was responsible for the second Aggie touchdown. After two ineffective line smashes, Holsinger whipped out a long pass to Price who caught it yards from any Kansas player and raced on over the goal while the once-winged Jayhawk bird plodded soddently behind. McGee again kicked goal.

As the spectators were awaiting the final gun; another surprise affair; the Kansas touchdown was made. A jayhawk intercepted an Aggie pass and headed for the goal. In a thrilling race, Pearson demonstrated his speed and pulled him down from behind on the Aggie four-yard line. The Wildcats fought stubbornly but yielded a touchdown on the fourth drive of the University men. Wall kicked goal. A minute later and another victory for Kansas State went down in the annals of history.

Missouri 3==Aggies 0

AGGIE "dads" for the second consecutive year had to watch the Aggies perform on a wet and soggy field. The Missouri Tigers, champions of the Missouri Valley, found the Wildcats to be a little more than their equal in scrimmage and the only score of the game came in the third quarter as the result of a blocked punt which put the Tigers in a position to score. Captain Whiteman booted the ball over the crossbar for the Tigers three points.

The outstanding feature of the game, and a feat seldom seen in football, came in the third quarter. Cochrane's kick was blocked by Bacchus on the Aggie 40-yard line and Cochrane recovered the ball on his own one-yard line. But the ball was Missouri's; 4 downs and one yard to go to a touchdown. Four times the Valley Champions hurled themselves at the defense of the Aggies; each member of the Tiger backfield tried to plunge through the stone wall defense of the Aggies line but each smash was stubbornly met by the Wildcats and after the Tigers had used up their four attempts they were still one yard from the coveted goal.

It would be difficult to pick out the individual stars of the game; however, Bacchus and Captain Whiteman of Missouri did the most damage to the Aggies. The Aggie line, working as a unit, halted the determined drives of the Missourians.

A summary of the game shows that each team made four first downs. The Aggies made 142 yards from scrimmage to 96 for Missouri; completed 4 passes to one for the Tigers and averaged two yards more on their punts than did Missouri.

Marquette 0---Aggies 2

IN THEIR first big inter-sectional football game, the Kansas Aggies won from Marquette University of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 2 to 0. The game was played in a 40-mile-an-hour blizzard and on a water-soaked field. In spite of the almost impossible conditions, the Aggies upheld the best traditions of Missouri Valley Football.

The 8,900 fans who braved the storm were treated to a wonderful exhibition of punting by "Chili" Cochrane of the Aggies. "Chili" kept the Irish away from the Aggie goal by his kicking and he won fame from the sport critics for the errorless manner in which he handled the wet and slippery ball.

In the second quarter, Ballard, Aggie left tackle, smashed through the Marquette line and downed Demoling, the Irish quarterback, who was trying to kick from behind his own goal line, thus counting a safety, which later proved to be the margin of Aggie victory. Twice in the third quarter the Aggies threatened to cross the Irish goal line, but each attempt failed by inches.

Each team tried four field goals, Marquette made all four of their tries in the last minute of the game, which gave a lasting thrill to the anxious and hopeful Marquette rooters. The game as a whole was clean and hard fought. The hard and deadly tackling and blocking of both teams being especially in evidence.

The splendid reception accorded the Aggies on their arrival in Milwaukee by the students, faculty and alumni of Marquette University and the interest in the game shown by the people of Milwaukee, was instrumental in the Athletic Department scheduling another game with Marquette for next season.

Nebraska 0===Aggies 0

THE 1925 Homecoming crowd included such dignitaries as United States Secretary of Agriculture, Wm. M. Jardine; Governor Paulen of Kansas; Governor McMullen of Nebraska; and Senator Capper of Kansas.

In a cold, damp, chilly, and disagreeable atmosphere, such as has attended every game played on Memorial Stadium field this year, the Kansas Aggies held the powerful Nebraska Cornhuskers to a scoreless tie in one of the best gridiron classics ever staged on the home field.

Cochrane of the Wildcats gave a wonderful exhibition of his punting ability, one of his kicks sailing for seventy-five yards.

In the third quarter Nebraska launched a steam roller attack, led by "Choppy" Rhoades, which threatened to score but the Aggie line arose to the occasion and halted the Cornhuskers on the 35-yard line. This drive was the only threat of Nebraska during the game to score.

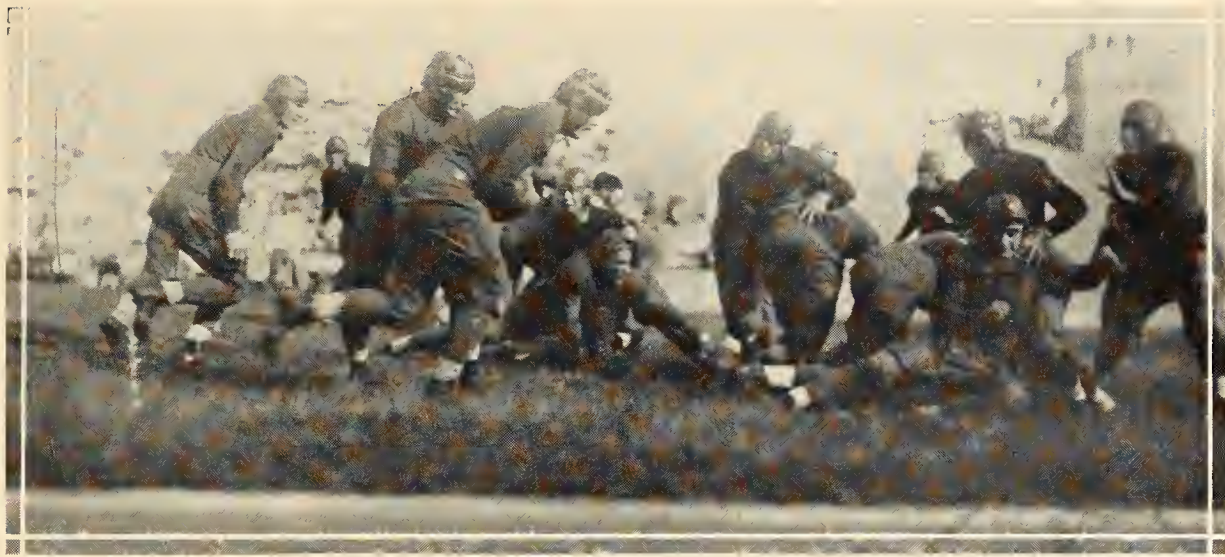

The Backmanites lost a golden opportunity when a pass was completed to Haskard near the goal line, but the play was called back because of an off-side penalty.

The statistics show that neither team had a decided advantage as the number of first downs, yardage from scrimmage, and passes completed was even. An outstanding feature of the game was the clean, yet determined, spirit of the players. This spirit exemplifies the splendid athletic and collegiate relationship which exists between the two great institutions.

This was the first time that the Nebraska Cornhuskers and the Kansas Aggies have met on the gridiron that the Huskers have not triumphed over the Wildcats. Aggie rooters were jubilant over the result and considered the outcome as virtually a victory for the wearers of the purple.

Iowa State 7---Aggies 12

FOR THEIR DEFEAT of last year the Aggies feasted on sweet revenge by defeating Iowa State College at Ames by a score of 12 to 7. This victory was all the more gratifying because Ames had defeated Drake the week before. Also because the Wildcats finished the season in a tie with Ames for third place in the Missouri Valley standing.

The game was played during a rain which made efficient handling of the ball impossible. However, the Wildcats completed all of their attempted passes. The Aggies emphatically illustrated their "punch" when they scored their first touchdown in less than three minutes, after the opening of the second half. Taking the ball from Ames 15-yard line they marched down the field to the goal in four plays; an average of over twenty-one yards per play. A summary shows that Kansas State outgained Iowa State 4 yards to one.

The winning Aggie touchdown came in the last minutes of the game when Ames blocked McGee's attempted place kick and Haskard recovered and side-stepping three Ames tacklers reached the goal, scoring the winning points of the game.

The offensive playing of Feathers and the splendid generalship, passing, and open field running of Carl Enns were easily outstanding features of the game.

This game was the last one in which Captain McGee, O. H. Wilson, W. Ballard, and Randels will be able to compete for Kansas State. Their Alma Mater will always be grateful to them for the brand of determined fairplay and good sportsmanship shown by them in their years of service.

CAPTAIN HARRY MCGEE

Ramona

Two-letter Man

"Maggie" was one of the best football players in the Missouri Valley, and justly earned the position of All-Valley Guard. In addition to his ability as a combination guard and center, he made a good leader for the team. His pleasing personality, aggressiveness and knowledge of the game made him popular with the players and officials. He was the first Aggie player to receive recognition from outside of the Valley and was named on several All-Western selections.

CAPTAIN-ELECT S. J. TOMBAUGH

Kansas City

Two-letter Man

When a successor was needed to fill the shoes of McGee, the letter men quickly selected "Si" Tombaugh. Tommy is the ideal type of a guard, has exceptional speed, a splendid physique, and the determination to win. He is considered one of the outstanding players of the Valley and he will make the Wildcats a good leader.

H. M. RANDELS

Four-letter Man

"Proc" came from a family of football players and was the second of the family to carry the colors of the school. After three years away from school, Randels returned to complete his education and to fill the position at left end. He is one of few men who have won four letters in one sport at Kansas State. His experience and knowledge of the game made him especially valuable as a player and as a volunteer coach to the other inexperienced ends. "Proc" was a sincere football player, quick on his feet and his defensive play was almost faultless. He was placed on the second All-Valley Team.

Anthony

W. BALLARD

Three-letter Man

Almena

"Bill" came to the college unheard of and unknown. His playing during the three years of his Varsity competition has enshrined him in the hearts of Aggie supporters. Not flashy, but always steady and dependable. It was no uncommon sight to see the plays directed from his side of the line piled up behind the line before they were well under way or to see him racing down the field under punts far ahead of the ends. He was the ideal type of tackle in physique and disposition and his place will be hard to fill.

OTIS H. WILSON

Three-letter Man

Jennings

"Curly" is the last of the famous passing combination of three years ago, being a teammate of Stark, Swartz, and Axline. He was a heady football player, a splendid interferer and a ball lugger of no mean ability. His willingness to co-operate, coupled with his knowledge of the Notre Dame System of football made him popular with the men and a valuable member of the team.

OWEN COCHRANE

Manhattan

Two-letter Man

"Chili" received recognition from all of the sport critics as one of the outstanding quarterbacks of the middle west. He was a clever strategist and field general, a good passer and the best punter and drop kicker in the valley. "Chili" has one more year to play and much is expected of him. He was chosen quarterback on the 1925 All-Missouri Valley Football team.

E. E. FEATHERS

Minneapolis

Two-letter Man

Feathers showed them how to hit the line in the Ames game. He is the hardest line smasher on the team, a good interferer, and ranks with the best of the defensive men in the middle west. "Tiny" is a willing and conscientious worker and should land an All-Missouri Valley berth next season.

HAROLD DAYHOFF

Abilene

Two-letter Man

Harold was the hard-luck man of the 1925 squad. Injuries kept him out of the game for half of the season. He was one of the fastest men on the squad and his line smashes were known for their drive. He also was a good secondary defense man.

JERRY KRYSL

Two-letter Man

"Jerry" played his second year at tackle. His aggressive style of play made his side of the line unpopular with his opponents. He likes to "rough it" and the harder they come at him the better he likes it.

Lucas

DON MEEK

Two-letter Man

Although the smallest man in Valley football, he is also one of the most dangerous men in the open field. "Don" is very fast and shifty and has peculiar affinity for fumbled balls. Ask K. U.

Idana

MYRON REED

Two-letter Man

Reed is a power in the line and he particularly demonstrated his ability as a defensive player. Myron has speed and the size which makes him a smashing power in the forward wall of the Aggie defense. He has one more year to play.

Manhattan

RAYMOND SMITH

Manhattan

Two-letter Man

Raymond is a good forward passer and a driving halfback. His long galloping runs off the tackle and around the ends were spectacular. He scored many a touchdown on his never-stop, never-down attitude in carrying the ball. He has one more year on the team.

ZURLINDEN PEARSON

Manhattan

One-letter Man

When his knee injury of long standing responded to persistent treatment, he donned his football togs and reported to Coach Bachman. Being tall and aggressive and possessed with the speed of a locomotive, "Zur" won the respect of the Valley Teams and many critics named him on their All-Valley teams. Crowley of Notre Dame, now coach of Columbia University, placed Pearson on his All-American Team.

DONALD SPRINGER

Manhattan

One-letter Man

"Don" was another of Manhattan's products. He was a consistent ground-gainer by his long end runs and by his accurate passing. He has two more years to play and he should make a name for himself in the Aggie Hall of Football Fame.

JIM DOUGLAS

Burlington

One-letter Man

Jim demonstrated his line smashing ability as a Freshman. With Feathers and Dayhoff out of the game because of injuries, he jumped into the breach and made good with a vengeance. On defense he delighted in smacking the man carrying the ball with all of his powerful drive and tackling ability.

A. R. EDWARDS

Ft. Scott

One-letter Man

Full of fight and determination, he made good use of his one hundred and eighty pounds of weight. He had speed and the ability to snag passes which made him a strong candidate for the end position. "Monk" shared the playing time with Randels and the two years he still has to play he should be on one of the wing positions as a regular.

THEODORE FLECK

Wamego

One-letter Man

Although changed from a high school tackle to an end, "Ted" developed into a football player of great possibilities. His one hundred and eighty pounds of bone and muscle propelled with ten second speed, combined with his aggressiveness and determination, made him an ideal wing man.

JOE HOLSINGER Kansas City
One-letter Man

Joe reminds Aggie followers of Arthur Stark. He is shifty and an exceptionally hard-driving halfback. He possesses a splendid passing arm and he delivers the ball with deadly accuracy and with the speed of a bullet.

CARL ENNS Inman
One-letter Man

Carl is the most versatile man in the history of Aggie football. He is a heady field general, a shifty open-field runner, a good punter, a place kicker and a deadly passer. Although small, he is mighty, and is destined to make Missouri Valley football history.

JAMES PRICE Manhattan
One-letter Man

Manhattan gave to the college one of its most valuable players in Jim Price. Jim played his Freshman year at Swartmore. This playing experience was helpful in out-guessing his opponents. His ability to snatch passes out of the air was demonstrated in the game with Kansas University when Jim caught a long pass on the dead run, and eluding the secondary defense, scored the second touchdown.

C. W. BRION Manhattan
One-letter Man

Brion was shifted from halfback to a guard position. "Jud" made good use of his football experience and developed into a very good guard. He plays a heady and a hard driving game. He is especially good on getting the secondary defense of the opponents.

R. H. HASKARD Hutchinson
One-letter Man

The "Red Grange" of the Aggie backfield and one of the most elusive backs in the country. Dick has only two speeds, low and high, and he goes from low to high in one step. He is an excellent broken field runner, a good passer, and a dangerous man to be in the open field when a pass is thrown his direction.

Freshman Football

WHEN the call was issued for Freshman football candidates, the Athletic Department soon ran out of all the large sizes of football equipment. Without exception, the 1925 Freshman squad contained the largest number of big men of any Freshman squad in the history of the college. The first time Coaches Brainard and Holtz looked over their proteges they were highly enthusiastic over the possibilities of molding a machine that would defeat the Varsity. Almost every squad has a few large men, but this is the first to produce large men of a type of real value; they had speed, co-ordination, and football sense. They wanted to play; they took delight in a scrimmage with the upperclassmen. It was no hard task to muster a line averaging 190 pounds and one that possessed the ability to smear the drives of the varsity regulars. Many an evening was devoted to "shadow practice" in order to avoid injuries to the Bachmanites. The eagerness to play was responsible for the large number of Yearlings still on the job at the wind-up of the season.

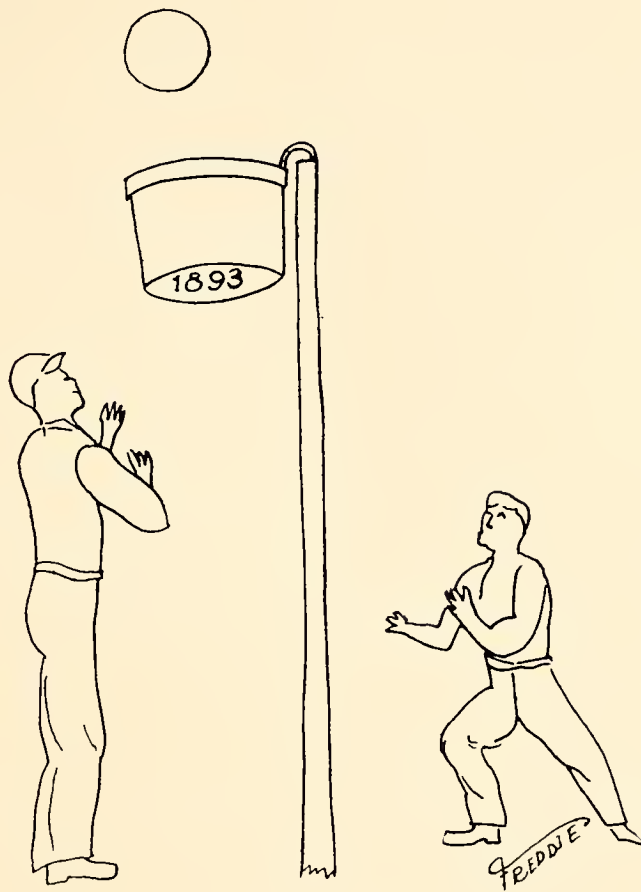

The annual game with the Varsity was a thriller. The Freshmen scored first when Halderman broke through the Purple line on an off-tackle play and reversing the field, planted the pigskin over the goal line. The regulars then realized the task before them. After a mixture of passes and drives, the Bachmanites tied the score, 7-7. The last quarter found each team determined that the other would not score but finally in the last minutes of the battle the Varsity backs punctured the Yearling defense for the points that won the game 13-7.

Bachman takes great joy in dreaming of the future of this excellent football material which will be added to the Varsity next fall.

1926 Basket Ball

THE BASKET BALL season of 1926 found the Aggie Wildcats engaged in their initial battle with a member of the Big Ten conference, when Coach Corsaut took a squad of eight men on a pre-season trip to play Northwestern and Illinois of the Big Ten, and Notre Dame, a strong non-conference team.

Although a hard trip and against strong teams, the Aggies represented Kansas State and the Missouri Valley in a creditable manner. They won from Northwestern in an extra five-minute period, lost to Illinois by a one-point margin in the last half minute of play and ended the trip by losing to Notre Dame in a hard fought battle.

The Wildcats next played the strong Schooley team, last year city champions of Kansas City, Mo., and turned in a second victory of the season. Coach Corsaut used the entire squad in this game.

The first valley game was on January 13, with Kansas University on our home court; our rivals from Lawrence winning a close game, marked by the inconsistency of both teams at both teamwork and goal shooting.

On the following Friday the Aggies brought their percentage to five hundred by virtue of a win over Grinnell on the home court. The students and townspeople showed their faith in the team and Coach Corsaut by turning out en masse, and left the gymnasium well pleased and fully paid for their attendance. The entire team showed a reversal of form and drive from that displayed in the game with Kansas University a few nights before.

Again the team went outside the conference, this time to play the K. C. A. C. team of Kansas City, a team of former valley stars. The Aggies were defeated, but the defeat was by no means an indication of poor play on their part, for the K. C. A. C. team was working together exceptionally well and making a high percentage of their attempts for baskets.

1926 Basket Ball

With the season getting well under way and every team fighting for a place in the first division, the Wildcats left for their Missouri trip. On February 5, the Missouri Tigers won from the Aggies by a three-point margin in the last minute of play after trailing for the entire game. This defeat later proved to be the one which kept Kansas State from dividing first honors with our sister institution down the Kaw.

The following night, on the new gymnasium floor of Washington U. at St. Louis, a fighting, determined squad of Wildcats fought their way to victory over the Red and Green, again boosting their average to five hundred per cent. Never again during the season did they fall below this average.

Returning home from the Missouri trip, they found all their friends perplexed at their showing in the "show me" state. After a couple of days' rest, they met the strong Nebraska team before a well packed gymnasium. This game, another for our win column, helped avenge the double defeat handed us last season by the Huskers. With a safe margin near the end of the game, Coach Corsaut rested his regulars and the reserves carried on in a manner that gained for them the approval of the entire audience.

Four days later the Aggies met and defeated the Iowa Aggies, leading throughout the entire game. Again Coach Corsaut used his reserves to finish the game.

Next on our schedule was a trip to Nebraska with Nebraska U. and Creighton as our opponents. At Lincoln with a late start as a handicap, the Wildcats, true to their name, fought their way to victory in the last half—thus giving the Aggies a firm hold on third place and letting Nebraska down to fourth place in the Valley standing.

The following night at Omaha in a non-conference game with Creighton, the Aggies were defeated in a thrilling game between two small, fast teams, both playing the ball at all times. As the well-known official Quigley said, "It was a basket ball game played as basket ball should be played."

1926 Basket Ball

Washington and Missouri were guests of the Aggies on consecutive nights to wind up the busiest week of the season. Both visiting teams were defeated, in what were conceded to be two of the fastest games seen on the home court in many seasons. The Aggie crew showed the effect of their four games in five days, but Coach Corsaut's conditioning carried them through, fighting to the finish.

The Aggies' percentage now was 77.8, the result of seven victories in nine games. Their position was a possible tie for first place provided they could defeat Kansas University at Lawrence and the two Iowa teams the following week. With the idea of battling Kansas University for highest honors, the Aggies invaded Jayhawk-land but were turned back in a thrilling 34-29 contest.

Both teams realizing the importance of the game, were on edge when the game began, but as the game progressed they settled down and gave the fans an exhibition of basket ball which they expected of the two teams. Kansas University had the advantage in height and used this advantage to win the game by follow-up shots.

As a result of the defeat at Kansas University the best the Wildcats could do was to tie with Oklahoma for second honors by defeating the two Iowa teams left on their schedule. These two teams were at the bottom of the valley standing, but their standing was by no means an indication of their strength, but rather showed that all teams were of nearly the same strength.

Both games were extra-period affairs, the Ames game being won by a one-point margin and the Grinnell game by three points. In the Ames game with the opponents holding a twelve-point lead and ten minutes to play, the Aggies showed a fight and never-say-die spirit characteristic of Corsaut coached teams, that brought the score to a tie, and then won in the playoff. In the Grinnell game the following night the Aggies again won after a late start, in a rough, hard-fought game, the last of the season for both teams.

The 1926 season marked the Aggies taking another step toward the top of the Missouri Valley standings. They finished their schedule in a tie with Oklahoma University for second place in the conference.

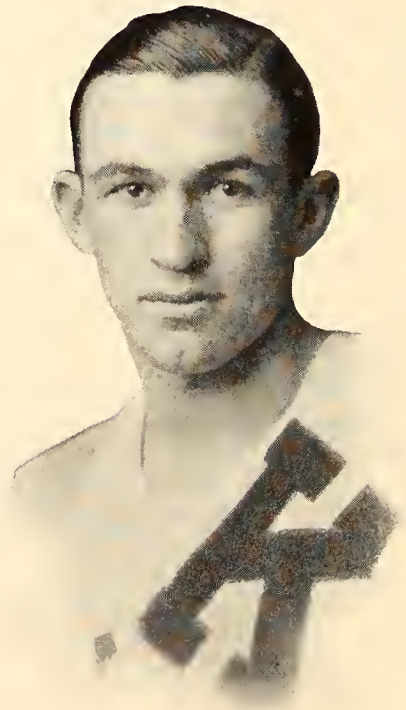

CAPTAIN FRITZ KOCH

Burlington

Three-letter Man

"Fritz" was an ideal captain and leader. His determined play was a wholesome inspiration to the other members of the team. His specialty was intercepting long passes and diagnosing the play of the opponents. Being one of the steadiest guards in the conference, he was given honorable mention in the All-Valley selections.

CAPTAIN-ELECT A. R. EDWARDS

Fort Scott

One-letter Man

"Monk" was the best offensive guard in the Valley, but his greatest value to the team was his ability to keep the men driving. He has two more years to play and his popularity and ability have already won for him a captaincy in his Sophomore year. The confidence of his teammates was won by his aggressiveness and by the fact that he was one of the hardest workers on the squad. There is no doubt that he will make an excellent and influential leader for the Wildcats in 1927.

ERIC TEBOW

Scandia

Three-letter Man

Although one of the smallest centers in the Conference, "Te" has often tipped the ball to his teammates. Tebow was an unusually hard man to stop under the basket, fast on the offense and one of the highest individual point men in the Valley. His value as a player was recognized in his choice as center and Captain of the second All-Valley team.

CLIFTON BYERS

Abilene

Two-letter Man

"Lefty" averaged the highest number of points per game of any Valley player. Unexcelled in his ability to sink a basket from mid-court, he was responsible for drawing out the defense of the opponents, permitting his teammates to make short shots. His scoring power and floor play were instrumental in his unanimous choice as All-Missouri Valley forward for 1926.

HAROLD WEDDLE

Lindsborg

Two-letter Man

Weddle's value to the team lay in his versatility. Whenever called upon "Doc" could do any assignment equally well. Without exception he was the best utility man in the Valley and an excellent basket ball player.

R. R. OSBORNE Rosedale
One-letter Man

"Bob" had an uncanny ability to get the ball on the tip-off from the center and from the backboard on his "follow-in" after shots. He was an excellent one-hand shot and played the floor well.

E. H. MERTEL Kansas City
One-letter Man

On account of his size Mertel was shifted from guard to forward. "Red" was very fast; a good shot at the basket; and played the floor in such a manner that he figured in almost every play.

Freshman Basket Ball

ALTHOUGH Coach Corsaut lost some valuable men the past season, he can look with pride at the yearling squad which possesses men capable of filling the vacant offensive and center positions of the Varsity five; the Freshmen have the height which will remedy a handicap the Varsity has had for several years with the other Valley teams.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

TRACK

CAPTAIN KENNETH G. KNOUSE Valley Falls
Three-letter Man

For the last three years "Kenney" has won points for the Wildcats in the quarter mile. He started his career by defeating the Missouri Tigers and since then he has always been hard to catch in his favorite event. His sincerity in working for the team and his pleasing personality made him a popular captain and leader.

CAPTAIN-ELECT R. E. KIMPORT Norton
Two-letter Man

"Kimpy" is the premier miler of the Missouri Valley and for three years has been the mainstay of our cross-country team and relay teams. He is valuable also as a coach for his teammates in the distance runs. He holds the Missouri Valley indoor record for the mile.

A. I. BALZER

Inman

Three-letter Man

Balzer was the Missouri Valley two-mile champion and also one of the best collegiate distance runners in the country. "Puff" holds the Valley Indoor record for the two-mile and would probably have set a new outdoor record except for the fact that a pulled tendon kept him off the track after the middle of the season.

JOHN GARTNER

Manhattan

Three-letter Man

John was a consistent point winner in all meets and he "improved with age." Each year of his varsity competition he increased the college discus record until he left it at 134 feet and 10½ inches at the close of his college career.

E. VON REISEN

Marsyville

Two-letter Man

"Von" won his letter for two years as a member of the relay and cross-country team. He was a good man in any distance from the 440-yard dash to the 5-mile run.

H. A. BROCKWAY

Olathe

Two-letter Man

"Brock" developed from an unknown into a first-class quarter-miler in his sophomore year. He is a hard worker for the team and has one more year of competition.

E. E. COLEMAN

Alma

Two-letter Man

Coleman was a member of the two-mile and medley relay teams. The half-mile run was his favorite run, although he made good time in the quarter.

P. R. CARTER

Bradford

Two-letter Man

By hard and consistent work "Phil" worked his way from a ten-foot vaulter until he was clearing the bar at 12 feet and 6 inches as the season closed. He holds the College record and he promises to clear 13 feet before he closes his collegiate career.

M. L. SALLEE

Long Island

One-letter Man

"Sally" is short but he sure burns up the track in the long runs. He moves his short legs with such a speed that he makes up all that is lost on short strides. He was a member of the Missouri Valley Cross-Country Team and also of the winning relay teams.

F. BRUNKAU

Ellinwood

Two-letter Man

"Brunk" was considered the "iron man" of the Aggie squad. His specialty was the javelin and the shot. He always gathered points in each of these two events.

P. A. AXTELL

Argonia

One-letter Man

Although only a Sophomore, Paul has performed as a veteran in his specialties—the middle-distance runs. He was a member of the Missouri Valley Cross-Country Team and the two-mile relay team that took first at the Illinois relays.

L. I. DAVIS

Effingham

One-letter Man

Loren is one of the most versatile men on the track team. Davis could be counted on to score points in the low hurdles, the 220 and the 440-yard dash.

H. RUSSELL

Topeka

One-letter Man

Russell re-entered college at the beginning of the second semester, just in time to fill the place of a much needed quarter-miler for the relay team. He was not flashy, but very dependable.

ILLINOIS AND TEXAS RELAYS

In one of the most thrilling races seen at the University of Illinois Relays, the Wildcats' two-mile relay team outsprinted Northwestern at the tape and finished far ahead of the others. At the Texas University Relays the Aggies ran in record time, marking-up a new Texas Relay record as well as a new Aggie record for the two-mile relay. The beautiful trophies awarded them are two more additions to the many emblems of victory that Coach Bachman's distance men have won.

KIMPORT, MOODY, MCGRATH, AXTELL

1925 Track

THE 1925 Kansas State Track Squad, as usual, contained a few outstanding stars but the team lacked a winning balance.

In the K. C. A. C. Indoor Invitation Meet, the two-mile relay team won second and the mile relay team third. In the Missouri Valley Indoor Meet Captain Kimport established a new Missouri Valley record for the mile run, stepping the distance in the fast time of 4 minutes and 25.8 seconds. Balzer also burned up the track and hung up a Missouri Valley record of 9 minutes and 37.6 seconds for the two-mile run.

The four-mile relay team at Illinois ran second to Michigan, losing at the tape by a scant two yards. In the Kansas Relays they won fourth and in the Drake Relays, third.

Kansas University was met in a dual meet and the Jayhawkers won. In the distance runs, Kimport captured the mile and half-mile and Balzer the two-mile. Brunkau gave the shot a good heave and took first, he also tossed the javelin for second honors. Gartner sailed the discus farther than any of his rivals. Carter tied for first in the pole vault and Russell tied for first in the 440-yard dash.

The Missouri Tigers were on their toes and defeated the Wildcats by a large score. Captain Kimport won the half-mile and Balzer the two-mile, then they tied for first in the mile. Carter tied for first in the pole vault with Lancaster of the Tigers. Brunkau succeeded in winning the javelin and was second in the shot. Gartner, Russell and Knouse also won seconds.

The Triangle Meet between Nebraska, Kansas University, and The Kansas Aggies was held at Lincoln. The weather was too cold for a track meet and the Aggie distance men did not perform up to their usual standard. Captain Kimport lost his first race of the season in the mile and Balzer pulled a tendon in the two-mile. Gartner, however, established a new Kansas Aggie discus record with a throw of 134 feet and 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches; Roberts won second in the high hurdles. As usual, Brunkau won the javelin and was third in the shot.

In the Valley Meet at Norman, Kimport and Gartner won third places and the mile relay crossed the tape in second.

Kimport represented the Aggies in the National Intercollegiate Games at Chicago and placed fifth in the mile; his time for the distance was 4 minutes and 22.8 seconds.

1925 TRACK SQUAD

Cross-Country

CAPTAIN
KIMPORT

FOR THE second consecutive year the Kansas Aggies won the Cross-Country Championship of the Missouri Valley.

The team was well balanced, each member being about as good as the others. An outstanding characteristic of the team this year was the running of the Purple team in a group. They started out together and they finished together. In the meets with Kansas University and Missouri, the entire Aggie team finished the course arm in arm a minute or two before the first runner of the opponent's team came into view.

The Valley Meet also was won comparatively easy as the Wildcat score was about half that of Ames who took second, the lowest score winning the race.

The Aggies should have another excellent team next year as E. Rutherford is the only member of the team lost by graduation.

Ada

Two-letter Man

Karns was responsible for keeping the infield on their toes and the entire team fighting to the last out. He led his team in batting and his home run with the bases loaded defeated Lang of Nebraska in his only Missouri Valley defeat in three seasons. "Shorty's" specialty was delivering a hit in a pinch. He plays shortstop and he is considered the best in the Valley. His teammates, showing their confidence in him as a leader, re-elected him captain for the 1926 season.

1925 Baseball Squad

LYLE MUNN

Colby

Two-letter Man

"Tiny" was a great fly chaser, covering more than his share of the garden. He gave the pitchers real support and was one of the surest fielders in the conference. His batting was responsible for the Aggies drubbing Kansas University in their last two games of the season.

JOE GREER

Manhattan

One-letter Man

Greer was an old head at the game and a "speed ball" artist. He could pitch, field, and sock the pill. Joe was in the box when the Aggies defeated Nebraska, and Lang, five to one. He is at present pitching for Mobile of the Southern Association.

BERNARD J. CONROY

Manhattan

Three-letter Man

Bernard was one of the most conscientious men on the squad, always in condition, a willing worker, and a type of athlete always out to win. He was the only pitcher to defeat Oklahoma, 1925 Missouri Valley Champions.

BERNARD C. HARTER

Eldorado

One-letter Man

Harter was an alternate outfielder, playing any outfield position. He was used as a pinch hitter in practically every game. His batting average for the season was over five hundred.

G. R. HUEY

Louisville

Two-letter Man

His assignment was the "hot corner" which he guarded in big league style. "Rex" was a good fielder, possessed a good throwing arm, and was an excellent judge of ground balls. He rarely permitted a bunt to be registered as a hit.

L. P. CARAWAY

Logansport, La.

One-letter Man

Caraway was an excellent relief pitcher. He defeated the strong St. Marys Club thirteen to one, the first time they have been defeated by a college baseball team in several years.

MERLE MILLER Washington, D. C.
One-letter Man

A "pepper box" behind the bat, "Bing" was always talking it up, encouraging his pitcher and teammates. A crafty back-stop, always on the job. He caught five straight foul flies in the victory over Oklahoma.

W. H. LUTZ Sharon Springs
Two-letter Man

He started at the keystone sack and was later shifted to centerfield where he finished his college career. He saved the last game with Kansas University by a spectacular running catch of a Jayhawker drive.

ALBERT CUNNINGHAM Manhattan
One-letter Man

His injury in the middle of the season kept him out of several games. He was a good outfielder and a fair batter. He should land a regular position next season.

C. W. BRION

Manhattan

One-letter Man

Being tall and rangy Brion was an ideal man for the initial base. "Jud" could handle bad throws in such a manner that many times the fielder was saved from committing an error. The feature of his work was his judgment in backing up all plays around the infield.

DON MEEK

Idana

One-letter Man

Don was the Aggie speed-merchant at pilfering the bases. Many times he was used as a substitute base runner in the hit-and-run game where he was able to score on account of his speed.

1925 Baseball

THE 1925 Wildcat Baseball Club made a splendid showing in the Missouri Valley. Besides winning third, they wrecked the Valley record of Oklahoma University and Pitcher Lang of the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

The Aggies have defeated Kansas University seven games out of the last eight they have played. The Jayhawkers won that one game last year by a score of 2 to 1 after a thrilling battle.

The Kansas State boys had their eye on the ball when Nebraska invaded their camp. Pitcher Lang who had not lost a Valley game in his three years of play, was given the assignment to tame the Wildcats. But with all his speed he could not get the ball past the Aggie batters and he was defeated 5 to 1.

The Aggies also spoiled the record of Oklahoma University, Missouri Valley champions, by defeating the Sooners 3 to 0. "Bing" Miller thought that he was playing the outfield and caught a half-dozen foul flies off the wire and out of the crowd. Conroy was at his best in serving the Owen men a mixture of "shoots" and curves.

St. Marys was also given a demonstration of the ability of the Aggies to "upset the dope" when Caraway baffled their heavy-hitting artillery. The Aggies, on the other hand, unmercifully bounded the ball to all corners of their new field and the score-board read, Aggies 13, St. Marys 1. This was the first college game that St. Marys has lost in several years.

MINOR SPORTS

Boxing

CAPTAIN
HOELZEL

THE PUGILISTS enjoyed the most successful season of their history this year. They won the Missouri Valley Championship and were claiming the championship of the Middle West as the season ended.

The Aggies had to go out of the conference to secure matches this year. Notre Dame, who had defeated the Navy, was defeated at South Bend, four to three, by the Wildcats. The Aggies tried to obtain a schedule of bouts in the East but were unable to negotiate a suitable arrangement of dates.

Ames was defeated twice by the Wildcat mitt artists, four to three at Ames, and five to two in the home ring. All will remember the bout in which Pearson, seeking revenge, scored a knockout victory over Corey of Ames.

Captain C. F. Hoelzel and O. E. Walgren were the only undefeated members of the Aggie 1926 Boxing Team.

Seven men were awarded letters: Captain C. F. Hoelzel, 145-lb. class; O. E. Walgren, 115-lb. class; L. W. Bailey, 125-lb. class; T. H. Hays, 158-lb. class; C. H. Towle, 175-lb. class; and Z. Pearson, heavyweight. C. N. Hinkle showed up well and should be a valuable man next season.

Boxing has become a popular sport in the Valley and the interest it receives from the Aggie students has firmly established the sport at this college.

Wrestling

THE FIRST match of the season which was held with the Y. M. C. A. of Kansas City resulted in a tie; each team winning three falls.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers were the next opponents of the Aggie matmen, and the Huskers won from all of the Wildcats except Captain Walgren, who tossed his man in professional style.

The meet at Lawrence with Kansas University was very closely contested, the Jayhawkers winning by a score of 19 to 15. When the Jayhawkers journeyed to Manhattan the Wildcat grapplers reversed the score. Captain Walgren entered the ring with a badly injured knee but easily pinned his man. Pearson's victory over Freese by a fall, won the match, 18 to 16.

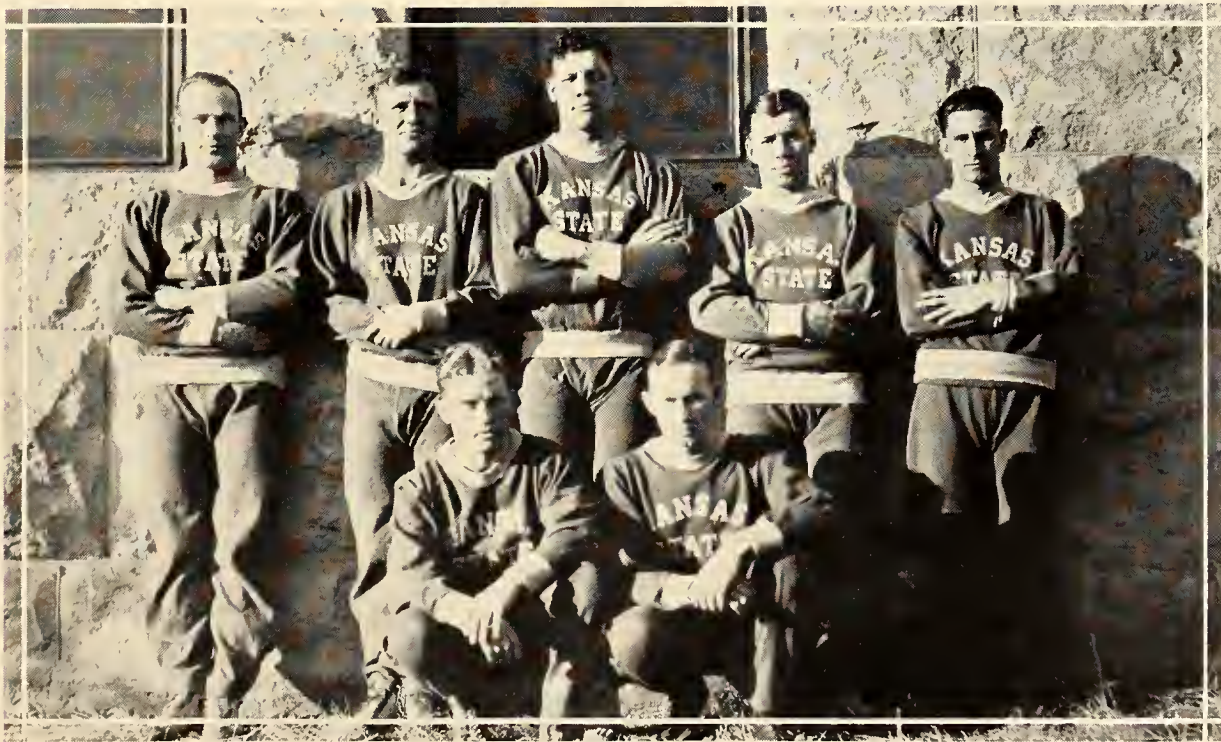

The Missouri Valley meet was held at Oklahoma A. & M., and the Aggies were represented by Captain Walgren, Pearson, Hendrix and Hinz. "Shorty" Walgren won second in the 115-lb. class, Hinz third in the 158-lb. class, and Hendrix third in the 135-lb. class.

Those winning their letter this season were: Captain Walgren, Pearson, Hinz, Schopp, and Lobenstein.

Captain Walgren has been a hard worker for the Purple in both boxing and wrestling and his influence put a determined spirit in the Aggie men. Captain-elect Hinz, though a capable leader, will find it hard to fill the shoes of Walgren.

Physical Education

E. A. KNOTH

L. P. WASHBURN

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR E. A. KNOTH, who was connected with the Physical Education Department for the past five and one-half years, had direct charge of the classes in physical education. He also supervised intramural athletics. Under his guidance these special branches of physical training have made wonderful progress. Fraternities, independent clubs and individuals have taken great interest in intramural games, and over one thousand students have been enrolled in these contests.

Mr. "Bud" Knoth left the Department at the beginning of the second semester in order to enter the commercial field.

As a result of the progress and the growing interest in Physical Education at K. S. A. C., the College has included in its curriculum a four-year course in Physical Education and Training leading to a B. S. degree.

Upon receiving the approval of the Board of Administration, the authorities of the College decided to fill the place of Mr. Knoth with a man prepared thoroughly in this line of work.

After combing the field rather completely, they offered the position to Mr. Louis P. Washburn, a graduate of Carlton College and also of Springfield College, Springfield, Mass. He also completed his work for a Master's Degree at Springfield.

For nine years he was in charge of the Physical Education program for the public schools of Syracuse, New York. He spent two years at Duluth and two years at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, in charge of recreation work for these cities.

We feel certain that under the wise direction of Prof. Washburn that the four-year course in Physical Education will prosper, and that the intramural program will be carried on with renewed enthusiasm.

Women's Athletic Association

GIRLS on the hill whose interests follow athletics, a good sportsmanship, and physical efficiency among women, are banded together in the Women's Athletic Association. This year eighty were actively interested in the organization.

Membership in the Athletic Association is open to any woman student who has earned and reported one hundred points in any of the various recognized fields of sports. Points are given in hockey, basket ball, swimming, tennis, track and archery, as well as for hiking not less than thirty miles and perfect attendance in gymnasium classes. Passing the Red Cross Life Saving tests, also adds points to a girl's credit as does a lead in Frivol or the May Fete.

A manager selected from the members of the organization is in charge of each branch of sport sponsored.

The events of the year in which W. A. A. touches the entire student body are Frivol, stunt night and the school dance sponsored by the Association; and Annual Women's Day, arranged by the W. A. A. and the Physical Education Department. Final contests in track, baseball, and tennis are held by the girls on the campus grounds during the day and the affair closed with a May fete in the evening.

THE members of the Women's "K" Fraternity are those girls who have won a "K" sweater through participation in various kinds of athletics. When a girl has earned 1,200 points she is entitled to a sweater and an Old English "K." The "K" is an Old English one to distinguish it from the block-letter Ks worn by the men. These sweaters are presented to the girls by the Women's Athletic Association, although each girl pays half of the cost of her sweater.

The number of points required for a sweater is high and, consequently, there are only a limited number of girls who receive them. The girls who wear "K" sweaters are the leaders in athletics in the college. They stand for good sportsmanship, constructive co-operation and interest in gymnasium work, and the promotion of high efficiency in all lines of women's physical education. Only a girl of "K" standing is eligible to the office of president of the W. A. A.

Women's Athletics

BY starting, this year, a four-year course in physical education for women of K. S. A. C., what promises to be a new era in this department of the college has been opened. With the first two semesters of the new course being offered this year and the three advanced years to be added the next three years, the new subjects are being gradually added to the curriculum of the department, the first girls receiving their B. S. degrees in the new course in 1929.

Miss Ruth Morris, head of the department of Physical Education for Women, is largely responsible for the new course being offered here. If her plans are carried to completion, rifle practice, fencing, horseback riding, and soccer will be some of the new activities offered soon. Educational methods of teaching physical education, anatomy and kinesiology are some of the typical subjects that are expected to be offered under the new order.

In addition to her duties as head of women's athletics, Miss Morris also coaches hockey and archery and instructs in dancing. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

On the coaching staff with Miss Morris are Miss Geneva Watson, graduate of the University of Chicago, Miss Myra Wade, graduate of Oberlin College, and graduate assistant, Ruth Trent.

The short list of typical subjects given here gives some idea of the variety of studies the department has been offering: Formal gymnastics, basket ball, hockey, baseball, swimming, tennis, track, and archery. There is also instruction in the basic sciences—chemistry, zoology, embryology, physiology, hygiene, anatomy, therapeutics, kinesiology, and physical examination and diagnosis.

Mr. Wayne Rogler,
Business Manager,
Kansas State Agricultural College,
Manhattan, Kansas.

Dear Mr. Rogler:

It is always hard to judge beauty merely from photographs. Personality is an even greater aid toward feminine charm than special physical endowment. And, of course, personality is absent in still photographs.

It is with pleasure, however, that I attach my selection of the six most attractive young ladies among those whose photographs were submitted. Each member of this sextette has a type of beauty distinctly different from that of the others, yet in each case there is an outstanding characteristic which led to my selection.

The young lady's photograph which I have selected for fifth place is only a profile and it is hard to judge properly.

With all good wishes for the success of the "Royal Purple", I am

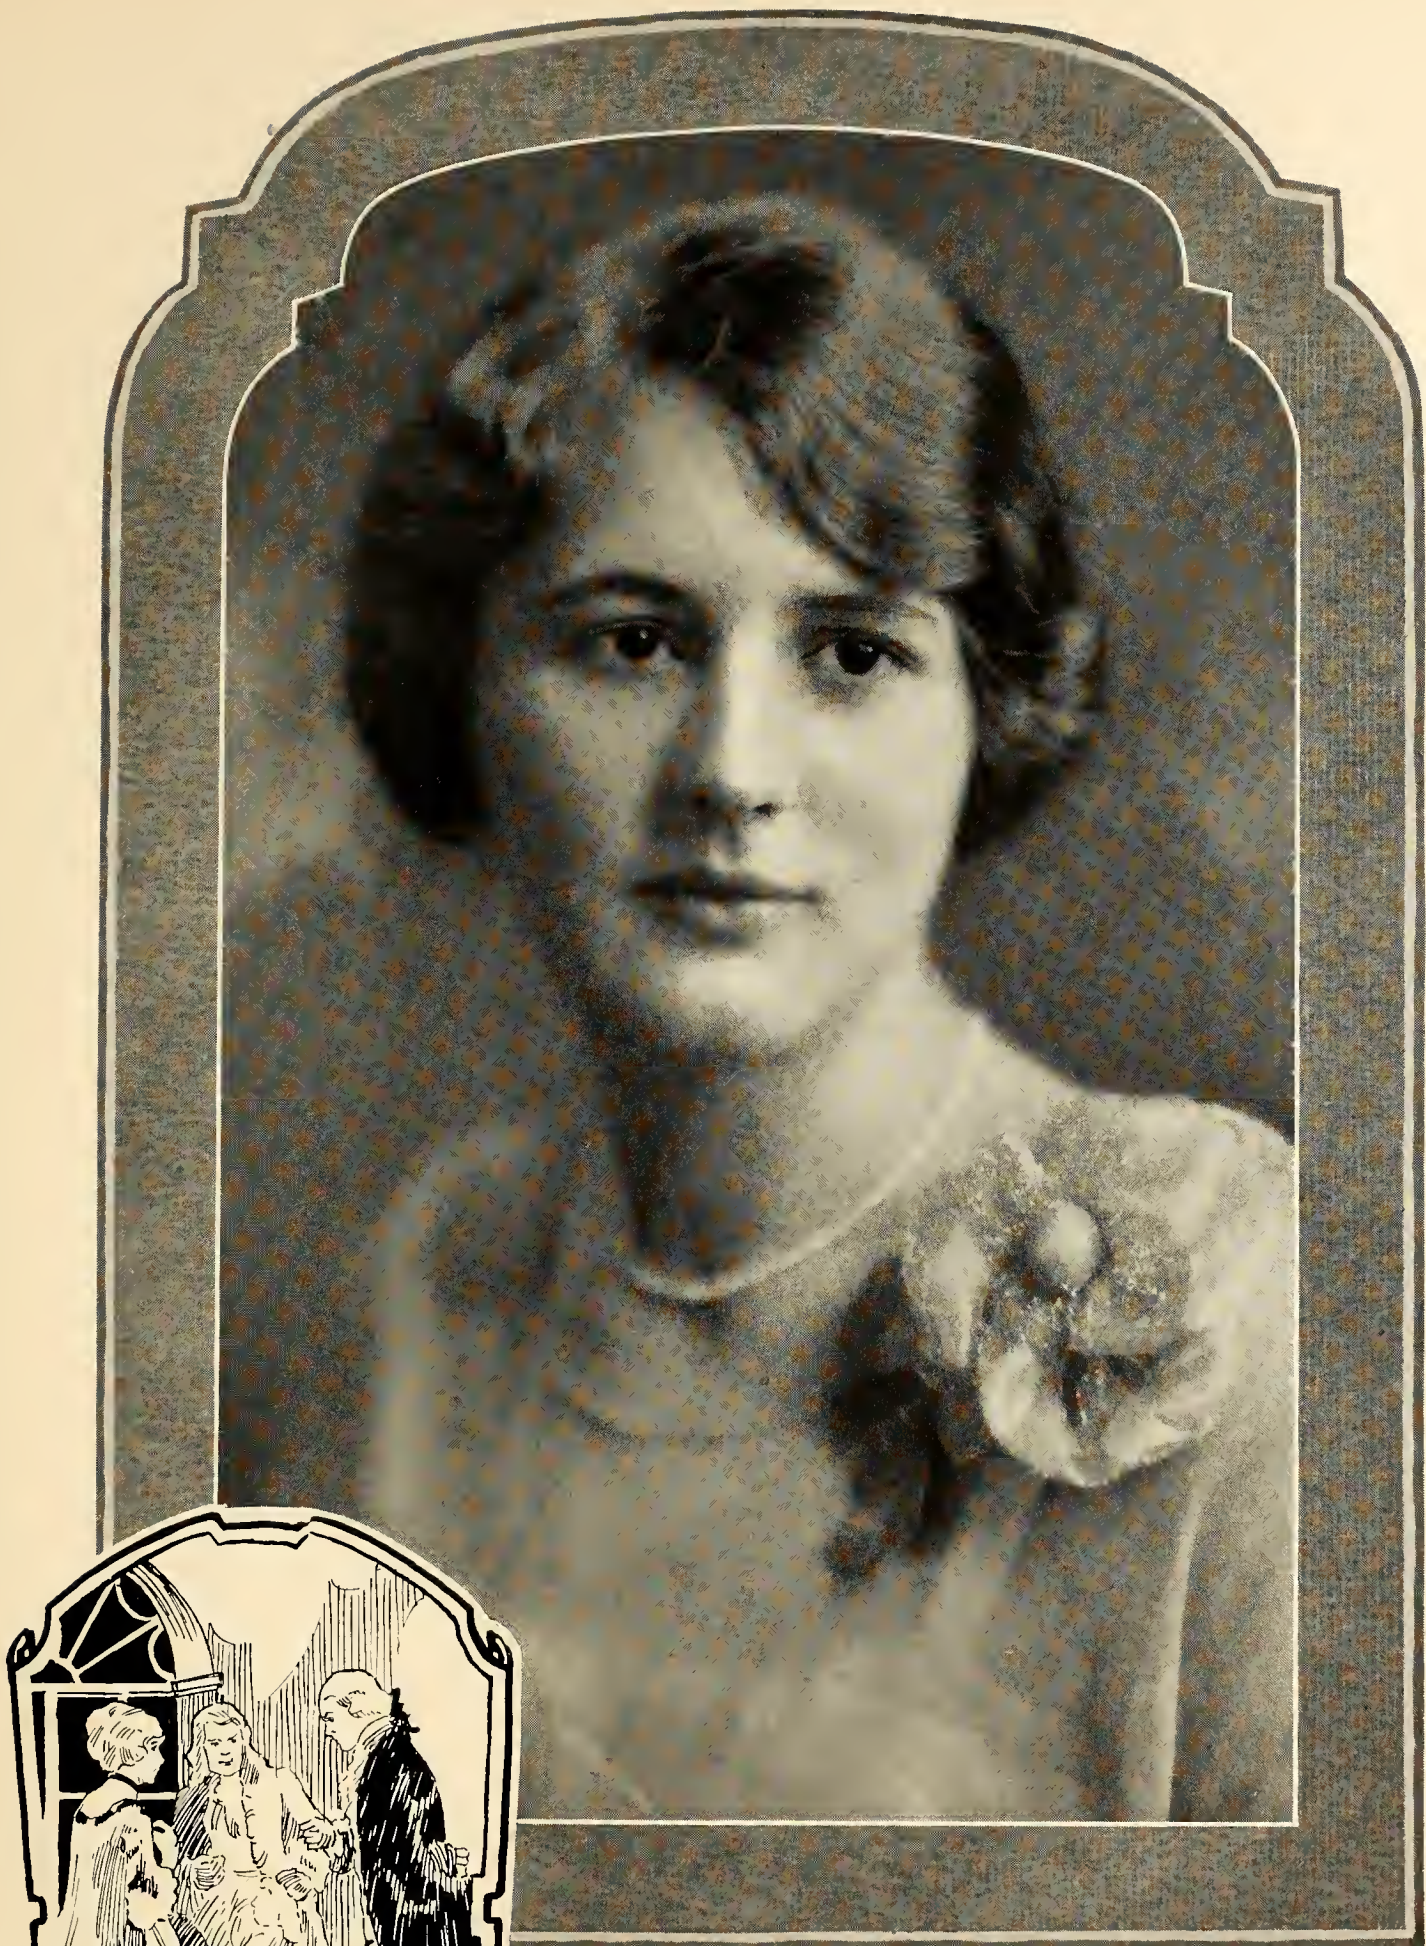

Yours truly,

THE Senior Men's Panhellenic Council is an organization governing the National Fraternities at K. S. A. C. Its purpose is to place such restrictions and regulations on the fraternities as will benefit them and the College. The council was organized in 1910 and until 1922 was composed of two men from each fraternity. Since 1922 each organization is limited to one representative.

HONORARY

Phi Kappa Phi

PHI KAPPA PHI is an honor society which recognizes high standards in scholarship in all departments of American universities and colleges. The society was founded at the University of Maine in 1897. There are now forty-one active chapters. The chapter at the Kansas State Agricultural College was installed November 15, 1915.

Ten per cent of the seniors having the highest average grade in each division may be elected. The first semester a limited number are elected on the average grade over three years of work. An election is held during the second semester and also another one during the summer school.

Purple Masque

THE ART of dramatization in the college has made a rapid advance in the past decade. This has been due mainly to the increase in the enrollment in the school and the interest which the students show for dramatic work. The Purple Masque Fraternity, organized in December, 1915, from the K. S. A. C. Dramatic Club, is the nucleus around which all stage events center. Previous to the establishment of the organization, the literary societies had carried on drama until the founding of Purple Masque under the direction of Prof. James G. Emerson, then head of the public-speaking department.

Every year the fraternity produces two major plays, fall and spring, and sponsors numerous dramatic sketches, stunts, plays for extension work and chapel programs.

Under the able directing of H. Miles Heberer, who succeeded Earl G. McDonald, now with the Theatre Guild in New York, the Masque has met with unusual success in all of its productions the past season.

The fall play was given earlier this year in order to avoid conflicts with competitive programs. It was Lewis Beach's comedy drama of American domestic life, The Goose Hangs High. The annual fall tour included Florence, Topeka, Junction City and Abilene, on the 4th, 5th, 9th and 10th of November, respectively. The home performance was on Friday, November the sixth, and was received by a large and appreciative audience.

The cast of characters included:

Bernard Ingals	JOHN WRAY YOUNG
Eunice Ingals	MILDRED READ
Noel Derby	JOSEPH LEY
Leo Day	HAROLD SAPPENFIELD
Rhoda	MARY M. KIMBALL
Julia Murdock	VELMA LOCKRIDGE
Mrs. Bradley	ORRELL EUBANKS
Hugh Ingals	RALPH MOHRI
Ronald Murdock	HAROLD SAPPENFIELD
Lois Ingals	FLORABEL E. WEST
Bradley Ingals	LYNN G. FAYMAN
Dagmar Carroll	MARY M. KIMBALL
Elliott Kimberley	JOSEPH LEY

The chapel play this year was Helena's Husband, a satire on the Helen of Troy episode by Phillip Moeller. It was given in ultra-modern dress with a unique futuristic setting painted by Ted Keller who also designed the setting for the fall and inter-society play.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Helen	KATHERINE KING
Psumu	VELMA LOCKRIDGE
Analyticus	JACK KENNEDY
Menelaus	RALPH MOHRI
Paris	LYNN G. FAYMAN

The play selected for the spring festival week is The Swan, by Franz Moeller. It is a play whose characters are modern royalty and one which required elaborate settings and beautiful costumes. It was a difficult play to produce, but according to the appreciation and response of the audience, successfully ended a very active and productive year for Purple Masque.

SEVERAL requests for a girls' pep organization were made, and as a result one was organized at K. S. A. C. in January, 1926.

A cash prize was offered for a peppy name for the organization. The name chosen "Purple Pepsters," was submitted by Mike Ahearn.

Any girl who has won 250 points in the Women's Athletic Association may become a member of the "Purple Pepsters." When she has won 500 points she is awarded an emblem, bearing the letters W. A. A., which is worn on the jacket.

The uniform dress is a white skirt and purple jacket.

The purpose of the organization is to promote college spirit, a feeling of loyalty to our Alma Mater, and to "pep up" the athletic contests of the college.

At the first formal meeting of the organization, Thelma Coffin was chosen President, Loraine Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, and Velma Lockridge, Cheer Leader.

Inter-collegiate Debate

DURING THE season of 1925-1926, Kansas Aggie debaters have carried out one of the most extensive as well as successful inter-collegiate programs that the school has ever had.

In the Missouri Valley Debating League teams from Drake University, Kansas University, South Dakota University, and Oklahoma University were met and the latter two defeated. A team of two men and the coach made an extensive trip to the Atlantic coast. This team was gone three weeks and debated teams at the University of Pittsburg, Amherst University, Pennsylvania State College, Michigan Agricultural College, Purdue University, Northwestern University, and Washington University of St. Louis. That this team made a very creditable showing is evidenced by the fact that there was not a single decision against it. In 1925 two varsity debaters traveled to the Pacific Coast and return—this year to the Atlantic, and present plans call for a like trip to the Gulf in the Spring of 1927.

Forensic honor was won for the school this year by the varsity women's team which won the championship of the Kansas Inter-collegiate Women's Debating League. The girls had contests in the League with Bethany, Ottawa, College of Emporia, Emporia Teachers, Washburn, and Sterling. The only defeat was at the hands of Washburn, whose team won a two-to-one decision from the Aggie co-eds. The women also had one contest with Park College at Parkville, Missouri.

The freshmen men had debates with Bethany, Salina Wesleyan, Park College, and Pittsburg Normal. These contests were no-decision affairs.

The varsity men also met teams from the Universities of Arizona and Wyoming which traveled to the eastern coast. A team of three Aggie men won the Kansas Triangular Extempore Speaking Contest which is held each year between representatives of Washburn, Emporia Normal, and K. S. A. C. An Aggie representative placed first in the extempore speaking contests at the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention held at Estes Park and fourth in the Annual Missouri Valley Oratorical Contest.

The principal topics discussed in debate this year were the Mitchell plan for reorganization of the air forces and the child-labor problem. Many of the debates were extemporaneous and no-decision. The coaching has been done by Professor H. B. Summers, who was assisted by Mr. Robert Hedberg in coaching the freshmen women and Mr. Carl Taylor in coaching the freshmen men.

Inter-Society Council

INTER-SOCIETY COUNCIL is composed of a group of literary society members, there being a Junior and a Senior representative from each of the eight societies on the hill.

The Council was organized in 1918 by Dr. MacArthur who felt that there was a need for some organization to establish and maintain co-operation between the literary societies. Thus through its different chairmen, it endeavors to uphold this standard throughout the year.

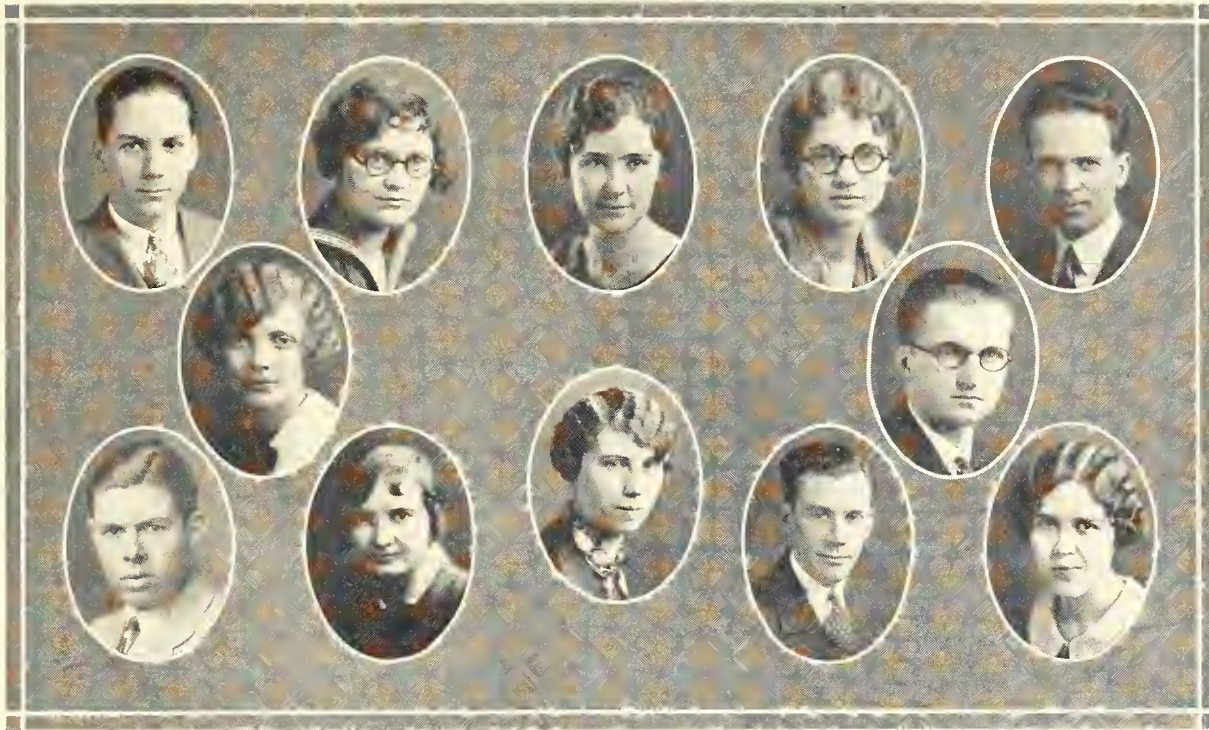

In the fall of 1925 the annual series of Inter-society Debates was held under the direction of the debate chairman, Rachel Working. When the smoke cleared away, the Brownings had won the much-coveted cup and the Alpha Betas were runners-up.

Another annual event is the oratorical contest, which never fails to draw a good crowd. This contest is fostered by the Council and affords an excellent opportunity for literary society members to secure valuable training along this line.

The Athenians were awarded the loving cup for having the highest number of points during the school year of 1924-25. The point system is maintained by the Council in order to stimulate interest and promote a friendly rivalry between the various societies. A certain number of points are given for activities, such as Glee Club, Purple Masque, Zeta Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Delta, that represent work along literary society lines. The other points are based on scholastic standing, attendance, participation in debate, and other like activities. This is the second year the Athenians have won the cup.

On March 12, "In the Next Room" was given as the Annual Inter-society play, one of the most important activities of the literary societies. The cast is composed of literary society members entirely chosen from the separate literary societies. The play is sponsored by the Council, managed by the Play Chairman, and coached by the Public Speaking Department. The proceeds from the play are used to defray the expenses for the Oratorical Contest and other activities. Thus the Council is a self-supporting organization.

THE INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES this year were held under a new system. In the past, there has been a great deal of trouble with the elimination system, necessitating the changing of the question as much as three times. Under the new system each society has an affirmative and a negative team which debates the opposing team from each of the other societies. Then the winning society is determined by the number of debates won by the two teams.

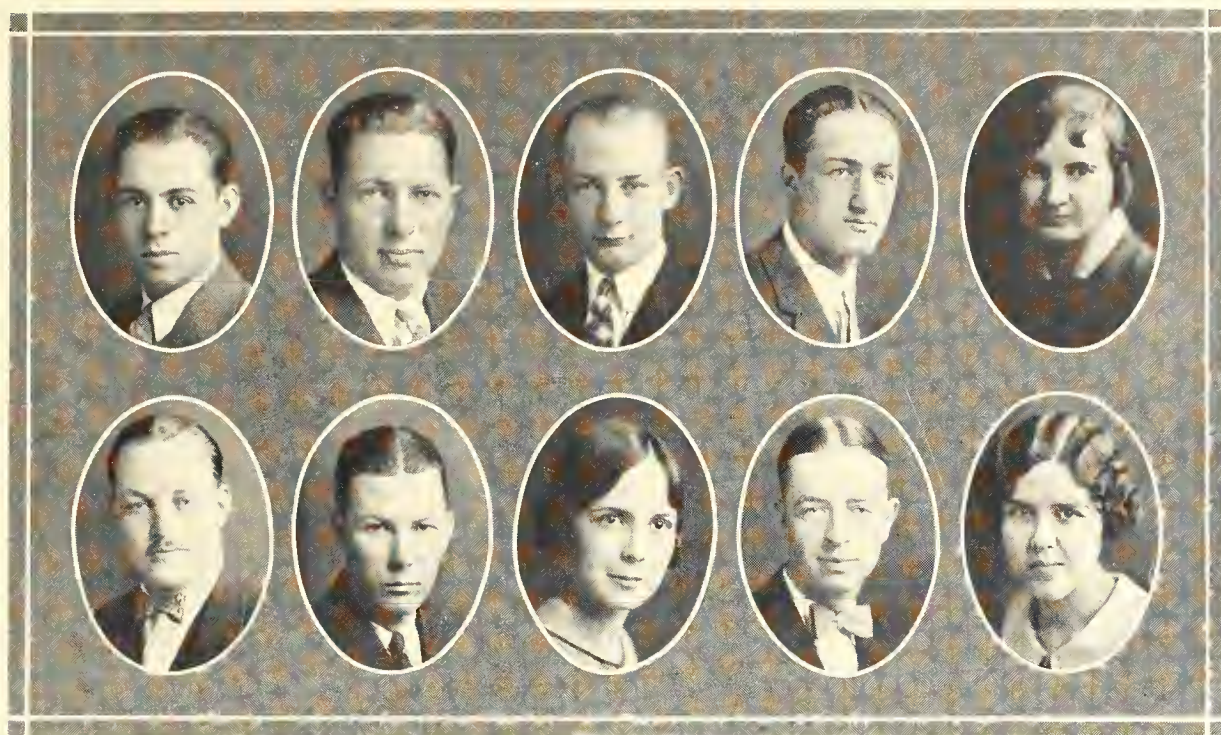

This year the Brownings won the cup beyond dispute. Both of their teams went through the entire series of debates without a defeat, which was a truly remarkable record, reflecting excellent work on the part of the girls debating and the coach.

Inter-Society Oratoricals

THE 30th Annual Oratorical contest was held this year on April 17th. Interest was shown at an early date and the orators from the various societies were working on their orations from the beginning of the year. This contest is perhaps the most important event sponsored by the Council and has come to be one of the great annual events. The chairman of Oratoricals for this year was Earl Hinden of the Hamilton Society.

Unfortunately, due to the late date of the Oratorical Contest this year the names and pictures of the winners had to be omitted.

KANSAS State is experiencing a growing interest in oratory. The institution has for a number of years maintained a high standing in all types of forensic work. Zeta Kappa Psi, national forensic fraternity for women, has in the past encouraged both debate and oratory among the women students. The Alpha Chapter of the organization, which was established at Kansas State, was recently consolidated locally with Pi Kappa Delta in the interest of concentrated effort in this immediate field.

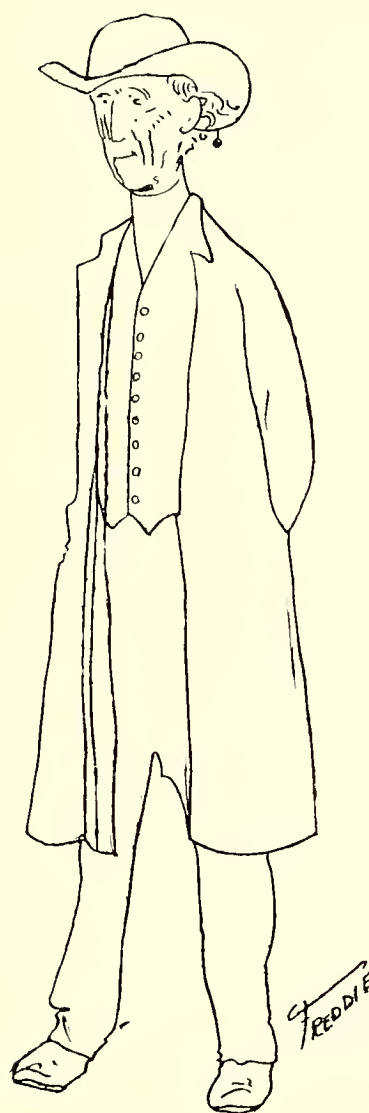

Each year at Kansas State Agricultural College there is held an oratorical contest open to both men and women students and sponsored by the literary societies. Kansas State is a member of the Missouri Valley Oratorical Association, and has won a first, three seconds, a third and a fourth place in six consecutive years. Kansas State participated through the local chapter in the national convention contest of Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Fraternity, and is also a member of the Kansas Women's Oratorical Association.

In the past two years Kansas State has entered several extempore speaking contests with exceptionally good results. Last year at the Kansas Pi Kappa Delta convention at Emporia, Robert Hedburg placed first in the men's extempore contest, and Helen Correll first and Mary Marcene Kimball fourth in the women's. Robert Hedburg also placed first at the Pi Kappa Delta convention at Pasadena, California.

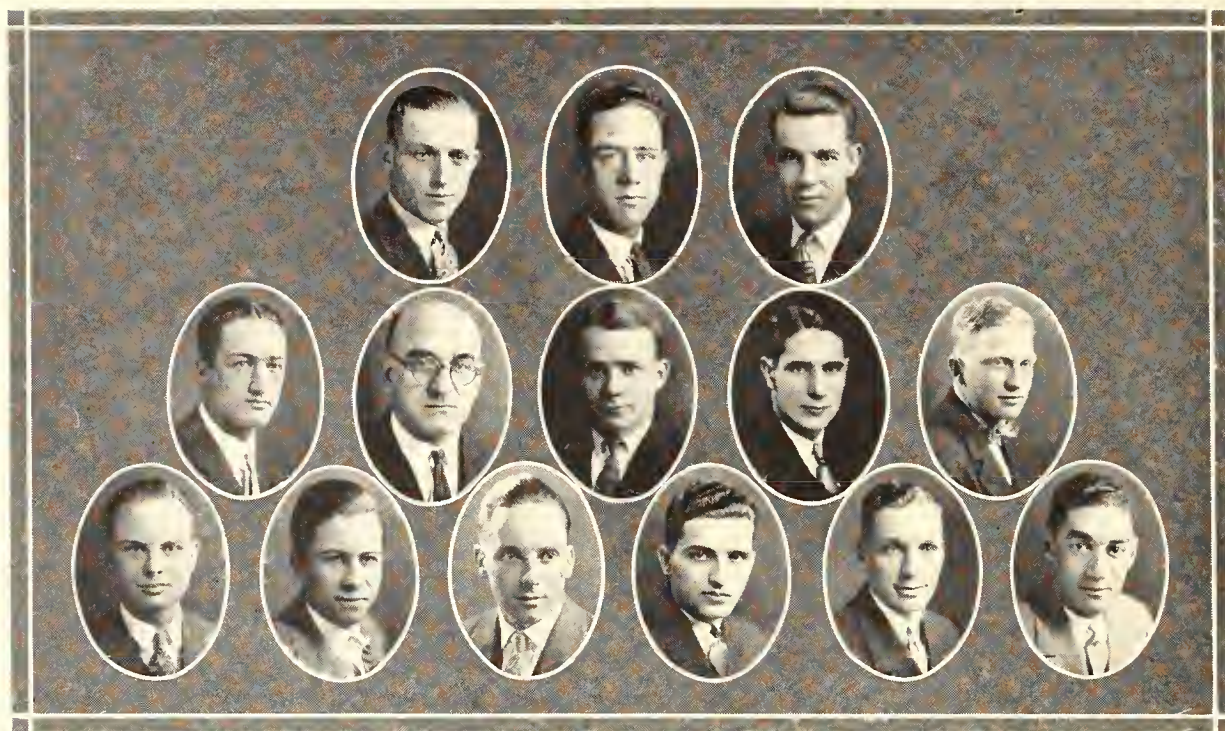

This year at the triangular meet with Washburn and Emporia, in which each school entered three men, Frank Glick placed first, Robert Hedburg second, and Carl Taylor tied for fourth, giving the meet to this school. Robert Hedburg placed first at the national Pi Kappa Delta convention in Estes Park, at which schools from every section of the country were represented. Mary Marcene Kimball went to the finals, but failed to place in this event.

THE Young Men's Christian Association of K. S. A. C. is the organized result of a student movement to unite the spiritual and moral forces of the campus for the purpose of developing "all-around Christian manhood." In addition it is an association of men students which purposes to develop "greater loyalty to K. S. A. C."

The Y. M. C. A. is maintained and financed by the student body and the faculty. There are no stipulated membership dues. Membership means conviction and service, not money.

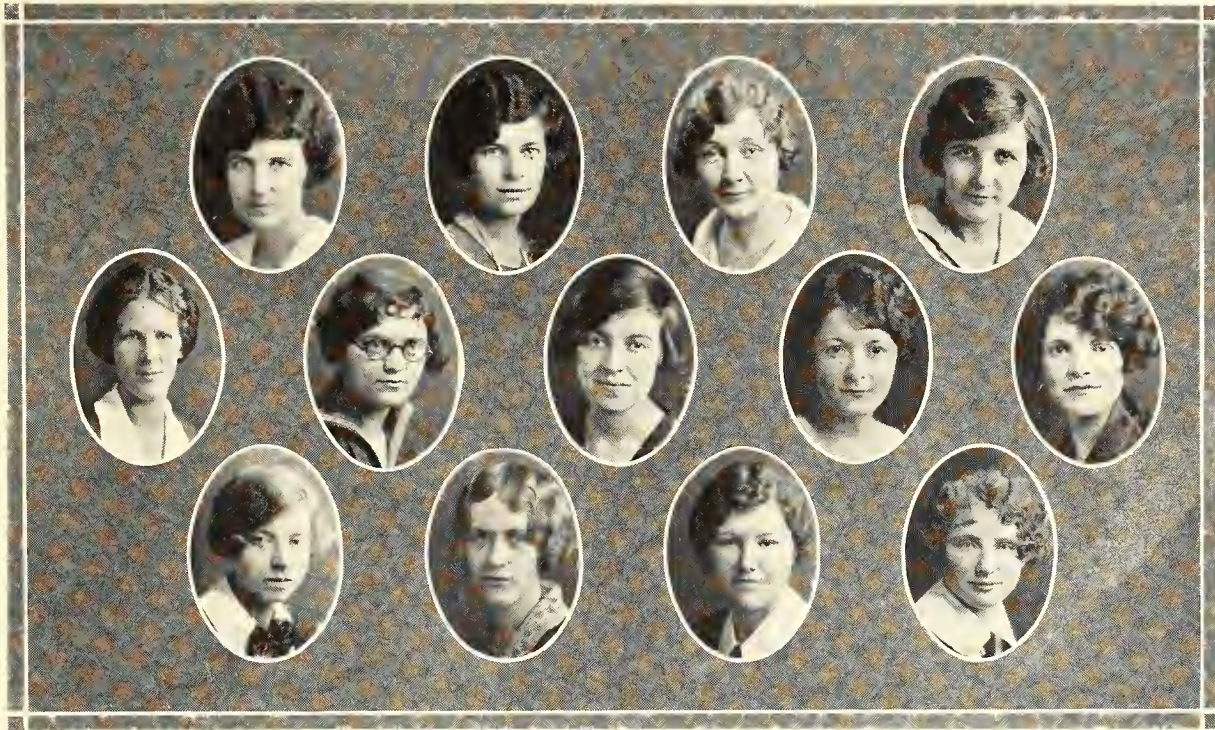

The "Y" is a democratic organization. Every member has voting privileges. No distinction is made to creed or race. The president, cabinet, and committees are responsible for the association policies and program. The program and activities of the "Y" include such items as: Organized service in social and religious fields on the campus and in the community; gospel teams; religious conferences of various sorts; chief of which is the Estes Park Conference; go-to-college teams; new student work; "K" book; freshman commission; relations with foreign and colored students; boys' work in the community; employment bureau; room bureau; Bible study and discussion groups among natural groupings on the hill; Hi-Y deputation work; the World Forum and weekly student forums, where the students are provided the privilege of hearing prominent leaders in social and religious fields.

ALPHA Chapter was organized at the University of Illinois in 1911 by Rev. S. E. Fisher. In 1913, Beta Chapter was organized at K. S. A. C. under the leadership of Rev. J. David Arnold. Later, Bethany Circle became a national organization, with a membership of seven chapters at the present time. The Tenth National Convention was held at Columbia, Missouri, April 17, 18, 19, 1925. The object of Bethany Circle is "To establish and maintain a friendly relationship among the student girls of Christian Church preference; to make the work of Bethany Circle a real means of Christian influence among the girls by arousing an interest in the church and its various departments; to maintain as individuals a high ideal of scholarship, to strive for a broad, sympathetic interest in human activities, and to develop a rich and gracious personality."

KAPPA PHI was organized at the University of Kansas in 1916 to form a closer association among our Methodist women who are students in the State and independent universities; to make our work among student women of our denomination more effective and sufficient; to maintain a more serviceable organization to take care of our incoming freshmen each year, and to provide in a college woman's way religious training and wholesome social life, that we may be stronger, more efficient women of the church of tomorrow. There are now fourteen active chapters.

REAL SCRATCHES

It is rumored that Robert Baehler has had engraved on his pin the following inscription: "For exhibition purposes only."

What is so rare as a day in June? Flunk slips in Phi Kappa Phi mail boxes.

Since the Pi Phis have painted their house, the Alpha Xi Deltas have fixed their lawn, the Kappa Deltas have built a sidewalk, the Sig Eps have chartered a bus, the Phi Deltas have bought roller skates, and the Delta Taus have acquired a Southern accent, one would hardly know the dear old Alma Mater. But the Sig Alphas and Betas are as neighborly as ever.

During rush week one of the rushees was asked by a Y. W. member if she had a Big Sister. The rushee thought it over, simpered, and then said, "No, but I have two big brothers, and one of them is a Beta." Could glory be greater? Another in answer to the same question said she was an only child.

Why did the Kappa Delt pledge refuse to give Max Brumbaugh a dance at the Fireman's Ball?

And that is the reminder of the fact that Scribbler's Scramble turned out to be hard-boiled.

THEY REALLY SAID IT

What Deans of Women have told freshman girls:

"Now girls, never say soup when you are with a boy because it puckers up your lips and makes him want to kiss you."

"Boys may like to play around with the fast girls but its the good, pure girls they marry."

"How can you expect boys to resist you when you paint yourselves up like sticks of candy?"

"You must never whistle when with a boy." (Same result as saying "soup.")

"Now I knew a girl once and she was a good, sweet girl, but one day I saw her going down the street between two boys, hanging onto their arms, and laughing—now I knew she was a good girl but what do you suppose other people thought?"

"Whenever you are at a dance and the boy seems to be enjoying it, drop your handkerchief."

OPEN RUSHING FOR WOMEN

An open rush week for the women's organizations presents great possibilities.

The big point, of course, will be to once get a girl in one's possession. And that will call for great originality and slickness.

For example, an organization might:

1. Have a girl on every incoming train. This girl should be quietly dressed so she can sneak up on the desired girls and inject morphine into their arms. At the station it would be a simple matter to shovel the drugged rushees into trucks and ship them to the house where pledge pins could be easily attached.

2. Have the rush captain say to every girl, as she comes to keep her first date, "Don't you want to come in here, dear, and see our prize painting?" Once inside the room the R. C. would jump out and lock the door.

3. Or it might use one of any number of trapping methods.

As to the preparation for such a rush week a miscellany of suggestions might and should be made:

1. Every house should be barricaded against the attacks from parties seeking rushees.

2. Actives should have heads shaved for the week to prevent the enemy from getting a grip on them.

In order to prevent animosities between the different sororities and to promote general good will an Open Rush Week Entente has been formed:

Grand Arbitrator—Ruth Stewart.

Notso Grand Arbitrator—Lillian Oyster.

Secretary of the Letschecker—Elsie Hayden.

Recorder—Mildred Sims.

Marshal—Alice Beeler.

Sergeant of Arms—Katherine Kimball.

Devotional Leader—Marion Kirkpatrick.

LEADERS OF MEN!

MEN and women who think straight, who have initiative, who have confidence and dare to do, who co-operate with others—these are the finest accomplishments of colleges and universities. Throughout Kansas, and all over the world, K. S. A. C. men and women are paying a wonderful tribute to the school by their leadership.

But there is another and an impersonal type of leadership—that of the printed page. It is always an ally of the personal leader. In the great agricultural state of Kansas, this impersonal leadership is embodied in Kansas Farmer, a farm journal that has served the Kansas people for more than a quarter-century. Thru it the leadership of individuals is made state-wide.

Kansas Farmer is proud of the fact that two men with degrees from K. S. A. C. are largely responsible for its popularity and success.

Successful Business is Founded on Confidence

Our success lies in the confidence you have given us in buying your Drug Store wants from us.

The further development of our success depends upon you and your friends' continued confidence in us; and our continuing to merit that confidence.

We strive to give you the best possible service and the best possible merchandise at a minimum cost.

What will the future bring???

EVERY young man or woman of today wonders what tomorrow will mean for him or her. Whether you measure your success in dollars and cents, or in contentment and the respect of those in the community in which you live, there is just one answer—the answer is THRIFT.

To practice this golden virtue is the only assurance that you will reap the reward to which your education entitles you.

In appreciation of the wonderful work that the Kansas State Agricultural College and her students are doing for our state, the Associated Banks of Manhattan take pleasure in extending this message on “Better Citizenship” to you through the 1926 Royal Purple.

IT'S THE CUT OF YOUR CLOTHES THAT COUNTS

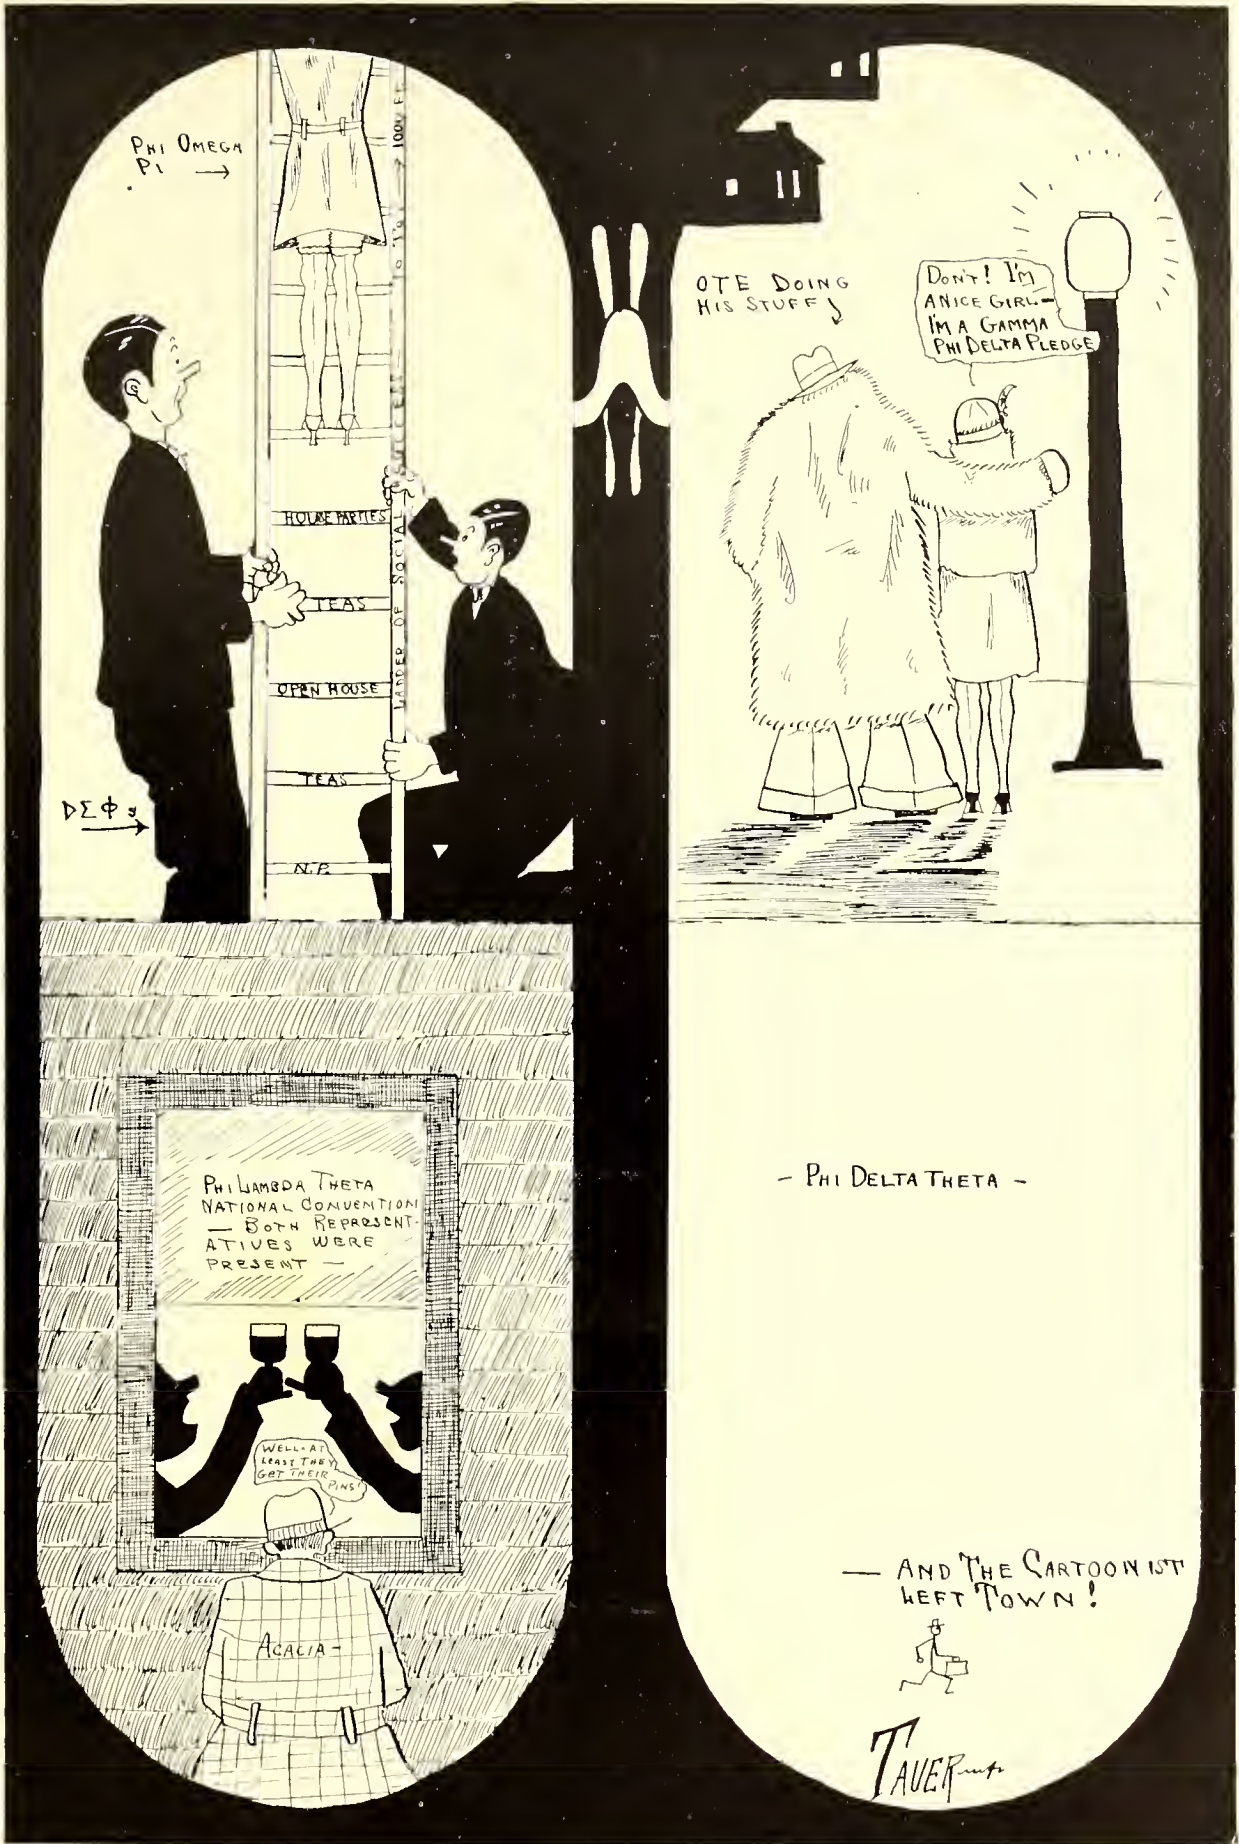

Selection

AS you walk through a men's store usually you see some things you like and a great many that you don't care for. That's natural, when you consider the great diversity of tastes such a store must please.

It's a problem, selecting the right thing from the thousands of articles that are offered. In this respect we have been singularly successful, and we believe it is because we have made our selections with a particular kind of customer in mind. We have chosen Society Brand Clothes because we are perfectly certain that nothing else will satisfy our customers nearly as well. In cut, in fabric, and in tailoring there is nothing to equal them.
