PREFACE

In grass, God in His Wisdom gave the world a plant that is admirably adapted to withstand the grazing of animals and be an efficient forage producer (Rechenthin, C. A. 1956).

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to thank my wife, Marty, and my son, Tadlee, for the support and sacrifice that they willfully contributed throughout my graduate studies.

Special appreciation is also extended to Dr. Gerry Posler, major professor, for his time, guidance, and positive support throughout the writing of this paper. Thanks are also due to Dr. Steve Thien and Dr. Orlan Buller for their positive attitude, helpful suggestions, and needed advice during the production of this paper.
