ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Appreciation is expressed to Dr. James Albracht, Major Professor, for his encouragement, patience, and assistance in planning and completing this study.

Also, gratitude is expressed to Professor Howard Bradley, Teacher Education, and Professor Paul Stevenson, Agriculture Engineering, who served as committee members.

A sincere thanks is expressed to those supervisors, administrators, and instructors who participated in this study. Without their faithful cooperation, it would have not been possible.

The writer also expresses a deep appreciation to all of his family and friends who gave him assistance and encouragement; without their help, this study would have never been completed.
