K-State's Indigenous Land Acknowledgment

As the first land-grant institution established under the 1862 Morrill Act, we acknowledge that the state of Kansas is historically home to many Native nations, including the Kaw, Osage, and Pawnee, among others. Furthermore, Kansas is the current home to four federally recognized Native nations: The Prairie Band Potawatomie, the Kickapoo Tribe of Kansas, the Iowa Tribe of Kansas and Nebraska, and Sac and Fox Nation of Missouri in Kansas and Nebraska.

Social Distancing 101

Social distancing is the act of reducing face-to-face contact, which may help slow and reduce the spread of disease.

-  Limit in-person gatherings with people who do not live with you.
-  Limit outings only to purchasing essential supplies.
-  Limit use of public facilities.
-  Maintain at least 6 feet between other people at all times.
-  Stay at home as much as possible.
-  Limit use of public transportation unless it is your only option.
-  If you have the ability, work from home as much as possible.

Help Needed for Digital Projects

Created by Tara Coleman, last modified by Veronica Denison on May 14, 2020

@Veronica Denison and I are exploring ways to crowdsource information on items we have in the archives to help us get our cool resources out into the universe. If you have time, we would love your help.

If you have 5-10 minutes...

- Take the photo identification survey and help us test out a few ways of identifying people in photos
- Take the tagging survey and help us identify objects or activities you see in the photos.

If you have 60 minutes or more and like to do research, help us gather interesting, significant, or just cool information for a few timelines...

- This year in history - gather information to create a timeline of what happened at K-State during 1989
- Person history - gather information on Nellie Kedzie (you may know the building) from our digitized resources
- Building history - gather information about Van Zile Hall from our digitized resources

To participate in the photo identification or tagging survey, click on the link and jump right in. To work on the timelines, contact Veronica and she will send you further information.

Your participation will help us create a method to easily (hopefully) and efficiently gather information that can be used for future projects while providing archives with the information necessary to make our items accessible to the public.

If you have any questions contact @Tara Coleman or @Veronica Denison.
